4. As to the land not covered by applications referred to in paragraph 3, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, as amended, until 10:00 a. m. mountain standard time on October 10, 1950. At that time such land shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions existing withdrawals, become subject to application as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m. on October 10, 1950, to close of business on January 8, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 9:30 a. m. on August 5, 1948, to 10:00 a. m. on October 10, 1950.

5. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m. on January 9, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference right filings from 9:30 a. m. on August 5, 1948, to 10:00 a. m. on January 8, 1951.

6. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in paragraphs 4 (b) and 5 (a) above will be treated as simultaneously filed.

7. A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides) of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corrobated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

8. All of the land will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres, each being approximately 330 feet by 660 feet, and the longer dimensions of the tracts may extend either north and south or east and west, provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and dimensions specified above, and, provided the tract is not described in such a manner as to break up a ten-acre rectangular subdivision. This proviso applies to all leases issued, preference and nonpreference alike. The longitudinal directions of tracts described in applications filed prior to the date of this order shall not be disturbed unless they have been filed in such a manner as to violate the rectangular subdivision rule.

(a) Application for a five-acre tract filed under Phoenix serial number 082290 by James E. Austin will be rejected in its present position and the applicant will be granted a reasonable period of time in which to amend his application to describe the S½NE¼SW¼SW¼ of Section 26. This application will not then invade the lands heretofore reserved as an administrative driveway for livestock.

9. Leases will be for a period of 5 years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease.

10. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised value of $50.00 per tract.

(a) Applications for purchase may be filed at or after the expiration of one year from the date the lease issued, provided that improvements, appropriate to the purpose for which the lease is issued and which meet with the approval of the Regional Administrator shall have been constructed upon the lands prior to filing of the application for purchase.

(b) Leases issued under the terms of this order shall not be subject to assignment unless and until improvements as mentioned above in (a) shall have been completed.

(c) Leases for lands upon which the improvements above mentioned shall not have been constructed at or before the expiration thereof shall not be renewed.

11. Lessees and/or their successors in interest shall comply with all Federal, State, County and municipal laws and ordinances, especially those governing health and sanitation, and failure or refusal to do so may be cause for cancellation of the lease in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

12. Rights-of-way for road and street purposes 33 feet in width are reserved from each tract and said 33-foot strip may be taken for street, road or alley from any edge of any of said tracts, but not more than one such strip for right-of-way shall be taken from any tract without the consent of the lessee first had and obtained, or unless such right-of-way shall be condemned by proper eminent domain proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction. The said rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to issuance of patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued. All rights-of-way herein mentioned and reserved may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof.

13. All structures with the exception of fences and like movable installations shall be set back from the exterior boundaries of the tract not less than 33 feet and if there is a road or street either in existence, or an identified and definitely established right-of-way for such road or street, then and in that event, all permanent structures will be set back not less than 33 feet from the outside line of the said established road, street, or definitely identified right-of-way.

14. Survey of individual tracts shall be at the expense of the applicant.

15. All leases and patents issued shall contain a reservation to the United States of all fissionable material sources and all minerals, together with the right to prospect for, mine and remove the same under applicable laws and regulations.

16. All inquiries regarding these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, United States Land and Survey Office, 100 U. S. Courthouse, Phoenix, Arizona.

E. R. SMITH,
Regional Administrator.

ARIZONA

CLASSIFICATION ORDER

AUGUST 8, 1950.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 319 dated July 19, 1948 (43 CFR 50.451 (b) (3), 13 F. R. 4278), I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following described lands in the Phoenix, Arizona, Land District, embracing 1,840 acres.

ARIZONA SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 21

For lease and sale for all purposes authorized by the act except business sites:

T. 1 N., R. 8 E., G. & S. R. B. & M., Arizona,
Sec. 12, All.
Sec. 15, E½, SW¼.
Sec. 27, N½NW¼, SE¼NW¼, N½SE¼, SW¼SW¼.

For lease and sale for combination home and business sites, homesites, and/or cabin sites:

T. 1 N., R. 8 E., G. & S. R. B. & M., Arizona,
Sec. 15, NW¼.
Sec. 27, SW¼NW¼, N½SW¼, SE¼SW¼, S½SE¼.

2. These lands are located at distances ranging from 33 miles to 37 miles east of Phoenix, Arizona, and from 17 miles to 21 miles east of Mesa, Arizona depending upon the section to be reached. The lands in Sections 21 and 27 are traversed diagonally in a northwesterly and southeasterly direction by U. S. Highway 60–70; and U. S. Highway 88, the famed Apache Trail, crosses the NW¼ of Section 15 in a northeasterly and southwesterly direction. The junction of these two roads is located at Apache Junction in the SW¼NE¼ of Section 20, T. 1 N., R. 8 E., G. & S. R. B. & M. Both Phoenix and Mesa have all business, educational, religious and recreational facilities common to large American cities and there are stores, gasoline service stations, garages, restaurants, grade schools and churches at or near Apache Junction and all along U. S. 60–70 between the latter point and Mesa. An electric power transmission line extends from Mesa parallel to U. S. 60–70 and ends in Apache Junction. This line presently supplies lights and power to Apache Junction and communities west to Mesa. The line would have to be extended in order to furnish current to installations on these lands. A high voltage electric power transmission line extends from Roosevelt Dam to Mesa and Florence, but due to its high voltage, power from the line is not available in this area. Other utilities are not available and water supply, fuel and sanitary facilities are problems to be solved by the settlers. Potable water adequate for domestic use may be found at depths up to 450 feet. The elevation of the lands above sea level varies from 1,700 feet in Sections 21 and 27 to 2,100 feet in the east side of Section 12. The whole area slopes gently from northeast to southwest on a gradient of about 1½ per cent. The soil is sand and silt with an admixture of gravel. Vegetation consists of bur-sage, creosote brush, palo verde, saguaro, ocotillo, scattered cacti, and annual grasses and weeds. There is no timber, no springs or flowing streams. The area is typically southwestern desert. The winters are short and mild, summers long and hot. Mean annual precipitation is approximately 8 inches.

3. As to applications regularly filed prior to 10:00 a. m. mountain standard time on June 30, 1948, and which are for the type of site for which the land is classified, this order shall become effective as of the date it is signed.

4. As to the land not covered by applications referred to in paragraph 3, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, as amended, until 10:00 a. m. mountain standard time on October 10, 1950. At that time such lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m. October 10, 1950, to close of business on January 8, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 10:00 a. m. on June 30, 1948, to 10:00 a. m. on October 10, 1950.

5. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m. on January 9, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference right filings from 10:00 a. m. on June 30, 1948, to 10:00 a. m. on January 8, 1951.

6. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in sections 4 (b) and 5 (a) above will be treated as simultaneously filed.

7. A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

8. All of the land will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres, each being approximately 330 feet by 660 feet and the longer dimensions of the tracts may extend either north and south or east and west, provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and dimensions specified above, and, provided the tract is not described in such a manner as to break up a ten-acre rectangular subdivision. This proviso applies to all leases issued, preference and non-preference alike. The longitudinal directions of tracts described in applications filed prior to the date of this order shall not be disturbed unless they have been filed in such a manner as to violate the rectangular subdivision rule.

9. Leases on all tracts which are taken for purposes other than combination home and business sites will be for a period of 5 years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease.

(a) Leases for tracts for combination home and business sites will be for a period of 5 years at the minimum annual rental of $20.00 payable for the first year in advance of the issuance of the lease and for each succeeding year thereafter on a date not less than 30 days prior to the beginning of the lease year, or the lessee may, at his option, pay the minimum rental of $20.00 per annum for the entire lease period in advance of issuance of the lease. Rentals on combination home and business sites will be graduated upward in accordance with the schedule of rentals for business sites in effect as of the date this order is signed.

(b) Leases for combination home and business sites shall contain a provision requiring an annual report from each lessee who has taken a tract for such purposes as to whether or not he has conducted a business thereon and if so, an accounting of the gross income derived therefrom. Such lease will also contain a clause reserving to the duly appointed, qualified and acting representative of the Bureau of Land Management the right to enter upon and inspect the premises and to examine the books and accounts pertaining to any business conducted thereon at any time during regular business hours.

10. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at appraised values as follows:

	Per tract
Section 12:
NW¼	$100.00
NE¼	75.00
S½	50.00
Section 15:
NW¼	125.00
NE¼	100.00
S½	75.00
Section 21: SW¼	175.00
Section 27:
N½NW¼	100.00
S½NW¼	125.00
N½SE¼	100.00
S½SE¼	150.00
S½SW¼	100.00
N½SW¼	150.00

(a) Applications for purchase may be filed at or after the expiration of one year from the date the lease issued, provided that improvements, appropriate to the purpose for which the lease is issued and which meet with the approval of the Regional Administrator shall have been constructed upon the lands prior to filing of the application for purchase.

(b) Leases issued under the terms of this order shall not be subject to assignment unless and until improvements as mentioned above in (a) shall have been completed.

(c) Leases for lands upon which the improvements above mentioned shall not have been constructed at or before the expiration thereof shall not be renewed.

11. Lessees and/or their successors in interest shall comply with all Federal, State, county and municipal laws and ordinances, especially those governing health and sanitation and failure or refusal to do so may be cause for cancellation of the lease in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

12. Rights-of-way for road and street purposes 33 feet in width are reserved from each tract and said 33-foot strip may be taken for street, road or alley from any edge of any of said tracts, but not more than one such strip for right-of-way shall be taken from any track without the consent of the lessee first had and obtained, or unless such right-of-way shall be condemned by proper eminent domain proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction. The said rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to issuance of patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued. All rights-of-way herein mentioned and reserved may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof.

13. All structures with the exception of fences and like movable installations shall be set back from the exterior boundaries of the tract not less than 33 feet and if there is a road or street in existence, or an identified and definitely established right-of-way for such road or street, then and in that event, all permanent structures will be set back not less than 33 feet from the outside line of the said established road, street, or definitely identified right-of-way.

14. Survey of individual tracts shall be at the expense of the applicant.

15. All leases and patents issued shall contain a reservation to the United States of all fissionable material sources, and all minerals, together with the right to prospect for, mine and remove the same under applicable laws and regulations.

16. All inquiries regarding these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, United States Land and Survey Office, 100 U. S. Courthouse, Phoenix, Arizona.

RADIO ATHENS, INC. (WRFC)

ORDER AMENDING ISSUES

In re application of Radio Athens, Inc. (WRFC), Athens, Georgia, for construction permit; Docket No. 9637, File No. BP-7415.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed July 26, 1950, by May Broadcasting Company (KMA), requesting a modification or clarification of Issue No. 4 specified in the Commission's order of April 21, 1950, designating the above-entitled application for hearing; and an opposition thereto filed by Radio Athens, Inc. (WRFC); and

It appearing, that Radio Athens, Inc., has no objection to amending the issue concerned so as to read the same as that issue specified in the Commission's memorandum opinion and order of July 26, 1950, in re Platte Valley Broadcasting Corporation (KNEB) (Docket No. 9596); and that the instant petitioner also desires that the said issue be reworded so as to be similar to the issue specified in that memorandum opinion and order; and

It further appearing, that for the reasons set forth in the Commission's memorandum opinion and order, in re Platte Valley Broadcasting Corporation (KNEB), the instant petition should be granted and Issue No. 4 accordingly amended;

It is ordered, That the petition of May Broadcasting Company (KMA), is granted; and that the Commission's order of April 21, 1950, designating the above-entitled application of Radio Athens, Inc. (WRFC), for hearing is amended to delete Issue No. 4 therefrom and to include therein the following as Issue No. 4:

4. To determine whether Station KMA, Shenandoah, Iowa, renders primary service beyond its normally protected contour in any area or areas within which the operation of Station WRFC as proposed may involve interference and, if so, whether 90 percent of the population (population served with an adequate signal) in those areas are supplied with primary service by any other station or stations which carry the same general program service as Station KMA.

[Docket No. 9543]

STATION KPAB

ORDER REOPENING RECORD FOR FURTHER HEARING

In the matter of revocation of license of Station KPAB, Laredo, Texas; Docket No. 9543.

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed by its General Counsel on May 8, 1950, requesting that the record in the above-entitled proceeding be reopened to receive additional evidence relating to the present employment of Mark Perkins and to such other matters as may be deemed relevant; and

It appearing, that the aforesaid Mark Perkins and Allen K. Tish, at the hearings herein, the record of which was closed on March 22, 1950 (subject only to the filing of one document which has since been filed), testified that Mark Perkins would continue his connection with Station KPAB; and

It further appearing, that in the aforesaid petition to reopen the record, the General Counsel alleges that subsequent to the closing of the record herein he was informed that Mark Perkins had left Laredo, Texas, and assumed full-time employment with Station KXYZ, Houston, Texas; that pursuant to inquiry, the Executive Vice-President of the licensee of Station KXYZ, by letter dated April 11, 1950, stated that Mark Perkins, on March 27, 1950, was employed by Station KXYZ as commercial salesman on a full-time basis; that the action of Mark Perkins subsequent to the closing of the record is not in accord with the representations made in the above-mentioned testimony of Perkins and Tish and casts substantial doubt on the truthfulness of that testimony; that therefore the record should be reopened; and that such evidence as may be presented, if the instant petition is granted, is newly discovered and could not with due diligence have been known or discovered at the time of the hearing; and

It further appearing, that the time for filing an opposition to the aforesaid petition has expired and no opposition has been filed thereto; and that the said petition sets forth facts which call for relief in accordance with the prayer thereof; and

It further appearing, that the above-entitled matter was heard in a consolidated proceeding with Docket No. 9604, In the Matter of Application for Consent to Transfer of Control of Laredo Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KPAB, Laredo, Texas; and that the aforesaid petition of the General Counsel requested a reopening of the records in both proceedings for the purpose stated; but that an order dismissing the application in Docket No. 9604 at the instance of the proposed transferee, Allen K. Tish, has been entered this day;

It is ordered, This 4th day of August 1950, that the aforesaid petition to reopen record, filed by the General Counsel of the Commission on May 8, 1950, is granted, insofar as it applies to Docket No. 9543, to the extent herein set forth; that the record in the said proceeding is reopened to permit the taking of additional evidence relating to the present employment of Mark Perkins, his present connection with Station KPAB, and to such other matters as may be relevant thereto; and that the further hearing herein shall be held at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., on a date to be specified in a subsequent order.

Released: August 4, 1950.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 59–15]

NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND CO. AND NEW ENGLAND PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

ORDER DENYING PETITIONS FOR REHEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August A. D. 1950.

The Commission, acting pursuant to an Amended Plan filed by New England Public Service Company ("NEPSCO") under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, approved by the Commission by its Findings and Opinion and Order dated June 27, 1947, and approved and enforced by Order of the United States District Court for the District of Maine, dated August 6, 1947, and pursuant to the reservation of jurisdiction contained in said Order of the Commission dated June 27, 1947, having by its Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950, and Supplemental Findings and Opinion dated July 28, 1950 (Holding Company Act Release No. 9982), entered its determinations as to the amounts to be paid to holders of the Certificates of Contingent Interest with respect to the Prior Lien Preferred Stock of NEPSCO;

Petitions for rehearing with respect to said Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950, and said Supplemental Findings and Opinion dated July 28, 1950, having been filed by David J. Greene, et al., Committee for Common Stockholders of NEPSCO and Shareholders of Northern New England Company, and by State Street Investment Corporation, R. V. Engstrom, et al., holders of said Certificates of Contingent Interest, the latter petition being joined in by Russell B. Stearns; and

The Commission having duly considered said petitions and the grounds set forth therein and it appearing that said petitions raise no matters of substance not previously considered by the Commission:

It is ordered, That said petitions be, and they hereby are, denied.

By the Commission.

NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND CO. AND NEW ENGLAND PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER APPROVING PLAN, AS AMENDED

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August A. D. 1950.

New England Public Service Company ("Nepsco"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary company of Northern New England Company, also a registered holding company, having heretofore filed an Amended Plan ("Plan") under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, approved by the Commission by its Findings and Opinion and Order dated June 27, 1947, and approved and enforced by Order of the United States District Court for the District of Maine dated August 6, 1947; said Plan having provided, among other things, for the retirement of Nepsco's then outstanding Prior Lien Preferred Stock, $7 Series, and $6 Series, by the payment to the holders thereof on account of their rights and claims of $100 per share and an amount equal to accrued dividends, and the issuance to such holders of Certificates of Contingent Interest evidencing their right to receive such additional amount, if any (not exceeding $20 for the $7 Series and $10 for the $6 Series), and such compensation for delay in payment, as shall be finally determined; and Nepsco having deposited in escrow the sum of $4,000,000 to secure payment of such amounts, if any, as may be finally determined to be due and payable in accordance with the terms of said Certificates of Contingent Interest;

Nepsco having proposed in the Plan that the amount payable to holders of said Certificates of Contingent Interest shall be $20 per share of Prior Lien Preferred Stock of the $7 Series and $10 per share of the Prior Lien Preferred Stock of the $6 Series, plus, in the case of each series, such compensation for delay in the payment of such amounts as shall be determined by final order in the proceedings;

The Commission, by its Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950, and Supplemental Findings and Opinion dated July 28, 1950 (Holding Company Act Release No. 9982) entered pursuant to the reservation of jurisdiction contained in the Commission's order of June 27, 1947, having directed that holders of said Certificates of Contingent Interest be paid $12.25 per share of Prior Lien Preferred Stock of the $7 Series and $2.25 per share of the Prior Lien Preferred Stock of the $6 Series plus, in the case of each series, compensation for the delay in payment of said amounts at the rate of 5.5 percent per annum from October 10, 1947, to the date of payment.

Petitions for rehearing with respect to said Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950, and said Supplemental Findings and Opinion dated July 28, 1950 having been filed and the Commission by order dated August 9, 1950 having denied said petitions;

Nepsco having thereafter on August 9, 1950, filed with the Commission an amendment to the Plan to conform the Plan to said Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950, and said Supplemental Findings and Opinion dated July 28, 1950, by substituting for its previous proposal, summarized above, with respect to the amounts to be paid to holders of said Certificates of Contingent Interest, the amounts specified in said Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950;

Nepsco having requested the Commission to approve the Plan as thus amended and apply to the District Court of the United States for the District of Maine, pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act for an appropriate order enforcing and carrying out the Plan, as amended;

The Commission finding on the basis of such Supplemental Order dated June 19, 1950 and said Supplemental Findings and Opinion dated July 28, 1950 that the Plan, as amended, is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby and necessary and appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act;

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act that the Plan, as amended, be and it hereby is approved.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and it hereby is reserved to determine the reasonableness and appropriate allocation of all fees and expenses and other remuneration incurred or to be incurred in connection with the Plan, as amended, and the transactions incident thereto.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and it hereby is reserved to entertain such further proceedings, to make such supplemental findings and orders, and to take such further action as the Commission may deem appropriate in connection with the Plan, as amended, the transactions incident thereto and the consummation thereof, and to take such further action as the Commission may deem necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act.

By the Commission.

CONSOLIDATED NATURAL GAS CO. ET AL.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of August A. D. 1950.

In the matter of Consolidated Natural Gas Company, the Peoples Natural Gas Company, New York State Natural Gas Corporation, Hope Natural Gas Company. File No. 70–2325.

Notice is hereby given that an amendment to the joint application-declaration herein has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Consolidated Natural Gas Company ("Consolidated"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiaries, The Peoples Natural Gas Company ("Peoples"), New York State Natural Gas Corporation ("New York State"), and Hope Natural Gas Company ("Hope"). Applicants-declarants have designated sections 6 (b), 7, 9 (a), 10 and 12 (f) of the act as applicable to the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 31, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said joint application-declaration proposed to be controverted, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time after August 31, 1950, such application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C.

All interested persons are referred to said amendment which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized below:

The amendment requests the entry of a supplemental order modifying the Commission's order dated March 10, 1950, herein, permitting Consolidated, pursuant to the terms of a loan agreement entered into with four commercial banks, to issue and sell, from time to time, during 1950, an aggregate of $14,000,000 principal amount of its 2 percent promissory notes due March 15, 1951, subject to renewal each year for four additional years at the option of Consolidated, and subject to Consolidated obtaining an order of the Commission authorizing each such renewal. The requested supplemental order would permit the issuance and sale of an additional $6,000,000 of such notes resulting in an aggregate of $20,000,000, subject to the same terms and conditions as heretofore permitted.

Our order of March 10, 1950, also permitted the issuance and sale by Peoples and New York State, to Consolidated, during the year 1950, of $6,000,000 and $8,000,000 principal amounts, respectively, of their 2 percent promissory notes maturing March 1, 1951, subject to renewals on the same terms as the notes to be sold by Consolidated. The requested supplemental order would permit the issuance and sale (i) of an additional $2,000,000 principal amount of such notes by Peoples resulting in an aggregate of $8,000,000; and (ii) of an additional $2,500,000 principal amount of such notes by New York State, resulting in an aggregate of $10,500,000; and (iii) of $2,000,000 principal of like notes by Hope. The proceeds from the sale of such notes will be used to finance, in part, the construction and gas storage programs of the subsidiaries.

It is stated that the necessity for the present proposal arises in most part from increases over original estimates of the cost of the construction and gas storage programs of the several subsidiaries herein. It is also stated that the issuance and sale of notes by Consolidated and its subsidiaries are part of a general financial plan adopted by Consolidated and its subsidiaries for the purpose of securing needed capital funds on an interim basis for a period not to exceed five years. It is indicated that during the five year period the notes herein proposed together with such further notes as shall be issued and sold by Consolidated, will be refinanced by the issuance and sale of debentures or capital stock, or both. Any renewal of notes or issuance of further notes or other securities will be subject to further order of this Commission.

The proposed issuance and sale of notes by Peoples and Hope have been submitted to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the West Virginia Public Service Commission, respectively, for their approval. The proposed issuance and sale of notes by New York State is not subject to the jurisdiction of any state regulatory commission.

By the Commission.

REPUBLIC SERVICE CORP. ET AL.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of August A. D. 1950.

In the matter of Republic Service Corporation, Greencastle Light, Heat, Fuel and Power Company, Mercersburg, Lehmasters and Markes Electric Company, Fulton Electric Light, Heat & Power Company. File No. 70–2408.

Republic Service Corporation ("Republic"), a registered holding company, and three of its wholly owned public utility subsidiary companies, Greencastle Light, Heat, Fuel and Power Company ("Greencastle"), Mercersburg, Lehmasters and Markes Electric Company ("Mercersburg"), and Fulton Electric Light, Heat & Power Company ("Fulton"), having filed a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto with the Commission pursuant to the provisions of sections 6, 9, 10, and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rules U-42, U-43, and U-45 promulgated thereunder regarding the following transactions:

Republic proposes to make capital contributions to Mercersburg and Fulton, of amounts due Republic on open account, in the sum of $236,300 and $138,626, respectively, subject to certain adjustments. Republic further proposes to sell and Greencastle proposes to acquire all the capital stocks of Mercersburg and Fulton, presently owned by Republic, for the cash amounts of $593,027.64 and $258,192.89, respectively, subject to certain adjustments.

Upon acquisition of such capital stocks by Greencastle, a merger will be effected whereby Greencastle will acquire the assets and assume the liabilities of Mercersburg and Fulton. The capital stocks of Mercersburg and Fulton will thereupon be canceled and the two companies will be dissolved.

In connection with the foregoing transactions Greencastle and Republic propose to take the following additional steps:

1. Greencastle will change its name to Cumberland Valley Electric Company (Greencastle will hereinafter be referred to as "Cumberland").

2. Cumberland will issue and sell $600,000 principal amount of 3¼ percent First Mortgage Bonds, due 1970, and $100,000 principal amount of 3½ percent Serial Notes—due $10,000 each year 1951 to 1960, inclusive—to John Hancock Mutal Life Insurance Company, at the principal amount thereof.

3. Cumberland will increase its authorized capital stock from 10,000 shares of common stock, par value $10 per share, to 50,000 shares of common stock, par value $10 per share; and will issue and sell, and Republic will purchase, 27,500 additional shares of such common stock for $275,000.

4. Of the aggregate of $975,000 to be received by it from the sales of securities referred to above, Cumberland will (a) deposit $100,000 with the Trustee under its new bonds, to be subsequently withdrawn against new construction, (b) pay Republic the adjusted price of $850,000 (see par. 5 below) for the stocks of Mercersburg and Fulton, and (c) use the balance of $25,000 for expenses of the proposed transactions and for working capital.

5. After giving effect to the amounts payable to Republic by Cumberland in respect of the latter's purchase of the stocks of Mercersburg and Fulton, Republic will contribute to Cumberland all sums owed it by Cumberland in excess of $850,000.

6. Of the $850,000 to be received by it from Cumberland, Republic will use $575,000 to pay and discharge its presently outstanding $425,000 principal amount of secured notes, and $150,000 principal amount unsecured note due August 31, 1950; and will use the balance of $275,000 to purchase 27,500 shares of Cumberland's common stock, as described in paragraph 3 above.

Said application-declaration having been filed on May 26, 1950, and amendments thereto having been filed, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to the act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, the only State commission having jurisdiction over the proposed transactions, having duly authorized the proposed transactions insofar as they affect Cumberland, Mercersburg and Fulton; and

Applicants-declarants having requested that the Commission's order herein with respect to said joint application-declaration, as amended, become effective upon issuance; and

The Commission finding with respect to the joint application-declaration, as amended, that the applicable provisions of the Act and the Rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective, subject to the terms and conditions specified below; and the Commission further deeming it appropriate to grant the request of the joint applicants-declarants that the order herein become effective forthwith;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

That the property described as follows: Real property situated in the Town of Wauwatosa, County of Milwaukee, State of Wisconsin, particularly described as lots numbered Thirty (30) and Thirty-one (31) in Block numbered Thirteen (13), in Hampton Park, being a subdivision of a part of the Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of Section numbered Three (3), in Township numbered Seven (7) North, Range numbered Twenty-one (21) East, together with all hereditaments, fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the persons named in subparagraph 1 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, subject to recorded liens, encumbrances and other rights of record held by or for persons who are not nationals of designated enemy countries, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on August 4, 1950.

For the Attorney General.

[Vesting Order 14914]

JOHN U. YOKOTAKE

In re: Interest in real property, property insurance policy and a claim owned by John U. Yokotake.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That John U. Yokotake, whose last known address is 249 Danbara Nakamachi, Hiroshima, Japan, is a resident of Japan and a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. That the property described as follows:

a. An undivided one-half (½) interest in real property situated in the County of Minidoka, State of Idaho, particularly described as the West-half of the Southwest quarter (W½SW¼) of Section Thirty-five (35), Township Nine (9) south of Range Twenty-three (23) east of the Boise Meridian, together with all hereditaments, fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property,

b. All right, title, interest and claim of the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof, in and to Fire Insurance Policy, No. 13406, in the amount of $1,500.00, expiring May 5, 1950, issued by the American Insurance Company, 15 Washington Street, Newark, New Jersey to E. M. Tanaka, and insuring the improvements on the real property described in subparagraph 2–a hereof, together with any and all extensions or renewals thereof, and

c. That certain debt or other obligation owing to the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof, by E. M. Tanaka, also known as Eddie M. Tanaka, Box 2, Shoshone, Idaho, arising out of his share of the rents collected from the real property described in subparagraph 2–a hereof, and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof is not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country (Japan).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 2–a hereof, subject to recorded liens, encumbrances and other rights of record held by or for persons who are not nationals of designated enemy countries, and

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraphs 2–b and 2–c hereof,

All such property so vested to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Section 518.188 Eligibility for payment is hereby amended by deleting paragraph (a) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 518.188 Eligibility for payment. (a) No payment will be made hereunder, unless the exporter executes and files Form FV-430, "Notice of Intention to File Claim under Orange Export Program QMX 7a" with the designated representative of the Secretary for the area of origin of the products to be exported as indicated in § 518.185 and unless such Form FV-430, "Notice of Intention," is approved in writing by the representative of the Secretary. A separate form must be filed for each anticipated claim by mail, postmarked not later than September 17, 1950. No payment will be made if such form is mailed after such date, and no payment will be made in excess of the sum to be billed the Secretary as shown in the approved Form FV-430, unles the Secretary or his representative, upon written request by the exporter, stating his reasons therefor, waives such delay in filing or approves such greater amount.

The representative of the Secretary will notify the exporter of the approval or disapproval as promptly as possible after receipt of any executed Form FV-430. Approval will be granted in the order in which "Notices of Intention" are received and such approval or disapproval will be based on the availability of funds under this program.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t. August 16, 1950.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter II—Office of Alien Property, Department of Justice

PART 502—RULES OF PROCEDURE FOR CLAIMS

PHILIPPINE DEBT CLAIMS

Part 502 is hereby amended by the addition of § 502.209, as set out below.

§ 502.209 Philippine debt claims—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable solely to the processing, determination and payment of debt claims asserted in respect of debtors whose vested property is located both in the Philippines and in the United States. All Notices of Claim for payment of debts heretofore filed with this Office in respect of debtors whose vested property is located solely in the Philippines have been transferred to the Philippine Alien Property Administration. Any person who desires to assert a claim with respect to vested property located solely in the Philippines should communicate with the Philippine Alien Property Administration, Dewey Boulevard and Cortaditarto Street, Manila, P. I.

(b) Claims filed with the Philippine Alien Property Administration are deemed filed with this Office. Any Notice to Claim heretofore or hereafter filed with the Philippine Alien Property Administration for payment of a debt in respect of a debtor any of whose vested property is located in the United States shall be deemed filed with this Office at the time of its filing with the Philippine Alien Property Administration.

(c) Claims with respect to property of a debtor located both in the Philippines and in the United States. Except as otherwise agreed to between this Office and the Philippine Alien Property Administration, where the vested property of a debtor is located both in the Philippines and in the United States, this Office will process claims asserted by residents of the United States or by corporations organized under the laws of the United States or any nation, territory, or possession thereof, and the Philippine Alien Property Administration will process claims asserted by residents of the Philippines or corporations organized under the laws of the Philippine Islands.

(d) Availability of debtor's estate in the United States and the Philippines for payment of allowed claims. The money available in this Office and the Philippine Alien Property Administration for the payment of claims in respect of a particular debtor's estate shall be made available for the payment of all allowed claims in respect to such debtor's estate, whether filed with this Office or the Philippine Alien Property Administration, subject to the joint approval of this Office and the Philippine Alien Property Administration. The amount of money disbursed in payment of claims in respect of a debtor's solvent estate shall be prorated and divided between this Office and the Philippine Alien Property Administration on the basis of the ratio that the amount of money originally available for payment in this Office bears to the amount of money originally available for payment in the Philippine Alien Property Administration.

(e) Hearings in the Philippine Alien Property Administration are deemed hearings before this Office. A hearing in the Philippine Alien Property Administration in respect of a Notice of Claim processed pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deemed a hearing in this Office where the Notice of Claim is based upon the same debt asserted in respect of the same debtor, and the claimant shall not be entitled to further hearing on the same debt claim in this Office. In such cases, the Philippine Alien Property Administration shall transmit to this Office a transcript of the record of the proceedings before it in respect of the claim. Upon receipt of the transcript, the Director of this Office may render his determination upon the basis of the record of the proceedings in the Philippine Alien Property Administration or take such other action as he may deem appropriate.

Chapter III—Office of Philippine Alien Property Administration

PART 601—GENERAL RULES OF PROCEDURE

PART 602—RULES OF PROCEDURE FOR CLAIMS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. The headnote for Part 601 is amended to read as set forth above.

2. Sections 601.1 Receipt and disposition of claims and 601.2 Rules of Vested Property Claims Committee are designated Part 602 and revised as set forth below. New §§ 601.1 and 601.2 are added as set forth below.

Executed at Manila, this 8th day of August 1950.

[SEAL] JAMES McI. HENDERSON,
Philippine Alien Property Administrator of the United States of America.

§ 601.1 Time for filing claims—(a) Definitions. (1) The term "vested property" as used in this section, means any property or interest seized by, vested in, or transferred to the Philippine Alien Property Administrator. The term "vested property" also includes any property or interest seized by, vested in, or transferred to the Alien Property Custodian under the act, which property or interest was transferred on October 15, 1946, under the act, to the Attorney General of the United States, and which property or interest the Attorney General transferred under the act to the Philippine Alien Property Administrator on January 9, 1947 (12 F. R. 215).

(2) The term "title claim" means a notice of claim under the act for the return of any vested property or the proceeds thereof.

(3) The term "debt claim" means a claim for payment of debt under section 34 of the act.

(4) The term "bar order" means the first order and notice under section 34

(b) of the act in respect of the debtor involved, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, which first fixes a date after which the filing of debt claims in respect of the debtor shall be barred.

(5) The term "act" means the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended.

(b) Title claims. (1) Title claims shall be filed with the Philippine Alien Property Administration by April 30, 1949, or within two (2) years from the date the property claimed became vested property, whichever, is later, computed in accordance with section 33 of the act.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, if no title claim is filed, with respect to vested property covered by a bar order, within one hundred and twenty (120) days after publication of the bar order, the Philippine Alien Property Administrator is authorized under section 34 of the act to pay debts owed by the person who owned such property or interest immediately prior to such vesting or transfer, out of money included in, or received as net proceeds from the sale, use, or other disposition of such property or interest, after deduction for expenses and taxes pursuant to section 34 (g) of the act.

(c) Debt claims shall be filed with the Philippine Alien Property Administration within the time fixed by the Philippine Alien Property Administrator in accordance with section 34 of the act. Under section 34 (a) of the act, the time fixed for the filing of debt claims may, subject to certain stated limitations, be extended by the Philippine Alien Property Administrator.

§ 601.2 Filing of claim as condition precedent of suit. The definitions contained in § 601.1 are applicable to this section. The filing, heretofore or hereafter, of a title claim under section 32 of the act shall constitute the filing of a notice required by section 9 of the statute as a condition precedent to the filing of a suit in equity under section 9.

SUBPART A—GENERAL RULES

§ 602.1 Scope of part. (a) Sections in Subpart A shall be applicable solely to title and debt claims.

(b) Sections in Subpart B shall be applicable solely to title claims.

(c) Sections in Subpart C shall be applicable to debt claims.

(d) Sections in Subpart D shall be applicable to all claims other than title and debt claims as defined in § 602.2 (e) and (f).

§ 602.2 Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires,

(a) The term "act" means the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended. The term "section" refers to a section of the act.

(b) The term "Administration" means the Philippine Alien Property Administration of the United States of America.

(c) The term "rules" means the rules of the Administration.

(d) The term "Administrator" means the Philippine Alien Property Administrator, or other person duly authorized to perform his functions.

(e) The term "title claim" means a notice of claim under section 32.

(f) The term "debt claim" means a claim under section 34.

(g) The term "claim" refers to a title claim or a debt claim.

(h) The term "claimant" means the person in whose behalf a claim is filed.

(i) The term "claim proceeding" means the administrative processing of a claim and includes the claim.

(j) The term "parties" includes the claimant and the General Counsel and, in debt claim proceedings, includes all related claimants as defined in § 602.200 (h).

(k) The term "vested property" means any property or interest vested in or transferred to the Administrator (other than any property or interest acquired by the United States prior to December 18, 1941) or the net proceeds thereof.

(l) The term "filing" means receipt by the Administration or appropriate officer or employee thereof.

(m) The term "Hearing Examiner" means the Chief of the Claims Adjudication Division of the Administration or any person designated to perform his functions by the Administrator.

§ 602.3 Appearance. (a) An individual may appear in a claim proceeding in his own behalf; a member of a partnership may represent the partnership; a bona fide officer of a corporation, trust or association may represent the corporation, trust or association, and an officer or employee of a federal, state or territorial agency, office or department may represent the agency, office or department.

(b) A person may be represented in a claim proceeding by an attorney at law admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States or the highest court of any state or territory of the United States, or the Court of Appeals, or the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, or the Supreme Court of the Philippines.

(c) Any person appearing in a claim proceeding may be required to file a power of attorney showing his authority to act in such capacity.

(d) Limitations on representative activities by former employees: See § 611.10 of the substantive rules of the Administration.

§ 602.4 Leave to be heard. (a) Unless waived by the Hearing Examiner, requests for leave to be heard shall be in writing, shall set forth the nature and extent of the applicant's interest in the proceeding and shall be filed with the Hearing Examiner not later than two (2) days prior to the date fixed for the commencement of the hearing.

(b) Leave to be heard may include a leave to call and examine witnesses, to offer documentary evidence, to cross-examine witnesses, to file briefs, to submit proposed findings and conclusions and to make oral argument. The Hearing Examiner or the Administrator shall determine the time and extent of such participation.

(c) The Republic of the Philippines shall be given leave to be heard in a claim proceeding which leave shall include leave to call and examine witnesses, to offer documentary and other evidence, to cross-examine witnesses, to file briefs, to submit proposed findings and conclusions and to make oral argument.

§ 602.5 Forms. (a) Title claims shall be filed on Form PAPA–1.

(b) Debt claims shall be filed on Form PAPA–2.

(c) Unless waived by the Administrator, only claims filed on the prescribed forms shall be considered as claims or notices of claim filed with this Administration.

§ 602.6 Addition and substitution of parties. Motions to add or substitute parties claimant may be granted by the Hearing Examiner in his discretion: Provided, however, That if the time has expired for the filing of a separate or independent claim by the party claimant to be added or substituted, no motion for addition or substitution of parties may be granted when giving effect to the party added or substituted would be tantamount to allowing the filing of a new cause of action. The Hearing Examiner in determining whether a new cause of action is involved shall take into consideration the evidence to be adduced, the relief to be granted, the legal basis of the claim, the defenses and counterclaims available to the Administration, and any other factor which under sound administrative procedure would be relevant and material on the question as to whether the cause of action or cause of claim remains the same.

§ 602.7 Amendment and withdrawal of claim. (a) The claimant may amend his claim prior to hearing. After the opening of a hearing in a claim proceeding, amendment of the claim may be made with the consent of all parties or as allowed by the Hearing Examiner or the Administrator.

(b) The claimant may at any time withdraw his claim by notice in writing to that effect.

§ 602.8 Order for hearing. The Administrator or the Hearing Examiner may issue an order for hearing in a claim proceeding. In fixing the time for hearing, due regard shall be given to the status of the claim proceeding and the convenience of the parties. The order shall specify the time, place, and nature of hearing. The order shall be served by the Hearing Examiner on all parties within a reasonable time, but not less than ten (10) days in advance of the hearing, unless the parties shall agree to a shorter time.

§ 602.9 Removal of a claim proceeding and hearing by the Administrator. (a) The Administrator may personally conduct a hearing and may exercise the other functions appropriate to the Hearing Examiner. The Administrator, at any stage of a claim proceeding before the Hearing Examiner, may remove the claim proceeding from the Hearing Examiner, and in his discretion may set aside all or part of the previous proceedings had in the claim. Determinations of the Administrator under this section shall first be issued in tentative form.

§ 602.10 Pre-hearing conferences. (a) At any time prior to hearing, the Hearing Examiner may arrange for the parties to appear before it for a conference at a designated time and place to consider, among other things, simplification of the issues and any other matter which would tend to expedite the disposition of the proceeding.

(b) The action taken at the conference may be recorded in a summary form or otherwise, for use at the hearing. Such record, when agreed to by the parties and approved by the Hearing Examiner, shall be conclusive as to the action embodied therein. Stipulations and admissions of fact and amendments shall be made a part of the record of the claim proceeding.

§ 602.11 Consolidation of claims. The Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, upon his own motion or upon motion of any party, may, where such action shall expedite the disposition of claims and further the ends of justice, consolidate claim proceedings.

§ 602.12 Hearings. (a) All hearings, except hearings before the Administrator, shall be conducted by the Hearing Examiner. In case of death, illness, disqualification or unavailability of the Hearing Examiner, a substitute Hearing Examiner may be designated by the Administrator.

(b) The Hearing Examiner may withdraw from a case when he deems himself disqualified or he may be withdrawn by the Administrator after affidavits alleging personal bias or other disqualifications have been filed with the Administrator and the matter has been considered by the Administrator.

(c) Hearings shall be held as ordered by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner and shall be open to the public unless otherwise ordered by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner.

(d) Subject to the rules of the Administration, the Hearing Examiner shall have the hearing powers set forth in section 7 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 241; 5 U. S. C. 1006).

(e) The Hearing Examiner shall act independently in the performance of his duties and perform no duties inconsistent with his duties and responsibilities. Save to the extent required for the disposition of ex parte matters, the Hearing Examiner shall not consult any person or party as to any fact in issue unless upon notice and opportunity for all parties to participate.

(f) The claimant shall be the moving party and shall have the burden of proof on all the issues involved in the claim proceeding. The claimant shall proceed first at the hearing in title claim proceedings. In debt claim proceedings the Hearing Examiner shall determine the order of proceeding.

(g) A presumption of the accuracy and the validity of the findings in a vesting order as to ownership of the property immediately prior to vesting shall be operative in all claims. Such findings shall be deemed accurate and valid unless contested or put in issue by a party, in which event such party shall have the burden of proving his allegations as to ownership of the property involved immediately prior to vesting.

(h) Any party and the Hearing Examiner shall have the right and power to call, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and to offer documentary or other evidence.

(i) In a claim proceeding, the rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law and equity shall not be controlling. However, it shall be the policy to exclude irrelevant, immaterial or unduly repetitious evidence. The scope of cross-examination may, in the discretion of the Hearing Examiner, extend to matters not covered in direct examination.

(j) Any record, document, or other writing, or any portion thereof, from the files of any foreign industrial, business or commercial enterprise, or from the official files of a foreign government, or any subdivision or agency thereof, shall, if otherwise relevant, be admissible in evidence in a claim proceeding as competent evidence of the matters therein contained, when authenticated by a certificate of a duly designated representative of the allied military or civilian authority of occupation, stating that such record, document or other writing came from the files of such enterprise, or from the official files of such foreign government and is in the custody of such allied authority of occupation. All circumstances in the making of such record, document or writing, as well as the lack of opportunity for cross examination, shall be considered by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner in determining its weight, but shall not affect its admissibility. A copy of such record, document or writing shall be equally admissible as the original, when accompanied by a certificate of the allied authority of occupation having custody thereof, stating that it conforms with the original.

(k) In the discretion of the Hearing Examiner, the hearing may be adjourned from day to day or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing by the Hearing Examiner or by appropriate notice.

(l) Contemptuous conduct at any hearing shall be ground for exclusion from the hearing. Failure or refusal of a witness to appear at any such hearing or to answer any question which has been ruled to be proper may be ground for the striking out of all testimony which may have been previously given by such witness on related matters.

(m) Hearings shall be stenographically reported by a reporter designated by the Administrator or Hearing Examiner and a transcript of such report shall be a part of the record and the sole official transcript of the proceeding. Such transcript shall include a verbatim report of the hearings. Nothing shall be omitted therefrom except as directed on the record by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner. Corrections in the official transcript may be made with the consent of the Hearing Examiner to make the transcript conform to the evidence presented at the hearing. The transcript may be examined without charge by the parties at the offices of the Administration during regular office hours. Parties desiring copies of the transcript may obtain such copies from the official reporter upon payment of the fees fixed therefor.

(n) Hearing may be waived by the parties and the claim submitted on briefs to the Hearing Examiner, or to the Administrator with his consent.

(o) The General Counsel shall be a necessary party in all claim proceedings.

§ 602.13 Witnesses. (a) Witnesses shall be examined orally under oath, except that, for good cause shown, testimony may be taken by deposition.

(b) Witnesses summoned before the Hearing Examiner shall be paid the same fees and mileage which are paid witnesses in the Courts of First Instance of the Philippines. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance the witness appears.

§ 602.14 Subpoenas. (a) The Administrator or the Hearing Examiner shall, upon application by any party, and upon a showing of general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought, issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence under oath, including books, records, correspondence or documents. Application for the issuance of subpoenas duces tecum shall specify the books, records, correspondence or other documents sought.

(b) The Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, before issuing any subpoena, may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

§ 602.15 Depositions. (a) Any party desiring to take a deposition shall make application therefor in writing, setting forth the reasons why such deposition should be taken, the name and residence of the witness, the matters concerning which it is expected the witness will testify, and the time and place proposed for the taking of the deposition. Thereupon, the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner may, in his discretion, issue an order which will name the witness whose deposition is to be taken, state the scope of the testimony to be taken, and specify the time when, the place where, and the officer before whom the witness is to testify. Such order shall be served upon all parties by the Hearing Examiner within a reasonable time in advance of the time fixed for taking testimony.

(b) The testimony shall be reduced to writing by the Officer or under his direction, after which the deposition shall be subscribed by the witness and certified by the Officer. Any part of a deposition not received in evidence shall not constitute a part of the record in such proceeding unless the parties so agree, or the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner so orders.

(c) Depositions may also be taken and submitted on written interrogatories in substantially the same manner as depositions taken by oral examination. When a deposition is taken upon written interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, none of the parties shall be present or represented, and no person, other than the witness, a stenographic reporter and the officer, shall be present at the examination of the witness, which fact shall be certified by the officer, who shall propound the interrogatories and cross-interrogatories to the witness in their order and reduce the testimony to writing in the witness' own words.

(d) Where the deposition is taken in a foreign country, it may be taken before a secretary of an embassy or legation, consul general, consul, vice consul, or consular agent of the United States, or before such person or officer as may be designated in the authorization or agreed upon by the parties by stipulation in writing filed with and approved by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner.

(e) A witness whose deposition is taken pursuant to these rules and the officer taking the deposition, unless he be employed by the Administration, shall be entitled to the same fee and mileage paid for like service in the Courts of First Instance in the Philippines, which fee shall be paid by the party at whose instance the deposition is taken, who may be required to deposit in advance an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

§ 602.16 Documents in a foreign language. Every document, exhibit or paper written in a language other than English, which is filed in any claim proceeding, shall be accompanied by an English translation thereof duly verified under oath to be a true and accurate translation. Each copy of every such document, exhibit or paper filed shall be accompanied by a separate copy of the translation.

§ 602.17 Motions. (a) All motions and requests for rulings addressed to the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner shall state the purpose of and the relief sought, together with the reasons in support thereof.

(b) All motions and requests for rulings made during a hearing in a claim proceeding may be stated orally and shall be made a part of the transcript.

(c) Motions and requests which relate to the introduction or striking of evidence, or which relate to procedure during the course of the hearings may be stated orally and shall be ruled on by the Hearing Examiner. No exception need be taken to any ruling in order to entitle a party to urge an objection thereafter in the claim proceeding.

§ 602.18 Withdrawal of papers. The granting of a request to dismiss or withdraw a paper, document or pleading shall not authorize the removal of the paper, document, or pleading from the records of the Administration. No paper, document or pleading officially filed shall be returned unless the Administrator shall, for good cause, allow such return.

§ 602.19 Oral argument and closing of hearing. Any party shall be entitled, upon request, at the close of the hearing to a reasonable period for oral argument before the Hearing Examiner which oral argument may, with the consent or the request of the Hearing Examiner, be included in the stenographic report of the hearing.

§ 602.20 Proposed findings and conclusions. (a) At the close of the reception of evidence before the Hearing Examiner or within a reasonable time thereafter, to be fixed by the Hearing Examiner, any party may submit to the Hearing Examiner proposed findings and conclusions, together with a brief in support thereof. Such proposals shall be in writing and shall contain appropriate references to the records. Copies thereof shall be furnished to all parties. Reply briefs may be filed within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Hearing Examiner. As far as practicable, procedure shall be followed of having claimant's brief filed first, followed by the brief of the General Counsel, with any reply briefs filed in the same order. Opportunity to submit further or rebuttal briefs may be granted in the discretion of the Hearing Examiner.

(b) The Hearing Examiner or the Administrator may, in a claim proceeding, request briefs, memoranda, or oral argument of any of the parties with respect to any matter in issue.

§ 602.21 Determinations. (a) The Hearing Examiner, as soon as practicable after receipt of the complete transcript and all exhibits, shall make a determination which shall become a part of the record and include a statement of: (1) findings of fact and conclusions of law, as well as the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record; (2) disposition of the claim proceeding.

(b) At any time prior to the filing of a determination, the Hearing Examiner may, for good cause, reopen the case for the reception of further evidence.

(c) A copy of the Hearing Examiner's determination shall be served upon each party.

(d) Unless review has been undertaken in accordance with § 602.22, the determination of the Hearing Examiner shall be final and shall be the determination of the Administration.

§ 602.22 Review of the Hearing Examiner's determination—(a) In title claims proceedings. Within twenty (20) days after receipt of a copy of the Hearing Examiner's determination or such further time as the Hearing Examiner or the Administrator may allow, any party seeking review thereof may petition the Administrator to review such determination. Such petition shall state the objections to the determination of the Hearing Examiner and the reasons in support of such objections. Within twenty (20) days after the filing of such petition, any party opposing the petition for review may file a memorandum to such effect. If the petition for review is granted, the Administrator shall fix a time for the filing of briefs and may provide for oral argument pursuant to § 602.24.

(b) In debt claims proceedings and in proceedings concerning attorney's fees under section 20. Within twenty (20) days after receipt of a copy of the Hearing Examiner's determination or such further time as the Hearing Examiner or the Administrator may allow, any party seeking appeal thereof may file such appeal with the Administrator. The Administrator shall fix a time for the filing of briefs and may provide for oral argument pursuant to § 602.24.

§ 602.23 Briefs before the Administrator. Briefs shall be confined to the particular matters at issue. Reply briefs shall be confined to matters in original briefs of opposing parties.

§ 602.24 Oral argument before the Administrator. Oral argument may, in the discretion of the Administrator, be heard upon request of any party. The Administrator will determine in each instance the time to be allowed for argument and the allocation thereof to the parties interested.

§ 602.25 Waiver by the Administrator. The Administrator may, with the consent of the parties, waive any of the requirements of this part when, in his opinion, the ends of justice would thereby be served.

§ 602.26 Motion to dismiss. (a) Motion to dismiss may be made by the General Counsel prior to the commencement of the hearing. Such motion shall be in writing, shall state the reasons in support thereof and shall be filed with the Hearing Examiner. A copy of the motion shall be served upon all parties by the General Counsel.

(b) Hearing on the motion shall be held at a time and place as ordered by the Hearing Examiner or the Administrator.

(c) Briefs may be submitted before the hearing, at the hearing, or if the Hearing Examiner has reserved ruling on the motion, within a time fixed by the Hearing Examiner after the close of hearing.

(d) Hearing before the Hearing Examiner may be waived by the parties and the matter submitted on briefs to the Hearing Examiner or to the Administrator with his consent.

(e) Motion to dismiss a claim proceeding shall be granted by the Hearing Examiner when the claim on its face is not allowable or when it appears that the claim has been abandoned or for want of prosecution by the claimant.

(f) Unless review is undertaken by the Administrator, the determination of the Hearing Examiner upon the motion shall be final and shall be the determination of the Administration. The review and appeal provisions of § 602.22 shall apply to determinations of the Hearing Examiner upon such motions.

§ 602.27 Service—(a) By the Hearing Examiner. Orders, notices, rulings, determinations, and any other action taken by the Hearing Examiner requiring service shall be served by the Hearing Examiner by registering and mailing a copy thereof to the parties, addressed to the person or persons designated in the notice of claim. When notice is not accomplished by registered mail, it may be effected by the Hearing Examiner or by anyone duly authorized by the Administrator by delivering a copy of the document at the principal office or place of business of the party to be served. The return post office receipt for said document or other paper registered and mailed or the verified return of the person accomplishing service, shall be proof of such service.

(b) By the Administrator. Any action taken by the Administrator in a claim proceeding shall be served by the Administrator in the manner provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) By parties. Motions, briefs, proposed findings and conclusions, notices and all other papers filed in a claim proceeding, when filed with the Hearing Examiner or the Administrator, shall show service thereof upon the parties to the claim proceeding. Such service shall be made by delivering in person or by mailing.

(d) Service upon attorneys. When any party has appeared by attorney, service upon the attorney shall be deemed service upon the party.

(e) Date of service. The date of service shall be the day when the matter is received or delivered.

§ 602.28 Continuances and extensions. Continuance with respect to any claim proceeding or hearing and extension of time for filing, or performing any act required or allowed to be done within a specified time, may be granted by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner upon motion, for good cause shown, except where time for performance or filing is limited by the act.

§ 602.29 Rehearing, reargument. Any party seeking rehearing, reargument or any desired relief not specifically covered by this part, may petition the Administrator therefor, stating the relief sought and the reasons in support thereof. The Administrator may allow the petition in whole or in part and upon such conditions as he deems proper.

§ 620.30 Fees. (a) Prior to the return of vested property and prior to the payment of any debt claim, and after completion of the services in connection with such return or payment rendered by claimant's agents, attorneys at law or in fact or representatives, the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner may, upon his motion or upon motion of any party, direct that any such agent, attorney at law or in fact or representative furnish a schedule of the fees to be paid.

(b) Unless hearing has been waived by all the parties and the attorneys involved, the determination required under section 20 shall be made by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, after notice of and opportunity for hearing. At such hearing the parties and their counsel shall have the right to offer evidence and oral and written argument. The review provisions of § 602.22 (b) shall be applicable to the determination of the Hearing Examiner with respect to fees.

§ 602.31 Effective date. This part shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SUBPART B—TITLE CLAIMS

§ 602.100 Definitions. As used in the sections applicable solely to title claims, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) The term "taxes" refers to taxes as defined under section 36 (d).

(b) The term "national interest" means the interest of the United States under section 32 (a) (5).

(c) The term "conservatory expenses" means expenses expended or incurred in the conservation, preservation or maintenance of vested property.

§ 602.101 Order of processing. Except in cases where hardship or other special circumstances exist, claims shall be processed, as nearly as practicable, in the order of their filing.

§ 602.102 Procedure for allowance without hearing. (a) The General Counsel may initiate a proceeding for allowance of a claim, or a separable part thereof, which he deems entitled to allowance without the necessity of a hearing thereon, by submitting to the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, a recommendation for allowance, together with proposed findings and conclusions.

(b) The record in a claim proceeding under this procedure shall include the notice of claim and the evidence submitted by the claimant with respect thereto, the recommendation for allowance and the proposed findings and conclusions.

(c) The Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, as the case may be, shall consider the record and may allow the claim.

(d) If the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, as the case may be, shall not concur with the recommendation of the General Counsel, the claim proceeding shall be remanded by the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner and restored to its former status.

(e) A claim under this procedure may be allowed notwithstanding the fact that the General Counsel makes no recommendation with respect to taxes, conservatory expenses or attorneys' fees. However, no return will be made prior to a determination of such matters and adequate provision made therefor.

§ 602.103 Requirement for hearing. No claim shall be allowed or disallowed except after hearing, unless the claim has been determined pursuant to § 602.102 or § 602.105.

§ 602.104 Hearing calendar. The Hearing Examiner shall maintain a hearing calendar of all claim proceedings set for hearing.

§ 602.105 National interest. (a) Anything in this part to the contrary notwithstanding, the Administrator may (1) by order disallow a claim by citation of this rule or (2) by order suspend for a fixed or indefinite time, further action by the Administration or the Hearing Examiner in a claim proceeding by citation or this section, whenever it appears that return of property claimed is not in the national interest for reasons of national security of foreign affairs or other matters falling within the scope of section 32 (a) (5).

(b) The Administrator may, upon his own motion or upon the motion of any party, direct, with respect to any question of fact relating to national interest, that hearing be held before the Hearing

Examiner or the Administrator. The Hearing Examiner in such a hearing shall prepare recommended findings of fact only which shall be submitted to the Administrator with the transcript of the hearing.

§ 602.106 Service and availability of determinations. Copies of the determination of the Administration shall be served on the parties. Copies of such determination will be available for public examination at the office of the Administration.

§ 602.107 Publication of notice of intention to return vested property. At least thirty (30) days before making any return of vested property to any person other than a resident of the United States, a resident of the Republic of the Philippines, or a corporation organized under the laws of the Republic of the Philippines or the United States, or any State, Territory, or possession of the United States or the District of Columbia, the Administrator shall issue and file for publication with the FEDERAL REGISTER and in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Manila, P. I., a notice of intention to make such return specifying therein the person to whom such return is to be made and the place where the property, interest or proceeds to be returned are located.

§ 602.108 Revocation of notice of intention to return vested property. (a) The notice of intention to return vested property may be revoked by the Administrator, upon his own motion or the motion of any party, at any time prior to return.

(b) Notice of such revocation shall be served on the parties and filed for publication with the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 602.109 Objections during publication period. (a) Within thirty (30) days after publication of notice of intention to return vested property, objectors to the return of property set forth in the notice may file with the Administrator a written statement of the objections.

(b) Any objection so filed shall be considered by the Administrator prior to return of the property. The Administrator may reopen the claim proceeding as a result of such objections.

§ 602.110 Return order. As soon as practicable after final administrative allowance of a claim, an order of the Administrator will issue directing return of the property concerned: Provided, That in a claim proceeding where notice of intention to return vested property has been published in accordance with § 602.107, the order directing return will issue as soon as practicable after the expiration of thirty (30) days following the publication of the notice. In claims proceedings where a notice of intention to return vested property has been filed for publication the return order shall be filed for publication with the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 602.111 Final audit. Prior to making full and final return of property pursuant to a return order, a final audit with respect to the property involved will be made. Any transactions occurring in the administration of such property shall be given effect in determining the actual amount of cash and other property to be returned pursuant to the return order.

§ 602.112 Return of vested property. After publication of the return order, completion of the final audit and final administrative determination with respect to taxes, fees, and conservatory expenses, appropriate instruments and papers will issue returning the property claimed. The claimant receiving such property shall execute papers in such form as the Administrator shall determine, acknowledging receipt of the property returned.

SUBPART C—DEBT CLAIMS

§ 602.200 Definitions. As used in the sections applicable solely to debt claims, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) The term "vested property" means any property or interest vested in or transferred to the Administrator (other than any property or interest acquired by the United States prior to December 18, 1941) or the net proceeds thereof.

(b) The term "vested property of a debtor" means property of a debtor which he owned immediately prior to its becoming vested property.

(c) The term "money available for payment of claims" means such money included in, or received as net proceeds from the sale, use, or other disposition of vested property of a debtor as shall remain after deduction of expenses and taxes, as the latter two terms are hereafter defined.

(d) The term "expenses" means (1) the amount of expenses of this Administration and its predecessor, the Office of Alien Property (including (a) expenses directly allocable to the vested property involved and (b) such portion as the Administrator shall fix of general administrative expenses of the agency and any residue of the expenses directly allocable to other vested property which may be uncollectible or unrealizable from the particular vested account to which such direct expenses relate), and (2) such amount, if any, as the Administrator may establish as a cash reserve for the future payment of such expenses.

(e) The term "taxes" means taxes as defined in section 36, and includes taxes paid by the Alien Property Custodian or Attorney General of the United States in respect of vested property of the debtor involved and such amount, if any, as the Administrator may establish as a cash reserve for the future payment of such taxes.

(f) The term "debtor's solvent estate" means money available for payment of claims which money at the time of computation exceeds the aggregate of claims filed against a particular debtor.

(g) The term "debtor's insolvent estate" means money available for payment of claims which money at the time of computation is less than the aggregate of claims filed against a particular debtor.

(h) The term "related claimants" refers to all claimants with respect to a particular debtor's insolvent estate.

(i) The term "proposed payment" refers to payment proposed to be made to claimants whose claims against a debtor's insolvent estate have been allowed in whole or in part.

§ 602.201 Procedure for allowance and payment without hearing of claims against debtor's solvent estates. (a) With respect to claims against debtors' solvent estates, the General Counsel may initiate a proceeding for allowance of a claim, or a separable part thereof, which he deems entitled to allowance, by submitting to the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner a recommendation for allowance, together with proposed findings and conclusions.

(b) The record in a claim proceeding under this procedure shall include the notice of claim and any evidence submitted by the claimant with respect thereto, the recommendation for allowance and the proposed findings and conclusions.

(c) The Administrator or Hearing Examiner, as the case may be, shall consider the record and may allow the claim without hearing.

(d) If the Administrator or the Hearing Examiner, as the case may be, shall not concur with the recommendation of the General Counsel, the claim proceeding shall be remanded by the Administrator and restored to its former status.

(e) A claim under this procedure may be allowed notwithstanding the fact that the General Counsel makes no recommendation with respect to attorneys' fees. However, no payment will be made prior to a determination covering attorneys' fees pursuant to section 20.

§ 602.202 Requirement for hearing. No claim shall be allowed or disallowed except after hearing, unless hearing has been waived by the parties or unless the claim has been allowed pursuant to § 602.201.

§ 602.203 Hearing docket. (a) A separate hearing docket of claims set for hearing will be maintained by the Hearing Examiner for debt claims against debtors' solvent estates and debt claims against debtors' insolvent estates.

(b) The Hearing Examiner shall transfer a debt claim from the debtors' insolvent estates docket to the debtors' solvent estates docket, or vice versa, as the need for change appears. A claim transferred at any time prior to the payment thereof from the debtors' solvent estate docket to the debtors' insolvent estate docket, irrespective of the stage of the administrative process at the time of the transfer, shall be processed as a claim against a debtor's insolvent estate.

§ 602.204 Claims against debtors' insolvent estates. (a) With respect to claims against a particular debtor's insolvent estate, the General Counsel may prepare a list of the claims filed and a schedule of the claims he will move for allowance at the hearing and the claims he will contest together with the priorities and payments proposed by him. Such schedule shall be made available to all related claimants by the General Counsel a reasonable time prior to hearing.

(b) All related claimants shall be given opportunity to oppose the allowance, priority or payment of the claim of any related claimant.

(c) At the close of the hearing and after opportunity for oral argument, proposed findings and conclusions and briefs, pursuant to § 602.19 and § 602.20, the Hearing Examiner, as soon as practicable, after receipt of the complete transcript and all exhibits, shall issue its determination which shall include a determination as to allowance or disallowance, and a schedule of the claims allowed with priorities assigned thereto and the payment to be made to each claimant. The Hearing Examiner may issue such schedule either in tentative or final form. If issued in tentative form it shall thereafter be issued in final form with any modifications the Hearing Examiner may see fit to make after having afforded an opportunity for hearing on such tentative schedule.

(d) Unless appealed, the determination, including the schedule, of the Hearing Examiner shall be the determination of the Administration. The determination of the Hearing Examiner is subject to appeal in accordance with the provisions of § 602.22.

§ 602.205 Cases of no vested property of debtor. Where there does not exist any vested property of a debtor with respect to which debt claims have been filed, the claimant shall be notified thereof and the claim, after opportunity for hearing before the Hearing Examiner shall be ordered dismissed.

§ 602.206 Determination of the aggregate of claims filed against a debtor. In determining the aggregate of claims filed against a debtor, there shall be excluded claims which have been withdrawn and claims which have been dismissed pursuant to § 602.26 or § 602.205 as to which no complaint for review pursuant to section 34 (f) has been filed within sixty (60) days after the date of service of the dismissal.

§ 602.207 Payment of allowed claims—(a) Claims against a debtor's solvent estate. As soon as practicable after the allowance of a claim, in whole or in part, against a debtor's solvent estate, the claim will be paid to the extent allowed.

(b) Claims against a debtor's insolvent estate. To the extent that the proposed payment of a claim against a debtor's insolvent estate has not been made the subject of a complaint for review under section 34 (f), the Administrator may order payment thereof, after the time for the filing of such complaint for review has expired. To the extent that the allowance and disallowance of claims and proposed payments with respect thereto have been made the subject of a complaint for review under section 34 (f), payment will be made in accordance with the final adjudication thereof.

§ 602.208 Future payments. (a) If additional moneys become available for the payment of claims after the first payment on allowed claims against a debtor's insolvent estate, the General Counsel shall submit to the Hearing Examiner notice thereof and the suggested payments to be made. Copies thereof shall be served on each claimant whose claim was allowed and has not been discharged in full.

(b) At the request of any such claimant, a hearing shall be held before the Hearing Examiner with respect to the suggested payments, at which hearing all such claimants shall be entitled to be heard.

(c) The Hearing Examiner shall prepare a determination setting forth the payments to be made to claimants in accordance with the priorities previously assigned. Unless appealed, such decision shall be final and shall be the decision of the Administration. The appeal provisions of § 602.22 apply to the determination of the Hearing Examiner.

§ 602.209 United States debt claims—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable solely to the processing, determination and payment of debt claims asserted in respect of debtors whose vested property is located both in the United States and in the Philippines. All Notices of Claim for payment of debts heretofore filed with this Administration in respect of debtors whose vested property is located solely in the United States have been transferred to the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice. Any person who desires to assert a claim with respect to vested property located solely in the United States should communicate with the Office of Alien Property, United Staes Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

(b) Claims filed with the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice are deemed filed with this Administration. Any Notice of Claim heretofore or hereafter filed with the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice for payment of a debt in respect of a debtor any of whose vested property is located in the Philippines shall be deemed filed with this Administration at the time of its filing with the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice.

(c) Claims with respect to property of a debtor located both in the United States and in the Philippines. Except as otherwise agreed to between this Administration and the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice, where the vested property of a debtor is located both in the United States and in the Philippines, this Administration will process claims asserted by residents of the Philippines or by corporations organized under the laws of the Philippines, and the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice will process claims asserted by residents of the United States, or by corporations organized under the laws of the United States, or any nation, territory, or possession thereof.

(d) Availability of debtor's estate in the Philippines and the United States for the payment of allowed claims. The money available in this Administration and the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice for the payment of claims in respect of a particular debtor's estate shall be made available for the payment of all allowed claims in respect of such debtor's estate, whether filed with this Administration or the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice, subject to the joint approval of this Administration and the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice. The amount of money disbursed in payment of claims in respect of a debtor's solvent estate shall be pro-rated and divided between this Administration and the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice on the basis of the ratio that the amount of money originally available for payment in this Administration bears to the amount of money originally available for payment in the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice.

(e) Hearings in the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice are deemed hearings before this Administration. A hearing in the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice in respect of a Notice of Claim processed pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deemed a hearing in this Administration where the Notice of Claim is based upon the same debt asserted in respect of the same debtor, and the claimant shall not be entitled to further hearing on the same debt claim in this Administration. In such cases, the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice shall transmit to this Administration a transcript of the record of the proceedings before it in respect of the claim. Upon receipt of the transcript, the Administrator may render his determination upon the basis of the record of the proceedings in the Office of Alien Property, United States Department of Justice or take such other action as he may deem appropriate.

SUBPART D—GENERAL CLAIMS

§ 602.300 General claims. All claims against the Administration other than title and debt claims as defined in § 602.22 (e) and (f), shall be known as "general claims" under this part. Unless forms have been prescribed or authorized for the filing or assertion thereof, general claims may be filed or asserted by letter addressed to the Administrator containing a statement of the nature and details of the claim. The Administrator may designate the Hearing Examiner to hear and determine such claims on behalf of the Administrator, under such terms and conditions as the Administrator, in his discretion, may deem appropriate.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Gay Time Frock Company of Scranton et al., Docket 5350, June 22, 1950]

In the Matter of Gay Time Frock Company of Scranton, a Pennsylvania Corporation; Gay Time Frock Company, an Illinois Corporation; Leo Simon, Adolph Rosner, and Benjamin F. Rosner, Individually and as Officers and Directors of the Aforesaid Corporations; Harold A. Fein, Individually and as an Officer of the Aforesaid Corporations; Herman Seldin and Nathan Lieberman, Individuals Doing Business as Gil Sportwear Company

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondents Herman Seldin and Nathan Lieberman admitting the material allegations of fact in the complaint insofar as it related to them and waiving all intervening procedure and further hearing as to said facts, the answer of the other respondents admitting certain allegations and denying others, testimony and other evidence introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, recommended decision of the trial examiner, with exceptions thereto, and briefs and oral argument of counsel; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and conclusion that respondents Herman Seldin and Nathan Lieberman have violated the provisions of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder and that all of the respondents, except Adolph Rosner and Harold A. Fein, have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondents Gay Time Frock Company of Scranton, a Pennsylvania corporation, Gay Time Frock Company, an Illinois corporation, their officers, agents, representatives, and employees, and Leo Simon and Benjamin F. Rosner individually, and their respective agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution of women's wearing apparel and other articles in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from advertising, offering for sale, or selling products composed in whole or in part of rayon without clearly disclosing such rayon content.

It is further ordered, That the respondents Herman Seldin and Nathan Lieberman, copartners trading as Gil Sportwear Company, or trading under any other name, and their respective agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the introduction or manufacture for introduction into commerce, or the offering for sale, sale, transportation, or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the aforesaid acts, of wearing apparel or other wool products, as such products are defined in and subject to the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939, which products contain, purport to contain, or in any way are represented as containing "wool", "reprocessed wool", or "reused wool", as those terms are defined in said act, do forthwith cease and desist from misbranding such apparel or other products by failing to affix securely to or place on such products a stamp, tag, label, or other means of identification showing in a clear and conspicuous manner:

(a) The percentage of the total fiber weight of such wool product, exclusive of ornamentation not exceeding five percentum of said total fiber weight of (1) wool, (2) reprocessed wool, (3) reused wool, (4) each fiber other than wool where said percentage by weight of such fiber is five percentum or more, and (5) the aggregate of all other fibers.

(b) The maximum percentage of the total weight of such wool product of any non-fibrous loading, filling, or adulterating matter.

(c) The name of the registered identification number of the manufacturer of such wool product or of one more persons engaged in introducing such wool product into commerce, or in the offering for sale, sale, transportation, or distribution thereof in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act and in the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939: Provided, That the foregoing provisions concerning misbranding shall not be construed to prohibit acts permitted by paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 3 of the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939: And provided further, That nothing contained in this order shall be construed as limiting any applicable provisions of said act or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein as to Adolph Rosner and Harold A. Fein be, and the same hereby is, dismissed.

It is further ordered, That the respondents against whom this order is directed shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Issued: June 22, 1950.

Richter Company, or under any other name, etc., and their respective agents, etc., receiving or accepting from any seller, directly or indirectly, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, upon or in connection with any purchase made for any of said respondents' own accounts; and, II, in connection with the offering to purchase, purchasing, offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, of food products or other merchandise, and on the part of said individual respondents, etc., (1) representing directly or by implication, that said respondents' individual firm is an organization composed of a group of wholesalers and chain grocers, super markets, hotel, restaurant, and bakery supply houses, or any other concerns; or that such firm operates through one buying or distributing source for any group of business establishments; (2) representing, directly or by implication, that said respondents' individual firm offers to packers or processors of food products or of any other commodities, any distributional advantages which may result from sales to buying groups; or, (3) using in advertising, on stationery, or elsewhere any false address or feigned signature, or otherwise misrepresenting the address, status or identity of said respondents' business, for the purpose or with the effect of deceiving packers or processors of food products or others with whom such respondents deal; prohibited.

(Sec 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Philip Barr & Co, Inc. et al., Docket 5651, June 22, 1950]

In the Matter of Philip Barr & Co., Inc., a Corporation; Philip Francis Barr and Sylvia Barr, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation; Philip Francis Barr and Sylvia Barr, Individually and Trading as Associated Food Factors, and as S. Richter Company

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the respondents' substitute answer thereto, in which answer the respondents, for the purposes of the proceeding, admitted all of the material allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and waived all intervening procedure and further hearings as to said facts, and certain testimony and other evidence introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, and the trial examiner's recommended decision and exceptions thereto; and the Commission, having disposed of the exceptions to the trial examiner's recommended decision and having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents, Philip Barr & Co., Inc., a corporation, and Philip Francis Barr and Sylvia Barr, individually and as officers of said corporation, have violated the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of an act of Congress entitled "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes", approved October 15, 1914, (the Clayton Act), as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936, (15 U. S. C. 13), and its conclusion that the respondents Philip Francis Barr and Sylvia Barr have, in addition, violated the provisions of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission act:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Philip Barr & Co., Inc., a corporation, and its officers, and Philip Francis Barr and Sylvia Barr, individually and as officers of said corporation and trading as Associated Food Factors and as S. Richter Company, or trading under any other name or trade designation, and said respondents' respective agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate of other device, in connection with the purchase of food products or other merchandise in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Receiving or accepting from any seller, directly or indirectly, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, upon or in connection with any purchase made for any of said respondents' own accounts.

It is further ordered, That the respondents, Philip Francis Barr and Sylvia Barr, individually and trading as Associated Food Factors, or trading under any other name or trade designation, and said respondents' agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering to purchase, purchase, offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of food products or other merchandise, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Representing, directly or by implication, that said respondents' individual firm is an organization composed of a group of wholesalers and chain grocers, super markets, hotel, restaurant, and bakery supply houses, or any other concerns; or that such firm operates through one buying or distributing source for any group of business establishments.

(2) Representing, directly or by implication, that said respondents' individual firm offers to packers or processors of food products, or of any other commodities, any distributional advantages which may result from sales to buying groups.

(3) Using in advertising, on stationery, or elsewhere, any false address or feigned signature, or otherwise misrepresenting the address, status or identity of said respondents' business, for the purpose or with the effect of deceiving packers or processors of food products or others with whom such respondents deal.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 699—TEXTILE AND TEXTILE PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE ORDER

Pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001), notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 21, 1950 (15 F. R. 4694) of my decision to approve the minimum wage recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 6 for Puerto Rico for the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico, and the proposed wage order to carry such recommendation into effect was published therewith. Interested parties were given an opportunity to submit exceptions within 15 days of the date of publication of the notice. No exceptions have been filed, and the time for filing has expired.

Accordingly, pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201), the said decision is hereby affirmed and made final, and the said wage order is hereby issued, to become effective September 18, 1950.

AUTHORITY: §§ 699.1 to 699.4 issued under 52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201.

§ 699.1 Approval of recommendations of Industry Committee. The Committee's recommendations are hereby approved.

§ 699.2 Wage rates. (a) Wages at a rate of not less than 25 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the Hand-Loomed Textile Division of the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 30 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the Cotton Ginning and Compressing Division of the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(c) Wages at a rate of not less than 50 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the Mattress, Quilt and Pillow Division of the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(d) Wages at a rate of not less than 32½ cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the Hard-Fiber Products Division of the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(e) Wages at a rate of not less than 30 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the General Division of the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

§ 699.3 Notices of order. Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor and shall give such other notice as the Division may prescribe.

§ 699.4 Definitions of the Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico and its divisions. (a) The Textile and Textile Products Industry in Puerto Rico, to which this order shall apply, is hereby defined as follows:

The preparation of textile fibers, including the ginning and compressing of cotton; the manufacture of batting, wadding, and filling; the manufacture of yarn, cordage, twine, felt, woven and knitted fabrics, and lace-machine products, from cotton, jute, sisal, coir, maguey, silk, rayon, nylon, wool or other vegetable, animal, or synthetic fibers, or from mixtures of these fibers; and the manufacture of blankets, textile bags, oil cloth and artificial leather, woven carpets and rugs, mattresses, quilts and pillows: Provided however, That the definition shall not include the chemical manufacturing of synthetic fiber and such related processing of yarn as is conducted in establishments manufacturing synthetic fiber.

This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

(b) The separable divisions of the industry, as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, to which this order and its several provisions shall apply, are hereby defined as follows:

(1) General division. This division consists of all products and activities included in the Textile and Textile Products Industry, as defined in this section, except those included in the Cotton Ginning and Compressing Division, the Mattress, Quilt, and Pillow Division, the Hand-Loomed Textile Division, and the Hard-Fiber Products Division, as defined in this section.

(2) Cotton ginning and compressing division. This division consists of the ginning and compressing of cotton.

(3) Mattress, quilt and pillow division. This division consists of the manufacture of mattresses, quilts and pillows.

(4) Hand-loomed textile division. This division consists of the manufacture from any fiber of hand-loomed fabrics, blankets, rugs and similar textiles.

(5) Hard-fiber products division. This division consists of the manufacture from kenaf, coir, sisal, jute or other hard or coarse textile fiber or mixtures of these fibers of yarn, bagging, bags, rope, matting and similar textiles and textile products.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of August 1950.

Chapter I—General Services Administration

Subchapter B—Personal Property Management

PART 50—BIDS AND AWARDS

EQUAL BIDS AND MAKING OF AWARDS

Sec.
50.1 Purpose.
50.2 Determination.
50.3 Definitions.
50.4 Award when equal bids are received.

AUTHORITY: §§ 50.1 to 50.4 issued under sec. 205, 63 Stat. 389; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 235. Interpret or apply sec. 302, 63 Stat. 393; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 252.

§ 50.1 Purpose. Section 302 (b) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (Pub. Law 152, 81st Cong.) provides that it is the declared policy of the Congress that a fair proportion of the total purchases and contracts for supplies and services for the Government shall be placed with small business concerns. Sections 50.3 and 50.4 have been designed cooperatively and agreed upon by the Military Departments and the General Services Administration to carry out the said policy in cases where equal bids are received.

§ 50.2 Determination. In furtherance of the policy set out in § 50.1, and with due regard to the placement of contracts in distressed employment areas, it is hereby determined that the making of awards as set forth in §§ 50.3 and 50.4 will further the expressed Congressional policy with respect to small business.

§ 50.3 Definitions. As used in §§ 50.3 and 50.4, the terms:

(a) "Small business concerns" means any concern whose aggregate number of employees, including its affiliates, is less than 500;

(b) "Equal bids" means two or more bids which are equal in all respects, taking into consideration costs of transportation, cash discounts, and other factors properly to be considered;

(c) "Distressed employment area" means a territory in which 12 percent or more of the total labor force is unemployed, as determined by the Bureau of Employment Security, Department of Labor, on the basis of data furnished by State authorities.

§ 50.4 Award when equal bids are received. When two or more equal bids are received by executive agencies, award shall be made in accordance with the following principles:

(a) Subject to paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section, in the case of equal bids, one of which is submitted by a small business concern, award shall be made to the small business concern, and in the case of equal bids, two or more of which are submitted by small business concerns, award shall be made by a drawing by lot limited to the small business concerns.

(b) Where two or more equal bids are received from small business concerns, one of which is submitted by a bidder who will perform the contract in a distressed employment area, award shall be made to the small business concern which will perform the contract in the distressed employment area.

(c) In the case of equal bids, two or more of which are submitted by small business concerns which will perform the contract in distressed employment areas, award shall be made by drawing by lot limited to the small business concerns in the distressed employment areas.

(d) Where two or more equal bids are received, one bid being from a small business concern not in a distressed employment area and the other being from a bidder who, although not a small business concern, will perform the contract in a distressed employment area, award shall be made to the latter.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 960]

IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA AND NORTH DAKOTA

BUDGET OF EXPENSES AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering the approval of the budget and rate of assessment hereinafter set forth, which were recommended by the North Central Potato Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Order No. 60, regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota, issued under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended; (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 61 Stat. 202, 707; 62 Stat. 1247; 63 Stat. 1051).

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are filed in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days following publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposals are as follows:

§ 960.204 Budget of expenses and rate of assessment. (a) The expenses necessary to be incurred by the North Central Potato Committee, established pursuant to Marketing Order No. 60, to enable such committee to carry out its functions pursuant to provisions of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, will amount to $62,441.00;

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler who first ships potatoes during the current fiscal year shall be $1.00 per railroad car or per truckload of more than 20,000 pounds of such potatoes, and fifty cents per truckload of 20,000 pounds or less of such potatoes, and one-quarter cent per hundredweight for other units, whether by floor lot, bin, or warehouse: Provided, That no assessment shall be levied for less than fifty cents: Provided, That no assessment shall be paid for a shipment or shipments of potatoes for consumption by a charitable institution or institutions or for distribution for relief purposes or for distribution by a relief agency or agencies; and

(c) Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Order No. 60.

(48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.; 61 Stat. 202, 707; 62 Stat. 1247; 63 Stat. 1051)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of August 1950.

[Docket No. AO-159A-1]

HANDLING OF IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA, NORTH DAKOTA, AND IN CERTAIN COUNTIES OF IOWA AND INDIANA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER NO. 60

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to Order No. 60, regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota (hereinafter jointly called "Order No. 60"), to be effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et. seq.; 61 Stat. 202, 707; 62 Stat. 1247; 63 Stat 1051), hereinafter called the "act." Interested parties may file exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353 South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the tenth day after publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The public hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendments to Order No. 60 were formulated, was held at Minneapolis, Minnesota, April 24–28, 1950, and at Lansing, Michigan, May 1–3, 1950, pursuant to notice thereof which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 1994). Such notice set forth proposed amendments which were submitted to the Secretary of Agriculture (hereinafter called the "Secretary") by the North Central Potato Committee with a petition for a hearing thereon and amendments proposed by the Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Such amendments involve a revision of the entire agreement and order and such amendments are, therefore, hereinafter referred to as the "amended order."

Material issues. The material issues presented on the record of the hearing are as follows:

(1) The existence of the right to exercise Federal jurisdiction;

(2) The need for amending the existing regulatory program to accomplish the declared objectives of the act;

(3) The identity of the persons and transactions to be regulated;

(4) The definition of the commodity and determination of the production area to be affected by the amended order;

(5) The specific terms and provisions of the amended order, including definitions of terms used therein, necessary and incidental to attain the declared objectives of the act, and including, among others, those applicable to:

(a) The establishment, maintenance, composition, powers, duties, and operation of the administrative agencies;

(b) The method for limiting shipments of Irish potatoes grown in the production area;

(c) The establishment of minimum standards of quality and maturity;

(d) The handling under special regulations, under certain circumstances, and the procedure applicable thereto, of specified shipments of Irish potatoes grown in the production area;

(e) The relaxation of regulations in hardship cases and the procedure applicable thereto; and

(f) The requirement that all handling of Irish potatoes grown in the production area must be in accordance with the provisions of the amended order, and that inspection and certification of shipments of such potatoes and the payment of assessments must be accomplished in connection therewith.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions on the aforementioned material issues, all of which are based on the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, are as follows:

(1) A substantial percentage of the Irish potatoes (hereinafter called "potatoes") grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, the counties of Clay, Emmet, Palo Alto, Pocahontas, Kossuth, Winnebago, Hancock, Wright, Hamilton, Worth, Cerro Gordo, and Mitchell, in the State of Iowa, and Warren, Benton, White, Carroll, Cass, Miami, Wabash, Huntington, Wells, Adams, and all counties lying north thereof, in the State of Indiana, hereinafter called the "production area," enters the current of interstate and foreign commerce. Potatoes grown in the Red River Valley of North Dakota and Minnesota are shipped to such cities as Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Detroit, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, and other midwest cities and towns where they are sold for local distribution or for redistribution in surrounding towns and rural areas. Similarly, shipments of potatoes grown in other parts of the production area are made to midwest cities and towns both within and outside the production area. Potatoes grown in the production area and marketed outside such area constitute a substantial percentage of all potatoes grown in such area. The potatoes grown in the production area, which are not marketed outside thereof, are largely marketed within such area for human consumption; another sizable segment thereof being used for seed; and the balance thereof, except waste, is used for such purposes as livestock feed, starch, canning, etc. Potatoes grown outside the production area also are distributed within the production area. For example, Idaho potatoes are shipped into each State within the production area. Also, potatoes from Colorado, Nebraska, Maine, California, Washington, and other States compete, both within and outside of the production area, with potatoes grown in the production area.

The market for potatoes grown in the production area is regional in scope and prices for such potatoes at terminals or receiving points, both within and outside the States where such potatoes are grown, are closely related to each other and to f. o. b. shipping point prices in the production area. The movement and sale of potatoes grown in the production area, whether to a market within or outside the State where grown, or to any market outside of the production area, affects the price structure for all potatoes grown in the production area. Persons selling potatoes, whether growers or handlers, try to keep currently informed on market conditions, especially prices. Public agencies supply daily information relevant to terminal potato markets, such as Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Detroit, etc., and, during the shipping season, similar information relevant to potato shipping points, such as Stevens Point and Benton Harbor. Individual potato traders use telephone and telegraph for trading and for keeping directly informed on potato supply and market conditions at both shipping points and terminals. Chicago is an important potato market, both for potatoes grown in the production area and for those grown in other areas. Changes in the potato price in Chicago are closely followed by handlers in the production area. The relationship between shipping point prices in the production area and the terminal market price, such as Chicago, is direct and related.

Changes in the supply of potatoes being marketed at any particular time and changes in estimates of potato supplies available for market, affect the price of potatoes. Such changes in the supply of potatoes grown in any State, or part thereof, within the production area have a direct effect upon both terminal market and shipping point prices for all potatoes. Potatoes grown in any segment of the production area and marketed in any given period compete with other potatoes marketed during such period whether such other potatoes are grown in other portions of or outside of such production area.

Potatoes grown within the production area may be shipped from the point of origin to a market or markets within the State where grown or the production area and then be diverted en route to markets outside such State or the production area. For example, shipments from the Red River Valley section of Minnesota frequently are shipped to the Twin Cities and then diverted to Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis, or other markets outside of Minnesota. Similarly, shipments to Detroit from the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, or from the upper half of lower Michigan, frequently are diverted to Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, or other markets outside of Michigan. In much the same manner, truckers acquiring potatoes in the Iowa or Indiana counties of the production area usually sell such potatoes where the trucker judges he will get his best price. Although shipping point and terminal market prices are directly related, fluctuations in such prices from one period to another and deviations in such prices from the general average around which they tend to concentrate provide possibilities for such truckers disposing of their potatoes at numerous points. It is impossible at the time of acquiring such potatoes to determine in many cases whether such potatoes will be marketed by the trucker in the county or State of acquisition or at a point or points outside thereof. Similar situations often occur on truck shipments of potatoes grown in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota. Potatoes grown within the production area and shipped from the point of origin to markets outside the State where grown, may be diverted en route to markets within such State. The movement and sale of potatoes grown in the production area to markets within the States where grown, to markets within the production area, and to markets outside the States where grown are, therefore, inextricably intermingled.

It is concluded, therefore, that (1) all transportation and sale (except retail sales) of potatoes grown in the production area are either in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or directly burden, obstruct, or affect such interstate or foreign commerce (hereinafter called "in commerce"), and (2) it is impractical to regulate effectively the transportation and sale of such potatoes without regulating all transportation and sale thereof, except to the extent hereinafter indicated.

(2) Effective January 1, 1950, parity prices for potatoes are to be computed in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1948 and the Agricultural Act of 1949. The base period (1919–28) price per bushel for potatoes is $1.12. The March 15, 1950, average price received by farmers for potatoes was 79 percent of parity price. It is estimated that the average price received by farmers for potatoes grown in the production area will be below parity for the rest of the 1950 calendar year and for the 1950 potato season.

The production area is one of the well recognized potato producing regions of the United States. Potato acreage and production within the production area has tended to fluctuate to some extent from year to year. Potato production and acreage within the production area (except North Dakota) has gradually decreased since 1919. Although such production and acreage has decreased during such period, average production per acre has tended to increase since 1946. For example, the Wisconsin potato crop in 1919 was 26,550,000 bushels which were harvested from 295,000 acres. In 1949, Wisconsin harvested 13,600,000 bushels from 80,000 acres. During the period 1919–28, Wisconsin potato growers harvested an annual average of 27,763,000 bushels of potatoes from 270,000 acres, while for the 1940–49 period they annually harvested an average of 12,708,000 bushels from 132,000 acres, and for the 1945–49 period comparable annual averages are 12,151,000 bushels from 101,000 acres. A significant factor affecting the above averages is the change in yield per acre. The annual average yield per acre in Wisconsin during the 1919–28 period was 104 bushels per acre, which declined to 84 bushels per acre for the 1929–38 period and increased to 103 bushels per acre for the 1940–49 period. The upward trend in yield has been most pronounced since the war, however, with annual average yields per acre for Wisconsin being as follows: 1945—95 bushels; 1946—105 bushels; 1947—105 bushels; 1948—150 bushels, and 1949—170 bushels.

Michigan potato production averaged 28,373,000 bushels annually during the 1919–28 period, from 277,000 acres. These annual averages declined to 17,755,000, from an annual average of 160,-

000 acres, during the 1940–49 period. Michigan potato production from 104,000 acres totaled 17,160,000 bushels in 1949. Minnesota produced an annual average of 34,002,000 bushels of potatoes, from an annual average of 359,000 acres, during the 1919–28 period. For the 1940–49 period, harvested potato acreage had declined to 170,000 acres annually in Minnesota, with annual average production of 18,047,000 bushels. Minnesota potato production in 1949 totaled 16,000,000 bushels from 100,000 acres.

Production and harvested acreage in Iowa and in Indiana have followed a similar trend. Iowa potato production averaged 7,222,000 bushels annually from an average of 84,000 acres during the 1919–28 base period; production dropped to an annual average of 3,232,000 bushels, from an average of 32,000 acres, during the 1940–49 period. In 1949, Iowa produced 1,100,000 bushels of potatoes from 11,000 acres. Indiana produced an annual average of 4,264,000 bushels of potatoes from an annual average of 53,000 acres during the 1919–28 period. During the 1940–49 period, annual average production in Indiana was 4,502,000 bushels of potatoes, or slightly higher than the annual average in 1919–28, although such production was harvested from an annual average of 35,000 acres during the later period (1940–49), or from about one-third less acres than during the base period. Indiana potato acreage continued to drop since the war averaging 25,000 acres annually for the 1945–49 period. Yields per acre in Indiana, as in other States, increased rapidly during the late 1940's, climbing from 135 bushels per acre in 1945 to 195 bushels per acre in 1949. The production area, as defined in the amended order, includes only certain counties in northern Indiana and in northern Iowa. However, the foregoing data for each of these States are representative of trends in acreage and production within the portions of each State included within the production area and they represent the marketing conditions prevailing in such portions of each State. The counties in each of such States which are included within the production area represent 95 percent or more of the commercial potato acreage in each of such States. Prices which farmers received for potatoes in the counties in each of such States closely approximated prices received by all farmers in each of such States. Production and marketing conditions for potatoes grown in the counties of Iowa and of Indiana included in the production area are similar to such conditions in the four State area included under Order No. 60.

Potato production in North Dakota has increased from an annual average of 9,390,000 bushels during the 1919–28 period, to an annual average of 19,277,000 bushels during the 1940–49 period. Annual average acreage during the earlier post-World War I period was 112,000 acres, which may be compared with the 1940–49 average of 147,000 acres annually, and with the 1949 harvested acreage of 109,000 from which 18,350,000 bushels of potatoes were harvested.

The decreasing trend during the three-decade period following 1919 in acreage and production in each State of the production area (except North Dakota), hereinbefore referred to, was arrested and reversed by the abnormal World War II demand for potatoes, but a resumption of such trend reappeared after such war. Supplies of potatoes in excess of what the market could absorb at prices satisfactory to potato growers reflected disorderly marketing conditions during the pre-World War II period and such unsatisfactory prices influenced the decreasing trend referred to above. The aforesaid decreases in potato acreage did not bring about sufficient adjustment of potato production and supplies available for market to return parity prices to producers for such potatoes subsequent to World War II. In addition, the potato market is influenced, not only by the volume of potatoes available for such market, but also by the grade, size, and quality of such potatoes. The aforementioned conditions and factors were and are representative of and contribute to the disorderly marketing of such potatoes.

Similar situations and influences which occurred prior to World War II reoccurred after the demand for potatoes lost its wartime stimulus. Instead of bare markets and high prices, such as during the war, excessive potato supplies even at lower prices became common. Price supports established by Congress for various commodities, including potatoes, were available to potato growers and handlers to remove from the market that portion of the potato supply which the market would not absorb at or above such support price levels. During the 1946 season, the Federal government purchased under such program 15.0 percent of Michigan's potato crop, 5.0 percent of Wisconsin's, 23.3 percent of Minnesota's, 35.1 percent of North Dakota's, 6.2 percent of Iowa's, and 1.4 percent of Indiana's potato crop. Potatoes were supported during the 1946 season at 90 percent of parity.

Notwithstanding the effect upon the potato market of the aforesaid price support program, leaders of the potato industry in the midwest became concerned with the disorderly conditions accompanying the marketing of the unusually large 1946 midwest potato crop and they sought additional aids for establishing and maintaining orderly marketing conditions for the 1947 and future crops. At the behest of some Wisconsin and Michigan handlers, attention was directed to activating Order No. 60, which had been developed and issued prior to World War II. Additional interest was developed among other potato growers and handlers in support of Order No. 60 and the reestablishment of the North Central Potato Committee, with the objective of promoting more orderly marketing of the 1947 and subsequent crops of potatoes grown in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota. Regulation of the handling of potatoes grown in such States began on September 22, 1947, by prohibiting shipments of culls. This regulation, except as subsequently modified for Wisconsin and the Red River Valley, continued in effect throughout the remainder of the 1947 season. The regulation helped to promote orderly marketing of the 1947 crop by relieving the market of some price depressing influences of off-grade potatoes and by limiting, to some extent, the volume of potatoes available for market. Even with the additional aid of regulation under Order No. 60, the 1947 potato crop in such States and in adjoining States, although considerably smaller than in 1946, was in excess of what the market would absorb at or above support prices. Under the price support program the Federal government purchased 3.5 percent of Michigan's 1947 potato crop, 7.5 percent of Minnesota's, 2.5 percent of North Dakota's, 0.3 percent of Wisconsin's, and 1.3 percent of Iowa's potato crop for that year.

For the 1948 potato crop, grade and size regulation under Order No. 60 was in effect during the entire marketing season. Such regulation promoted orderly marketing of the 1948 potato crop in the four-State area by keeping some culls off the market and by withholding U. S. No. 2 and U. S. No. 1 size B potatoes from the market. Such withholding of potatoes from the market removed the price depressing influences of such grades and sizes. Even with such marketing aids, however, the supply of potatoes grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota, from the 1948 crop was of such size that the market would not absorb all such supplies at or above support price levels. Under the price support program for that season the Federal government purchased 15.9 percent of Michigan's 1948 potato crop, 25.3 percent of Minnesota's, 34.9 percent of North Dakota's, and 15.7 percent of Wisconsin's 1948 potato crop. During the same season, price support purchases by the Federal government were 11.0 percent of Iowa's potato crop and 3.8 percent of Indiana's potato crop.

For the 1949 crop, regulation under Order No. 60 began with the General Cull Regulation at the beginning of the season. Additional grade and size regulation was made effective for the period beginning October 31, 1949, and ending June 30, 1950, limiting shipments of potatoes grown in the four State area to U. S. Commercial or better grade. The operations of Order No. 60 during the 1949 season, tended to promote orderly marketing of the potato crop grown in the aforesaid States by eliminating some price depressing influences which otherwise would have affected the market. However, even with such aids marketing conditions for potatoes grown in such area were such that, despite a lowered price support of 60 percent of parity, the market would not absorb all such potatoes at or above support price levels. For example, as of April 17, 1950, purchases by the Federal government under the price support program for the 1949 crop were as follows: 6.8 percent of Michigan's 1949 crop, 4.1 percent of Wisconsin's, 13.8 percent of Minnesota's, and 13.8 percent of North Dakota's 1949 crop. Similarly, Federal price support purchases, as of the same date, were 9.4 percent of Iowa's 1949 potato crop and 2.4 percent of Indiana's 1949 potato crop.

The production and marketing problems applicable to potatoes grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and in certain counties in Iowa and in Indiana (enumerated in the definition of production area), are substantially identical and the same means should be used to assist all growers of potatoes in such area to help them solve their potato marketing problems. Disorderly marketing conditions for potatoes grown in the aforesaid counties in Iowa and in Indiana have closely paralleled similar marketing conditions for potatoes grown in the aforesaid four-State area.

Prior to World War II potato growers and handlers in Minnesota, North Dakota, and Wisconsin were allowed to, and many did, market virtually all grades, sizes, and qualities of potatoes grown in such States. Similar situations existed in Michigan, except that the State prohibited shipments of culls. Some parts of the four-State area were notorious for shipping low grade and quality potatoes to market. The wide variation in grades and qualities which were marketed from such States resulted in wide variations in the price received therefor and forced a lower average price level for all such potatoes than would otherwise have been the case if low grades and qualities were not marketed. Such conditions prevailed, not only throughout the aforesaid four-State area, but also in the Iowa and Indiana counties of the production area. Order No. 60 was developed and issued prior to World War II to help promote orderly marketing conditions by authorizing the limitation of the grades, sizes, and qualities of potatoes grown in such four-State area which could be shipped to market. To insure that the potato market would not be subject to the price depressing influences of extremely low quality potatoes, the General Cull Regulation, which prohibited the handling of potatoes that failed to meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 or better grade (commonly known as "culls"), was incorporated in Order No. 60. Such General Cull Regulation was made effective on September 22, 1947. Such regulation continues in effect under Order No. 60 from year to year, unless suspended or terminated for a specific period of time. Such regulation has prohibited the shipment of culls grown in the production area continuously since such regulation first became effective, except for those parts of the area, such as Wisconsin and the Red River Valley, where it was suspended for specific periods. Potato growers and handlers in the four-State area have eliminated some of the price depressing factors formerly influencing the market for potatoes grown in such area by eliminating culls and, in addition, some other potatoes of low grades and small sizes. While potatoes of low grades and small sizes were being eliminated from shipments of potatoes grown in the aforesaid four-State area, potato growers and handlers in the Iowa and Indiana counties of the production area could and did ship any and all grades, sizes, and qualities of potatoes (including culls) grown in such counties, which tended to depress prices for their own potatoes as well as prices for potatoes grown in the aforesaid four-State area.

The demand for potatoes during World War II directly affected marketing of potatoes grown in the aforesaid counties, as well as in the four State area. Similarly, when the war stimulated demand contracted after cessation of hostilities, marketing conditions for potatoes grown in such counties, as well as for potatoes grown in the four State area, became disorderly. Although the price support program was designed to relieve some of the downward pressure upon the price potato farmers receive for their crop, additional measures, such as marketing agreements and orders, are necessary to assist in eliminating some factors which contribute directly to disorderly marketing conditions for potatoes. The potato industry in the four State area used Order No. 60 to help eliminate some grades, sizes, and qualities of potatoes which tended to depress prices farmers secured for potatoes grown in such States and to promote the orderly marketing of such potatoes. Potato growers in the aforesaid adjoining counties in Iowa and in Indiana marketed off-grades and off-sizes of potatoes grown in such counties, thereby directly contributing to disorderly marketing conditions for their own crop of potatoes and, at the same time, for the potatoes grown in the four State area. Without a price support program, disorderly marketing conditions for potatoes grown in the aforesaid counties of Iowa and of Indiana will be aggravated if the handling of such potatoes are not subject to the terms and provisions of the amended order.

The supply of potatoes grown in the production area has been such, and indications are that it will continue to be such, that disorderly marketing conditions for such potatoes will continue if all potatoes grown in the production area, as defined in the amended order, are available for marketing on the table stock market. Given supplies of potatoes grown in the production area will return particular prices per bushel or hundredweight to farmers, under any given set of demand conditions. Whenever supplies of potatoes increase beyond the level which can be moved at a given price, either the price must be lowered or supplies available for market must be adjusted to meet the amount which can be marketed at the desired price level. Means for helping to adjust such supplies by removal from market channels of certain grades, sizes, or qualities, or combinations thereof, and especially of such off-grades or off-sizes which unduly depress prices returned to farmers, are available through the amended order. It is concluded that there is a need for a marketing order to regulate the handling of potatoes grown in the four-State area—Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota—and in the aforesaid counties of Iowa and of Indiana. The amended order, as hereinafter set forth, will tend to effectuate the declared policies of the act.

(3) (a) The act authorizes the regulation of such handling of potatoes grown in the production area as is in commerce. The amended order should regulate such handling solely to effectuate the declared policy of the act. It is essential, as a basis for such regulation, that such amended order define a "handler," so that persons to be regulated thereunder will have notice thereof.

Common or contract carriers transporting potatoes (grown in the production area and owned by another person) to market are performing a handling function in commerce but such handling should not be regulated under the amended order for the reason that such carriers are not responsible for the grade, quality, and size of the commodity so transported, are not responsible for the introduction of such commodity in commerce, and their sole interest in such commodity is to transport it to destination selected by others for a service charge. The responsibility for the grade, quality, and size of the commodity delivered to such common and contract carriers should be borne solely by the person or persons responsible for delivering such commodity to such carriers.

Handling functions in commerce with respect to such potatoes, which should be regulated under the amended order, are hereinafter considered in connection with a definition of "ship," and the definition of "handler" should be synonymous with "shipper" because regulation of the handler performing each of such functions is necessary under the amended order to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Therefore, the term "handler" or "shipper" should be defined to mean any person (except a common or contract carrier of potatoes owned by another person) who ships potatoes.

(b) The handling of potatoes in commerce includes all activities placing or continuing such potatoes in commerce subsequent to the harvesting thereof, to and including the delivery and sale of such potatoes to the retailer thereof or the ultimate outlet therefor. It is necessary to regulate all of such handling under the amended order, except as herein otherwise indicated, to effectuate the declared policy of the act, because the handlers performing each of such activities are responsible for the effects such activities have on the prices farmers receive for potatoes grown in the production area and on the marketing conditions applicable to or prevailing for such potatoes. The facts and reasons justifying such findings and conclusions are inherent in the customary practices employed in the production area to move and sell the potatoes grown in such area in commerce to the retailers thereof or the ultimate outlet therefor, as hereinafter set forth in the technical terminology used by persons engaged in the potato business.

Common or usual activities in the harvesting and preparing of potatoes grown in the production area for market include, among others, the activities of digging, picking, loading, hauling, storing, washing, grading, and sacking. The digging of potatoes is a harvesting activity performed as a grower function, even though it is an esential prelude to the marketing thereof. Until potatoes are dug from the ground, their specific identity, kind, and quantity are unknown.

The picking, loading, and hauling of potatoes are handler activities performed in connection with all of such potatoes because such activities actually move such potatoes in commerce. Additional handling activities performed in connection with such potatoes—storing, hauling, washing, grading, and sacking—are optional. However, the bulk of the potato crop grown in the production area is stored; the same is true of grading to an even greater extent, while virtually all potatoes that go into the table stock or seed market are sacked. Potatoes which are sold or disposed of for livestock feed and to other non-table stock outlets, such as starch, flour, waste, etc., may not be and usually are not sacked. Such variations from common practice, however, except for storage, apply only to a small portion of the potato crop grown in the production area.

Potatoes grown in the production area and dug in July and August rarely, if ever, are stored, while in some parts of the production area most of the potatoes dug in September are not stored either. However, the great bulk of potatoes dug in the latter part of September and in October are stored and disposed of during the ensuing seven to nine months' period. The storage of such potatoes is a handling activity because, among other reasons, stored potatoes are thereby held and continued in commerce, regardless of the location of the storage, to take advantage of market price differentials resulting, in part, from such activity.

Initial marketing (handling) activities begin with the picking, loading, and hauling to storage, grading facility, or market, of potatoes grown in the production area because such operations, regardless of whether performed by the grower of such potatoes or by others, makes such potatoes a visible and direct part of the supply of such potatoes available for market and actually moving in market channels. Such potatoes can, and sometimes do, continue moving in market channels to the retailer or other ultimate outlet therefor without further preparation for market. Such practice was quite usual and common in former years, especially in the Red River Valley (although such practice was not and is not limited to that part of the production area) where terminal market operators and others bought such potatoes, especially during peak harvest periods, on a field-run basis at any and all times after such potatoes had been dug. Such practice could be revived. It continues to be a common practice to haul potatoes in field sacks (sacks in which pickers drop the potatoes) from one part of the production area to another part of such area, sometimes several hundred miles distant, for the purpose of storing, or for the purpose of grading and washing such potatoes. It is concluded, therefore, that the picking, loading, hauling, or any other movement of such potatoes from the spot where grown places them in commerce by virtue of such movement and, in addition, such activities cause the potatoes involved to become a part of the visible supply of potatoes available for market, which directly burdens, obstructs, and affects such commerce. The sale or consignment of such potatoes at any time during these initial marketing (handling) activities continues such potatoes in commerce because such sale or consignment constructively moves the potatoes in commerce from the seller to the buyer or consignee and actual movement of such potatoes in commerce, pursuant to the instructions of the buyer or consignee, is thereafter consummated.

All potatoes grown in the production area and marketed are made ready or prepared for market. Such processing activities are handler activities in the marketing of potatoes grown in the production area. The extent to which potatoes are affected by such activities vary, depending upon the judgment and objectives of the handlers responsible therefor. However, the concept of "ready for market" is clearly indicated by readily determinable facts in each case. The working over, manipulation, or grading of potatoes at a point or points, between the time they are dug and the time when they are sold and delivered to the retailer or to other ultimate outlet therefor, in such manner as to segregate the potatoes as dug into those which are to be so sold and delivered to specified market outlets and those which are not, constitute the making of such potatoes ready or prepared for market. Such processing may also include brushing, washing, or washing and waxing, and sacking, any or all of which usually are a part of a continuous, integrated process of segregating potatoes that are intended for one type of market from those intended for other outlets, and, at the same time, improving the appearance and other factors affecting the price at which such potatoes can be sold. Growers and handlers of such potatoes, in trade vernacular, usually refer to all such processing activities simply as grading.

The great bulk of such potatoes are run over a grader, i. e., a mechanical grader, for such purpose. This method of preparing such potatoes for market (grading) is usually done by a combination of mechanical processes and labor. In such cases, the sizing operation is largely mechanical, resulting in segregating lots on the basis of the size of the potatoes in such lots; the grading operation involves segregating such potatoes into various lots on the basis of picking out or removing by hand from the main flow of such potatoes the individual tubers showing visible grade defects, i. e., potatoes failing to meet specified quality requirements established by standard grades. Where the volume of potatoes to be processed is small, the preparatory activities may be done with a minimum of mechanical aids and a relatively greater amount of hand labor. In other comparatively rare instances, such preparation for market is entirely by hand, such as field grading, where the picking crew determines the portion of an individual potato crop which will be prepared for specified market outlets and the portion which shall be segregated and left behind in the field. Thus, preparing such potatoes for market, or making them ready for market, may be accomplished at various points from the field where grown at picking time, to terminal markets where they are graded or regraded for distribution to retailers or other ultimate outlets therefor, and the extent to which such potatoes are segregated may vary in accordance with the objective of the person performing such function.

The person or persons proprietarily responsible for directing the aforesaid grading segregation actually determine the grade, size, and quality of the potatoes which are thereafter continued in commerce to the various market outlets therefor. Such grading segregation or processing activity usually is done at packing or grading sheds or at storage cellars or storage houses located on the farm where such potatoes are grown, or in facilities located in nearby towns or at nearby railroad sidings or on nearby truck routes. Such grading facilities, if they are processing potatoes which are harvested in late September or in October, usually have storage facilities because much of the potatoes harvested at that time are placed in local storage. However, some potatoes are moved in field sacks, second hand sacks, or in bulk from the field where grown to distant points for storage. The most common examples of this practice occur in the Red River Valley where some potatoes are moved at harvest time to points in Minnesota or in Wisconsin for storage. Similar movement occurs in other parts of the production area for the same reason. Whenever storage capacity is limited, such movement may occur at harvest time during years of heavy production. There are processing facilities available to such distant storage points. Therefore, while all activities placing or continuing potatoes in commerce subsequent to the harvesting thereof, to and including the delivery and sale of such potatoes to the retailer thereof or other market outlet therefor, include all of the activities hereinbefore mentioned, which activities must be regulated to effectuate the declared policy of the act, the regulation of each of such activities need not be identical for the reasons hereinafter indicated.

The storage and grading of potatoes grown in the production area places, continues, or places and continues such potatoes in commerce. However, only such regulation of such activities as will maintain the continuing control and identification of the potatoes subject thereto is necessary to assure that the subsequent handling thereof will be in accordance with regulatory requirements (grade, size, and quality requirements) issued under the amended order.

Potatoes which are loaded and hauled from the field where grown to local or nearby grading facilities or to local or nearby storage are usually ungraded. They so move as field-run stock, i. e., potatoes just as they come from the field. A portion of such potatoes usually will be segregated from or graded out of the stream of potatoes going through the grading process for sale or disposition to or in outlets other than the table stock market. It is possible that a given lot of such potatoes moving to a nearby grading facility or to nearby storage may have sufficient potatoes with serious defects to make such entire lot unmerchantable, or to make the entire lot fail to make any established grade, until they have been graded. Although the movement of such potatoes to storage and grading facilities is in commerce, only such regulation of such movement is necessary, to effectuate the declared policy of the act, as will prevent the handling of such potatoes subsequent to the storage and grading thereof contrary to the grade, size, and quality requirements issued under the amended order. Such preventive regulation may require, as hereinafter indicated, such movements to comply with grade, size, quality, inspection, assessment, and safeguard requirements, or any one or more of such requirements, all of which will be, during the effective period of such preventive regulation, applied to graded potatoes moving to market outlets. Such local movement of ungraded potatoes, however, should be allowed the greatest possible freedom from regulation, consistent with attaining the aforesaid objectives.

As hereinbefore indicated, potatoes grown in the production area are loaded and hauled from the field where grown to distant storage points in the production area. Whenever storage capacity is limited, such movement may occur at harvest time during years of heavy production. There are processing facilities available to such distant storage points. As the need for storage at havest time is acute in some portions of the production area, it is necessary to permit the continued movement of potatoes out of the local or immediate area of production of such potatoes, such as from one county to another, or from the Upper Peninsula to the Lower Peninsula in Michigan for interim storage prior to processing for final disposition, regardless of whether the movement is effected by the producer of such potatoes or by a handler who purchases the potatoes from the producer thereof. Such movement is on an in-transit freight rate, so that it is an established method of handling such potatoes which will be moved out of storage later for grading and disposition in one or more market outlets. There are no reasons requiring modification of the custom of moving potatoes from the field where grown to distant points in the production area for storage and grading. However, the handling of such potatoes should be subject to such regulatory controls as will prevent the handling of such potatoes subsequent to the storage and grading thereof, contrary to regulatory requirements applicable to the handling of graded potatoes in commerce. The objective of such preventive regulation is similar to the preventive regulation objective involved in regulating the local movement of potatoes from the field where grown to nearby storage and grading facilities but, because of the distances involved in the former operations, different regulations should be applied thereto, on a permissive basis, i. e., if attaining the desired objective requires a greater degree of regulation for the distant movements of potatoes for storage and grading purposes, such degree of regulation should be permissible under the amended order.

As hereinbefore indicated, all potatoes grown in the production area are prepared for market to separate such potatoes into grades, sizes, and qualities for various outlets or, in trade vernacular, to separate the merchantable from the unmerchantable stock. The merchantable stock includes those potatoes which continue in commerce to ultimate sale or disposition in the aforesaid outlets. The unmerchantable stock includes potatoes with varying defects or damage—such as soft rot, growth cracks, misshapen, scab, etc.—and sizes, which have been separated by the grading activities. The lots containing potatoes of the better grades and qualities and more desirable sizes are usually disposed of in the premium markets—the table stock or seed markets. (Better grades, qualities, and desirable sizes are not, as hereinafter indicated, necessarily identical for table stock and seed.) Lots containing potatoes of poorer grades, qualities, and less desirable sizes usually find outlets other than the conventional table stock or seed markets, such as starch, livestock feed, or export. It is not uncommon, however, for the poorer grades to be dumped with the unmerchantable potatoes and culls, i. e., disposed of in the most expedient and least expensive manner as near as possible to the point where such potatoes are stored or graded.

The separation of such potatoes into various lots, each of which meets specified grade, size, and quality standards or, in brief, the grading of such potatoes, is the handler function of primary importance, under the amended order, in effectuating the declared policy of the act, in separating such merchantable potatoes from so-called unmerchantable potatoes. The aforesaid merchantable stock of potatoes becomes part of the available market supply immediately upon completion of the grading activity. Persons handling such graded potatoes customarily request inspection at the conclusion of the grading operation and prior to continuing the graded potatoes in commerce. As compliance with grade, size, and quality regulations can be best determined by authoritative inspections, as hereinafter indicated, the procurement of inspection of all graded potatoes which are handled after completion of the grading activity should be mandatory, under the amended order, to permit effective administration of such regulations. The person or persons who has authority to and actually sells, transports, or in any other way places potatoes in commerce, which have been made ready or prepared for market, is a handler thereof. Such handler is the person who is primarily responsible for the grade, size, and quality of such potatoes which are so placed in commerce and disposed of in or to market outlets therefor. Such handler and each succeeding handler continuing such potatoes in commerce should be held responsible, under the amended order, for the grade, size, and quality thereof. Therefore, each of such responsible persons should be required to limit their handling activities to those potatoes which can be proved, by an appropriate inspection certificate, to meet the grade, size, and quality requirements in effect at the time of such handling under regulations issued pursuant to the amended order.

The handler who first sells, transports, or in any other way places potatoes in commerce after they have been graded, i. e., prepared for market, is the person who should pay assessments thereon. Imposing such assessment requirement on handlers of ungraded potatoes would be inequitable because such handlers do not know what portion of such potatoes will produce revenue to them; imposing the requirement on handlers subsequent to the aforesaid first handler would be inequitable because there may not be subsequent handlers. With respect to potatoes which are not mechanically graded but which instead are separated, if at all, into grades and sizes by hand operations or by the picking crew, the person or persons who sells, transports, or otherwise places such potatoes in commerce after such segregation should be the first handler thereof for assessment purposes. If field-run potatoes are not subjected to any ostensible grading, either the usual mechanical grading or hand grading, the person or persons who sells, transports, or otherwise places such potatoes in commerce should be the first handler thereof for assessment purposes.

Some shipments of potatoes grown in the production area which were graded at point of origin are reprocessed at graders, or at graders and washers, en route to or at terminal markets. Such potatoes lose their grade, size, and quality identification and their identification with respect to inspection certificates applicable thereto, when they are dumped from their original containers to which such inspection certificates applied. Such reprocessing or regrading usually results in additional shrinkage, i. e., some potatoes are picked out because of grade defects, so that the total amount of merchantable stock left at the end of the grading process is less than the total amount reprocessed. The purpose of the regrading is to take out potatoes which the operator of the grader determines should not be allowed in the particular packs he intends to offer for market. Such potatoes which are picked out because of grade defects or off-size are separated from the potatoes which the operator intends to offer for sale as table stock. As such reprocessed potatoes are not necessarily identical, on a grade, size, and quality basis, with the graded potatoes from which they were separated, the only manner of assuring that the subsequent handling of such reprocessed potatoes complies with regulatory requirements effective at the time of such handling is for the reprocessed potatoes to be inspected at the conclusion of the reprocessing; also, the first handler of such reprocessed potatoes should pay assessments in connection therewith to help defray the administrative expenses incurred in connection with the handling of such reprocessed potatoes.

The amended order establishes a method for the issuance of regulations which will promote orderly marketing of potatoes grown in the production area and tend to return parity prices to the producers of such potatoes. These objectives will tend to be accomplished, under such regulations, by the limitation of the supply of such potatoes placed on the various market outlets therefor, to those grades, sizes, and qualities preferred by such markets, and by withholding from market the surplus portion of such potatoes. Just as the grade, size, and quality preferences of the table stock potato market change or are modified by the total national supply of potatoes, the trend and level of consumer income, and other relevant factors, so the degree of regulation must change to accomplish such objectives, i. e., grade, size, and quality requirements should be higher in years when large potato surpluses and high consumer income prevail, than in years of short supply and low consumer income.

The adjustment of potato supply to demand is predicated, under the aforesaid method, primarily on the retention of the premium potato market (the table stock market) for the better grades and qualities of potatoes and potatoes of the most desirable sizes, and encouraging the diversion of potatoes which are surplus to the table stock market to market outlets which will not compete directly with and depress the price level in the table stock market. The aforesaid method also permits the limitation (on a grade, size, and quality basis) of the supply of potatoes available for such diversionary outlets, as hereinafter indicated, because some of such outlets constitute varying degrees of competition for the table stock market at various times, because some of such outlets have special grade, size and quality preferences, etc.

Therefore, effective regulation under the aforesaid method requires (i) that each and every lot of potatoes, grown in the production area and placed in commerce on the potato market, should meet the grade, size, and quality requirements established therefor by regulations issued under the amended order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, and (ii) each person responsible for placing potatoes in commerce on such market after the harvest thereof and each person responsible for continuing such potatoes in commerce to the retail market outlet therefor should comply with the aforesaid requirements, except as hereinafter indicated. Such persons are performing handling functions in commerce in connection with such activities.

Therefore, the definition of "ship" and "handle," as hereinafter set forth in the amended order, includes all the activities and transactions with respect to marketing potatoes grown in the production area herein found and concluded to be in commerce.

(4) (a) The commodity to be regulated by the amended order is the same commodity which has been regulated under Order No. 60 and it is defined so that persons handling such commodity will know that their handling activities relevant thereto are subject to regulation thereunder. The act authorizes marketing agreements and orders applicable to potatoes, or to any regional classification thereof. Irish potatoes of all varieties grown in the production area is a regional classification of potatoes and regulation of the handling thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. It is concluded, therefore, that "potatoes" should be defined to mean all varieties of Irish potatoes grown in the production area.

(b) A definition of "production area" is incorporated in the amended order to specify and delineate the area in which potatoes must be grown before the handling thereof is subject to regulation under the amended order. "Production area" is defined to mean all the territory included within the boundaries of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, the counties of Clay, Emmet, Palo Alto, Pocahontas, Kossuth, Winnebago, Hancock, Wright, Hamilton, Worth, Cerro Gordo, and Mitchell, in the State of Iowa, and Warren, Benton, White, Carroll, Cass, Miami, Wabash, Huntington, Wells, Adams, and all counties lying north thereof, in the State of Indiana. Potatoes are produced in each State and in each county included within the production area. Potato production for market tends to concentrate in such portions of the production area where soil, moisture, climate, alternative land uses, and other factors are favorable to commercial potato production. Such tendency to concentrate and intensify production has resulted in certain parts of the production area becoming well known potato growing centers. The Red River Valley, the Hollandale section of Minnesota and Iowa, the Antigo and Stevens Point sections of Wisconsin, the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, also the Traverse, Bay City, and the Montcalm sections of Michigan are some outstanding examples. In addition, the Hennepin County section around the Twin Cities, the Milwaukee county market garden area, the Racine-Kenosha section of Wisconsin, the Jackson section of Michigan, and the South Bend and the North Judson sections of Indiana, are somewhat less well known but none the less appropriate examples of such concentration. These are centers of intensive potato production within the production area around which the marketing of potatoes concentrates during particular portions of the season. Additional but less intensive potato production spreads out from these centers through other counties within the production area.

Production and marketing conditions are essentially the same throughout the production area. Some parts of the production area market during different portions of the season. For example, the Bay City, Michigan, the Stevens Point, Wisconsin, and the Hennepin County, Minnesota, areas market their potatoes early in the season. Their early potatoes are sold in the same markets as the bulk of potatoes grown in the production area, which latter potatoes are harvested later and are stored for a period before marketing. Each season's marketings of potatoes grown in the production area generally begin in July with the areas mentioned above and continue into the following June. Minnesota and Wisconsin growers follow similar production practices. They also market their potatoes in much the same manner; so also does North Dakota. Michigan potato producers and handlers also have production and marketing problems which are essentially the same as Minnesota, Wisconsin, and North Dakota. The Iowa counties included within the production area are productionwise and marketwise a part of the Hollandale, Minnesota, area. Marketing of potatoes from these Iowa counties have been classed with the Hollandale deal; they compete directly with Hollandale potatoes. Although the State line cuts through this natural geographic, production, and market groupings of counties in southern Minnesota and northern Iowa, the Iowa counties, incorporated within the production area, are an integral, natural part of the production area insofar as operation of the amended order is concerned. Similarly, potato producers in the counties of northern Indiana, incorporated within the production area, have virtually the same production and marketing problems as their neighbors and competitors across the line in Michigan. They produce the same varieties of potatoes, sell in the same markets and at the same time as potato producers in the rest of the production area. Their similar market problems have forced Indiana potato growers, as well as those in Iowa, to use the same aids, such as sales of their surplus potatoes to the Federal Government, to avoid disorderly and disastrous market conditions, as potato growers in the other parts of the production area.

The general market level for potatoes grown in the Indiana counties of the production area is related directly to potato prices in important terminal markets, such as Chicago, Detroit, and Indianapolis, and prices growers received for such Indiana potatoes move in direct relationship with the market for potatoes grown in the four States included under Order No. 60. The size of the potato crop in the aforesaid four States directly affects the prices which growers of such Indiana potatoes receive and, in turn, the total quantity, also the grade, size and quality, of such Indiana potatoes which are marketed directly affects the market for potatoes grown in Michigan as well as the other States included under Order No. 60. The effect upon prices of marketing such Indiana-grown potatoes, regardless of their grade, size, and quality has a depressing effect not only upon the prices which growers of such potatoes receive but also of potatoes grown in the aforesaid four-State area. Some such Indiana potatoes are marketed with no particular designation with respect to their grade or size. Such marketing practices allow any or all grades, even culls and small sizes, to compete with potatoes that are appropriately marked as to the grades and sizes in the containers in which they are shipped. Such practices contribute to disorderly marketing conditions in the production area. The competition from such off-grades and off-sizes of such Indiana potatoes has a price depressing effect upon the returns which such Indiana growers receive and, in addition, the supply of such Indiana potatoes, even though in relatively marginal quantities, tends to depress the price for potatoes grown in the four-State area disproportionately to its volume because of such low grades and non-preferred sizes.

The varieties of potatoes grown in the production area are numerous, although the commercially important varieties produced for market either as table stock or seed generally fall into a few categories such as round whites, reds, russets, and long whites, with round whites and reds predominating. Production of these types is well scattered over the production area, so that all types compete in the same general market area and all types directly affect the market as a whole. Potatoes from each part of the production area compete in markets both within and outside the production area each season.

Potatoes are produced in each State and county in the production area. Even though commercial potato production for market tends to concentrate in particular parts of the production area where potatoes assume major importance as a farm crop, as a source of farm income, and as a source of supply during certain parts of the year, none of the counties or portions thereof of lesser importance should be left out of the production area for it would be undesirable and impractical to do so. Even though some parts of the production area produces only marginal segments of the supply going to market at particular times of the year, the marginal effect of such additions often is sufficient to disturb the whole market for the production area and create disorderly marketing conditions for the main part of the supply. Market conditions vary from time to time and from one year to another. Acreage planted to potatoes changes from period to period within different parts of the production area, even within relatively small or immediately local parts of the production area. The supply of potatoes going to market from specific parts of the production area varies from one season to another as producers and handlers shift their marketing to meet a variety of conditions. Also, in some years producers or handlers may judge that it is better to market their potatoes during harvest while in other years they store them for marketing later. Farmers also may shift from early to late production in some parts of the production area in order to take greater advantage of the market as they judge it, or to take advantage of more favorable production and management situations. The shifting, or the ebb and flow, of production and marketing conditions within the production area makes it essential that all its parts should be subject to the terms and provisions of the amended order and if any part thereof should be relieved of obligations or responsibilities at any time, such relief or exception should be upon consideration of conditions and factors at that particular time, in accordance with the provisions of the amended order.

Therefore, the production area, as hereinafter defined in the amended order, should include all territory in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, in the counties of Clay, Emmet, Palo Alto, Pocahontas, Kossuth, Winnebago, Hancock, Wright, Hamilton, Worth, Cerro Gordo, and Mitchell, in the State of Iowa, and Warren, Benton, White, Carroll, Cass, Miami, Wabash, Huntington, Wells, Adams, and all counties lying north thereof, in the State of Indiana, and such regional production area constitutes the smallest regional production area practicable, consistent with carrying out the declared policy of the act.

(5) It is necessary to define the terms hereinafter set forth, so that their applicability and meaning may be established and to preclude the necessity for redefining them when they are later used in the amended order. The definitions of Secretary, act, person, producer, and varieties, as set forth in the notice of hearing, were not in controversy at the hearing. These terms are generally understood by members of the potato industry in the production area and the use of such terms in the amended order is essential as the basic framework thereof.

A definition of "fiscal year" is incorporated in the amended order to establish the beginning and end of an operating period. The establishment of such period, which should comprise a full twelve months, is necessary for business-like administration of the amended order and is desirable as a basis for establishing the terms of office of committee members and alternates. The date marking the end of one fiscal year and the beginning of the new should fall at a time of relative inactivity in the marketing of the potato crop and should allow sufficient time for the committee to organize and be prepared to function prior to the start of the new marketing season. Marketing of the potato crop grown in the production area begins about mid-July of each year and is usually completed by the middle of June of the following year. July 1 of each year is, therefore, an appropriate date for establishing the end of one fiscal year and the beginning of the new. Fiscal year should be defined, therefore, as hereinafter set forth.

Definitions of "committee" and "area committee" are incorporated in the amended order to identify the North Central Potato Committee (the administrative agency representing the Secretary) and the subcommittees thereof. The North Central Potato Committee and the subcommittees thereof (all selected on an area basis) have operated actively for the past three seasons. They are established, going concerns which have carried out their assigned functions. Such committees are authorized by the act and the definition thereof, as hereinafter set forth, minimizes the use of words in the amended order.

Definitions of "seed potatoes" and "table stock potatoes" are incorporated in the amended order because regulation is provided, under certain circumstances, differently for each. Special regulation for seed potatoes is justified because such potatoes are produced for a specialized use and the requirements of the seed market differ, in some respects, from that of the table stock market. For example, potatoes of small size are ordinarily discounted in the table stock market but may bring a premium in the seed market. Freedom from disease and other general sanitary aspects of the tubers are primary concerns of seed purchasers.

The aforesaid considerations have been forceful in promoting measures for protecting seed production from contamination and in prompting identification of potatoes which qualify under various State regulations as being free from disease and other unsanitary conditions and, therefore, more appropriate for planting than seed which has not been raised under such sanitary precautions. Such State regulations require that persons producing potatoes which they wish to qualify as seed shall abide by certain precautions in the production, storage, and handling of such potatoes, under inspection by plant pathologists or other technically qualified personnel. Growers whose potatoes qualify as seed under State seed requirements are allowed to identify, under the supervision of the State, their seed potatoes after certification by the appropriate seed certifying agency in the State where grown. Such certification generally allows the use of tags or "certified tags" which the grower or handler may attach to each bag of potatoes identifying such potatoes as certified seed. Such identification allows the industry and the committee to set potatoes so tagged apart from table stock potatoes. However, although all States in the production area except Indiana now provide for seed potato certification on the foregoing basis, the amended order should permit the Secretary to approve such certification by any other agencies, recognized as competent by the committee, to perform the certification function if a State agency is unavailable or if such additional agencies will make such certification more readily available to the applicants for certification. Therefore, the term "seed potatoes" should be defined to include such potatoes as are certified, tagged, or otherwise appropriately identified by the official seed certifying agency of the State where grown, or such other seed certifying agency as the committee may recognize and the Secretary approve.

Some growers who raise potatoes that could be certified as seed under applicable laws of the State where grown do not have their potatoes certified. Some of such growers are unwilling to pay the additional costs of certification. Some potatoes, although of relatively good seed stock, are unable at times to qualify for certification by slight deviations from the standards requisite therefor. In many cases covered by the above situations, other growers know of the relatively good, although uncertified, seed stock and they buy such stock for planting when they know, either on the basis of the reputation of the grower or by direct information, that such potatoes are well suited for planting. The planting of uncertified seed potatoes is limited mostly to the local communities in which such seed is grown, although some moves out of such local communities and even out of the production area. The standards applicable to and the use of uncertified seed potatoes are substantially the same as hereinbefore set forth for certified seed potatoes. Therefore, uncertified seed should be regulated on the same basis as certified seed insofar as such uncertified seed potatoes can be identifiably segregated and excluded from table stock marketing channels. Therefore, the definition of "seed potatoes" should also include uncertified potatoes that are planted if the handling thereof is in accordance with applicable rules and regulations prescribed pursuant to § 960.56. Table stock potatoes should be defined as all potatoes other than seed potatoes. The sum total of the table stock and seed potatoes so defined will equal "potatoes," otherwise defined in the amended order.

"Pack" is defined as a basis for describing and distinguishing among various units in which potatoes are shipped. The term has a distinct meaning in the potato trade in that it refers to the particular size and type of bag in which the potatoes are placed. For example, most potatoes grown within the production area are placed in 100-pound sacks. This is the currently common type of pack used throughout the area. Some handlers ship in 50-pound sacks; others ship some table stock potatoes in 5-, 10-, 15-, or 25-pound sacks, commonly referred to as consumer packs. The 50-pound and the 100-pound packs frequently are referred to as wholesale packs. In common practice the difference between packs rests primarily on the weight of the container. Such demarcation between any two packs can be drawn on a practical basis upon the basis of weights. For example, the committee could distinguish between consumer packs and wholesale packs by recommending that consumer packs should include potatoes packed in individual containers of less than 50 pounds each. Such distinguishing feature should apply to the final or ultimate unit rather than a master container, such as a 100-pound master bag containing 10 consumer size packs of 10 pounds each. The possible introduction of additional size packages makes it impractical to establish set weight limits for particular packs which should fall within each category. The evolution of size packs in the production area has moved from the usual 150-pound sack of several decades ago to the 120-pound bag, and currently to the customary 100-pound bag. The 50-pound sack is coming into more common usage; so also are the consumer packs. The definition should permit recognition of current distinctions among packs on the basis of weight and type of containers, so that different regulations may be established for such different packs. Pack should be defined, therefore, as hereinafter set forth.

Definitions of "grade" and "size" are incorporated in the amended order to enable all persons affected thereby to determine the requirements thereof and to interpret specifically and intelligently regulations issued in such terms. Grade and size, the essential terms in which regulations are issued, should be defined as comprehending the equivalents of the meanings assigned to these terms in (i) the official standards for potatoes issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, (ii) the State standards issued by the appropriate authority within the States of the production area, and (iii) to modifications or amendments of such standards, and to variations of such standards by regulations under the amended order. Regulations under the amended order can then use such terms (grade and size) with the constant meaning assigned thereto in such standards, or in such modified or amended standards, or such regulation can vary such terms by prescribing, for example, a percentage of a grade, as may be required at the time of issuing such regulation. Official inspectors are qualified to certify to the grade and size of potatoes, grown in the proposed production area, in terms of any one of the aforesaid standards, or modification, amendment, or variation thereof.

A definition of "export" is incorporated in the amended order because different regulations thereunder are authorized for export shipments than for domestic shipments of potatoes. Export markets have certain requirements which differ from the domestic market and special regulations are, therefore, justified. Export should be defined to include all shipments of potatoes outside of the continental United States.

A definition of "district" is incorporated in the amended order to delineate the geographical divisions of the production area for the purpose of electing nominees for membership on the committee. The production and marketing probelms within each of the established districts are similar and election of committee nominees on such basis will afford equitable representation to all producers in the production area. As potato production and marketing in the production area are dynamic, however, the amended order should provide procedure for changing the area covered by each district and the representation from each district. District should be defined, therefore, as hereinafter set forth.

"Area" is defined in the amended order to establish a basis for grouping committee members and alternates into sub-committees of the North Central Potato Committee, so that such sub-committees can meet on local problems arising in connection with the operation of the program. Such sub-committees will allow more frequent and less expensive meetings of committee members on local marketing situations than could be arranged by calling meetings of the entire membership of the North Central Potato Committee. Sub-committees can be prepared, through such local meetings, to present their particular problems to the meeting of the entire membership of the whole committee. Changes in the boundaries of and representation from such areas should be authorized for the same reasons justifying similar changes in districts. Area should be defined, therefore, as hereinafter set forth.

"Washed potatoes" is defined in the amended order to establish a basis and method for distinguishing potatoes which have been cleansed by water from those which have not been so cleansed, because the amended order permits and authorizes different regulations, under appropriate circumstances, for washed potatoes than for unwashed potatoes. Many terminal markets maintain price distinctions between washed and unwashed potatoes. Washed potatoes generally return price premiums over unwashed potatoes of the same grade. Such market distinctions are commonly accepted both by handlers and growers. More and more of the potatoes grown within the production area are being washed each year. The washing of potatoes is considered to be desirable by many growers and handlers within the production area and they also consider it desirable and necessary that different regulation should be authorized for washed potatoes than for unwashed potatoes.

The main factor in distinguishing between washed and unwashed potatoes is the degree of cleanliness which is obtained by the application of water to such potatoes. Committee members, as experienced potato men, are able to determine practical limits to the standard of cleanness which such potatoes should meet and such standard should be approved by the Secretary whenever he finds that the recommended standard will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Determinations as to the degree of potato cleanliness can be made under the U. S. Standards of Potatoes, and Federal-State Inspectors have for years inspected potatoes for cleanness in the production area and throughout the United States. Such inspection service can inspect potatoes grown in the production area to determine if such potatoes meet the degree of cleanliness which may be required by the aforesaid regulations. Hence, the committee and the Federal-State Inspection Service can work out practical limits to requirements for cleanness which washed potatoes should meet. Washed potatoes should be defined, therefore, to mean potatoes which have been cleansed by water and certified by the Federal-State Inspection Service as meeting the degree of cleanness recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary.

(a) The administrative agency selected by the Secretary to administer Order No. 60 is the North Central Potato Committee. The committee under the amended order should be composed of 18 members, with a like number of alternates, instead of 16 members as in the past. The two additional members should be added to the committee, so that Iowa and Indiana potato growers will be represented on the committee. The membership for the four original States under Order No. 60, consisting of three producers and one handler from each State, provides a satisfactory and equitable method of representation based upon the number of producers and potato production within each of such States. One producer member from Iowa and one producer member from Indiana provides equitable representation for such areas on the committee based upon the relationship of the number of growers and of production in each such State to the potato growers and production in each of the other States in the production area. Establishment of this committee is desirable and necessary to aid the Secretary in carrying out the declared policy of the act and such committee is authorized by the act.

Provision should be made in the amended order, similar to Order No. 60, for an alternate for each committee member. Circumstances may arise when it is impossible for a member, or members, to attend to committee business, or to attend particular committee meetings, and, in addition, committee vacancies may arise because of death, resignation, or for other reasons. Under such circumstances, alternates should be authorized to act for committee members on committee matters. In such situations it is necessary and desirable for the respective alternate to act in lieu of the member, so that there will be on interruption to committee operations and to assure that committee activities will be representative of producer and handler thinking in all districts of the production area. Such alternates should have the same qualifications as the members so that the alternates shall be as representative of their respective group as the members. A committee of 18 members will provide adequate representation to producers and handlers throughout the production area. At the same time, it is of such size that it can operate effectively and efficiently. On the basis of the division of the production area into districts and representation therefrom, the committee should give adequate representation to all producers and handlers in the production area.

Producer members and alternates selected to represent districts of the production area should be producers of potatoes (or officers or employees of a corporate producer) in the district they represent and residents therein. Persons with such qualifications will be intimately acquainted with the particular problems of producing and marketing potatoes grown in such district and for that reason can be expected to present accurately the views, problems, and economic conditions of producers and handlers in such districts to the committee.

Handler members and alternates selected to represent handlers in the area for which such persons are selected should be individual handlers (or officers or employees of a corporate handler) operating within the area for which such persons are selected. Handler members should represent the group interest of the area for which they are selected and, in order to assure that such persons who are selected as handler members shall do so, such selectees should be handlers in the area which they represent.

The term of office of committee members and alternates should be for two fiscal years, rather than for one fiscal year as provided in Order No. 60. The terms of office of committee members and alternates should be so arranged that the terms of office of one-half of the committee members and alternates shall terminate at the end of each fiscal year. Such provision will retain members and alternates with experience on the committee to counsel on policies and to assist with recurrent administrative matters. Committee members and alternates should serve until their successors have been selected and qualified so that the Committee shall be assured of continuity.

The selection of one producer member and alternate from each district in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, and from North Dakota district No. 2, and two producer members from North Dakota District No. 1 provides an adequate and equitable basis for selection of committee members and alternates under the amended order. One handler member should be selected from each of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota. Such representation, except for the addition of Iowa and Indiana representation, is the same as the representation provided by Order No. 60. Experience has shown that such basis for selection and the representation resulting therefrom has been reasonable and appropriate and that such basis should continue in effect unless and until the committee recommends that the Secretary, pursuant to such recommendation, approves a different basis for selection.

The districts as initially set forth in the amended order follow generally accepted lines of demarcation used by the potato industry in the production area and the operating experience under Order No. 60 indicates that such districting is reasonable and practical.

The areas, as initially established in the amended order, provide a basis for organizing area committees which are sub-committees of the North Central Potato Committee and comparable to the State committees set up under Order No. 60. Such initial areas are identical, except for the addition of Iowa and Indiana, with areas for the State committees established pursuant to Order No. 60. The addition of Iowa to the Minnesota grouping and Indiana to the Michigan grouping provides a practical and reasonable basis for initially establishing such area committees.

The basis for initially establishing districts and areas, as hereinbefore set forth, is adequate and equitable for the effective operations of the North Central Potato Committee and of the area committees in administering the provisions of the amended order. However, if operation and experience should show that some rearrangement of districts and areas, and representation therefrom, is desirable and reasonable, the committee should be authorized to recommend such rearrangement to the Secretary. Whenever any consideration is being given to such rearrangement, primary consideration with respect to the boundary lines of a district or area will lie with the producers and handlers, as represented by the area committee involved, who are directly affected by such changes. If proposed changes affect producers and handlers in more than one area, consideration should be given to such changes by all area committees which are involved. The objectives of effective and efficient committee operation will be attained better if the committee, through its component area committees, is authorized to recommend practical solutions to problems of appropriate district boundaries, practical groupings of districts for organization of area committees, and appropriate and reasonable reapportionment of committee membership, which may thereafter be effected through appropriate action of the Secretary. The guides which area committees and the committee should follow are those set forth in the provisions for reestablishment as hereinafter set forth. Such guides should take into consideration new production, shifts in existing production, possible inequities as demonstrated by experience, and other factors which are relevant.

Area committees are desirable and necessary as a means of providing more frequent meetings of committee members within the areas they represent. Area committee members and alternates should be able to get together on local problems and offer recommended solutions with respect thereto to the committee. The business of the North Central Potato Committee should be expedited by reason of area committees getting together regularly and considering not only the marketing problems affecting their own area but also the relationship of their marketing problems to the whole production area. Area committees should organize each fiscal year, select officers, and function as organized groups within or subcommittees of the North Central Potato Committee. A majority of the members of the area committee should constitute a quorum thereof. The producer member or members of the North Central Potato Committee from each district within an area shall be members of the area committee in which such district is located. Likewise, the appropriate handler members for each area shall be the handler members on the area committees. Similarly, alternates of producer and handler members of the North Central Potato Committee shall be alternates to such members on the area committees. Alternates should serve in the place and stead of members. Area committees should cooperate with the North Central Potato Committee in assisting with administration of the amended order in the areas represented by such area committees. The powers and duties of area committees shall be determined by the North Central Potato Committee but they shall in no way exceed the powers and duties granted to the committee.

Nomination meetings for the purpose of nominating members of the committee and their alternates should be held or caused to be held by the committee prior to May 1 of each year. Such date is approximately sixty days prior to the end of the fiscal year. By holding, or causing to be held, nomination meetings prior to such date, the committee would have adequate time to prepare and submit nominee lists to the Secretary in time for the Secretary to select the members and alternates to take office at the beginning of the new fiscal year, and, in the event a selectee declines to serve, for the Secretary to make another appointment.

At least two nominees should be designated for each position as member, and each position as alternate member, so that the Secretary will have a choice in making his selection and, in the event a selectee declines to serve, so that he will have the names of other prospective members or alternates from which to make another appointment.

Nominee lists should be supplied to the Secretary in the manner and form prescribed by him to establish administrative uniformity in the handling of such matters. Such nominations should be presented to the Secretary at least thirty days prior to the end of the fiscal year so that the selection and qualificaion of the members and alternates for the new term of office which begins with the new fiscal year may be made prior to such date.

Only producers may participate in nominating producer committee members and alternates, and only handlers may participate in nominating handler committee members and alternates. This is necessary to maintain the distinctive producer and handler representative viewpoint. However, if a person is both a handler and a producer, at least 90 percent of the potatoes handled by him must be of his own production to qualify as a producer for such purposes. He may elect the group in which he wishes to participate subject to this percentage requirement. Such percentage requirement will restrict participation in committee activities to the capacity of primary interest of the participants.

The committee should be authorized to utilize the services and facilities of existing organizations and agencies in conducting nomination meetings for committee members and alternates to facilitate the expeditious, inexpensive, and orderly consummation of this committee function.

Each producer should be limited to one vote on behalf of himself, his agents, subsidiaries, affiliates, or representatives, in designating nominees for producer committee members and alternates, regardless of the number of districts in which he produces potatoes. Voting on any other basis would not provide for equitable representation. If a producer could cast more than one vote by reason of operating in more than one district, such producer would have an advantage in selecting nominees over producers operating in only one district. Likewise, if more than one vote was permitted a few large producers could dominate the elections and nominate producers not favored by a majority of producers. The producer who operates in more than one district should be permitted to elect from among the districts in which he produces potatoes, the district in which he shall vote in order that he may cast his ballot for nominees for producer committee members and alternates where he believes his main interest lies. The one-vote limitation applies to any one producer position to be filled at a nomination meeting. Each producer is allowed one vote for each such producer position as a committee member and each such producer position as a committee alternate to be filled at a nomination meeting.

Identical limitations and requirements, except for the percentage and residence requirements, should be applied to handler participation in nominating handler committee members and alternates, for reasons similar to the application of such limitations and requirements to producer nominations of producer committee members and alternates. While the residence requirement is desirable for producer nominees, for reasons hereinbefore indicated, such requirement is not desirable in the case of handler nominees, because handlers in the production area frequently operate across State lines. For example, in the Red River Valley some handlers operate on both the North Dakota and Minnesota sides of the Red River which establishes the boundary between the two States. Also, some handlers whose headquarters are in terminal markets, such as Chicago, operate offices at shipping points in various parts of the production area. Handlers should nominate their best talent to represent their interests on the committee; because of their extensive operations, a residence requirement could, in many cases, prevent them from nominating such men.

In order that there will be an administration agency in existence at all times to administer the amended order, the Secretary should be allowed to select committee members and alternates without regard to nominations if the committee, for any reason, fails to carry out the nomination procedure prescribed herein. Such selection, however, should be on the basis of the geographical representation provided in the amended order to insure that the entire production area is fairly and adequately represented.

Any person selected by the Secretary as a committee member or alternate should qualify by filing with the Secretary a written acceptance of willingness and intention to serve in such capacity. Each person selected as a committee member or alternate should qualify, so that the Secretary will have a means of determining if he intends to serve. This is sound operating procedure and is necessary and desirable to avoid delays in the composition of the committee. For this same reason, each member and alternate should file his acceptance within a definite time period after receiving notice of his selection. The ten-day period prescribed is reasonable for qualification and will not unduly retard composition of the committee.

Provision is made for the Secretary to fill any committee vacancies in order to maintain continuity of committee operation. The amended order provides three alternative procedures which may be followed by the Secretary in making such selections. The administrative flexibility thus prescribed is desirable so that the Secretary will not be forestalled in making such selections and so that he may choose the most practical of the alternative means in filling such vacancies. The Secretary should have authority to select persons to fill committee vacancies from nominations made at producer or handler meetings. Practical considerations, however, may preclude the holding of special nomination meetings for this purpose. For example, a vacancy might occur during the height of the potato planting or harvesting season when it would be difficult for the committee to secure an adequate and representative attendance at meetings. It is, therefore, appropriate that the Secretary should be authorized to make selections to fill vacancies from the nominee list last submitted by the committee prior to the occurrence of the vacancy.

It is also desirable and necessary that the Secretary should be authorized to fill committee vacancies without regard to nominations if the names of nominees to fill any such vacancy are not made available to the Secretary within thirty days after such vacancy occurs. The Secretary should have recourse to such means of filling vacancies in order to maintain continuity of committee operation and to insure that all portions of the production area are adequately represented in the conduct of committee business.

An alternate member should be authorized to act in the place and stead of the member for whom he is alternate during such member's temporary absence. Continuity of operation of the amended order on a representative basis is better assured by such authorization. Similarly, an alternate should be authorized to act in a member's absence when such absence is due to death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of the member. Such authorization should provide that the alternate can act in the place and stead of the member for whom he was alternate until a successor for the member has been selected and has qualified.

A majority of the members of the committee shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, and a majority of concurring votes of all the members shall be necessary for passing any motion or approving any action of the committee. These requirements are reasonable and are necessary to insure that any action of the committee will be representative of a majority of the committee. Requiring a larger quorum and concurring vote would unnecessarily impede committee actions and permit a small minority to thwart effective and prompt actions by the committee.

Only members present at an assembled meeting of the committee, or alternate members acting for members, should be entitled to vote. This requirement will encourage greater attendance at meetings and will promote fuller discussion of and exchange of information on proposed committee actions. Provision is made, however, for meetings of the committee by telephone, telegraph, or other means of communications, to meet practical situations where rapid decision with respect to committee actions is necessary. Such emergency situations occur quite frequently in the marketing of potatoes grown in the production area. Any votes cast at such meetings should be promptly confirmed in writing to provide a record of the action taken.

The apportionment and selection of producer members and alternate members of the committee by districts, in the manner set forth in the amended order, will provide fair and equitable representation of all producers in the production area. The representation provided gives weight, on as fair and reasonable a basis as possible, to the various factors, such as acreage, number of producers, sizes of district, and variation in producing and marketing conditions, necessary to establish assurance of a fair and equitable representation of all portions of the production area on the committee.

Selection of one committee producer member and alternate from each district in the production area, except North Dakota District No. 1, and two committee producer members and alternates from North Dakota District No. 1, which districts are hereinafter defined, will afford fair and equitable representation on the committee for all producers in the production area, giving appropriate weight to the acreage, production, and the different methods of producing potatoes in the entire production area. To provide a fair and equitable representation of all handlers in the production area, the handler representation on the committee should consist of one handler member from each of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota. This representation gives appropriate weight, on a fair and reasonable basis, to the acreage, production, and the different methods of handling potatoes in the production area, necessary to establish assurance of a fair and equitable representation on the committee for all handlers in the production area.

Committee members and alternates will serve without compensation but shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred when acting on committee business. Since such members and alternates will be serving in the interest of the potato industry in the production area, they should not be required to bear such expenses as they incur in attending to committee business. Committee members are compensated under Order No. 60 in an amount not in excess of $5.00 per day for attendance at each committee meeting. Such rate of compensation is inadequate to give either producer or handler members enough to offset their loss of time from their regular business. Such a rate is in effect only an honorarium. No person could be induced to serve merely to receive a compensation of $5.00 per day. Unless persons have enough interest in the potato industry in the production area to serve without compensation they should not be nominated or selected. Therefore, rather than give members an inadequate compensation, it is determined to be desirable to have producers and handlers serve without any per diem compensation, although they should receive reimbursement for expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of official duties for the committee. Similarly, alternate members should not receive a per diem compensation, but they should receive expenses whenever they are performing duties for the committee.

The powers of the committee, as set forth in the notice of hearing, should be granted to the committee because such powers are authorized by the act and are essential to the committee in order for it to discharge its responsibilities under the amended order.

Each and all of the duties set forth in the notice of hearing should be given to the committee because such duties are necessary and essential to the accomplishment of the declared policy of the act and for the committee to discharge its obligations to the Secretary. These duties are similar to duties given to the North Central Potato Committee under Order No. 60, and to other administrative committees under other marketing agreement and order programs.

(b) The declared policy of the act is to establish and maintain such orderly marketing conditions for potatoes, among other commodities, as will tend to establish parity prices for such potatoes. The regulation of shipments of potatoes by grade, size, or quality, authorized in the amended order, provides a means of carrying out such policy.

The procedures which are outlined in the amended order for the development and institution of marketing policies relating to grade, size, or quality regulations provide a practical basis for the committee and the area committees to obtain appropriate and adequate information regarding marketing problems. In turn, members of the industry are also provided an appropriate and adequate means of being informed regarding the policies and regulations such committees recommend. The factors which the committees should take into consideration in developing their marketing policies are the ones commonly or usually taken into account by growers and handlers in marketing potatoes.

In order that the Secretary may most effectively carry out his responsibilities in connection with the amended order, it is provided that the Area Committee in each of the areas in the production area, and the committee, severally, should prepare and submit to the Secretary a report on their proposed policy, or amendments thereto, for the marketing of potatoes during each fiscal year. The initial marketing policy of each committee in each fiscal year should be prepared and submitted to the Secretary prior to or simultaneously with recommendations for regulation to give all interested parties the maximum notice of regulatory possibilities, consistent with affording such committee sufficient time to prepare sound policies. Any recommendation for regulations applicable to the handling of potatoes in a portion of the production area or during a portion of the marketing season, or both, should be predicated on the prior or simultaneous submission of a marketing policy report with respect thereto. Subsequent recommendations for regulation applicable to a portion of the production area or during a portion of the marketing season, or both, should be predicated on a marketing policy report submitted subsequent to the aforesaid report and prior to or simultaneously with such latter recommendations. Further provision should be made for the committees to make available the contents of such reports to producers and handlers in the areas served by such committees.

In making recommendations for regulation, it is provided that the committee shall investigate relevant factors of supply and demand for potatoes. This requirement is necessary so that the committee will be in the best position to develop sound and practical recommendations for regulation and to advise the Secretary with respect to such supply and demand conditions. The committee will be well qualified to determine marketing conditions for potatoes produced in the production area and to recommend specific regulations which will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

The limitation of shipments of the poorer grades, qualities, and less desirable sizes of potatoes grown in the production area will tend to increase the prices of the more desirable grades, qualities, and sizes, and to increase the returns to producers therefrom. Less desirable sizes include not only small potatoes but also excessively large potatoes. Such limitation of shipments will also help to improve the long-run demand for and competitive position of potatoes grown in the production area.

It is a necessary and desirable exercise of the authority granted by the act for the committee to recommend regulations, as hereinafter indicated, and for the Secretary to establish, on the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, grade, size, or quality regulations for any or all portions of the production area, and different grade, size, or quality regulations for different packs, for washed and unwashed potatoes, for different time periods within the shipping season, for different varieties, or any combination of the foregoing. Such administrative flexibility is needed in the amended order to effectuate the declared policy of the act through the issuance of appropriate regulations adapted to different and changing circumstances encountered in the marketing of potatoes.

Authority to issue different regulations applicable to different portions of the production area is necessary because a particular portion or portions of such area may have adverse growing conditions which cause an abnormally high percentage of the potatoes grown therein to fall within restricted grades, sizes, or qualities. To meet the administrative problems that would arise from a situation of this kind and to provide fair and equitable regulation of all shipments of potatoes grown in the production area, it would be appropriate to establish a less restrictive regulation applicable to such affected portion or portions of the area. Different regulations applicable to potatoes grown in different portions of the production area are also necessary so that each such regulation will allow growers in the respective portions of the production area affected by such different regulations to ship their equitable portion of the potato crop grown in the production area. For example, if one portion of the production area, such as a major part of one State, should have low yields and poor quality, whereas the remainder of the production area would have good quality and desirable sizes, a regulation requiring that all potato growers in the production area should ship potatoes under the same grade and size regulation would result in potato growers in the portion of the production area with a poor crop being forced to hold back a larger percentage of their crop than growers in the portions of the production area with a good crop.

Therefore, different regulations for different portions of the production area should be authorized so that, so far as practical, consideration can be given to equating the percentage of farmers' crops which will be withheld from market throughout the entire production area. Different regulations should also be authorized for different portions of the season for similar reasons and, in addition, to give consideration to differences in the total supply of all potatoes available for marketing during different portions of the season, as well as to give consideration to intra-seasonal differences in demand.

Supply and demand conditions for potatoes are subject to frequent and substantial changes during the course of a particular season. The main supply of potatoes in the production area is dug in the late fall and stored for later disposal. Some of the crop is dug during mid-summer and later, also during early fall, and marketed without being held in storage. This portion of production within the production area is relatively small when compared with total production which is marketed out of storage, but it assumes major importance to farmers producing it. Also, it is an important contribution to the supply of potatoes when such potatoes are being marketed. These potatoes are commonly referred to as early as compared with the late or storage deal. For example, the Bay City, Michigan, and the Stevens Point, Wisconsin, deals begin in mid-summer, long before potatoes are dug for storage. The same may be said for early crop potatoes around the Twin Cities in Hennepin county. Many southern Michigan growers, also some Indiana, Iowa, and southern Wisconsin growers dig their potatoes and market them without going into storage. The same practice is followed to a limited extent both by Minnesota and North Dakota farmers in some parts of the Red River Valley, although the great bulk of their potatoes are stored for a time before final disposition. Many of these situations deserve different treatment in order to promote orderly marketing conditions for such potatoes. Although production and marketing conditions affecting potatoes are much the same throughout the entire production area, minor differences occur which make it essential that the committee should have authority to recommend different regulations at any time during the season in order to carry out the declared policy of the act.

Different regulations should be authorized for different varieties of potatoes because varieties differ in particular characteristics such as shape and in susceptibility to certain defects. Also, the demand for some varieties is sufficiently distinct to result in appreciable price differentials from other varieties.

For these reasons, an appropriate grade and size regulation for one variety might not be appropriate for another. Moreover, a new variety may be introduced in the area which should be regulated differently than the varieties now being grown.

Authority should be and is established in the amended order, hereinafter set forth, for applying grade, size, or quality regulations to any variety or varieties of potatoes, for applying different regulations for different varieties during any period, for applying different regulations to different packs, and for applying different regulations to different portions of the production area. It is desirable in the interest of promoting orderly marketing that the committee should be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to issue, regulations limiting the grade, size, or quality which may be shipped in one type of pack, for example, the common and usual hundredweight bag, and, on the other hand, regulate differently for the common and usual 50-pound pack, or, again, regulate differently for the so-called consumer packs, the 5-, 10-, and 15-pound packs. Such authority should also provide that the committee may recommend, and the Secretary may issue, regulations that will limit the range of grades or particularly the range of sizes which may be shipped in various packs, such as, for example limiting sizes in a specified pack or packs containing potatoes of 4½ inches diameter to sizes not smaller than 3½ inches diameter, or, again for example, limiting sizes in a specified pack containing sizes 2 inches in diameter to sizes not larger than 3½ inches. Ranges by weight could be used as size measurements in the same manner.

The committee should be authorized to help promote and protect the reputation of certain specific packs, such as the so-called consumer packs, by recommending that only certain grades, sizes, or qualities may be shipped therein. Such regulations should apply to handlers whether they are operating at shipping points in the production area or at terminal markets. The effect upon the potato market of any given grades, sizes, or qualities is the same regardless of whether they were segregated or graded into such grades, sizes, or qualities at shipping point or in terminal markets, or at any point between shipping point and terminal market. Therefore, the grading and regrading of potatoes at terminal market is a determining factor as to the grade, size, and quality of the potatoes which will be marketed. The authority to regulate the grade, size, and quality which terminal handlers may put into any or all types of packs, the same as authority to regulate handlers at shipping point in the same manner, is essential to effectuating the declared purposes of the act through the terms and provisions of the amended order.

Handlers should be allowed to promote favorable reputations for premium quality in specific packs and, if they succeed in doing so, the committee should be allowed to assist such handlers to protect the reputation of specific packs of such potatoes from low quality, shoddy merchandising which will not improve prices or promote orderly marketing for such potatoes. Prospects are that the production area will increase the use of the 5-, 10-, 15-, and 25-pound packs, commonly referred to as consumer packs. It is desirable, therefore, that a method should be provided in the amended order for the committee to recommend and the Secretary to issue regulations establishing different grade, size, and quality requirements for the handling of potatoes in specific packs. Such distinction in regulations would allow the committee to consider improving returns to producers of such potatoes by limiting the grade, size, or quality of such potatoes which may be shipped in specific packs, so that the preferred demand for favorable grades and sizes could be met by specific packs. No discrimination or hardship would follow from such distinction in regulations because any handler can pack his potatoes in any size of container and thereafter dispose of them on the market if they meet the grade, size, and quality requirements applicable to containers of the size chosen by him.

Terminal market prices and shipping point prices for potatoes grown in the production area normally show price differentials between the same grades, sizes, and qualities of washed and unwashed stock. Such price differentials usually return sufficient premium for washed stock so that it has been profitable to increase washing capacity and the number of washers operating throughout the production area. Consequently, the percentage of the potato crop grown in the production area which has been washed has increased each year since the end of World War II. The application of water in the washing process helps to improve the appearance of such potatoes by removing not only heavy, obvious dirt but also fine dust, resulting in potatoes with surface appearance distinguishable from unwashed stock. Such difference in appearance results in a difference in demand, with consequent price differentials, for washed and unwashed stock of the same grades, sizes, and qualities. The difference in demand is due to the difference in appearance which, in turn, is in direct correlation to the degree of cleanliness of such potatoes. The degree of cleanliness of potatoes is measurable and determinable in accordance with methods followed by Federal-State inspectors in their routine duties of inspecting and certifying such potatoes pursuant to the U. S. Standards for Potatoes. Such inspectors can determine if potatoes have been cleansed by water and the degree of cleanliness resulting therefrom. Growers and handlers at shipping point, terminal market receivers, the wholesale potato trade, and buyers for retail potato outlets recognize the difference between washed and unwashed table stock potatoes. Such recognition becomes a reality in daily trade through the medium of price differentials between washed and unwashed stock, which usually means premiums for washed stock or discounts for unwashed stock. Prices received by producers of potatoes grown in the production area are improved by washing table stock potatoes and a recognition of differences between the demand for washed and unwashed stock, as reflected in price differentials, should help to effectuate the purposes of the amended order and the act. Therefore, different regulations should be authorized for washed and for unwashed potatoes so that appropriate recognition of price differentials between such washed and unwashed potatoes can be given by the committee and by the Secretary in considering, recommending, and issuing regulations tending to promote orderly marketing conditions in the interest of potato growers in the production area. It is a proper function of the committee to recommend and the Secretary to approve the degree of cleanliness which should be applicable during any period, or periods, to be used as a part of regulations issued under the amended order.

The Secretary, upon the basis of recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or other available information, should be authorized to modify, suspend, or terminate grade, size, or quality regulations with respect to shipments of potatoes for purposes other than disposition in normal commercial markets for table stock potatoes. The committee should be well qualified, because of the experience and knowledge of individual members, to recommend such modifications, suspensions, or terminations as will be in the best interests of the potato industry in the production area and which will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Shipments of potatoes for such purposes, which constitute market outlets that are not directly competitive with the table stock market, as hereinafter set forth, which otherwise could not be marketed under the regulations, will tend to increase the total returns of potato growers in the production area.

In addition to the findings, conclusions, and reasons hereinbefore set forth for authorizing, in the amended order, the modification, suspension, or termination of regulations of potato shipments for grading or storage in the production area, it is necessary that such shipments should be accomplished with the greatest possible freedom from grade, size, and quality limitations consistent with carrying out the objectives of the amended order and the declared purposes of the act. As previously found, the shipment of potatoes grown in the production area from the field where grown to grading shed or storage, either local or distant, is almost without exception on a field run basis. The purpose of shipping such field run potatoes to grading shed or to storage is, among other reasons, to have them prepared or made ready for market. It would serve no useful purpose, and, in addition, it would impose an unnecessary burden upon such shipments for grading or storage within the production area, to require such shipments to comply with the same grade, size, and quality requirements applicable to potatoes which have been prepared or made ready for market. The movement of such potatoes, or transactions in such potatoes, prior to their grading or preparation for market need not be subject to such grade, size, and quality regulations, or to other rules and procedures applicable to the handling of potatoes which have been prepared or made ready for market, except insofar as such regulations, rules, procedures, and, in addition, safeguards, are necessary to prevent such shipments from entering channels of trade other than for grading and storage. The extent to which such potatoes should be allowed to move free of all regulation or other obligations, including safeguards, under the amended order, is a matter on which committee members and alternates, as men engaged in the potato business, should be well informed. Likewise, the extent to which shipments of such potatoes to any point, especially distant points within the production area, for grading or storage, should accord with rules, procedures, or safeguards, to prevent such potatoes from entering channels of trade other than for grading or storage, is also a matter on which such committee members and alternates should be well informed and qualified to offer reasonable, sound, and practical recommendations. Authority for issuing appropriate regulations, rules, procedures, or safeguards relating to shipments of such potatoes for grading or storage, therefore, should be provided as set forth in the amended order.

With respect to shipment of such potatoes for local grading or storage, the committee members and alternates serving particular areas or districts of the production area will be well acquainted with the customary manner in which, and packing or grading sheds and storage to which, growers in such local or immediate area deliver or haul their potatoes for storage or preparation for market. It would be appropriate for such committee, therefore, to make recommendations with respect to the determination of local or immediate areas of production for the purpose of determining the portion of the production area within which local hauling of the potato crop can be accomplished with a minimum of interference and control. In order for the committee to fulfill its function in this respect in an appropriate manner, the committee should be authorized to determine the local or immediate area of production upon the basis of certain definite lines, such as county lines, or movement within a given radius, for the purpose of limiting the area for such local movement while at the same time providing the maximum of freedom from regulation to local growers. It is necessary also that the committee should be authorized to determine different local areas or immediate areas of production for different parts of the production area, such as, for example, in sparsely settled portions of the production area such local or immediate areas of production could be of larger radius than in congested or urban areas. County lines, or township lines, may serve as useful and practical boundaries for such local areas. In addition, the committee should be authorized to establish rules and regulations necessary to provide appropriate administrative controls in connection with either, or both, local or distant movement of potatoes grown in the production area to packing sheds or to storage prior to their final preparation for market. Committee members should know the extent to which such controls are necessary and the extent to which such potatoes may move freely in order to assure that such potatoes will not end up in other than packing sheds or storage where they will be prepared for market. The minor differences which occur in methods of handling in different parts of the production area make it essential that the committee should have authority to recommend appropriate administrative controls applicable to such shipments in such various parts. The committee should be allowed sufficient latitude in recommending such rules and regulations, governing such shipments to grading sheds or to storage, so that the committee can adequately and effectively meet varying local methods of handling in different parts of the production area. In no case should such authority to recommend rules and regulations with respect to shipments of ungraded potatoes be interpreted to mean that such potatoes be allowed to move outside the production area for processing. Such sale, consignment, or transportation of such potatoes outside the production area for processing would create undue supervisory problems in connection with operation of the amended order.

As hereinbefore indicated, seed potatoes which have been certified as having been produced and handled in accordance with specific precautionary measures required by either public or private seed certifying agencies to protect potatoes from disease, and uncertified seed potatoes of relative disease-free characteristics known to potato growers, as well as small sized potatoes, ordinarily command premiums in the seed potato market over prices returned to growers therefor in the table stock market. In addition, certain characteristics which constitute grade defects in table stock potatoes do not necessarily detract from the value of seed potatoes. Some potatoes which have been grown and qualify as seed are sold in the table stock market. The table stock market is a common, usual, and practical outlet for excess quantities of seed potatoes. Such sales of seed potatoes are in direct competition with table stock potatoes. Prices farmers receive for potatoes grown in the production area are directly affected by such sales of seed potatoes. Such farm prices for such potatoes could be, as they have been in the past, adversely affected by some shipments of certified seed potatoes which do not meet any grade or which are only low grade, as such grades are established in the U. S. Standards for Potatoes. In other words, some shipments of certified seed potatoes, when inspected according to U. S. Standards for Potatoes, are culls; others are only U. S. Number 2 grade. Some certified seed grades, as established by appropriate State authorities, require that such seed potatoes must meet the equivalent of U. S. Number 1 or better grade. The amended order is solely concerned with the handling in commerce of potatoes grown in the production area, and it is not concerned with the establishment of standards, qualifications, of procedures for certified seed. No regulation, rule, or procedure authorized under the amended order establishes or authorizes the establishment of standards, regulations, or procedures for determining the qualifications for certified seed potatoes. The establishment of such standards, qualifications, or procedures are the responsibility of the State where such potatoes are grown or other appropriate seed certifying agencies. However, the certified seed tag or identification should not be used as a license to dump grades, sizes, and qualities of potatoes on the table stock market which are otherwise prohibited from sale as table stock potatoes. If either certified or uncertified seed potatoes are actually planted, their possible effect upon the table stock market is reduced to relatively minor importance. If, however, such potatoes are sold or otherwise shipped ostensibly for planting but, instead of being planted, they end up in the table stock market, the effect upon the table stock market often would be to create disorder and to depress prices to potato growers selling other table stock potatoes. Therefore, the committee should be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to issue, regulations protecting the table stock market from such dumping. Such authorization should allow modification, suspension, or termination of regulations applicable to potatoes grown in the production area, so that shipments of seed potatoes, whether certified or uncertified, can be required to meet grade, size, and quality requirements deemed essential to protect the table stock market from price depressing effects resulting from the sale of otherwise prohibited grades, sizes, and qualities of such potatoes. Such authorization is necessary because the regulation of the handling of seed potatoes, whether certified or uncertified, is essential, under some circumstances, to protect the premium table stock potato market and effectuate the declared policy of the act. Regulations and safeguards applicable to shipments of seed protatoes which have been certified need not necessarily be identical with safeguards applicable to shipments of uncertified seed potatoes because of the different potential for such shipments to be diverted to the table stock market. Regulations and safeguards for uncertified seed potatoes should be authorized to provide practical limitations upon such shipments to insure that they are planted. Types of such limitation which may be considered, among others, are, for example, limitation on the time when shipments of such uncertified seed may be made to other regional potato producing areas; assurances satisfactory to reasonably experienced potato producers and handlers, such as committee members, that such uncertified seed potatoes are planted; and such other safeguards as may be necessary to prevent shipment of such uncertified seed from entering other than seed potato channels.

Export outlets, while relatively small, are an important factor in the demand for potatoes grown in the production area. Since certain export markets offer premium prices for certain grades, sizes, or qualities of potatoes which usually sell at a discount in the domestic market, it is desirable that the committee be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to establish, modifications, suspensions, or terminations of regulations applicable to export shipments. Such shipments to export would tend to increase returns to producers in the production area and result in added increment to the value of the crop, thereby tending to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Substantial shipments of potatoes to the Federal Government have been made in recent years in carrying out price support obligations administered by the Secretary. It is necessary, therefore, to authorize the committee to recommend and the Secretary to modify, suspend, or terminate regulations to facilitate such shipments, which will increase grower returns from potatoes grown in the production area and thereby tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

The committee should be authorized to recommend and the Secretary to modify, suspend, or terminate regulations with respect to potatoes shipped for manufacture or conversion into specified products, such as potato chips, glucose, alcohol, etc., because such shipments reduce the supply of potatoes available for shipment to the table stock market and, therefore, such shipments tend to increase the total value of the entire crop of potatoes. The committee should be given authority to recommend which shipments should be classed as being for manufacture or for conversion into specified products because committee members are in an advantageous position to know whether and when such end products constitute outlets that are not competitive with table stock potatoes; the Secretary on the basis of such recommendations or other available information should be authorized to make appropriate determinations as to which of such specified products should be subject to modified, suspended, or terminated regulation otherwise applicable to table stock potatoes, to effectuate the declared policy of the act. The committee should have authority to recommend and the Secretary to specify, on the basis of such recommendations or other available information, modification, suspension, or termination of regulations applicable to shipments of potatoes to the table stock market, to shipment for such specified manufacturing or conversion purposes because some of such outlets compete on a basis virtually equal to and have identical requirements with the table stock potato market.

For example, the committee should have authority to recommend, and the Secretary to specify, whether potato chips should be classed as a special manufactured product. The volume of potatoes going into commercial potato chips has expanded rapidly during the past decade and chip manufacturers now constitute an important outlet for such potatoes. It has been and continues to be common practice for potato chip manufacturers to buy potatoes in the regular table stock potato market. Potato shipments from any particular loading point in the production area may go direct to the table stock market or, either direct or indirect, to chip manufacturers. The handler often is unable to determine, when he is loading or billing a car, if the potatoes will end up in the table stock market or if they will go to a chipping plant. Therefore, no special consideration can be given to the handling or shipping of potatoes merely because they happen to end up in a chipping plant; if potatoes on the table stock market satisfy the requirements of chip manufacturers and there is an adequate supply of such potatoes for table stock and for chip use, identical regulation should be applicable to the shipments of potatoes for both uses, except as hereinafter indicated. Of course, if the grade, size, and quality requirements of such outlets differ, as they sometimes do, different regulations should be authorized under the amended order for such outlets. In any event, modified, suspended, or terminated regulations for shipments of potatoes for manufacture or conversion into potato chips should not permit the diversion of any portion of such potatoes to the table stock market unless the diverted potatoes meet the table stock grade, size, and quality requirements.

Some potato chip manufacturers, however, grow some of their own raw stock and, in addition, they buy some additional stock through special arrangements to protect their interests from the standpoint of price, quality, and other factors affecting their chip operations. If shipments of potatoes for manufacture or conversion into potato chips are subject to modified, suspended, or terminated regulations, regardless of whether such potatoes are grown by a chip manufacturer or acquired through the aforesaid special arrangements, the handling of such potatoes should be subject to such regulations and safeguards as will prevent the aforesaid diversion. Therefore, the committee should be authorized to recommend and the Secretary to issue, on the basis of such recommendations or other available information, safeguards, modifications, suspensions, or terminations of regulations applicable to handling of potatoes for table stock purposes, for potatoes shipped for manufacturing, including potato chips, or for conversion into byproducts or specified products.

The committee should be authorized to recommend that shipments of potatoes for livestock feed, or for other specified purposes, should not be regulated, or to recommend modification or suspension of regulations governing such shipments. Livestock feed provides an outlet for potatoes that is not competitive with the table stock market. Potatoes which may be discarded for use as table stock potatoes because of regulations issued pursuant to the amended order may find an outlet as livestock feed. Livestock feed provides a salvage outlet for off-grade and off-size potatoes which should be eliminated from other market outlets. When such livestock feed outlet is available, it will tend to promote objectives sought under regulation to exempt shipments for this purpose from grade, size, and quality regulations. The committee should be authorized to recommend that shipments of potatoes for a particular purpose or type of utilization should not be regulated, or to recommend modification or suspension of regulations with respect to such shipments, when it is found that such shipments are not competitive with the table stock market. The Secretary, on the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, should be authorized to modify, suspend, or terminate regulations with respect thereto, when such action will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

The aforesaid authorizations for the modificaton, suspension, or termination of regulations with respect to shipments of potatoes for each enumerated special purpose, should permit the modification, suspension, or termination of one or more regulatory provision and the simultaneous retention of other regulatory provisions, because such shipments may require expenditures of administrative funds to police and they may compete, to some extent, with shipments of potatoes for table stock purposes.

Administrative difficulties may arise in attempting to regulate small shipments as compared with large or common commercial movement. Such difficulties may arise in any or all parts of the production area during any or all parts of any season. For example, average sales by potato growers in Milwaukee county, Wisconsin, in Hennepin county, Minnesota, in Wayne county, Michigan, in Lake county, Indiana, or by market gardeners in other parts of the production area frequently are in relatively small quantities when compared with customary commercial sales in carlots or large truck lots in the heavy producing, commercial counties. Problems of inspecting such small lots, or other problems in complying with regulations on such lots, may make it uneconomical, undesirable, and impractical to require that such small shipments comply with any or all regulations required of large shipments. Under such circumstances, which can be readily determined by the committee, regulation of such small shipments would not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. It is concluded that the committee should be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to establish, minimum quantities in any or all parts of the production area during any or all portions of the season which should not be subject to any or all regulations issued under the amended order. It is necessary to permit the maintenance of one or more regulatory requirements, while relieving such minimum quantities from other regulatory requirements; for example, the inspection requirements could be waived on small shipments but the handlers thereof would be required to pay assessments and comply with grade, size, and quality regulations with respect thereto. This provision provides authority to arrange flexible operation of the amended order to meet unusual situations in a practical way. Such authority will promote more orderly marketing and prevent the imposition of undue burdens upon handlers.

The requirement that the Secretary shall notify the committee of any regulations, or of any modifications, suspensions, or terminations of regulations, is appropriate and necessary to enable the committee to be informed of such actions. The committee's obligation to give reasonable notice (which shall be given through newspapers, radio, mail, or such combinations thereof as may be deemed desirable by the committee) or regulatory orders issued by the Secretary is appropriate and necessary for proper and efficient administration of the amended order.

Authority should be provided for the committee to recommend, and the Secretary to prescribe, adequate safeguards to prevent any potatoes, including seed potatoes, which may be subject to special modified, suspended, or terminated regulation, from entering the current of commerce contrary to the provisions hereof. Such safeguards, among others, may include inspection to provide the committee with an accurate record of the grade, size, and quality of such shipments of potatoes, applications to effect such shipments, and requirements for the payment of assessments in connection with such shipments. In order to maintain appropriate identification of such shipments of potatoes, the committee should be authorized to issue Certificates of Privilege to handlers thereof and to require that such handlers obtain such certificates on all such shipments. Certificates of Privilege should be issued in accordance with rules and regulations established by the Secretary, on the basis of committee recommendations, or other available information, so that the issuance of such certificates may be handled in an orderly and efficient manner.

The committee also should be authorized to deny or rescind Certificates of Privilege when such action is necessary to prevent abuse of the privileges conferred thereby. The committee should be authorized to take such rescinding or denial action upon evidence satisfactory to the committee that a handler to whom a Certificate of Privilege has been issued has handled potatoes contrary to the provisions thereof. Action by the committee denying a handler such certificates should be in terms of a specified time period. Handlers affected by the aforesaid rescinding or denial action should have the right of appeal to the committee for reconsideration.

The Secretary should have the right to modify, change, alter, or rescind any safeguards prescribed or any Certificates of Privilege issued by the committee in order that the Secretary may retain all rights necessary to carry out the declared policy of the act. The Secretary should give prompt notice to the committee of any action taken by him in connection therewith and the committee should currently notify all persons affected by the indicated action.

The committee should maintain detailed records relevant to Certificates of Privilege and should submit, when requested to do so, reports thereon to the Secretary to supply pertinent information requisite for him to discharge his duties under the act and the amended order.

(c) The committee should be authorized to recommend, and the Secretary to establish, such minimum standards of quality and maturity and such grading and inspection requirements during any and all periods of marketing, when potato prices are above parity, as will be in the public interest. Some potatoes are of such defective quality that they do not give consumer satisfaction at any time because of the great waste and time involved in their preparation. The cost of such potatoes to the consumer per edible unit is frequently greater than the cost per edible unit of potatoes of better quality.

The shipment of immature potatoes causes an adverse consumer reaction to potatoes from the production area and tends to demoralize the market for later shipments of mature potatoes. There is a tendency for immature potatoes to deteriorate in transit and to develop undesirable cooking properties. Limitation of shipment of such potatoes would be in the interests of both consumers and of the potato industry in the production area. Continued shipments of low quality and immature potatoes may result in a permanent reduction in demand for potatoes grown in the production area. If minimum standards of quality and maturity are established, it is necessary that grading and inspection requirements be simultaneously established to permit effective administration of such minimum standards.

(d) Provision is made in the amended order for inspection by the Federal-State Inspection Service of shipments of potatoes grown in the production area. Inspection certificates issued by this service are a common and usual means of specifying the grade, size, and quality of potatoes and are generally used and recognized in the production area. Such certificates constitute prima facie evidence of the grade, size, and quality of the commodity to which they apply and they are accepted in court as such evidence. It is necessary to provide the handler, the committee, and any other interested party with a means of determining whether a shipment or shipments of potatoes complies with the requirements of any particular grade, size, and quality regulation which may be in effect under the amended order. Inspection certificates provide such a means. The Federal-State Inspection Service can provide reasonably prompt inspection at all points within the production area at a reasonable fee if inspection is requested at a reasonable time prior to the anticipated sale or transportation of the commodity to be inspected. Effective regulation of the handling of potatoes grown in the production area requires that the grade, size, and quality of each shipment thereof be authoritatively established. Accordingly, the amended order should provide, except as hereinafter indicated, that no handler shall ship potatoes unless, prior thereto, such shipment was inspected by the aforesaid Service.

Provision should be made in the amended order for authority to inspect potatoes not only by personnel of the Federal-State Inspection Service but also by personnel of such inspection service as the Secretary may designate so that sufficient flexibility for successful operation can be provided through appropriate inspection if, perchance, the Federal-State Inspection Service could not properly perform its duties. Federal-State inspection and certification is primarily an administrative device, essential and necessary for the administration of the amended order, to permit the committee, and other interested parties, to definitely ascertain the grade, size, and quality of the potatoes involved in such shipments.

No handler should handle any potatoes grown in the production area unless they are inspected, except for such minimum quantities, or special shipments, which may be relieved of such responsibility upon recommendation of the committee and approval of the Secretary. The responsibility for obtaining inspection falls primarily on the handler who first ships such potatoes after they have been prepared for market because each shipment of such potatoes must be identified and certified with respect to its grade and size in order to determine if it accords with grade, size, and quality regulations issued under the amended order. The handler who so first ships such potatoes is required to obtain inspection and subsequent handlers may not handle potatoes unless they have an applicable inspection certificate. Such handlers must bear responsibility for seeing that each of their shipments is inspected. Such requirement is necessary so that the committee can obtain evidence in the form of inspection certificates which it needs to carry out its appropriate functions in determining if specific shipments have been inspected and if they otherwise meet requirements of the amended order and regulations issued pursuant thereto.

Where the quantity of potatoes involved in small-lot shipments is relatively small, modification, suspension, or termination of the Federal-State inspection requirements with respect thereto should be effected, in appropriate circumstances, on the basis of and for the reasons hereinbefore indicated for so-called minimum quantity or "small shipments."

Whenever any given lot of potatoes subject to the terms and provisions of the amended order have been inspected and are thereafter dumped from the containers in which they were inspected, such potatoes lose their identity in so far as the original inspection certificate issued for them is concerned. If any such lot of potatoes is thereafter repacked, the repacked potatoes have a new identity and, as hereinbefore indicated, the subsequent handling thereof must comply with regulations issued under the amended order to effectuate the declared policy of the act because the effect upon the market of off-grade or under-size potatoes is the same whether such grades and sizes of potatoes are packed for the market at original shipping point or at some subsequent point of shipment. Therefore the amended order should also provide that no person should handle potatoes after they have been repacked, resorted, or regraded unless such potatoes have been inspected, which will permit all parties interested therein to determine whether such potatoes meet the requirements of regulations issued under the amended order.

Copies of inspection certificates issued pursuant to the requirements of the amended order should be supplied to the committee promptly, so that it may properly discharge its administrative responsibilities thereunder. All of the aforesaid requirements are necessary for proper administration and enforcement of the provisions of the amended order.

(e) The grade, size, and quality of individual potato crops vary from grower to grower, although there is a decided tendency for the great bulk of grower's potato crops to fall close to the average grade and size of potato crops in the production area. Variations in grade, size, and quality of a potato crop are not always controllable by the grower. However, the use of normal, approved cultural practices, good seed, and good soil usually result in a potato crop of grade, size, and quality within the standard deviation from average of the entire crop produced within the same immediate area and under similar conditions. Inso-much as regulations under the amended order of necessity seek an effect with average application, the incidence of regulation may fall differently upon different growers.

In order to provide equity among growers and shippers, insofar as the effects of any given regulation or set of regulations are concerned, it is necessary to permit under appropriate circumstances, some producers and handlers to ship some potatoes which are prohibited from shipment by such regulation or regulations. Such provision should be evidenced by certificates of exemption, for the convenience of all persons interested therein, and the certificates should be issued pursuant to rules and regulations adopted by the committee and approved by the Secretary, so that the rules and regulations will satisfy the requirements of practicality and equity. Such rules and regulations should provide the methods by which exemption certificates will be issued to producers and handlers who qualify therefor. Such rules and regulations should prescribe the procedures to be followed in applying for exemptions, and the procedures to be followed in issuing exemption certificates pursuant to the principles set forth for such exemptions in the amended order.

An essential prerequisite to the consideration of a producer exemption application is a determination by the committee of the average proportion of production which can be shipped by all producers in the immediate area of production of the applicant for the season, or a specific portion thereof, under regulations in effect for such period. The requirement for predicating the determination of the average on the "season or a specific portion thereof" is necessary because it would be inequitable, for example, to establish the same average to the total "early" potato crop and the total "late" or "storage" potato crop for the entire marketing season. Similarly, it would be inequitable to establish a "seasonal average" for all potatoes grown in the production area when regulation of the handling of such potatoes is effected differently for portions of such season and differently for different subdivisions of such area. Such determination provides a basis from which calculations may be made of the extent to which any producer's crop deviates from the average grade, size, and quality in his immediate area of production. The committee should also be required to determine the portion or portions of the production area which should constitute an "immediate area of production" to serve as a geographic basis for establishing an average or base line to which the quality, grade and size of the aforesaid applicant's crops may be compared. Such immediate area of production for exemption purposes may include the entire portion of the production area to which a regulation applies, a county or group of counties, etc., and production conditions within the area so determined should be similar and relatively uniform. The committee, therefore, should endeavor to establish immediate areas of production coinciding with portions of the production area having the same regulation for identical periods of time.

The committee should issue a certificate of exemption to a producer-applicant therefor when, due to conditions beyond his control or acts beyond reasonable expectation, he will be prevented, because of regulation, from shipping during the season, or a specified portion thereof, as large a portion of his potato crop, as the average of all producers in such applicant's immediate area of production under regulation in effect during such period.

Producers who want exemptions should apply to the committee therefor and furnish satisfactory evidence to substantiate representations contained in their applications. Applications are required to show all facts pertinent to their situation, including the aforesaid acts beyond their control and acts beyond their reasonable expectations in the normal conduct of their business. Acts beyond the control of the applicant fall within the category of acts of God, for example, damage from frost injury, or damage by hail during the growing season. Acts of God can not be controlled and, therefore, the producer suffering therefrom should be entitled to the equitable relief of exemption. Acts beyond the applicant's reasonable expectation in the normal conduct of his business fall in the category of production phenomena and storage factors that can not be reasonably anticipated and avoided. Certain grade and quality characteristics, or grade and quality changes, can be expected and avoided, even though they cannot always be controlled. For example, a grower may have a field, or a piece of land on which potatoes with a high percentage or scab are grown, which condition, in the judgment of the committee, might afford justification for an exemption for that season. However, if a grower continues to plant on land which historically produces potatoes of poor quality, or if the grower is advised by competent authorities that such land will probably produce poor quality potatoes in succeeding seasons, the committee should be authorized to refuse to grant exemptions to such grower for potatoes produced in subsequent seasons if the grower does not adopt reasonably adequate precautionary measures to eliminate the cause of such poor quality production. Continued use of poor quality seed can also be expected to produce poor quality potatoes.

Similar hazards are prevalent in the handling of potatoes grown and stored in the production area and equitable treatment of the handlers thereof, under the amended order, require each of such handlers be permitted to handle as large a proportion of his storage holdings of ungraded potatoes (acquired during or immediately following the digging season) as the average proportion of ungraded storage holdings handled by all handlers in his immediate shipping area, if the grade, size, or quality of such handler's potatoes have been adversely affected by conditions beyond his control or conditions beyond his reasonable expectation. The reasons for affording such equitable treatment to such handlers are similar to the reasons hereinbefore set forth for granting exemptions to producers, so that handler exemptions should be granted generally on the same basis as producer exemptions. However, a handler exemption should be predicated on his "immediate shipping area," which should be comparable to the "immediate production area" basis used in granting producer exemptions, because handlers in each area so determined will have largely grown or acquired potatoes produced under similar conditions, stored such potatoes in similar facilities, and will market such potatoes during the same general period. As such marketing period will be the same for the entire production area, it will be unnecessary to determine special averages of handlers for portions of such period. It is necessary to limit handler exemptions to ungraded holdings of storage potatoes because, if a handler acquires graded potatoes, he can limit such acquisition to those potatoes which can be handled under regulations issued under the amended order. Also, if storage holdings are acquired, for example, late in the marketing season, appropriate provision can be made to acquire only such potatoes as can be handled under such regulations.

The committee members and alternates, due to their experience, will be well acquainted with normal business risks that are incurred in growing and handling potatoes. Also, these men will know the common practices which are currently in use in the potato industry in their respective communities and the particular practices and considerations necessary to minimize or eliminate such risks. The committee should be well qualified, therefore, to give each exemption application a thorough comprehensive, and equitable consideration. Therefore, the committee is authorized to thoroughly investigate each application for exemption and to use its discretion and judgment in evaluating the merit thereof. Where exemption certificates are issued, such certificates should describe the potatoes which can be handled thereunder and evidence of such certificates should accompany such potatoes through all subsequent handling thereof.

If any applicant is dissatisfied with the action of the committee in handling his application for exemption, he should have the right of appeal to the committee for a reevaluation of his application. The committee should be empowered to ask the applicant for additional information for its consideration in connection with such appeal. The committee should reevaluate such application in conjunction with such additional information, make a final determination with respect thereto, notify the appellant thereof, and report thereon to the Secretary. Such appeal procedure is necessary to assure the equitable operation of the exemption provisions of the amended order.

The committee should be required, as a matter of proper administrative procedure and in order to provide the Secretary with information for accomplishing effectively the declared policy of the act, to maintain current records with respect to applications submitted for exemptions, exemptions issued and denied, the quantity of potatoes covered by exemption certificates, amount of potatoes shipped under such exemptions, exemption appeals, and related matters. The committee should be required to furnish the Secretary, upon request, with periodic reports showing pertinent facts compiled from such records.

(f) The operation of the committee and the amended order require funds for the payment of necessary administrative expenses. The committee is the logical agency to recommend what expenses are necessary and appropriate for such operation. It is also necessary that assessments be levied on the handlers to meet such expenses since no other source of funds is authorized under the act for defraying such expenses. The committee should be required to prepare and submit to the Secretary a budget, together with a report thereon, showing its estimated expenses and a proposed rate of assessment for each fiscal year. This is desirable in order that the Secretary will have the best possible information on probable expenses of the committee and the proper rate of assessment to be levied to meet such expenses.

Assessments should be levied against each handler who first ships potatoes which are ready for market (except where relieved therefrom pursuant to §§ 960.53 and 960.54), hereinafter called the "first handler," which will result in each handler paying his pro rata share of the necessary expenses of administering the amended order. Each such first handler is required to pay assessments to the committee, at its request, to conform with normal business procedures and to preclude multiple assessments in connection with individual shipments of potatoes as hereinbefore indicated. Each such first handler's pro rata share of such expenses shall be a percentage of such expenses equal to the percentage his total season's first handling of potatoes is of the total season's handling of potatoes by all such first handlers. The Secretary, upon the basis of the committee's recommendation, or other available information, should fix a rate of assessment per given unit of potatoes which first handlers must pay as an equitable and pro rata share of the expenses of administering the amended order.

The committee should be permitted to make such expenditures during a fiscal year as are authorized and necessary for effective administration and proper functioning of the amended order, within the limitations of the budget or amended budget recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary for such year.

At any time during or subsequent to a given fiscal year, the committee should be authorized to recommend the approval of an amended budget and the fixing of an increased assessment rate to balance necessary administrative expenses and revenue.

The Secretary should be authorized, upon the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, to increase the rate of assessment and approve amended budgets if he finds that the then current rate of assessment and budget are insufficient to cover expenses and permit proper administration of the amended order. Such increased rate should apply on a retroactive basis to all potatoes previously shipped by first handlers, during that season, except as hereinbefore indicated, to preclude inequities among handlers.

Revenues collected through assessments in excess of expenses for any fiscal year should, at the end of such fiscal year, be credited pro rata to each contributing handler's account, or, upon demand, refunded to any handler. Such requirement will balance expenses and assessments, and minimize unnecessary expenses which might result from refunding operations where handlers do not want such refunds.

The committee should be authorized to maintain, with the approval of the Secretary, suits in its own name, or in the name of its members, against any handler for collection of such handler's pro rata share of the committee's expenses. Such authority is contained in the act and is essential to prevent inequities. To provide funds to defray administrative expenses incurred prior to the actual receipt of assessments, the committee should be authorized to accept advance assessment payments from handlers.

Any committee member or alternate responsible for or having in his custody any of the property, funds, records, or any other possessions of the committee, should be required to transfer such possessions to his successor or to such person as may be designated by the Secretary, and to execute such instruments as may be necessary to effect such transfers. The committee, and such members and alternates, should be required to give an accounting for all committee receipts and disbursements and for all committee property whenever requested by the Secretary and whenever, in the case of members and alternates, they cease to be such members or alternates. These transfer and accounting requirements represent sound business procedure and are necessary in order that there will be an unbroken succession in committee possessions.

Therefore, the assessment provisions of the amended order should be as hereinafter set forth in order to provide necessary funds to defray the costs of administering the amended order, to distribute equitably the operating costs of the program among handlers, and to prevent possible abuses of the right to levy assessments.

(g) For proper and efficient administration of the amended order, the committee needs information on potatoes with respect to supplies, movement, prices, and sundry other relevant factors which are best obtainable from handlers. The committee should be authorized to request, with the approval of the Secretary, and every handler should be required to maintain records of such facts and furnish to the committee upon request, with the approval of the Secretary, such information therefrom as may be required for the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties under the amended order. The Secretary should retain the right to modify, change, alter, or rescind any requests by the committee for information in order to protect handlers from unreasonable requests for reports.

(h) The miscellaneous provisions of the amended order, hereinafter set forth in § 960.81 through § 960.95, are substantially the same as the provisions of § 960.9 through § 960.21 of the notice of the amendment hearing published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 4, 1950 (15 F. R. 1894).

Section 960.86 (b) provides that the committee which is in office at the time the amended order becomes effective, pursuant to appropriate procedures and conditions, shall continue in office until the end of the fiscal year established therein, and until their successors have been selected and qualified. It also provides that any and all regulations, and all procedural rules, such as rules for the issuance of exemption certificates, and the rate of assessment upon handlers, shall continue in effect until terminated in accordance with their present terms, or until modified, suspended, or terminated by the Secretary pursuant to the terms of the amended order. It is necessary and appropriate that this provision should be made a part of the amended order so that the present organization functioning under Order No. 60 and the program which they are administering should continue in operation without any hitch or disruption because of unnecessary technical difficulties in bridging the gap between such order and the amended order. This provision will allow transition of operation from the order to the amended order with the minimum amount of administrative difficulties.

Each of the provisions contained in § 960.81 through § 960.95, with the addition noted immediately above, sets forth certain rights, obligations, privileges, or procedures which are necessary and appropriate for the effective operation of the amended order. These provisions are incidental to, and not inconsistent with section 8c (6) and (7) of the act, and are necessary to effectuate the other provisions of the amended order and to effectuate the declared policy of the act. The substance of such provisions, therefore, should be included in the amended order.

General findings. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing, and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The amended order, as hereinafter set forth, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) Such amended order regulates the handling of potatoes grown in the production area in the same manner as, and is applicable only to, persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a proposed marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held;

(3) The said amended order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable, consistent with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act;

(4) The said amended order prescribes, so far as practicable, such different terms, applicable to different parts of the production area, as are necessary to give due recognition to the differences in the production and marketing of potatoes grown in the said area.

(5) All handling of potatoes, as defined in said amended order, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Interested parties were allowed until June 1, 1950, to file briefs with respect to findings of facts and conclusions based on evidence introduced at the hearing. No such brief was filed; hence, no ruling is necessary.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following amended order is recommended as the detailed means by which the aforesaid conclusions may be carried out.

DEFINITIONS

§ 960.1 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, or any other officer, or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, who is, or may hereafter be authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 960.2 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq., 61 Stat. 202, 707; 62 Stat. 1247; 63 Stat. 1051).

§ 960.3 Person. "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any organized group or business unit.

§ 960.4 Production area. "Production area" means all territory included within the boundaries of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, the counties of Clay, Emmet, Palo Alto, Pocahontas, Kossuth, Winnebago, Hancock, Wright, Hamilton, Worth, Cerro Gordo, and Mitchell, in the State of Iowa, and Warren, Benton, White, Carroll, Cass, Miami, Wabash, Huntington, Wells, Adams, and all counties lying north thereof, in the State of Indiana.

§ 960.5 Potatoes. "Potatoes" means all varieties of Irish potatoes grown within the production area.

§ 960.6 Handler. "Handler" is synonymous with shipper and means any person (except a common or contract carrier of potatoes owned by another person) who ships potatoes.

§ 960.7 Ship or handle. "Ship" or "handle" means to sell, transport, or in any other way to place potatoes in the current of commerce within the production area or between the production area and any point outside thereof.

§ 960.8 Producer. "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of potatoes for market.

§ 960.9 Fiscal year. "Fiscal year" means the period beginning on July 1 of each year and ending June 30 following.

§ 960.10 Committee and area committee. "Committee" means the administrative committee, called the North Central Potato Committee, established pursuant to § 960.22, and "area committee" means each of the subcommittees of the committee established pursuant to § 960.37.

§ 960.11 Varieties. "Varieties" means and includes all classifications or subdivisions of Irish potatoes according to those definitive characteristics now or hereafter recognized by the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 960.12 Seed potatoes. "Seed potatoes" or "seed" means and includes (a) all potatoes officially certified and tagged, marked, or otherwise appropriately identified, under the supervision of an official seed potato certifying agency of the State in which the potatoes are grown, or other agency recognized by the committee and approved by the Secretary, and (b) potatoes which, although uncertified as seed, are shipped as seed in accordance with the rules and regulations prescribed therefor pursuant to § 960.56.

§ 960.14 Pack. "Pack" means a unit of potatoes contained in a bag, crate, or other type of container and which falls within specific weight limits recommended by the administrative committee and approved by the Secretary.

§ 960.15 Grade and size. "Grade" means any one of the officially established grades of potatoes, and "size" means any one of the officially established sizes of potatoes, as defined and set forth in:

(a) United States Standards for Potatoes issued by the United States Department of Agriculture (14 F. R. 1955, 2161), or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, or variations based thereon;

(b) United States Consumer Standards for Potatoes issued by the United States Department of Agriculture (12 F. R. 7281), or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, or variations based thereon;

(c) Standards for potatoes issued by appropriate authorities of any State within the production area, or amendments thereto, or modifications thereof, or variations based thereon.

§ 960.17 District. "District" means each one of the geographical divisions of the production area initially established pursuant to § 960.25 and as reestablished pursuant to § 960.27.

§ 960.18 Area. "Area" means each of the geographical subdivisions of the production area initially established pursuant to § 960.26 and as reestablished pursuant to § 960.27.

§ 960.19 Washed potatoes. "Washed potatoes" means potatoes which have been cleaned by water and certified by the Federal-State Inspection Service as meeting the degree of cleanliness recommended by the committee and approved by the Secretary.

§ 960.20 Part and subpart. "Part" means the order regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the production area, and all rules, regulations, and supplementary orders issued thereunder, and the aforesaid order shall be a "subpart" of such "part."

COMMITTEE

§ 960.22 Establishment and membership. (a) The North Central Potato Committee consisting of eighteen members, of whom fourteen shall be producers and four shall be handlers, is hereby established. For each member of the committee there shall be an alternate who shall have the same qualifications as the member.

(b) Persons selected as committee members or alternates to represent producers shall be individuals who are producers in the respective district for which selected, or officers or employees of a corporate producer in such district, and such persons shall be residents of the respective district for which selected.

(c) Persons selected as committee members or alternates to represent handlers shall be individuals who are handlers in the respective State for which selected, or officers or employees of a corporate handler.

§ 960.23 Term of office. The term of office of committee members and alternates shall be for two fiscal years, and until their successors are selected and have qualified: Provided, however, That the terms of office of members and alternates shall be so determined that one-half of the total committee membership shall terminate at the end of each fiscal year. Committee members and alternates shall serve during the term of office for which they are selected and have qualified, or during that portion thereof beginning on the date on which they qualify during such term of office and continuing until the end thereof, and until their successors are selected and have qualified.

§ 960.25 Districts. (a) The following districts of the production area are hereby initially established:

North Dakota District No. 1. The counties of Rolette, Pierce, Wells, Kidder, Logan, McIntosh, and all counties lying east thereof in North Dakota;

North Dakota District No. 2. The remaining counties in North Dakota not included in North Dakota District No. 1;

Minnesota District No. 1. The counties of Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Pennington, Red Lake, Norman, Mahnomen, Clay, and Wilkin;

Minnesota District No. 2. The counties of Big Stone, Swift, Kandiyohi, Meeker, Wright, Hennepin, Ramsey, Washington, and all counties lying south thereof in Minnesota;

Minnesota District No. 3. The remaining counties in Minnesota not included in Minnesota District No. 1 and Minnesota District No. 2;

Wisconsin District No. 1. The counties of Trempealeau, Eau Claire, Chippewa, Rusk, Sawyer, Bayfield, and all counties lying west thereof in Wisconsin;

Wisconsin District No. 2. The counties of Clark, Marathon, Shawano, Oconto, and all counties lying north thereof in Wisconsin;

Wisconsin District No. 3. The remaining counties in Wisconsin not included in Wisconsin District No. 1, and Wisconsin District No. 2;

Michigan District No. 1. All the counties in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan;

Michigan District No. 2. The counties of Oceano, Newaygo, Mecosta, Isabella, Midland, Bay, and all counties lying north thereof in Michigan, but not including the Upper Peninsula;

Michigan District No. 3. The remaining counties in Michigan not included in Michigan District No. 1, and Michigan District No. 2;

Iowa District No. 1. The counties of Clay, Emmet, Palo Alto, Pocahontas, Kossuth, Winnebago, Hancock, Wright, Hamilton, Worth, Cerro Gordo, and Mitchell in Iowa; and Indiana District No. 1. The counties of Warren, Benton, White, Carroll, Cass, Miami, Wabash, Huntington, Wells, Adams, and all counties north thereof in Indiana.

§ 960.26 Areas. The following subdivisions of the production area are hereby initially established:

Area No. 1. North Dakota Districts No. 1 and No. 2;

Area No. 2. Minnesota Districts No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3, and Iowa District No. 1;

Area No. 3. Wisconsin Districts No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3;

Area No. 4. Michigan Districts No. 1, No. 2, and No. 3, and Indiana District No. 1.

§ 960.27 Reestablishment. (a) Upon the recommendation of the committee, the Secretary may reestablish districts or areas, or both, within the production area, and may reapportion committee membership among such districts or areas, or both.

(b) An area committee may recommend to the committee reestablishment of districts or the reapportionment of committee membership, or both, within the area represented by such area committee. Any two or more area committees may make similar recommendations to the committee regarding reestablishment of districts or areas of the production area, or both, or the reapportionment of committee membership among such districts or areas of the production area, or both: Provided, That in recommending any such changes in districts or areas, or both, or representation, such committees shall give consideration to: (1) The relative importance of new production; (2) changes in the relative position, with respect to production, of existing districts; (3) the geographic location of production as it would affect the efficiency of administering this program; and (4) other relevant factors.

§ 960.28 Nomination. The Secretary may select the members of the committee, with their respective alternates, from nominations which may be made in the following manner:

(a) The committee shall hold or cause to be held prior to May 1 of each fiscal year, after the effective date of this subpart, a meeting or meetings of producers in each district and a meeting or meetings of handlers in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota;

(b) In arranging for such meetings the committee may, if it deems desirable, utilize the services and facilities of existing organizations and agencies;

(c) At each such meeting at least two nominees shall be designated for each position as member and for each position as alternate member on the committee.

(d) Nominations for committee members and alternate members shall be supplied to the Secretary in such manner and form as he may prescribe, not later than 30 days prior to the end of each fiscal year;

(e) Only producers may participate in designating nominees for producer committee members and their alternates and only handlers may participate in designating nominees for handler committee members and their alternates. If a person is both a producer and a handler, at least 90 percent of the potatoes handled by such person must be of his own production in order to qualify as a producer member or alternate of the committee and for designating producer nominees for the committee; each person who is both a producer and a handler may vote either as a producer or a handler and may elect, subject to such 90 percent limitation, the group in which he votes; and toes, each such person is entitled to cast only one vote on behalf of himself, his agents, subsidiaries, affiliates, and representatives, in designating nominees for committee members and alternates: Provided, That in the event a person is engaged in producing potatoes in more than one district such person shall elect the district within which he may participate as aforesaid in designating nominees: Provided further, That an eligible voter's privileges of casting only one vote as aforesaid shall be construed to permit a voter to cast one vote for each position to be filled in the respective district in which he elects to vote.

§ 960.29 Failure to nominate. If nominations are not made within the time and in the manner specified in § 960.28, the Secretary may, without regard to nominations, select the committee members and alternates, which selection shall be on the basis of the representation provided for in § 906.24.

§ 960.30 Acceptance. Any person selected as a committee member or as an alternate shall qualify by filing a written acceptance with the Secretary within ten days after being notified of such selection.

§ 960.31 Vacancies. To fill committee vacancies, the Secretary may select committee members and alternates from unselected nominees on the current nominee list from the district involved, or from nominations made in the manner specified in § 960.28. If the names of nominees to fill any such vacancy are not made available to the Secretary within 30 days after such vacancy occurs, such vacancy may be filled without regard to nominations, which selection shall be made on the basis of the representation provided for in §-960.24.

§960.32 Alternate members. An alternate member of the committee shall act in the place and stead of the member for whom he is an alternate, during such member's absence. In the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of a member, his alternate shall act for him until a successor of such member is selected and has qualified.

§ 960.33 Procedure. (a) A majority of the members of the committee shall be necessary to constitute a quorum and a majority of concurring votes of the entire membership of such committee will be required to pass any motion or approve any committee action.

(b) The committee may provide for meeting by telephone, telegraph, or other means of communication and any vote cast at such a meeting shall be confirmed promptly in writing: Provided, That if any assembled meeting is held, all votes shall be cast in person.

§ 960.34 Expenses and compensation. Committee members and alternates shall serve as such members and alternates without compensation, but they shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their duties and in the exercise of their powers under this part.

§ 960.35 Powers. The committee shall have the following powers:

(a) To administer the provisions of this part in accordance with its terms;

(b) To make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this part;

(c) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violation of the provisions of this part; and

(d) To recommend to the Secretary amendments to this part.

§ 960.36 Duties. It shall be the duty of the committee:

(a) At the beginning of each fiscal year, to meet and organize, select a chairman and such other officers as may be necessary, to select subcommittees of committee members, and to adopt such rules and regulations for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable;

(b) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any producer or handler;

(c) To furnish to the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(d) To appoint such employees, agents, and representatives as it may deem necessary and to determine the salaries and define the duties of each such person;

(e) To investigate from time to time and to assemble data on the growing harvesting, shipping, and marketing conditions with respect to potatoes, and to engage in such research and service activities which relate to the handling or marketing of potatoes as may be approved by the Secretary;

(f) To keep minutes, books, and records which clearly reflect all of the acts and transactions of the committee and such minutes, books, and records shall be subject to examination at any time by the Secretary or his authorized agent or representative;

(g) To make available to producers and handlers the committee voting record on recommended regulations and on other matters of policy;

(h) At the beginning of each fiscal year to prepare a budget of its expenses for such fiscal year, together with a report thereon;

(i) To cause the books of the committee to be audited by a competent accountant at least once each fiscal year, and at such other time as the committee may deem necessary or as the Secretary may request. The report of such audit shall show the receipt and expenditure of funds collected pursuant to this part; a copy of each such report shall be furnished to the Secretary and a copy of each such report shall be made available at the principal office of the committee for inspection by producers and handlers; and

(j) To consult, cooperate, and exchange information with other potato marketing committees and other individuals or agencies in connection with all proper committee activities and objectives under this part.

§ 960.37 Area Committees. The producer members representing Area No. 1 on the committee and the handler representing North Dakota on the committee shall constitute the Area Committee for Area No. 1. Likewise, the producer members representing each of the other areas on the committee, together with the appropriate handler representative, shall constitute the area committees for such areas. Each Area Committee may, upon the selection and qualification of a majority of its members, organize and commence to function; and a majority of all members of the respective Area Committee shall be necessary to constitute a quorum of the respective committee. Each Area Committee shall select a chairman and a secretary. The alternate for each member of an Area Committee shall be the person who serves as alternate for such member on the committee. The alternate for a member of an Area Committee shall, in the event of the respective member's absence, act in the place of said member; and in the event of such member's removal, resignation, disqualification, or death, the alternate for said member shall, until a successor for the unexpired term of said member has been selected, act in the place of said member. Each Area Committee shall function in accordance with the provisions of this subpart, and each Area Committee shall submit to the committee such reports and recommendations as the Area Committee deems to be proper, pursuant to the provisions of this subpart, with respect to the administration of the provisions of this part, in the respective area for which such committee is organized. Except as herein otherwise specifically provided, the powers and duties of Area Committees, as subcommittees of the committee, shall be determined by the committee.

BUDGET, EXPENSES, AND ASSESSMENTS

§ 960.40 Budget. The committee shall prepare a budget for each fiscal year showing its anticipated expenses and a proposed rate of assessment to cover such expenses. The committee shall also transmit to the Secretary a report accompanying the budget showing the basis for its calculation of expenses and the proposed rate of assessment.

§ 960.41 Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary, upon the basis of the aforesaid budget or other available information, finds may be necessary during each fiscal year to perform its functions under this part and for such other purposes as may be appropriate pursuant to the provisions of this part.

§ 960.42 Rate of assessment. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by the levying on handlers of assessments which shall be at a rate recommended by the committee and, on the basis of such recommendation, or other available information, fixed by the Secretary. Each handler who first ships potatoes which are ready for market shall pay assessments, except where relieved therefrom pursuant to §§ 960.53 and 960.54, to the committee, upon demand, which assessments shall be such handler's pro rata share of the expenses which will be appropriately incurred by the committee during each fiscal year. Such handler's share of such expense shall be proportionate to the ratio between the total quantity of potatoes handled by him as the first handler thereof, during the applicable fiscal year, and the total quantity of potatoes handled by all handlers as the first handlers thereof, during the same fiscal year.

§ 960.43 Amended budgets and increased assessment rates. At any time during or subsequent to a given fiscal year, the committee may recommend the approval of an amended budget and the fixing of an increased rate of assessment. Upon the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, the Secretary may approve an amended budget and increase the rate of assessment to cover expenses which shall be incurred pursuant to an approved budget or amended budget. Such increase shall be applicable to all potatoes handled during such given fiscal year.

§ 960.45 Accounting. All funds received by the committee pursuant to any provision of this part shall be used solely for the purposes specified in this part and shall be accounted for in the following manner:

The Secretary may at any time require the committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements, and whenever any person ceases to be a committee member or alternate, he shall account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property and funds in his hands, together with all books and records in his possession, to his successor in office or to such person as the Secretary may designate, and shall execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such successor or in such designated person the right to all the property, funds, or claims vested in such member or alternate.

§ 960.46 Collection of funds. (a) The committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain in its own name or in the name of its members, a suit against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of the expenses of the committee.

(b) In order to provide funds to carry out the functions of the committee, handlers may make advance payment of assessments.

REGULATION

§ 960.50 Marketing policy. The Area Committee for each of the areas included in the production area and the committee, severally, shall, prior to or simultaneously with the making of any recommendation pursuant to § 960.51, submit to the Secretary a detailed report setting forth the marketing policy with respect to the shipment of potatoes which the respective committee deems advisable for the ensuing shipping season. Additional reports shall be submitted, from time to time, in the event that it is deemed advisable by the respective Area Committee or the committee to adopt a new marketing policy in view of changed demand and supply conditions with respect to potatoes. The committee shall publicly announce the submission of each such marketing policy report, and copies thereof shall be made available at the office of the respective Area Committee and the committee for inspection by any producer or handler. In determining each such marketing policy the respective Area Committee and the committee shall give due consideration to the following factors relating to potatoes produced in the area and in other States:

(a) Market prices of potatoes, including prices by grade, size, and quality in different packs, or any other shipping unit;

(b) Supply of potatoes, by grade, size, quality, in the production area, and in other production areas;

(c) Trend and level of consumer income; and

(d) Other relevant factors.

§ 960.51 Recommendation for regulations. The committee, pursuant to investigations and analysis of factors enumerated in § 960.50, shall recommend regulations to the Secretary whenever it finds that such regulation, as provided in § 960.52, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. The committee also may recommend modification, suspension, or termination of any regulation in order to facilitate shipments of potatoes for the specified purposes set forth in § 960.53.

§ 960.52 Issuance of regulations. The Secretary shall limit the shipment of potatoes whenever he finds from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that such regulation would tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Such limitation may:

(a) Regulate, in any or all portions of the production area, the shipment of particular grades, sizes, or qualities of any or all varieties of potatoes during any period; or

(b) Regulate the shipment of particular grades, sizes, or qualities of potatoes differently, for different varieties, for different portions of the production area, for different packs, for washed and unwashed potatoes, or any combination of the foregoing during any period; or

(c) Regulate the shipment of potatoes by establishing, in terms of grades, sizes, or both, minimum standards of quality and maturity.

§ 960.53 Modification, suspension or termination. Upon the basis of recommendations and information submitted by the committees, or other available information, the Secretary shall modify, suspend, or terminate regulations issued pursuant to §§ 960.42, 960.43, 960.52, 960.53, 960.65, or any combination thereof, in order to facilitate shipments of potatoes for the following purposes whenever he finds that it will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act:

(a) For grading or storage within the production area;

(b) For seed;

(c) For export;

(d) For distribution by the Federal government;

(e) For manufacture or conversion into specified products;

(f) For livestock feed; and

(g) For other purposes which may be specified.

§ 960.54 Minimum quantity regulation. The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may establish, for any or all portions of the production area, minimum quantities below which shipments will be free from regulations issued pursuant to §§ 960.42, 960.43, 960.52, 960.53, 960.65, or any combination thereof.

§ 960.55 Notification of regulation. The Secretary shall notify the committee of any regulations issued or of any modification, suspension, or termination thereof. The committee shall give reasonable notice thereof to handlers.

§ 960.56 Safeguards. (a) The committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe adequate safeguards to prevent shipments pursuant to §§ 960.53 and 960.54 from entering channels of trade for other than the specific purpose authorized therefor, and rules governing the issuance and the contents of Certificates of Privilege if such certificates are prescribed as safeguards by the committee. Such safeguards may include requirements that:

(1) Handlers shall file applications with the committee to ship potatoes pursuant to §§ 960.53 and 960.54;

(2) Handlers shall obtain inspection provided by § 960.65 or pay the pro rata share of expenses provided by § 960.42, or both, in connection with potato shipments effected under the provisions of § 960.53: Provided, That such inspection or payment of expenses may be required at different times than otherwise specified by the aforesaid sections; and

(3) Handlers shall obtain Certificates of Privilege from the committee for shipments of potatoes effected or to be effected under the provisions of §§ 960.53 and 960.54.

(b) The committee may rescind or deny Certificates of Privilege to any shipper if proof is obtained that potatoes shipped by him for the purposes stated in §§ 960.53 and 960.54, were handled contrary to the provisions of this subpart.

(c) The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, alter, or rescind any safeguards prescribed and any certificates issued by the committee pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(d) The committee shall make reports to the Secretary, as requested, showing the number of applications for such certificates, the quantity of potatoes covered by such applications, the number of such applications denied and certificates granted, the quantity of potatoes shipped under duly issued certificates, and such other information as may be requested.

INSPECTION

§ 960.65 Inspection and certification. During any period in which shipments of potatoes are regulated pursuant to the provisions of §§ 960.42, 960.43, or 960.52, 960.53, or any combination thereof, no handler shall ship potatoes unless each such shipment is inspected by an authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, or such other inspection service as the Secretary shall designate, except when relieved from such requirement pursuant to §§ 960.53 and 960.54. Each handler procuring such inspection shall make arrangements with the inspecting agency to forward promptly to the committee a copy of the inspection certificate: Provided, however, That no handler shall ship potatoes after such potatoes are regraded, resorted, repacked, or in any other way further prepared for market unless each shipment of such potatoes is inspected as provided in this section.

EXEMPTIONS

§ 960.70 Policy. (a) Any producer whose potatoes have been adversely affected by acts beyond his control or by acts beyond reasonable expectation and who, by reason of any regulation issued pursuant to § 960.52, is prevented from shipping during the season, or a specific portion thereof, as large a proportion of his potato crop as the average proportion shipped or to be shipped during comparable portions of the season by all producers in his immediate area of production, may apply to the committee for exemptions from such regulations for the purpose of obtaining equitable treatment under such regulations.

(b) Any handler who has storage holdings of ungraded potatoes acquired during or immediately following the digging season that have been adversely affected by acts beyond the handler's control or by acts beyond reasonable expectation and who, by reason of any regulation issued pursuant to § 960.52, is prevented from shipping as large a proportion of his storage holdings of ungraded potatoes as the average proportion of ungraded storage holdings shipped by all handlers in said handler's immediate shipping area, may apply to the committee for exemptions from such regulations for the purpose of obtaining equitable treatment under such regulations.

§ 960.71 Rules and procedures. The committee may adopt, with approval of the Secretary, the rules and procedures for handling exemptions. Such rules and procedures should provide for handling applications for exemptions, for issuing certificates of exemption, for committee determinations with respect to areas and averages (as required by § 960.70), and for such other procedures as may be necessary to accomplish policies with respect to exemptions.

§ 960.72 Applications and issuance. The committee shall issue certificates of exemption to any qualified applicant who furnishes adequate evidence to such committee:

(a) That the grade, size, or quality of the applicant's potatoes have been adversely affected by acts beyond the applicant's control and by acts beyond reasonable expectation;

(b) That by reason of regulations issued pursuant to § 960.52, in case of an applicant who is a producer, he will be prevented from shipping as large a proportion of his production as the average proportion of production shipped by all producers in said applicant's immediate area of production during the season, or a specific portion thereof;

(c) That by reason of regulations issued pursuant to § 960.52, in case of an applicant who is a handler who has storage holdings of ungraded potatoes acquired during or immediately following the digging season, he will be prevented from shipping as large a proportion of such storage holdings as the average proportion of similar storage holdings shipped by all handlers in said applicant's immediate shipping area during the season;

(d) Each certificate shall permit the recipient thereof to ship the potatoes described thereon, and evidence of such certificates shall be made available to subsequent handlers thereof.

§ 960.73 Investigation. The committee shall be permitted at any time to make a thorough investigation of any applicant's claim pertaining to exemptions.

§ 960.74 Appeals. If any applicant for exemption certificates is dissatisfied with the determination with respect to his application, said applicant may file an appeal with the committee. Such an appeal must be taken promptly after the determination from which the appeal is taken. Any applicant filing an appeal shall furnish evidence satisfactory to such committee for a determination on the appeal. The committee shall thereupon reconsider the application, examine all available evidence, and make a final determination concerning the application. The committee shall notify the appellant of the final determination, and shall furnish the Secretary with a copy of the appeal and a statement of considerations involved in making the final determination.

§ 960.75 Records. The committee shall maintain a record of all applications submitted for exemption certificates, a record of all exemption certificates issued and denied, the quantity of potatoes covered by such exemption certificates, a record of the amount of potatoes shipped under exemption certificates, a record of appeals for reconsideration of applications, and such information as may be requested by the Secretary. Periodic reports on such records shall be compiled and issued by the administrative committee upon request of the Secretary.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 960.80 Reports. Upon the request of the committee, with approval of the Secretary, every handler shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such time as may be prescribed, such information as will enable the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties under this subpart. The Secretary shall have the right to modify, change, or rescind any requests for reports pursuant to this section.

§ 960.81 Compliance. Except as provided in this subpart, no handler shall ship potatoes, the shipment of which has been prohibited by the Secretary in accordance with provisions of this subpart, and no handler shall ship potatoes except in conformity to the provisions of this subpart.

§ 960.82 Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the committee, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the said committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary.

§ 960.83 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways specified in this subpart.

§ 960.84 Termination. (a) The Secretary may, at any time, terminate the provisions of this subpart by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(b) The Secretary may terminate or suspend the operation of any or all of the provisions of this subpart whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(c) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this subpart at the end of any fiscal year whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of producers, who during the preceding fiscal year, have been engaged in the production for market of potatoes: Provided, That such majority has, during such year, produced for market more than fifty percent of the volume of such potatoes produced for market; but such termination shall be effective only if announced at least 30 days prior to the end of the then current fiscal year.

(d) The provisions of this subpart shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

(e) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this agreement at the end of any fiscal year, upon the written request of handlers signatory to this agreement who submit evidence satisfactory to the Secretary that they handled not less than sixty-seven percent of the total volume of potatoes handled by the signatory handlers during the preceding fiscal year; but such termination shall be effective only if announced at least 30 days prior to the end of the then current fiscal year.[1]

§ 960.85 Proceedings after termination. (a) Upon the termination of the provisions of this subpart, the then functioning members of the committee shall continue as trustees, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, of all the funds and property then in the possession of or under control of the committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Action by said trusteeship shall require the concurrence of a majority of the said trustees.

(b) The said trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together will all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and shall upon request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant to this subpart.

(c) Any person to whom funds, property or claims have been transferred or delivered by the committee or its members, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the members of the committee and upon the said trustees.

§ 960.86 Effect of termination or amendment. (a) Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this subpart or any regulation issued pursuant to this subpart or the issuance of any amendments to either thereof, shall not (1) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this subpart or any regulation issued under this subpart, or (2) release or extinguish any violation of this subpart or of any regulations issued under this subpart or (3) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

(b) The persons who are members and alternates of the committee established pursuant to Order No. 60, on the effective date of this subpart, shall continue in office under this subpart until the end of the then current fiscal year, and until their successors have been selected and have qualified; and all rules and regulations issued pursuant to Order No. 60, shall continue in effect until terminated in accordance with their present terms, or until modified, suspended, or terminated by the Secretary in accordance with the provisions of this subpart.

§ 960.87 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue of this subpart shall cease upon the termination of this subpart, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this subpart.

§ 960.88 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 960.89 Derogation. Nothing contained in this subpart is, or shall be construed to be in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or, in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 960.90 Personal liability. No member or alternate of the committee, nor any employee or agent thereof, shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any handler or to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.

§ 960.91 Separability. If any provision of this subpart is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstances, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this subpart, or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing, shall not be affected thereby.

§ 960.92 Amendments. Amendments to this subpart may be proposed, from time to time, by the committee or by the Secretary.

§ 960.93 Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts and when one counterpart is signed by the Secretary, all such counter parts shall constitute when taken together, one and the same instrument as if all signatures were contained in one original.[1]

§ 960.94 Additional parties. After the effective date of this agreement, any handler who has not previously executed this agreement may become a party to this agreement if a counterpart of this agreement is executed by him and delivered to the Secretary. This agreement shall take effect as to such new contracting party at the time such counterpart is delivered to the Secretary, and benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred by this agreement shall then be effective as to such new contracting party.[1]

§ 960.95 Order with marketing agreement. Each signatory handler favors and approves the issuance of an order, by the Secretary, regulating the handling of potatoes in the same manner as is provided for in this agreement; and each signatory handler hereby requests the Secretary to issue, pursuant to the act, such an order.[1]

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of August 1950.

HANDLING OF HOPS GROWN IN OREGON, CALIFORNIA, WASHINGTON, AND IDAHO, AND OF HOP PRODUCTS PRODUCED THEREFROM IN THESE STATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING WITH RESPECT TO SALABLE QUANTITY OF 1950 CROP HOPS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 237), approved June 11, 1946, that the administrative rule herein set forth is proposed in accordance with the provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 107 and Order No. 86 regulating the handling of hops grown in Oregon, California, Washington, and Idaho, and of hop products produced therefrom in these States.

Prior to the final issuance of such administrative rule, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and which are received not later than the close of business on the 10th day after the date of the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, except that, if said 10th day after publication should fall on a holiday or Sunday, such submission may be received by the Director not later than the close of business on the next following workday.

The Hop Control Board, established pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, has transmitted to the Secretary of Agriculture its estimates relating to production, foreign trade, and usage of hops, and has recommended by a vote of 10 to 7 that the salable quantity of 1950 crop hops be fixed at 49,000,000 pounds.

This material and other information available to the Secretary was considered and it is proposed to accept the board's estimates with the exception of its estimate of exports for the 1950–51 marketing season. The board's estimate of 11,800,000 pounds for export is approximately 1,000,000 pounds less than the quantity which will apparently be exported during the 12 months ending August 31, 1950. According to information furnished by the board approximately 10,700,000 pounds of 1950 crop hops were contracted for export by dealers as of July 1, 1950. There appears to be no sound basis for expecting exports to be less during the 1950–51 marketing season than during the preceding season. It is therefore proposed to raise the board's estimate of exports for the 1950–51 marketing season by 1,000,000 pounds and to increase the salable quantity to 50,000,000 pounds.

In arriving at the proposed salable quantity, hop requirements for the 12 months beginning September 1, 1950, are estimated as 77,000,000 pounds, comprised of usage for brewing 39,100,000 pounds, other usage 600,000 pounds, exports 12,800,000 pounds, and carryover as of September 1, 1951, 24,500,000 pounds. It is estimated that the September 1, 1950, carryover will be 23,000,000 pounds and imports during the 1950–51 season will be 4,000,000 pounds. This total of 27,000,000 pounds has been subtracted from the 77,000,000 pounds requirements above-mentioned in arriving at the proposed quantity of 50,000,000 pounds.

Therefore, such proposed administrative rule is as follows:

§ 986.202 Salable quantity of 1950 crop hops. The maximum quantity of hops produced during 1950 which may be handled in the form of hops and in the form of any hop product shall be 50,000,000 pounds (net dry weight).

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of August 1950.

Director,
Fruit and Vegetable Branch.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR, Part 63]

[Docket No. 9750]

EXTENSION OF LINES AND DISCONTINUANCE OF SERVICE BY CARRIERS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. It is proposed to amend Part 63 of the Commission's rules and regulations, as set forth below, effective immediately. One of the proposed amendments provides that service, temporarily expanded on an experimental basis, may be restored to its original status without obtaining authorization to discontinue, reduce, or impair service under Part 63, but provides for notice to the Commission in such cases. The second amendment propose to delete § 63.64 (a) (3) of the Commission's rules relating to reduction of hours at branch, agency, or jointly operated offices, in view of the facts that the reduction of hours of service at branch offices through informal procedures is adequately covered in § 63.68 of the rules and the provisions of § 63.64 (a) (3) are not being used for reduction of hours at agencies or jointly operated offices. The third amendment proposes to require information in applications to reduce hours to be shown with respect to the number of messages "filed" during the hours to be deleted rather than the number "sent" during such hours. This information will be more informative of actual public use.

3. The proposed amendments are issued under the authority of sections 4 (i), 214 and 218 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the manner set forth herein, may file with the Commission on or before September 15, 1950, a statement or brief setting forth his comments. At the same time persons favoring the amendments as proposed may file statements in support thereof. Before taking action in the matter, the Commission will consider all such comments that are presented, and, if any comments are submitted which appear to warrant the holding of a hearing or oral argument, notice of the time and place of such hearing or oral argument will be given.

5. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments filed with respect to this matter shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: August 2, 1950.

Released: August 3, 1950.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

1. Amend § 63.61 by changing the period at the end of the sentence to a colon and adding the following:

Provided, however, Where service is expanded on an experimental basis for a temporary period of not more than three months, no application shall be required to reduce service to its status prior to such expansion. In such cases, however, a written notice shall be filed with the Commission within 10 days of the reduction showing (a) date on which, places at which, and extent to which service was expanded and (b) date on which, places at which, and extent to which such expansion of service was discontinued.

2. Delete present § 63.64 (a) (3) and renumber present § 63.64 (a) (4) as 63.64 (a) (3).

3. Amend §§ 63.502 (n) (2) and 63.503 (o) (2) by changing the word "sent", appearing twice in each section, to read "filed".

Sec. 3, S½;
Sec. 4, S½.

The areas described aggregate 11,050.86 acres.

The lands are primarily suitable for grazing.

No applications for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land, or any other nonmineral public-land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m., on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a .m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land and Survey Office, Santa Fe, New Mexico, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Assistant Director.

PACIFIC FAR EAST LINE

NOTICE OF HEARING ON APPLICATION TO EXTEND BAREBOAT CHARTER AGREEMENT

Pursuant to section 3, Public Law 591, 81st Congress, notice is hereby given that an informal public hearing will be held in Room 4823, Commerce Building, Washington, D. C., on September 1, 1950, at 2 o'clock p. m., e. d. s. t., before Examiner A. L. Jordan, upon the application of Pacific Far East Line to extend its bareboat charter agreement with respect to Government-owned war-built dry-cargo refrigerated vessels.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to whether continuance of the service under which such vessels are now chartered is required in the public interest and such service will not be adequately served without such extension, and with respect to the availability of privately owned American-flag vessels on reasonable conditions and at reasonable rates for use in such service.

All persons having an interest in such application will be given an opportunity to be heard if present.

The parties may have oral argument before the examiner immediately following the closing of the hearing in lieu of briefs, and the examiner will issue a recommended decision. Parties may have 15 days within which to file exceptions to or memoranda in support of the examiner's recommended decision, but the Board reserves the right to determine whether oral argument on exceptions will be granted or whether briefs in connection therewith will be received.

Dated: August 11, 1950.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

MEMBER LINES OF THE TRANS PACIFIC FREIGHT CONFERENCE (HONG KONG) ET AL.

NOTICE OF AGREEMENTS FILED WITH THE BOARD FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreements have been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.

Agreement No. 14-11, between the member lines of the Trans Pacific Freight Conference (Hong Kong), modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 14-1) to include Formosa within its territorial scope and to clarify certain other provisions. Agreement 14-1 presently covers the trade from Hong Kong, Canton, Amoy, Foochow, Swatow, and all other ports in China south of and including Foochow, Indo-China, Siam, Java, and Ceylon to U. S. and Canadian Pacific Coast ports and Honolulu, Hawaii.

Agreement No. 85-5, between the member lines of the Trans-Pacific Freight Conference of North China (Shanghai), modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 85) to remove Formosa from its territorial scope and to clarify certain other provisions. Agreement 85 presently covers the trade from Shanghai, Yangtze River ports, ports in China north of Shanghai, and Formosa to U. S. and Canadian Pacific Coast ports and Honolulu and Hilo, Hawaii.

Agreement No. 7840-14, between the member lines of the Atlantic (Passenger) Conference, modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 7840) to provide that commission not to exceed the General Agents' scale of commission may be paid on a reciprocal basis to steamship lines which are initiating carriers in connection with through transportation originating outside the United States and Canada on the portion of the through transportation provided by the member line concerned.

Interested parties may inspect these agreements and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice, written statements with reference to any of the agreements and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

Dated: August 11, 1950.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1427]

NORTH CENTRAL GAS CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

AUGUST 10, 1950.

On June 27, 1950, North Central Gas Company (Applicant), a Wyoming corporation having its principal office in Casper, Wyoming, filed an application, supplemented on July 19 and 28, 1950, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, as are fully described in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant has requested that this application be heard under the shortened procedure provided for by § 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure; no request to be heard or protest has been filed subsequent to giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 13, 1950 (15 F. R. 4457-58).

The Commission finds this proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of §§ 1.32 (a) and 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held on August 25, 1950, at 9:30 a. m., e. d s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by such application and supplements: Provided, however, That the commission may, after a noncontested hearing, forthwith dispose of the proceeding pursuant to the provisions of § 1.32 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(B) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: August 11, 1950.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812-678]

AMERICAN RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of August, A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that American Research and Development Corporation (Research), a registered closed-end management investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 17 (b) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 for an order exempting it from the provisions of section 17 (a) (1) of said act to the extent that it may be permitted to sell not in excess of 5,385 shares of its common stock to Massachusetts Investors Trust (MIT), a registered open-end management investment company, at a price of $25 per share.

The application discloses that Research and MIT are affiliated persons of each other and that the shares Research proposes to sell to MIT are part of an issue registered under the Securities Act of 1933 which is the subject of a public offering and that such offering is not confined to a general offering to the holders of a class of the stock of Research. By reason of such facts Research is prohibited from selling the stock to MIT under the provisions of section 17 (a) (1) of the act unless the Commission issues an order granting the application pursuant to section 17 (b).

Research was organized in 1946. Its principal business consists of investigation and research with respect to new or existing enterprises, processes and products, advancing capital to or purchasing securities of companies engaged in the conduct or development of new or existing enterprises, processes and products. Research has but one class of capital stock and is currently engaged in making a public offering of the unsold portion of a block of 166,500 shares of its stock registered under the Securities Act of 1933 at a public offering price of $25 per share. In the last few months Research has sold 3,215 shares of its stock at the public offering price. All such sales were made by brokers who received commissions aggregating $4,018.75.

The stock of Research is not listed on an exchange and the application indicates that the over-the-counter market in the stock is not very active. Quotations for the stock in the period from June 1 to July 17, 1950, show a range of 23-24½ on Bid and a range of 23¾-24¾ on Asked, the quotations on July 17 were Bid 23¼-23¾ and Asked 24¼-24½. Research is informed that an institutional investor sought to purchase 2,000 shares of Research at a price of 24⅞ net after brokerage through a Boston broker. This bid was maintained from June 28 to July 7, 1950, and the investor was able to purchase a total of 200 shares at approximately $24 per share. Subsequently, this investor purchased the balance of its requirements from Research.

The net asset value per share of the capital stock of Research was $24.98 as of March 31, 1950, and $24.13 as of June 30, 1950. The foregoing net asset values per share are based upon the valuation of the assets of Research as determined by its board of directors pursuant to section 2 (a) (39) of the act.

Research states that the terms of the proposed sale described above, including the consideration to be paid and received, are fair and reasonable and do not involve overreaching on the part of any person concerned. The sale and purchase are consistent with the policies of Research and MIT as recited in their respective registration statements and reports filed under the act and with the general purposes of the act.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., for a more detailed statement of the matters of fact and law therein asserted.

Notice is further given that an order granting the application may be issued by the Commission at any time on or after August 21, 1950, unless prior thereto a hearing on the application is ordered by the Commission as provided in Rule N-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act. Any interested person may not later than August 18, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., submit to the Commission in writing his views or any additional facts bearing upon this application or the desirability of a hearing thereon or request in writing that the Commission order a hearing on the application. Any such communication or request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., and should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person submitting such information or requesting a hearing, the reason for such request and the issues of fact or law raised by the application which he desires to controvert.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

UNITED CORP.

ORDER REGARDING OPTION WARRANTS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 10th day of August A. D. 1950.

The United Corporation ("United"), a registered holding company, having filed an amended application for approval of an amended plan under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and

Gordon L. Becker, Harold C. Bladel, and Charles Tatham, Jr., as a general protective committee for holders of option warrants of United, having filed a declaration pursuant to Rule U-62 in connection with the aforesaid amended plan, and said declaration having become effective on August 10, 1950; and

Said committee having further filed a petition requesting the Commission to direct United, at the request of the committee and upon delivery to it of envelopes for that purpose, to cause such envelopes to be addressed to all holders of record of said option warrants as of the most recent convenient date, and to stuff and mail or return such envelopes to the committee so addressed; and

The Commission having considered said request and deeming it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors to grant said request:

It is ordered, Pursuant to the provisions of sections 15 (g) and 20 (a) of the act that, upon payment by the committee of the actual cost thereof to United, United shall with all reasonable dispatch upon delivery to it of envelopes for that purpose, cause such envelopes to be addressed to all holders of record of option warrants as of the most recent convenient date, and to stuff and mail or return such envelopes to the committee so addressed.

By the Commission.

PART 606—CORN

SUBPART—1948 CORN EXTENDED RESEAL LOAN PROGRAM

COMMINGLING OF CORN IN STORAGE

The regulations issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the Production and Marketing Administration, published in 15 F. R. 3411, governing the extension of reseal loans on 1948-crop corn in farm storage are amended with the addition of a new section as follows:

§ 606.80 Commingling of corn in storage. With prior approval of the county committee, 1948-crop shelled corn, containing not more than 13.5 percent moisture, under 1948-crop extended reseal loan may be commingled in storage with 1949-crop shelled corn, containing not more than 13.5 percent moisture, under 1949-crop reseal loan.

The producer may redeem all of the commingled corn by paying the holder of the note the principal amount of both loans plus interest and any storage payments advanced, or he may redeem a portion of the corn by indicating which loan he desires to repay and paying the holder of the note the loan rate plus interest and any storage payments advanced with respect to such loan on the quantity of corn redeemed.

Delivery of commingled corn will be prorated between the loans on a percentage basis determined by dividing the number of bushels resealed under each loan, minus any redeemed bushels, by the total number of bushels of commingled corn remaining under loan.

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[Docket 4933]

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

AUTOMATIC CANTEEN CO. OF AMERICA

Subpart—Dealing on exclusive and tying basis: § 3.670 Dealing on exclusive and tying basis. Subpart—Discriminating in price under section 2, Clayton Act as amended; knowingly inducing or receiving discriminating price under 2 (f); § 3.850 Inducing and receiving discriminations. I. In connection with the leasing, licensing, operation, or sale of any automatic vending machine or parts thereof, or in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of candy, gum, nuts, or any other confectionery product purchased for resale by or through the use of automatic vending machines, in commerce, entering into, enforcing, continuing in operation or effect, or carrying out any contract, agreement, or understanding for the lease or sale of automatic vending machines or parts therefor, or for the sale of candy, gum, nuts, or other confectionery products for use or resale in such machines on the condition, agreement, or understanding that any lessee, licensee, operator, or purchaser thereof, (1) shall not acquire, manufacture, own, hold, locate, use, operate, lease, or otherwise deal with any automatic vending machine which is not licensed, leased, purchased, or otherwise acquired from respondent or from some source authorized by it; (2) shall not offer to sell, sell, or cause or permit to be sold any candy, gum, nuts, or other confectionery products purchased from respondent other than by means of automatic vending machines leased or purchased from it; (3) shall not buy for resale, deal with, use, or permit to be used, in automatic vending machines leased or purchased from respondent, the confectionery products of any seller or supplier other than respondent; and (4) shall order and purchase exclusively from respondent all confectionery products offered for resale by means of automatic vending machines leased or purchased from respondent; prohibited, subject to the provision, however, that nothing contained in the foregoing prohibitions numbered 1 through 4 shall be construed as prohibiting respondent from entering into any contract, agreement, or understanding with any lessee, licensee, purchaser, or distributor of its automatic vending machines which provides for payment to the respondent of such compensation as it may desire for the use of its automatic vending machines, for services rendered, for protection of quality and salability of products sold through its said vending machines, or provides for protection of respondent's franchise territories and distribution, of its good will and trade name, of its rental and additional income, of the development and retention of its business in its distributors' territory, and of the public, when none of such provisions are in conflict with the prohibitions set forth herein; and, II, in connection with the offering to purchase or purchase of any candy, gum, nuts, or other confectionery products of any nature in commerce, knowingly inducing or knowingly receiving or accepting any discrimination in the price of such products, by directly or indirectly inducing, receiving, or accepting a net price from any seller known by respondent or its representatives to be below the net price at which said products of like grade and quality are being sold by such seller to other customers, where the seller is competing with any other seller for respondent's business, or where respondent is competing with other customers of the seller; prohibited, subject to the provision, however, that the foregoing shall not be construed to preclude the respondent from defending any alleged violation of the order by showing that a lower net price received or accepted from any seller makes only due allowances for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are by such seller sold or delivered to respondent.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Automatic Canteen Company of America, Docket 4933, June 6, 1950]

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of respondent, testimony and other evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of said complaint taken before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, a stipulation entered into between counsel in support of the complaint and the respondent and its counsel, and approved and accepted by the Commission, and recommended decision of the trial examiner and exceptions thereto (no briefs having been filed and oral argument not having been requested according to the terms of the stipulation); and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that respondent has violated the provisions of section 3 of an act of Congress entitled, "An act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes," approved October 15, 1914 (the Clayton Act), and subsection (f) of section 2 of said act, as amended by an act of Congress approved June 19, 1936 (the Robinson-Patman Act):

I. It is ordered, That the respondent, Automatic Canteen Company of America, a corporation, its officers, agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the leasing, licensing, operation, or sale of any automatic vending machine or parts thereof, or in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of candy, gum, nuts, or any other confectionery product purchased for resale by or through the use of automatic vending machines, in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Entering into, enforcing, continuing in operation or effect, or carrying out any contract, agreement, or understanding for the lease or sale of automatic vending machines or parts therefor, or for the sale of candy, gum, nuts, or other confectionery products for use or resale in such machines on the condition, agreement, or understanding that any lessee, licensee, operator, or purchaser thereof

1. Shall not acquire, manufacture, own, hold, locate, use, operate, lease, or otherwise deal with any automatic vending machine which is not licensed, leased, purchased, or otherwise acquired from respondent or from some source authorized by it.

2. Shall not offer to sell, sell, or cause or permit to be sold any candy, gum, nuts, or other confectionery products purchased from respondent other than by means of automatic vending machines leased or purchased from it.

3. Shall not buy for resale, deal with, use, or permit to be used, in automatic vending machines leased or purchased from respondent, the confectionery products of any seller or supplier other than respondent.

4. Shall order and purchase exclusively from respondent all confectionery products offered for resale by means of automatic vending machines leased or purchased from respondent.

Provided however, That nothing contained in the preceding paragraphs numbered 1 through 4 shall be construed as prohibiting respondent from entering into any contract, agreement, or understanding with any lessee, licensee, purchaser, or distributor of its automatic vending machines which provides for payment to the respondent of such compensation as it may desire for the use of its automatic vending machines, for services rendered, for protection of quality and salability of products sold through its said vending machines, or provides for protection of respondent's franchise territories and distribution, of its good will and trade name, of its rental and additional income, of the development and retention of its business in its distributors' territory, and of the public, when none of such provisions are in conflict with the prohibitions set forth herein.

II. It is further ordered, That respondent, Automatic Canteen Company of America, a corporation, its officers, agents, representatives, and employees, in connection with the offering to purchase or purchase of any candy, gum, nuts, or other confectionary products of any nature in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Clayton Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

A. Knowingly inducing or knowingly receiving or accepting any discrimination in the price of such products, by directly or indirectly inducing, receiving, or accepting a net price from any seller known by respondent or its representatives to be below the net price at which said products of like grade and quality are being sold by such seller to other customers, where the seller is competing with any other seller for respondent's business, or where respondent is competing with other customers of the seller: Provided however, That the foregoing shall not be construed to preclude the respondent from defending any alleged violation of this order by showing that a lower net price received or accepted from any seller makes only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are by such seller sold or delivered to respondent.

For the purpose of determining "net price" under the terms of this order, there shall be taken into account discounts, rebates, allowances, deductions, or other terms and conditions of sale by which net prices are affected.

III. It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

Issued: June 6, 1950.

By the Commission.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 231—INTERPRETATIVE RELEASES RELATING TO SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 AND GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER

PART 271—INTERPRETATIVE RELEASES RELATING TO THE INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940 AND GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER

ADVERTISING AND SUPPLEMENTAL SALES LITERATURE USED IN SALE OF INVESTMENT COMPANY SHARES

§ 231.3385 Statement of policy of the Commission relating to advertising and supplemental sales literature used in the sale of investment company shares. The Securities and Exchange Commission with the assistance of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., has reviewed samples of advertising and supplemental sales literature used in the sale of investment company shares, much of which was not filed with this Commission. This review has revealed the existence of many practices in connection with the use, form and content of certain advertising and sales literature which, in the opinion of the Commission, may violate the Securities Act of 1933 and the Investment Company Act of 1940. The Commission, therefore, deems it necessary and appropriate to set forth a statement of policy so that issuers, underwriters and dealers may understand certain of the types of advertising and sales literature which the Commission considers may be violative of the statutory standards. It should be emphasized that the following statement of policy does not attempt to cover all possible abuses, and that literature which complies with this Statement may not be used if it is in fact misleading. Conversely, nothing in this statement of policy is intended to prevent the use of factual statements, fairly presented, concerning fundamental investment policies and objectives, investment restrictions or other characteristics of a particular investment company.

"Sales literature" as used hereafter shall be deemed to include any communciation (whether in writing, by radio or by television) used by an issuer, underwriter, or dealer to induce the purchase of shares of an investment company. Reports of issuers to the extent they are transmitted to shareholders and do not contain an express offer are not deemed to be "sales literature" within the meaning of this definition but shall conform to this statement of policy. Communications between issuers, underwriters and dealers are included in this definition of "sales literature" only if such communications are passed on either orally or in writing or are shown to prospective investors or are designed to be employed in either written or oral form in the sale of securities.

For the purpose of interpreting this statement of policy a piece of sales literature shall be deemed materially misleading by reason of an implication, as contemplated herein, if such sales literature includes (1) an untrue statement of a material fact or (2) omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make a statement made, in the light of the circumstances of its use, not misleading.

It will be considered materially misleading hereafter for sales literature:

(a) Return. To represent or imply a percentage return on investment in the shares of investment companies, except in accordance with the following principles:

Rates of return shall be expressed only as a ratio of dividends paid from net investment income and net accrued undivided earnings included in the price of capital shares issued and repurchased, in each case as required to be shown in the issuer's prospectus (for one or more immediately preceding full fiscal years separately stated) to both (1) a stated price determined by computing an average of offering prices, taken at monthly intervals, for the same period or periods, and (2) a stated and dated offering price, current at the date of publication, and shall be accompanied by a statement to the effect that such return is based upon dividends paid in the period covered and is not a representation of future results. Either in the same text, or by reference in the same text to an historical table elsewhere in the same piece of literature, there must be shown the per-share asset value at the beginning and end of the period, or the increase or decrease (stated in percentage) in asset value.

(b) Distributions. (1) To combine into any one amount distributions from net investment income and distributions from any other source.

(c) Safety of capital. To represent or imply an assurance that an investor's capital will increase or that purchase of investment company shares involves a preservation of original capital and a protection against loss in value. To discuss accumulation of capital, preservation of capital, accumulation of an estate, protection against loss of purchasing power, diversification of investments, financial independence or profit possibilities without pointing out or explaining the market risks inherently involved in the investment.

(d) Government regulation. To make any reference to registration or regulation of any investment company under Federal or state authority without explaining that this does not involve supervision of management or investment practices or policies.

(e) Protection of investors. To represent or imply that services of banking institutions as custodian of securities, transfer agent, or dividend disbursing agent, provide protection for investors against possible depreciation of assets or that such institutions maintain any supervisory function over management in such matters as purchase and sale of portfolio securities or payment of dividends or provide any trusteeship protection, or to fail to state the extent of the limited role of the custodian whenever the advantages of custodial services are discussed.

(f) Redemption. To state or discuss the redemption features of investment company shares without explaining in such statement that the value of the shares on redemption may be more or less than the investor's cost, depending upon the market value of the portfolio securities at the time of redemption.

(g) Comparisons generally. (1) To represent or imply that shares of an investment company are similar to or as safe as government bonds, insurance annuities, savings accounts or life insurance, or have the fixed income, principal, or any other features of a debt security.

(2) To represent or imply that the management of an investment company is under the same type of investment restrictions or is operated under limitations similar to or has fiduciary obligations such as those imposed by governmental authorities on savings banks and insurance companies, except to the extent that it is so restricted or limited by its statement of policy on file with this Commission.

(h) Comparisons with market index on other security. To use any comparison of an investment company security with any other security or medium of investment or any security index or average without pointing out:

(1) That the particular security or index or average and period were selected; and

(2) That the results disclosed should be considered in the light of the company's investment policy and objectives, the characteristics and quality of the company's investments, and the period selected; and

(3) Any factor necessary to make the comparison fair.

(i) Source. To represent or imply that investment companies in general are direct sources of new capital to industry or that a particular investment company is such a source unless the extent to which such investments are made is disclosed.

(j) Performance charts. To use any chart designed to depict the record of an investment company over a specific period of time which is contrary to the principles set forth in the Commission's announcement of April 2, 1948 in Investment Company Act Release No. 1160 and Securities Act Release No. 3281, as modified by a letter dated October 25, 1948 from the N. A. S. D. to the S. E. C. and a letter dated November 4, 1948 from the S. E. C. to the N. A. S. D.

(k) Management claims. To make any extravagant claims regarding management ability or competency.

(l) Co-operatives. To represent or imply that investment companies are operated as, or are similar to, "co-operatives".

(m) Selection by fiduciaries. To represent or imply that investment company shares generally have been selected by fiduciaries.

(n) Continuous investment programs. (1) To use the phrase "dollar averaging" or "averaging the dollar" (although the phrases "dollar cost averaging" or "cost averaging" are not objectionable) in referring to any plan of continuous investment in the shares of an investment company at stated intervals regardless of the price level of the shares;

(2) To discuss such a plan of continuous investment in the shares of investment companies, without making clear:

(i) That the investor will incur a loss under such a plan if he discontinues the plan when the market value of his accumulated shares is less than his cost; and

(ii) That the investor is investing his funds primarily in securities subject to market fluctuations and that the method involves continuous investment in such shares at regular intervals regardless of price levels; and

(iii) That the investor must take into account his financial ability to continue such a plan through periods of low price levels; and

(iv) That such plans do not and cannot protect against loss in value in declining markets.

(3) To use any table depicting the operation of a plan of continuous investment unless such table is based on the actual offering prices of the shares of the investment company and includes the total cost and liquidating value of the investment at the end of each year or any shorter period shown in the table.

(o) Sales charges. To fail to include in any sales literature which does not state the amount or rate of the sales charge (excepting letters to shareholders, and business letters to persons which have been preceded or accompanied by an effective prospectus, and communications between issuers, underwriters and dealers which deal only with routine business matters and which do not purport to describe the characteristics of an investment company) the following statement in a separate paragraph in type as large as that used generally in the body of the piece: "There is a sales charge to the investor included in the offering price of the shares of this company (or name of company). For details thereof and other material information, see the prospectus."

(p) Switching from securities of one investment company to another. To fail to include in any sales literature which is designed to encourage investors to switch from one investment company to another, or from one class of security of an investment company to another class, the substance of the following statement in a separate paragraph in type as large as that used generally in the body of the piece: "Switching from the securities of one investment company to another, or from one class of security of an investment company to another, involves a sales charge on each such transaction, for details of which see the prospectus. The prospective purchaser should measure these costs against the claimed advantage of the switch".

(q) Industry performance against company performance. To represent or imply that the performance of any particular company may be measured by or compared with or related to the performance of a particular industry unless the extent and scope of the portfolio of the particular company is such that its performance will generally approximate that of the industry.

(r) Reprints. To employ material in whole or in part from published articles or documents descriptive of or relating to investment companies unless such material, or the literature including such material, complies with this statement of policy and in addition such material is not taken out of context in a manner which alters its intended meaning.

NOTE: The text of § 271.1503 is identical with that appearing in § 231.3385.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 25—DRESSINGS FOR FOODS

MAYONNAISE, FRENCH DRESSING, AND SALAD DRESSING; DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

Correction

In Federal Register Document 50-7049 appearing in the issue for Saturday, August 12, 1950, at page 5227, the thirteenth line of item 15 under Findings of fact, should read as follows: "these as optional egg-yolk-containing".

PART 141—TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY FOR ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

PART 146—CERTIFICATION OF BATCHES OF ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended by 59 Stat. 463, 61 Stat. 11, 63 Stat. 409; 21 U. S. C. and Sup., 357) the regulations for tests and methods of assay for antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 141.1 et seq., and 1949 Supp.; 15 F. R. 1073) and certification of batches of antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 146.1 et seq., and 1949 Supp.; 15 F. R. 584, 1073, 1690, 4976) are amended as indicated below:

1. In § 141.5 Sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, potassium penicillin:

a. The headnote of § 141.5 (d) is amended to read as follows: (d) Heat stability.

b. In § 141.5 (d), following the headnote, the paragraph beginning "Store a weighed sample * * *" is numbered subparagraph (1), and captioned: (1) Crystalline penicillin, crystalline penicillin G.

c. Section 141.5 (d) is further amended by adding a new subparagraph reading as follows:

(2) Crystalline penicillin O. Store a weighed sample (approximately 30 mg.) of crystalline penicillin O in an unstoppered 50-ml. Erlenmeyer flask for 4 days in an electric oven at 100° C.,±1°. At the end of this period it does not show a loss of more than 10% of its original potency when determined by the method described in § 141.1.

d. Section 141.5 is further amended by adding the following new paragraphs:

(g) Penicillin G content of crystalline penicillin O—(1) Reagents. (i) Concentrated sulfuric acid (sp. gr. 1.84).

(ii) Fuming nitric acid (sp. gr. 1.5).

(iii) Ammonium hydroxide (sp. gr. 0.90).

(iv) Solution of hydroxylamine hydrochloride. (Prepare by dissolving 15 gm. of reagent grade hydroxylamine hydrochloride in sufficient water to make 100 ml. of solution. Prepare a fresh solution once a week.)

(2) Procedure. Accurately weigh 75–85 mg. of penicillin O into a 50-ml. Erlenmeyer flask and add 2.0 ml. of concentrated sulfuric acid. When the sample is completely dissolved, add 0.4 ml. of fuming nitric acid and quickly swirl the flask to mix the contents thoroughly. Heat the flask on a steam bath for 40 minutes; cool for several minutes in an ice bath and add 10.0 ml. of cold water rapidly. When the solution has reached room temperature, pipette 5.0-ml. aliquots into each of two 50-ml. Erlenmeyer flasks. To one of the flasks add 2.0 ml. water (the blank). To the other flask add 2.0 ml. of the hydroxylamine hydrochloride solution. Cool both flasks in an ice bath, and while still in the ice bath make alkaline by adding 5.0 ml. of ammonium hydroxide, dropwise from a burette. Allow to stand for 45 minutes at room temperature and obtain a density reading of the color in a suitable photoelectric colorimeter, using a 550 $m\mu$ filter and a 1-cm. cell. Use the blank determination to set the instrument at the zero point. Determine the percent penicillin G from a standard curve prepared as follows: Add known increments of the penicillin G working standard (0.1 mg. to 1.5 mg.) to 75.0-mg. portions of the penicillin O working standard (obtained from the Food and Drug Administration). Determine the density readings by the method described above, except that in lieu of the water blank use the color developed with a 75.0-mg. portion of the penicillin O working standard to set the instrument at the zero point. This automatically corrects for any penicillin G present in the penicillin O working standard. Plot the density readings obtained against the penicillin G concentrations and use as the standard curve.

(h) Penicillin O content. Determine by means of a suitable infrared spectrometer, using the following procedure: Grind the sample to a uniform powder using a mortar and pestle. Weigh by difference, 100–150 mg. of liquid petrolatum into an agate mortar. Divide the actual weight of the liquid petrolatum by three, and add exactly this amount of the powdered penicillin O to the liquid petrolatum in the mortar. Mix with a small spatula and then mull thoroughly with the pestle until a uniform consistency is obtained. Use two circular rock-salt plates, each 2 inches in diameter as the absorption cell. Place a small drop of the mull in the center of one of the rock-salt plates. Place a brass spacer, 0.0036 inch thick, on the plate. (This spacer is cut in the shape of a circular gasket with a 1-inch center hole and a slit to permit the escape of air when the two plates are pressed together.) Put on the top salt plate gently and slowly squeeze together to spread the mull uniformly. Clamp the two plates firmly together in a metal cell holder. (The cell holder consists of two metal plates, one containing a rectangular center slit ¼ inch wide x ⅝ inch long, the other with a center hole 1 inch in diameter. The two plates are clamped together by means of threaded studs and nuts.) Examine the assembled cell by holding it up to the light. It should appear smooth, free of any air bubbles, and not in contact with the spacer. Adjust the amplification of the spectrometer to full-scale deflection for one microvolt, set the slit opening to about 0.300 and run the spectrum from 9.4 to 10.7 microns, using an automatic slit-control mechanism and taking a zero reading (shutter closed) at the beginning and at the end of the run. Draw a base line between two points, one on each side of the analytical band (10.1 microns) and calculate the base-line optical density, using the following formula:

$$D_B = \log 10 \frac{I_B}{I_p}$$

where:

D_B = base-line optical density.
I_p = distance from the zero line to the maximum absorption of the band.
I_B = distance from the zero line to the base line, measured at the same wave length as I_p.

Using known mixtures of penicillin G working standard and penicillin O working standard, prepare a standard curve by plotting the base-line optical densities obtained against the percent penicillin O. Obtain the percent penicillin O in the sample under test from this standard curve.

2. Section 141.107 Streptomycin ointment is amended as follows:

a. The headnote is changed to read: § 141.107 Streptomycin ointment, dihydrostreptomycin ointment.

b. Section 141.107, paragraph (a) Potency is amended by numbering the paragraph beginning with the sentence "Proceed as directed * * *" as subparagraph (1), captioned as follows: (1) Streptomycin content.

c. Section 141.107 (a) is further amended by adding the following new subparagraph:

(2) Dihydrostreptomycin content. Proceed as directed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, using the dihydrostreptomycin working standard as a standard of comparison. Its content of dihydrostreptomycin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85% of the number of micrograms of dihydrostreptomycin base per gram it is represented to contain.

3. Section 146.24 Sodium penicillin * * * is amended as follows:

a. The headnote is changed to read: § 146. 24 Sodium penicillin (penicillin sodium, penicillin sodium salt), calcium penicillin (penicillin calcium, penicillin calcium salt), crystalline penicillin (crystalline penicillin sodium, crystalline penicillin sodium salt, crystalline penicillin potassium, crystalline penicillin potassium salt, crystalline penicillin G sodium, crystalline penicillin G sodium salt, crystalline penicillin G potassium, crystalline penicillin G potassium salt, crystalline penicillin O sodium, crystalline penicillin O sodium salt, crystalline penicillin O potassium, crystalline penicillin O potassium salt).

b. In § 146.24, paragraph (a) Standards of identity, etc., is amended by changing the period at the end of the first sentence to a semicolon and adding the following words: "crystalline penicillin O is crystalline penicillin which contains not less than 85% by weight of the sodium salt or potassium salt of penicillin O and it contains not more than 0.5% by weight of the sodium salt or potassium salt of penicillin G."

c. In § 146.24, subparagraph (1) of paragraph (d) Request for certification, etc., second sentence, is amended to read as follows: "Such request shall be accompanied or followed by the results of tests and assays made by him on the batch for potency, sterility, toxicity, pyrogens, moisture, pH, penicillin K content (unless it is crystalline penicillin G or crystalline penicillin O), crystallinity and heat stability if it is crystalline penicillin, the penicillin G content if it is crystalline penicillin G or crystalline penicillin O, and the penicillin O content if it is crystalline penicillin O."

d. In § 146.24, paragraph (d) (2) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) If it is crystalline penicillin G or crystalline penicillin O, then not less than 10 and not more than 17 immediate containers.

4. Section 146.36 Penicillin vaginal suppositories * * * is amended as follows:

a. The headnote is changed to read: § 146.36 Penicillin vaginal suppositories.

b. Paragraph (a) of § 146.36 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. Penicillin vaginal suppositories are suppositories composed of sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, potassium penicillin, or procaine penicillin in a base of spermaceti and cocoa butter. The potency of each suppository is not less than 100,000 units; its moisture content is not more than 1.0%. The sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, and potassium penicillin used conform to the requirements of § 146.24 (a), except subparagraphs (1), (2), and (4) of that paragraph, but its potency is not less than 300 units per milligram. The procaine penicillin used conforms to the requirements of § 146.44 (a), except subparagraphs (2) and (3) of that paragraph. The spermaceti and cocoa butter used conform to the standards prescribed therefor by the U. S. P.

c. In § 146.36, subparagraph (2) (ii) of paragraph (d) Request for certification; samples is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; potency, toxicity, moisture, pH, penicillin K content (unless it is crystalline sodium, potassium, or procaine penicillin G), crystallinity if it is crystalline penicillin, heat stability if it is crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin, the penicillin G content if it is crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin G, and the procaine penicillin G content if it is procaine penicillin G.

d. Section 146.36 (d) (3) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; 6 packages, or in the case of crystalline penicillin 10 packages, each containing approximately equal portions of not less than 60 mg., if it is not procaine penicillin, and not less than 300 mg., if it is procaine penicillin, packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.24 (b) or § 146.44 (b).

5. In § 146.49 Ephedrine penicillin tablets, subparagraph (1) (vi) of paragraph (c) Labeling is amended to read as follows:

(vi) The statement "Warning—Not for injection or oral use."

6. Section 146.102 is amended as follows:

a. The headnote is changed to read: § 146.102 Streptomycin ointment, dihydrostreptomycin ointment.

b. In § 146.102, paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. Streptomycin ointment and dihydrostreptomycin ointment is streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin in a suitable and harmless ointment base, with or without suitable and harmless dispersing and suspending agents. Its potency is not less than 5,000 micrograms per gram of ointment. The streptomycin used conforms to the requirements of § 146.101 (a), except subparagraphs (2), (4), (5), and (6) of that paragraph. The dihydrostreptomycin used conforms to the requirements of § 146.103, except the standards for sterility, pyrogens, histamine, and moisture. Each other substance used, if its name is recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F., conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by such official compendium.

c. In § 146.102, paragraph (b) Packaging, first sentence, is amended by inserting the words "and dihydrostreptomycin ointment" immediately after the words "Streptomycin ointment".

d. In § 146.102, subparagraph (1) of paragraph (d) Request for certification; samples, first sentence, is amended by inserting the words "or dihydrostreptomycin ointment" immediately after the words "streptomycin ointment".

e. In § 146.102, paragraph (d) (2) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin used in making the batch; potency, toxicity, pH, streptomycin content if it is dihydrostreptomycin, and crystallinity if it is crystalline dihydrostreptomycin sulfate.

f. In § 146.102 paragraph (d) (3) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) The streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin used in making the batch; * * *

g. In § 146.102, paragraph (e) Fees, first sentence, is amended by inserting the words "or dihydrostreptomycin ointment" immediately after the words "streptomycin ointment".

This order, which provides for certification of procaine penicillin vaginal suppositories, dihydrostreptomycin ointment, and crystalline penicillin O (sodium and potassium), and for revocation of the requirement that the labels of ephedrine penicillin tablets shall bear a statement that the drug should be administered only by a physician, dentist, or veterinarian, shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industries will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order and would be contrary to public interest, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industries and since it would be against public interest to delay marketing procaine penicillin vaginal suppositories, dihydrostreptomycin ointment, and crystalline penicillin O (sodium and potassium) and revocation of the requirement that the labels of ephedrine penicillin tablets shall bear a statement that the drug should be administered only by a physician, dentist, or veterinarian.

Chapter II—Economic Cooperation Administration

[ECA Reg. 1, Admt. 4, Effective Sept. 1, 1950]

PART 201—PROCEDURES FOR FURNISHING ASSISTANCE TO PARTICIPATING COUNTRIES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

ECA Regulation 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. The second paragraph in § 201.5 (b) (3) is deleted.

2. Section 201.6 (l) is renumbered § 201.6 (m) and a new § 201.6 (l) is added to read as follows:

(l) Ineligible shipments. Unless otherwise provided in the procurement authorization, if a commodity shall have been originally shipped from a country wholly or partly in Europe in the form, or substantially in the form, in which received by the participating country, the Administrator will not make reimbursement directly to the participating country for the purchase of the commodity; in cases of other types of reimbursement, the Administrator will request repayment from the participating country of the entire amount so reimbursed.

3. Section 201.19 (a) (4) is amended by adding the following unnumbered paragraph:

Unless the procurement authorization specifies as source a country wholly or partly in Europe, or requires as an additional document for reimbursement a certificate of growth or origin, the following signed certificate shall be endorsed on, or attached to, the copy (or photostat) of Supplier's invoice:

The undersigned certifies that the commodity involved was not originally shipped from a country wholly or partly in Europe, in the form, or substantially in the form, supplied by the undersigned.

4. The last sentence in § 201.23 (i) is amended to read as follows: "In this category are the provisions of § 201.6 (f) (2); § 201.6 (g); § 201.6 (h); § 201.6 (i); § 201.6 (j); § 201.6 (k) and § 201.6 (l)."

This amendment to ECA Regulation 1 will be effective as to all procurement authorizations originally issued on and after September 1, 1950.

TITLE 24—HOUSING AND HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VIII—Office of Housing Expediter

[Controlled Housing Rent Reg., Amdt. 268]

[Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments Rent Reg., Amdt. 265]

PART 825—RENT REGULATIONS UNDER THE HOUSING AND RENT ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The Controlled Housing Rent Regulation (§§ 825.1 to 825.12) and the Rent Regulation for Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments (§§ 825.81 to 825.92) are amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (a) of § 825.1 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Housing and defense-rental areas to which §§ 825.1 to 825.12 apply. Sections 825.1 to 825.12 (except the provisions contained in Schedule B) apply to all housing accommodations within each of the defense-rental areas and each of the portions of a defense-rental area (each of which is referred to hereinafter in §§ 825.1 to 825.12 as the "defense-rental area"), which are listed in Schedule A except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section: Provided however, That after December 31, 1950, said §§ 825.1 to 825.12 will apply only to housing accommodations in those defense-rental areas which are listed in Schedule C.

In Schedule A, the "maximum rent date" and the "effective date of regulation," as established under the rent regulation, issued pursuant to the Emergency price Control Act of 1942, as amended, are given for each defense-rental area listed. These apply to defense-rental areas listed in Schdule C, as well as to those listed in Schedule A. More than one effective date is given for different portions of a defense-rental area where the same effective date is not applicable to the entire defense-rental area.

In Schedule B are set forth provisions which modify or supplement §§ 825.1 to 825.12 insofar as they are applicable to certain individual defense-rental areas, or portions thereof.

In Schedule C are listed those localities, and the defense-rental areas in which they are located, which by reason of declarations made in accordance with section 204 (f) (1) of the act, will continue to be subject to §§ 825.1 to 825.12 after December 31, 1950.

2. The heading "Schedule C—Localities (and Defense-Rental Areas in which (Located) Affected by Declarations for Continuance of Rent Control after December 31, 1950" is added at the end of Schedule B.

3. The following items are incorporated in Schedule C, as follows:

Name of defense-rental area	State	Localities affected by declarations for continuance of rent control after Dec. 31, 1950
(371) Puerto Rico	Puerto Rico	In Puerto Rico, the municipalities of Isabella, Loiza, Cidra, Naranjito, San Lorenza and Cayey.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 127—INTERNATIONAL POSTAL SERVICE: POSTAGE RATES, SERVICE AVAILABLE, AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAILING

a. In § 127.30 Matter entitled to admission in the international mails free of postage (39 CFR 127.30) amend paragraph (f) to read as follows:

(f) Articles mailed in Bolivia, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras (Republic of), Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Salvador (El), Uruguay, and Venezuela which are entitled to pass in the domestic mails of any of those countries free of postage are likewise entitled to transmission free of postage to the United States. Also, articles entitled to pass free of postage in the domestic mails of the United States are likewise entitled to pass free of postage to any of the countries mentioned in this paragraph. Such articles must not exceed the weight limits shown in § 127.1, Table No. 2.

b. In § 127.56 General list of prohibited articles (39 CFR 127.56) amend paragraph (j) to read as follows:

(j) Explosive and inflammable articles and articles which, in any way, may damage or destroy the mails or injure the persons handling them. This includes inflammable liquids having a flash point by the Tagliabue open tester of 80 degrees F. or lower; inflammable solids which are liable, under conditions incident to transportation, to cause fires through friction, through absorption of moisture, or through spontaneous chemical changes; oxidizing materials such as chlorates, permanganates, peroxides or nitrates, which yield oxygen readily to stimulate the combustion of organic matter; and poisonous articles or substances.

c. Amend § 127.60 Combustible liquids (39 CFR 127.60) to read as follows:

§ 127.60 Combustible liquids. (a) Combustible liquids having a flash point of 150 degrees F. or lower but above 80 degrees F. (Tagliabue open tester) may be sent to foreign countries generally in quantities not exceeding 1 quart in any one parcel, except that paints, varnishes, turpentine, and similar substances may be sent in quantities of less than 1 gallon in any one parcel.

(b) Before accepting any parcel containing a combustible liquid for a foreign country, postmasters shall exercise particular care to see that it is packed as prescribed in § 127.70, and that the country of destination does not prohibit liquids of the flash point mentioned.

(c) The wrapper of any parcel containing a combustible liquid must be endorsed by the mailer to indicate that the flash point is above 80 degrees F.

d. In § 127.105 Indemnity for Postal Union registered articles (39 CFR 127.105) amend paragraph (a) (3) to read as follows:

(3) For actual value not exceeding $25 for total loss of such articles exchanged with Canada.

e. In § 127.210 Austria (39 CFR 127.210; 15 F. R. 4499) make the following changes:

1. Amend subdivision (v) of paragraph (b) (4) to read as follows:

(b) Parcel post. • • •
(4) Observations. • • •
(v) Gift parcels, in order to be admitted without import license, must not contain more than 200 cigarettes, 50 cigars, or 15 grams (5¼ oz.) of tobacco, the maximum amount permitted per month for each addressee.

2. Amend subdivision (iii) of paragraph (c) (2) to read as follows:

(c) U. S. A. gift parcels. • • •
(2) Observations. • • •
(iii) When a relief parcel is presented for mailing under these regulations the words "U. S. A. Gift Parcel" shall be conspicuously endorsed by the mailer on the address side of the parcel and on the customs declaration. The use of the words "U. S. A. Gift Parcel" will be a certification by the mailer that the provisions of the ECA regulations have been met. If the parcels prove to be undeliverable as addressed and the senders have not specified an alternate addressee or requested return in case of nondelivery by means of an appropriate endorsement on the customs declaration and dispatch note, the parcels will be turned over to the Austrian Red Cross.

f. In § 127.225 Bulgaria (39 CFR 127.225; 15 F. R. 1842, 4499) make the following changes:

1. Redesignate subparagraph (a) (8) as (a) (9).

2. Insert a new subparagraph (a) (8) to read as follows:

(8) Observations. See "Observations" under Parcel post concerning Bulgarian import quotas, which also apply to merchandise in the regular mails.

3. Redesignate subparagraph (b) (4) as (b) (5).

4. Insert a new subparagraph (b) (4) to read as follows:

(4) Observations. Many varieties of merchandise are subject to import quotas in Bulgaria, and persons in that country are not permitted to receive more than the prescribed quantities by mail, even as gifts. Therefore, senders should be cautioned to assure themselves in advance of mailing whether the addressees will be permitted to receive the articles which they desire to send.

g. In § 127.231 China (including Taiwan (Formosa) and the leased territory of Kwangchowman (Fort Bayard)) (39 CFR 127.231; 15 F. R. 1345, 2181) make the following changes:

1. Amend subparagraph (a) (2) to read as follows:

(a) Regular mails. • • •

(2) Registration. Fee, 25 cents. Registry service is available only to the island of Taiwan (Formosa). (See §§ 127.15 and 127.101.)

2. Amend subparagraph (a) (5) to read as follows:

(5) Air mail service. Postage rate, 25 cents per half ounce. Air-letter sheets, 10 cents each. (See § 127.20.) Air mail articles addressed to the island of Taiwan (Formosa) are forwarded to destination by air, while those for the remainder of China are transported by air to Hong Kong for onward transmission by surface means.

h. In § 127.264 Germany (39 CFR 127.264; 15 F. R. 4500) amend subdivision (xii) (f) of paragraph (a) (8) to read as follows:

(f) Seeds and other plant material must be inspected and certified as free of disease, pests, or weeds. However, vegetable seeds up to $5 in value in gift parcels are admitted without inspection certificates.

i. In § 127.368 Tristan da Cunha (39 CFR 127.368) amend paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) Parcel post (Tristan da Cunha).

(1) Table of rates. (i) Surface parcels.

[Rates include transit charges]

PART 33—CENTRAL REGION

DEER HUNTING IN CERTAIN NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES IN NORTH DAKOTA

Basis and purpose: On the basis of observation and reports of field representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service and of Conservation Agents of the North Dakota Game and Fish Department, it has been determined that there is a general surplus of deer in most parts of North Dakota and that a reduction of the population can be facilitated by opening certain national wildlife refuges to the public hunting of deer without interfering with primary purposes of such refuges.

Inasmuch as the following regulations are relaxations of the existing prohibition against hunting on the refuges, the notice and public rule-making procedure required by the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) are hereby found to be impracticable and the effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act does not apply.

Effective immediately upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, §§ 33.9 to 33.11; §§ 33.78 to 33.80; §§ 33.95 to 33.97; §§ 33.108 to 33.110; §§ 33.201 to 33.203; §§ 33.331 to 33.333, are added.

[7 CFR, Part 35]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF MILK FOR USE IN MANUFACTURE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance, as hereinafter proposed, of United States Standards for Grades of Milk for Use in the Manufacture of Dairy Products pursuant to the authority contained in Pub. Law 585, 81st Cong., approved June 29, 1950, and Pub. Law 627, 81st Cong., approved July 31, 1950.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments, for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same, in duplicate, with the Director, Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 30th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 35.1 Milk. Milk is the fresh whole lacteal secretion, practically free from colostrum, obtained by the complete milking of one or more healthy cows.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS

§ 35.2 Explanation of terms. (a) With respect to flavor and odor of milk. (1) Slight. Barely noticeable or detectable and unlikely to result in an unnatural flavor or odor of the manufactured dairy product.

(2) Moderate. Definitely noticeable or detectable and present to such degree that it may result in unnatural flavor or odor of the manufactured dairy product.

(3) Strong. Pronounced and practically certain to result in an unnatural flavor or odor of the manufactured dairy product.

(4) Offensive. (i) Extreme, in the case of feed flavors or odors or weed flavors or odors.

(ii) So strong, in the case of any other unnatural flavor or odor as to be repulsive or reflect contamination by filth, kerosene, gasoline, fly spray, or by substances comparable to any of the foregoing.

(5) Natural. Characteristic of fresh, cool milk when examined within one hour after being obtained from healthy cows, and free from unnatural flavors and odors.

(6) Unnatural. Attributable to any one or more of the following: feeds (such as silage, green alfalfa, green rye, or turnips) or weeds (such as peppergrass, french weed, skunk cabbage, wild onion, or garlic); any contamination (including, but not being limited to udder infection, unclean equipment, or other contamination with bacteria, molds, or sediment) or presence of odors in the vicinity.

(b) With respect to the flavor and odor of the manufactured dairy product.—(1) Natural. Characteristic of a manufactured dairy product that was processed from milk having a natural flavor and odor.

(2) Unnatural. Attributable to any one or more of the following: Unnatural milk flavor and odor, manner of processing the manufactured dairy product; any contamination (including, but not being limited to, that due to bacteria or mold); or exposure to odors.

(c) With respect to physical character of milk.—(1) Extraneous matter. Substances (such as filth, hair, insects and parts thereof, and rodents and parts thereof); and materials (such as metal, wood, glass, and leather particles or objects).

(2) Ropy or ropiness. Thick appearance; strings from a rod or stirrer.

(3) Flakes or clots. Flakes, clots, or hard lumps.

(4) Curdling. Jellied appearance.

(d) With respect to acidity. The natural acidity of milk (generally equivalent to titratable acidity of not over 0.18 percent) [1] may vary with breed and locality.

(1) Developed acidity. Any increase in the natural acidity attributable to bacterial action.

(2) Slight. Barely detectable by smell (generally equivalent to titratable acidity of not over 0.20 percent).[1]

(3) High. Definitely detectable by smell (generally equivalent to titratable acidity of over 0.20 percent).[1]

U. S. GRADES

§ 35.3 Nomenclature of U. S. Grades.—(a) General. No U. S. Grade designation is applicable to milk that decolorizes methylene blue or resazurin in less than 1 hour; or has a standard plate count or direct microscopic (clump) count of more than 10,000,000 bacteria per ml.; or possesses any of the following:

(1) Putrid, kerosene, gasoline, fishy, fly spray, oil, paint, rancid, or other offensive flavors or odors.

(2) Acidity that is high.

(3) Blood, flakes or clots, curdling, or extraneous matter, or is ropy.

(4) Sediment content in excess of 2.50 mg. when tested by comparison of a properly prepared sediment disc with the United States Sediment Standards for Milk and Milk Products (14 F. R. 6658; 7 CFR 43.101) sediment disc representing 2.50 mg. of sediment.

(b) Nomenclature. The nomenclature of U. S. Grades is as follows: U. S. No. 1; U. S. No. 2; and U. S. No. 3.

§ 35.4 Basis for determination of U. S. Grade. The respective U. S. Grades of milk for use in the manufacture of dairy products are determined on the basis of flavor and odor, acidity, physical character, sediment, and bacterial content ascertained as follows:

(a) Flavor, odor, and acidity. The milk is examined for odor and developed acidity immediately after the lid is removed from the milk container. The flavor of the milk may be determined by tasting a laboratory pasteurized sample thereof.

(b) Physical character. The milk is examined to determine whether it is free from blood, ropiness, flakes or clots, curdling, and extraneous matter.

(c) Sediment. The milk is examined for sediment by using the "off-bottom" method of sediment testing as set forth in paragraph 9.06 of the publication "Standard Methods for the Examination of Dairy Products," Ninth Edition, 1948, published by the American Public Health Association, 1790 Broadway, New York, New York. Quantity of sediment is determined on the basis of the aforesaid United States Sediment Standards for Milk and Milk Products.

(d) Bacterial content. The milk is examined for bacterial content by the methylene blue test, the resazurin test, the standard plate count, or the direct microscopic (clump) count. The methods and procedures set forth in paragraphs 2.57 through 2.63, paragraphs 2.67 through 2.72, paragraphs 1.18 through 1.22, and paragraphs 1.31 through 1.34 of the aforesaid publication are followed.

§ 35.5 U. S. Grades.—(a) U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 milk for use in the manufacture of dairy products conforms to the following requirements:

(1) Flavor and odor. Has not more than slight feed flavors and odors.

(2) Acidity. Has no developed acidity.

(3) Physical character. Is free from blood, ropiness, flakes or clots, curdling, and extraneous matter.

(4) Sediment. Contains not more than 0.30 mg. of sediment when tested by comparison of a properly prepared sediment disc with the aforesaid United States Sediment Standards for Milk and Milk Products sediment disc representing 0.30 mg. of sediment. When visual comparison of these discs shows a sediment content in excess of 0.30 mg. of sediment but not so much as to be nearer the 0.50 mg. of sediment disc of the aforesaid United States Sediment Standards, the sediment content shall be deemed to be not more than 0.30 mg.

(5) Bacteria. If the standard plate count or the direct microscopic (clump) count is used, does not contain more than 500,000 per ml.; if the methylene blue test is used, does not decolorize methylene blue in 4½ hours; or if the resazurin test is used, does not change the color of resazurin in 1 hour.

(b) U. S. No. 2. U. S. No. 2 milk for use in the manufacture of dairy products conforms to the following requirements:

(1) Flavor and odor. Has not more than moderate feed flavors and odors, and other unnatural flavors and odors to more than a slight degree.

(2) Acidity. Has no developed acidity.

(3) Physical character. Is free from blood, ropiness, flakes or clots, curdling, and extraneous matter.

(4) Sediment. Contains not more than 0.50 mg. of sediment when tested by comparison of a properly prepared sediment disc with the aforesaid United States Sediment Standards for Milk and Milk Products sediment disc representing 0.50 mg. of sediment. When visual comparison of these discs shows a sediment content in excess of 0.50 mg. of sediment but not so much as to be nearer the 2.50 mg. of sediment disc of the aforesaid United States Sediment Standards, the sediment content shall be deemed to be not more than 0.50 mg.

(5) Bacteria. If the standard plate count or the direct miscroscopic (clump) count is used, does not contain more than 3,000,000 per ml.; if the methylene blue test is used, does not decolorize methylene blue in 3 hours; or if the resazurin test is used, does not change the color of resazurin more than to a purplish pink color in 1 hour.

(c) U. S. No. 3. U. S. No. 3 milk for use in the manufacture of dairy products conforms to the following requirements:

(1) Flavor and odor. Has not more than strong feed flavors and odors, and other unnatural flavors and odors to more than a moderate degree.

(2) Acidity. Has slight developed acidity.

(3) Physical character. Is free from blood, ropiness, flakes or clots, curdling, and extraneous matter.

(4) Sediment. Contains not more than 2.50 mg. of sediment when tested by comparison of a properly prepared sediment disc with the aforesaid United States Sediment Standards for Milk and Milk Products sediment disc representing 2.50 mg. of sediment.

(5) Bacteria. If the standard plate count or the direct microscopic (clump) count is used, does not contain more than 10,000,000 per ml.; if the methylene blue test is used, does not decolorize methylene blue in 1 hour; or if the resazurin test is used, does not change the color of resazurin more than to a pink color in 1 hour.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of August 1950.

IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN COLORADO

NOTICE OF PROPOSED BUDGET AND RATE OF ASSESSMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering the approval of the budget of expenses and rate of assessment hereinafter set forth, which were recommended by the area committee for Area No. 2, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58 (7 CFR 958.1 et seq.) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the State of Colorado, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq., 61 Stat. 202, 707; 62 Stat. 1247; 63 Stat. 1051).

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are filed in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days following publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The proposals are as follows:

§ 958.205 Budget of expenses and rate of assessment, Area No. 2. The expenses necessary to be incurred by the area committee for Area No. 2, established pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58, to enable such committee to perform its functions, pursuant to provisions of the aforesaid marketing agreement and order and regulations duly issued thereunder, during the fiscal period ending May 31, 1951, will amount to $5,880.00.

The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler who first ships potatoes from Area No. 2 shall be one-sixth of one cent per hundredweight of potatoes shipped by him therefrom as the first shipper thereof during such fiscal period: Provided, That, no assessment shall be paid for a shipment or shipments of potatoes for consumption by a charitable institution or institutions or for distribution for relief purposes or for distribution by a relief agency or agencies.

Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 11th day of August 1950.

ALASKA

SHORE SPACE RESTORATION NO. 445

AUGUST 10, 1950.

By virtue of the authority contained in the act of June 5, 1920 (41 Stat. 1059, 48 U. S. C. 372), and in acordance with 43 CFR, § 4.275 (56) (Departmental Order No. 2325 of May 24, 1947, 12 F. R. 3566), and Order No. 319 of July 19, 1948 (43 CFR 50.451, 13 F. R. 4278), it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, the 80-rod shore space reserve created under the act of May 14, 1898 (30 Stat. 409), as amended by the act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1028, 48 U. S. C. 371), is hereby revoked as to the following described lands;

FAIRBANKS MERIDIAN

T. 1 S., R. 2 E.
Section 7: Lots 3 and 4, containing approximately 91 acres.

No application for these lands may be allowed under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

[1] Titratable acidity is determined as set forth in paragraph 12.04 of the publication "Standard Methods for the Examination of Dairy Products," Ninth Edition, 1948, published by the American Public Health Assn., 1790 Broadway, New York, New York.

At 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1950, the lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 90 days from August 30, 1950, to November 28, 1950, inclusive, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject to (1) application under the homestead or homesite laws, or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. sec. 682a), as amended by qualified veterans of World War II, for whose service recognition is granted by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747, 43 U. S. C. secs. 279–283), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications by such veterans shall be subject to claims of the classes described in subdivision (2).

(b) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous preference-right filings. For a period of 20 days from August 10, 1950, to August 29, 1950, inclusive, such veterans and persons claiming preference rights superior to those of such veterans, may present their applications, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1950, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

(c) Date for nonpreference-right filings authorized by the public land laws. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on November 29, 1950, any of the lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, or selection by the public generally as may be authorized by the public land laws.

(d) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous nonpreference-right filings. Applications by the general public may be presented during the 20-day period from November 9, 1950, to November 28, 1950, inclusive, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on November 29, 1950, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office at Fairbanks, Alaska, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations (Circular No. 324, May 22, 1914, 43 L. D. 254), to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead and homesite laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 64, 65 and 66, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and applications under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Part 257 of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Land Office at Fairbanks, Alaska.

LOWELL M. PUCKETT,
Regional Administrator.

ALASKA

SHORE SPACE RESTORATION NO. 444 AND SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 30

AUGUST 10, 1950.

By virtue of the authority contained in the act of June 5, 1920 (41 Stat. 1059; 48 U. S. C. 372), and Departmental Order No. 2325, of May 24, 1947 (43 CFR § 4.275 (56), 12 F. R. 3566), and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management by Order No. 319, of July 19, 1948 (43 CFR § 50.451 (a) (56), (b) (3), 13 F. R. 4278), it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights, the 80-rod shore space reserve created under the act of May 14, 1898 (30 Stat. 409), as amended by the act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1028; 48 U. S. C. 371), is hereby revoked as to the public lands designated as U. S. Surveys Nos. 2402, 2403 and 2801, and the lands hereinafter described in the Anchorage, Alaska, land district, are hereby classified as chiefly valuable for lease and sale under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, for home and cabin sites:

KETCHIKAN AREA

MOUNTAIN POINT—HERRING BAY

U. S. Survey No. 2402: Lots A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, L, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, W, AA, BB, DD, GG, HH, II, MM, OO, QQ, RR, TT, UU, VV, WW, XX, ZZ, 18, 19, 28, 29, 30, 32, 36, 37, 44, 49, 50, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 60, 62, 64, 66, 67.

U. S. Survey No. 2403: Lots 77, 81, 83, 84, 86, 94.

U. S. Survey No. 2801: Lots 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105.

Aggregating approximately 99.49 acres.

The land lies within an elimination from the Tongass National Forest and is located approximately 5 to 8 miles southeast of the city of Ketchikan. All-weather roads run through the area, thus permitting access by automobile at all times of the year. The terrain is generally rocky, covered in most places with a thin mantle of soil. The climate is typical of the southeastern coastal type, cool summers and mild winters, with very heavy precipitation supporting a dense growth of vegetation. The area is presently served with public utilities. Commercial, school and church facilities are available in the nearby city of Ketchikan. Adequate water supply for domestic use is obtained from water systems supplied by nearby streams.

This order shall not become effective to change the status of such lands or to permit the leasing thereof under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, cited above, until 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1950. At that time the lands shall, subject to valid existing rights, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection, as follows:

(a) Ninety-day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 90 days from 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1950, to close of business on November 27, 1950, inclusive, to (1) application under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, by qualified veterans of World War II, for whose service recognition is granted by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747, 43 U. S. C. secs. 279, 282), as amended, and by other qualified persons entitled to credit for service under the said act, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public law, based on prior existing valid settlement and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Application by such veterans and by other persons entitled to credit for service shall be subject to claims of the classes described in subdivision (2).

(b) Advance period for simultaneous preference-right filings. All applications by such veterans and persons claiming preference rights superior to those of such veterans filed on August 10, 1950, or thereafter, up to and including 10:00 a. m. on August 30, 1950, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

(c) Date for nonpreference-right filings authorized by the public land laws. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on November 28, 1950, any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally.

(d) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference-right filings. Applications under the Small Tract Act by the general public filed on November 8, 1950, or thereafter, up to and including 10:00 a. m. on November 28, 1950, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides) of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claim. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having suitable claim, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

All applications for the land, which shall be filed in the Land Office at Anchorage, Alaska, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Part 257 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

Lessees under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, will be required, within a reasonable time after execution of the lease, to construct upon the leased land, to the satisfaction of the appropriate officer of the Bureau of Land Management authorized to sign the lease, improvements which, in the circumstances, are presentable, substantial and appropriate for the use for which the lease is issued. Leases will be for a period of not more than five years, at an annual rental of $5.00 for home and cabin sites, payable in advance for the entire lease period. Leases will contain an option to purchase the tract at or after the expiration of one year from the date the lease is issued, provided the terms and conditions of the lease have been met.

All of the land will be leased in tracts varying in size from approximately 0.31 to 3.34 acres, in compact units, as shown on the official plat of survey on file in the Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska.

A number of the above described lots are currently covered by pending homesite applications under the act of May 26, 1934 (48 Stat. 809; 48 U. S. C. 461), as amended. While such tracts have been classified under the Small Tract Act, such applicants will be accorded a preference right to perfect their claim under the Homesite Law or the Small Tract Act.

All inquiries relating to these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Anchorage, Alaska.

LOWELL M. PUCKETT,
Regional Administrator.

KANSAS CITY BROADCASTING CO., INC., AND REORGANIZED CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS

ORDER REOPENING RECORD FOR FURTHER EVIDENCE

In re applications of Kansas City Broadcasting Company, Inc., Kansas City, Missouri, Docket No. 8415, File No. BP–5829; Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Independence, Missouri, Docket No. 8870, File No. BP–6630; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of June 1950;

The Commission having under consideration (1) a petition filed January 30, 1950, by the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, requesting that the Commission remand the Initial Decision in this proceeding to the Hearing Examiner, (2) a statement, filed February 13, 1950, by the Commission's General Counsel, in support of this petition, and (3) an opposition to the above petition, filed February 6, 1950, by the Kansas City Broadcasting Company, Inc.; and

It appearing, that the Examiner in the Initial Decision denied the application of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints without prejudice because of the pendency of an overall policy proceeding before this Commission in Docket No. 9470; and that such a denial without prejudice did not flow from dispositive conclusions; and

It further appearing, that there are other material omissions in the findings of fact and conclusions of the Initial Decision with respect to the legal qualifications of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints which could have been disposed of under the designated issues in this proceeding, and that such material omissions relate to the following questions:

(1) Whether the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints is a person or entity within the meaning of section 3 (1) of the Communications Act and legally qualified to assume the duties and responsibilities of a broadcast licensee, since there is an absence of articles of association or other organic acts identifying the unincorporated membership association, showing how the affairs of the organization are conducted, and vesting authority and specified duties and responsibilities in governing boards and various offices;

(2) Whether the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints as an unincorporated membership association, has made an appropriate and sufficient showing with respect to the citizenship of its membership in accordance with section 310 of the Communications Act, and in view thereof whether the applicant is qualified to be a licensee;

(3) Whether the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, in accordance with section 310 of the Communications Act, is legally qualified to be a licensee since one member of its governing board is an alien;

(4) Whether the program proposals of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints constitute a diversified program structure which would meet the needs of the areas and populations proposed to be served and which would be in the public interest; and

It further appearing, that the orderly dispatch and administration of the Commission's formal hearings requires dispositive findings and conclusions to be reached in Initial Decisions;

It is ordered, That (1) the Initial Decision herein is vacated and set aside: and (2) that the proceeding is remanded to the Examiner previously appointed for further proceedings consistent with this order.

Released: June 26, 1950.

LOUIS WASMER AND YAKIMA BROADCASTING CORP. (KALE)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Louis Wasmer, Pasco, Washington, Docket No. 9561, File No. BP–7337; Yakima Broadcasting Corporation (KALE), Richland, Washington, Docket No. 9754, File No. BP–7728; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of Louis Wasmer for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 960 kc., with 1 kw. power, utilizing different directional antennas for day and night, at Pasco, Washington, and Yakima Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station KALE, Richland, Washington, for a change of facilities from 900 kc., 1 kw., day time only, to 960 kc., 1 kw., unlimited time, with directional antenna at night;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding commencing at 10:00 a. m. on January 25, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial, and other qualifications of the individual applicant and the technical, financial and other qualifications of the corporate applicant, its officers, directors and stockholders, to operate the proposed stations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed stations and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference, each with the other, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed stations would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

LAWTON-FT. SILL BROADCASTING CO. AND CADDO BROADCASTING CO.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Byrne Ross, Lila G. Ross, Robert R. Harrison and Dorothy V. Harrison, d/b as Lawton-Ft. Sill Broadcasting Company, Lawton, Oklahoma, Docket No. 9755, File No. BP-7665; J. D. Allen tr/as Caddo Broadcasting Company, Anadarko, Oklahoma, Docket No. 9756, File No. BP-7737; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of Byrne Ross, et al. d/b as Ft. Sill Broadcasting Company for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1250 kc. with 500 watts power, 1 kw. until local sunset, utilizing separate directional antennas for day and night operation at Lawton, Oklahoma; and of J. D. Allen tr/as Caddo Broadcasting Company for a new standard broadcast station to operate on 1250 kc., with 500 watts power, daytime only at Anadarko, Oklahoma;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding commencing at 10:00 a. m. on January 26, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial and other qualifications of the applicant partnership and its partners and of the individual applicant to operate the proposed stations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed stations, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station at Anadarko, Oklahoma would involve objectionable interference with Station KASA, Elk City, Oklahoma and with Station KSMI, Seminole, Oklahoma, and whether the operation of both of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference, each with the other, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed stations would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine the overlap, if any, that will exist between the service areas of the proposed station at Lawton, Oklahoma, and of Station KLPR, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, the nature and extent thereof, and whether such overlap, if any, is in contravention of § 3.35 of the Commission's rules.

8. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either of the applications in this consolidated proceeding, should be granted.

It is further ordered, That the Southwest Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KASA, Elk City, Oklahoma; and KADA Broadcasting, Inc., licensee of Station KSMI, Seminole, Oklahoma, be made parties to this proceeding with respect to the Anadarko, Oklahoma, application.

[Docket No. 9758]

APPLICATION OF COASTWISE LINE FOR RELIEF FROM FORFEITURES IMPOSED IN CONNECTION WITH SAILING OF "SS WILLIAM BLACK YATES"

ORDER DESIGNATING PETITION FOR HEARING UPON STATED ISSUES

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the petition of Coastwise Line requesting (1) that the Commission reconsider its denial of the application of Coastwise Line for relief from forfeitures imposed in connection with the sailing of the "SS William Black Yates" in violation of sections 351 and 353 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and either remit the said forfeitures on the "basis of the papers or documents on file in the proceeding" or "place the matter on the calendar of the Commission for hearing and argument", and (2) that the period in which Coastwise Line was required to make payment of the forfeitures imposed by the Commission be extended until the conclusion of proceedings on this petition; and

It appearing, that the Commission is unable to find on the basis of the "papers and documents on file" in this matter that remission of the said forfeitures is warranted; and

It further appearing, that it is appropriate in this case to afford petitioner an opportunity to adduce testimony and evidence in a hearing in support of its request for remission of the said forfeitures; and

It further appearing, that it is unnecessary to take action on the petitioner's request for oral argument at this time, since the petitioner is entitled under the provisions of § 1.854 of the Commission's rules to make a further request therefor upon the issuance of an initial decision in the hearing herein ordered; and

It further appearing, that it is appropriate to extend the period in which the Coastwise Line was required to make payments of the forfeitures imposed by the Commission until the issuance of a final decision in the hearing herein ordered:

It is ordered, That the above-captioned petition of Coastwise Line for reconsideration by the Commission of its denial of the application of Coastwise Line for relief from forfeitures is granted; and

It is further ordered, That the above-described request of Coastwise Line for immediate remission of forfeitures imposed by the Commission is denied; and

It is further ordered, That the period in which the Coastwise Line was required to make payment of the forfeitures imposed by the Commission is extended until the issuance of a final decision in the hearing herein ordered; and

It is further ordered, That the matter of the mitigation or remission of forfeitures heretofore imposed in connection with the sailing of the "SS William Black Yates" in violation of sections 351 and 353 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, is designated for hearing before a Commission Examiner at 10:00 a. m., on the 26th day of September 1950, at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

(1) To ascertain the facts and circumstances relating to the voyage of the "SS William Black Yates" in the open sea from St. Johns, Newfoundland, to Bremen, Germany, during the approximate period July 22, 1948, through August 2, 1948, without a qualified radio operator aboard contrary to the provisions of sections 351 and 353 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

(2) To determine whether any additional facts or circumstances exist which would have a bearing on the question of mitigation or remission of the forfeitures imposed by the Commission and particularly,

(a) To determine in view of the route and conditions of such voyage the degree of hazard to the "SS William Black Yates" involved therein.

(b) To determine in view of the route and conditions of such voyage the degree of hazard to other ocean-going vessels engendered by reason of the failure to have a qualified operator on board.

(c) To determine the benefits, financial or otherwise, if any, to Coastwise Line derived by reason of the failure to delay the said voyage until a qualified radio operator became available for such a voyage.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this order be mailed to Coastwise Line, 150 Sansome Street, San Francisco, California, and to its attorneys, Radner, Zito and Donoghue, Tower Building, Washington, D. C.

DOOR COUNTY RADIO CO.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Door County Radio Company, Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, Docket No. 9601, File No. BP-7353; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application of Door County Radio Company requesting a construction permit for a new standard broadcast station to operate unlimited hours on frequency 1490 kc with 100 watts power at Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin; and

It appearing, that, on March 6, 1950, the Commission designated for hearing the application of Door County Radio Company requesting a construction permit for a new station to operate unlimited hours on 1490 kc with 250 watts power at Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, to determine, among other things, whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with Station WOSH, Oshkosh, Wisconsin, and whether the proposed installation would be in compliance with the Commission's Rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations; and

It further appearing, that, on June 13, 1950, the Door County Radio Company filed a petition for leave to amend its application to specify operation with 100 watts power and that, on June 23, 1950, the applicant's petition to amend to specify reduced operating power was granted and that the application, as amended, was removed from the hearing calendar; and

It further appearing, that, upon the basis of information contained in the Door County Radio Company application, as amended, the applicant is legally, technically, financially, and otherwise qualified to construct and operate the proposed station and that the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered would meet the requirements of the populations and areas to be served, but that on the basis of the aforementioned petition and information as submitted in the application, as amended, it appears that the proposed operation may involve objectionable interference with one or more existing stations or otherwise not comply with the Commission's rules and standards;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled application of Door County Radio Company is designated for hearing to commence the 29th day of January 1951 at Washington, D. C. upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed station, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with Station WOSH, Oshkosh, Wisconsin or with any other existing broadcast stations, and if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with the services proposed in any pending applications for broadcast facilities, and if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed station would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

It is further ordered, That Oshkosh Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WOSH, Oshkosh, Wisconsin is made a party to this proceeding.

[Docket No. 9390]

IDAHO RADIO CORP. (KID)

ORDER REOPENING RECORD FOR EVIDENCE

In re application of Idaho Radio Corporation (KID), Idaho Falls, Idaho; Docket No. 9390, File No. BMP-3308; for modification of construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 9th of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration (1) the record in the above proceeding, (2) the Examiner's Initial Decision herein, dated February 1, 1950 (released on February 6, 1950), (3) petitions to reopen the record filed by the General Counsel of the Commission and Radio Station WOW, Inc., a respondent, on March 28, 1950, and April 20, 1950, respectively, and (4) an opposition thereto filed by the applicant, Idaho Radio Corporation (KID), on May 1, 1950; and

It appearing, that in the Initial Decision looking toward a grant of the application the Examiner based the findings and conclusions as to the interference expected to be caused to Station WOW from the proposed operation of Station KID upon the radiation values which were specified in the construction permit on 590 kc. of Station KSUB, Cedar City, Utah, and which were described in such permit as the values not to be exceeded; and the Examiner based the findings and conclusions as to the interference to be suffered by Station KSUB from the KID proposal upon an assumed antenna site of Station KSUB to the southeast of Cedar City; and

It further appearing, that on February 28, 1950, Station KSUB filed a proof of performance which indicates that the fields radiated by Station KSUB in the direction of Station WOW are less than those values upon which the findings and conclusions are based, thus affecting the interference which Station WOW would expect to receive from the proposed Station KID operation; and that an examination of the files of Station KSUB shows that the actual location of the antenna site of Station KSUB is northwest of Cedar City, whereas the site on which the evidence of record is based is southest of Cedar City, some 11.5 miles to the southeast of the actual site, thereby rendering the showing of interference which Station KSUB would receive from the Station KID proposal inaccurate; and

It further appearing, that in the aforesaid petitions the General Counsel and Radio Station WOW, Inc., request that the record be reopened for the purpose of receiving new evidence relating to interference to WOW from the KID proposal; that the General Counsel also requests that the record be reopened for the purpose of receiving new evidence relating to interference to KSUB from the KID proposal; and that it is alleged said evidence has a material bearing upon the issues in this proceeding; and

It further appearing, that in its opposition to the said petitions Idaho Radio Corporation (KID), among other things, asserts, that if the Station WOW population which would receive interference by reason of the operation of KID is properly counted, the increase in such population which would result from a calculation of the interference upon the basis of the evidence above-described as against that used by the Examiner would be "infinitosimal" and does not justify reopening the record; and

It further appearing, that in view of the foregoing circumstances, appropriate new evidence should be considered in the determination of the issues in this proceeding, and the parties given an opportunity to establish their respective contentions in connection therewith;

It is ordered, That the above-mentioned petitions of the General Counsel of the Commission and Radio Station WOW, Inc. (WOW), are granted; the Initial Decision herein, released February 6, 1950, is vacated and set aside; the record is reopened; and the proceeding is remanded to the Examiner previously appointed, for the purpose of receiving appropriate evidence as to the populations and areas now receiving service from Stations KSUB and WOW which would receive interference from the operation of Station KID, in the light of the factors described above, and the other services available thereto.

ALL-OKLAHOMA BROADCASTING CO. (KRMG)

ORDER SCHEDULING HEARING

In re application of All-Oklahoma Broadcasting Company (KRMG), Tulsa, Oklahoma, Docket No. 9627, File No. BP-7420; for construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration two petitions filed by the All-Oklahoma Broadcasting Company (KRMG), Tulsa, Oklahoma, the first filed July 28, 1950, requesting leave to amend its above-entitled application to change the type number of the transmitter proposed to be used; and the second, filed on August 1, 1950, requesting leave to amend its above-entitled application to make changes in its nighttime directional pattern, thereby reducing its radiation in the direction of Canada and slightly increasing the radiation in the direction of KACE, Dallas, Texas, so as to increase the population interfered with from a total of 1,639 to 1,919 persons, and also requesting a further hearing be held on the application, as amended, and that § 1.745 of the Commission's rules be waived so that immediate action may be taken on the petition for further hearing; and

It appearing that the hearing on the application herein was held on July 21, 1950, in Washington, D. C. and the record left open until August 4, 1950; and

It further appearing that no opposition to the first petition, which has been on file since July 28, 1950, has been filed by Station KACE or the General Counsel, that both counsel for Station KACE and the Commission's General Counsel have consented to immediate action upon the second petition, that counsel for Station KACE, has, in addition, consented to a grant of the second petition, that there are no other parties to this proceeding, and that the requirements of § 1.745 of the Commission's rules have therefore been met;

It is therefore ordered, This 4th day of August 1950, that the petition for leave to amend to change the type number of the transmitter be and it is hereby granted and the amendment is accepted; the petition for leave to amend to make changes in the nighttime directional pattern and for further hearing herein is granted, the amendment is accepted, the further hearing for the presentation of evidence in support of the proposal shall commence on August 23, 1950, at 10:00 a. m., in Washington, D. C., and the record shall remain open until the completion of this further hearing.

(WRUW), Scituate, Boston, Mass., Docket No. 9504, File No. BPIB-63; applicant for construction permit to increase power and to change call letters to WRUL upon completing construction.

The Commission having under consideration a petition for indefinite continuance of the hearing now scheduled for August 15, 1950, which was filed on July 14, 1950, on behalf of World Wide Broadcasting Corporation; and

It appearing from the petition and from the Commission's records that the petitioner has filed, on August 2, 1950 a Petition for Reconsideration and Grant which requires consideration by the Commission en banc; and

It further appearing, that no opposition to the granting of the petition for continuance has been filed on behalf of the other applicant, or the respondents, or the Commission, and that a grant of the petition will conduce to the proper dispatch of the Commission's business and to the ends of justice; now therefore

It is ordered, This 4th day of August 1950, that the petition for continuance be, and it is hereby, granted, and the hearing in this proceeding, now scheduled to commence at Boston, Massachusetts, on Tuesday, August 15, 1950, is continued without date to await such further action as may be deemed appropriate by the Commission in view of the pending petition for reconsideration and grant.

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of The KSOK Broadcasting Company, Inc. (KSOK), Arkansas City, Kansas, Docket No. 9628, File No. BP-7192; for construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration a Petition filed August 3, 1950, by the applicant, The KSOK Broadcasting Company, Inc., requesting a continuance for thirty days of the hearing which is now scheduled for Monday, August 7, 1950, at Washington, D. C.; and

It appearing, that the applicant and petitioner desires the continuance in order to afford it an opportunity to seek by appropriate pleadings to the Commission a clarification of the issues upon which this matter was designated to be heard; and

It further appearing, that there are no other parties to this proceeding and that counsel for the Commission has informally consented: to a waiver of the notice and time of filing requirements of the Commission's rules; to a consideration of the instant petition upon this date; and to a grant of the petition to the extent hereinafter ordered; and

It further appearing, that it would be conducive to the orderly administration and dispatch of the Commission's business to permit to the applicant an opportunity to plead to the Commission for clarification of the issues, for which reason the continuance herein requested will tend to serve the ends of justice; now therefore

It is ordered, This 4th day of August 1950, that the Petition be, and it is hereby, granted, and the hearing upon this application now scheduled to commence at Washington, D. C., on Monday, August 7, 1950, is continued without date to await such action as may be deemed appropriate by the Commission after consideration of the proposed pleadings seeking clarification of the issues herein.

COASTAL BROADCASTING CO. (WHIT) AND COMMONWEALTH BROADCASTING CORP. (WELS)

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re applications of Coastal Broadcasting Company (WHIT), New Bern, North Carolina, Docket No. 9334, File No. BP-7208; Commonwealth Broadcasting Corporation (WELS), Kinston, North Carolina, Docket No. 9574, File No. BMP-4917; for construction permit and modification of CP.

The Commission having under consideration a petition for continuance for a period of 30 days of the hearing now scheduled for August 9, 1950, which was filed on the 28th day of July 1950, on behalf of Commonwealth Broadcasting Corporation; and

It appearing from the petition and from the Commission's records that the applicant Coastal Broadcasting Company has heretofore filed a petition to dismiss its application; that another applicant, on July 17, 1950, filed application for a construction permit for use at Kinston, North Carolina, of the same frequency requested by the applicants herein; and that the latter application may be designated for hearing in this proceeding; and

It further appearing, that no opposition to the instant petition for continuance has been filed and the granting thereof to the extent hereinafter indicated will conduce to the proper dispatch of the Commission's business and to the ends of justice; now therefore

It is ordered, This 4th day of August 1950, that the petition for continuance be and it is hereby granted and the hearing in this proceeding is continued from August 9, 1950 until 10 o'clock a. m. on Tuesday, September 19, 1950, at Washington, D. C.

RADIO ATHENS, INC. (WRFC)

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re applications of Radio Athens, Inc. (WRFC), Athens, Georgia, Docket No. 9637, File No. BP-7415; for construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed July 26, 1950, by May Broadcasting Company (KMA), respondent herein, requesting a continuance for 60 days of the above-entitled hearing now scheduled to begin on August 9, 1950; and a pleading filed July 28, 1950, by Radio Athens, Inc. (WRFC) opposing said petition for continuance and argument having been heard on said petitions; and

It appearing that the Commission on August 2, 1950, amended one of the issues to be developed at the hearing, and the applicant and other parties having consented to a 30-day continuance;

It is ordered, This the 4th day of August 1950, that the hearing in the above-entitled proceeding now scheduled to begin August 9, 1950, is continued to September 12, 1950, at 10:00 a. m., in the offices of the Commission at Washington, D. C.

MATHESON RADIO CO., INC. (WHDH), ET AL.

ORDER SCHEDULING FURTHER HEARING

In re petitions of Matheson Radio Company, Inc. (WHDH), Boston, Massachusetts, Docket No. 9227; National Broadcasting Company, Inc. (KOA), Denver, Colorado, Docket No. 9228. In re application of Champlain Valley Broadcasting Corporation (WXKW), Albany, New York, Docket No. 9515, File No. BMP-4580; for modification of construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration the matter of scheduling for further hearing the above-entitled proceeding; and

It appearing, that the hearing in the said proceeding was adjourned without date pending action by the Commission upon the petition for review filed jointly on April 3, 1950 by the National Broadcasting Company, Inc. (KOA) and Matheson Radio Company, Inc. (WHDH) of the Examiner's order of March 28, 1950 granting the petition and supplemental petition of Champlain Valley Broadcasting Corporation (WXKW) for leave to amend its application for modification of construction permit; and

It appearing further, that on August 3, 1950, the Commission by memorandum opinion and order denied the joint petition of National Broadcasting Company, Inc. (KOA) and Matheson Radio Company, Inc. (WHDH) and affirmed the Examiner's action accepting the WXKW amendment; and that accordingly, there is now no reason why the above-entitled proceeding should not be scheduled for further hearing;

It is ordered, This 7th day of August 1950, that the further hearing in the above-entitled proceeding be, and it is hereby scheduled in Washington, D. C. for 10:00 o'clock a. m. on Tuesday, September 5, 1950.

UNITY CORP., INC. (WTOD), ET AL.

ORDER SCHEDULING FURTHER HEARING

In re applications of Unity Corporation, Inc. (WTOD), Toledo, Ohio, Docket No. 8001, File No. BP-5071; The Midwestern Broadcasting Company, Toledo, Ohio, Docket No. 8685, File No. BP-6421; The Toledo Blade Company, Toledo, Ohio, Docket No. 8830, File No. BP-6534; The Rural Broadcasting Company of Ohio, Oak Harbor, Ohio, Docket No. 9130, File No. BP-6758; Radio Corporation of Toledo, Toledo, Ohio, Docket No. 9222, File No. BP-7057; for construction permits.

The Commission having under consideration the matter of scheduling for further hearing the above-entitled proceeding; and

It appearing, that the hearing on the above-entitled applications was continued indefinitely by the Commission on March 15, 1950, pending action by it upon certain petitions for rehearing which had been filed by a number of the above-entitled applicants against Commission action granting an application of Station WMBD, Peoria, Illinois, for modification of construction permit (BMP-4739), since it appeared that said grant materially affected the engineering testimony to be presented by the said applicants in this proceeding, and also pending decision of said applicants as to whether or not they desired to amend site and antenna specifications; and

It further appearing, that the WMBD application for modification of construction permit (BMP-4739), which had theretofore been granted by the Commission and against which said petitions for rehearing were pending by a number of the above-entitled applicants, was subsequently amended by WMBD (BMP-5165); that the Commission on July 26, 1950, by Memorandum Opinion detefmined that if said WMBD application were granted the RSS at Toledo would be lower than that resulting from the presently licensed operation of WMBD; that the operation proposed in BMP-5165 would not result in any increase of limitation to existing or proposed stations, and otherwise would be in compliance with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice; granted said WMBD application, as amended, for construction permit (BMP-5165) subject to certain conditions (not here material), and dismissed as moot the petitions for rehearing filed by the above-entitled applicants, which were directed against the WMBD grant of application for construction permit, file No. BMP-4739; and

It further appearing, that in view of said action there now is no reason why the further hearing on the above-entitled matters should not be scheduled;

It is ordered, This 7th day of August 1950, that the further hearing in the above-entitled matters be, and it is hereby, scheduled in Washington, D. C., at 10:00 o'clock a. m. on Monday, September 25, 1950.

[Case No. 84]

ROLF G. GROTE

DECISION OF APPEALS BOARD

In the matter of Rolf G. Grote, 1482 York Avenue, New York, New York; on appeal—Docket FC-6; Case No. 84.

Upon reading the transcript of the hearing held in Washington, D. C., December 21, 1949, by Milton M. Thompson, Compliance Commissioner, together with the exhibits introduced in evidence at said hearing, the report and recommendations dated April 28, 1950, of said Commissioner to John F. Havener, Assistant Director, Office of Industry and Commerce, the order suspending license privileges, dated July 3, 1950, issued by said John F. Havener thereon, and upon oral arguments of counsel for Office of Industry and Commerce and appellant before the Appeals Board in Washington, D. C., August 8, 1950, upon appeal from said order suspending license privileges,

The Appeals Board finds as follows:

(1) That the findings and recommendations contained in the Report of the Compliance Commissioner, dated April 28, 1950, are justified by the evidence; and

(2) That the provisions of the order suspending license privileges, dated July 3, 1950, are appropriate in view of the nature of the violations disclosed.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That: The appeal of Rolf G. Grote, be, and it hereby is, denied; and the order suspending license privileges is in all respects sustained.

[SEAL] FREDERIC W. OLMSTEAD,
Chairman, Appeals Board.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1458]

INDEPENDENT NATURAL GAS CO. AND NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 11, 1950.

Take notice that Independent Natural Gas Company, a Delaware corporation, address, Pampa, Texas, and Northern Natural Gas Company, a Delaware corporation, address, Aquila Court Building, Omaha, Nebraska, filed on August 7, 1950, a joint application, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, wherein Independent Natural Gas Company requests permission and approval to abandon and sell certain of its facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, and Northern Natural Gas Company requests a certificate of public convenience and necessity to acquire and operate the same facilities which Independent Natural Gas Company proposes to abandon and sell, described as follows:

(1) Grayco Compressor Station, consisting of 16 Worthington Units of 700 h. p. twin double-acting gas engine driven two stage compressors, together with buildings, cooling towers, water tanks and other appurtenances, located approximately 6 miles southeast of Pampa, in Section 32, Block B-2, H. & G. N. R. R. Co. Survey, Gray County, Texas.

(2) Approximately 21 miles of 20-inch steel pipe line extending from Grayco Compressor Station, as described in (1) above, to the point of connection with the pipe line facilities of Northern, one mile north of Skellytown, in Section 107, Block 4, I. & G. N. R. R. Co. Survey, Carson County, Texas.

The foregoing facilities are now being and have been used exclusively for the purpose of supplying natural gas to Northern Natural Gas Company. The proposal to abandon and sell by Independent Natural Gas Company and the acquisition and operation by Northern Natural Gas Company of such facilities will not result in any termination of service rendered.

Independent Natural Gas Company proposes to sell and Northern Natural Gas Company proposes to buy the above described facilities for the sum of $229,200.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 29th day of August 1950. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[4th Sec. Application 25322]

CEMENT FROM COLORADO TO MONTANA

APPLICATION FOR RELIEF

AUGUST 14, 1950.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of section 4 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed by: L. E. Kipp, Agent, for and on behalf of carriers parties to his tariff I. C. C. No. 1530.

Commodities involved: Cement and related articles, carloads.

From: Boettcher and Portland, Colo.

To: Points in Montana.

Grounds for relief: Circuitous routes and to apply over short tariff routes rates constructed on the basis of the short line distance formula.

Schedules filed containing proposed rates: L. E. Kipp's tariff I. C. C. No. 1530, Supplement 100.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

By the Commission, Division 2.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 31-562]

INDIANA GAS & CHEMICAL CORP.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 11th day of August A. D. 1950.

Indiana Gas & Chemical Corporation ("Indiana Gas") having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to section 3 (a) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 requesting an exemption from the provisions of the act to which it would otherwise be subject as a holding company by reason of the ownership of all of the outstanding voting securities of Terre Haute Gas Corporation ("Terre Haute"), a public utility company; and

A notice of filing having been issued with respect to said application, said notice having stated that any interested person may request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect thereto within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that Indiana Gas and Terre Haute, its sole public utility subsidiary, are predominantly intrastate in character and carry on their business substantially within the State of Indiana, in which state each company is organized; and further finding that the granting of the exemption requested would not be detrimental to the public interest or the interests of investors or consumers:

It is ordered, That the application, as amended, of Indiana Gas for exemption of itself as a holding company, and of its subsidiary as such, from the provisions of the act pursuant to section 3 (a) (1) thereof be, and it hereby is, granted, said company and its subsidiary remaining subject, however, to section 9 (a) (2) of the act.

By the Commission.

MINNESOTA AND ONTARIO PAPER CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND ORDER DISMISSING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 11th day of August A. D. 1950.

Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company ("Minnesota and Ontario") having filed an application pursuant to sections 3 (a) (3) and 3 (a) (5) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 requesting an exemption from the provisions of the act to which it would otherwise be subject as a holding company by reason of the ownership of all the outstanding securities, other than directors' qualifying shares, of Rainy River Improvement Company and The Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Company Limited, both of which are public utility companies as defined by section 2 (a) (5) of the act.

A notice of filing with respect to said application having been issued which stated that any interested person may request, in writing, that the Commission hold a hearing on such matter, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect thereto within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission having examined the application and the statements contained therein and finding, on the basis thereof, that Minnesota and Ontario is only incidentally a holding company being primarily engaged in a business other than that of a public utility company and not deriving a material part of its income from one or more companies the principal business of which is that of a public utility company; and further finding that the granting of the exemption requested pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (A) of section 3 (a) (3) would not be detrimental to the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers; and further finding that the application, insofar as it requests exemption for Minnesota and Ontario and its subsidiaries pursuant to section 3 (a) (5) of the act is hereby rendered moot;

It is ordered, That the application of Minnesota and Ontario for exemption of itself as a holding company, and of its subsidiaries as such pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (a) (3) of the act be, and the same hereby is, granted, said company and its subsidiaries remaining subject, however, to section 9 (a) (2) of the act; and

It is further ordered, That the application of Minnesota and Ontario for exemption of itself as a holding company, and its subsidiaries as such, pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (a) (5) be, and the same hereby is, dismissed without prejudice, however, to the right of Minnesota and Ontario to reinstate said aplication at such time in the future as it deems it appropriate.

By the Commission.

PHILADELPHIA CO. ET AL

ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER FEES AND EXPENSES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of August 1950.

In the matter of Philadelphia Company, Equitable Gas Company, Pittsburgh and West Virginia Gas Company, Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, File No. 70-2343; Philadelphia Company, File No. 70-2342; Philadelphia Company, File No. 50-34; Standard Gas and Electric Company, File No. 70-2341; Standard Gas and Electric Company, Philadelphia Company, File No. 70-2340.

The Commission by order dated March 14, 1950, having granted and permitted to become effective certain applications-declarations, as amended, with respect to various transactions, pursuant to sections 6, 7, 9 (a), 10, 11 (b), 12 (b), 12 (c), 12 (d) and 12 (f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rules U-42, U-43, U-44, U-45 and U-46 promulgated thereunder, involving the reorganization of the natural gas and oil properties in the holding company system of Philadelphia Company ("Philadelphia"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Standard Gas and Electric Company ("Standard"), also a registered holding company; the recapitalization of Philadelphia's subsidiaries, Equitable Gas Company ("Equitable") and Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company ("Kentucky"); the amendment of the charters of Equitable and Kentucky; the issuance of securities by Equitable and Kentucky; the sale by Philadelphia of all the outstanding Common Stock of Equitable, as reorganized; the retirement by Philadelphia of its outstanding debt; and certain other transactions; and said order having reserved jurisdiction over all fees and expenses proposed to be paid in connection with such transactions;

Applicants-declarants having filed a further amendment with respect to the fees and expenses proposed to be paid and statements having been filed in support of the fees and expenses listed below:

	Fees	Expenses
Reed, Smith, Shaw & McClay (counsel for Philadelphia and Equitable)	$39,000	$3,134
Mudge, Stern, Williams & Tucker (counsel for Standard and Philadelphia)	11,000	1,130
Flynn, Clerkin & Hansen (counsel for Standard)	2,000	50
Miller, Mack & Fairchild (counsel for Standard)	750	11
Haskins & Sells (accountants)	7,999	118
Sullivan, Donovan, Heenehan & Hanrahan (counsel for the underwriters—fee to be paid by the underwriters)	17,500	1,357

It having been proposed that the fees and expenses of Reed, Smith, Shaw & McClay and Mudge, Stern, Williams & Tucker be borne equally by Philadelphia and Equitable; that the fees and expenses of Flynn, Clerkin & Hansen and Miller, Mack & Fairchild be paid by Standard; and that the fees and expenses of Haskins & Sells and of Ralph E. Davis, who has requested a fee of $5,000 for engineering services, be paid by Philadelphia; such proposed allocations resulting in total estimated fees and expenses of $121,017 to be paid by Philadelphia, $122,882 to be paid by Equitable, and $2,811 to be paid by Standard;

The Commission having considered such statements and finding that all the fees and expenses proposed to be paid herein are not unreasonable and that the proposed allocation thereof is appropriate, and deeming it appropriate that jurisdiction with respect thereto be released:

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved over fees and expenses herein be, and hereby is, released.

By the Commission.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of August A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by New Hampshire Electric Company ("New Hampshire"), a public utility subsidiary of New England Gas and Electric Association, a registered holding company. Applicant has designated section 6 (b) of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 31, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after August 24, 1950, said application, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, and which are summarized as follows:

New Hampshire proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, $3,600,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Sinking Fund ____ Percent Bonds, Series A, due 1975. The interest rate and the price to the company for the bonds will be determined by competitive bidding, except that the invitation for bids will specify that the price to the company shall not be less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be used to retire $1,880,000 aggregate principal amount of outstanding First Mortgage Bonds and $1,250,000 principal amount of notes due banks, the balance will be set aside for the purpose of financing additions, extensions and improvements to the company's plant and property.

The proposed issuance and sale of bonds has been approved by the Public Service Commission of New Hampshire.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2898

FIRST UNITED STATES INTERNATIONAL TRADE FAIR

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS a joint resolution of the Congress approved on August 12, 1950, provides as follows:

That the President of the United States is authorized to invite by proclamation or otherwise, or in such manner as he may deem proper, the States of the Union and foreign nations to participate in the First United States International Trade Fair, to be held at Chicago, Illinois, from August 7 to 20, 1950, inclusive, for the purpose of exhibiting industrial products; machinery, equipment, supplies, and engineering; and the exhibiting of the newest developments in metals, plastics, chemicals, oils, textiles, and other manufactured products; and bringing together buyers and sellers for promotion of foreign and domestic trade and commerce in such products.

AND WHEREAS invitations from the Governor of Illinois to foreign nations to participate in the First United States International Trade Fair to be held at Chicago, Illinois, from August 7 to 20, 1950, inclusive, have been extended through the Department of State and the United States Missions abroad:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby invite and urge the States of the Union and foreign nations to participate to the fullest practicable extent in the said First United States International Trade Fair.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 14th day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10152

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE RIGHT OF MEMBERS OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES TO INCENTIVE PAY FOR THE PERFORMANCE OF HAZARDOUS DUTY REQUIRED BY COMPETENT ORDERS

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by sections 204 and 501 (d) of the Career Compensation Act of 1949, approved October 12, 1949 (Public Law 351, 81st Congress), and as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the armed forces of the United States, I hereby prescribe the following regulations relating to the right of members of the uniformed services to receive incentive pay for the performance of hazardous duty required by competent orders:

SECTION 1. For the purposes of these regulations:

(a) The terms defined in section 102 of the said Career Compensation Act of 1949 shall have the meanings prescribed therein.

(b) The term "aerial flight" shall be construed to mean flight in an aircraft or glider; and a flight shall be deemed to begin when the aircraft or glider takes off from rest at any point of support and to terminate when it next comes to a complete stop at a point of support.

(c) The term "aviation accident" shall be construed to mean an accident in which a member who is required to participate frequently and regularly in aerial flight is injured or otherwise incapacitated as the result, as attested by the appropriate medical authority of the uniformed service concerned, of (1) jumping from, being thrown from, or being struck by, an aircraft or any part or auxiliary thereof, or (2) participation in any duly authorized aerial flight or other aircraft or glider operations.

SEC. 2. Under such regulations as the Secretary concerned may prescribe, any member of the uniformed services, including members assigned to special, administrative, or school duties, may be required by competent orders to perform hazardous duty.

SEC. 3. (a) Each member who is required by competent orders to participate frequently and regularly in aerial flights, other than glider flights, shall make the flights required as a crew member or as a non-crew member as directed by competent authority.

(b) Determinations as to what constitutes duty as a crew member and duty as a non-crew member shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned: Provided, that such determinations shall be uniform for all the services to the fullest extent practicable.

SEC. 4. Under such regulations as the Secretary concerned may prescribe, members who are required by competent orders to participate frequently and regularly in aerial flights, other than glider flights, shall be required to meet the following minimum flight requirements, except as otherwise provided in section 10 hereof, in order to be entitled to receive incentive pay for the performance of hazardous duty.

(a) Minimum flight requirements for members on active duty who may qualify for incentive pay under the provisions of section 204 of the Career Compensation Act of 1949:

(1) During one calendar month: 4 hours of aerial flight.

(2) During any two consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subdivision (1) above have not been met: 8 hours of aerial flight.

(3) During any three consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subdivision (2) above have not been met: 12 hours of aerial flight.

(4) For fractions of a calendar month, the time of aerial flight required shall bear the same ratio to the time required for a full calendar month as the period in question bears to a full calendar month.

(5) For fractions of two consecutive calendar months, the period in question shall be considered as a unit and the time of aerial flight required shall bear the same ratio to the time required for a full calendar month as the period in question bears to a full calendar month.

(6) Whenever, under authority conferred by the Secretary concerned, the commanding officer of any member who has been required by competent orders to participate frequently and regularly in aerial flights, other than glider flights, certifies that on account of military operations of the particular command or on account of the unavailability of aircraft such member was unable to perform the aerial flights required by this section, such member may comply with the minimum flight requirements by performing at least 24 hours of aerial flight over a period of six consecutive calendar months, and such requirements may be met at any time during such period.

(b) Minimum flight requirements for members of reserve components of the uniformed services on inactive-duty training who may qualify for incentive pay under the provisions of section 501 (d) of the Career Compensation Act of 1949:

(1) During one calendar month: 2 hours of aerial flight.

(2) During any two consecutive calendar months, when the requirements of subdivision (1) above have not been met: 4 hours of aerial flight.

(3) During any three consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subdivision (2) above have not been met: 6 hours of aerial flight.

(4) For fractions of a calendar month, the time of aerial flight required shall bear the same ratio to the time required for a full calendar month as the period in question bears to a full calendar month.

(5) For fractions of two consecutive calendar months, the period in question shall be considered as a unit and the time of aerial flight required shall bear the same ratio to the time required for a full calendar month as the period in question bears to a full calendar month.

SEC. 5. Members shall not be entitled to receive incentive pay for participation in aerial flights for any period while suspended from such participation, unless such suspension is subsequently removed and the minimum flight requirements prescribed in section 4 hereof have been complied with, except as otherwise provided in section 10 hereof.

SEC. 6. Members who, pursuant to competent orders, are attached to a submarine which is in an active status, including a submarine under construction from the time builders' trials commence, shall be entitled to receive incentive pay for the performance of submarine duty. The term "builders' trials" shall be construed to mean trials conducted underway or in free route.

SEC. 7. (a) Members who are qualified as glider personnel under such regulations as the Secretary concerned may prescribe, or who are undergoing training for such qualification, and who are required by competent orders to participate frequently and regularly in glider flights shall be required to perform one or more glider flights, without regard to duration thereof, during any three consecutive calendar months in order to be entitled to receive incentive pay for such period.

(b) Whenever, under authority conferred by the Secretary concerned, the commanding officer of any member who has been required by competent orders to participate frequently and regularly in glider flights certifies that on account of the absence or inadequacy of glider equipment or towing aircraft or other means of propulsion, or on account of military operations of the particular command, such member was unable to perform the glider flights required by this section, such member may comply with the minimum flight requirements by performing four or more glider flights, without regard to duration thereof, during a period of twelve consecutive calendar months, and such requirements may be met at any time during such period.

(c) Members of reserve components of the uniformed services who have complied with the requirement prescribed in this section shall be entitled to receive incentive pay for both active-duty and inactive-duty training performed during such period.

SEC. 8. (a) As used in section 204 (a) of the Career Compensation Act of 1949, the term "duty involving parachute jumping as an essential part of military duty" shall be construed to mean duty performed by members who are not in a flying-pay status and who, under such regulations as the Secretary concerned may prescribe, have received a rating as a parachutist or parachute rigger, or are undergoing training for such a rating, and who are required by competent orders to engage in parachute jumping from an aircraft in aerial flight.

(b) Members required by competent orders to engage in parachute jumping shall be required to perform one or more parachute jumps from an airplane in flight during any three consecutive calendar months in order to be entitled to receive incentive pay for such period.

(c) Whenever, under authority conferred by the Secretary concerned, the commanding officer of any member who has been required by competent orders to participate in parachute jumping certifies that on account of the absence of jump equipment or aircraft or on account of military operations of the particular command such member was unable to make the jumps required by this paragraph, such member may comply with the minimum requirements by performing four jumps during a period of twelve consecutive calendar months, and such requirements may be met at any time during such period.

(d) Members of reserve components of the uniformed services who have complied with the requirements prescribed in this section shall be entitled to receive incentive pay for both active-duty and inactive-duty training performed during such period.

SEC. 9. As used in section 204 (a) of the Career Compensation Act of 1949—

(a) The term "duty involving intimate contact with persons afflicted with leprosy" shall be construed to mean duty performed by any member who is assigned by competent orders to a leprosarium for the performance of duty for a period of thirty days or more or for a period of instruction, whether or not such leprosarium is under the jurisdiction of one of the uniformed services.

(b) The term "duty involving the demolition of explosives" shall be construed to mean duty performed by members, including members in training for such duties, who, pursuant to competent orders and as a primary duty, demolish by the use of explosives under-water objects, obstacles, or explosives, or recover and render harmless, by disarming or demolition, explosives which, having been projected, launched, dropped, or laid in a normal manner, have failed to explode as intended.

(c) The term "duty at a submarine escape training tank, when such duty involves participation in the training" shall be construed to mean duty performed by members who are regularly assigned to duty involving diving at a submarine escape training tank when such duty is primarily for the purpose of training personnel in the methods of escape from a submerged submarine.

(d) The term "duty at the Navy Deep Sea Diving School or the Navy Experimental Diving Unit, when such duty involves participation in training" shall be construed to mean duty performed by members who are regularly assigned to duty involving diving at the Navy Deep Sea Diving School or the Navy Experimental Diving Unit when such diving is primarily for the purpose of training divers.

SEC. 10. Any member who is required by competent orders to perform hazardous duty and who becomes injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of the performance of such duty, by aviation accident or otherwise, shall be deemed to have fulfilled all of the requirements for the performance of hazardous duty during such incapacity for a period not to exceed three months following the date as of which such incapacity is determined by the appropriate medical authority.

SEC. 11. Members required by competent orders to perform hazardous duty shall, upon compliance with the requirements of these regulations, be entitled to receive incentive pay during authorized leaves of absence.

SEC. 12. The Secretaries concerned are hereby authorized to prescribe such supplementary regulations not inconsistent herewith as they may deem necessary or desirable for carrying out these regulations, and such supplementary regulations shall be uniform for all the services to the fullest extent practicable.

SEC. 13. This order shall become effective on September 1, 1950, except that so much thereof as may be necessary to authorize the payment of incentive pay for hazardous duty under sections 9 and 10 of the order shall be effective as of October 1, 1949.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10153

REGULATIONS RELATING TO CERTAIN TRAVEL TIME OF MEMBERS OF THE UNIFORMED SERVICES CALLED TO ACTIVE DUTY IN EXCESS OF THIRTY DAYS

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 201 (e) of the Career Compensation Act of 1949, approved October 12, 1949 (Public Law 351, 81st Congress), and as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the armed forces of the United States, I hereby prescribe the following regulations relating to the inclusion as active duty of time required for travel from home to first duty station and from last duty station to home by members of the uniformed services called or ordered to active duty in excess of thirty days:

SECTION 1. In case travel by public transportation is authorized, the travel time included as active duty shall be based upon actual and necessary schedules which most nearly coincide with the possible time of departure and arrival by the mode of transportation actually used, or by public surface transportation if the travel is actually performed by private conveyance without having been specifically authorized.

SEC. 2. In case travel by private conveyance is specifically authorized and the travel is so performed, the travel time included as active duty shall be computed on the basis of one day for each three hundred miles traveled, and one day of travel time shall also be allowed for each fraction of three hundred miles in excess of one hundred and fifty miles. The distance traveled shall be computed on the basis of distances established by the official mileage tables in use by the uniformed services. Travel by private conveyance shall not be specifically authorized in any case in which the call to active duty is for a period of less than ninety consecutive days.

SEC. 3. The Secretaries concerned (within the meaning of section 102 (f) of the said Career Compensation Act of 1949) may prescribe with respect to personnel of the uniformed services within their respective departments or agency such supplementary regulations not inconsistent herewith as they may deem necessary or desirable for carrying out these regulations, and such supplementary regulations shall be uniform for all the services to the fullest extent practicable.

SEC. 4. This order shall become effective on September 1, 1950.

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 2—APPOINTMENT THROUGH THE COMPETITIVE SYSTEM

COMPETITION RESTRICTED TO VETERANS

Subparagraph (2) of § 2.102 (c) is amended as set out below, effective June 19, 1950. As amended, paragraph (c) reads as follows:

§ 2.102 Competition restricted to veterans • • •

(c) (1) A position, examination for which has been restricted to veterans under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, may not be filled by appointment, reappointment, reinstatement, promotion, demotion, transfer, or reassignment of a nonveteran from outside the organizational entity in which the position exists, if there is a veteran in the employ of such entity in the local area who is qualified and available for promotion or reassignment to the position, or if there is a total of three or more veterans elsewhere who are qualified and available for an appointment of equal tenure.

(2) The restriction in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not be applicable to the promotion, demotion, transfer, or reassignment of an employee (i) within the organizational entity or (ii) from one restricted position to another when both positions are covered by the same generic title, nor to the reinstatement (i) under the provisions of § 20.11 of this chapter of former employees of the agency to the positions from which separated by reduction in force or to positions covered by the same generic title and (ii) of former employees of the agency last separated by disability retirement. An organizational entity for this purpose shall be that part of an agency from which selections for promotion, transfer, or reassignment to the position are normally made.

AUTHORITY: §§ 25.201 to 25.243 issued under sec. 605, 59 Stat. 304, 5 U. S. C. 945. Interpret or apply secs. 201, 202, 203, 59 Stat. 295, 297, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 911-913. Other statutory provisions interpreted or applied are cited to text in parentheses.

§ 25.201 Employees to whom this subpart applies. This subpart applies to all civilian officers and employees in or under the executive branch of the United States Government, including Government-owned or controlled corporations, except those specified in § 25.202.

(Sec. 101, 59 Stat. 295; 5 U. S. C. 901)

§ 25.202 Employees to whom this subpart does not apply. (a) This subpart does not apply to:

(1) Elected officials;

(2) Heads of departments or independent establishments or agencies, including Government-owned or controlled corporations; i. e., heads of governmental establishments in the executive branch which are not component parts of any other such establishment;

(3) Officers and employees in the field service of the Post Office Department;

(4) Employees whose basis compensation is fixed and adjusted from time to time in accordance with prevailing rates by wage boards or similar administrative authority serving the same purpose, except that § 25.223 (f) shall be applicable to such employees whose rate of basic compensation is fixed on an annual or monthly basis;

(5) Employees outside the continental limits of the United States, including those in Alaska, who are paid in accordance with local prevailing native wage rates for the area in which employed;

(6) Officers and employees of the Inland Waterways Corporation;

(7) Officers and employees of the Tennessee Valley Authority;

(8) Officers and employees of the Central Intelligence Agency;

(9) Individuals to whom the provisions of section 1 (a) of the act entitled "An act to amend and clarify certain provisions of law relating to functions of the War Shipping Administration, and for other purposes," approved March 24, 1943 (57 Stat. 45, 50 U. S. C. App. 1291) are applicable;

(10) Officers and members of the United States Park Police and the White House Police;

(11) Officers and members of crews of vessels, whose compensation shall be fixed and adjusted from time to time as nearly as is consistent with the public interest in accordance with prevailing rates and practices in the maritime industry;

(12) Civilian keepers of lighthouses and civilian employees on lightships and other vessels of the Coast Guard;

(13) Physicians, dentists, nurses, and other employees in the Department of Medicine and Surgery in the Veterans' Administration, whose compensation is fixed under Public Law 293, Seventy-ninth Congress, approved January 3, 1946, as amended;

(14) Student nurses, medical or dental interns, residents-in-training, student dietitians, student physical therapists, and student occupational therapists, assigned or attached to a hospital, clinic, or medical or dental laboratory operated by any department, agency, or instrumentality of the Federal Government and any other student-employees, assigned or attached to any such hospital, clinic or laboratory primarily for training purposes, who may be designated by the head of such department, agency, or instrumentality with the approval of the Civil Service Commission;

(15) Employees of the Weather Bureau, Department of Commerce, engaged in the conduct of meteorological investigations in the Arctic region.

NOTE: The list above does not contain positions which are excluded on a year-to-year basis by appropriation acts.

(b) In addition to the exclusions listed in § 25.202 (a), the extra pay provisions of this subpart shall not apply to overtime, night, and holiday services for which additional compensation is provided by the following statutes: Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (19 U. S. C. 261, 267) involving inspectors, storekeepers, weighers, and other customs officers and employees; act of July 24, 1919 (41 Stat. 241; 7 U. S. C. 394) involving employees engaged in enforcement of Meat Inspection Act; act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1450, 1451, 1452) involving customs officers and employees; act of March 2, 1931 (46 Stat. 1467; 8 U. S. C. 109a and 109b) involving inspectors and employees, Immigration and Naturalization Service; act of May 27, 1936, as amended (52 Stat. 345; 46 U. S. C. 382b) involving local inspectors of steam vessels and assistants, U. S. shipping commissioners, deputies and assistants, and customs officers and employees; act of March 23, 1941 (55 Stat. 46; 47 U. S. C. 154 (f) (2)) involving certain inspectors of the Federal Communications Commission; act of June 3, 1944 (58 Stat. 269; 19 U. S. C. 1451) involving customs officers and employees; act of August 4, 1949 (63 Stat. 495; 7 U. S. C. Supp. III, 394a) involving employees of the Bureau of Animal Industry who work at establishments which prepare virus, serum, toxin and analogous products for use in the treatment of domestic animals.

(Sec. 102, 59 Stat. 296; 5 U. S. C. 902)

§ 25.203 Definitions. For the purposes of this subpart, definitions are given for words, terms, and phrases as follows:

(a) (1) "Administrative workweek" means a period of seven consecutive calendar days.

(2) "Regularly scheduled administrative workweek" for full-time officers and employees means the period within an administrative workweek, established pursuant to § 25.211, when such officers and employees are required to be on duty regularly. For part-time employees, it means the officially prescribed days and hours within an administrative workweek during which such employees are required to be on duty regularly.

(b) "Basic workweek" for full-time officers and employees means the forty-hour workweek established pursuant to § 25.211.

(c) "Department" means any department, independent establishment or agency in the executive branch of the Federal Government, including Government-owned or controlled corporations.

(d) "Irregular or occasional overtime duty" means hours of employment not scheduled in the regularly scheduled administrative workweek.

(e) "Night pay differential" means the ten percent increase over the officer's or employee's rate of basic compensation, authorized by section 301 of the Federal Employees Pay Act of 1945, as amended.

(f) "Night work" means that part of a regularly scheduled tour of duty which falls between 6 o'clock p. m. and 6 o'clock a. m.

(g) "Rate of basic compensation" means the rate of compensation fixed by law or administrative action for the position held by an officer or employee before any deductions and exclusive of additional compensation of any kind. It is exclusive of such additional compensation as overtime pay, extra pay for night or holiday work, or allowances or post differentials payable to officers or employees stationed outside the States, but inclusive of the value of quarters, subsistence, and other maintenance allowances under section 3 of the act of March 5, 1928 (45 Stat. 193; 5 U. S. C. 75a).

(Sec. 604 (a, b, d, e), 59 Stat. 303; 5 U. S. C. 944)

§ 25.204 General pay computation method. (a) Hereafter for all pay computation purposes per annum rates of basic compensation established by or pursuant to law shall be regarded as payment for employment during fifty-two basic workweeks of forty hours.

(b) Whenever, for the purposes of computing overtime, holiday, or night pay under this subpart, it is necessary to convert a monthly or annual basic rate to a biweekly, weekly, daily, or hourly basic rate, the following rules shall govern:

(1) A monthly rate shall be multiplied by twelve to derive an annual rate;

(2) An annual rate shall be divided by fifty-two or twenty-six, as the case may be, to derive a weekly or biweekly rate;

(3) A weekly or biweekly rate shall be divided by forty or eighty, as the case may be, to derive an hourly rate; and

(4) A daily rate shall be derived by multiplying an hourly rate by the number of daily hours of service required.

(5) All rates shall be computed to the nearest cent, counting one-half cent and over as a whole cent.

(Sec. 604 (a, b, d, e), 59 Stat. 303, as amended by sec. 1203, 63 Stat. 971; 5 U. S. C. 944)

§ 25.205 Maximum limitation. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subpart, the overtime, night, and holiday compensation payable to any officer or employee to whom this subpart applies shall, with respect to any pay period, be limited to such rate as will not cause his aggregate compensation for such pay period to exceed a rate of $10,330 per annum: Provided, however, That any such officer or employee who was receiving overtime compensation on June 30, 1945, and whose aggregate rate of compensation on such date was in excess of $10,000 per annum may receive overtime compensation at such rate as will not cause his aggregate rate of compensation for any pay period to exceed the aggregate rate of compensation he was receiving on June 30, 1945, until he ceases to occupy the office or position he occupied on such date or until the overtime hours of works in his administrative workweek are reduced by action of the head of his department. When such overtime hours are reduced such rate of overtime compensation shall be reduced proportionately.

(Sec. 603, 59 Stat. 302, as amended by sec. 7, 60 Stat. 218 and sec. 303, 62 Stat. 1268; 5 U. S. C. 943)

REGULATIONS TO BE PRESCRIBED BY HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

§ 25.211 Establishment of basic workweek and regularly scheduled administrative workweek. (a) Heads of departments shall, with respect to each group of full-time employees to whom this subpart applies, establish by regulation:

(1) A basic workweek of forty hours in length which shall not extend over more than six of any seven consecutive days. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, such regulation shall specify the calendar days constituting the basic workweek and the number of hours of employment for each of such calendar days included within the basic workweek.

(2) A regularly scheduled administrative workweek which shall consist of the forty-hour basic workweek established in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, plus such period of overtime work as will be regularly required of each group of employees. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the periods of time included in such regularly scheduled administrative workweek which do not constitute a part of the basic workweek shall be identified by calendar days and by number of hours per day for purposes of leave and overtime pay administration.

(c) In the case of employees whose work includes periods during which they are required to remain on duty and render "stand-by service" at or within the confines of their stations, the length of the regularly scheduled administrative workweek, for the purpose of this subpart, shall be the total number of regularly scheduled hours of duty per week, including all such "stand-by" time except that allowed for sleep and meals by regulations of the department.

§ 25.212 Compensatory time off for irregular or occasional overtime duty. Heads of departments may, with respect to officers and employees to whom this subpart applies, prescribe regulations for the granting of compensatory time off from duty, in lieu of overtime compensation, for irregular or occasional duty in excess of forty hours in any administrative workweek, to those per annum employees requesting such compensatory time off from duty.

OVERTIME PAY

§ 25.221 Authorization of overtime compensation. (a) Officers and employees to whom this subpart applies shall be paid overtime compensation computed as provided in § 25.223, for all hours of employment officially ordered or approved in excess of forty hours in any administrative workweek, including irregular or occasional overtime duty.

(b) In accordance with administrative regulations which may be issued pursuant to § 25.212, any per annum employee may request compensatory time off, in lieu of overtime pay, for irregular or occasional duty in excess of forty hours in any administrative workweek. In case no such regulations are issued, or if under such regulations compensatory time off for such irregular or occasional overtime duty is not specifically requested by the employee, it shall be paid for in money when due.

§ 25.222 Computation of overtime employment. The computation of the amount of overtime employment of an officer or employee shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Leave with pay. Absence from duty on authorized leave with pay under the annual and sick leave acts of March 14, 1936, as amended, during the time when an employee would otherwise have been required to be on duty during the basic workweek (including authorized absence on legal holidays, non-work days established by Executive or administrative order, and days of compensatory time off provided for in §§ 25.212 and 25.221 (b)) shall be considered to be employment and shall not have the effect of reducing the amount of overtime compensation to which the employee may be entitled during an administrative workweek. Leave of absence with pay under the acts cited shall not be charged for any absence which does not occur during the forty hours prescribed as the basic workweek.

(b) Leave without pay. For any period of leave-without-pay within an employee's basic forty-hour workweek, an equal period of service performed outside the basic workweek, but during the same administrative workweek, must be substituted and paid for at the rate applicable to his basic workweek, before any remaining periods of service can be paid for at the overtime rate.

(c) Absence during overtime periods. Except as expressly authorized by law, as in the case of jury duty under the act of June 29, 1940 (54 Stat. 689), and except to the extent authorized while the employee is in official travel status, no overtime period shall be counted in computing overtime compensation unless the employee performs actual duty during such period or is taking compensatory time off as provided for in §§ 25.212 and 25.221 (b). For employees in official travel status but not performing actual duty, no overtime period shall be paid for at overtime rates unless it falls within the regularly scheduled administrative workweek.

(d) Night or holiday duty. Hours of night or holiday duty shall be included in determining for overtime pay purposes the total number of hours of employment within the same administrative workweek.

§ 25.223 Computation of overtime compensation. (a) For employees whose basic compensation is at a rate less than $2,980 per annum, the overtime hourly rate shall be one and one-half times the hourly rate of basic compensation: Provided, That in computing such overtime compensation for per annum employees, the hourly rate of basic compensation shall be determined by dividing the basic per annum rate by two thousand and eighty (2080), and adjusting the quotient to the nearest whole cent, counting one-half cent and over as a whole cent.

(b) For employees whose rate of basic compensation is $2,980 per annum, the overtime rate of compensation per 416 overtime hours shall be $894.

(c) For employees whose rate of basic compensation is in excess of $2,980 per annum and less than $6,440 per annum, the overtime rate of compensation per 416 overtime hours is computed by subtracting from $894, 7.6782 percent of the amount by which such basic rate is in excess of $2,980 per annum.

(d) For employees whose rate of basic compensation is $6,440 and over per annum, the overtime rate for 416 overtime hours shall be $628.334.

(e) Hourly overtime rates for employees under paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section shall be computed by dividing the overtime rate for 416 overtime hours by 416 and adjusting the quotient to the nearest whole cent, counting one-half cent and over as a whole cent.

(f) Employees whose rate of basic compensation is fixed on an annual or monthly basis and adjusted from time to time in accordance with prevailing rates by wage boards or similar administrative authority serving the same purpose shall be entitled to overtime pay in accordance with the provisions of section 23 of the act of March 28, 1934 (48 Stat. 522; 5 U. S. C. 673c). The rate of compensation for each hour of overtime employment of any such employee shall be computed as follows:

(1) If the rate of basic compensation of the employee is fixed on an annual basis, divide such rate of basic compensation by two thousand and eighty (2080) and multiply the quotient by one and one-half; and

(2) If the rate of basic compensation of the employee is fixed on a monthly basis, multiply such rate of basic compensation by twelve to derive an annual rate of basic compensation, divide such annual rate of basic compensation by two thousand and eighty (2080) and multiply the quotient by one and one-half.

(3) All rates shall be computed to the nearest cent, counting one-half cent and over as a whole cent.

NIGHT PAY

§ 25.231 Authorization of night pay differential. Any officer or employee to whom this subpart applies shall be entitled to a night pay differential amounting to ten percent of his rate of basic compensation as additional compensation for all hours of night work, computed in accordance with § 25.232.

§ 25.232 Computation of night pay differential—(a) Absence on leave or holidays, or in travel status. Payment of a night pay differential is not authorized during any period when the officer or employee is in a leave status or is excused from duty on a holiday or other non-workday; but it is authorized in cases where compensatory time off "earned" by night overtime work is taken during the hours of the employee's regularly scheduled tour of duty, and for all night hours of the employee's regularly scheduled tour of duty while he is in official travel status, whether performing actual duty or not.

(b) Relation to overtime and holiday pay. Payment of a night pay differential shall be in addition to any extra overtime or holiday compensation paid in accordance with this subpart. The night pay differential shall not be included in the rate of basic compensation in computing any overtime or holiday compensation to which the officer or employee may be entitled.

(c) Temporary assignment to different tour of duty. The payment of the night pay differential is authorized for night work performed when an employee is assigned temporarily to a regularly scheduled tour of duty other than his own regular tour of duty.

HOLIDAY PAY

§ 25.241 Identification of holidays. The following days shall be holidays:

(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, the 1st day of January; the 22d day of February; the 30th day of May; the 4th day of July; the first Monday in September; the 11th day of November; the fourth Thursday in November; and the 25th day of December.

(b) When any such day falls on a Sunday, Executive Order No. 9636 of October 3, 1945, requires that the following Monday shall be observed as a holiday in lieu thereof subject to the following exceptions:

(1) In the case of employees whose regularly scheduled basic workweek includes both the Sunday and the Monday involved, either day, as determined by the head of the department, but not both days, shall be treated as a holiday.

(2) In the case of employees whose regularly scheduled basic workweek includes the Sunday but not the Monday involved, only the Sunday shall be treated as a holiday.

(c) Any day designated as a holiday by Federal statute or Executive order.

§ 25.242 Rate of holiday pay. (a) Any officer or employee who is assigned to duty on a holiday shall be compensated for such duty at the rate of twice his regular rate of basic compensation: Provided,

(1) That such hours of holiday duty fall within his basic workweek of forty hours.

(2) That such doubled rate of compensation shall be paid for not to exceed eight hours of duty on a holiday.

(3) That such doubled rate of compensation shall be in lieu of his regular rate of basic compensation.

(4) That such doubled rate of compensation shall be in addition to any extra compensation for night duty payable under this subpart but the night pay differential shall not be included in the rate of basic compensation in computing pay for holiday duty.

(b) Any officer or employee who is excused from duty because of a holiday falling within his basic forty-hour workweek shall be entitled to only his rate of basic compensation for that day.

(c) Any officer or employee who is assigned to duty on a holiday falling outside his forty-hour basic workweek (an overtime day) shall be entitled only to the overtime compensation payable in accordance with this subpart for such duty, plus any extra compensation for night duty payable under this subpart or other authority.

(d) Any officer or employee who is excused from duty because of a holiday falling outside his forty-hour basic workweek shall not be entitled to any compensation for that day.

§ 25.243 Overtime. (a) The extra pay for holidays authorized by § 25.242 shall not be included in the rate of basic compensation in computing any overtime compensation to which the officer or employee may be entitled.

(b) Such extra pay shall not serve to reduce the amount of overtime compensation to which the officer or employee may be entitled during the administrative workweek in which the holiday occurs, and notwithstanding such extra pay, the number of hours of duty on a holiday shall be included in determining for overtime pay purposes the total number of hours of employment performed in the same administrative workweek.

(c) The number of regularly scheduled hours of duty on a holiday falling within the employee's forty-hour basic workweek on which the employee is excused from duty shall be included as a part of the forty-hour basic workweek for overtime pay computation purposes.

PART 52—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, PROCESSED PRODUCTS THEREOF, AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCESSED FOOD PRODUCTS

UNITED STATES STANDARDS[1] FOR GRADES OF CANNED APPLESAUCE; REVISION

On May 27, 1950, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 3234) regarding a proposed revision of the United States Standards for Grades of Canned Applesauce. After consideration of all relevant matters including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following revised United States Standards for Grades of Canned Applesauce are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.), and Pub. Law 585, 81st Cong., approved June 29, 1950, and Pub. Law 627, 81st Cong., 2d sess., approved July 31, 1950.

§ 52.116 Canned applesauce. "Canned applesauce" is prepared from sound, fresh, apples (Pyrus malus) of proper ripeness, which fruit has been washed, peeled, cored, trimmed, sorted, chopped, and pulped; is packed with or without the addition of sweetening ingredients, water, salt, and spices; and is sufficiently processed by heat to assure preservation of the product in hermetically sealed containers.

(a) Grades of canned applesauce. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of canned applesauce that possesses a good color and a good flavor; and that is of such quality with respect to consistency, finish, and absence of defects, as to score not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(2) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of canned applesauce that possesses a fairly good color, a fairly good flavor, a fairly good consistency, and a fairly good finish; that is fairly free from defects; and that scores not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "U. S. Grade D" or "Substandard" is the quality of canned applesauce that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard.

(b) Recommended fill of container. The recommended fill of container is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. It is recommended that each container of canned applesauce be filled as full as practicable without impairment of quality and that the product occupy not less than 90 percent of the volume of the container.

(c) Ascertaining the grade. The grade of canned applesauce is ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the other requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, consistency, finish, absence of defects, and flavor. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	20
(ii) Consistency	20
(iii) Finish	20
(iv) Absence of defects	20
(v) Flavor	20
Total score	100

[1] The requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(d) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for such factors and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "17 to 20 points" means 17, 18, 19, or 20 points).

(1) Color. (i) Canned applesauce that possesses a good color may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Good color" means that the canned applesauce possesses a practically uniform, bright, typical color; is free from tinges of pink color, and is free from discoloration due to scorching, oxidation, or other causes.

(ii) Canned applesauce that possesses a fairly good color may be given a score of 14 to 16 points. Canned applesauce that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the canned applesauce possesses a fairly uniform, typical color that may be dull, slightly brown, slightly gray, or slightly pink, but is not off color.

(iii) Canned applesauce that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Consistency. The factor of consistency refers to the viscosity of the product and to the degree of separation of free liquor.

(i) Canned applesauce that possesses a good consistency may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Good consistency" means that the canned applesauce, after stirring and emptying from the container to a dry flat surface, forms a moderately mounded mass, and that at the end of two minutes there is not more than a slight separation of free liquor.

(ii) Canned applesauce that possesses a fairly good consistency may be given a score of 14 to 16 points. Canned applesauce that scores 15 points or less in this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Fairly good consistency" means that the canned applesauce, after stirring and emptying from the container to a dry flat surface, may be more than moderately mounded, may be moderately stiff but not excessively stiff, or may be slightly thin so that it levels itself and that at the end of two minutes there may be moderate but not excessive separation of free liquor.

(iii) Canned applesauce that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Finish. The factor of finish refers to the texture of the product and eveness of the apple particles.

(i) Canned applesauce that possesses a good finish may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Good finish" means that the apple particles are evenly divided; that the product is granular but not lumpy; is not pasty or "salvy"; and the apple particles are not hard.

(ii) Canned applesauce that possesses a fairly good finish may be given a score of 14 to 16 points. Canned applesauce that scores 15 points or less in this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Fairly good finish" means that the apple particles are evenly divided; the product may lack granular characteristics; may be slighly pasty or slightly "salvy" but not decidedly pasty or decidedly "salvy"; and the apple particles are not hard.

(iii) Canned applesauce that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(4) Absence of defects. The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from particles of seeds, flecks of bruised apple particles, peel, carpel tissue, dark particles from the blossom end of apples, and from other objectionable particles.

(i) Canned applesauce that is practically free from defects may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Practically free from defects" means that the number, size, and color of the aforesaid defects present do not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(ii) Canned applesauce that is fairly free from defects may be given a score of 14 to 16 points. Canned applesauce that scores 14 points in this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means that the number, size and color of the aforesaid defects present do not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) Canned applesauce which fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(5) Flavor. (i) Consideration is given under the factor of flavor to the natural flavor and aroma of the apple ingredient and the apparent relationship of acidity to sweetness.

(ii) Canned applesauce that possesses a good flavor may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Good flavor" means that the product has a distinct, desirable, characteristic, normal flavor and odor, and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind (including but not being limited to those caused by oxidation, fermentation, and caramelization). The canned applesauce shall test not less than 16.5 degrees Brix.

(iii) Canned applesauce that possesses a fairly good flavor may be given a score of 14 to 16 points. Canned applesauce that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good flavor" means that the product may be lacking in good flavor and odor; is practically free from the flavor of overripe fruit; and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors (including but not being limited to those caused by oxidation, fermentation and serious caramelization).

(iv) Canned applesauce which fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(e) Definition of term used in these standards. (i) "Degrees Brix" in canned applesauce is the refractometric sucrose value of the filtrate determined in accordance with the International Scale of Refractive Indices of Sucrose Solutions without correction for insoluble solids or acids.

(f) Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned applesauce, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of such containers fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and, with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, is within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 984—HANDLING OF WALNUTS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA, OREGON, AND WASHINGTON

AMENDMENT OF PACK SPECIFICATIONS AND MINIMUM STANDARDS

On July 22, 1950, notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 4719) regarding amendment of the pack specifications and minimum standards heretofore prescribed by the Walnut Control Board, in accordance with § 984.3 of the marketing agreement and order regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington (7 CFR 984.1 et seq.), which marketing agreement and order are effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

In said notice, opportunity was afforded interested persons to submit to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., written data, views, or arguments for consideration prior to the final approval by the Secretary of the proposed amendment of the pack specifications and minimum standards. No such written data, views, or arguments were submitted, and the time for filing same has now expired.

After further consideration of all relevant data it is concluded that the proposed rule as set forth in the aforesaid notice should be approved. Therefore, it is hereby ordered, that subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) of § 984.101 be changed to read as follows:

(3) Large size. Walnuts of which not over 12 percent by count pass through a round opening $^{79}/_{64}$ inches in diameter, except that, for walnuts of the Eureka variety and type, such limiting dimension as to diameter shall be $^{78}/_{64}$ inches.

It is hereby found that it is necessary to make this order effective not later than the 15th day after the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The beginning of walnut harvest will be about the first of September, which is less than 30 days distant, and all handlers desiring to take advantage of the less rigid requirement will have a reasonable time for adjustment of their machinery. Information regarding the Board's recommendation has been made available to handlers in the production area.

Approved at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of August 1950, to be effective on and after 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., on the 15th day after the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

[SEAL] S. R. SMITH,
Director,
Fruit and Vegetable Branch.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter A—Civil Air Regulations

[Supp. 7, Amdt. 47]

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

DANGER AREA ALTERATIONS

The danger area alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required. Title 14, § 60.13–1 is amended as follows:

1. The Peason Ridge, Louisiana, area, published on February 9, 1950, in 15 F. R. 705, is deleted.

2. The Albany, New York, area, published on June 23, 1949, in 14 F. R. 3393, and on July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4287, is deleted.

3. The Oswego County, New York, area, published on April 11, 1950, in 15 F. R. 2036, is amended by changing the "Time of Designation" column to read: "Continuous, April 11, 1950 through March 15, 1951".

4. The Albemarle Sound, North Carolina, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and on July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4287, is amended by deleting areas (4) and (5).

5. The Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and on July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4287, is deleted.

6. The North Carolina Coastal, North Carolina, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and on July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4287, is deleted.

7. The Wanchese, North Carolina, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and on July 16, 1949, in 14 F. R. 4287, is deleted.

8. A Muskogee (Camp Gruber), Oklahoma, area is added to read:

Name and location (chart)	Description by geographical coordinates	Designated altitudes	Time of designation	Using agency
MUSKOGEE (Camp Gruber) (Little Rock Chart).	A circular area having a radius of 2½ miles, centered at lat. 35°42'00" N, long. 95°05'00"	Surface to 10,000 feet.	Sunrise to sunset, 7 days a week.	125th Fighter Squadron, Oklahoma Air National Guard, Tulsa, Oklahoma.

9. The Haven, Wisconsin, area, published on March 30, 1950, in 15 F. R. 1783, is amended by changing the "Time of Designation" column to read: "0600 to 2000, daily".

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interprets or applies sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective on August 18, 1950.

[SEAL] DONALD W. NYROP,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

Subchapter C—Miscellaneous Excise Taxes

[Regulations 3, Admt.]

PART 182—INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Regulations 3, approved March 6, 1942 (26 CFR, Part 182) as amended, are hereby amended as follows:

a. Sections 182.1, 182.6 (a–1), 182.8, 182.10 (d), 182.15 (a), 182.21 (c), 182.44, 182.49 (b), 182.63, 182.64, 182.65, 182.71, 182.72, 182.74, 182.82, 182.82a, 182.83, 182.85, 182.119, 182.126, 182.195, 182.199, 182.203, 182.271, 182.272, 182.274, 182.282, 182.290, 182.291, 182.292, 182.293, 182.295, 182.296, 182.297, 182.302, 182.304, 182.305, 182.308, 182.312, 182.313, 182.314, 182.317, 182.318, 182.319, 182.320, 182.321, 182.327, 182.328, 182.400 (c), 182.404, 182.405, 182.407, 182.408, 182.4081, 182.408m, 182.423, 182.447, 182.483, 182.495, 182.498, 182.500, 182.511a, 182.513, 182.515, 182.524, 182.565 – 182.572, 182.574a, 182.574e, 182.611, 182.625, 182.648a, 182.719, 182.749, 182.759, 182.785, 182.813, 182.847, 182.877, 182.879, and 182.997 are amended;

b. Sections 182.6 (a–4)–(a–9), 182.74a, 182.82b, 182.82c, 182.119a, 182.119b, 182.119c, 182.271a, 182.281a, 182.282a, 182.303a, and 182.407a are added; and

c. Sections 182.201, 182.288, 182.289, 182.294, 182.307, 182.309, 182.326, 182.499, 182.574f, 182.643 (c) and 182.718 are revoked.

REGULATIONS SUPERSEDED

§ 182.1 Premises and equipment heretofore approved. All establishments covered by the regulations in this part and the equipment therein, heretofore established and approved, may continue to operate if constructed and equipped so as to afford adequate security and protection to the revenue. The district supervisor may, at any time, require the proprietor to make changes therein conforming to the provisions of the regulations in this part, if deemed necessary to safeguard the revenue or to permit more economical and efficient supervision by Government officers. All establishments hereafter constructed and all changes in existing establishments or equipment heretofore approved must be in conformance with the regulations in this part.

DEFINITIONS

§ 182.6 Definitions. As used in this part, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings as herein defined:

* * * * *

(a–1) "Tank car" shall mean a railroad tank car conforming to the requirements of this part. "Tank truck" shall mean a motor driven tank truck, including tank truck trailer, conforming to the requirements of this part: Provided, That any tank truck used for the conveyance of untax-paid alcohol, specially denatured alcohol, or completely denatured alcohol shall be of a capacity of not less than 1,000 gallons.

* * * * *

(a–4) "Gallon" or "Wine gallon" shall mean a United States gallon of liquid measure equivalent to the volume of 231 cubic inches.

(a–5) "I. R. C." shall mean the Internal Revenue Code.

(a–6) "Proof" shall mean the ethyl alcohol content of a liquid at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, stated as twice the percent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

(a–7) "Proof gallon" shall mean the alcoholic equivalent of a United States gallon at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, containing 50 per cent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

(a–8) "Proof spirits" shall mean that alcoholic liquor which contains 50 per cent of ethyl alcohol by volume at 60 degrees Fahrenheit and which has a specific gravity of 0.93418 in air at 60 degrees Fahrenheit referred to water at 60 degrees Fahrenheit as unity.

(a–9) "U. S. C." shall mean the United States Code.

ESTABLISHMENT, LOCATION, AND USE

§ 182.8 Experimental industrial alcohol plants. Experimental industrial alcohol plants may, in the discretion of the Commissioner, be established for a specific and limited period of time for the purpose of experimentation in, or development of processes and sources of materials from which alcohol may be produced, or in manufacturing processes in which alcohol is produced. The Commissioner may exempt the proprietor, in so far as consistent with the law, from any of the provisions of the regulations in this part, and the Commissioner may authorize the district supervisor to issue permit to operate under such conditions and restrictions as the Commissioner may deem proper: Provided, That application Form 1431, and bond, Form 1432–A, shall be filed.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.10 Industrial alcohol bonded warehouses. * * *

(d) Discretion of district supervisor. The district supervisor may disapprove any application for the establishment of a bonded warehouse not to be located on the premises of an industrial alcohol plant, or in any locality where the safety of the alcohol and the revenue would be endangered, or where satisfactory evidence as to the need for the warehouse is not submitted, or where the prospective volume of business is insufficient to warrant the expense of supervision of the warehouse by Government officers.

CONSTRUCTION

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANTS

§ 182.15a Equipment not in buildings. Notwithstanding other provisions of the regulations in this part, the district supervisor may, in his discretion, approve industrial alcohol plants consisting, in whole or in part, of equipment and apparatus not located in a room or building, if, in his opinion, the location and construction are such that the safety of the alcohol and the revenue are not endangered. High-wine tanks, receiving tanks, and other tanks used for the receipt and storage of alcohol must be enclosed and protected in the manner required by § 182.44. An adequate number of electric floodlights shall be installed for properly lighting the premises at night. Any other protective measures deemed essential by the district supervisor or Commissioner may be required.

§ 182.21 Windows in receiving and wine rooms. * * *

(c) Extension of requirements. The district supervisor may require any other windows in the receiving and wine rooms to be protected by iron bars or shutters, or both, when deemed necessary to safeguard the alcohol.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

* * * * *

BONDED WAREHOUSES

§ 182.44 Storage tanks as warehouses. The district supervisor may approve permanent storage tanks not located within a room or building as a bonded warehouse or a part thereof: Provided, That such tanks are constructed, equipped, and enclosed in conformity with the following requirements:

* * * * *

(f) Additional requirements. The district supervisor may require, in any case in which he deems it necessary, either the installation of electric floodlights for lighting the tank enclosure or the maintenance of watchman services or both or other protective measures or devices.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 316, 357, 358, 364, 373, as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 3101, 3105, 3124, 3170)

DENATURING PLANTS

§ 182.49 Construction. * * *

(b) If not located on industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse premises. If the denaturing plant is not to be located on the premises of an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse, pursuant to authority granted by the district supervisor, it may consist of a building or a room or floor of a building, in which case it must be completely separated from all other buildings, rooms and floors, which are not a part of the denaturing plant, by solid unbroken floors and walls of substantial construction, extending from the ground or floor to the roof or ceiling. The doors and other openings must open into a public street or into the yard connected with the denaturing plant, or into an elevator shaft or common passageway partitioned off from all other businesses, and leading either directly or through another elevator shaft or similar passageway to the street or yard in accordance with the provisions of § 182.41.

EQUIPMENT

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANTS

§ 182.63 Scales for weighing packages. Where packages are to be filled in the receiving room, suitable and accurate scales for weighing such packages of alcohol must be provided by the proprietor. The beams or dials of such scales must indicate weight in one-half pound graduations: Provided, That if packages are to be filled with exactly 1, 2, 5 and 10 wine gallons, which would require weighing in terms of pounds and ounces, scales indicating weight in one-ounce graduations must be provided.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364, 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.64 Weighing tanks for alcohol. Where alcohol is to be removed from the receiving room by pipeline the proprietor must provide in the receiving room one or more suitable weighing tanks, unless such removals are limited to transfer of alcohol to a weighing tank in a bonded warehouse or denaturing plant operated by the proprietor on the same or contiguous premises as provided by § 182.407. Weighing tanks for alcohol shall be constructed of metal and shall be stationary and each such tank shall be calibrated and equipped with a suitable measuring device whereby the contents will be correctly indicated. The district supervisor will have the calibration of each weighing tank verified by a Government officer. The inlet and outlet pipe connections of each weighing tank must be fitted with valves so constructed that they can be secured with Government locks, and any other openings in such tanks must be so constructed that they can be closed and similarly locked. Each weighing tank shall be mounted on accurate scales and shall have plainly and legibly painted thereon the words "Weighing Tank," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons. Beams or dials of tank scales must be graduated to enable readings to be made as follows: To the nearest ½ pound for scales having a capacity not to exceed 2,000 pounds; to the nearest 1 pound for scales having a capacity of over 2,000 pounds, but not exceeding 6,000 pounds; to the nearest 2 pounds for scales having a capacity over 6,000 pounds, but not exceeding 20,000 pounds; to the nearest 5 pounds for scales having a capacity over 20,000 pounds, but not exceeding 50,000 pounds; and to the nearest 10 pounds for scales having a capacity over 50,000 pounds. Except in the case of scales having a capacity of 2,000 pounds or less, where alcohol is to be gauged for taxpayment not less than twenty per centum of the total capacity of the weighing tank scale may be entered into the tank for gauging for determination of tax: Provided, That lots of spirits weighing 1,000 pounds or less must be weighed on scales having ½ pound graduations.

§ 182.65 Scales or measuring tanks for distilling materials. The proprietor must provide on the industrial alcohol plant premises suitable and accurate scales for the weighing of grain and other nonliquid distilling materials received and used: Provided, That where the proprietor receives shipments of materials by rail or motor carrier, the shipper's weights appearing on the bill of lading or invoice may be recorded as the amount received; and, in such cases, track or truck scales for weighing the materials received need not be furnished. If the industrial alcohol plant is equipped with meal hoppers mounted on scales the meal may be weighed therein. If molasses or other liquids are used as distilling materials, a suitable weighing or measuring tank must be provided for determining the quantity thereof.

§ 182.71 Fermenters. Each fermenter must be constructed of wood, metal, concrete, or other suitable material, and so arranged as to permit proper examination thereof. Each fermenter must have plainly and legibly painted thereon the word "Fermenter," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons, depth in inches, and, if of uniform dimensions and standing on end, the capacity per inch of depth. Where such tanks are of irregular dimensions the proprietor shall furnish the district supervisor a table, in duplicate, showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth. The district supervisor will retain one copy of the table and forward the other to the storekeeper-gauger, who will retain the same in the Government office. The proprietor shall provide an accurate measuring rod marked in inches, or a steel tape, suitable for use in determining the contents of such tanks. When deemed necessary, the accuracy of the proprietor's calibration of fermenters will be verified by Government officers.

§ 182.72 Washwater receiving tanks. If carbon dioxide is recovered and the washwater is to be utilized in the manufacture of alcohol, there must be provided a sufficient number of washwater receiving tanks, which shall be constructed of metal. Each such tank shall be equipped with a suitable measuring device whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated. There must be painted on each tank the words "Washwater Receiving Tank," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons. The outlet valve must be equipped for locking with a Government lock. Such tanks, if connected with low-wine tanks, stills, or other distilling apparatus, shall be connected by means of fixed metal pipelines for the purpose of transferring the washwater. If the washwater is not used in the manufacture of alcohol as provided by § 182.391, washwater receiving tanks need not be provided.

§ 182.74 General requirements for tanks. All tanks used as receptacles for spirits between the outlet of the first condenser or worm and the receiving tanks shall be constructed of metal, and shall be equipped with a suitable measuring device whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated. Where such tanks are of irregular dimensions the proprietor shall furnish to the district supervisor a table, in duplicate, showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth. The district supervisor will retain one copy of the table and forward the other to the storekeeper-gauger who will retain the same in the Government office. All tanks must be so constructed as to permit proper examination thereof, and so arranged as to leave an open space of not less than three feet between the top and the roof or floor above. Where tanks are equipped with manholes or valves in the top, which are required to be locked with Government locks, suitable walks or landings with steps or stairways leading thereto, must be provided near the top of such tanks in order that ready access may be had by Government officers to the manholes. District supervisors may require such walks or landings, with steps or stairways leading thereto to be installed at plants now operating, where the tanks have manholes or valves in the top, which are required to be locked with Government locks, and the present method of gaining access to the top of the tanks is hazardous or unsafe to Government officers who are required to open and close the locks on such manholes or valves or to inspect the contents of the tanks from time to time. All tanks, such as low-wine tanks, high-wine tanks, heads and tails tanks, fusel oil tanks, distilled water tanks, and similar equipment, shall each have plainly and legibly painted thereon its designated use, serial number, and capacity in gallons. Manheads, inlets, and outlets of the tanks and all openings in the distilling apparatus and equipment, except column stills, whereby access may be had to the alcohol must be provided with facilities for locking with Government locks or otherwise securely fastened or sealed: Provided, That distilled water storage tanks need not be so equipped unless a pipeline is connected therewith for the conveyance of distilled water to contiguous establishments, as provided in § 182.76. Tanks used as receptacles for alcohol may be permanently connected with pipelines for the conveyance thereto of air and distilled water, but the distilled water pipeline must be affixed to the top of the tanks, and may not extend into the tank. Such pipelines must be equipped with a control valve which may be locked with a Government lock. Pipelines used for the conveyance of air must also be equipped with a check valve located near the point of entry to the tank in order to effectively prevent abstraction of alcohol from the tank. Other pipelines, except those used for the conveyance of alcohol, may not be permanently connected with such tanks.

§ 182.74a Measuring devices for alcohol tanks. All tanks used as receptacles for alcohol shall be equipped with floats and counterweights and a proper scale whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated, except that tanks located in a locked room may be equipped with suitable and accurate glass gauges: Provided, That the use of other suitable and accurate measuring devices may be authorized by the Commissioner upon application of the proprietor. The openings in the tanks for cords or wires for floats and counterweights must be no larger than are absolutely necessary to accommodate the cords or wires. Where tanks equipped with floats and counterweights are in a locked room, the scale should be extended to the outside of the room to permit ascertainment of the contents of the tank and thus guard against overflow without the necessity of opening the door of the room. Where tanks in a locked room are equipped with glass gauges, a properly barred and secured window must be provided in the wall or door to permit reading the gauge.

or welded to the outlet of the tank and to the pipeline, or by means of short, detachable hose connections, if the end of the pipeline is fitted with a valve so constructed that it may be secured with a Government lock. Pipelines likewise may be connected with tank cars and tank trucks by short, detachable hose connections. A separate pipeline must be installed to each plant to which transfer of alcohol by pipeline is authorized, or for the loading or unloading of tank cars, except as provided in § 182.513. Such pipelines may be connected only to the tanks to or from which transfer of alcohol is authorized, except, where two or more tanks are used for the same purpose, manifold connections may be used. Manifold connections must be equipped with valves which may be secured with Government locks and so arranged as to permit complete control of alcohol into or out of each tank. There shall be painted on each pipeline extending to and from a manifold a legend showing the kind and serial number of the tank or the type and registry number of the contiguous establishment with which the pipeline is connected. Where there are separate pipelines leading directly from a tank to a tank car loading zone or an establishment on the same or contiguous premises, a legend indicating the use of such pipeline or the type and registry number of the contiguous establishment shall be painted thereon. Pipelines shall be kept painted in the colors required by § 182.83.

§ 182.82a Preparation for sealing flanges. Where flanges and other detachable connections in the pipelines (other than unions or valves) are not secured by welding or brazing, and are not to be secured by Government locks, they must be prepared by the proprietor for sealing with "cap" seals by one of the following methods:

(a) By applying a "castle" nut with a hole drilled through the bolt, so the sealing wire may be passed through like a cotter pin, two such nuts being applied to each flange, opposite each other, unless the flange is secured with an uneven number of bolts, in which case three such nuts will be applied at approximately equal distances apart;

(b) By drilling a small hole through both nut and bolt, two such bolts and nuts being drilled for each flange, opposite each other, unless the flange is secured with an uneven number of bolts, in which case three such nuts will be applied at approximately equal distances apart; or

(c) By drilling a hole through the corner of the head of the bolt and one through the corner of the nut so the two will be sealed together, two such bolts and nuts being drilled for each flange, opposite each other, unless the flange is secured with an uneven number of bolts, in which case three such nuts will be applied at approximately equal distances apart.

§ 182.82b Preparation for sealing unions. Where unions in the pipelines are not secured by welding or brazing, and are not to be secured by Government locks, they will be prepared for sealing by enclosing the same in a metal box with holes for the sealing wire.

§ 182.82c Preparation for sealing valves. Where small gate and globe valves in the pipelines are secured by welding or brazing, and are not to be secured by Government locks, they may be prepared for sealing by inclosing the packing nut and hood with a metal band or strap drawn tightly around the flange and fitted for reception of the sealing wire, or by drilling a hole in the packing nut so that sealing wire may be passed through and drawn around the pipe and sealed. Where valves have large flanges, such flanges may be sealed in the same manner as other flanges.

§ 182.83 Colors for pipelines. The pipelines in the industrial alcohol plant used for conveying the following substances shall be kept painted in the colors indicated:

Black	Alcohol.
Blue	Vapor, low wines, high wines or other unfinished spirits.
Red	Fermented mash or beer, or other distilling material.
Gray	Molasses or other unfermented material.
Brown	Spent beer or slop.
Yellow	Fusel oil.
Yellow with red stripe	Ether.
Yellow with green stripe	Butyl alcohol.
Yellow with purple stripe	Acetone.
White	Water.
Aluminum	Steam.
Orange	Air.
Olive green	Carbon dioxide.
Purple	Refrigerants.

These colors are intended for such pipelines only, and are prescribed for the purpose of distinguishing such pipelines from each other and from all other pipelines on the premises which are painted but for which colors are not prescribed. The painting in one of the prescribed colors, or a color similar thereto, of a pipeline for which a color is not prescribed is prohibited. Pipelines for ether, butyl alcohol, and acetone shall be "striped" conspicuously in the prescribed colors. Pipelines for which colors are not prescribed may be painted in sections of not more than 3 feet in contrasting colors.

BONDED WAREHOUSES

§ 182.85 Weighing tanks. Where alcohol is to be removed by pipeline to tank cars for shipment or to a denaturing plant on the same premises, or to a rectifying plant or tax-paid bottling house on contiguous premises, or to a tank truck for transfer in bond to another bonded warehouse (as authorized by § 182.550) or to a denaturing plant (as authorized by § 182.560), or where alcohol is to be received in tank cars, or received in tank trucks from an industrial alcohol plant (as authorized by § 182.400) or from another bonded warehouse (as authorized by § 182.550), the proprietor of the warehouse must provide for use in weighing such alcohol one or more suitable weighing tanks, constructed and secured in accordance with the provisions of § 182.65.

QUALIFYING DOCUMENTS

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANTS, BONDED WAREHOUSES, AND DENATURING PLANTS

§ 182.119 Consent, Form 1602. Where the proprietor is not the owner in fee of the lot or tract of land on which the industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse is situated, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or is not the owner of the distilling apparatus and equipment, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, he must file the written consent, Form 1602, of the owner and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, or other encumbrancer, conditional sales vendor, or prior lessee, that the premises or property may be used for the purpose of distilling alcohol or the storage of alcohol subject to the provisions of law, and expressly stipulating that the lien of the United States for taxes and penalties shall have priority over any title, right, or interest of the person giving the consent, and that, in the case of the forfeiture of the premises or property, or any part thereof the title to the same shall vest in the United States, discharged from any such right, title, or interest.

§ 182.119a Execution of consent. The consent shall be executed on Form 1602, in triplicate, in accordance with the instructions printed thereon, duly acknowledged before an officer authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds, properly recorded and submitted to the district supervisor with the application, Form 1431, and made a part thereof. The acknowledgment and certificate of recordation shall be executed on all three copies of the Form.

§ 182.119b New consent required. A new consent will be required for each year beginning on the first day of January, unless the consent is given for a definite period of time exceeding 1 year, in which event the consent should be given in terms to expire at the beginning of an annual period, January 1. If, after such consent is filed, the premises are extended and the proprietor is not the owner in fee, unencumbered, of the additional premises, or additional apparatus and equipment are installed, and the proprietor, or the party who executed the consent then in effect is not the owner thereof, unencumbered, consent on Form 1602 must be filed for such additional premises or apparatus and equipment. A new consent will also be required whenever there is a change in proprietorship, including succession for a temporary period by a lessee or fiduciary, unless the consent procured by the predecessor specifically covers operation of the premises by his successor or assigns. In the event of failure of such consent the proprietor will be no longer qualified, unless an indemnity bond on Form 1604 is filed.

§ 182.119c Bond in lieu of consent. Where consent on Form 1602 cannot be obtained or where the industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse was sold at a judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, and there exists a right of redemption from such sale, the proprietor may file in lieu of such consent, an indemnity bond, Form 1604, as provided in §§ 182.122 to 182.124.

§ 182.126 List of stockholders. In the case of corporations and similar legal entities, there must be submitted with Form 1431 at the commencement of business and annually thereafter on May 1 a list of the names and addresses of all stockholders and other persons interested in the corporation or other legal entity and the amount and nature of the stockholding or other interests of each, whether such interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for him: Provided, That where more than 100 persons are interested in the corporation or other legal entity as stockholders or otherwise there need be furnished only the names and addresses and the amounts and nature of the stock holding or other interest of the 100 persons having the largest ownership or other interest in each of the respective classes of stock or other interests, except where more complete information shall be specifically required by the Commissioner or district supervisor: Provided further, That where there has been no change in the stockholders and other persons interested in the corporation or other legal entity, or in the extent of the stock holding or other interest of such persons, the proprietor may furnish on May 1 of each year a certified statement, in triplicate, to that effect in lieu of the prescribed list. Where a corporation operates two or more industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses or denaturing plants or other plants situated in the same supervisory district, or wholly owns one or more subsidiaries operating plants under the internal revenue laws and regulations so situated, and in connection with qualifying for the operation of one of such plants files a list of stockholders and other persons interested, as prescribed herein, the filing of an additional list for each plant will not be required, provided that in lieu of such additional list there is submitted with the application, Form 1431, a certificate, in triplicate, definitely identifying the corporation and plant with whose application the list of stockholders and other persons interested in filed, and giving the date of the filing thereof.

BONDS AND CONSENTS OF SURETY

§ 182.195 Investigation. The district supervisor will cause an investigation to be made of all the facts stated in the surety's affidavit on Form 33 and supporting documents.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.199 Consents of surety. Consents of surety to a change in the terms of a bond must be executed on Form 1533, in as many copies as are required of the bond which they affect, by the principal and all sureties with the same formality and proof of authority to execute as are required for the execution of bonds. Form 1533 will be used by obligors on collateral bonds as well as those on surety bonds. The Form 1533 must properly identify the bond affected thereby and state specifically and precisely what is covered by the extended terms thereof. If the surety is a corporation, the consent may be executed by an agent or attorney in fact duly authorized so to do by power of attorney filed by the surety with the appropriate district supervisor, or the consent may be executed by the home office officials of such corporate surety; except that, in cases where the saving of time is an element, the consent may be executed by an agent or attorney in fact where the home office officials, by specific direction, order its execution. A copy of such specific direction should be attached to each copy of such consent.

§ 182.203 Additional or strengthening bonds. In all cases where the penal sum of a bond on file and in effect is not sufficient, computed as prescribed by law and regulations, the principal may give an additional or strengthening bond in a sufficient penal sum, provided the surety thereon is the same as on the bond already on file and in effect; otherwise a new bond covering the entire liability will be required. Such additional or strengthening bonds being filed to increase the bond liability of the principal and the surety, they are in no sense substitute bonds, and the district supervisor will refuse to approve any additional or strengthening bond where any notation is made thereon, intended, or which may be construed, as a release of any former bond, or as limiting the amount of either bond to less than its full penal sum. Additional or strengthening bonds must show the current date of execution and the effective date in the blank spaces provided therefor. Such bonds must have marked thereon, by the obligors at the time of execution, "Additional Bond" or "Strengthening Bond."

REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING CHANGES IN NAME, PROPRIETORSHIP, CONTROL, LOCATION, PREMISES AND EQUIPMENT; AND IN THE TITLE TO INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT OR BONDED WAREHOUSE PROPERTY OR THE ENCUMBRANCE THEREOF

CHANGE IN LOCATION, PREMISES, CONSTRUCTION, APPARATUS, ETC.

§ 182.271 Changes in equipment. Where changes are to be made in the apparatus and equipment of an industrial alcohol plant, bonded warehouse, or denaturing plant, or in the denatured alcohol recovery system at a denatured alcohol user's premises, the permittee shall first secure approval thereof by the district supervisor pursuant to application, in triplicate, setting forth specifically the proposed changes: Provided, That emergency repairs may be made under the supervision of the Government officer, where one is assigned to the premises, without prior approval of the district supervisor. Where such emergency repairs are made, the permittee shall file immediately a report thereof, in triplicate, with the district supervisor. If the apparatus or equipment referred to in § 182.272 is to be removed the application shall include information showing: (a) The date of original purchase; (b) the name and address of the vendor; (c) a description of the article including model and serial numbers, if any; (d) original cost; (e) present book value and method used in determining such value; and (f) proposed disposition of the article. Changes covered by an approved application will be made under the supervision of the Government officer, where one is assigned to the premises. Upon completion of any change made under his supervision, the Government officer will authorize the removal of the dismantled equipment, and the use of the new or repaired equipment, and submit a report, in triplicate, of the changes to the district supervisor.

§ 182.271a Installation of additional equipment. Where the proprietor of the industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse is the owner in fee unencumbered, or has procured the consent of the owner or of any encumbrancer, of the premises, apparatus and equipment thereon, and additional apparatus and equipment are installed, the proprietor, if he is not the owner in fee unencumbered of the additional apparatus and equipment, must procure the consent of the owner or any encumbrancer, in accordance with § 182.119, or in lieu thereof file an indemnity bond, Form 1604, equal to the appraised value of the entire premises, including the additional apparatus and equipment, in accordance with § 182.122. If such proprietor has filed an indemnity bond, Form 1604, in lieu of the consent of the owner or any encumbrancer, in accordance with the provisions of § 182.122, and the value of the premises is increased by the installation of additional apparatus or equipment, an additional or new bond on such form to cover the increase in value will be required, in accordance with provisions of § 182.122.

§ 182.272 Indemnity bond covering removal of equipment. If apparatus or equipment on industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse premises on which a lien has attached, under section 3112, I. R. C., for taxes on alcohol produced or stored, which has not been tax-paid or withdrawn for a tax-free purpose, is to be removed from the premises without replacement thereof with apparatus or equipment that will become a real fixture in law of an equal or greater value than the apparatus or equipment to be removed, (a) where the proprietor is the owner of the premises in fee unencumbered, whether the property is realty or personalty; (b) where consents, in accordance with § 182.119, are necessary and have been obtained, whether the property is realty or personalty; and (c) where an indemnity bond, Form 1604, is on file and the property is personalty; the permittee must file with the district supervisor an indemnity bond on Form 1617, in triplicate, in a penal sum equal to the value of the apparatus or equipment to be removed, or equal to the excess in value of the old apparatus or equipment to be removed over the value of the new apparatus or equipment to be substituted therefor: Provided, That if such value, or difference in value, as the case may be, is less than $5,000, no indemnity bond will be required: Provided further, That no indemnity bond will be required to cover the removal of equipment from the industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse premises to another bonded premises if the two premises are controlled by the same interests. The value of the apparatus of equipment to be removed, or the difference between the value of such apparatus or equipment and the value of the apparatus or equipment to be substituted therefor, will be determined by appraisal in the manner prescribed in § 182.270 (a).

CHANGE IN TITLE TO INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT OR BONDED WAREHOUSE PROPERTY OR THE ENCUMBRANCE THEREOF

§ 182.274 Change of title. Where the title to the lot or tract of land upon which an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse is located is changed by sale, judicial or otherwise, or where there is any change in the ownership of the premises or the apparatus or equipment, subsequent to the approval of bond, Form 1432–A, the permittee is no longer qualified. If the permittee desires to qualify for further operation when such a change occurs, he must file an amended application, Form 1431, together with the necessary consent, Form 1602, or, in lieu of such consent, an indemnity bond, Form 1604. In addition to such amended application and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 1604, the district supervisor may, in his discretion require the permittee to file a new bond, Form 1432–A.

ACTION BY DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 182.281a Authority to approve. District supervisors are authorized to approve all applications, bonds, consents of surety, and other qualifying documents required by this part and to issue required permits in connection therewith, except applications for use of specially denatured alcohol or tax-free alcohol by the United States or governmental agency thereof, and applications, bonds, and qualifying documents required in connection with establishment and operation of an experimental industrial alcohol plant.

§ 182.282 Investigation of applicant. Before approving any application filed by any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, the district supervisor will cause such inquiry or investigation to be made as may be deemed necessary to ascertain whether such individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, or any person owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of the business, has been convicted of, or has compromised, an offense of the nature specified in § 182.106 (b), or is precluded by the provisions of § 182.106 (a) from receiving a permit, and shall make a thorough investigation to determine the applicant's qualifications to hold a permit and whether he is entitled to the confidence of the Department. The district supervisor's inquiry and investigation in connection with an application on Form 1431 for permit to operate an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse, in conjunction with which an application was filed for permit under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, shall include the procurement of sufficient information to pass upon the application for such permit.

§ 182.282a Disapproval of application. Where, after hearing or opportunity for hearing, as provided in §§ 182.220 to 182.224, the district supervisor finds that the applicant is not entitled to the confidence of the Department, or is precluded by section 3114 (a), Internal Revenue Code, and § 182.106 (a) from receiving a permit, he shall note his disapproval on all copies of the application with brief statements of his reasons therefor and dispose of the application, bond, and supporting documents in accordance with the provisions of § 182.293.

§ 182.290 Approval of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds, upon examination of the inspection report and the qualifying documents, that the applicant has complied in all respects with requirements of law and this part, and if the bond and consent, if any, or the indemnity bond filed in lieu thereof, properly may be approved, and if the applicant is entitled to a permit, he will note his approval on all copies of the application, plat and plans, bonds and consent or indemnity bond, and shall dispose of the qualifying documents and inspector's report in accordance with § 182.293. In the case of experimental industrial alcohol plants, applications, bonds, and one set of other qualifying documents will be forwarded to the Commissioner, together with a copy of the inspection report, for approval or disapproval in accordance with § 182.8. The district supervisor will refer trade names to the Commissioner for approval before approving applications for basic permits involving use of trade names and will refer to the Commissioner all formulae and labels for denatured alcohol, articles, or other products manufactured therefrom, except rubbing alcohol compound manufactured in accordance with § 182.147 (a). Issuance of basic permits on Form 1433 covering original establishment of industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses or denaturing plants will be withheld pending assignment of basic permit and registry number by the Commissioner in accordance with §§ 182.291 and 182.305. The district supervisor will advise the Commissioner in advance of final action on such permits insofar as possible, in order that basic permit and registry numbers may be assigned to prevent undue delay in the proposed operations. Symbols and numbers for other basic permits will be assigned by the district supervisor in accordance with the provisions of § 182.291.

§ 182.291 Symbols and numbers for basic permits. All basic permits, except those issued on Forms 1433, 1444, and 1486, shall bear a symbol indicating the class of permit, the recognized abbreviation of the State in which the business is to be conducted, and a serial number; the symbol, State abbreviation, and the serial number being separated by dashes, as "TF–NY–123." The serial number of permits to deal in specially denatured alcohol will be followed by the capital letter "D" in parentheses. All basic permits shall be numbered serially according to the class of permit in the order of issuance. Amended and renewal permits shall be given the same number as the original permit. A separate series of numbers will be used for each State in the case of permits, Form 145, Form 1447, Form 1476, and Form 1481. Serial numbers of basic permits heretofore issued will be retained and new permits will be assigned numbers in sequence thereto. Basic permit numbers previously assigned to permittees will not be reassigned to other permittees. In the case of basic permits, Form 1433, the district supervisor shall insert the permit and registry numbers assigned by the Commissioner on the form. The prescribed symbols are as follows:

IAP—Industrial alcohol plant.
BW—Bonded Warehouse.
DP—Denaturing plant.
TF—User of tax-free alcohol (other than the United States or governmental agency thereof).
SDA—Dealer in specially denatured alcohol (The letter "D" being inserted in parentheses after the serial number, as "SDA–NY–3(D)").
SDA—User of specially denatured alcohol (including the recovery of specially denatured alcohol, or recovery of articles in the form of denatured alcohol).
SDR—Dealer in specially denatured rum (the letter "D" being inserted in parentheses after the serial number, as "SDR–NY–4(D)").
SDR—User of specially denatured rum.
CDAR—Recovery of completely denatured alcohol.
C—Carrier transporting tax-free or specially denatured alcohol.
US–TF—Use of tax-free alcohol by the United States or governmental agency thereof.
US–SDA—Use of specially denatured alcohol by the United States or governmental agency thereof.

§ 182.292 Disapproval of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds, after hearing or opportunity for hearing, as provided in §§ 182.220 to 182.224, that the applicant has not complied in all respects with the requirements of the law and this part, or that the situation of the premises is such as would enable the applicant to defraud the United States, or that the bond should be disapproved, he will note his disapproval on the application, and will dispose of the qualifying documents in accordance with § 182.293. Where an application or bond or consent of surety is disapproved by the district supervisor and an appeal is taken to the Commissioner, the district supervisor will furnish the Commissioner with full information respecting the reasons for disapproval, including (a) in the case of a violation of the nature specified in § 182.106 (b), the nature of the offense, the names of the offenders, the date of conviction or acceptance of an offer in compromise, and (b) in the case of an offense which precludes the issuance of a permit under § 182.106(a), the nature, date and place of the offense. The Commissioner will grant a hearing in the matter if the parties so request at the time appeal is taken upon the action of the district supervisor.

§ 182.293 Disposition of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor approves the qualifying documents, he will forward to the applicant one copy of the documents with the original of the basic permit, and original of the permit issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (if any), forward to the Commissioner the originals of the qualifying documents and a copy of the basic permit, and permit issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (if any), together with copies of inspection reports, and retain one copy of such qualifying documents and permits for the file of the applicant. If the qualifying documents are disapproved, the district supervisor shall return to the applicant by registered mail one copy of the disapproved application, together with all copies of the qualifying documents and all copies of the bond without action thereon. The district supervisor shall forward one copy of the disapproved application to the Commissioner and will advise him fully respecting the disapproval thereof. He shall retain the remaining papers in his files. If the applicant is not entitled to a basic permit, the district supervisor will, upon disapproval of the application therefor, return all copies of the qualifying documents to the applicant without action thereon.

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 182.295 Procedure applicable. The provisions of §§ 182.281a to 182.293 respecting the action required of district supervisors in connection with applications for original basic permits will be followed, to the extent applicable, where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name, or in the trade name or style, or where the premises are to be operated initially under a trade name or style or where there is a change in the proprietorship, location, premises, construction, apparatus and equipment, or in the type of premises, or in the title to the property in the case of an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse, or where such property becomes subject to a mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance, or where operations are permanently discontinued.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.296 Indemnity bond, Form 1617. Where changes to be made in industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse premises, buildings, or former industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse premises, buildings, or equipment or apparatus, are such as to require the filing of an indemnity bond on Form 1617, as provided in §§ 182.270 and 182.272, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of a satisfactory bond, note his approval thereon, forward the original to the Commissioner, forward one copy to the permittee, and retain one copy.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364, 373, as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124, 3170)

§ 182.297 Applications and reports covering changes. Where an application covering changes in apparatus or equipment, or in construction or use of a room or building is approved by the district supervisor, he will retain one copy of the application and forward one copy to the permittee and one copy to the Commissioner; and, when reports covering changes in apparatus, and equipment are received from Government officers in accordance with § 182.271, he will retain one copy and promptly forward one copy to the Commissioner. Similar disposition will be made of reports received from the permittee covering emergency repairs of apparatus and equipment.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

DISCONTINUANCE OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT, BONDED WAREHOUSE, OR DENATURING PLANT

§ 182.302 District supervisor's action. If the district supervisor finds, upon receipt of the report from the storekeeper-gauger or other Government officer, that all alcohol or denatured alcohol produced or deposited has been withdrawn, and properly accounted for, he will note his approval on all copies of Form 1431, forward the original thereof, together with a copy of the Government officer's report, to the Commissioner and return a copy to the proprietor. Where discontinuance of a bonded warehouse or denaturing plant was ordered by the Commissioner, the district supervisor will forward to the Commissioner a complete report of the removal of the alcohol or specially denatured alcohol from the premises, together with a copy of the Government officer's report of the inspection of the proprietor's and storekeeper-gauger's records and the removal of the Government property from the premises.

ACTION BY COMMISSIONER

ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 360, 364, 373, as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3114, 3124, 3170)

§ 182.304 Review of documents. The Commissioner will review the action of the district supervisor relating to the establishment of industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses and denaturing plants, and will determine whether such action is in conformity with the requirements of law and this part. If not, the Commissioner will advise the district supervisor as to the necessary action to be taken.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.305 Registry and permit numbers. Upon request therefor by district supervisors the Commissioner will assign registry and permit numbers to industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses and denaturing plants. Such plants will be numbered serially, irrespective of states or districts. Symbols and num-

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 182.308 Procedure applicable. The provisions of § 182.304 respecting the action of the Commissioner in connection with the applications for original basic permits will be followed, to the extent applicable, where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name, or in the trade name or style, or in the proprietorship, location, premises, construction, apparatus and equipment, or in the type of premises or operations, or in the title to industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse property or where such property becomes subject to a mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

TERMINATION OF BONDS

§ 182.312 Direct export bonds. Bonds covering a specific lot of alcohol withdrawn for direct export, Form 1497, will be terminated by the district supervisor by marking the bond "Canceled," followed by the date of cancellation, upon receipt of evidence of the landing of the alcohol in a foreign country or satisfactory proof of loss at sea: Provided, That where there is a deficiency, the bond will not be canceled by the district supervisor until the liability for the deficiency has been terminated. Continuing bonds covering alcohol withdrawn from time to time for direct export, Form 1495, will be similarly terminated by the district supervisor where no further withdrawals are to be made thereunder: Provided, That the account kept with the bond in accordance with § 182.611 shows that there are no outstanding charges.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 336, 358, 364, 373, as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2885, 3105, 3124, 3170)

§ 182.313 Transportation for export bonds. Bonds covering a specific lot of alcohol withdrawn for transportation for export, Form 1498, will be terminated by the district supervisor by marking the bond "Canceled," followed by the date of cancellation, upon receipt of Form 691 from the collector of customs showing the clearance of the alcohol: Provided, That where there is a loss in transit, the bond will not be canceled until the liability for the loss has been terminated. Continuing bonds for alcohol withdrawn from time to time for transportation for export, Form 1496, will be similarly terminated by the district supervisor where no further withdrawals are to be made thereunder: Provided, That the account kept with the bond in accordance with § 182.611 shows that there are no outstanding charges.

§ 182.314 Bonds covering transportation to customs manufacturing bonded warehouse. Bonds covering a specific lot of alcohol withdrawn for transportation to a customs manufacturing warehouse, Form 1459, will be terminated by the district supervisor by marking the bond "Canceled," followed by the date of cancellation, upon receipt from the collector of customs of Form 3923 showing the deposit of the alcohol in the customs manufacturing bonded warehouse: Provided, That were there is a loss in transit the bond will not be canceled by the district supervisor until liability for the loss has been terminated. Continuing bonds covering alcohol withdrawn from time to time for transportation to customs manufacturing bonded warehouse, Form 1460, will be similarly terminated by the district supervisor where no further withdrawals are to be made thereunder, provided that the account kept with the bond in accordance with § 182.625 shows that there are no outstanding charges.

§ 182.317 Action on application for notice of termination of bond supporting a basic permit. When an application for notice of termination, as to future operations, of a bond supporting a basic permit is filed with the district supervisor in a case where a superseding bond has been approved, or the principal has discontinued business, as provided in § 182.310 the district supervisor will make a complete examination of records to determine whether there is any liability then due and payable outstanding against the bond. He will also ascertain from the collector of internal revenue whether there are any outstanding unpaid assessments or demands for taxes, penalties and interest on alcohol or denatured alcohol under the bond. If it is found that violations of law or regulations occurred during the period covered by the bond, and that penalties incurred or fines imposed have not been paid, or that outstanding assessments, or demands for payment of taxes, chargeable against the bond have not been paid, or otherwise settled, the district supervisor will disapprove the application, unless the liability is settled. If the district supervisor finds that the bond properly may be terminated he will issue notice of termination in accordance with provisions of § 182.320.

§ 182.318 Action on application for notice of termination of indemnity bonds. When an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond, Form 1604, as to future operations of an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse is filed with the district supervisor in a case where a superseding bond has been approved, or the principal has discontinued business, as provided in § 182.311, the district supervisor will take action in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 182.317, in the case of an application for termination of the bond supporting a basic permit. When an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond, Form 1617, covering changes in buildings or equipment is filed with the district supervisor, he will make a complete inquiry to determine whether all alcohol, the tax on which constituted the lien in relation to which the bond was given, has been tax-paid or removed for a lawful tax-free purpose. If the district supervisor finds that the bond properly may be terminated, he will issue notice of termination thereof in accordance with § 182.320.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.319 Action on application for notice of termination of other bonds. When an application for notice of the termination of export bonds (Forms 1495 and 1497), transportation for export bonds (Forms 1496 and 1498), bonds covering transportation of alcohol to the customs manufacturing bonded warehouse (Forms 1459 and 1460), and bonds covering withdrawals for use on vessels and aircraft (Forms 1660 and 1661) is filed with the district supervisor, he will examine his records to determine whether the required evidence of foreign landing or loss at sea, or clearance, or deposit in the customs manufacturing bonded warehouse, or use, as the case may be, of the alcohol withdrawn under the bond has been filed, and if there were deficiencies, whether liability therefor has been terminated. If the district supervisor finds that the bond properly may be terminated, he will issue notice of termination thereof in accordance with § 182.320.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.320 Notice of termination. Upon cancellation as to liability for future transactions, of a bond supporting a basic permit, or an indemnity bond, Form 1604, as to liability for future operations of an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse, the district supervisor will execute notice of bond termination on Form 1490 where a superseding bond has been approved, or notification of release of bond on Form 1491 where the principal has discontinued business, as the case may be, in quadruplicate (in quintuplicate if there are two sureties), and will forward the original together with one copy of the application for notice of termination to the Commissioner, one copy to each obligor on the bond, and retain one copy on file with the bond to which it relates. Similar action will be taken by the district supervisor on approval of an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond on Form 1617. Where an application for the issuance of notice of the termination of a direct export bond, transportation for export bond covering transportation to a customs manufacturing bonded warehouse, or bond covering withdrawal for use on vessels and aircraft, has been filed with the district supervisor, and he has found that there has been compliance with the provisions of §§ 182.312, 182.313, 182.314, or 182.314a, as the case may be, he will issue Form 1490 or Form 1491, as provided above.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.321 Release of collateral. The release of collateral pledged and deposited with the United States to support bonds required in this part will be in accordance with the provisions of Department Circular 154, revised (31 CFR, Part 225), subject to the conditions governing the issuance of notices on Forms 1490 and 1491 of the termination of such bonds. Unless a superseding bond has been approved, the release of the security in the case of such bonds will not be authorized until all alcohol or denatured alcohol or articles produced or withdrawn, while such bonds were in force and effect, have been lawfully disposed of. Accordingly, collateral may not be released while any alcohol or denatured alcohol or articles remain an outstanding charge against a bond supporting a basic permit or indemnity bond, Form 1604. When an application for release of collateral deposited in support of a bond supporting a basic permit on Form 1433, or an indemnity bond, Form 1604, is received by the district supervisor, he will determine whether all outstanding liabilities have been settled, and unless a superseding bond has been approved whether all alcohol or denatured alcohol produced, withdrawn, used, etc., while the bond was in effect has been lawfully disposed. Collateral pledged and deposited to support an indemnity bond, Form 1617, covering changes in industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse buildings or equipment may be released upon approval of a superseding bond or upon lawful removal of all alcohol the tax on which constituted the lien in relation to which the bond was given. Upon approval of an application for the issuance of notice of termination of a bond supporting basic permit on Form 1433, or indemnity bonds (Form 1604 or 1617) supported by collateral security, the district supervisor will fix the date or dates on which a part or all of the security may be released. In fixing such date, the district supervisor will satisfy himself that the interest of the Government will not be jeopardized. The date of release for collateral supporting a bond on Form 1432–A will ordinarily be fixed at not less than 6 months from the date of determination that there is no outstanding liability against the bond, and collateral pledged for other bonds will ordinarily be released upon issuance of notice on Form 1490 or Form 1491. Collateral pledged and deposited to support a bond supporting a basic permit on Form 1433, or indemnity bond (Form 1604 or 1617), will not be released by the district supervisor unless all liability thereunder has been terminated. At any time prior to the release of collateral security, the district supervisor may, in his discretion and for proper cause, further extend the date of the release of such security for such additional period of time as, in his judgment, may be appropriate.

(Interprets or applies sec. 1126, 44 Stat. 122; 6 U. S. C. 15; 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

OPERATION OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANTS

§ 182.327 Brandy. Where it is desired to produce brandy under Regulations 5 (26 CFR, Part 184) governing the production of brandy at fruit distilleries under the exemptions from law afforded fruit distillers by virtue of section 2825, I. R. C., the industrial alcohol plant must be discontinued in accordance with §§ 182.276 to 182.279 and reestablished and operated as a fruit distillery in accordance with Regulations 5.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

§ 182.328 Experimental operations. Persons authorized, pursuant to provisions of § 182.8, to conduct experimental operations for a temporary period of time in connection with the production of alcohol are required to submit such reports and maintain such records as the Commissioner shall, in each case, prescribe. The alcohol produced in an experimental industrial alcohol plant shall be disposed of or denatured with such denaturing materials and quantities thereof as may be authorized by the Commissioner, under such conditions and restrictions as he may impose. Alcohol so denatured shall be used or disposed of in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner in each case.

TAX-PAYMENT, REMOVAL, AND TRANSFER OF ALCOHOL FROM RECEIVING ROOM

(c) Withdrawn in packages, tank cars or tank trucks, upon payment of tax as authorized by § 182.408i to § 182.408l or taxpaid and transferred by pipeline to a rectifying plant or a taxpaid bottling house on contiguous premises as authorized by §§ 182.408m, and 182.574a to 182.574e.

* * * * *

DRAWING OFF, GAUGING, AND REMOVAL OF ALCOHOL

§ 182.404 Drawing off alcohol. When alcohol is to be drawn from a receiving tank, the storekeeper-gauger will see that the valve in the pipeline controlling the flow of alcohol into the tank is closed and locked before the alcohol in the tank is reduced and proofed and that such valve remains closed and locked until the alcohol has been removed. Whenever alcohol is to be drawn from receiving tanks or transferred into or out of other tanks secured with Government locks, the storekeeper-gauger will open and close the locks, but it shall be the duty of the proprietor to manipulate the stopcocks or valves controlling the flow of the alcohol. The storekeeper-gauger assigned to the receiving room is required to be present and personally supervise the drawing off of all alcohol in the receiving tanks, the marking and branding of all packages of alcohol filled therefrom, and the stamping of all packages tax-paid or exported directly from the receiving room. All mechanical duties connected with such operation shall be performed by the proprietor.

§ 182.405 Gauging of alcohol. All alcohol drawn from receiving tanks will be carefully gauged by the proprietor by weighing and proofing the spirits in accordance with this part and the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186), and the details thereof shall be entered by the proprietor on Form 1440. Entries shall be made as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines and in accordance with the instructions printed on the form or issued in respect thereto and as required by this part. Packages shall be marked in accordance with this part. The storekeeper-gauger will verify the proof, weight, and gallonage of all alcohol withdrawn and will see that the instructions in the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186) respecting the proofing of alcohol are strictly followed in order that the proof may be accurately determined. The proof of the alcohol shall be adjusted to a whole or complete degree of proof before being removed from the receiving tanks: Provided, That the proof of alcohol transferred by pipeline, tank truck, tank car, tank ship or tank barge, to industrial alcohol bonded warehouses or denaturing plants need not be so adjusted. The alcohol in the receiving tank must be thoroughly agitated before taking the proof. The proof so ascertained will be regarded as the proof of alcohol run into all packages filled from the receiving tank and all alcohol removed from such tank by pipeline or in tank cars or tank trucks. However, the proof of the alcohol in the receiving tank will be checked several times while the alcohol is being drawn off. The proprietor shall provide, at his own expense, accurate hydrometers, hydrometer cups and thermometers for the purpose of gauging alcohol. Alcohol to be transferred by pipeline or in railroad tank cars or tank trucks for shipment shall be gauged in a weighing tank as provided in § 182.407.

§ 182.407 Weighing alcohol removed by pipeline. Where alcohol is to be removed by pipeline, it will be weighed in a weighing tank before removal from the receiving room, except that where alcohol is transferred by pipeline from the receiving tanks to a bonded warehouse or denaturing plant on industrial alcohol plant premises, and no weighing tank is provided in the receiving room, the alcohol may be run into weighing tanks at the bonded warehouse or denaturing plant, respectively, and weighed therein. The alcohol must, in any event, be weighed once in connection with its transfer to the bonded warehouse or the denaturing plant. Where alcohol is transferred from receiving tanks to tank cars or tank trucks one or more weighing tanks must be provided in the receiving room and all alcohol removed by pipeline must be weighed in such weighing tanks, and the correct weight will be recorded by the proprietor on the appropriate form. The storekeeper-gauger will balance the scales upon which the weighing tank is mounted before the alcohol is run into such tank.

§ 182.407a Testing tank scales. Scales used for weighing alcohol in lots of not over 500 gallons will be tested from time to time under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger by means of test weights provided in accordance with § 182.66. Such scales will be tested by placing the prescribed test weights on the scales and checking the weight registered on the beam of the scales. The test weights will then be removed without disturbing the beam and the tank filled with alcohol or water to the same weight, whereupon the test weights will again be placed upon the scales, the alcohol or water being retained in the tank and the weight registered on the beam checked. This operation will then be continued until the scales have been checked in 500-pound notches at all weights for which the scales are used. Proprietors will have scales used for weighing alcohol in larger lots tested and their accuracy certified by State, county, or city departments of weights and measures or by a responsible scale company at intervals of not more than 6 months. Government officers will see that tank scales are so tested. Government officers will also check, at least once a month, the gallonage represented to be on the scale against the gallonage indicated by a volumetric determination of the contents of the tank. Such volumetric determination will be made by (a) accurately ascertaining the proof and the temperature of the alcohol and the depth of the liquid in the tank by means of a steel tape, (b) multiplying the depth in inches by the capacity of the tank for 1 inch of depth, and (c) correcting the volume to 60 degrees Fahrenheit in accordance with table 7 of the Gauging Manual. The corrected gallons thus determined will be compared with the gallons represented by the reading of the beam of the scale. Unless the volumetric check is within 0.5 percent of the quantity shown to be in the tank, the Government officer will take appropriate steps to have the accuracy of the scale verified. In addition to the volumetric check described, Government officers will, as frequently as conditions indicate the necessity therefor, test tank scales of large capacity in the manner prescribed for smaller capacity tank scales, except that such tests on large capacity tank scales may be made when they contain considerable quantities of liquid. In this case the beam will be carefully balanced, and test weights will be added to the load, one at a time, until the range of 500 pounds is checked. At any time an officer finds a scale to be inaccurate, he will require the proprietor to have such scale adjusted and its accuracy certified.

§ 182.408 Pipeline removals. Pipelines used for the transfer of alcohol from the receiving room must conform to the requirements of § 182.82, except that alcohol may be transferred into a tank car or tank truck by means of a hose connection where the connecting hose is in full view of the Government officer throughout its entire length. The valves on such pipelines shall be kept closed and locked at all times, except when necessary to be opened for the transfer of alcohol. The keys to all locks on the valves of pipelines shall remain at all times in the custody of the storekeeper-gauger. Alcohol may be transferred by pipeline only under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

TAX-PAID WITHDRAWALS IN TANK CARS OR TANK TRUCKS

§ 182.4081 Procedure. Whenever the proprietor desires to withdraw alcohol from receiving tanks for taxpayment and removal in tank cars or tank trucks, the procedure prescribed by §§ 182.566 to 182.574 will be followed.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 357, 358, 358, 360, 364, 447, as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3103, 3105, 3106, 3112, 3124, 3656)

TAX-PAID WITHDRAWALS BY PIPELINE TO RECTIFYING PLANT OR TAX-PAID BOTTLING HOUSE

§ 182.408m Procedure. Where a pipeline has been installed and approved for the transfer of alcohol, after tax payment, direct from the weighing tank in the industrial alcohol plant to a contiguous rectifying plant or tax-paid bottling house and the proprietor desires to so transfer alcohol the procedure prescribed by §§ 182.574a to 182.574e and 182.574g will be followed.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 357, 358, 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3103, 3105, 3106, 3124)

SUSPENSION OF OPERATIONS

§ 182.423 Notice, Form 124. Any proprietor desiring to suspend operations for an indefinite period or for a definite period of seven days or more at his industrial alcohol plant shall give notice on Form 124, in duplicate, stating when he will suspend operations. The notice will be delivered to the storekeeper-gauger in charge at the plant.

CHANGE IN PROPRIETORSHIP

§ 182.447 Completion of operations required. When a succession, or actual change, in the person or persons operating the industrial alcohol plant shall take place, other than a change brought about by operation of law, as by the appointment of an administrator, executor, receiver, trustee, assignee, or other fiduciary, the business of producing alcohol must be completely finished by the person or persons who have been carrying on the business, and the operations suspended before the business shall be undertaken, or begun by the succeeding proprietor, unless by an agreement between the outgoing proprietor and the successor it shall be arranged to transfer from the former to the latter, at midnight of a certain day, all mash and beer, or other distilling material, on hand, and all unfinished alcohol outside the receiving room at that hour: And provided, That, in either case, the application, bond and other qualifying documents of the successor have been approved and a basic permit issued to take effect on the day next succeeding that at the close of which the transfer is made. Such documents should, therefore, be submitted to the district supervisor in sufficient time to permit such approval and issuance of basic permit for the date desired. The successor shall not commence operations until all documents required for his qualification as proprietor of an industrial alcohol plant have been approved and a basic permit has been issued. All finished alcohol on hand in the receiving room at the time of the change must be drawn off, gauged, marked, and removed by the outgoing proprietor in the name under which it was produced before any alcohol is deposited in the receiving room or withdrawn from the industrial alcohol plant by the successor.

OPERATION OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL BONDED WAREHOUSES

LIEN FOR TAX ON ALCOHOL

§ 182.483 Certificate of discharge of lien. Any person claiming any interest in any such land or building may apply to the district supervisor for a duly acknowledged certificate to the effect that such lien is discharged, and, if the district supervisor determines that any such lien is extinguished, he shall issue such certificate, and any such certificate may be recorded.

RECEIPT OF ALCOHOL FROM INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT NOT ON WAREHOUSE PREMISES AND FROM ANOTHER BONDED WAREHOUSE IN SAME SUPERVISORY DISTRICT

§ 182.495 Method of deposit—(a) Alcohol received in packages. Alcohol received in packages may be deposited in the warehouse in the packages in which it is received, or the contents of the packages may be dumped into storage tanks if report is made thereof on Forms 1440, 1443–A, and 1443–B, as provided in §§ 182.643, 182.645, and 182.646. If packages of alcohol containing exactly 1, 2, 5, and 10 wine gallons are received, the warehouse must be equipped with scales capable of weighing in terms of ounces, from which the weight, to hundredths of a pound, can be calculated in accordance with § 182.509 (a).

(b) Alcohol received in tank cars. Alcohol received in tank cars must be deposited, after gauging, in warehouse storage tanks. If it is desired to receive alcohol in bond in railroad tank cars, proper railroad siding facilities must be provided at the bonded warehouse. When alcohol is received in tank cars, the seals must not be broken, or any alcohol removed, except in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the bonded warehouse.

(c) Alcohol received in tank trucks. Undenatured ethyl alcohol received in tank trucks shall be gauged and transferred immediately to storage tanks. The seals must be broken by the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the bonded warehouse and no undenatured ethyl alcohol may be removed from the tank truck, except in the presence of such officer.

REMOVAL OF ALCOHOL FROM STORAGE OR WEIGHING TANKS

§ 182.498 Gauge on withdrawal. Alcohol withdrawn from storage or weighing tanks in the warehouse will be gauged in accordance with the provisions of § 182.405.

§ 182.500 Testing of scales. The storekeeper-gauger shall balance the scales before either empty or filled packages are weighed, and will frequently test by means of test weights provided in accordance with § 182.66, the accuracy of such scales. Weighing tank scales will be tested in accordance with provisions of § 182.407a. In case the scale is found inaccurate for any reason the storekeeper-gauger will not permit it to be used while it is in such condition.

APPROVED CONTAINERS

§ 182.511a Tank trucks. Undenatured ethyl alcohol may be transported in bond by tank trucks only where suitable storage tanks are provided on the receiving bonded warehouse premises. The manhole covers, outlet valves, and all other openings on tank trucks used for shipping undenatured alcohol in bond shall be equipped with facilities for sealing so that the contents cannot be removed without showing evidence of tampering. Serially numbered cap seals for use on such tank trucks shall be furnished by the Government and affixed by the storekeeper-gauger. Immediately after filling, such tank trucks shall be sealed in such a manner as will secure all openings affording access to the contents of the tank. Tax-paid alcohol may be transported by tank trucks equipped with a route board similar to that prescribed for railroad tank cars in § 182.511.

§ 182.513 Pipeline removals. Pipelines used for removal of alcohol from the bonded warehouse, in accordance with the provisions of this part must conform to the requirements of § 182.82, except that alcohol may be transferred into a tank car or tank truck by means of a hose connection where the connecting hose is in full view of the Government officer throughout its entire length. The locking of valves and the supervision of removals shall be in accordance with § 182.489.

MARKS, BRANDS, AND STAMPS

§ 182.515 General. Before weighing empty casks or packages, officers will examine them and will not permit the use of any cask or package which contains or has on its interior or exterior, any substance that will prevent the correct ascertainment of tare. The tare of the empty package will be determined immediately preceding the filling of the same in all cases: Provided, That, the tare of a number of packages may be ascertained and marked thereon before any are filled but not exceeding the number which are to be filled the same day or the following day. If the packages are not to be filled until the following day, they must be locked in the receiving room or bonded warehouse after being weighed and marked. The tare or weight of the empty package will be marked on the package as soon as ascertained and recorded on the entry form. All packages of spirits, when filled, shall be further marked and branded as provided by this part, and where such packages are taxpaid, the taxpaid stamps will be affixed thereto and canceled in the manner prescribed in § 182.527.

§ 182.524 Other marks. The marks required by this part to be on packages must be placed on the Government head of a package or side of a case, and no other marks may be shown, with the exception of those required or authorized to be affixed by Federal law and regulations. All marks required by this part on Government heads of packages or sides of cases must be in color distinctly in contrast with the color of the background on which they are placed. The proprietor may show on the Government head, or end of packages, the brand or trade name, provided the brand or trade name will not interfere with or detract from the required Government markings. Caution notices, etc., required by Federal law and regulations, may be placed on the Government head of packages, or side of cases, but such notices must be so placed as to not obscure the markings prescribed by this part.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

TAX-PAYMENT OF ALCOHOL IN PACKAGES

§ 182.565 Removal of alcohol. The proprietor shall deliver all copies of Form 1440 with the tax-paid stamps to the storekeeper-gauger, who will verify the data thereon, and, if no discrepancies are found, he will note the serial numbers of the stamps on the retained copy of Form 1440, and affix his signature to each stamp. Facsimiles of signatures of storekeeper-gaugers may be affixed by the use of hand stamps, care being taken to use only such ink as will neither fade nor blur. The storekeeper-gauger will then return the stamps to the proprietor, who will stamp and mark the packages or cases, as provided in §§ 182.525, 182.527 and 182.528 after which the proprietor will immediately remove the alcohol from the premises or to his tax-paid storeroom, if one has been provided. When the alcohol has been removed, the storekeeper-gauger will forward one copy of Form 1440 to the district supervisor, and return two copies to the proprietor, who will retain one copy as a permanent record, as provided in §182.643(h) and if he so desires, furnish the remaining copy to the vendee.

TAX-PAID WITHDRAWALS IN TANK CARS OR TANK TRUCKS

§ 182.566 Gauging of alcohol. Whenever the proprietor desires to withdraw alcohol from receiving or storage tanks for taxpayment and removal in tank cars or tank trucks, the alcohol will be run into a weighing tank, where it will be gauged and then run into such conveyances. The proprietor shall prepare Form 1440, in quadruplicate, giving the details of the gauge and submit all copies to the storekeeper-gauger for examination. If the forms are in proper order, the storekeeper-gauger will retain one copy and return three copies to the proprietor.

§ 182.567 Application for certificate of taxpayment, Form 1594. The proprietor will execute Form 1594 (appropriately modified, if shipment is to be made in a tank truck), in duplicate, if the vendee is located in the same supervisory district, and in triplicate if the vendee is located in a different supervisory district. He will then forward all copies of Form 1594 with all copies of Form 1440 accompanied by proper remittance for the tax to the collector of internal revenue. The collector may, in his discretion, accept uncertified checks in payment of the tax on alcohol contained in tank cars or tank trucks where certificates are issued in lieu of stamps.

§ 182.568 Certificate of taxpayment, Form 1595. The collector will issue Form 1595 (appropriately modified, if shipment is in tank trucks), execute his certificate of taxpayment and enter the serial number of the certificate (in the column provided for entering the serial numbers of tax-paid stamps) on all copies of Form 1440. The collector will fill in all the required data in the blank spaces on the certificate except those provided in the lower left corner for the verification of the storekeeper-gauger, and date and sign the certificate in the same manner as a tax-paid stamp is required by § 182.564 to be filled in, dated, and signed. This certificate is not negotiable and shall not be used on any tank car or tank truck other than the one specified therein. The collector will enter on the original and the copy, or copies, of Form 1594, in the space provided, the serial number, date, and amount of the certificate issued. The collector will retain one copy of Form 1440 and the original copy of Form 1594. He will mail or deliver the certificate (Form 1595) and the original and remaining copies of Form 1440 to the vendor or his designated agent, in accordance with the vendor's request in Form 1594. The collector will send one copy of the application (Form 1594) to the district supervisor. Where the vendee is located in a different supervisory district, the collector will send the remaining copy of Form 1594 to the supervisor of the district in which the vendee is located.

§ 182.569 Bill of lading. The proprietor shall incorporate in the bill of lading a description of Form 1595 as follows:

Form 1595, Serial No. ----------
Owner and No. of car (or truck) ---------- Vendor ----------
Address ----------
Vendee ----------
Address ----------

§ 182.570 Verification and affixing of certificate. The proprietor shall give the certificate of tax-payment (Form 1595), the bill of lading, and all copies of Form 1440 to the storekeeper-gauger. The storekeeper-gauger will verify the contents of the tank car or tank truck and the description of Form 1595 in the bill of lading, determine the security of the route board, and, if no discrepancies are found, he will note the serial number of the certificate on Form 1440, and date and sign the certificate in the space provided therefor. The proprietor shall then affix the certificate to the route board in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger. The certificate must be securely affixed to the route board with good adhesive and with a tack in each corner, whereupon it will be canceled in the same manner as a tax-paid stamp after attachment to a package. The certificate will then be covered with a coating of transparent shellac, varnish, or lacquer to prevent its easy removal or alteration.

§ 182.571 Release of tank car or tank truck. When the certificate of tax-payment has been affixed to the route board and canceled, and the conveyance sealed by the proprietor (who shall furnish the necessary locks or seals), the storekeeper-gauger will return the bill of lading to the proprietor and release the tank car or tank truck for shipment. The storekeeper-gauger will forward one copy of Form 1440 to the district supervisor and deliver two copies to the proprietor, who will forward one copy to the vendee, and retain the remaining copy as a permanent record in accordance with § 182.643.

§ 182.572 Procedure when tank car or tank truck is empty; scalping certificate. When alcohol is received in a tank car or tank truck by the proprietor of a rectifying plant, tax-paid bottling house, or other vendee authorized to receive tax-paid alcohol, the vendee shall, at the time the car is emptied, scalp the certificate of tax-payment on Form 1595 by cutting out all of that portion of the certificate within the border. The vendee shall then send the scalped portion of the certificate to the supervisor of the district in which the vendee is located and shall obliterate the remainder of the certificate. If the tank car or tank truck is received without the certificate attached thereto, the vendee shall note such fact on the bill of lading and immediately notify the district supervisor who will cause such inquiry to be made respecting the shipment and receipt of the conveyance as he may deem appropriate. Where a conveyance with the certificate missing is received by a plant where a storekeeper-gauger is assigned, such storekeeper-gauger will furnish a complete report to the district supervisor.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

TAXPAID WITHDRAWALS BY PIPELINE TO RECTIFYING PLANT OR TAXPAID BOTTLING HOUSE

§ 182.574a Gauging of alcohol. Where a pipeline has been installed and approved for the transfer of alcohol, after tax payment, direct from the weighing tank in the industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse to a contiguous rectifying plant or taxpaid bottling house as provided in § 182.82 and the proprietor desires to so transfer alcohol, the alcohol will be run into a weighing tank where it will be gauged in accordance with § 182.405. The proprietor shall prepare Form 1440, in quadruplicate, giving the details of the gauge and submit all copies to the storekeeper-gauger for examination. If the forms are in proper order, the storekeeper-gauger will retain one copy and return three copies to the proprietor. The outlet of the weighing tank will be closed and locked before the alcohol to be tax-paid is transferred to the tank, and the inlet of the tank will be closed and locked after the alcohol has been run into the tank. Both the outlet and inlet will be kept locked, pending payment of tax and receipt of the collector's certificate of tax payment, Form 1595, as hereinafter provided.

§ 182.574e Transfer of alcohol. When a certificate of tax payment has been affixed to the weighing tank and cancelled, the storekeeper-gauger will unlock the outlet valve and permit the proprietor to transfer the alcohol by pipeline to the rectifying plant or taxpaid bottling house specified in the certificate. The alcohol shall be transferred only under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger at the industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse and the storekeeper-gauger at the rectifying plant or tax-paid bottling house who shall verify by weight or measure the quantity received. After the alcohol has been transferred, the storekeeper-gauger will forward one copy of Form 1440 and the cancelled Form 1595 to the district supervisor and deliver two copies of Form 1440 to the proprietor who will deliver one copy of such form to the rectifier or bottler.

EXPORTATION OF ALCOHOL FREE OF TAX

§ 182.611 Account with continuing export bonds. The district supervisor will keep an account with each continuing direct export bond, Form 1495, and each continuing transportation for export bond, Form 1496. In the account with each continuing direct export bond, the principal will be charged with the internal revenue tax on each lot of alcohol withdrawn thereunder for exportation and will receive credit for each lot concerning which satisfactory evidence of landing in a foreign country has been received. In the account of each continuing bond for transportation for export, the principal will be charged with the internal revenue tax on each lot of alcohol withdrawn under the bond for transportation for export and will receive credit for each lot concerning which evidence of clearance from the port of export is received from the collector of customs. In case a shortage in any shipment is reported, credit will be entered for the actual quantity exported or cleared for exportation, as the case may be, but no credit will be entered for the loss until liability therefor has been terminated.

TRANSFER OF ALCOHOL TO CUSTOMS MANUFACTURING BONDED WAREHOUSES

§ 182.625 Account with continuing bond, Form 1460. The district supervisor will keep an account with each bond on Form 1460, in which account the principal will be charged with the tax on each lot of alcohol removed for transportation to a customs manufacturing bonded warehouse and will receive credit for the tax on each lot concerning which satisfactory proof of the deposit in such warehouse is received. If there has been a loss of alcohol in transit, the account may be credited with the quantity of alcohol deposited in the manufacturing warehouse upon receipt from the collector of customs on Form 3923 (Bureau of Customs) covering the deposit. However, the loss shall not be credited until liability for tax due thereon has been terminated. When no further withdrawals are to be made under the bond, the district supervisor will, if there are no outstanding charges, cancel the bond in accordance with the provisions of § 182.314.

RECORDS AND REPORTS OF PROPRIETOR

§ 182.648a Record of warehouse receipts to be kept by proprietor. Every proprietor of an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse who sells, or offers for sale, alcohol or other distilled spirits by warehouse receipts shall keep a separate record, and render a monthly transcript, of all purchases and sales of warehouse receipts on Form 52–F. There need not be reported on Form 52–F transactions in warehouse receipts not involving the purchase or sale of alcohol or other distilled spirits, such as the receipt from a warehouseman of warehouse receipts covering the deposit of alcohol or other distilled spirits in his warehouse or the surrender of warehouse receipts for the transfer, in bond, of alcohol or other distilled spirits, to another warehouse. Entries on Form 52–F shall be made as indicated by the headings of the columns and lines of the form and in accordance with the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto, and as required by this part. The provisions of § 182.648 (a) with respect to the time of making entries, and of § 182.648 (e) with respect to forms to be provided by users, are hereby made applicable to Form 52–F. The provisions of § 182.648 (b) with respect to a separate record of serial numbers of cases are hereby made applicable to Form 52–F with respect to serial numbers of packages and cases purchased or sold by warehouse receipts. The monthly transcript on Form 52–F shall be forwarded to the district supervisor on or before the tenth day of the succeeding month. The physical removal of alcohol from an industrial alcohol plant shall be reported as prescribed in § 182.456. The physical removal of alcohol from an industrial alcohol bonded warehouse shall be reported on Forms 1443–A and 1443–B in accordance with the provisions of §§ 182.645 and 182.646, respectively. The physical receipt and disposition of alcohol at tax-paid premises shall be reported on Form 52–E or Record 52, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions of § 182.648.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 327, as amended, 328, 358, 364, 391; 26 U. S. C. 2857, 2859, 3105, 3124, 3254)

OPERATION OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL DENATURING PLANTS

DENATURING OF ALCOHOL

§ 182.719 Adding denaturants. All alcohol shall be denatured in approved mixing tanks, except that, (a) by special permission of the district supervisor, denaturing in packages will be permitted to the extent of preparing special formulas that are occasionally produced at the plant and in no case exceeding 10 packages (not exceeding 600 gallons in the aggregate) of any one formula on the same day: Provided, That specially denatured alcohol formulas 18, 24, 25, and 25 alternative, may, upon notice to the district supervisor, be mixed in packages in any quantity; (b) a limited quantity of completely denatured alcohol may be prepared in packages, provided special permission of the district supervisor has first been obtained; (c) in cases of emergency only denaturing may be done in tank cars if permission is first obtained from the district supervisor; and (d) the Commissioner may approve other methods of adding denaturants.

TRANSFER IN PACKAGES AND TANK CARS OF DENATURED ALCOHOL BETWEEN DENATURING PLANTS

§ 182.749 Intradistrict transfers. When denatured alcohol is shipped to another denaturing plant in the same supervisory district, in packages and tank cars, the proprietor will prepare two copies of Form 1467 (in addition to the copies prepared at the time the packages were filled pursuant to § 182.783) and four copies of Form 1473 reporting the shipment. When completely denatured alcohol is so shipped, the Forms 1473 will be modified to read "Completely," instead of "Specially," denatured alcohol. The proprietor will deliver all copies of the forms to the storekeeper-gauger in charge who shall at the time of shipment forward one copy each of Forms 1467 and 1473 to the supervisor of the district and two copies of Form 1473 and one copy of Form 1467 to the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the receiving denaturing plant, and return the remaining copy of Form 1473 to the proprietor for filing in accordance with § 182.788. After receipt of the denatured alcohol at the denaturing plant, forms will be disposed of in accordance with § 182.749a.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

EXPORTATION OF SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL

§ 182.759 Approval of consent of surety and issuance of permit. The district supervisor will examine the consent of surety and if it is properly executed as provided in §§ 182.184 to 182.190 and § 182.758, he will approve the consent, forward the original thereof to the Commissioner, retain a copy and return a copy to the permittee together with the permit. If there is nothing indicating that the specially denatured alcohol will not be exported in the manner stated in the application, and proper certificates of clearance and landing have been filed in accordance with § 182.767, for previous shipments for export, the district supervisor will issue the permit on Part II of Form 1545, and will return all copies thereof to the applicant.

RECORDS AND REPORTS OF PROPRIETOR

§ 182.785 Form 1453–A. When specially denatured alcohol is shipped to the United States or a governmental agency thereof, the proprietor of the denaturing plant will prepare Form 1453–A in triplicate. Where shipment is made in a tank truck the data required by § 182.754b or § 182.754c, as the case may be, to be entered on Form 1473 will be entered on Form 1453–A for such transaction. The proprietor will give all copies of Form 1453–A to the storekeeper-gauger who will check them with the records and permit and if found to agree therewith he will initial all copies. He will mail one copy of Form 1453–A to the consignee. In the case of tank truck shipments, he will enclose one copy in a sealed envelope addressed to the government officer to whom the specially denatured alcohol is consigned and give the same to the driver of the tank truck for delivery to such officer. He will forward a copy of Form 1453–A to the supervisor of the district in which the consignor's premises are located. He will return the remaining copy to the proprietor for filing in accordance with § 182.788. Upon receipt of the specially denatured alcohol, the receiving government officer will execute the certificate of receipt on Form 1453–A, after noting thereon any loss or deficiency in the shipment, and will forward it to the district supervisor specified at the bottom of the form. When specially denatured alcohol is not received within a reasonable time after shipment, or where any material or unexplained difference exists between the kind and quantity shipped and that received, the district supervisor shall investigate each case and take appropriate action in respect thereto. In addition, the district supervisor will check daily, on receipt, the Form 1453–A covering tank truck shipments, and make any inquiry which he deems necessary with respect to any discrepancy. In the event of failure to receive a form from the consignee within the time normally required for the truck to make the shipment and the form to be received by mail, the district supervisor will make appropriate investigation.

OPERATIONS BY DEALERS IN SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL

DISPOSITION OF SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL

§ 182.813 Sale. Specially denatured alcohol may be sold by bonded dealers holding basic permit, Form 1476, to manufacturers using specially denatured alcohol, and to other bonded dealers in specially denatured alcohol, pursuant to withdrawal permit, Form 1485, or Form 1477, as the case may be. Bonded dealers may also furnish samples of specially denatured alcohol to manufacturers, other bonded dealers, and to prospective permittees pursuant to sample permit, Form 1512: Provided, That in the case of samples, where the quantity involved in any case does not exceed 8 fluid ounces, permit, Form 1512, will not be required. Sales of specially denatured alcohol may also be made to the United States or governmental agencies thereof pursuant to permit, Form 1486. The provisions of §§ 182.754 to 182.754e, respecting sales of specially denatured alcohol by denaturers, are hereby made applicable to sales of specially denatured alcohol by bonded dealers. Specially denatured alcohol sold by bonded dealers must be transported in accordance with § 182.677. Record and report of such transactions shall be reported on Form 1478, as provided in § 182.822. Tank trucks used for the transportation of specially denatured alcohol by bonded dealers, after filling, shall be sealed by appropriate seals, serially numbered, furnished and affixed by the shipper. The seal shall be dissimilar in marking from the cap seals used by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. The serial numbers of seals used and the data with respect to the carrier set forth in § 182.754b or § 182.754c will be recorded by the dealer on Form 1473 or Form 1453–A, as the case may be.

OPERATIONS BY USERS OF SPECIALLY DENATURED ALCOHOL

PROPRIETARY SOLVENTS AND LACQUER THINNERS

§ 182.847 Containers. • • •

(b) Labels. Where proprietary solvents and lacquer thinners are packaged by producers for their agents in containers of ½ gallon or more and not more than 5 wine gallons, such containers must be labeled to show the producer's name, address, and permit number: Provided, That where the product is packaged for the dealer, the name and address of the dealer may be shown in lieu of the name and address of the producer, but the basic permit number of the producer must be placed on the labels. Where dealers repackage proprietary solvents in containers of ½ gallon or more but not more than 5 wine gallons, as authorized in paragraph (d) of this section, the name, address, and basic permit number of the producer or the name and address of the dealer and the basic permit number of the producer, shall likewise be placed on the labels of such containers. When proprietary solvents and lacquer thinners are shipped in tank cars, or tank trucks, a label will be affixed to the route board of each such vehicle, giving the name of the product, the quantity, and the producer's name, address, and permit number. Where such shipments are made by the producer's bona fide agent, the name and address of the agent may be shown in lieu of the name and address of the producer, but the basic permit number of the producer must be placed on the label.

CHANGE IN PROPRIETORSHIP, NAME, ETC.; DISCONTINUANCE OF USE

§ 182.877 Procedure—(a) Change in proprietorship, name, etc. Where there is a change in proprietorship, or in the persons interested in the business, or in the individual, firm, or corporate name, trade name or style, or in the location of the premises, etc., procedure similar to that prescribed in §§ 182.650 to 182.652 will be followed insofar as applicable.

(b) Discontinuance of use. When the use of specially denatured alcohol is discontinued, the permittee shall give notice thereof in writing, in triplicate, to the district supervisor, and shall surrender to the district supervisor his basic and withdrawal permits. Any specially denatured alcohol remaining on hand at the time of such discontinuance may be disposed of in accordance with §§ 182.867 and 182.868, or when authorized by the district supervisor, the specially denatured alcohol may be disposed of to another person holding permit to use specially denatured alcohol of the same formula, upon the filing of a consent of surety, Form 1533, on the bond (if any), of the purchaser extending the terms of his bond to cover the transportation to, and use by, him of the specially denatured alcohol. Recovered denatured alcohol and articles remaining on hand shall be disposed of only as authorized by the district supervisor, after full advice respecting their condition and the disposition which it is desired to make of the recovered products has been submitted. When all specially denatured alcohol, recovered denatured alcohol, and articles, remaining on hand at the time of discontinuance of the use of specially denatured alcohol, have been properly disposed of, as herein provided, the district supervisor will approve the notice of discontinuance, noting thereon the disposition made of such specially denatured alcohol, recovered denatured alcohol, and articles, retain one copy of the notice for his files, and forward one copy to the Commissioner and one copy to the permittee.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

DENATURED RUM

SALE AND USE OF DENATURED RUM

§ 182.879 Dealers in and users of specially denatured rum. The provisions of this part relating to specially denatured alcohol will apply, insofar as applicable, to the procurement and sale by bonded dealers, and the procurement and use by manufacturers, of specially denatured rum, except that dealers shall make deliveries in accordance with Regulations 16 (26 CFR Part 187).

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 355, 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3070, 3105, 3124)

IMPORTATION OF ALCOHOL FOR INDUSTRIAL PURPOSES

§ 182.997 Gauging. Upon receipt of the alcohol at the industrial alcohol plant, bonded warehouse, or denaturing plant from customs custody, it will be gauged in accordance with the provisions of this part and the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186): Provided, That where the bonded premises consist of storage tanks only, the spirits may be gauged upon receipt at such premises by any of the following three methods, preference to be given in the order named:

(a) Weighed in scale tanks.

(b) Gauged by volume in accurately calibrated storage tanks.

(c) Weighed on railroad car scales located on bonded premises by weighing tank cars before and after filling or emptying, as the case may be.

(Interprets or applies 53 Stat. 358, 364; 26 U. S. C. 3105, 3124)

2. The purposes of these amendments are as follows:

(a) To authorize the transfer of alcohol, by pipeline, after tax payment, to tax-paid bottling houses.

(b) To delegate to district supervisors the authority to approve the establishment of industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses, and denaturing plants.

(c) To incorporate, in this part, regulations applicable to the gauging of alcohol at industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses, and denaturing plants, now contained in the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186), but which are being deleted from the current revision of such manual.

(d) To modify requirements for construction of alcohol tanks.

(e) To modify the specifications concerning colors for pipelines in industrial alcohol plants, bonded warehouses and denaturing plants.

(f) To require testing and certification by State, county, or city departments of weights and measures, or by responsible scale companies, of scales used for weighing alcohol in large quantities, and to amend specifications for graduations of beams or dials of tank scales used for weighing alcohol.

(g) To provide for the removal, in tank trucks, of tax-paid alcohol from an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse.

(h) To liberalize the requirements with respect to filing an indemnity bond to cover the removal of equipment from an industrial alcohol plant or bonded warehouse premises to another bonded premises where the two premises are controlled by the same interests.

(i) To provide for the approval of alternate methods of adding denaturants to ethyl alcohol under unusual circumstances.

(53 Stat. 375; 26 U. S. C. 3176)

Effective date. This Treasury Decision shall be effective as of September 1, 1950.

TITLE 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter III—Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce

Subchapter C—Office of Industry and Commerce

[5th Gen. Rev. of Export Regs., Amdt. P. L. 11[1]]

PART 399—POSITIVE LIST OF COMMODITIES AND RELATED MATTERS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Section 399.1 Appendix A—Positive List of Commodities is amended in the following particulars:

1. The following commodities are added to the Positive List:

Dept of Comm. Sched. B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
	Chemical specialties:
	Chemical specialty compounds, n. e. s.:
829990	Polytrifluorochloroethylene (Kel-F) grease, oil or wax		COTA	1	RO
	Industrial chemicals (exclusive of medicinal chemicals (U. S. P. and N. F.):
	Organic chemicals not of coal-tar origin, n. e. s.:
832990	Paraformaldehyde, solid	Lb.	ORGN	100	R
	Sodium compounds:
837990	Sodium bismuthate	Lb.	SALT	500	RO
	Other industrial chemicals:
839900	Cobalt copounds, all		SALT	100	RO
	Pigments, paints, and varnishes:
	Chemical pigments, n. e. s.:
842900	Cobalt-containing pigments	Lb.	PLAT	100	RO
843600	Chemical-containing paint and varnish driers	Lb.	PLAT	100	RO

[1] This amendment was published in Current Export Bulletin No. 581, dated August 10, 1950.

2. The following commodities are changed from R to RO commodities. Accordingly, the entries therefor on the Positive List are amended to read as follows:

Dept. of Comm. Sched. B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
	Ferro-alloys:
622087	Ferrovanadium	Lb.	NONF	500	RO
	Other nonferrous ores, metals, and alloys, except precious:
663700	Vanadium ore and concentrates, vanadic oxide (pentoxide V_2O_5) content.	C. lb.	NONF	100	RO
	Metals and alloys in primary forms, n. e. s. (except ferro-alloys):
664990	Vanadium metal, alloys and scrap	Lb.	NONF	100	RO
	Metal and metal composition manufactures:
669198	Flue dust, vanadium [1]		NONF	100	RO

3. The entries on the Positive List for coa-tar coke, Schedule B No. 500400; petroleum coke, Schedule B No. 504600; and certain carbon and graphite products, Schedule B Nos. 547300 and 547400 are changed as set forth below. In addition, the two entries under Schedule B No. 548098 "carbon products, n. e. s." and "artificial graphite products, n. e. s." are deleted from the Positive List and certain of the commodities formerly covered by these two entries are included in amended entries for Schedule B No. 548-098 as set forth below. Accordingly, the entries therefor on the Positive List are amended to read as follows:

Dept. of Comm. Sched. B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
	Coal and related fuels:
500400	Coal-tar coke, including coal-tar coke flour (report petroleum coke, including petroleum coke flour, in 504800).[1]	S. ton	COAL	100	RO
	Petroleum and products:
504800	Petroleum coke, including petroleum coke flour [1]	L. ton	PETR	100	RO
	Other nonmetallic minerals (precious included):
	Carbon or graphite products (natural and artificial):
547300	Carbon or artificial graphite electrodes for furnace or electrolytic work, 2 inches in cross-sectional dimension and over.[2]	Lb.	NONF	None	RO
547300	Carbon or artificial graphite electrodes for furnace or electrolytic work, ¾ inch up to, but not including, 2 inches in cross-sectional dimension.[3]	Lb.	NONF 35	25	R
547400	Brushes and brush stock in the form of blocks, plates, and rods, carbon and artificial graphite.[4]		ELME 2	None	RO
548098	Artificial graphite powder [5]		NONF	None	RO
548098	Carbon or artificial graphite blocks, bricks, or plates—all sizes (report brush stock in 547400).[6]		NONF	25	RO
548098	Carbon or artificial graphite electrodes other than for furnace, or electrolytic work, and rods, 2 inches cross-sectional dimension and over.[7]		NONF	None	RO
548098	Carbon or artificial graphite electrodes other than for furnace or electrolytic work, and rods, ¾ inch up to, but not including, 2 inches in cross-sectional domension.[8]		NONF 35	25	R
548098	Carbon or artificial graphite scrap [9]		NONF	None	RO

[1] This amendment clarifies the commodity description without making substantive change.

[2] By this amended entry carbon electrodes for furnace or electrolytic work, 2 inches in cross-sectional dimension and over, formerly included in the entry "Other electrodes for furnace or electrolytic work," are changed from R to RO commodities.

[3] The effect of this amended entry is to delete all electrodes for furnace or electrolytic work, under ¾ inch in cross-sectional dimension, from the Positive List.

[4] The effect of this amended entry is to add to the Positive List carbon brushes and brush stock in the form of blocks, plates and rods.

[5] This amendment does not change the license requirements. The commodity was formerly included in the entry "Artificial graphite products, n. e. s.," Schedule B No. 548098.

[6] The commodities in this amended entry were formerly included in the two entries under Schedule B No. 548098, "Carbon products, n. e. s.," validated license required R; and "Artificial graphite products, n. e. s.," validated license required RO. The effect of this amended entry is to change the carbon blocks, bricks or plates—all sizes, from R to RO commodities.

[7] The commodities in this amended entry were formerly included in the two entries under Schedule B No. 548098, "Carbon products, n. e. s.," validated license required R, and "Artificial graphite products, n. e. s.," validated license required RO. The effect of this amended entry is to change the carbon electrodes other than for furnace or electrolytic work, and rods, 2 inches cross-sectional dimension and over, from R to RO commodities.

[8] The commodities in this amended entry were formerly included in the two entries under Schedule B No. 548098, "Carbon products, n. e. s.," validated license required R, and "Artificial graphite products, n. e. s.," validated license required RO. The effect of this amended entry is to delete all electrodes other than for furnace or electrolytic work and rods under ¾ inch in cross-sectional dimension from the Positive List. Also, all artificial graphite electrodes ¾ inch up to, but not including, 2 inches cross-sectional dimension are changed from RO to R commodities.

[9] By this amended entry carbon scrap, formerly included in the entry "Carbon products, n. e. s.," is changed from an R to an RO commodity.

Except for polytrifluorochloroethylene (Kel-F) grease, oil or wax, Schedule B No. 829990, shipments of the commodities removed from general license to Country Group R or Country Group O destinations as a result of changes set forth in Parts 1 and 2 of this amendment, which were on dock, on lighter, laden aboard an exporting carrier, or in transit to a port of exist pursuant to actual orders for export prior to the effective date of this amendment, may be exported under the previous general license provisions.

This amendment shall become effective as of August 10, 1950.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 4—DEPENDENTS AND BENEFICIARIES CLAIMS

FILING OF CLAIMS FOR UNAUTHORIZED BURIAL, FUNERAL AND TRANSPORTATION EXPENSES

In § 4.200, paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 4.200 Filing of claim for unauthorized burial, funeral, and transportation expenses—(a) Execution of claim. Claims for burial, funeral, and transportation expenses must be submitted on VA Form 8–530, Application for Burial Allowance, and should be executed by:

(1) The undertaker where bill is unpaid.

(2) The individual who used personal funds to pay burial, funeral, and transportation expenses.

(3) The executor or administrator of the estate of the veteran or of the estate of the person who paid the expense of the veteran's burial. If no administrator or executor is appointed, then by some person acting for such estate who will make distribution of the burial allowance to the person or persons entitled under the laws governing the distribution of intestate estates in the State of the decedent's personal domicile.

In addition to the VA Form 8–530, claims for burial, funeral, and transportation expenses should be supported by a statement of account (preferably on the billhead of the undertaker), showing the cost of the service rendered and the name of the deceased veteran. Where charges for items not ordinarily carried in an undertaker's stock or for services performed by persons other than the undertaker or his regular employees are listed on an unpaid bill supporting a claim for burial allowance, receipts therefor will not be required in any claim adjudicated on or after August 18, 1950. All statements of account, where paid, must show by whom payment was made and be receipted in the name of the undertaking firm or individual owner who received payment.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter C—Management of Wildlife Conservation Areas

PART 36—ALASKA REGION

HUNTING IN ALEUTIAN ISLANDS NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

Basis and purpose: On the basis of observations and reports of field representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service, it has been determined that waterfowl and ptarmigan hunting can be permitted on a part of Adak Island in the Aleutian Islands National Wildlife Refuge, without interfering with the primary purpose of the Refuge.

Inasmuch as the following regulations are relaxations of the existing prohibition against hunting on the Refuge, the notice and public rule-making procedure required by the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) are hereby found to be impracticable and the effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act does not apply.

Effective immediately upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, §§ 36.11 to 36.13 are added.

HUNTING

§ 36.11 Waterfowl and ptarmigan hunting permitted. Waterfowl and ptarmigan may be taken in the daylight hours during the period from September 1, 1950, to February 28, 1951, inclusive, on all of Adak Island of the Aleutian Islands National Wildlife Refuge, except that part south and west of a line extending from the head of the South Arm of Three Arm Bay to the head of the Bay of Waterfalls, as designated by posting by the officer in charge of the Refuge, subject to the provisions, restrictions, and requirements of §§ 36.12 to 36.13, inclusive.

§ 36.12 Entry. Entry on and use of the Refuge for any purpose are governed by the regulations in Parts 18 and 21 of this chapter and by §§ 36.2 to 36.5, inclusive, of this subpart, and strict compliance therewith is required.

§ 36.13 Territory hunting laws. All hunters must comply with the provisions of the Alaska Game Law and regulations issued pursuant thereto, and must have on their person and exhibit at the request of any authorized Federal officer, whatever license may be required by such law and regulations, which license shall serve as a Federal permit for hunting on the Refuge.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 51]

ITALIAN SPROUTING BROCCOLI

U. S. CONSUMER STANDARDS

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of United States Consumer Standards for Italian Sprouting Broccoli under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621, et seq.).

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same with M. W. Baker, Assistant Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the 30th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 51.146 Consumer standards for Italian sprouting broccoli—(a) Grades—(1) U. S. Grade A. U. S. Grade A consists of stalks, or parts of stalks of Italian sprouting broccoli which are well trimmed, and have good characteristic color, and fairly compact bud clusters; and which are fresh, tender, and clean, and are free from decay and from damage caused by discoloration, freezing, hollow stem or pithiness, scars, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means. Broccoli stalks on the shown face shall be reasonably representative in size and quality of the contents of the container.

(i) The length of the stalks or parts thereof shall be not more than 6 inches nor less than 3 inches, and the diameter of the stem shall be not less than ¼ inch.

(ii) Incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 5 percent, by weight, of the broccoli stalks or parts thereof in any lot may fail to meet the size requirements and, in addition, not more than 5 percent, by weight, may fail to meet the remaining requirements of the grade, including not more than 1 percent for decay.

(2) U. S. Grade B. U. S. Grade B consists of stalks or parts of stalks of Italian sprouting broccoli which meet the requirements of U. S. Grade A except as to compactness of bud clusters and except for the increased tolerances specified below.

(i) Stalks or parts of stalks of broccoli of this grade shall have reasonably compact bud clusters.

(ii) Incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 10 percent, by weight, of the broccoli stalks or parts thereof in any lot may fail to meet the size requirements and in addition, not more than 10 percent, by weight, may fail to meet the remaining requirements of the grade, including not more than 1 percent for decay.

(b) Off-Grade Italian sprouting broccoli. Italian sprouting broccoli which fails to meet the requirements of either of the foregoing grades shall be Off-Grade Italian sprouting broccoli.

(c) Definitions. (1) "Stalk" means a portion of the broccoli plant including the stem, bud clusters and leaves.

(2) "Well trimmed" means that all coarse, damaged, and discolored leaves and leaves extending more than 1½ inches above the top of the head have been removed, and that cross cuts on butts and lengthwise cuts on split stalks are smooth.

(3) "Good characteristic color" means that the stem and external portion of the head or part thereof has a light green or darker shade of green color except that purplish color shall be allowed on the external portion of the head or part thereof.

(4) "Fairly compact bud clusters" means that the individual florets of bud clusters are relatively small and fairly tightly crowded together, and that the bud clusters on the stalk or part of a stalk are generally close together.

(5) "Fresh" means that the broccoli is not flabby or more than slightly wilted.

(6) "Tender" means that the broccoli is succulent, and that the stems are not fibrous, tough or stringy.

(7) "Clean" means that the broccoli is practically free from sand, dirt, silt, muck, and other water-insoluble inorganic material.

(8) "Damage" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance, or the edible, shipping, or keeping quality of the individual stalks or parts thereof, or the lot as a whole. The following defects or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect shall be considered as damage:

(i) Discoloration, when more than very slight.

(ii) Freezing, when causing more than slight discoloration of the individual unit.

(iii) Hollow stem or pithiness, when discolored, or when more than slightly affecting the appearance of the individual unit.

(iv) Scars, when discolored, or when more than slight or superficial.

(v) Disease, when showing discoloration, or when more than slightly affecting the appearance of the individual unit.

(vi) Insects, when worms or worm frass are present or when there is more than slight infestation by other insects.

(9) "Diameter" means the greatest thickness of the stem measured at the base.

Done at Washington, D. C. this 14th day of August 1950.

[Docket No. AO 160–A 12]

HANDLING OF MILK IN PHILADELPHIA, PA., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO THE ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and in accordance with the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a hearing to be held at the John Bartram Hotel, Locust and Broad Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, beginning at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., August 29, 1950, for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to proposed amendments hereinafter set forth, or appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, milk marketing area. These proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

This hearing is called and will be conducted concurrently with a hearing by the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission.

The following proposals have been submitted for consideration at the hearing:

The Inter-State Milk Producers' Cooperative proposed that:

1. The Class I price for milk shall be $5.84 per hundredweight for the months of October, November and December, 1950.

The Dairy Branch proposes:

1. That evidence be received concerning the establishment of a Class I price for milk in Philadelphia during the months of January, February and March, 1951, that is 40 cents less than the Class I price that is determined for the previous quarter.

Copies of this notice of hearing, the said order, as amended, and the said tentative marketing agreement may be procured from the Market Administrator, 1612 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, or from the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 1353, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: August 15, 1950.

[SEAL] F. R. BURKE,
Acting Assistant Administrator.

Quaker Shoe Corporation, 913 Greenleaf Street, Allentown, Pa., effective 8-3-50 to 8-25-50; 10 percent learners (shoes).

The following special learner certificates were issued to the school-operated industries listed below:

Spanish-American Seminary, Sandoval, N. Mex.; reissued certificate; effective 1-25-50 to 9-15-50; broom factory, sorting, winding brooms, broom corn stitching, brooms and buching and leveling brooms; 24 learners; 250 hours at 45 cents, 250 hours at 50 cents, 250 hours at 60 cents.

Each certificate has been issued upon the employer's representation that employment of learners at subminimum rates is necessary in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment, and that experienced workers for the learner occupations are not available except that employers of student-workers employed in school-operated industries were not required to certify to the non-availability of experienced workers. The certificates may be cancelled in the manner provided in the regulations and as indicated in the certificates. Any person aggrieved by the issuance of any of these certificates may seek a review or reconsideration thereof within fifteen days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to the provisions of Part 522.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 10th day of August 1950.

ISABEL FERGUSON,
Authorized Representative of the Administrator.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL COMMITTEE ON TRADE AGREEMENTS

TRADE-AGREEMENT NEGOTIATIONS WITH CUBA

I. Trade-agreement negotiations with Cuba, which is a contracting party to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade;

II. Supplementary notice as to trade-agreement negotiations with the countries named in the notices of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950 and May 15, 1950;

III. Possible adjustment in preferential rates on Cuban products.

Pursuant to section 4 of the Trade Agreements Act, approved June 12, 1934, as amended (48 Stat. 945, ch. 474, Public Law 307, 81st Cong.) and to paragraph 4 of Executive Order 10082 of October 5, 1949 (14 F. R. 6105), notice is hereby given by the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements of intention to conduct trade-agreement negotiations with the Republic of Cuba. This notice is the second notice supplementary to the notice by the Committee dated April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950 (15 F. R. 2114).

There is annexed hereto a list of articles imported into the United States to be considered for possible modification of duties and other import restrictions, imposition of additional import restrictions, or specific continuance of existing customs or excise treatment in proposed trade-agreement negotiations with the Republic of Cuba and with any of the countries with which trade-agreement negotiations were proposed in the notice of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950, viz, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, France, the Federal Republic of Germany, Guatemala, Korea, Luxemburg, New Zealand, the Netherlands, Norway, Peru, Turkey, the Union of South Africa, and the United Kingdom, and in the supplementary notice of May 15, 1950, viz, Denmark, the Dominican Republic, India, Indonesia, Italy, and Sweden. Articles included in the list annexed to the Committee's notice of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950, and in the supplementary notice of May 15, 1950, may be considered also in negotiations with Cuba.

In the case of each article in the list annexed to this notice with respect to which the corresponding product of Cuba is subject to preferential treatment, the negotiations with any country other than Cuba will involve the elimination, reduction, or continuation of the preference, perhaps with an adjustment or specification of the rate applicable to the product of Cuba.

No article will be considered in the negotiations for possible modification of duties or other import restrictions, imposition of additional import restrictions, or specific continuance of existing customs or excise treatment unless it is included, specifically or by reference, in the list annexed to the notice by the Committee of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950, in the list annexed to the supplementary notice of May 15, 1950, or in the annexed list, or unless it is subsequently included in a supplementary public list. No duty or import tax imposed under a paragraph or section of the Tariff Act or Internal Revenue Code other than the paragraph or section listed with respect to such article will be considered for a possible decrease, although an additional or separate duty on an article included in the annexed list which is imposed under a paragraph or section other than that listed may be bound against increase as an assurance that the concession under the listed paragraph will not be nullified.

Persons interested in export items may present their views regarding any tariff (including preferential tariff) or other concessions that might be requested of the Republic of Cuba.

Pursuant to section 4 of the Trade Agreements Act, as amended, and Paragraph 5 of Executive Order 10082 of October 5, 1949, information and views as to any aspect of the proposals announced in this notice may be submitted to the Committee for Reciprocity Information in accordance with the announcement of this date issued by that Committee.[1]

The United States Tariff Commission has issued a notice (15 F. R. 2114) stating the location and availability of tariff and commodity information pertinent to the pending negotiations.

By direction of the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements this 17th day of August 1950.

CARL D. CORSE,
Chairman, Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements.

LIST OF ARTICLES IMPORTED INTO THE UNITED STATES WHICH IT IS PROPOSED SHOULD BE CONSIDERED IN TRADE-AGREEMENT NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE COUNTRIES SPECIFIED IN FOREGOING PUBLIC NOTICE

The following list contains descriptions of articles imported into the United States which it is proposed should be considered for possible modification of duties and other import restrictions, imposition of additional import restrictions, or specific continuance of existing customs or excise treatment in the trade-agreement negotiations which are proposed with the countries specified in the foregoing public notice.

For the purpose of facilitating identification of the articles listed, reference is made in the list to the paragraph numbers of the tariff schedules in the Tariff Act of 1930. The descriptive phraseology is frequently limited to a narrower scope than that covered by the cited paragraph. In such cases only the articles covered by the descriptive phraseology of the list will come under consideration for negotiation.

In the event that an article which as of January 1, 1950 was regarded as classifiable under a description included in the list is excluded therefrom by judicial decision or otherwise prior to the inclusion of such description in a trade agreement, the list will nevertheless be considered as including such article.

The United States Tariff Commission has issued a notice (15 F. R. 2114) stating the location and availability of tariff and commodity information pertinent to the pending negotiations announced herein.

COMMITTEE FOR RECIPROCITY INFORMATION

TRADE-AGREEMENT NEGOTIATIONS WITH CUBA

I. Trade-agreement negotiations with Cuba, which is a contracting party to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade;

II. Supplementary notice as to trade-agreement negotiations with the countries named in the notices of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950, and May 15, 1950;

III. Possible adjustment in preferential rates on Cuban products.

Submission of information to the Committee for Reciprocity Information. Closing date for application to be heard, September 7, 1950. Closing date for submission of briefs, September 14, 1950. Public hearings open, September 25, 1950.

The Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements has issued on this day a notice of intention [1] to conduct trade-agreement negotiations with the Republic of Cuba.

Annexed to the notice by the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements is a list of articles imported into the United States to be considered for possible trade-agreement negotiations which is the second notice supplementary to the list annexed to the notice by that Committee of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950 (15 F. R. 2114). Articles in both these lists, and in the list annexed to the supplementary notice by that Committee of May 15, 1950, may be considered for negotiation with the Republic of Cuba and with the countries named in the notice of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950, and in the notice of May 15, 1950.

The Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements has also announced in such notice that, in the case of each article in the list with respect to which the corresponding product of Cuba is subject to preferential treatment, the negotiations referred to with any country other than Cuba will involve the elimination, reduction, or continuation of the preference, perhaps with an adjustment or specification of the rate applicable to the product of Cuba.

The Committee for Reciprocity Information hereby gives notice that all applications for oral presentation of views in regard to the foregoing proposals, which must indicate the product or products on which the individuals or groups desire to be heard, shall be submitted to the Committee for Reciprocity Information not later than 12:00 noon, September 7, 1950, and all information and views in writing in regard to the foregoing proposals shall be submitted to the Committee for Reciprocity Information not later than 12:00 noon, September 14, 1950.

Such communications shall be addressed to "The Chairman, Committee for Reciprocity Information, Tariff Commission Building, Washington 25, D. C.". Ten copies of written statements, either typed, printed, or duplicated shall be submitted, of which one copy shall be sworn to.

Public hearings will be held before the Committee for Reciprocity Information, at which oral statements will be heard. The first hearing will be at 10:00 a. m. on September 25, 1950, in the Hearing Room in the Tariff Commission Building, Seventh and E Streets NW., Washington 25, D. C. Witnesses who make application to be heard will be advised regarding the time and place of their individual appearances. Appearances at hearings before the Committee may be made only by or on behalf of those persons who have filed written statements and who have within the time prescribed made written application for oral presentation of views. Statements made at the public hearings shall be under oath.

Persons or groups interested in import products may present to the Committee their views concerning possible tariff concessions by the United States in negotiations with the Republic of Cuba on any product, whether or not included in the list annexed to the notice of intention to negotiate. However, as indicated in the notice of intention to negotiate, no tariff reduction will be considered on any product which is not included in the list annexed to the public notice by the Interdepartmental Committee on Trade Agreements of April 11, 1950, published April 14, 1950 (15 F. R. 2114), in the list annexed to the notice of May 15, 1950, the list annexed to the notice issued by said Committee on this date, or in a supplementary public list.

Persons interested in export items may present their views regarding any tariff (including preferential tariff) or other concessions that might be requested of the Republic of Cuba.

Copies of the list attached to the notice of intention to negotiate may be obtained from the Committee for Reciprocity Information at the address designated above and may be inspected at the field offices of the Department of Congress. The United States Tariff Commission has issued a notice (15 F. R. 2114) stating the location and availability of tariff and commodity information pertinent to the pending negotiations announced herein.

By direction of the Committee for Reciprocity Information this 17th day of August 1950.

EDWARD YARDLEY,
Secretary, Committee for Reciprocity Information.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1454]

MISSISSIPPI RIVER FUEL CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 11, 1950.

Take notice that on August 2, 1950, Mississippi River Fuel Corporation (Applicant) a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in St. Louis, Missouri, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described facilities:

An additional delivery point to Illinois Power Company by the installation of a tap on Applicant's Line No. 2 at a point on U. S. Survey No. 416, Township 1 South, Range 10 West, Monroe County, Illinois, near where said Line No. 2 crosses Monroe County Highway No. 8A 6, and the construction adjacent thereto of a regulating and metering station for the purpose of measuring the gas delivered.

Applicant says that the proposed service to be rendered is to meet the requirements of Illinois Power Company in connection with the proposed distribution of natural gas in the town of Columbia, Illinois, a suburban community 13 miles from St. Louis, Missouri, with a population of some 1,871. It says that its gas supply will continue to be obtained as indicated in Docket No. G-1281.

The estimated cost of the proposed installation and construction is $6,360, which Applicant expects to finance out of cash on hand.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) before the 31st day of August 1950. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[SEAL] J. H. GUTRIDE,
Acting Secretary.

[Docket No. G-1455]

HOPE NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 11, 1950.

Take notice that on August 3, 1950, Hope Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a West Virginia corporation, with its principal place of business in Clarksburg, West Virginia, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described facilities:

An 18-inch natural gas transmission pipeline approximately 19½ miles in length, extending in a southeasterly direction from its present L. L. Tonkin Compressor Station in Doddridge County, West Virginia, to a point in the present Pink Storage Area, located in Lewis County, West Virginia.

Applicant states that the proposed facilities will not be used to serve any new markets or areas, but will be integrated with its presently existing transmission system to render more adequate service to its present customers, through greater utilization of its Pink Storage Area.

Applicant alleges that the proposed facilities will provide an increased pipe line capacity into this storage area of some 100,000 Mcf per day, and will permit Applicant to increase its ultimate volume of gas in this storage area by approximately 25,000,000 Mcf.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities is $790,000, which Applicant intends to finance from cash on hand.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) before the 31st day of August 1950. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

Acting Secretary.

[Docket No. G-1456]

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

AUGUST 11, 1950.

Take notice that on August 3, 1950, Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in Shreveport, Louisiana, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described facilities:

1. (Section A) Approximately 4.9 miles of 8⅝ inch O. D. welded pipeline, extending from a point in Section 21, Township 23 North, Range 7 West, in the East Haynesville Field of Claiborne Parish, Louisiana in a westerly direction to a dehydrator installation located at a point in Section 22, Township 23 North, Range 8 West in the Haynesville Field of Claiborne Parish, Louisiana.

2. (Section B) Approximately 16.4 miles of 8⅝ inch O. D. welded pipeline, extending from the dehydrator installation described under Section A, in a northwesterly direction to the Columbia Gas Treating Plant, owned and operated by Arkansas Fuel Oil Company and located in Section 9, Township 18 South, Range 21 West, Columbia County, Arkansas, including a telephone line to parallel the pipeline and metering, regulating and appurtenant facilities.

Applicant alleges that natural gas produced in the East Haynesville Field and to be transported through the proposed facilities will be used to supplement the gas supply available to its pipeline system in the State of Arkansas; that it has entered into a 20-year contract with Hunt Oil Company, et al., for the purchase of gas produced from various leases in the East Haynesville Field; and that negotiations are under way for similar contracts with other owners of producing property in this East Haynesville Field.

Under the contemplated operating pressure conditions, Applicant states that the capacity of the proposed facilities will be about 31,000 Mcf per day. Some 24,000 Mcf of gas per day to be obtained in the East Haynesville Field are expected to flow through these facilities, and Applicant estimates that this will result in a reduction of its curtailment estimate to about 40,000 Mcf per day, and will replace gas heretofore available from the Dorcheat-Macedonia Field of Southern Arkansas, which is now declining rapidly.

Applicant asserts that construction of the proposed facilities will not result in increased rates to domestic, commercial or small industrial consumers, that service to new or additional consumers, other than those anticipated through normal growth of the area, is not involved, and that no additional revenue is expected to arise out of the proposed construction.

The estimated cost of Section A of the proposed construction is $83,669, and of Section B, $284,078. Applicant proposes to finance the construction out of its cash reserves and the proceeds of additional bank loans bearing interest at 2¾ percent per annum.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) before the 31st day of August 1950. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of August A. D. 1950.

The Columbia Gas System, Inc. ("Columbia"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary, Columbia Engineering Corporation ("Engineering"), having filed a joint application-declaration, pursuant to the provisions of sections 6, 7, 9, 10, and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-43 promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transaction:

Engineering is a service company rendering services to associate companies in the Columbia holding company system. The capital stock, consisting of 2,500 shares of common stock, $100 per share, is entirely held by Columbia.

Engineering now proposes to increase its capital from $250,000 to $500,000, by issuing and selling to Columbia 2,500 shares of common stock, $100 par value. In addition to its present common stock capital, Engineering has obtained, as a temporary measure, $150,000 of non-interest bearing advances from Columbia. Engineering proposes to repay the temporary advances to Columbia out of the proceeds from the sale of the additional common stock to Columbia. Approximately $45,000 of such proceeds will be invested by Engineering in additional office equipment and the remainder of such proceeds will be added to the working capital of Engineering.

Said joint application-declaration having been filed on April 28, 1950, and an amendment thereto having been filed on July 25, 1950, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said joint application-declaration within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said joint application-declaration that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and rules thereunder are satisfied, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that the said joint application-declaration be granted and permitted to become effective:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that the said joint application-declaration be, and hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

LONG ISLAND LIGHTING CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of August A. D. 1950.

Long Island Lighting Company, a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6 and 7 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), with respect to the following transactions:

Declarant proposes to issue and sell for cash at principal amount to three commercial banks an aggregate of $6,000,000 principal amount of unsecured notes which will bear interest at the rate of 2¼ percent per annum and will mature on December 15, 1950. The proceeds of the sale of the notes are to be used for construction requirements of the company.

Such declaration having been duly filed, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said declaration within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that no adverse findings are necessary with respect to the declaration, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective, and deeming it appropriate to grant a request of declarant that the order become effective at the earliest date possible.

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

APPALACHIAN ELECTRIC POWER CO. AND CENTRAL APPALACHIAN COAL CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 14th day of August A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that Appalachian Electric Power Company ("Appalachian"), an electric utility subsidiary of American Gas & Electric Company, a registered holding company, and Appalachian's non-utility subsidiary, Central Appalachian Coal Company ("Coal Company"), have filed a joint application-declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and have designated sections 6 (b), 9 (a) and 10 of the act and Rule U-43 thereunder as applicable to the transactions proposed in said joint application-declaration, which proposed transcations may be summarized as follows:

Coal Company proposes to issue and sell and Appalachian proposes to acquire not to exceed 20,000 shares of the authorized and unissued $100 par value common stock of Coal Company at $100 per share for aggregate gross proceeds to Coal Company of $2,000,000. It is proposed that the sales and acquisitions will be made from time to time prior to December 31, 1951 as funds are needed by Coal Company. It is stated that the proceeds to Coal Company will be used to provide funds to complete the initial development of Coal Company and to provide working capital. Pursuant to authorization of this Commission (File No. 70-1841), Appalachian has heretofore acquired from Coal Company 40,000 shares of Coal Company's common stock having a par value of $100 per share for $4,000,000 which represents all of Coal Company's presently outstanding capital stock.

It is stated that Appalachian and Coal Company propose to file a joint application with the State Corporation Commission of Virginia requesting that Commission to authorize the proposed transactions.

Applicants-declarants request that any order of this Commission authorizing the proposed transactions issue as soon as may be practicable and become effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 24, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application-declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after August 24, 1950, said application-declaration may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to the joint application-declaration which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a full statement of the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-2450]

OHIO POWER CO. AND CENTRAL OHIO COAL CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C. on the 14th day of August A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that The Ohio Power Company ("Ohio"), an electric utility subsidiary of American Gas & Electric Company, a registered holding company, and Ohio's non-utility subsidiary, Central Ohio Coal Company ("Coal Company"), have filed a joint declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and have designated Rules U-42 and U-43 promulgated under the act as applicable to the transactions proposed in said joint declaration which proposed transactions may be summarized as follows:

From time to time prior to December 31, 1951 Coal Company proposes to acquire not to exceed 10,000 shares of its capital stock from Ohio at $100 per share and to promptly retire all shares so acquired. The authorized capital of Coal Company consists of 40,000 shares of $100 par value common stock of which 28,000 shares are outstanding and all of which are owned by Ohio having been acquired by that company at $100 per share for a total aggregate amount of $2,800,000.

In the declaration it is stated that Coal Company at the present time has some $300,000 cash on hand in excess of its required working capital, which funds have been accumulated as a result of depreciation charges on its equipment. Coal Company expects that such depreciation accruals will continue to accumulate excess cash as it is not now contemplated that the Coal Company will have to make any substantial purchases of additional equipment. Coal Company desires to reacquire shares of its capital stock from Ohio with such excess funds.

Declarants request that any order of this Commission authorizing the proposed transactions issue as soon as may be practicable and become effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 25, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after August 24, 1950, said declaration may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to the joint declaration which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a full statement of the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VII—Production and Marketing Administration (Agricultural Adjustment), Department of Agriculture

[MQ-71—Cotton (1950), Amdt. 2]

PART 722—COTTON

ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND MARKETING QUOTAS FOR 1950 CROP

Basis and purpose. Section 375 (b) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall provide by regulations for the identification, wherever necessary, of cotton so as to afford aid in discovering and identifying such amounts as are subject to and such amounts as are not subject to marketing restrictions in effect under the act. Under the authority of this provision, § 722.159 of the Regulations Pertaining to Acreage Allotments and Marketing Quotas for the 1950 Crop of Cotton, issued June 26, 1950 (15 F. R. 4162) provides that any cotton purchased by a buyer from a producer shall be taken as subject to the marketing penalty of 15.5 cents a pound unless the producer identifies the cotton as being not subject to the penalty by presenting to the buyer a marketing card or marketing certificate issued to the producer by the appropriate Production and Marketing Administration county committee. Many producers are now selling their equities in 1949 crop cotton which is pledged to the Commodity Credit Corporation as collateral security for loans under the Agricultural Act of 1948, and the regulations require these sales to be identified with marketing certificates. It has been found that this requirement imposes an unreasonable burden on the producers and purchasers involved. The amendment to the regulations set out herein eliminates under certain conditions the use of marketing certificates for such sales and provides that certain loan documents covering the cotton shall be taken by the purchaser as satisfactory evidence that the cotton was produced in 1949 and that it is not subject to the penalty. It is in the interest of producers and the persons engaged in the purchase of producers' equities in 1949 loan cotton that the amendment become effective at the earliest possible date in order that sales of such equities may be made without the delay and inconvenience incident to the issuance and use of marketing certificates. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and the amendment contained herein shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of Federal Register.

The Regulations Pertaining to Acreage Allotments and Marketing Quotas for the 1950 Crop of Cotton (15 F. R. 4162) are hereby amended by the addition of the following new section:

§ 722.176 Purchases of 1949 CCC loan equities. Notwithstanding any other provision of the regulations in this part any producer who desires to sell his equity in cotton pledged as collateral security for a 1949 Commodity Credit Corporation loan may identify such cotton as being penalty free by presenting to the buyer of such equity a 1949 form entitled "Producer's Loan Statement—A, Commodity Credit Corporation" or a form entitled "Producer's Warranty and Agreement (1949 C. C. C. Cotton Form G-2)" covering such loan cotton and the buyer of such equity shall accept such identification as evidence to him that the cotton described on such forms is not subject to the penalty or the lien for penalty. With respect to each such purchase, the buyer shall keep a record and make a report to the treasurer of the county committee for the county in which such cotton was produced of the following information: (a) The name and address of the producer from whom the equity was purchased; (b) the date on which the equity was purchased; (c) the form used to identify the cotton pledged as collateral security for a 1949 Commodity Credt Corporation loan; (d) the date of the note covering such cotton; (e) the warehouse receipt number for such cotton; (f) the name of the warehouse where such cotton is stored; and (g) the gross weight of each bale securing such loan. The report covering § 726.150. Basis and purpose. Sections 726.150 to 726.180 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and govern the issuance of marketing cards, the identification of tobacco, the collection and refund of penalties, and the records and reports incident thereto on the marketing of fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco during the 1950–51 marketing year. Prior to preparing §§ 726.150 to 726.180, public notice (15 F. R. 2109) of their formulation was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237). The data, views, and recommendations pertaining to §§ 726.150 to 726.180 which were submitted have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

GENERAL

§ 726.151 Definitions. As used in §§ 726.150 to 726.180, and in all instructions, forms, and documents in connection therewith, the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) "Act" means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) "Carry-over" tobacco means, with respect to a farm, tobacco produced prior to the beginning of the calendar year 1950, which has not been marketed or which has not been disposed of under § 726.163.

(c) "County committee" means the group of persons elected within a county as the county committee of the Production and Marketing Administration to assist in administering the Production and Marketing Administration programs within the county.

(d) "Dealer or buyer" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of acquiring tobacco from producers without regard to whether such person is registered as a dealer with the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

(e) "Director" means Director or Acting Director, Tobacco Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

(f) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration, determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with work stock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and

(2) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is on dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(g) "Field assistant" means any duly authorized employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, and any duly authorized employee of a county committee whose duties involve the preparation and handling of records and reports pertaining to tobacco marketing quotas.

(h) "Floor sweepings" means scraps, leaves, or bundles of tobacco, generally of inferior quality, which accumulate on the warehouse floor and which not being subject to identification with any particular lot of tobacco are gathered up by the warehousemen for sale. Floor sweepings shall not include tobacco defined as "pick-ups."

(i) "Leaf account tobacco" means all tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman and "leaf account" shall include the records required to be kept and copies of the reports required to be made under §§ 726.150 to 726.180 relating to tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman and resales of such tobacco.

(j) "Market" means the disposition in raw or processed form of tobacco by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos. "Marketing" and "marketed" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market."

(k) "Nonwarehouse sale" means any first marketing of farm tobacco other than by sale at public auction through a warehouse in the regular course of business.

(l) "Operator" means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(m) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust, or other business enterprise or other legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State or any agency thereof.

(n) "Pick-ups" means (1) any tobacco sorted and reclaimed from leaves or bundles which have fallen to the warehouse floor in the usual course of business, or (2) any tobacco previously marketed at auction but not delivered to the buyer because of rejection by the buyer, lost ticket, or any other reason, and which is not turned back to a dealer other than this warehouse and shall include tobacco delivered to the buyer but returned by the buyer to the warehouseman, and which is not turned back to a dealer other than this warehouse.

(o) "Producer" means a person who, as owner, landlord, tenant, share cropper, or laborer is entitled to share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm or in the proceeds thereof.

(p) "Pound" means that amount of tobacco which, if weighed in its unstemmed form and in the condition in which it is usually marketed by producers, would equal one pound standard weight.

(q) "Resale" means the disposition by sale, barter, exchange, or gift inter vivos, of tobacco which has been marketed previously.

(r) "Sale day" means the period at the end of which the warehouseman bills to buyers the tobacco so purchased during such period.

(s) "Secretary" means the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(t) "State committee" means the group of persons designated as the State committee of the Production and Marketing Administration, charged with the responsibility of administering Production and Marketing Administration programs within the State.

(u) "Suspended sale" means any first marketing of farm tobacco at a warehouse sale for which a memorandum of sale is not issued by the end of the sale day on which such marketing occurred.

(v) "Tobacco" means: (1) Type 21, known as Virginia fire-cured tobacco, (2) types 22, 23, and 24, collectively known as fire-cured tobacco, (3) types 35 and 36, collectively known as dark air-cured tobacco, and (4) type 37, known as Virginia sun-cured tobacco, as classified in Service and Regulatory Announcements No. 118 (7 CFR 30.4 and 30.5) of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Any tobacco that has the same characteristics and corresponding qualities, colors, and lengths as either fire-cured, dark air-cured, or Virginia sun-cured tobacco shall be considered fire-cured, dark air-cured, or Virginia sun-cured tobacco regardless of any factors of historical or geographical nature which cannot be determined by examination of the tobacco.

(w) "Tobacco available for marketing" means all tobacco produced on the farm in the calendar year 1950 plus any carry-over tobacco, less any tobacco disposed of in accordance with § 726.163.

(x) "Tobacco subject to marketing quotas" means: Any fire-cured, dark air-cured, or Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketed during the period October 1, 1950, to September 30, 1951, inclusive, and any fire-cured, dark air-cured, or Virginia sun-cured tobacco produced in the calendar year 1950 and marketed prior to October 1, 1950.

(y) "Trucker" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of trucking tobacco to market and selling it for producers regardless of whether the tobacco is acquired from producers by the trucker.

(z) "Warehouseman" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of holding sales of tobacco at public auction at a warehouse.

(aa) "Warehouse sale" means a marketing of tobacco by a sale at public auction through a warehouse in the regular course of business, and shall include all lots or baskets of tobacco marketed in sequence at a given time.

§ 726.152 Instructions and forms. The Director shall cause to be prepared and issued such forms as are necessary and shall cause to be prepared such instructions as are necessary for carrying out the provisions of §§ 726.150 to 726.180. The forms and instructions shall be approved by, and the instructions shall be issued by, the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration.

§ 726.153 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions. (a) The acreage of tobacco harvested on a farm in 1950 shall be expressed in tenths and fractions of less than one-tenth acre shall be dropped. For example, 4.56 acres would be 4.5 acres.

(b) The percentage of excess tobacco available for marketing from a farm, hereinafter referred to as the "percent excess," shall be expressed in tenths and fractions of less than one-tenth shall be dropped. For example, 12.59 percent would be 12.5 percent.

(c) The amount of penalty per pound upon marketings of tobacco subject to penalty, hereinafter referred to as the "converted rate of penalty," shall be expressed in tenths of a cent and fractions of less than a tenth shall be dropped, except that if the resulting converted rate of penalty is less than a tenth of a cent, it shall be expressed in hundredths and fractions of less than a hundredth shall be dropped. For example, 3.68 cents per pound would be 3.6 cents and 0.068 cent per pound would be 0.06 cent.

FARM MARKETING QUOTAS AND MARKETING CARDS

§ 726.154 Amount of farm marketing quota. The marketing quota for a farm shall be the actual production of tobacco on the farm acreage allotment as established for the farm in accordance with §§ 726.111 to 726.128, MQ–21—Tobacco (1950), Fire-cured and Dark Air-cured Tobacco Marketing Quota Regulations, 1950–51 Marketing Year, as amended (14 F. R. 5919, 15 F. R. 1220), and §§ 726.131 to 726.147 (formerly §§ 723.111 to 723.128), MQ–21—Tobacco (1950), Virginia Sun-cured Tobacco Marketing Quota Regulations, 1950–51 Marketing Year (14 F. R. 7327). The actual production of the farm acreage allotment shall be the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1950 times the farm acreage allotment.

The excess tobacco on any farm shall be (a) that quantity of tobacco which is equal to the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1950 times the number of acres harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment, plus (b) any excess carry-over tobacco. The acreage of tobacco determined for a farm for the purpose of issuing the correct marketing card for the farm as provided in § 726.156 shall be considered the harvested acreage for the farm unless the farm operator furnishes proof satisfactory to the county committee that a portion of the acreage planted will not be harvested or that a representative portion of the production of the acreage harvested will be disposed of as provided in § 726.163 (b).

§ 726.155 No transfers. There shall be no transfer of farm marketing quotas.

§ 726.156 Issuance of marketing cards. A marketing card shall be issued for each farm having tobacco available for marketing. Subject to the approval of the county committee, two or more marketing cards may be issued for any farm. All entries on each marketing card shall be made in accordance with the instructions for issuing marketing cards. Upon the return to the office of the county committee of the marketing card after all the memoranda of sale have been issued therefrom and before the marketing of tobacco from the farm has been completed, a new marketing card of the same kind, bearing the same name, information and identification as the used card shall be issued for the farm. A new marketing card of the same kind shall be issued to replace a card which has been determined by the county committee to have been lost, destroyed, or stolen.

(a) Within Quota Marketing Card (MQ–76—Tobacco). A Within Quota Marketing Card authorizing the marketing without penalty of the tobacco available for marketing shall be issued for a farm under the following conditions:

(1) If the harvested acreage of tobacco in 1950 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment and any excess carry-over tobacco from any prior marketing year can be marketed without penalty under the provisions of § 726.162 (b).

(2) If all excess tobacco produced on the farm is disposed of in accordance with § 726.163 (b), or

(3) If the tobacco was grown for experimental purposes on land owned or leased by a publicly owned agricultural experiment station and is produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or if the tobacco was produced by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of the tobacco and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the issuance of a marketing card for the farm.

(b) Excess Marketing Card (MQ–77—Tobacco). An Excess Marketing Card showing the extent to which marketings of tobacco from a farm are subject to penalty shall be issued unless a within quota card is required to be issued for the farm under paragraph (a) of this section, except that if the farm operator fails to disclose or otherwise furnish, or prevents the county committee from obtaining any information necessary to the issuance of the correct marketing card, an excess marketing card shall be issued showing that all tobacco from the farm is subject to the rate of penalty set forth in § 726.165.

§ 726.157 Person authorized to issue marketing cards. The county committee shall designate one person to sign marketing cards for farms in the county as issuing officer. The issuing officer may, subject to the approval of the county committee, designate not more than three persons to sign his name in issuing marketing cards: Provided, That each such person shall place his initials immediately beneath the name of the issuing officer as written by him on the card.

§ 726.158 Rights of producers in marketing cards. Each producer having a share in the tobacco available for marketing from a farm shall be entitled to the use of the marketing card for marketing his proportionate share.

§ 726.159 Successors in interest. Any person who succeeds in whole or in part to the share of a producer in the tobacco available for marketing from a farm shall, to the extent of such succession, have the same rights as the producer to the use of the marketing card for the farm.

§ 726.160 Invalid cards. A marketing card shall be invalid if:

(a) It is not issued or delivered in the form and manner prescribed;

(b) Entries are omitted or incorrect;

(c) It is lost, destroyed, stolen, or becomes illegible; or

(d) Any erasure or alteration has been made and not properly initialed.

In the event any marketing card becomes invalid (other than by loss, destruction, or theft, or by omission, alteration, or incorrect entry which cannot be corrected by a field assistant), the farm operator, or the person having the card in his possession, shall return it to the office of the county committee at which it was issued.

If an entry is not made on a marketing card as required, either through omission or incorrect entry, and the proper entry is made and initialed by a field assistant, then such card shall become valid.

§ 726.161 Report of misuse of marketing card. Any information which causes a field assistant, a member of a State, county, or community committee, or an employee of a State or county committee, to believe that any tobacco which actually was produced on one farm has been or is being marketed under the marketing card issued for another farm shall be reported immediately by such person to the county or State committee.

MARKETING OR OTHER DISPOSITION OF TOBACCO AND PENALTIES

§ 726.162 Extent to which marketings from a farm are subject to penalty. (a) Marketings of tobacco from a farm having no carry-over tobacco available for marketing shall be subject to penalty by the percent excess determined as follows: Divide the acreage of tobacco harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment and not disposed of under § 726.163 by the total acreage of tobacco harvested from the farm.

(b) Marketings of tobacco from a farm having carry-over tobacco available for marketing shall be subject to penalty by the percent excess determined as follows:

(1) Determine the number of "carry-over" acres by dividing the number of pounds of "carry-over" tobacco from the prior years by the normal yield for the farm for that year.

(2) Determine the number of "within quota carry-over" acres by multiplying the "carry-over" acres (subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) by the "percent within quota" (i. e., 100 percent minus the "percent excess") for the year in which the "carry-over" tobacco was produced, except that if the excess portion of the carry-over tobacco is disposed of under § 726.163 the "percent within quota" shall be 100.

(3) Determine the "total acres" of tobacco by adding the "carry-over" acres (subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) and the acreage of tobacco harvested in the current year.

(4) Determine the "excess acres" by subtracting from the "total acres" (subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) the sum of the 1950 allotment and the "within quota carry-over" acres (subparagraph (2) of this paragraph).

(5) Determine the percent excess by dividing the "total acres" into the "excess acres" (subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(6) Those persons having an interest in the carry-over tobacco for a farm shall be liable for the payment of any penalty due thereon.

(c) For the purpose of determining the penalty due on each marketing by a producer of tobacco subject to penalty, the converted rate of penalty per pound shall be determined by multiplying the applicable rate of penalty by the percent excess obtained under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. The memorandum of sale issued to identify each such marketing shall show the amount of penalty due.

§ 726.163 Disposition of excess tobacco. The farm operator may elect to give satisfactory proof of disposition of excess tobacco prior to the marketing of any tobacco from the farm by either of the following methods:

(a) By storage of the excess tobacco, the tobacco so stored to be representative of the entire 1950 crop produced on the farm, and posting of a bond approved by the county committee and the State committee in the penal sum of twice the rate of penalty per pound set forth in § 726.165. Penalty at the applicable full rate per pound on marketings of excess tobacco shall become due upon the removal from storage of the excess tobacco, except that an amount of such tobacco in storage equal to the normal production of the acreage by which the 1951 harvested acreage plus any acreage added with respect to any excess carry-over tobacco for the farm pursuant to § 726.162 (b) is less than the 1951 allotment may be removed from storage and marketed penalty free.

If the 1950 harvested acreage is less than the 1950 allotment an amount of any tobacco from the farm which was placed under storage for a prior marketing year equal to the normal production of the acreage by which the 1950 harvested acreage plus any acreage added with respect to any excess carry-over tobacco for the farm pursuant to § 726.162 (b) is less than the 1950 allotment may be marketed penalty free.

(b) By furnishing to the county committee satisfactory proof that excess tobacco representative of the entire crop will not be marketed.

§ 726.164 Identification of markettings. Each marketing of tobacco from a farm shall be identified by an executed memorandum of sale from the 1950 marketing card (MQ–76—Tobacco or MQ–77—Tobacco) issued for the farm on which the tobacco was produced. In addition, in the case of nonwarehouse sales, each marketing shall also be identified by an executed bill of nonwarehouse sale (reverse side of memorandum of sale).

(a) Identification of Virginia sun-cured tobacco. Any warehouseman upon whose floor both Virginia fire-cured tobacco and Virginia sun-cured tobacco are offered for sale at public auction shall display the Virginia fire-cured tobacco separately and shall make and keep records that will insure a separate accounting of each of these kinds of tobacco sold at auction over the warehouse floor.

(b) Memorandum of sale. If a memorandum of sale is not executed to identify a warehouse sale of producer's tobacco by the end of the sale day on which the tobacco was marketed, the marketing shall be a suspended sale, and, unless a memorandum identifying the tobacco so marketed is executed within four weeks after such sale day, the marketing shall be identified by MQ–82—Tobacco, Sale Without Marketing Card, as a marketing of excess tobacco. The memorandum of sale or MQ–82—Tobacco shall be executed only by a field assistant or other representative of the State committee with the following exceptions:

(1) A warehouseman, or his representative, who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco, may issue a memorandum of sale to identify a warehouse sale if a field assistant is not available at the warehouse when the marketing card is presented. Each memorandum of sale issued by a warehouseman to cover a warehouse sale shall be presented promptly by him to the field assistant for verification with the warehouse records.

(2) A dealer, or his authorized representative, operating a regular receiving point for tobacco who keeps records showing the information specified in § 726.172 and who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco, may issue memoranda of sale covering tobacco delivered directly to such receiving point and marketed to such dealer.

The authorization on MQ–78—Tobacco to issue memoranda of sale may be withdrawn by the State committee from any warehouseman or dealer if such action is determined to be necessary in order to properly enforce the provisions of §§ 726.150 to 726.180. The authorization shall terminate upon receipt of written notice setting forth the State committee's reason therefor.

Each excess memorandum of sale issued by a field assistant shall be verified by the warehouseman or dealer (or his representative) to determine whether the amount of penalty shown to be due has been correctly computed and such warehouseman or dealer shall not be relieved of any liability with respect to the amount of penalty due because of any error which may occur in executing the memorandum of sale.

(c) Bill of nonwarehouse sale. Each nonwarehouse sale shall be identified by a bill of nonwarehouse sale completely executed by the buyer and the farm operator.

Each bill of nonwarehouse sale covering any marketing shall be presented to a field assistant for the issuance of a memorandum of sale and for recording in MQ–79—Tobacco.

§ 726.165 Rate of penalty. The penalty per pound upon marketings of excess tobacco subject to marketing quotas shall be twelve (12) cents per pound in the case of fire-cured tobacco (types 21, 22, 23, and 24), eleven (11) cents per pound in the case of dark air-cured tobacco (types 35 and 36), and thirteen (13) cents per pound in the case of Virginia sun-cured tobacco (type 37).

With respect to tobacco marketed from farms having excess tobacco available for marketing, the penalty shall be paid upon that percentage of each lot of tobacco marketed which the tobacco available for marketing in excess of the farm quota is of the total amount of tobacco available for marketing from the farm.

§ 726.166 Persons to pay penalty. The person to pay the penalty due on any marketing of tobacco subject to penalty shall be determined as follows:

(a) Warehouse sale. The penalty due on marketings by a producer through a warehouse shall be paid by the warehouseman who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(b) Nonwarehouse sale. The penalty due on tobacco purchased directly from a producer other than at public auction through a warehouse shall be paid by the purchaser of the tobacco who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(c) Marketings through an agent. The penalty due on marketings by a producer through an agent who is not a warehouseman shall be paid by the agent who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(d) Marketings outside United States. The penalty due on marketings by a producer directly to any person outside the United States shall be paid by the producer.

§ 726.167 Marketings deemed to be excess tobacco. Any marketing of tobacco under any one of the following conditions shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco:

(a) Warehouse sale. Any warehouse sale of tobacco by a producer which is not identified by a valid memorandum of sale within four weeks following the date of marketing shall be identified by a MQ–82—Tobacco and shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the amount due the producer.

(b) Nonwarehouse sale. Any nonwarehouse sale which (1) is not identified by a valid bill of nonwarehouse sale (reverse side of memorandum of sale) and (2) is not also identified by a valid memorandum of sale and recorded in MQ–79—Tobacco within one week following the date of purchase, or if purchased prior to the opening of the local auction markets but is not identified by a valid memorandum of sale and recorded in MQ–79—Tobacco within one week following the first sale day of the local auction markets, shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the purchaser of such tobacco.

(c) Leaf account tobacco. The part or all of any marketing by a warehouseman which such warehouseman represents to be a leaf account resale, but which when added to prior leaf account resales, as reported under §§ 726.150 to 726.180, is in excess of prior leaf account purchases shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such warehouseman furnishes proof acceptable to the Director or State committee showing that such marketing is not a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman.

(d) Dealer's tobacco. The part or all of any marketing of tobacco by a dealer which such dealer represents to be a resale but which when added to prior resales by such dealer is in excess of the total of his prior purchases as reported on MQ–79—Tobacco shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such dealer furnishes proof acceptable to the Director or State committee showing that such marketing is not a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the dealer.

(e) Marketings not reported. Any resale of tobacco which under §§ 726.150 to 726.180 is required to be reported by a warehouseman or dealer but which is not so reported within the time and in the manner required by §§ 726.150 to 726.180 shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such warehouseman or dealer furnishes a report of such resale which is acceptable to the Director or State committee. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman or dealer who fails to make the report as required.

(f) Producer marketings. If any producer falsely identifies or fails to account for the disposition of any tobacco produced on a farm, an amount of tobacco equal to the normal yield of the number of acres harvested in 1950 in excess of the farm acreage allotment shall be deemed to have been a marketing of excess tobacco from such farm. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the producer.

§ 726.168 Payment of penalty. Penalties shall become due at the time the tobacco is marketed, except in the case of tobacco removed from storage as provided in § 726.163 (a), and shall be paid by remitting the amount thereof to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty. A draft, money order, or check drawn payable to the Treasurer of the United States may be used to pay any penalty, but any such draft or check shall be received subject to payment at par.

If the penalty due on any warehouse sale of tobacco by a producer as determined under §§ 726.150 to 726.180 is in excess of the net proceeds of such sale (gross amount for all lots included in the sale less usual warehouse charges), the amount of the net proceeds accompanied by a copy of the warehouse bill covering such sale may be remitted as the full penalty due. Usual warehouse charges shall not include (a) advances to producers, (b) charges for hauling, or (c) any other charges not usually incurred by producers in marketing tobacco through an auction warehouse.

§ 726.169 Request for return of penalty. Any producer of tobacco after the marketing of all tobacco available for marketing from the farm, and any other person who bore the burden of the payment of any penalty may request the return of the amount of such penalty which is in excess of the amount required under §§ 726.150 to 726.180 to be paid. Such request shall be filed with the county committee within two (2) years after the payment of the penalty.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 726.170 Producer's records and reports.—(a) Report on marketing card. The operator of each farm on which tobacco is produced in 1950 shall return to the office of the county committee each marketing card issued for the farm whenever marketings from the farm are completed and in no event later than thirty days after the close of the tobacco auction markets for the locality in which the farm is located. Failure to return the marketing card within the time specified (after formal notification) shall constitute failure to account for disposition of tobacco marketed from the farm and in the event that a satisfactory account of such disposition is not furnished otherwise, the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in the fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1951–52 marketing year.

(b) Additional reports by producers. In addition to any other reports which may be required under §§ 726.150 to 726.180, the operator of each farm or any other person having an interest in the tobacco grown on the farm (even though the harvested acreage does not exceed the acreage allotment or even though no allotment was established for the farm) shall upon written request by registered mail from the State committee and within 10 days after the deposit of such request in the United States mails, addressed to such person at his last known address, furnish the Secretary a written report of the disposition made of all tobacco produced on the farm by sending the same to the State committee showing, as to the farm at the time of filing said report, (1) the number of acres of tobacco harvested, (2) the total production of tobacco, (3) the amount of tobacco on hand and its location, and (4) as to each lot of tobacco marketed, the name and address of the warehouseman, dealer, or other person to or through whom such tobacco was marketed and the number of pounds marketed, the gross price, and the date of the marketing. Failure to file the report as requested or the filing of a report which is found by the State committee to be incomplete or incorrect shall constitute failure of the producer to account for disposition of tobacco produced on the farm and the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in the fire-cured, dark air-cured, and Virginia sun-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1951–52 marketing year.

§ 726.171 Warehouseman's records and reports.—(a) Record of marketing. Each warehouseman shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director or the State committee with respect to each warehouse sale of tobacco made at his warehouse the following information:

(1) The name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco was produced and the name of the seller in the case of a sale by a producer, and in the case of a resale the name of the seller.

(2) Date of sale.

(3) Number of pounds sold.

(4) Gross sale price.

(5) Amount of any penalty and the amount of any deduction on account of penalty from the price paid the producer(s); and in addition with respect to each individual basket or lot of tobacco constituting the warehouse sale the following information:

(6) Name of purchaser.

(7) Number of pounds sold.

(8) Gross sale price.

(9) Records of all purchases and resales of tobacco by the warehouseman shall be maintained to show a separate account for:

(i) Nonwarehouse sales by farmers of tobacco purchased by or on behalf of the warehouseman.

(ii) Purchases and resales for the warehouse leaf account.

(iii) Resales of floor sweepings.

(iv) Resales of pick-ups, with respect to both subparagraphs (1) and (2) as defined in § 726.151 (n).

Any warehouseman who grades tobacco for farmers shall maintain a separate account showing the approximate amount of tobacco obtained from the grading of tobacco from each farm.

In the case of resales for dealers, the name of the dealer making each resale shall be shown on the warehouse records so that the individual lots of tobacco sold by the dealer can be identified.

(b) Identification of sale on check register. The serial number of the memorandum of sale issued to identify each warehouse sale by a producer or the number of the warehouse bill(s) covering each such sale shall be recorded on the check register or check stub for the check written with respect to such sale of tobacco.

(c) Memorandum of sale and bill of nonwarehouse sale. A record in the form of a valid memorandum of sale or a sale without marketing card shall be obtained by a warehouseman to cover each marketing of tobacco from a farm through the warehouse and each nonwarehouse sale of tobacco purchased by or for the warehouseman. For a nonwarehouse sale of tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman, no memorandum of sale shall be issued unless the bill of nonwarehouse sale on the reverse side of the memorandum is executed. Any warehouseman who obtains possession of any tobacco in the course of grading tobacco from any farm shall obtain a memorandum of sale to cover the amount of such tobacco.

(d) Suspended sale record. Any warehouse bills covering farm tobacco for which memoranda of sale have not been issued at the end of the sale day shall be presented to a field assistant who shall stamp such bills "Suspended," write thereon the serial number of the suspended sale, and record the bills on MQ–83—Tobacco, Field Assistant's Report: Provided, That if a field assistant is not available, the warehouseman may stamp such bills "Suspended" and deliver them to a field assistant when one is available.

(e) Warehouse entries on dealer's record. Each warehouseman shall record on MQ–79—Tobacco the total purchases and resales made by each dealer or other warehouseman during each sale day at the warehouse, and enter his initials in the space provided. If any tobacco resold by the dealer is tobacco bought by him from a crop produced prior to 1950 the entry on MQ–79—Tobacco shall clearly show such fact.

(f) Record and report of purchases and resales. Each warehouseman shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco, Dealer's Record, showing:

(1) All purchases of tobacco directly from producers other than at public auction through a warehouse (nonwarehouse sales).

(2) All purchases and resales of tobacco at public auction through warehouses other than his own.

(3) All purchases of tobacco from dealers other than warehousemen and resales of tobacco to dealers other than warehousemen.

(g) Season report of warehouse business. Each warehouseman shall furnish the State committee not later than thirty (30) days following the last sale day of the marketing season a report on MQ–80—Tobacco, Auction Warehouse Report, showing (1) for each dealer or buyer, as originally billed, the total pounds and gross amount of tobacco purchased and resold on the warehouse floor; (2) the total pounds and gross amount of "loan tobacco" billed to any association; (3) the total pounds and gross amount of all leaf account tobacco purchased and resold and of all pick-ups (§ 726.151 (n) (1) and (2)) and floor sweepings sold by the warehouseman at public auction over his own warehouse floor; (4) the pounds and estimated value of all tobacco on hand at the time of filing the report and whether such tobacco represents leaf account tobacco, pick-ups (§ 726.151 (n) (1) or (2)), or floor sweepings; (5) the total pounds and gross amount of all tobacco purchased directly from farmers other than at public auction through a warehouse; and (6) the total pounds and gross amount of all purchases over other warehouse floors or from dealers other than warehousemen and all resales over other warehpuse floors or to dealers other than warehousemen.

(h) Report of penalties. Each warehouseman shall make reports on MQ–81—Tobacco, Report of Penalties, showing for each sale of tobacco subject to penalty (1) the name of the farm operator; (2) the memorandum number; (3) the name of the county in which the farm is located; (4) the number of pounds sold; (5) the applicable converted rate of penalty; and (6) the amount of penalty due on each such sale. MQ–81—Tobacco shall be prepared for each week and forwarded together with remittance of the penalty due as shown thereon to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty.

(i) Report of resales. Each warehouseman shall make reports on MQ–86—Tobacco, Report of Resales, showing for each resale of tobacco at auction on the warehouse floor (1) the warehouse bill number; (2) the name on the warehouse bill; (3) the name of the seller, or in the case of a resale for the warehouse, whether such resale represents leaf account tobacco, pick-ups, or floor sweepings; (4) the registration number and State of the person making the resale; (5) the number of pounds sold; and (6) the gross amount for the sale. MQ–86—Tobacco shall be prepared for each sale day and forwarded to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco was resold.

(j) Additional records and reports by warehousemen. Each warehouseman shall keep such records and furnish such reports to the State committee, in addition to the foregoing, as the Director may find necessary to insure the proper identification of the marketings of tobacco and the collection of penalties due thereon as provided in §§ 726.150 to 726.180.

§ 726.172 Dealer's records and reports. Each dealer, except as provided in § 726.173, shall keep the records and make the reports as provided by this section.

(a) Report of dealer's name, address, and registration number. Each dealer shall properly execute and the field assistant shall detach and forward to the State committee "Receipt for Dealer's Record" contained in MQ–79—Tobacco which is issued to the dealer.

(b) Record and report of purchases and resales. Each dealer shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco, Dealer's Record, showing all purchases and resales of tobacco made by or for the dealer and, in the event of resale of tobacco bought from a crop produced prior to 1950, the fact that such tobacco was bought by him and carried over from a crop produced prior to 1950.

(c) Report of penalties. Each dealer shall make a report on MQ–81—Tobacco, Report of Penalties, showing for each purchase of tobacco subject to penalty (1) the name of the farm operator; (2) the memorandum number; (3) the name of the county in which the farm is located; (4) the number of pounds purchased; (5) the applicable converted rate of penalty; and (6) the amount of penalty due on each such purchase. MQ–81—Tobacco shall be prepared for each week and forwarded together with remittance of the penalty due as shown thereon to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty.

(d) Memorandum of sale and bill of nonwarehouse sale. A bill of nonwarehouse sale and a memorandum of sale from the 1950 marketing card issued for the farm on which the tobacco was produced shall be obtained by a dealer to cover each purchase of tobacco directly from a producer other than at auction through a warehouse. No memorandum of sale shall be issued identifying such purchase unless the bill of nonwarehouse sale, on the reverse side of the memorandum of sale, has been executed.

(e) Additional records. Each dealer shall keep such records in addition to the foregoing as will enable him to furnish the Director or the State committee with respect to each lot of tobacco purchased by him the following information:

(1) The name of the warehouse through which the tobacco was purchased in the case of a warehouse sale; the name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco was produced and the name of the seller in the case of a nonwarehouse sale; and the name of the seller in the case of purchases directly from warehousemen or other dealers.

(2) Date of purchase.

(3) Number of pounds purchased.

(4) Gross purchase price.

(5) Amount of any penalty and the amount of any deduction on account of penalty from the price paid the producer(s); and with respect to each lot of tobacco sold by him the following information:

(6) Name of the warehouse through which the tobacco was sold in the case of a warehouse sale, and the name of the purchaser if other than a warehouse sale.

(7) Date of sale.

(8) Number of pounds sold.

(9) Gross sale price.

(10) In the event of a resale of tobacco bought by him and carried over from a crop produced prior to 1950 the fact that such tobacco was so bought and carried over.

All reports shall be forwarded to the State committee not later than the end of the week following the calendar week covered by the reports.

§ 726.173 Dealers exempt from regular records and reports. Any dealer or buyer who does not purchase or otherwise acquire tobacco except at (a) warehouse sales, or (b) directly from dealers other than warehousemen, and who does not resell in the form in which tobacco ordinarily is sold by farmers more than 10 percent of such tobacco so purchased by him shall not be subject to the provisions of § 726.172 but each such dealer shall make such reports to the Director as he may find necessary to enforce §§ 726.150 to 726.180.

§ 726.174 Records and reports of truckers and persons redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco. (a) Every person engaged to any extent in the business of trucking tobacco for producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director or State committee a report with respect to each lot of tobacco received by him showing (1) the name and address of the farm operator, (2) the date of receipt of the tobacco, (3) the number of pounds received, and (4) the place to which it was delivered.

(b) Every person engaged to any extent in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director a report showing (1) the information required above for truckers, and in addition, (2) the purpose for which the tobacco was received, (3) the amount of advance made by him on the tobacco, and (4) the disposition of the tobacco.

Each such person shall make such reports to the Director as he may find necessary to enforce §§ 726.150 to 726.180.

§ 726.175 Separate records and reports from persons engaged in more than one business. Any person who is required to keep any records or make any report as a warehouseman, dealer, processor, or as a person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers, and who is engaged in more than one such business, shall keep such records as will enable him to make separate reports for each such business in which he is engaged to the same extent for each such business as if he were engaged in no other business.

§ 726.176 Failure to keep records or make reports. Any warehouseman, dealer, processor, or common carrier of tobacco, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers, who fails to make any report or keep any record as required under §§ 726.150 to 726.180, or who makes any false report or record, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500; and any tobacco warehouseman or dealer who fails to remedy such violation by making a complete and accurate report or keeping a complete and accurate record as required under these regulations within fifteen days after notice to him of such violation shall be subject to an additional fine of $100 for each ten thousand pounds of tobacco, or fraction thereof, bought or sold by him after the date of such violation: Provided, That such fine shall not exceed $5,000; and notice of such violation shall be served upon the tobacco warehouseman or dealer by mailing the same to him by registered mail or by posting the same at an established place of business operated by him, or both. Notice of any violation by a tobacco warehouseman or dealer shall be given by the Director.

§ 726.177 Examination of records and reports. For the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept, or of obtaining information required to be furnished in any report but not so furnished, any warehouseman, dealer, processor, common carrier, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers shall make available for examination upon written request by the State committee or Director, such books, papers, records, accounts, correspondence, contracts, documents, and memoranda as the State committee or Director has reason to believe are relevant and are within the control of such person.

§ 726.178 Length of time records and reports to be kept. Records required to be kept and copies of reports required to be made by any person under §§ 726.150 to 726.180 for the 1950–51 marketing year, shall be kept by him until September 30, 1953. Records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the Director or State committee.

§ 726.179 Information confidential. All data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of §§ 726.150 to 726.180 shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture and by all members and employees of county committees and only such data so reported or acquired as the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration, deems relevant shall be disclosed by them and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under Title III of the act.

§ 726.180 Redelegation of authority. Any authority delegated to the State committee by §§ 726.150 to 726.180 may be redelegated by the State committee.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 16th day of August 1950. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[MQ-71—Peanuts (1950), Amdt. 1]

PART 729—PEANUTS

MARKETING QUOTA FOR 1950 CROP

Basis and purpose. Section 359 (a) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that the marketing of any peanuts in excess of the marketing quota for the farm on which such peanuts are produced, or the marketing of peanuts from any farm for which no acreage allotment was determined, shall be subject to a penalty at a rate equal to 50 per centum of the basic rate of the loan (calculated to the nearest tenth of a cent) for farm marketing quota peanuts for the marketing year August 1–July 31. When the Marketing Quota Regulations for 1950 Crop of Peanuts were issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on July 20, 1950, the basic loan rate per pound of peanuts was not available and the exact rate of penalty could not be included in such regulations. Such basic loan rate is now available and the purpose of the amendment contained herein is to establish and include in the regulations the exact rate of the penalty per pound of peanuts for the 1950 crop.

Peanuts are presently being harvested in the southwesterly areas of the United States and it is necessary that the amendment set forth herein be made effective at the earliest possible date in order that the exact rate of penalty may be made known to producers, who desire to market peanuts, and to buyers, who are charged in the regulations with the duty of collecting the penalty on peanuts marketed subject to the penalty. Accordingly, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) is impractical and contrary to the public interest, and the amendment contained herein shall be effective upon filing of this document with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Section 729.155 of the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1950 Crop of Peanuts (15 F. R. 4739), is hereby changed to read as follows:

§ 729.155 Rate of penalty. The penalty per pound upon marketings of excess peanuts subject to penalty shall be 5.4 cents per pound.

(Sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 1375. Interprets or applies sec. 359, 55 Stat. 90, as amended, Pub. Law 471, 81st Cong.; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 1359)

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Tokay Grape Order 1]

PART 951—TOKAY GRAPES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

REGULATION BY GRADES AND SIZES

§ 951.311 Tokay Grape Order 1—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 51, as amended (7 CFR, Part 951; 14 F. R. 440), regulating the handling of Tokay grapes grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Industry Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of Tokay grapes, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than August 20, 1950. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, Tokay grapes must await the development of the crop and adequate information thereon was not available to the Industry Committee until August 10, 1950; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, grade and size regulation was made at the meeting of said committee on August 10, 1950, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such grapes, at which time the recommendations and information were transmitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such grapes are expected to begin on or about August 20, 1950, and this section should be applicable to all such shipments of such grapes in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 20, 1950, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., January 1, 1951, no shipper shall ship:

(i) Any Tokay grapes produced in the Lodi District which do not meet the grade and size requirements of U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes: Provided, That, in lieu of the tolerance of ten (10) percent for variations incident to proper grading and handling provided for U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes, not more than a total of eight (8) percent, by weight, of the Tokay grapes contained in any container may be below the requirements of U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes; or

(ii) Any Tokay grapes produced in the Florin District which do not meet the grade and size requirements of U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes: Provided, That, in addition to the tolerances provided for U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes, there shall be allowed, for each container of Tokay grapes, an aggregate tolerance of six (6) percent, by weight, for defects not considered serious damage and for bunches smaller than the minimum size specified for U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes.

(2) Definitions. As used in this section, "handler," "shipper," "ship," "Lodi District," "Florin Disrtict," "bunches," and "size" shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order; and "U. S. No. 1 Table Grapes," "defects," and "serious damage" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Table Grapes (7 CFR 51.232).

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.451 Lemon Regulation 244—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR, Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on August 16, 1950. Such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 20, 1950, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 27, 1950, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 300 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached to Lemon Regulation No. 343 (15 F. R. 5222), and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2" and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

PART 993—HANDLING OF DRIED PRUNES PRODUCED IN CALIFORNIA

SALABLE PERCENTAGE AND SURPLUS PERCENTAGE FOR 1950–51 CROP YEAR

§ 993.201 Dried prune salable tonnage and surplus tonnage regulation for the 1950–51 crop year—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and order (7 CFR 993.1 et seq.), regulating the handling of dried prunes produced in California, hereinafter referred to as the "order", effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act", and upon the basis of information supplied by the Prune Administative Committee established under the said order, and other available information, it is hereby found by me on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture that to establish a salable percentage and a surplus percentage as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section for a longer period than three days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER because deliveries of dried prunes to handlers by producers and dehydrators during the 1950–51 crop year will begin within the next few days, and it is necessary to have regulations of this nature in effect as promptly as practicable in order to regulate such receipts effectively. No preparation for this section is required which cannot be completed prior to such effective date. Therefore, good cause exists for not giving preliminary notice, engaging in public rule making procedure, and delaying the effective date of this section beyond three days after the publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER (See section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act; 60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(b) Order. The salable percentage of dried prunes produced in California for the crop year beginning August 1, 1950, and ending July 31, 1951, shall be 100 percent, and the surplus percentage of such dried prunes for said crop year shall be 0 percent.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended, 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 1, 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 16th day of August 1950, to become effective at 12:01 a. m., P. d. s. t., August 22, 1950.

PART 533—GRATUITY UPON DEATH

SPECIAL DETERMINATIONS

Rescind paragraph (a) of § 533.8 and substitute the following in lieu thereof:

§ 533.8 Special determinations—(a) Absent without leave. (1) During periods of absence without leave service members shall continue in a pay status, but shall forfeit all pay allowances during such absence unless such absence is excused as unavoidable. The 6 months' death gratuity is not a part of a member's "pay and allowances," therefore, if a member dies during an absence without leave, whether such absence is excused as unavoidable, payment of the 6 months' death gratuity at the rate of pay accruing to such member at the date of death is authorized if otherwise payable. This determination applies to all cases where absence without leave and death occurred subsequent to August 31, 1946.

(2) When absence without leave does not exceed 3 months, payment of the 6 months' gratuity pay will be made by the Military Pay Division, Army Finance Center, St. Louis, Missouri. When absence is in excess of 3 months, cases will be referred to the Chief of Finance, Department of the Army.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions

[41 CFR, Part 202]

PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGE FOR PAINT AND VARNISH INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The Secretary of Labor, in an amended minimum wage determination issued pursuant to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (act of June 30, 1936, 49 Stat. 2036, 41 U. S. C. 35–45) and effective January 25, 1950 (15 F. R. 382), determined that the minimum wage for persons employed in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the act for the manufacture or furnishing of the products of the Paint and Varnish Industry shall be not less than 75 cents an hour. This amended determination was based upon information indicating that substantially all employees in the Paint and Varnish Industry are engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce, as defined in the Fair Labor Standards Act, and that as a consequence the Fair Labor Standards Amendments of 1949 require payment of a wage rate of not less than 75 cents per hour to substantially all employees in the industry. This amended determination also provides that learners and handicapped workers may be employed at subminimum rates in accordance with regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act (29 CFR Parts 522, 524 and 525).

A wage survey of selected paint and varnish manufacturing establishments made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics as of April 1950 shows clearly that the 75-cent rate now in effect does not reflect the prevailing minimum wages in the industry; and it is proposed, therefore, to hold a hearing for the purpose of consideration by the Secretary of Labor of an amendment of the current determination.

The Paint and Varnish Industry, for the purpose of this hearing, is defined as that industry which manufactures or furnishes any of the following products:

Pigments and colors either in dry or paste form; paints mixed ready for use or in dry or paste form; varnishes; lacquers and enamels; fillers, putty and top dressings; paint and varnish removers; furniture and floor wax; lacquer thinners; waterproofing compounds; and artists' oil and water colors.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given: That a public hearing will be held on September 14, 1950, at 10:00 a. m., in Room 1214, Department of Labor Building, Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, or a representative designated to preside in his place, at which hearing all interested persons may appear and submit data, views and argument: (1) As to what are the prevailing minimum wages in the Paint and Varnish Industry; (2) as to whether there should be included in any amended determination for this industry provision for employment of learners and/or apprentices at subminimum rates, and if so, in what occupations, at what subminimum rates, and with what limitations, if any, as to length of period and number or proportion of such subminimum rate employees; and (3) as to the adequacy of the proposed definition.

Persons intending to appear are requested to notify the Administrator of their intention in advance of the hearing.

Written statements in lieu of personal appearance may be filed by mail at any time prior to the date of the hearing, or may be filed with the presiding officer at the hearing. An original and four copies of any such statement should be filed.

Copies of the above-mentioned survey by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (Paint and Varnish Industry, April 1950), as well as supplementary tables prepared at the request of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, will be made available to interested persons upon request to the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. Interested persons are invited to submit wage data, including data as to changes which may have taken place in the wage structure of the industry since the time of the survey.

In the discretion of the presiding officer, a period of not to exceed 30 days from the close of the hearing may be allowed for the filing of comment on the evidence and statements introduced into the record of the hearing. In the event such supplemental statements are received an original and four copies of each such statement should be filed.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of August 1950.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator.

[7 CFR, Part 951]

HANDLING OF TOKAY GRAPES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given that the Department is considering the approval of a proposed amendment, hereinafter set forth, of the rules and regulations (7 CFR 951.100 et seq.) that are currently in effect pursuant to the applicable provisions of the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 51, as amended (7 CFR Part 951) regulating the handling of Tokay grapes grown in the State of California. This is a regulatory program effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). The proposals have been submitted by the Industry Committee, established under said amended marketing agreement and order as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

1. In § 951.100 General, delete the address "1910 Eye Street, Sacramento 14, California" and substitute therefor the following: "P. O. Box 877, Lodi, California."

2. Revise § 951.101 Definitions in the following respects: a. Revise the provisions of paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) "Standard package" means the standard grape lug No. 37G specified in section 828.53 of the Agricultural Code of California.

b. Revise the provisions of paragraph (f) by deleting "§ 951.5 (f) and section 5 of the marketing agreement" and substituting therefor the following: "§ 951.7 (f) of the order, as amended, and section 7 (f) of the marketing agreement, as amended."

c. Delete the last sentence in paragraph (g) and substitute therefor the following: "Grapes placed in cold storage shall not be shipped therefrom except as provided by §§ 951.7 and 951.8 of the order, as amended, and sections 7 and 8 of the marketing agreement, as amended."

3. Revise the heading of § 951.104 Regulation by grades and sizes together with the provisions in paragraphs (a) and (b) of such section to read as follows:

§ 951.104 Notice of recommendations and regulations; exemption certificates—(a) Notice of recommendation. Notice of each recommendation, made by the Industry Committee to the Secretary, with respect to regulation by grades and sizes, by minimum standards of quality and maturity, or of daily shipments, and of each such recommendation to modify, suspend, or terminate a regulation, shall be given by the Industry Committee by having a general statement of the contents of the recommendation published once as a news item in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Lodi, California, and once in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sacramento, California.

(b) Notice of regulation. Notice of each regulation by grades and sizes, by minimum standards of quality, and maturity, or of daily shipments, and of each modification, suspension, or termination of a regulation, shall be given by the Industry Committee by having a general statement of the contents of the regulation, or modification, suspension, or termination of a regulation, as the case may be, mailed to each handler whose name appears on the records of the Industry Committee for the current year, and by having a general statement of the contents of the regulation, or modification, suspension, or termination, published once as a news item in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Lodi, California, and once in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sacramento, California.

4. In § 951.105 Regulation of daily shipments, redesignate paragraph (a) (2) as (a) (3) and add the following as a new paragraph (a) (2):

(2) The time a car of grapes is held at a railroad assembly point is computed as hereinafter prescribed. A car of grapes at a railroad assembly point will be considered to have been held: (i) 24 hours if such car was not released by the Industry Committee in time to depart from said assembly point the first day following the billing date of said car; (ii) 48 hours if such car is not released by the Industry Committee in time to depart from said assembly point the second day following the billing date of said car; and (iii) 72 hours if such car is not released by the Industry Committee in time to depart from said assembly point the third day following the billing date of said car. In no event shall a car of grapes eligible for release be held at a railroad assembly point longer than 72 hours.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed amendment may submit the same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the 15th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Issued this 16th day of August 1950.

NOTICE FOR FILING OBJECTION TO ORDER WITHDRAWING PUBLIC LANDS FOR USE OF DEPARTMENT OF THE AIR FORCE IN CONNECTION WITH A SOLAR OBSERVATORY [1]

For a period of 30 days from the date of publication of the above entitled order, persons having cause to object to the terms thereof may present their objections to the Secretary of the Interior. Such objections should be in writing, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Interior, and should be filed in duplicate in the Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C. In case any objection is filed and the nature of the opposition is such as to warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced, where opponents to the order may state their views and where the proponents of the order can explain its purpose, intent, and extent. Should any objection be filed, whether or not a hearing is held, notice of the determination by the Secretary as to whether the order should be rescinded, modified or let stand will be given to all interested parties of record and the general public.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary of the Interior.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket No. 9759]

MT. AIRY BROADCASTERS, INC.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Mt. Airy Broadcasters, Inc., Mount Airy, North Carolina, for construction permit; Docket No. 9759, File No. BP-7653.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application for a construction permit to construct a new standard broadcast station to operate unlimited time on 1240 kc with 250 watts of power at Mount Airy, North Carolina;

It appearing, that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate the proposed station, but that the application may involve interference with one or more existing stations and otherwise not comply with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designated for hearing commencing at 10:00 a. m., on January 30, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed station, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of the proposed station would involve objectionable interference with Station WKOY, Bluefield, West Virginia; and with Station WROV, Roanoke, Virginia, or with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed station would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

It is further ordered, That WKOY, Incorporated, licensee of Station WKOY, Bluefield, West Virginia, and that Radio Roanoke, Inc., licensee of Station WROV, Roanoke, Virginia, are made parties to this proceeding.

Released: August 10, 1950.

[Docket No. 9760]

PAUL A. BRANDT (WCEN)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Paul A. Brandt (WCEN), Mount Pleasant, Michigan, for modification of construction permit, Docket No. 9760, File No. BMP-5188.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application requesting modification of construction permit (File No. BP-7494 which authorized increase in power of Station WCEN, Mount Pleasant, Michigan, from 500 watts to 1 kilowatt) to change hours of operation from daytime only to unlimited time and to install a directional antenna for night use only;

It appearing, that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to construct and operate Station WCEN as proposed, but that the application may involve interference with one or more existing stations and otherwise not comply with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designated for hearing at 10:00 a. m., on January 31, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of Station WCEN as proposed, and the character of other broadcast service available to those areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of Station WCEN as proposed would involve objectionable interference with any other existing United States broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the operation of Station WCEN as proposed would involve objectionable interference with Station CKX, Brandon, Manitoba, or with any other existing foreign broadcast stations and, if so, whether such interference would be in contravention of any international agreement or the Commission's rules and standards.

4. To determine whether the operation of Station WCEN as proposed would involve objectionable interference with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station WCEN as proposed would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations with particular reference to the assignment of stations where objectionable interference would be received to a field intensity contour greater than that specified for a station of its class and to the population residing within the 250 mv/m nighttime blanket contour.

H. C. YOUNG, JR., AND SOUTHERN BROADCASTING CO., INC.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of H. C. Young, Jr., Nashville, Tennessee, Docket No. 9752, File No. BP-7624; Southern Broadcasting Co., Inc., Nashville, Tennessee, Docket No. 9753, File No. BP-7732; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 2d day of August 1950;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications, each requesting a new standard broadcasting station on frequency 1470 kilocycles, 1 kilowatt, daytime only, at Nashville, Tennessee;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding commencing at 10:00 a. m., on January 23, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial, and other qualifications of the individual applicant and of the corporate applicant, its officers, directors and stockholders to operate the proposed stations.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of the proposed stations, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of the proposed stations would involve objectionable interference, each with the other, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed stations would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine the overlap, if any, that will exist between the service areas of the Southern Broadcasting Co., Inc., proposal and of Station WCOR, Lebanon, Tennessee, the nature and extent thereof, and whether such overlap, if any, is in contravention of § 3.35 of the Commission's rules.

8. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 59-96]

WISCONSIN ELECTRIC POWER CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER INSTITUTING PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its offices in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of August 1950.

In the matter of Wisconsin Electric Power Company and its subsidiary companies, respondents, File No. 59-96.

The Commission having examined, pursuant to sections 11 (a), 18 (a) and 18 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), the corporate structure of Wisconsin Electric Power Company ("Wisconsin Electric"), a registered holding company, the corporate structure of its subsidiary companies, the relationship among the companies in the holding company system of Wisconsin Electric, the character of the interests thereof and the properties owned or controlled thereby to determine the extent to which the property and business of such system may be confined to those necessary or appropriate to the operations of an integrated public-utility system or systems meeting the applicable standards of section 11 (b) (1) of the act; and said examination having disclosed data establishing or tending to establish the following:

I. 1. Wisconsin Electric, a registered holding company and an operating public utility company, is a corporation organized under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin. It maintains its principal offices in the City of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Wisconsin Electric has three direct subsidiaries, two of which, Wisconsin Natural Gas Company ("Wisconsin Gas"), and Wisconsin Michigan Power Company ("Wisconsin Michigan"), are public utility companies within the meaning of section 2 (a) (5) of the act, the third, the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company ("Transport Company"), being a non-utility subsidiary. The latter named company, in turn, has a wholly owned non-utility subsidiary, Badger Auto Service Company. The Commission, in its findings and opinion dated April 14, 1942, found that the electric properties of Wisconsin Electric, Wisconsin Gas,[1] and Wisconsin Michigan constitute a single integrated public utility system within the meaning of section 2 (a) 29 (A) of the act. The electric service areas of the Wisconsin Electric holding company system are shown on the annexed map marked Exhibit "1" [2] which is made a part hereof as if set out herein in full.

2. The corporate relationship of the system companies to each other, and the nature of their business, are shown in the following table:

Name of company	Percent of voting control	Nature of business
Wisconsin Electric Power Co.		Holding company and electric utility.
Wisconsin Natural Gas Co.	100	Gas utility and steam.
Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.	99.91	Gas and electric utility.
The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Co.	100	Local transit and terminal freight.
Badger Auto Service Co.	100	Parking, auto service and gasoline.

3. The managements of Wisconsin Electric, Wisconsin Gas, Wisconsin Michigan, Transport Company and Badger Auto Service Company are interlocked through the medium of common officers and directors.

4. Wisconsin Electric, in addition to being a holding company, is engaged in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electricity in Milwaukee and neighboring communities and in the sale of steam in downtown Milwaukee. In 1949 its gross revenues from the sale of electricity were approximately 97 percent of its total gross operating revenues. Over 99 percent of electric energy sold was generated at the company's own steam generating plants. Wisconsin Electric serves an area having a population of over one million persons.

5. A condensed pro-forma corporate balance sheet of Wisconsin Electric, as of February 28, 1950, reflecting the acquisition of the electric properties of Wisconsin Gas, the sale by Wisconsin Electric of $15,000,000 of bonds, and of 585,405 shares of its common stock, shows the following:

Assets:	Pro forma
Property and plant	$183,000,771
Investments:
Reacquired securities (at (at par)	49,200
Common stock of Wisconsin Gas	4,456,481
Common stock of Wisconsin Michigan	8,851,158
Securities of Transport Company	8,675,486
Other investments	38,656
Cash and U. S. Government securities	19,960,945
Other current assets	10,044,287
Deferred charges	2,526,381
Total assets	237,603,365

Liabilities:	Pro forma
Current and accrued liabilities	$11,278,654
Contributions in aid of construction	735,317
Reserve for depreciation	61,524,239
Reserve for casualties and insurance	865,451
Premium on capital stocks	5,981,032
Funded debt	77,100,000
Six percent preferred capital stock ($100 par)	4,500,000
Serial preferred stock ($100 par)	26,000,000
Common stock ($10 par)	35,124,260
Surplus:
Paid-in	6,416,289
Earned	8,078,163
Total liabilities	237,603,365

6. A condensed pro-forma corporate income statement of Wisconsin Electric for the twelve months ending February 28, 1950, giving effect to the acquisition of the electric properties of Wisconsin Gas and the issuance of new securities, shows the following:

	Pro forma
Operating revenues	$50,245,106
Operating expenses and taxes	41,857,466
Net operating revenues	8,387,640
Nonoperating revenues	1,266,270
Gross income	9,653,910
Income deductions (net)	2,707,352
Net income	6,946,558
Preferred stock dividend requirements	1,203,048
Balance for common and surplus	5,743,510

7. In 1949 the amounts of electric energy sold and the prices received therefor by Wisconsin Electric under various contracts with subsidiaries were as follows:

Name	KWH sold	Price received
Wisconsin Michigan	204,879,000	$1,779,572
Transport Co.	91,338,921	688,150
Wisconsin Gas	502,791,236	5,050,191

The above amounts constituted substantially all of the electric energy required by Wisconsin Gas and the Transport Company and approximately 38 percent of that required by Wisconsin-Michigan.

II. 8. The operations of Wisconsin Gas have heretofore consisted of supplying services as an electric utility, a manufactured gas utility, and, to a minor extent, a steam heating company. Since the transfer of its electric properties to Wisconsin Electric, Wisconsin Gas is engaged principally in the purchase, distribution, and sale of natural gas and to a small extent in the generation and sale of steam. Natural gas, which has been distributed in its entire gas service area only since February 1950, is purchased at rates regulated by the Federal Power Commission from Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, a non-affiliated company, under a twenty-five year contract entered into on June 1, 1949. In 1949 the gross operating revenues of Wisconsin Gas were derived approximately 71 percent from sales of electric energy, 28 percent from gas sales, and 1 percent from steam sales.

[1] At the time of the issuance of the Commission's findings and opinion, Wisconsin Gas was known as Wisconsin Gas and Electric Company and was engaged in the operation of both gas and electric utility businesses. In May 1950 the name of the company was was changed to Wisconsin Natural Gas Company and on June 9, 1950, the electric properties of Wisconsin Gas were acquired by Wisconsin Electric pursuant to authorization granted by the Commission in its order of May 26, 1950 (Holding Company Act Release No. 9891). By this same order the Commission authorized the redemption of Wisconsin Gas' Preferred Stock.

[2] Filed as part of the original document.

9. The gas utility operations of Wisconsin Gas include the distribution at retail of natural gas in the cities of Racine, Kenosha, Waukesha, South Milwaukee, Cudahy, Watertown, Fort Atkinson, Oconomowoc, Whitewater, and 46 other communities in southeastern Wisconsin. The estimated population of the territory served with gas by Wisconsin Gas at December 31, 1949, was approximately 311,000. The gas service area of Wisconsin Gas is largely west and south of Milwaukee and is located for the most part in the area served by the electric properties transferred to Wisconsin Electric. The service area of Wisconsin Gas, as of December 31, 1949, is shown on the annexed map, marked Exhibit "2",[3] which is made a part hereof as if set out herein in full.

10. Wisconsin Gas also operates a small steam heating business supplying approximately 220 customers in a limited area in the City of Waukesha, Wisconsin. In 1949, gross operating revenues from steam heating sales were $80,833. In 1949, in conjunction with an application before the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin for an increase in steam heating rates, Wisconsin Gas petitioned for permission to abandon its steam heating service by June 1950. The order issued by the Commission in that case increased the rates for steam heating service but disapproved the proposal to abandon such service.

11. A condensed pro forma corporate balance sheet of Wisconsin Gas, as of February 28, 1950, reflecting the sale of its electric properties and the redemption of $10,500,000 of debt and the sale of $3,500,000 of bonds for the redemption of its preferred stock, shows the following:

Assets:	Pro forma
Property and plant	$11,060,227
Investments in Waukesha Gas & Electric Co. bonds	231,000
Cash and U. S. Government securities	898,015
Other current assets	1,010,423
Deferred charges	2,029,860
Total assets	15,229,525
Liabilities:
Current and accrued liabilities	2,089,574
Contributions in aid of construction	47,895
Reserve for depreciation	3,348,036
Reserve for casualties and insurance	632,932
Funded debt	4,000,000
Preferred stock ($100 par)	----------
Common stock ($20 par)	4,000,000
Earned surplus	1,111,088
Total liabilities	15,229,525

12. A condensed pro forma corporate income statement of Wisconsin Gas for the twelve months ending February 28, 1950, giving effect to the sale of its electric properties and the financing transactions involved, shows the following:

	Pro forma
Operating revenues:
Gas	$3,959,181
Heating	77,384
Total operating revenues	4,036,565
Operating expenses and taxes	3,478,126
Net operating revenues	558,439
Nonoperating revenues	3,000
Gross income	561,439
Income deductions	125,150
Net income	436,289

It appears that the change-over by Wisconsin Gas from manufactured gas to natural gas was completed February 28, 1950, and hence the above income statement does not reflect fully the savings due to the discontinuance of its high cost manufactured gas production. The company has stated that it expects to be able to satisfy its gas service requirements at a substantially lower cost as a result of the change-over to natural gas.

III. 13. Wisconsin Michigan conducts its business in the State of Wisconsin and in the northern peninsula of the State of Michigan, where it is engaged in the generation, distribution and sale of electricity. It is also engaged in the manufacture, transmission and sale of gas in the City of Appleton, Wisconsin, and vicinity. Wisconsin Michigan produces about 52 percent of its electric energy requirements and all of its gas requirements. Of its total electric generation, approximately 76 percent was supplied by its hydro plants, 23 percent by its steam plants, and 1 percent by internal combustion facilities. In March 1950, Wisconsin Michigan contracted with Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company, a non-affiliate and the same supplier which has a contractual relationship with Wisconsin Gas, for the supply of its requirements of straight natural gas commencing late in 1950.

14. The electric service areas of Wisconsin Michigan are located in the northern peninsula of Michigan, where the principal hydroelectric plants of the company are located, and in the Fox River Valley of Wisconsin. These areas include 160 communities, 97 of which are in Wisconsin and provide the bulk of the company's revenues, and 63 of which are in the mining regions of Michigan. The principal communities served in Wisconsin by Wisconsin Michigan are Appleton, Neenah, Kimberly, and Niagara, the principal Michigan communities are Iron Mountain and Kingsford. The electric operations account for 95 percent of the company's revenues. Gas is sold at retail in the Wisconsin communities of Appleton, Neenah and Menasha which area is approximately sixty miles from the nearest point served by Wisconsin Gas. The electric service areas embrace 8,476 square miles of which 5,943 are in Michigan. The population served approximates 192,000 persons, 64,000 of whom reside in Michigan.

IV. 16. Transport Company operates substantially all local transit service in Milwaukee and its adjoining suburbs. A minor part of its gross revenues, 2.5 percent in 1949, is derived from the operation of a terminal freight line. Transport Company, in addition to its own facilities, operates a small amount of transportation properties leased by it from Wisconsin Electric. The transportation system of Transport Company, as of December 31, 1949, included approximately 56 miles of double track and 30 miles of single track, trackless trolley overhead, and an overhead and underground feeder system supplying power to the railway lines and trackless trolley cars, 276 street railway cars, 26 utility and special rail vehicles, 7 electric locomotives, 400 trackless trolley cars, 432 gasoline motor buses, passenger stations, stations for housing rolling stock and buses, and a shop for constructing and repairing such equipment. V. Recapitulating certain pertinent facts from the foregoing, it appears that Wisconsin Electric directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote, various assets, or securities representing assets, including the following:

(a) Electric utility assets, serving electricity in the States of Wisconsin and Michigan, which electric properties have previously been found by the Commission to constitute a single integrated electric utility system (The North American Company, 11 S. E. C. 194);

(b) Gas utility assets in the State of Wisconsin, concerning which gas utility assets no finding has been made by the Commission with respect to how many integrated gas utility systems are included therein, nor as to the extent, if any, to which such gas utility properties may be retained, together with each order or with any other properties;

(c) Assets used in businesses other than electricity and gas, including local transportation, steam heat, railway, freight and terminal facilities, servicing of automotive equipment, operation of parking lots and gasoline stations, and the manufacture of electric furnaces, all located in Wisconsin and operated through various subsidiaries, concerning which no findings have been made by the Commission as to their retainability together with other properties.

VI. 23. The foregoing allegations, and the facts otherwise disclosed to the Commission in the course of its investigation hereinbefore referred to, indicate or tend to indicate that:

(a) The holding company system of Wisconsin Electric is not confined in its operations to those of a single integrated public utility system and to such other businesses as are reasonably incidental, or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of such integrated public utility system;

(b) The various gas utility properties and the electric system owned or controlled by Wisconsin Electric and other respondents cannot continue to be controlled by Wisconsin Electric under the standards of section 11 (b) (1), particularly Clauses (A) and (C) thereof; and

(c) The various businesses, hereinbefore referred to, other than electric and gas, cannot be retained as reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of either the electric or gas utility systems.

VII. It appearing to the Commission, on the basis of the allegations hereinbefore set forth, that proceedings should be instituted under section 11 (b) (1) of the act with respect to the holding company system of Wisconsin Electric and its subsidiaries:

Wherefore it is ordered, That proceedings be and the same hereby are instituted under section 11 (b) (1) of the act with respect to Wisconsin Electric Power Company and each of its subsidiary companies hereinbefore named, all of which are made respondents herein. Such respondents shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before October 1, 1950, their joint or several answers in the form prescribed by Rule U-25 under the act admitting, denying, or otherwise explaining their respective positions as to each of the allegations of Parts I to VI hereof, inclusive. Any such answer may include a statement of the claim of the respondents, or any of them, as to (a) the action, if any, which is necessary and should be required to be taken by any of the respondents (including the divestment of control, securities or other assets), to limit the operations of Wisconsin Electric, the registered holding company hereinbefore named, to a single integrated public utility system and to such other businesses as are reasonably incidental, or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of such integrated public utility system; (b) the extent to which Wisconsin Electric should be permitted to continue to control one or more additional integrated public-utility systems as may meet the requirements of Clauses (A), (B) and (C) of section 11 (b) (1) of the act; and (c) the extent to which any of said respondents should be permitted to retain an interest in any business (other than the business of a public-utility company as such) as provided by section 11 (b) (1) of the act. The answer of Wisconsin Electric should state which of its integrated public utility systems it designates as its principal system, and may, if such respondent so desires, state that such respondent proposes and is prepared to take such action as will cause it to cease to be a holding company within the meaning of the act, together with a description of such action and the time within which it proposes to take such action.

It is further ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, that a hearing be held at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., on November 7, 1950, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., e. s. t. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such time respondents and any other interested persons will be heard with respect to the matters and questions hereinafter set forth. The Division of Public Utilities has requested that the hearing officer, in accordance with the last paragraph of Rule III of the Commission's rule of practice, as soon as possible after the opening of said hearing, call a conference of the parties for the purpose of specifying and agreeing on the procedural steps to be followed in said proceeding as specified in Rule III (e) of such rules, including therein the recommended disposition of any issues that appear to be without substantial basis of controversy, the simplification of other issues, and the order of presentation of evidence deemed most conducive to an orderly and expeditious proceeding. The hearing for the taking of evidence in such proceedings shall, unless otherwise directed by the hearing officer, be convened at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., on the aforesaid day.

It is further ordered, That the specific matters of fact and law to be considered and determined at said hearing (subject to such amendment or amendments as may hereafter be made and subject to the consideration and determination of such other issues as may be raised by interested parties), are the following:

(a) Whether the gas utility assets owned or controlled by Wisconsin Electric (directly or through subsidiaries) constitute an integrated gas utility system or systems;

(b) Whether more than one of the electric and gas utility systems owned or controlled by Wisconsin Electric (directly or through subsidiaries) may be retained under common control by Wisconsin Electric under the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of the act, specifically Clauses (A) and (C) thereof;

(c) Whether the non-utility businesses conducted by Wisconsin Electric and by its subsidiaries are reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of any integrated public utility system or systems retainable under the control of Wisconsin Electric;

(d) What action is necessary to be taken by Wisconsin Electric and by each of its subsidiaries to limit the operations of the system to those of a single integrated public utility system, together with such additional utility systems, and other businesses, if any, as are retainable under the standards of section 11 (b) (1) of the act;

(e) Whether there would be a loss of substantial economies within the meaning of Clause (A) of section 11 (b) (1) of the act if the gas business of Wisconsin Gas and Wisconsin Michigan were not conducted under common control with the electric business of the Wisconsin Electric system;

And, in particular, as pertinent and relevant to a determination of this issue, the respondents herein shall produce such evidence as they may have bearing on:

(1) A comparison of the amounts devoted to repairs, maintenance, replacements and improvements of plant and other service facilities as between the electric utility operations of the Wisconsin Electric system and the gas utility operations of such system;

(2) A similar comparison with respect to the amounts devoted to and types of promotional activities;

(3) Methods of allocation of costs, expenses, and other accounts as between the said operations;

(4) The feasibility of increasing the extent of natural gas distribution by Wisconsin Gas and Wisconsin Michigan and the effect, if any, which control of such gas operations by Wisconsin Electric may have on the amount of gas distributed, the extension of service areas, and the cost of gas service to consumers;

(5) The effect of independent operation of the gas businesses conducted by Wisconsin Gas and Wisconsin Michigan and free and unrestrained competition between the gas and electric businesses in the areas served with respect to adequacy of service, rates, proper maintenance and the revenues and income of such gas and electric businesses; and

(f) Whether the continued combination of the gas and electric systems under common control of Wisconsin Electric is so large (considering the state of the art and the area or region affected) as to impair the advantages of localized management, efficient operation, or the effectiveness of regulation.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other hearing officer or hearing officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The hearing officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, not later than ten days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date for said hearing, his request or application therefor, as prescribed by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission. Such request shall set forth the nature of the applicant's interest in the proceedings, his reasons for requesting to be heard or to intervene, which of the allegations and issues, as hereinbefore set forth, applicant proposes to controvert, together with a statement of any additional issues which the applicant proposes to raise with respect to the proceedings herein instituted.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this notice of and order for hearing by registered mail to Wisconsin Electric Power Company, to Wisconsin Natural Gas Company, to Wisconsin Michigan Power Company, to the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company, to Badger Auto Service Company, to the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin, to the Public Service Commission of Michigan, to the Federal Power Commission, to the Interstate Commerce Commission, and to the mayors of the following cities in the State of Wisconsin: Milwaukee, Appleton, Racine, Kenosha, Waukesha, South Milwaukee, Cudahy, Oconomowoc, Neenah, Menasha, Whitewater, and Watertown, not less than sixty days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of hearing; and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to Wisconsin Electric Power Company and its subsidiaries, to their security holders, and to all consumers of Wisconsin Electric Power Company and its subsidiaries, to all states, municipalities and political subdivisions of states within which are located any of the physical assets of said companies or under the laws of which any of said companies are incorporated, to all state commissions, state security commissions, and all agencies, authorities and instrumentalities of any state, municipality, or other political subdivision having jurisdiction over Wisconsin Electric Power Company or its subsidiaries or any of the businesses, affairs or operations of any of them and to all other interested persons, such notice to be given by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than sixty days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of hearing.

By the Commission.

Subchapter F—Miscellaneous Regulations

PART 381—DISASTER LOAN PROGRAM

RELEASE OF SECURITY PROPERTY OTHER THAN REAL ESTATE

Section 381.11 in Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (14 F. R. 4897), is revised to read as follows:

§ 381.11 Servicing disaster loans—(a) General. FHA regulations, except those contained in Part 364 and § 371.5 (b) of this chapter, containing the policies and procedures for the servicing of other operating loans under the Production and Subsistence Loan Program will be followed in the servicing of disaster loans. Officials of the Farmers Home Administration who have been vested with authority and assigned responsibility under the Production and Subsistence Loan Program to accept and receipt for collections; accept and record security instruments; and perform other servicing functions in connection with production and subsistence loans are vested with the same authority and assigned the same responsibility with respect to disaster loans.

(b) Release of security property other than real estate. (1) County Supervisors are authorized to release mortgaged property, and proceeds derived from the sale thereof, when the security property has been sold for its fair market value, provided the proceeds are used for one or more of the following purposes:

(i) To make payments on debts due the Farmers Home Administration.

(ii) To pay necessary harvesting and marketing expenses, not otherwise provided for, in connection with crops, livestock, and similar items mortgaged to the Farmers Home Administration which are sold in the usual course of operating the farm business. The amount released for this purpose, however, will be limited to a fixed amount per unit of sale (bushel, crate, ton, bale, cwt., and so forth) as agreed upon between the County Supervisor and the borrower at the time the loan was made or prior to the harvest season, and the borrower should be required to account for the proceeds of each sale before a further release for harvesting and marketing expenses is approved.

(iii) To make payments on debts owed to other creditors, to make capital purchases, as agreed upon when the loan was made, and to meet farm and home operating expenses for the succeeding crop year: Provided (a) Amounts due the Farmers Home Administration and creditors with liens superior to those in favor of the Farmers Home Administration have been paid the amounts due for the year, and (b) the income released for these purposes is normal farm income.

(iv) To purchase, or to acquire through exchange, property more suitable to the borrower's needs, subject to the following conditions:

(a) The new property must be made subject to a lien in favor of the Farmers Home Administration by the execution of a new security instrument (or by operation of the "replacement" or "after-acquired property" clauses). The new property, together with any additional proceeds that may be applied on the indebtedness, will have security value to the Farmers Home Administration at least equal to that of the lien formerly held by the Farmers Home Administration on the old property. However, when the newly acquired property is not valued at more than twenty-five dollars ($25), a new security instrument covering such property will not be required.

(b) When a new security instrument is necessary, it will be taken at the time of acquisition of the new property. In individual cases, however, the County Supervisor may delay taking a new security instrument for a period not to exceed one year or until a new mortgage is necessary for other reasons, whichever is earlier, when: (1) Adequate security will continue to exist, and (2) the borrower's account due the Farmers Home Administration is current during such period of delay.

(v) To make payments to other creditors having liens on the property sold which are superior to the liens of the Farmers Home Administration, provided the property is sold for its fair market value and any amount remaining after payments are made to the other creditors is applied on the borrower's indebtedness with the Farmers Home Administration, or is released under the conditions and for one or more of the purposes specified herein.

(2) State Directors are authorized to release mortgaged property and proceeds derived from the sale thereof for one or more of the following purposes:

(i) To pay from normal farm income necessary farm and home operating expenses which must be met before the due date of the next unpaid installment on the loan and prior to receipt of the primary income for the year's operations, provided such expenses were included in the budget developed in connection with the loan, and the loan was made with the understanding that funds would be released for this purpose.

(ii) To pay costs (not normally recurring) that are directly necessary for the preservation of the remaining security property.

PART 382—FUR LOAN PROGRAM

RELEASE OF SECURITY PROPERTY OTHER THAN REAL ESTATE

Section 382.10 in Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (14 F. R. 4775), is revised to read as follows:

§ 382.10 Servicing fur loans—(a) General. FHA regulations, except those contained in Part 364 and § 371.5 (b) of this chapter, containing the policies and procedures for the servicing of other operating loans under the Production and Subsistence Loan Program will be followed in the servicing of fur loans. Officials of the Farmers Home Administration who have been vested with authority and assigned responsibility under the Production and Subsistence Loan Program to accept and receipt for collections; accept and record security instruments; and perform other servicing functions in connection with production and subsistence loans are vested with the same authority and assigned the same responsibility with respect to fur loans.

(b) Release of security property other than real estate. (1) County Supervisors are authorized to release mortgaged property, and proceeds derived from the sale thereof, when the security property has been sold for its fair market value, provided the proceeds are used for one or more of the following purposes:

(i) To make payments on debts due the Farmers Home Administration.

(ii) To pay necessary harvesting, pelting, and marketing expenses, not otherwise provided for, in connection with crops, livestock, pelts and similar items mortgaged to the Farmers Home Administration which are sold in the usual course of operating the farm or ranch business. The amount released for this purpose, however, will be limited to a fixed amount per unit of sale as agreed upon between the County Supervisor and the borrower at the time the loan was made or prior to the harvest or pelting season, and the borrower should be required to account for the proceeds of each sale before a further release for harvesting, pelting, and marketing expenses is approved.

(iii) To make payments on debts owed to other creditors, to make capital purchases, as agreed upon when the loan was made, and to meet farm and home operating expenses for the succeeding crop year: Provided, (a) Amounts due the Farmers Home Administration and creditors with liens superior to those in favor of the Farmers Home Administration have been paid the amounts due for the year, and (b) the income released for these purposes is normal farm income.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VI—Soil Conservation Service, Department of Agriculture

PART 600—FUNCTION AND PROCEDURE

REMOVAL AND DISPOSITION OF TRESPASSING LIVESTOCK

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 32 (f) of the act of July 22, 1937 (50 Stat. 525, 526; 7 U. S. C. § 1011(f)), I, Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby issue the following regulation to govern the removal and disposition of trespassing livestock from lands acquired under or transferred for administration under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act (50 Stat. 525; 7 U. S. C. 1010 et seq.).

§ 600.8 Impounding of livestock. Livestock trespassing on lands acquired under or transferred for administration under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act and under the jurisdiction of the Soil Conservation Service which is not removed therefrom within the prescribed period after giving or publishing a warning notice as provided in this section may be impounded by a Soil Conservation Service officer. Whenever such officer has definite knowledge of the kind of livestock that is in trespass and knows the name and address of the owner, such impoundment may be effected at any time 15 days after the date that written notice of the trespass is mailed or delivered to such owner, unless in the meantime the trespass has been abated. In the event that local Soil Conservation Service officers do not have complete knowledge of the kind of livestock in trespass or if the names and addresses of the owners thereof are unknown, impoundment may be effected at any time 15 days after the date a notice requiring the removal of trespassing livestock is first published in a local newspaper and posted at the county court house. No sale of impounded livestock shall be made until at least 5 days have elapsed after the date of impoundment. The owner may redeem the livestock within the 5-day period by submitting proof of ownership and paying all expenses incurred by the United States in advertising, gathering, impounding, and feeding or pasturing it. If the livestock is not redeemed on or before the date fixed for its sale, it shall be sold at public sale to the highest bidder. If no bid is received, the livestock may, in the discretion of the responsible Soil Conservation Service officer, be sold at private sale or be condemned and destroyed or otherwise disposed of in the most humane manner practicable. When livestock is sold pursuant to this section, the Soil Conservation Service officer making the sale shall furnish the purchaser a bill of sale or other written instrument evidencing the sale.

(Sec. 4, 49 Stat. 164, sec. 32, 50 Stat. 525, 56 Stat. 725; 7 U. S. C. 1011, 16 U. S. C. 590d)

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed, in the City of Washington, D. C., this 16th day of August 1950.

PART 600—FUNCTION AND PROCEDURE

EXERCISE OF MINERAL RIGHTS RESERVED IN CONVEYANCES TO U. S.

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 32 (f) of the act of July 22, 1937 (50 Stat. 526; 7 U. S. C. § 1011 (f)), I, Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, do hereby issue the following regulations to govern the exercise of mineral rights reserved in conveyances to the United States under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act (50 Stat. 525; 7 U. S. C. §§ 1010, et seq.), hereby superseding and revoking all such regulations heretofore issued as to mineral rights reserved in all acquisitions of land hereafter initiated under said title, but the regulations heretofore issued shall continue to be effective as to mineral rights reserved in land acquisitions heretofore initiated or consummated under said title.

§ 600.9 Conditions relating to removal of minerals reserved in lands conveyed to the United States under Title III of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act. (a) Whoever undertakes to exercise the reserved rights shall give prior notice to the local officer in charge of the lands and shall submit to him satisfactory evidence of authority to exercise such rights. No permit, as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, will be required for preliminary examination or exploration to determine the existence of the reserved minerals, oil, gas, or other inorganic substances which will involve only transient and nonexclusive occupancy and only small excavations, test pits or borings, but such activities shall be subject to the general rules and regulations applicable to the land involved.

(b) None of the lands in which minerals are reserved shall be so used, occupied, or disturbed as to preclude their full use for the purposes for which they are being administered until the record owner of the reserved rights, or the successors, assigns, or lessees thereof, shall have applied for and received from the local officer in charge having jurisdiction a permit authorizing such use, occupancy, or disturbance of those specifically described parts of the lands as may reasonably be necessary to exercise the reserved rights. Said permit shall be issued by the local officer in charge upon agreement as to the lands to be covered thereby and conditions necessary to protect the interests of the Government and upon initial payment of the annual fee, which shall be at the rate of $2 per acre, or fraction of acre included in the permit. Failure to comply with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid permit shall terminate all rights to use, occupy, or disturb the surface of the lands covered thereby, but in event of such termination a new permit shall be issued upon application when the causes for termination of the preceding permit have been satisfactorily remedied and the United States reimbursed for any resultant damage to it.

(c) Only so much of the surface of the lands shall be occupied, used or disturbed as is necessary in bona fide prospecting for, drilling, mining (including the milling or concentration of ores), and removal of the reserved minerals, oil, gas, or other inorganic substances.

(d) All structures, other improvements, and materials shall be removed from the lands within 1 year after date of termination of the aforementioned permit, or of an alternative permit, if any, issued under regulations applicable to the lands, and all such structures, improvements, or materials not so removed shall become the property of the United States.

(e) Timber or young growth necessarily removed or utilized in connection with exercise of reserved rights shall be paid for (1) if merchantable at the prevailing price in the locality for comparable timber or (2) otherwise at the appraised value. Other timber shall be cut or removed only pursuant to sale agreements or permits issued in accordance with the applicable rules and regulations. All slash resulting from cutting or destruction of timber or young growth shall be disposed of as required by the local officer in charge.

(f) If exercise of the reserved rights results in stripping, collapse, or other damage to the land or to improvements thereon, the record owner of the reserved rights, or the successors, assigns, or lessees thereof, shall repair or replace the improvements damaged or destroyed, and/or restore the land to a condition safe and reasonably serviceable, and prior to commencement of the work which will cause such result shall so notify the local officer in charge and provide such bond as will in the opinion of that officer guarantee such repair, replacement, or restoration. Where reserved minerals will be extracted by means of shafts, tunnels, pits, or wells, provisions for fencing, covering, filling, or plugging thereof upon termination of the mining activities may be required by the local officer in charge, together with delivery of acceptable bond.

(g) In the prospecting for, mining, and removal of reserved minerals, oil, gas, or other inorganic substances all reasonable provisions shall be made for the disposal of tailings, dumpage, and other deleterious materials or substances in such manner as to prevent obstruction, pollution, or deterioration of springs, streams, ponds, or lakes.

(h) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to exempt operators or the mining operations from any requirements of applicable State laws nor from compliance with or conformity to any requirements of any law which later may be enacted and which otherwise would be applicable.

(i) While any activities and/or operations incident to the exercise of the reserved rights are in progress the operators, contractors, subcontractors, and any employees thereof who work on the property shall use due diligence in the prevention and suppression of fires, shall comply with all applicable rules and regulations, and shall be available for service in the suppression of fires within a reasonable distance of said operations: Provided, That if such fires do not originate from the operations incident to exercise of the reserved rights, and do not threaten structures, improvements, or property employed in or related to such operations, services in fire suppression so rendered shall be paid for at the current rates of fire fighters employed by the United States.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice

Subchapter B—Immigration Regulations

PART 124—ALIEN CONTRACT LABORERS

APPLICATIONS FOR IMPORTATION OF SKILLED LABORERS

AUGUST 10, 1950.

Reference is made to the notice of proposed rule making which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 13, 1950 (15 F. R. 2878), pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003), and in which there were stated in full the terms of proposed amendments to the regulations relating to applications for the importation of skilled alien contract laborers. No representations have been received concerning the proposed amendment. The amendatory regulations, as stated below, are hereby adopted. The provisions of the adopted regulations are the same as those stated in the notice of proposed rule making except that § 124.4 (b) has been amended to provide that in the event a prospective importer of skilled laborers fails, in response to his request, to receive a statement from an appropriate labor organization showing whether such organization is in a position to furnish like labor and whether there is any objection to the proposed importation, he shall furnish a copy of the letter sent to the labor organization and the return receipt from the Post Office Department showing that the registered letter was delivered. Section 124.4 (b), as published in the notice of proposed rule making, would make compulsory a requirement which the prospective importer might in some cases be unable to meet through failure to receive a response to a request for a statement. The amended paragraph provides for the submission of proof that an effort was made to obtain such a statement.

Sections 124.4, 124.5, and 124.6 of Chapter I of Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations are hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 124.4 Applications for importation of skilled laborers. An application for permission to import otherwise admissible skilled laborers in accordance with § 124.2 (i) shall be submitted by the prospective importer on Form I-129, in triplicate, to the officer in charge of the district in which the importer intends to employ such skilled laborers. The following-described documents shall be attached to, and made a part of, the application:

(a) Three copies of a clearance order bearing a statement, over the signature of the Director of the United States Employment Service, that (1) qualified workers of the kind proposed to be imported are not available within the United States, and (2) Employment Service policies have been observed;

(b) The original or a certified copy of a statement by the appropriate representative of any labor organization that may be active in the field of skilled labor in which the contract laborers are to be employed, showing (1) whether the labor organization is in a position to supply like skilled labor to the importer, and (2) whether the labor organization has any objection to the proposed importation of contract laborers, and if so, the nature of such objection or in the event the prospective importer fails to receive a reply to a request submitted to such labor organization for such statement, a copy of the letter sent to the labor organization by registered mail and the receipt returned by the Post Office Department showing that the letter was delivered; and

(c) The original or a certified copy of such other evidence as the importer may have showing his efforts to procure like skilled labor in the United States.

§ 124.5 Action in field office on application. (a) Upon receipt of an executed application, the officer in charge of the district shall examine it for completeness. If he considers it necessary, the officer in charge shall have an investigation conducted to determine whether the facts alleged in the application are true. The applicant may be represented by counsel in such cases before the officer in charge of the district, or the Commissioner, or both, but all evidence shall be submitted to the officer in charge of the district.

(b) The officer in charge of the district shall forward the original and one copy of the application, two copies of the clearance order, the other attachments specified in § 124.4, and any related report of investigation, together with his report and recommendation, to the Commissioner for his consideration in determining whether the application should be approved or disapproved.

§ 124.6 Action in Central Office on application. Before making a decision upon the application, the Commissioner shall have received, in addition to the statement contained in the clearance order required by § 124.4 (a), a certification from the Director of the United States Employment Service concerning the availability of qualified workers within the United States of the kind proposed to be imported. When he has reached a decision upon the application, the Commissioner shall notify the appropriate officer in charge of the district with respect thereto; and such officer shall, in turn, similarly notify the importer. If the application is approved, the importer shall be instructed to furnish all personal data called for by application Form I-129, unless previously furnished, directly to the Visa Division, Department of State, Washington, D. C., and to furnish the officer in charge of the district two copies of each of such communications as he may send in this connection to the Visa Division. The officer in charge of the district shall forward one copy of each of such communications to the Commissioner. The importer shall inform the appropriate officer in charge of the district as to the means by which the contract laborers are being transported to this country, approximate date of their arrival, and the port of arrival as soon as such information is received by the importer. The officer in charge of the district shall arrange for the importer to furnish bond, if required, and shall notify the immigration official in charge at the port of arrival with respect to the decision of the Commissioner, the date of the expected arrival of the contract laborers, and the bond, if any, furnished by the importer. The official in charge of the port shall admit such contract laborers if they are found admissible under all other applicable provisions of the immigration laws and regulations.

The regulations stated above shall become effective on the thirty-first day following the date of their publication with this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The basis and purpose of the regulations prescribed above are to provide a specific and detailed procedure to be observed by prospective importers of skilled laborers in applying for permission to import skilled laborers into the United States.

(Sec. 23, 39 Stat. 892, sec. 24, 43 Stat. 166, sec. 37, 54 Stat. 675; 8 U. S. C. 102, 222, 458)

A. R. MACKEY,
Acting Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

Approved: August 16, 1950.

TITLE 24—HOUSING AND HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VIII—Office of Housing Expediter

[Controlled Housing Rent Reg., Amdt. 270]

[Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments Rent Reg., Amdt. 267]

PART 825—RENT REGULATIONS UNDER THE HOUSING AND RENT ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The Controlled Housing Rent Regulation (§§ 825.1 to 825.12) and the Rent Regulation for Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments (§§ 825.81 to 825.92) are amended in the following respects:

1. In Amendment 268 to §§ 825.1 to 825.12 and Amendment 265 to §§ 825.81 to 825.92, Item 1 of said amendments, as well as the remaining items thereof, apply to both §§ 825.1 to 825.12 and §§ 825.81 to 825.92. The amended text of § 825.81 (a) shall be the same as that set forth in said amendments for § 825.1 (a), except that wherever the term "§§ 825.1 to 825.12" or "§§ 825.1–825.12" appears therein, it shall read "§§ 825.81 to 825.92" or "§§ 825.81–825.92".

2. A sentence is added to the last paragraph of § 825.1 (a), so that said last paragraph will read as follows:

In Schedule C are listed those localities and the defense-rental areas in which they are located, which by reason of declarations made in accordance with section 204 (f) (1) of the act, will continue to be subject to §§ 825.1 to 825.12 after December 31, 1950. The name and number of each defense-rental area listed in Schedule C are the same as those which appear for the same defense-rental area in Schedule A.

The last paragraph of § 825.81 (a) is amended in the same manner, except that the term "§§ 825.1 to 825.12" shall read "§§ 825.81 to 825.92".

3. A sentence is added to the heading for Schedule C, so that said heading will read as follows:

Schedule C—Localities (and Defense-Rental Areas in which located Affected by Declarations for Continuance of Rent Control after December 31, 1950.

NOTE: The name and number of each defense-rental area listed in Schedule C are the same as those which appear for the same defense-rental area in Schedule A.

4. The following new items are incorporated in Schedule C:

Name of defense-rental area	State	Localities affected by declarations for continuance of rent control after Dec. 31, 1950
(68) La Salle County	Illinois	In La Salle County, the municipality of Streator.
(91) Champaign-Vermilion	do	In Champaign County, the municipality of Champaign.
(229) Columbus	Ohio	In Licking County, the municipality of Newark.
(267) Pittsburgh	Pennsylvania	In Allegheny County, the municipality of McKee's Rocks.
(355) Charleston	West Virginia	In Kanawha County, the municipality of Nitro.

This addition to Schedule C is based upon (1) a declaration made on August 1, 1950, by the local governing body of Champaign, Illinois, (2) a declaration made on August 2, 1950, by the local governing body of Nitro, West Virginia, (3) declarations made on August 7, 1950, by the local governing bodies of Streator, Illinois, and Newark, Ohio, and (4) a declaration made on August 8, 1950 by the local governing body of McKee's Rocks, Pennsylvania, all in accordance with section 204 (f) (1) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Supp. 1894)

This amendment shall become effective August 18, 1950.

Issued this 17th day of August 1950.

[Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments Rent Reg., Amdt. 268]

PART 825—RENT REGULATIONS UNDER THE HOUSING AND RENT ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED

INDIANA, PENNSYLVANIA, AND WEST VIRGINIA

The Controlled Housing Rent Regulation (§§ 825.1 to 825.12) and the Rent Regulation for Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments (§§ 825.81 to 825.92) are amended in the following respects:

1. Schedule A, Item 103, is amended to describe the counties in the defense-rental area as follows:

Marion County, except the Town of Woodruff Place.

This decontrols the Town of Woodruff Place in Marion County, Indiana, a portion of the Indianapolis, Indiana, Defense-Rental Area.

2. Schedule A, Item 266, is amended to describe the counties in the defense-rental area as follows:

Bucks; Chester; Delaware County, except the Borough of Swarthmore; Montgomery; and Philadelphia.

This decontrols the Borough of Swarthmore in Delaware County, Pennsylvania, a portion of the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Defense-Rental Area.

3. Schedule A, Item 356, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Wayne County; and Cabell County, except the Districts of Grant, McComas and Union, and except the Village of Barboursville.

In Lawrence County, the Townships of Upper, Perry, Fayette, Union, and Hamilton. Boyd and Greenup.

This decontrols the Village of Barboursville in Cabell County, West Virginia, a portion of the Huntington, West Virginia, Defense-Rental Area.

All decontrols effected by this amendment are based on resolutions submitted in accordance with section 204 (j) (3) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Supp. 1894)

This amendment shall become effective August 18, 1950.

Issued this 17th day of August 1950.

LAWS OF MORE COMMON APPLICATION PERTAINING TO THE PRODUCTION OF BRANDY AND ITS REMOVAL FROM THE DISTILLERY [1]

5 U. S. C. 22 DEPARTMENTAL REGULATIONS. The head of each department is authorized to prescribe regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the government of his department, the conduct of its officers and clerks, the distribution and performance of its business, and the custody, use, and preservation of the records, papers, and property appertaining to it.

26 U. S. C. 1650 WAR TAX RATES OF CERTAIN MISCELLANEOUS TAXES. In lieu of the rates of tax specified in such of the sections of this title as are set forth in the following table, the rates applicable with respect to the period beginning with the effective date of Title III of the Revenue Act of 1943 shall be the rates set forth under the heading "War Tax Rate":

Section	Description of tax	Old rate	War tax rate
•	•	•	•
2800 (a) (1)	Distilled spirits	$6 per gallon.	$9 per gallon.
•	•	•	•

26 U. S. C. 2800 TAX—(a) Rate—(1) Distilled spirits generally. There shall be levied and collected on all distilled spirits in bond or produced in or imported into the United States an internal revenue tax at the rate of $6.00 on each proof gallon or wine gallon when below proof and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon, to be paid by the distiller or importer when withdrawn from bond.

(A) Payment of tax as to domestic spirits. The tax on distilled spirits produced in the United States, to be paid upon withdrawal from bond, and the tax on rectified spirits produced in the United States, shall be paid by stamp, under such rules and regulations, permits, bonds, records, and returns, and with the use of such tax-stamp machines or other devices and apparatus, including but not limited to storage, gauging, and bottling tanks and pipelines, as the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary shall prescribe.

(B) Penalties. Whoever manufactures, procures, possesses, uses, or tampers with a tax-stamp machine which may be required under this section with intent to evade the internal revenue tax imposed upon distilled spirits and rectified spirits, and whoever, with intent to defraud, makes, alters, simulates, or counterfeits any stamp of the character imprinted by such stamp machines, or who procures, possesses, uses, or sells any forged, altered, counterfeited, or simulated tax stamp, or any plate, die, or device intended for use in forging, altering, counterfeiting, or simulating any such stamps, or who otherwise violates the provisions of this section, or the regulations issued pursuant thereto, shall pay a penalty of $5,000 and shall be fined not more than $10,000 or be imprisoned not more than 5 years, or both, and any machine, device, equipment, or materials used in violation of this section shall be forfeited to the United States and after condemnation shall be destroyed. But this provision shall not exclude any other penalty or forfeiture provided by law.

(2) Products of distillation containing distilled spirits. All products of distillation, by whatever name known, which contain distilled spirits or alcohol, on which the tax imposed by law has not been paid, shall be considered and taxed as distilled spirits.

• • • • •

(c) Time of attachment. The tax shall attach to distilled spirits, spirits, alcohol or alcoholic spirit, within the meaning of subsection (b) of section 2809 as soon as this substance is in existence as such, whether it be subsequently separated as pure or impure spirit, or be immediately, or at any subsequent time, transferred into any other substance, either in the process of original production or by any subsequent process.

(d) Persons liable. Every proprietor or possessor of, and every person in any manner interested in the use of, any still, distillery, or distilling apparatus, shall be jointly and severally liable for the taxes imposed by law on the distilled spirits produced therefrom.

(e) Lien—(1) Property subject to. The tax shall be a first lien on the spirits distilled, the distillery used for distilling the same, the stills, vessels, fixtures, and tools therein, the lot or tract of land whereon the said distillery is situated, and on any building thereon from the time said spirits are in existence as such until (except as provided in paragraph (3)), the said tax is paid.

(2) Exception during term of bonds. No lien shall attach to any lot or tract of land, distillery, building, or distilling apparatus, under the provisions of this subsection, by reason of distilling done during any period included within the term of any bond taken under the provisions of section 2815 (b) (1) (C).

(3) Extinguishment. Any lien under paragraph (1) on any land or any building thereon shall be held to be extinguished, if (1) such land and building are no longer used for distillery purposes, and (2) there is no outstanding liability for taxes or penalties imposed by law on the distilled spirits produced therein, and (3) no litigation is pending in respect of any such tax or penalty.

(4) Certificate of discharge. Any person claiming any interest in any such land or building may apply to the collector for a duly acknowledged certificate to the effect that such lien is discharged and, if the Commissioner determines that any such lien is extinguished, the collector shall issue such certificate, and any such certificate may be recorded.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 2802 STAMPS FOR DISTILLED SPIRITS—(a) Issue for restamping. The Commissioner may, under regulations prescribed by him with the approval of the Secretary, issue stamps for restamping packages of distilled spirits, which have been duly stamped but from which the stamps have been lost or destroyed by unavoidable accident.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 2806 PENALTIES AND FORFEITURES—(a) Creation of fictitious proof—(1) Penalty. Every person who adds or causes to be added any ingredient or substance to any distilled spirits before the tax is paid thereon, for the purpose of creating a fictitious proof, shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for each cask or package so adulterated, and imprisoned not less than three months nor more than two years; and

(2) Forfeiture. Every such cask or package, with its contents, shall be forfeited to the United States.

(b) Unlawful affixing, canceling, or issue of stamps by officer—(1) Penalty. Whenever any revenue officer affixes or cancels, or causes or permits to be affixed or canceled, any stamp relating to distilled spirits provided for by law, in any other manner or in any other place, or issues the same to any other person than as provided by law, or by regulation made in pursuance thereof, or knowingly affixes, or permits to be affixed, any such stamp to any cask or package of spirits of which the whole or any part has been distilled, rectified, compounded, removed, or sold, in violation of law, or which has in any manner escaped payment of tax due thereon, he shall, for every such offense, be fined not less than $500 nor more than $3,000, and be imprisoned for not less than six months nor more than three years.

[1] The sections of the United States Code are numbered identically with the corresponding sections of the Internal Revenue Code.

(2) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

(c) Forfeiture of tax-paid distilled spirits remaining on distillery premises. No distilled spirits on which the tax has been paid shall be stored or allowed to remain on any distillery premises, under the penalty of a forfeiture of all spirits so found.

(d) Forfeiture of distilled spirits in unstamped casks or packages. All distilled spirits found in any cask or package containing five gallons or more, without having thereon each mark and stamp required therefor by law, shall be forfeited to the United States.

(e) Evasion of Tax, Penalty. Whenever any person evades, or attempts to evade, the payment of the tax on any distilled spirits, in any manner whatever, he shall forfeit and pay double the amount of the tax so evaded or attempted to be evaded.

(f) Tax Fraud by Distiller. Whenever any person engaged in carrying on the business of a distiller defrauds or attempts to defraud the United States of the tax on the spirits distilled by him, or of any part thereof, he—

(1) Forfeiture. Shall forfeit the distillery and distilling apparatus used by him, and all distilled spirits and all raw materials for the production of distilled spirits found in the distillery and on the distillery premises, and—

(2) Penalty. Shall be fined not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, and be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than three years.

No discontinuance or nolle prosequi of any prosecution under this subsection shall be allowed without the permission in writing of the Attorney General.

(g) Offenses not specifically covered. If any distiller, rectifier, or wholesale liquor dealer, shall knowingly or willfully omit, neglect or refuse to do or cause to be done any of the things required by law in the carrying on or conducting of his business, or shall do anything by this title prohibited, if there be no specific penalty or punishment imposed by any other section of this title for the neglecting, omitting or refusing to do, or for the doing or causing to be done the thing required or prohibited, he shall pay a penalty of $1,000; and all distilled spirits or liquors owned by him or in which he has any interest as owner, shall be forfeited to the United States.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 2808 INSTRUMENTS TO PREVENT AND DETECT FRAUD—(a) Power of the Commissioner. For the prevention and detection of frauds by distillers of spirits, the Commissioner may prescribe for use such hydrometers, saccharometers, weighing and gauging instruments, or other means for ascertaining the quantity, gravity, and producing capacity of any mash, wort, or beer used, or to be used, in the production of distilled spirits, and the strength and quantity of spirits subject to tax, as he may deem necessary; and he may prescribe rules and regulations to secure a uniform and correct system of inspection, weighing, marking, and gauging of spirits.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2809 DEFINITIONS—(a) Distiller. Every person who produces distilled spirits, or who brews or makes mash, wort, or wash, fit for distillation or for the production of spirits, or who, by any process of evaporization, separates alcoholic spirit from any fermented substance, or who, making or keeping mash, wort, or wash, has also in his possession or use a still, shall be regarded as a distiller.

(b) Distilled spirits—(1) General definition. Distilled spirits, spirits, alcohol, and alcoholic spirits within the true intent and meaning of this chapter, is that substance known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide of ethyl, or spirit of wine, which is commonly produced by the fermentation of grain, starch, molasses, or sugar, including all dilutions and mixtures of this substance.

• • • • •

(c) Proof spirits. Proof spirits shall be held to be that alcoholic liquor which contains one-half its volume of alcohol of a specific gravity of seven thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine ten-thousands (0.7939) at sixty degrees Fahrenheit.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 2810 REGISTRY OF STILLS—(a) Requirement. Every person having in his possession or custody, or under his control, any still or distilling apparatus set up, shall register the same with the collector of the district in which it is, by subscribing and filing with him duplicate statements, in writing, setting forth the particular place where such still or distilling apparatus is set up, the kind of still and its cubic contents, the owner thereof, his place of residence, and the purpose for which said still or distilling apparatus has been or is intended to be used; one of which statements shall be retained and preserved by the collector, and the other transmitted by him to the Commissioner. Stills and distilling apparatus shall be registered immediately upon their being set up.

Every still or distilling apparatus not so registered, together with all personal property in the possession or custody, or under the control of such person, and found in the building, or in any yard or inclosure connected with the building in which the same may be set up, shall be forfeited.

And every person having in his possession or custody, or under his control, any still or distilling apparatus set up which is not so registered, shall pay a penalty of $500, and shall be fined not less than $100, nor more than $1,000, and imprisoned for not less than one month, nor more than two years.

Stills and distilling apparatus set up at refineries for the refining of crude petroleum or the production of petroleum products and not used in the manufacture of distilled spirits are not required to be registered under this section.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2812 NOTICE OF BUSINESS OF DISTILLER OR RECTIFIER—(a) Requirements. Every person engaged in, or intending to be engaged in, the business of a distiller or rectifier, shall give notice in writing, subscribed by him, to the collector of the district wherein such business is to be carried on, stating his name and residence, and if a company or firm, the name and residence of each member thereof, the name and residence of every person interested or to be interested in the business, the precise place where said business is to be carried on, and whether of distilling or rectifying; and if such business is carried on in a city, the residence and place of business shall be indicated by the name of the street and number of the building. In case of a distiller, the notice shall also state the kind of stills and the cubic contents thereof, the number and kind of boilers, the number of mash tubs and fermenting tubs, the cubic contents of each tub, the number of receiving cisterns, the cubic contents of each cistern, • • • the estimated quantity of distilled spirits which the apparatus is capable of distilling every twenty-four hours, a particular description of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, and of the buildings thereon, including their size, material, and construction; and that said distillery premises are not within six hundred feet (or the distance permitted by the Secretary pursuant to law), in a direct line, of any premises authorized to be used for rectifying or refining distilled spirits by any process.

• • • • • •

In case of any change in the location, form, capacity, ownership, agency, superintendency, or in the persons interested in the business of such distillery or rectifying establishment, • • • notice thereof, in writing, shall be given to the said collector or proper deputy collector, of the district within twenty-four hours after such change; and any deputy collector receiving such notice shall immediately transmit the same to the collector of the district. Every notice required by this section shall be in such form, and shall contain such additional particulars, as the Commissioner may, from time to time, prescribe.

Every person who fails or refuses to give such notice shall pay a penalty of $1,000, and shall be fined not less than $100 nor more than $2,000; and every person who gives a false or fraudulent notice shall, in addition to such penalty or fine, be imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2814 DISTILLER'S BOND—(a) Form and approval—(1) In general. Every person intending to commence or to continue the business of a distiller shall, on filing with the collector his notice of such intention, and before proceeding with such business, and on the 1st day of May of each succeeding year, execute a bond in the form prescribed by the Commissioner, conditioned that he shall faithfully comply with all the provisions of law relating to the duties and business of distillers, and shall pay all penalties incurred or fines imposed on him for a violation of any of the said provisions; and that he shall not suffer the lot or tract of land on which the distillery stands, or any part thereof, or any of the distilling apparatus, to be incumbered by mortgage, judgment, or other lien, during the time in which he shall carry on said business. Said bond shall be with at least two sureties, approved by the collector of the district, and for a penal sum not less than the amount of tax on the spirits that can be distilled in his distillery during a period of fifteen days. But in no case shall the bond exceed the sum of $100,000.

The collector may refuse to approve said bond when, in his judgment, the situation of the distillery is such as would enable the distiller to defraud the United States; and in case of such refusal the distiller may appeal to the Commissioner, whose decision in the matter shall be final. A new bond shall be required in case of the death, insolvency, or removal of either of the sureties, and may be required in any other contingency at the discretion of the collector or Commissioner.

Every person who fails or refuses to give the bond hereinbefore required, or to renew the same, or who gives any false, forged, or fraudulent bond, shall forfeit the distillery, distilling apparatus, and all real estate and premises connected therewith, and shall be fined not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, and imprisoned not less than six months nor more than two years.

(2) When exempt from survey requirements. Whenever, under authority of law, the Secretary shall relieve a distiller from the survey requirements of section 2817, he may likewise by regulation fix the penal sum of the distiller's bond, but in no case shall the amount of the minimum bond be less than $5,000 nor the amount of the maximum bond greater than $100,000.

(b) Cross references. • • •

(2) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2815 CONDITIONS OF APPROVAL OF DISTILLER'S BOND—(a) General. No collector shall approve the bond of any distiller until all the requirements of the law and all regulations made by the Commissioner in relation to distilleries, in pursuance thereof, have been complied with.

Every collector who violates this provision shall forfeit and pay $2,000, and be dismissed from office.

(b) Ownership of land or consent of owner—(1) Requirements. No bond of a distiller shall be approved unless—

(A) The distiller is the owner in fee, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, or other lien, of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated; or

(B) The distiller files with the officer designated for the purpose by the Commissioner, in connection with his notice, the written consent of the owner of the fee, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, or other person having a lien thereon, duly acknowledged, that the premises may be used for the purpose of distilling spirits, subject to the provisions of law, and expressly stipulating that the lien of the United States for taxes and penalties shall have priority of such mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance, and that in the case of the forfeiture of the distillery premises, or any part thereof, the title to the same shall vest in the United States, discharged from such mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance; or, if consent as required under this paragraph cannot be obtained,

(C) The distiller, with the approval of the Commissioner, files with the officer designated by the Commissioner a bond, approved by the Commissioner, in the penal sum equal to the appraised value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus. Such value shall be determined, and such bond shall be executed, in such form and with such sureties, and filed with the officer designated by the Commissioner, under such regulations as the Secretary shall prescribe.

(D) In case of any distillery sold at judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, a bond may be taken at the discretion of the Commissioner, in lieu of the written consent required by this section, and the person giving such bond may be allowed to operate such distillery during the existence of the right of redemption from such sale on complying with all the other provisions of law.

(2) Cross references—(A) Distilleries erected prior to July 20, 1868. For distilleries erected prior to July 20, 1868, see section 3180.

(B) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

(c) Approval as condition to commencing business. No individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, intending to commence or to continue the business of a distiller, rectifier, brewer, or winemaker, shall commence or continue the business of a distiller, rectifier, brewer, or winemaker until all bonds in respect of such a business, required by any provision of law, have been approved by the Commissioner or such other officer of the Bureau of Internal Revenue as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may designate.

(d) Disapproval. The Commissioner or the designated officer may disapprove any such bond or bonds if the individual, firm, partnership, corporation or association giving the same, or owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of the business of the individual or firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same, shall have been previously convicted, in a court of competent jurisdiction, of (1) any fraudulent noncompliance with any provision of any law of the United States if such provision related to internal-revenue or customs taxation of distilled spirits, wines, or fermented malt liquors, or if such an offense shall have been compromised with the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association upon payment of penalties or otherwise, or (2) any felony under a law of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or the United States, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, or transportation of distilled spirits, wine, fermented malt liquor, or other intoxicating liquor.

(e) Appeal from disapproval. In case the disapproval is by any officer other than the Commissioner, the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the bond may appeal from such disapproval to the Commissioner.

The disapproval of the Commissioner in any matter under this section shall be final.

(f) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2816 PLAN OF DISTILLERY—(a) Requirements. Except as provided in section 2824 (a), every distiller and person intending to engage in the business of a distiller shall, previous to the approval of his bond, cause to be made, under the direction of the collector of the district, an accurate plan and description, in triplicate, of the distillery and distilling apparatus, distinctly showing the location of every still, boiler, doubler, worm tub, and receiving cistern, the course and construction of all fixed pipes used or to be used in the distillery, and of every branch and every cock or joint thereof, and of every valve therein, together with every place, vessel, tub, or utensil from and to which any such pipe leads, or with which it communicates; also the number and location and cubic contents of every still, mash tub, and fermenting tub, the cubic contents of every receiving cistern, and the color of each fixed pipe, as required in this chapter. One copy of said plan and description shall be kept displayed in some conspicuous place in the distillery, and two copies shall be furnished to the collector of the district, one of which shall be kept by him, and the other transmitted to the Commissioner. The accuracy of every such plan and description shall be verified by the collector, the draughtsman, and the distiller; and no alteration shall be made in such distillery without the consent, in writing, of the collector. Any alteration so made shall be shown on the original, or by a supplemental plan and description, and a reference thereto noted on the original, as the collector may direct; and any supplemental plan and description shall be executed and preserved in the same manner as the original.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2818 NOTICE OF MANUFACTURE OF AND PERMIT TO SET UP STILL.—(a) Requirement. Any person who manufactures any still, boiler, or other vessel to be used for the purpose of distilling, shall, before the same is removed from the place of manufacture, notify in writing the collector of the district in which such still, boiler, or other vessel is to be used or set up, by whom it is to be used, its capacity, and the time when the same is to be removed from the place of manufacture; and no such still, boiler, or other vessel shall be set up without the permit in writing of the said collector for that purpose; and

(b) Penalty for setting up still without permit. Any person who sets up any such still, boiler, or other vessel, without first obtaining a permit from the said collector of the district in which such still, boiler, or other vessel is intended to be used, or who fails to give such notice, shall pay in either case the sum of $500, and shall forfeit the distilling apparatus thus removed or set up in violation of law.

(c) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2819 PREMISES PROHIBITED FOR DISTILLING. No person shall use any still, boiler, or other vessel, for the purpose of distilling, in any dwelling house, or in any shed, yard, or inclosure connected with any dwelling house, or on board of any vessel or boat, or in any building, or on any premises where beer, lager beer, ale, porter, or other fermented liquors, vinegar, or ether, are manufactured or produced, or where sugars or sirups are refined, or where liquors of any description are retailed, or where any other business is carried on; or within six hundred feet in a direct line of any premises authorized to be used for rectifying, except that the Secretary is authorized to permit such use for distilling on premises at such lesser distance than six hundred feet as he prescribes, in any case in which he deems that such permission may be granted without danger to the revenue; and every person who does any of the acts prohibited by this section, or aids or assists therein, or causes or procures the same to be done, shall be fined $1,000 and imprisoned for not less than six months nor more than two years, in the discretion of the court, for each such offense: Provided, That saleratus may be manufactured, or meal or flour ground from grain, in any building or on any premises where spirits are distilled; but such meal or flour shall be used only for distillation on the premises: Provided further, That any boiler used in generating steam or heating water to be used in any distillery, may be located in any other building or on any other premises to be connected with such still or boiling tubs, by suitable pipes or other apparatus, or the steam from such boiler in the distillery may be conveyed to other premises to be used for manufacturing or other purposes.

26 U. S. C. 2822 REQUIREMENTS AS TO FURNACES, TUBS, DOUBLERS, WORM TANKS, AND FIXED PIPES—(a) Requirements. The door of the furnace of every still or boiler used in any distillery shall be so constructed that it may be securely fastened and locked. The fermenting tubs shall be so placed as to be easily accessible to any revenue officer, and each tub shall have distinctly painted thereon in oil colors its cubic contents in gallons and the number of the tub. There shall be a clear space of not less than one foot around every wood still, and not less than two feet around every doubler and worm tank. The doubler and worm tanks shall be elevated not less than one foot from the floor; and every fixed pipe to be used by the distiller, except for conveyance of water, or of spent mash or beer only, shall be so fixed and placed as to be capable of being examined by the officer for the whole of its length or course, and shall be painted, and kept painted, as follows, that is to say: Every pipe for the conveyance of mash or beer shall be painted of a red color; every pipe for the conveyance of low-wines back into the still or doubler shall be painted blue; every pipe for the conveyance of spirits shall be painted black, and every pipe for the conveyance of water shall be painted white. Whenever any fixed pipe is used by any distiller which is not painted or kept painted as herein directed, or which is painted otherwise than as herein directed, he shall forfeit the sum of $1,000.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2823 CHANGES IN APPARATUS AND FASTENINGS—(a) Power of Commissioner. The Commissioner is authorized to order and require such changes of or additions to distilling apparatus, connecting pipes, pumps, or cisterns, or any machinery connected with or used in or on the distillery premises, or may require to be put on any of the stills, tubs, cisterns, pipes, or other vessels, such fastenings, locks, or seals, as he may deem necessary.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2825 EXEMPTION OF DISTILLERS OF FRUIT BRANDY FROM CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may exempt distillers of brandy made exclusively from apples, peaches, grapes, oranges, pears, pineapples, apricots, berries, plums, pawpaws, papayas, cantaloups, persimmons, prunes, figs, cherries, dates, or citrus fruits (except lemons and limes) from any provision of the internal-revenue laws relating to the manufacture of spirits, except as to the tax thereon, when in his judgment it may seem expedient to do so: Provided, That where, in the manufacture of wine or citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, prune wine, plum wine, pear wine, pawpaw wine, papaya wine, pineapple wine, cantaloup wine, or apple wine, artificial sweetening has been used, the wine, or the fruit pomace residuum thereof, or the citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, prune wine, plum wine, pear wine, pawpaw wine, papaya wine, pineapple wine, cantaloup wine, or apple wine, may be used in the distillation of brandy or citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy, pawpaw brandy, papaya brandy, pineapple brandy, cantaloup brandy, or apple brandy, as the case may be, and such use shall not prevent the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, from exempting such distiller from any provision of the internal-revenue laws relating to the manufacture of spirits, except as to the tax thereon, when in his judgment it may seem expedient to do so: And provided further, That the distillers mentioned in this section may add to not less than five hundred gallons (ten barrels) of grape cheese not more than five hundred gallons of a sugar solution made from cane, beet, starch, or corn sugar, 95 per centum pure, such solution to have a saccharine strength of not to exceed 10 per centum, and may ferment the resultant mixture on a winery or distillery premises, and such fermented product shall be regarded as distilling material.

26 U. S. C. 2826 KEEPING DISTILLERY ACCESSIBLE—(a) Requirements. No fence or wall of a height greater than five feet shall be erected or maintained around the premises of any distillery, so as to prevent easy and immediate access to such distillery, but the Secretary may authorize the construction and maintenance of a fence or wall of such greater height than five feet as he shall prescribe in any case in which in his opinion such higher fence or wall is necessary to give adequate protection from trespassers. And every distiller shall furnish to the collector of the district as many keys of the gates and doors of the distillery as may be required by the collector, from time to time, for any revenue officer or other person who may be authorized to make survey or inspection of the premises, or of the contents thereof; and said distillery shall be kept always accessible to any officer or other person having any such key. Every person who violates any of the provisions of this subsection by negligence or refusal, or otherwise, shall pay a penalty of $500.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2827 ENTRY AND EXAMINATION OF DISTILLERY—(a) Power of revenue officers. It shall be lawful for any revenue officer at all times, as well by night as by day, to enter into any distillery or building or place used for the business of distilling, or used in connection therewith for storage or other purposes, and to examine, gauge, measure, and take an account of every still or other vessel or utensil of any kind, and of all low-wines, and of the quantity and gravity of all mash, wort, or beer, and of all yeast, or other compositions for exciting or producing fermentation in any mash or beer, of all spirits and of all materials for making or distilling spirits, which may be in any such distillery or premises, or in possession of the distiller.

And whenever any internal revenue officer, or any person called by him to his aid, is hindered, obstructed, or prevented by any distiller or by any workman, or other person acting for such distiller, or in his employ, from entering into any such distillery or building or place as aforesaid; or any such officer is by the distiller, or his workman, or any person in his employ, prevented or hindered from, or opposed, or obstructed, or molested in the performance of his duty under the internal revenue laws, in any respect, the distiller shall forfeit the sum of not exceeding $1,000.

And whenever any officer, having demanded admittance into a distillery or distillery premises, and having declared his name and office, is not admitted into such distillery or premises by the distiller or other person having charge thereof, it shall be lawful for such officer at all times, as well by night as by day, to break open by force any of the doors or windows, or to break through any of the walls of such distillery or premises necessary to be broken open or through, to enable him to enter the said distillery or premises; and the distiller shall forfeit the sum of not exceeding $1,000.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2828 DISTILLERS AND RECTIFIERS TO FURNISH FACILITIES AND GIVE ASSISTANCE FOR EXAMINATION OF PREMISES—(a) Power of revenue officers. On the demand of any internal revenue officer or agent, every distiller or rectifier shall furnish strong, safe, and convenient ladders of sufficient length to enable the officer or agent to examine and gauge any vessel or utensil in such distillery or premises; and shall, at all times when required, supply all assistance, lights, ladders, tools, staging, or other things necessary for inspecting the premises, stock, tools, and apparatus belonging to such person, and shall open all doors, and open for examination all boxes, packages, and all casks, barrels, and other vessels not under the control of the revenue officer in charge, under a penalty of $500 for every refusal or neglect so to do.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2829 INSTALLATION OF METERS, TANKS, AND OTHER APPARATUS—(a) Power of the Commissioner. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, is authorized to require at distilleries, breweries, rectifying houses, and wherever else in his judgment such action may be deemed advisable, the installation of meters, tanks, pipes, or any other apparatus for the purpose of protecting the revenue, and such meters, tanks, and pipes and all necessary labor incident thereto shall be at the expense of the person on whose premises the installation is required. Any such person refusing or neglecting to install such apparatus when so required by the Commissioner shall not be permitted to conduct business on such premises.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2830 OFFICER'S AUTHORITY TO BREAK UP GROUNDS OR WALLS—(a) Power of revenue agent. It shall be lawful for any revenue officer, and any person acting in his aid, to break up the ground on any part of a distillery, or premises of a distiller or rectifier, or any ground adjoining or near to such distillery or premises, or any wall or partition thereof, or belonging thereto, or other place, to search for any pipe, cock, private conveyance, or utensil; and, upon finding any such pipe or conveyance leading therefrom or thereto, to break up any ground, house, wall, or other place through or into which such pipe or other conveyance leads, and to break or cut away such pipe or other conveyance, and turn any cock, or to examine whether such pipe or other conveyance conveys or conceals any mash, wort, or beer, or other liquor, which may be used for the distillation of low-wines or spirits, from the sight or view of the officer, so as to prevent or hinder him from taking a true account thereof.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2831 SIGNS OF DISTILLERS, RECTIFIERS, AND WHOLESALE LIQUOR DEALERS. Every person engaged in distilling or rectifying spirits, and every wholesale liquor dealer, shall place and keep conspicuously on the outside of the place of such business a sign, exhibiting in plain and legible letters, not less than three inches in length, painted in oil-colors or gilded, and of a proper and proportionate width, the name or firm of the distiller, rectifier, or wholesale dealer, with the words: "Registered distillery," "rectifier of spirits," or "wholesale liquor dealer," as the case may be. Every person who violates the foregoing provision by negligence or refusal, or otherwise, shall pay a penalty of $500.

And every person, other than a rectifier or wholesale liquor dealer who has paid the special tax, or a distiller who has given bond as required by law, who puts up or keeps up the sign required by this section, or any sign indicating that he may lawfully carry on the business of a distiller, rectifier, or wholesale liquor dealer, shall forfeit and pay $1,000, and shall be imprisoned not less than one month nor more than six months. And every person who works in any distillery, rectifying establishment, or wholesale liquor store, on which no sign is placed and kept, as hereinbefore provided; and every person who knowingly receives at, carries or conveys any distilled spirits to or from, any such distillery, rectifying establishment, warehouse, or store, or who knowingly carries and delivers any grain, molasses, or other raw material to any distillery on which such sign is not placed and kept, shall forfeit all horses, carts, drays, wagons, or other vehicle or animal used in carrying or conveying such property aforesaid, and shall be fined not less than $100 no more than $1,000, or be imprisoned not less than one month nor more than six months.

26 U. S. C. 2832 CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO CARRYING ON BUSINESS OF DISTILLING. It shall not be lawful for any distiller to commence the business of distilling, until he has given the bond required by law, and complied with the provisions of law relating to the registration • • • of distilleries, and the arrangement and construction of distilleries and the premises connected therewith; nor shall it be lawful for any person to engage in the business of distilling on any premises distant less than six hundred feet in a direct line from any premises used for rectifying; nor shall the processes of distillation and rectification both be carried on within the distance of six hundred feet in a direct line; except that the Secretary is authorized to permit such business of distilling or process of distillation to be carried on at such lesser distance than six hundred feet as he prescribes, in any case in which he deems that such permission may be granted without danger to the revenue.

26 U. S. C. 2833 DISTILLING WITHOUT GIVING BOND—(a) Penalty and forfeiture. Any person who shall carry on the business of a distiller without having given bond as required by law, or who shall engage in or carry on the business of a distiller with intent to defraud the United States of the tax on the spirits distilled by him, or any part thereof, shall, for every such offense, be fined not less than $100 nor more than $5,000 and imprisoned for not less than thirty days nor more than two years. And all distilled spirits or wines, and all stills or other apparatus, fit or intended to be used for the distillation or rectification of spirits, or for the compounding of liquors, owned by such person, wherever found, and all distilled spirits or wines and personal property found in the distillery or in any building, room, yard, or inclosure connected therewith, and used with or constituting a part of the premises, and all the right, title, and interest of such person in the lot or tract of land on which such distillery is situated, and all right, title, and interest therein of every person who knowingly has suffered or permitted the business of a distiller to be there carried on, or has connived at the same; and all personal property owned by or in possession of any person who has permitted or suffered any building, yard, or inclosure, or any part thereof, to be used for purposes of ingress or egress to or from such distillery, which shall be found in any such building, yard, or inclosure, and all the right, title, and interest of every person in any premises used for ingress or egress to or from such distillery, who has knowingly suffered or permitted such premises to be used for such ingress or egress, shall be forfeited to the United States.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2838 PROHIBITED HOURS FOR DISTILLING. Except as provided in section 2837, no malt, corn, grain, or other material shall be mashed, nor any mash, wort, or beer brewed or made, nor any still used by a distiller, at any time between the hour of eleven in the afternoon of any Saturday and the hour of one in the forenoon of the next succeeding Monday; and every person who violates the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000.

26 U. S. C. 2839 DRAWING OFF WATER AND CLEANSING WORM TUBS—(a) Requirements. Whenever any officer or internal revenue agent requires the water contained in any worm tub in a distillery, at any time when the still is not at work, to be drawn off, and the tub and worm cleansed, the water shall forthwith be drawn off, and the tub and worm cleansed by the distiller, or his workmen, accordingly; and the water shall be kept and continued out of such worm tub for the period of two hours, or until the officer or agent has finished his examination thereof. For any refusal or neglect to comply with any provision of this section, the distiller shall forfeit the sum of not exceeding $1,000; and it shall be lawful for the officer or agent to draw off such water, or any portion of it, and to keep the same drawn off for so long a time as he shall think necessary.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2841 DISTILLER'S BOOKS—(a) Entries—(1) Requirements. Every person who makes or distills spirits, or owns any still, boiler, or other vessel used for the purpose of distilling spirits or who has such still, boiler, or other vessel so used under his superintendence, either as agent or owner, or who uses any such still, boiler, or other vessel, shall keep a record, in the form and manner prescribed by the Commissioner, of the receipt on the distillery premises, and the use thereon, of materials intended for use in the distillation of spirits, and of the number of gallons of spirits distilled, the number of gallons placed in the warehouse, and the proof thereof, the number of gallons sold or removed with the proof thereof, and the name, place of business and residence of the person to whom sold.

(2) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

(b) Preservation and inspection. The books of every distiller hereinbefore required shall always be kept at the distillery and be always open to the inspection of any revenue officer, and, when filled up, shall be preserved by the distiller for a period of not less than two years thereafter, and whenever required shall be produced for the inspection of any revenue officer.

(c) Penalty and forfeiture—(1) Omitting entries or making false entries. Whenever any false entry is made in, or any entry required to be made is omitted from, either of the said books mentioned in the two preceding subsections, with intent to defraud or to conceal from the revenue officers any fact or particular required to be stated and entered in either of said books, or to mislead in reference thereto; or any distiller as aforesaid omits or refuses to provide either of said books, or cancels, obliterates, or destroys any part of either of such books, or any entry therein, with intent to defraud, or permits the same to be done, or such books, or either of them, are not produced when required by any revenue officer, the distillery, distilling apparatus, and the lot or tract of land on which it stands, and all personal property on said premises used in the business there carried on, shall be forfeited to the United States. And every person who makes such false entry, or omits to make any entry hereinbefore required to be made, with intent aforesaid, or who causes or procures the same to be done, or fraudulently cancels, obliterates, or destroys any part of said books, or any entry therein, or willfully fails to produce such books, or either of them, shall be fined not less than $500, nor more than $5,000, and imprisoned not less than six months, nor more than two years.

(2) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2842 PENALTY FOR USING FALSE WEIGHTS AND MEASURES. Every person who knowingly uses any false weights or measures in ascertaining, weighing, or measuring the quantities of grain, meal, or vegetable materials, molasses, beer, or other substances to be used for distillation, shall be fined not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, and imprisoned not less than one year nor more than three years.

26 U. S. C. 2843 PENALTY FOR USING UNREGISTERED MATERIALS. Any person who uses any molasses, beer, or other substance, whether fermented on the premises or elsewhere, for the purpose of producing spirits, before an account of the same is registered in the proper book provided for that purpose, shall forfeit and pay the sum of $1,000 for each offense so committed.

26 U. S. C. 2846 ASSESSMENT AND DEFICIENCIES IN PRODUCTION AND EXCESS OF MATERIAL USED—(a) Power of Commissioner. On the receipt of the distiller's return in each month, the Commissioner shall inquire and determine whether the distiller has accounted for all the grain or molasses used, and all the spirits produced by him in the preceding month. • • • If the Commissioner finds that the distiller has not accounted for all the spirits produced by him, he shall, from all the evidence he can obtain, determine what quantity of spirits was actually produced by such distiller, and an assessment shall be made for the difference between the quantity reported and the quantity shown to have been actually produced, at the rate of tax imposed by law for every proof gallon • • •. All assessments made under this section shall be a lien on all distilled spirits on the distillery premises, the distillery used for distilling the same, the stills, vessels, fixtures, and tools therein, the tract of land whereon the said distillery is located, and any building thereon, from the time such assessment is made until the same shall have been paid.

(b) Cross references—(1) Exemption of ethyl alcohol distillers. • • •

(2) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2850 SUSPENSION AND RESUMPTION OF DISTILLING—(a) Requirements. Any distiller desiring to suspend work in his distillery may give notice in writing to the collector of the district, stating when he will suspend work; and on the day mentioned in said notice said collector or one of his deputies shall, at the expense of the distiller, proceed to fasten securely the door of every furnace of every still or boiler in said distillery, by locks and otherwise, and shall adopt such other means as the Commissioner may prescribe to prevent the lighting of any fire in such furnace or under such stills or boilers. The locks and seals, and other materials required for such purpose, shall be furnished to the collector by the Commissioner, to be duly accounted for by said collector. Such notice by any distiller, and the action taken by the collector in pursuance thereof, shall be immediately transmitted to the Commissioner. No distiller, after having given such notice, shall, after the time stated therein, carry on the business of a distiller on said premises until he gives another notice in writing to said collector, stating the time when he will resume work; and at the time so stated for resuming work the collector or one of his deputies shall attend at the distillery to remove said locks and other fastenings; and thereupon, and not before, work may be resumed in said distillery, which fact shall be immediately reported to the collector of the district, and by him transmitted to the Commissioner.

Every distiller who, after the time fixed in said notice declaring his intention to suspend work, carries on the business of a distiller on said premises, or has mash, wort, or beer in his distillery, or on any premises connected therewith or has in his possession or under his control any mash, wort, or beer, with intent to distill the same on said premises, shall incur the forfeitures and be subject to the same punishment as provided for persons who carry on the business of a distiller without having given the bonds required by law.

But nothing in this section shall be held to apply to suspensions caused by unavoidable accident; and the Commissioner shall prescribe regulations to govern such cases of involuntary suspension.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2857 BOOKS OF RECTIFIERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS—(a) Requirements. Every rectifier and every wholesale liquor dealer who sells, or offers for sale, distilled spirits in quantities of five wine-gallons or more to the same person at the same time shall keep daily, at his place of business covered by his special tax stamp, a record of distilled spirits received and disposed of by him, and shall render under oath correct transcripts and summaries of such records: Provided, That the Commissioner may in his discretion require such record to be kept at the place where the spirits are actually received and sent out. The records shall be kept and the transcripts shall be rendered in such form, and under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe.

The records required to be kept under the provisions of this section and regulations issued pursuant thereto, shall be preserved for a period of four years, and during such period shall be available during business hours for inspection and the taking of abstracts therefrom by the Commissioner or any internal revenue officer.

Every rectifier and wholesale liquor dealer who refuses or neglects to keep such records in the form prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, or to make entries therein, or cancels, alters, or obliterates any entry therein (except for the purpose of correcting errors) or destroys any part of such records, or any entry therein, or makes any false entry therein, or hinders or obstructs any internal revenue officer from inspecting such records or taking any abstracts therefrom, or neglects or refuses to preserve or produce such records as required by this chapter or by regulations issued pursuant thereto, shall pay a penalty of $100 and, on conviction, shall be fined not less than $5,000, and be imprisoned not less than three months nor more than three years.

Every rectifier and wholesale liquor dealer who refuses or neglects to render the transcripts or summaries in the form as required by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $100 for each such neglect or refusal.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2859 BOOKS OF DISTILLERS AS WHOLESALE DEALERS—(a) Requirement. Every distiller shall keep daily a record of distilled spirits of his own production disposed of by him, and shall render under oath correct transcripts and summaries of such records. The records shall be kept and the transcripts shall be rendered in such form, and under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe.

The records required to be kept under the provisions of this section and regulations issued pursuant thereto, shall be preserved for a period of four years, and during such period shall at all times be available, during business hours, for inspection and the taking of abstracts therefrom by the Commissioner or any internal revenue officer.

Every distiller who refuses or neglects to keep such records in the form prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, or to make entries therein, or cancels, alters, or obliterates any entry therein (except for the purpose of correcting errors) or destroys any part of such records, or any entry therein, or makes any false entry therein, or hinders or obstructs any internal revenue officer from inspecting such records or taking any abstracts therefrom, or neglects or refuses to preserve or produce such records as required by this chapter or by regulations issued pursuant thereto, shall pay a penalty of $100 and, on conviction, shall be fined not less than $5,000, and be imprisoned not less than three months nor more than three years.

Every distiller who refuses or neglects to keep such records in the form required by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $100 for each such neglect or refusal.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2866 EFFACEMENT OF STAMPS AND BRANDS ON EMPTIED PACKAGES. Every person who empties or draws off, or causes to be emptied or drawn off, any distilled spirits from a cask or package bearing any mark, brand, or stamp, required by law, shall at the time of emptying such cask or package, efface and obliterate said mark, stamp, or brand. Every such cask or package from which said mark, brand, or stamp is not effaced and obliterated as herein required, shall be forfeited to the United States, and may be seized by any officer of internal revenue, wherever found. And every railroad company or other transportation company, or person who receives or transports, or has in possession with intent to transport, or with intent to cause or procure to be transported, any such empty cask or package, or any part thereof, having thereon any brand, mark, or stamp, required by law to be placed on any cask or package containing distilled spirits, shall forfeit $300 for each such cask or package, or any part thereof, so received or transported, or had in possession with the intent aforesaid; and every boat, railroad car, cart, dray, wagon, or other vehicle, and all horses and other animals used in carrying or transporting the same, shall be forfeited to the United States. Every person who fails to efface and obliterate said mark, stamp, or brand, at the time of emptying such cask or package, or who receives any such cask or package, or any part thereof, with the intent aforesaid, or who transports the same, or knowingly aids or assists therein, or who removes any stamp provided by law from any cask or package containing, or which had contained, distilled spirits, without defacing and destroying the same at the time of such removal, or who aids or assists therein, or who has in his possession any such stamp so removed as aforesaid, or has in his possession any canceled stamp, or any stamp which has been used, or which purports to have been used, upon any cask or package of distilled spirits, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall be fined not less than $500 nor more than $10,000, and imprisoned not less than one year nor more than five years.

26 U. S. C. 2870 PROHIBITED HOURS FOR REMOVAL OF SPIRITS. No person shall remove any distilled spirits at any other time than after sun-rising and before sun-setting in any cask or package containing more than ten gallons from any premises or building in which the same may have been distilled, redistilled, rectified, compounded, manufactured, or stored; and every person who violates this provision shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each cask, barrel, or package of spirits so removed; and said spirits, together with any vessel containing the same, and any horse, cart, boat, or other conveyance used in the removal thereof, shall be forfeited to the United States.

26 U. S. C. 2877 STOREKEEPER-GAUGER'S RECORDS—(a) Requirement. The storekeeper-gauger assigned to any distillery shall, in addition to all other duties required to be performed by him, keep such records and submit such reports as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall, by regulations, prescribe.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2878 DRAWING, GAUGING, AND MARKING OF DISTILLED SPIRITS—(a) General rule. Except as provided in section 2883, all distilled spirits shall be drawn from receiving cisterns into casks or packages and thereupon shall be gauged, proved, and marked by a storekeeper-gauger, and immediately removed into an internal revenue bonded warehouse. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, is hereby empowered to prescribe all necessary regulations relating to the drawing off, gauging, and packaging of distilled spirits; the marking, branding, numbering, and stamping of such packages; and the transfer and transportation to, and the storage of such spirits in, internal revenue bonded warehouses.

(b) In wooden packages containing metallic cans for export. Upon the application of the distiller and under such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, distilled spirits may be drawn into wooden packages, each containing two or more metallic cans, which cans shall each have a capacity of not less than five gallons, wine measure. Such packages shall be filled and used only for exportation from the United States. And there shall be charged for each of said packages or cases for the expense of providing and affixing stamps, 5 cents.

(c) Standards of fill. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may, by regulations, prescribe the standards of fill of casks or packages of distilled spirits at each distillery.

(d) Marking and branding by distiller. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may, by regulations, from time to time, require a distiller, at his expense and under the immediate personal supervision of a storekeeper-gauger, to do such marking and branding and such mechanical labor pertaining to gauging required under this section as the Commissioner deems proper and determines may be done without danger to the revenue.

(e) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2879 DEPOSITS OF SPIRITS IN WAREHOUSES—(a) Entry for deposit. The distillers of all spirits removed to an internal revenue bonded warehouse shall enter the same for deposit in such warehouse, under such regulations as the Commissioner may prescribe. Said entry shall be in such form as the Commissioner shall prescribe.

26 U. S. C. 2883 TRANSFER OF SPIRITS AT REGISTERED DISTILLERIES—(a) Requirements. Subject to the provisions of existing law, spirits of one hundred and sixty degrees of proof or more produced at registered distilleries, including registered fruit distilleries (such registered distilleries and registered fruit distilleries being referred to hereafter as "distillery" or "distilleries"), may be transferred by means of pipelines from receiving cisterns in the distillery direct to storage tanks in the internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the bonded premises where produced or located contiguous thereto, and be warehoused in such storage tanks, or they may be withdrawn from the receiving cisterns, without, or after reduction in proof, into approved containers and transferred to any internal revenue bonded warehouse for storage therein, or they may be tax-paid in such approved containers in the cistern rooms of distilleries without being entered into an internal revenue bonded warehouse. Such spirits may be drawn into approved containers from storage tanks in an internal revenue bonded warehouse. Spirits of one hundred and sixty degrees of proof, or more, may be transferred in bond in tank cars from cistern rooms of distilleries or from storage tanks in an internal revenue bonded warehouse and be deposited in storage tanks in any internal revenue bonded warehouse. Such spirits in tanks in internal revenue bonded warehouses distilled at or above one hundred and ninety degrees of proof may be reduced to not less than one hundred and eleven degrees prior to being drawn into packages. Such spirits, upon tax payment, may be withdrawn in approved containers, including pipelines to contiguous premises, for use for beverage purposes only. Except as provided in subsection (c) hereof and section 2916, such spirits may not be withdrawn for denaturation.

(b) Transfer of fortifying spirits. Fortifying spirits of one hundred and sixty degrees of proof or more may be transferred by pipeline from registered fruit distilleries and receiving cisterns in such distilleries to the fortification rooms of contiguous wineries or to storage tanks in the internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the distillery premises where the spirits were produced, or from such storage tanks to the fortification rooms of contiguous wineries.

• • • • • •

(e) Redistillation of spirits. Distilled spirits of any proof may be transferred from a distillery or an internal revenue bonded warehouse to any distillery for redistillation upon a showing of the need therefor: Provided, That only spirits of one hundred and sixty degrees of proof or more may be transferred by pipeline to a distillery for redistillation from storage tanks in an internal revenue bonded warehouse located on such distillery premises or located contiguous thereto: Provided further, That spirits of any proof may be transferred by pipeline for redistillation from receiving tanks in a distillery to a contiguous distillery. Upon removal of distilled spirits to any distillery for redistillation, the consignee distiller shall assume the liability for the payment of the tax on the spirits from the time they leave the internal revenue bonded warehouse or distillery, and the tax liability on the producing distiller or the internal revenue bonded warehouseman, and the liens on the premises of the producing distiller shall cease; and the tax and liens shall become the liability of the consignee distiller: Provided further, That upon redistillation the redistilled spirits shall be treated the same as if the spirits had been originally produced by the redistiller and all prior obligations as to taxes and liens shall be superseded. Sections 2800 (a) (5) and 3250 (f) (1) shall not apply to the redistillation of spirits removed under the provisions of this section.

(f) Regulations. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, is hereby empowered to prescribe all necessary regulations relating to the drawing off, transferring, gaging, storing, redistillation, and transportation of the spirits; the records to be kept and returns to be made; the size and kind of containers to be used; the marking, branding, numbering, and stamping of such containers; and the kind of bond and the penal sum thereof.

(g) Effect on other laws. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as restricting or limiting the provisions of other sections of the internal-revenue laws relating to internal revenue bonded warehouses, distilleries, and bonded wineries.

(h) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2885 EXPORTATION OF SPIRITS WITHDRAWN FROM WAREHOUSES—(a) Entries, bonds, and bills of lading. Distilled spirits may be withdrawn from internal revenue bonded warehouses, at the instance of the owner of the spirits, for exportation in the original casks or packages, without the payment of tax, under such regulations, and after making such entries and executing and filing with the collector of the district from which the removal is to be made such bonds and bills of lading, and giving such other additional security as may be prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, and bonds given under this section shall be canceled under such regulations as the Secretary shall prescribe. The bonds required to be given for the exportation of distilled spirits shall be canceled upon the presentation of satisfactory proof and certificates that said distilled spirits have been landed at the port of destination named in the bill of lading, or upon satisfactory proof that after shipment the same were lost at sea without fault or neglect of the owner or shipper thereof.

(b) Marks, stamps, and permits. All distilled spirits intended for export, as aforesaid, before being removed from the internal revenue bonded warehouse, shall be marked as the Commissioner may prescribe, and shall have affixed to each cask an engraved stamp indicative of such intention, to be provided and furnished by the several collectors as in the case of other stamps, and to be charged to them and accounted for in the same manner, and for the expense attending the providing and affixing such stamps 10 cents for each package so stamped shall be paid to the collector on making the entry for such transportation. When the owner of the spirits shall have made the proper entries, filed the bonds, and otherwise complied with all the requirements of the law and regulations as herein provided, the collector shall issue to him a permit for the removal and transportation of said spirits to the collector of the port from which the same are to be exported, accurately describing the spirits to be shipped, the amount of tax thereon, the State and district from which the same is to be shipped, the name of the distiller by whom distilled, the port to which the same are to be transported, the name of the collector of the port to whom the spirits are to be consigned, and the routes over which they are to be sent to the port of shipment. Such shipments shall be made over bonded routes whenever practicable. The collector of the port shall receive such spirits, and permit the exportation thereof, under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed for the exportation of spirits upon which the tax has been paid.

(c) Metallic cans in wooden packages. For authority of distiller to draw distilled spirits into wooden packages, each containing two or more metallic cans, for exportation only, see section 2878 (b).

(d) Penalties and forfeitures. • • •

(2) Unlawful relanding. Every person who intentionally relands within the jurisdiction of the United States any distilled spirits which have been shipped for exportation under the provisions of this chapter, or who receives such relanded distilled spirits, and every person who aids or abets in such relanding or receiving of such spirits, shall be fined not exceeding $5,000 and imprisoned not more than three years; and all distilled spirits so relanded, together with the vessel from which the same were relanded within the jurisdiction of the United States, and all boats, vehicles, horses, or other animals used in relanding and removing such distilled spirits, shall be forfeited to the United States.

(e) Transfer of Duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2888 TRANSFER OF SPIRITS INTO TANK CARS FOR EXPORT—(a) Requirement. Under such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, alcohol or other distilled spirits of a proof strength of not less than one hundred and eighty degrees intended for export free of tax may be drawn from receiving cisterns at any distillery, or from storage tanks in any internal revenue bonded warehouse for transfer to tanks or tank cars for export from the United States, and all provisions of law relating to the exportation of distilled spirits not inconsistent herewith shall apply to spirits removed for export under the provisions of this section.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 2901 LOSS ALLOWANCES—(a) Extent. No tax shall be collected in respect of distilled spirits lost or destroyed while in bond, except that such tax shall be collected—

(1) Theft. In the case of loss by theft unless the Commissioner shall find that the theft occurred without connivance, collusion, fraud, or negligence on the part of the distiller, warehouseman, owner, consignor, consignee, bailee, or carrier, or the employees of any of them; and

(2) Voluntary destruction. In the case of voluntary destruction unless the distilled spirits were unfit for use for beverage purposes and the distiller, warehouseman, or other person responsible for the tax, obtained the written permission of the Commissioner for such destruction in each case.

(b) Proof of loss. In any case in which spirits are lost or destroyed, whether by theft or otherwise, the Commissioner may require the distiller or warehouseman or other person responsible for the tax to file a claim for relief from the tax and submit proof as to the cause of such loss. In every case where it appears that the loss was by theft, the burden shall be upon the distiller or warehouseman or other person responsible for the tax to establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that such loss did not occur as the result of connivance, collusion, fraud, or negligence on the part of the distiller, warehouseman, owner, consignor, consignee, bailee, or carrier, or the employees of any of them.

(c) Refund of tax. When, in any case where the tax would not be collectible by virtue of subsection (a), but such tax has been paid, the Commissioner shall refund such tax. Nothing in section 2901 as hereby amended, or as heretofore amended, shall be construed to authorize refund of the tax where the loss occurred after the tax was paid.

(d) Insurance coverage. The abatement or refund of taxes provided for by subsections (a) and (c) in the case of loss of distilled spirits by theft shall only be allowed to the extent that the claimant is not indemnified against or recompensed for such loss.

(e) Transfer of Duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

• • • • • •

26 U. S. C. 2916 REMOVAL FOR DENATURATION OR DESTRUCTION OF DISTILLATES CONTAINING ALDEHYDES OR FUSEL OIL—(a) Power of Commissioner. Under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, distillers may collect, in locked tanks, distillates containing one-half of 1 per centum or more of aldehydes or 1 per centum or more of fusel oil (heads and tails) removed in the course of distillation. The distillates so collected may, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, be removed from such distillery for denaturation or be destroyed in the manner prescribed by the Commissioner, under the supervision of an internal revenue officer to be designated by the Commissioner, and when so denatured or destroyed shall not be subject to the tax imposed by law upon distilled spirits. • • •

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3031 TAX ON BRANDY OR SPIRITS USED IN FORTIFICATION—(a) Withdrawal of spirits for fortification. Under such regulations and official supervision and upon the giving of such notices and entries as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, any producer of wines defined under the provisions of this subchapter may withdraw from any fruit distillery or internal revenue bonded warehouse grape brandy (hereafter in this section included in the term "brandy"), or wine spirits, for the fortification of such wines on the premises where actually made, and any producer of citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, prune wines, plum wines, pear wines, pawpaw wines, papaya wines, pineapple wines, cantaloup wines, or apple wines (hereafter in this section included in the term "wines") may similarly withdraw citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy, pawpaw brandy, papaya brandy, pineapple brandy, cantaloup brandy, or apple brandy (hereafter in this section included in the term "brandy") for the fortification of wines as set forth in section 3032, Internal Revenue Code, on the premises where actually made.

• • • • • •

Any such wines, may under such regulations as the Commissioner may prescribe, with the approval of the Secretary, be sold or removed tax free for the • • • production of dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume.

• • • • • •

26 U. S. C. 3033 WITHDRAWAL OF WINE SPIRITS—(a) Regulations. Under such regulations and official supervision, and upon the execution of such entries and the giving of such bonds, bills of lading, and other security as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe, any producer of pure sweet wines as defined by section 3035 (a) may withdraw wine spirits from any internal revenue bonded warehouse in original packages or from any registered distillery in any quantity not less than eighty wine gallons • • •.

• • • • • •

26 U. S. C. 3036 WINE SPIRITS AND PURE SWEET WINE—(a) Definitions. The wine spirits mentioned in section 3032 (a) is the product resulting from the distillation of fermented grape juice, to which water may have been added prior to, during, or after fermentation, for the sole purpose of facilitating the fermentation and economical distillation thereof, and shall be held to include the product from grapes or their residues commonly known as grape brandy, and shall include commercial grape brandy which may have been colored with burnt sugar or caramel; • • •

• • • • • •

26 U. S. C. 3037 REMOVAL OF DOMESTIC WINES FREE OF TAX—(a) Regulations. Under such regulations and upon the execution of such notices, entries, bonds, and other security as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe, domestic wines subject to the taxes imposed by section 3030 (a), may be removed from the winery where produced, free of tax, • • • for use as distilling material at any regularly registered distillery or industrial alcohol plant: Provided, however, That the distiller using any such wine as distilling material shall, subject to the provisions of section 2846, be held to pay the tax on the product of such wines as will include both the alcoholic strength therein produced by fermentation and that obtained from the brandy or wine spirits added to such wines at the time of fortification: Provided further, That suitable samples of brandy or fruit spirits may be withdrawn under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner, subject to the approval of the Secretary, which samples shall be tax-free if for laboratory analysis and tax-paid if for any other use: Provided further, That the Commissioner, under rules and regulations to be by him prescribed subject to the approval of the Secretary, shall remit or refund all fortification taxes assessed or paid upon the quantity of fortifying spirits contained in wines • • • which have become unfit for use as wine and are used as distilling material.

(b) Transfer of Duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3038 GRAPE AND LIKE WINES FOR INDUSTRIAL USE—(a) Regulations. Under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, it shall be lawful to produce grape wines, citrus-fruit wines, peach wines, cherry wines, berry wines, apricot wines, prune wines, plum wines, pear wines, pawpaw wines, papaya wines, pineapple wines, cantaloup wines, and apple wines on bonded winery premises by the usual method, and to transport and use the same, and like wines heretofore produced and now stored on bonded winery premises, as distilling material in any fruit-brandy distillery or industrial-alcohol plant.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3041 SPIRIT METERS, LOCKS, AND SEALS—(a) Regulations. The Commissioner, by regulations to be approved by the Secretary, may require the use at each fruit distillery of such spirit meters, and such locks and seals to be affixed to fermenters, tanks, or other vessels and to such pipe connections as may in his judgment be necessary or expedient.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3042 ASSIGNMENT OF STOREKEEPER-GAUGERS TO FRUIT DISTILLERIES AND WINERIES—(a) Power of Commissioner. The Commissioner is authorized to assign to any fruit distillery and to each winery where wines are to be fortified such number of storekeeper-gaugers as may be necessary for the proper supervision of the manufacture of brandy or the making or fortifying of wines subject to tax imposed by this chapter.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3170 TRANSFER AND DELEGATION OF POWERS. The Secretary is authorized to confer and impose upon the Commissioner and any of his assistants, agents, or employees, and upon any other officer, employee, or agent of the Treasury Department, any of the rights, privileges, powers, duties, and protection conferred or imposed upon the Secretary, or any officer or employee of the Treasury Department, by any law now or hereafter in force relating to the taxation, exportation, transportation, manufacture, possession, or use of, or traffic in, distilled spirits, wine, fermented liquors, or denatured alcohol.

26 U. S. C. 3171 RECORDS, STATEMENTS, AND RETURNS—(a) Requirements. Every person liable to any tax imposed by this chapter, or for the collection thereof, shall keep such records, render under oath such statements, make such returns, and comply with such rules and regulations, as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may from time to time prescribe.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3173 PENALTIES AND FORFEITURES—(a) Removal or transportation of liquors or wines under improper brands. Whenever any person ships, transports or removes any spiritous or fermented liquors or wines, under any other than the proper name or brand known to the trade as designating the kind and quality of the contents of the casks or packages containing the same, or causes such act to be done, he shall forfeit said liquors or wines, and casks or packages, and be subject to pay a fine of $500.

(b) Other violations. (1) Any person required to pay, or to collect, account for and pay over any tax on distilled spirits, wines, or fermented malt liquors, or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return or supply any information for the purposes of the computation, assessment or collection of any such tax, who fails to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax, make any such return or supply any such information at the time or times required by law or regulation shall in addition to other penalties provided by law be subject to a penalty of not more than $1,000.

(2) Any person who willfully refuses to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax, make such return or supply such information at the time or times required by law or regulation, or who willfully attempts in any manner to evade such tax shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in addition to other penalties provided by law shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, together with the costs of prosecution.

(3) Any person who willfully refuses to pay, collect, or truly account for and pay over any such tax shall in addition to other penalties provided by law be liable to a penalty of the amount of the tax evaded, or not paid, collected, or accounted for and paid over, to be assessed and collected in the same manner as taxes are assessed and collected: Provided, however, That no penalty shall be assessed under this paragraph for any offense for which a penalty may be assessed under authority of section 3612, or of section 2801 (f) or 3043, or for any offense for which a penalty has been recovered under section 2806 (e).

(4) The term "person" as used in this subsection includes an officer or employee of a corporation or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

26 U. S. C. 3175 OTHER LAWS APPLICABLE. All administrative, special, or stamp provisions of law, including the law relating to the assessment of taxes, so far as applicable, shall be extended to and made a part of this chapter.

26 U. S. C. 3176 RULES AND REGULATIONS—(a) Power of Commissioner. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this chapter.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents, see section 3170.

26 U. S. C. 3250 TAX—(a) Wholesale dealers in liquors—(1) In general. Wholesale dealers in liquors shall pay a special tax of $110.

• • • • • •

(4) Distillers selling at wholesale. No distiller who has given the required bond and who sells only distilled spirits of his own production at the place of manufacture, or at the place of storage in bond, in the original packages to which the tax-paid stamps are affixed, shall be required to pay the special tax of a wholesale dealer in liquors on account of such sales.

• • • • • •

26 U. S. C. 3254 DEFINITIONS—(a) Distiller. For definition of distiller, see section 2809 (a).

(b) Wholesale dealer in liquors. Except as otherwise provided, every person who sells, or offers for sale, foreign or domestic distilled spirits, wines, or malt liquors in quantities of five wine-gallons or more to the same person at the same time, shall be regarded as a wholesale dealer in liquors: Provided, That the Commissioner may, by regulations, with the approval of the Secretary, provide for the issuance of a stamp denoting payment of such special tax as a "wholesale dealer in wines" or a "wholesale dealer in wines and malt liquors" if, as the case may be, wines only, or wines and malt liquors only, are sold by a wholesale dealer in liquors.

• • • • • •

(g) Rectifier. Every person who rectifies, purifies, or refines distilled spirits or wines by any process other than by original and continuous distillation from mash, wort, or wash, through continuous closed vessels and pipes, until the manufacture thereof is complete, and every wholesale or retail liquor dealer who has in his possession any still or leach tub, or who keeps any other apparatus for the purpose of refining in any manner distilled spirits, and every person who, without rectifying, purifying, or refining distilled spirits, shall, by mixing such spirits, wine, or other liquor with any material, manufacture any spurious, imitation, or compound liquors for sale, under the name of whisky, brandy, gin, rum, wine, spirits, cordials, or wine bitters, or any other name, shall be regarded as a rectifier, and as being engaged in the business of rectifying: Provided, That nothing in this subsection or section 3250 (f) (1) shall be held to prohibit the purifying or refining of spirits in the course of original and continuous distillation through any material which will not remain incorporated with such spirits when the manufacture thereof is complete.

(h) Manufacturer of stills. Any person who manufactures any still or worm to be used in distilling shall be deemed a manufacturer of stills.

26 U. S. C. 3270 REGISTRATION—(a) Requirements. Every person engaged in any trade or business on which a special tax is imposed by law shall register with the collector of the district his name or style, place of residence, trade or business, and the place where such trade or business is to be carried on. In case of a firm or company, the names of the several persons constituting the same, and the places of residence, shall be so registered.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 3271 PAYMENT OF TAX—(a) Condition precedent to doing business. No person shall be engaged in or carry on any trade or business mentioned in this chapter until he has paid a special tax therefor in the manner provided in this chapter.

(b) Due date. All special taxes shall become due on the 1st day of July in each year, or on commencing any trade or business on which such tax is imposed. In the former case the tax shall be reckoned for one year, and in the latter case it shall be reckoned proportionately, from the 1st day of the month in which the liability to a special tax commenced, to and including the 30th day of June following.

(c) How paid—(1) Stamp. All special taxes imposed by law, including the tax on stills or worms, shall be paid by stamps denoting the tax.

(2) Assessment. For authority of Commissioner to make assessments where the special taxes have not been duly paid by stamp, at the time and in the manner provided by law, see section 3640.

26 U. S. C. 3272 RETURNS—(a) Time for filing. It shall be the duty of the special taxpayers to render their returns with remittances to the collector at such times within the calendar month in which the special tax liability commenced as shall enable him to receive such returns, duly signed and verified, together with the remittances, not later than the last day of the month, except in cases of sickness or absence, as provided for in section 3634.

(b) Transfer of duties. For transfer of powers and duties of Commissioner and his agents in case of narcotics and liquor, see subchapter D of chapter 23 and section 3170.

(c) Penalties. For penalties imposed for failure to file returns or for making false or fraudulent returns, see section 3612.

26 U. S. C. 3300 ESTABLISHMENT AND ALTERATION—(a) Authorization. The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may establish and, from time to time, alter or change the form, style, character, material, and device of any stamp, mark, or label used under any provision of the laws relating to internal revenue.

(b) Application of penalty and forfeiture provisions. All pains, penalties, fines, and forfeitures provided by law relating to internal revenue stamps shall apply to and have full force and effect in relation to any and all stamps so established by the Commissioner.

26 U. S. C. 3301 ATTACHMENT AND CANCELLATION—(a) General authority to prescribe methods and instruments. The stamps referred to in the preceding section shall be attached, protected, removed, canceled, obliterated, and destroyed, in such manner and by such instruments or other means as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary may prescribe; and he is authorized and empowered to make, with the approval of the Secretary, all needful regulations relating thereto.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 3656 PAYMENT BY CHECK AND MONEY ORDERS—(a) Certified, cashiers', and treasurers' checks and money orders—(1) Authority to receive. It shall be lawful for collectors to receive for internal revenue taxes or in payment of stamps to be used in payment of internal revenue taxes certified, cashiers', and treasurers' checks drawn on National and State banks and trust companies, and United States postal, bank, express, and telegraph money orders, during such time and under such regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe.

(2) Discharge of liability—(A) Check duly paid. No person who may be indebted to the United States on account of internal revenue taxes or stamps used or to be used in payment of internal revenue taxes who shall have tendered a certified, cashier's, or treasurer's check or money order as provisional payment therefor, in accordance with the terms of this subsection, shall be released from the obligation to make ultimate payment thereof until such certified, cashier's or treasurer's check or money order so received has been duly paid.

(B) Check unpaid. If any such check or money order so received is not duly paid, the United States shall, in addition to its right to exact payment from the party originally indebted therefor, have a lien for the amount of such check upon all the assets of the bank on which drawn or for the amount of such money order upon all the assets of the issuer thereof; and such amount shall be paid out of its assets in preference to any or all other claims whatsoever against said bank or issuer except the necessary costs and expenses of administration and the reimbursement of the United States for the amount expended in the redemption of the circulating notes of such bank.

(b) Other checks—(1) Authority to receive. Collectors may receive checks in addition to those specified in subsection (a) in payment of taxes other than those payable by stamp during such time and under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe.

(2) Ultimate Liability. If a check so received is not paid by the bank on which it is drawn the person by whom such check has been tendered shall remain liable for the payment of the tax and for all legal penalties and addditions to the same extent as if such check had not been tendered.

26 U. S. C. 3791 RULES AND REGULATIONS—(a) Authorization—(1) In general. Except as provided in section 1926 (a), Cotton Futures, section 2599, Marihuana, section 2559, Narcotics, section 3176, Liquor, and section 1805, Silver, the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title.

(2) In case of change in law. The Commissioner may make all such regulations, not otherwise provided for, as may have become necessary by reason of any alteration of law in relation to internal revenue.

(b) Retroactivity of regulations or rulings. The Secretary, or the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, may prescribe the extent, if any, to which any ruling, regulation, or Treasury Decision, relating to the internal revenue laws, shall be applied without retroactive effect.

26 U. S. C. 3809 VERIFICATION OF RETURNS; PENALTIES OF PERJURY—(a) Penalties. Any person who willfully makes and subscribes any return, statement, or other document, which contains or is verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, and which he does not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

(b) Signature presumed correct. The fact that an individual's name is signed to a return, statement, or other document filed shall be prima facie evidence for all purposes that the return, statement, or other document was actually signed by him.

(c) Verification in lieu of oath. The Commissioner, under regulations prescribed by him with the approval of the Secretary, may require that any return, statement, or other document required to be filed under any provision of the internal revenue laws shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is made under the penalties of perjury, and such declaration shall be in lieu of any oath otherwise required.

• • • • •

26 U. S. C. 4041 ISSUE OF INSTRUCTIONS, REGULATIONS, AND FORMS—(a) In general. The Secretary shall prescribe forms of entries, oaths, bonds, and other papers, and rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, to be used under and in the execution and enforcement of the various provisions of the internal revenue laws; and he shall give such directions to collectors and prescribe such rules and forms to be observed by them as may be necessary for the proper execution of the law.

(b) Receipt of United States securities. For authority of the Secretary to issue instructions and regulations governing the receipt by collectors and others of United States securities, see R. S. 251 (U. S. C., title 31, sec. 427).

DISTILLER TO PAY TAX ON RENDERING MONTHLY RETURN, OR MAY REMOVE BRANDY TO BONDED WAREHOUSE

SEC. 2, Act of March 3, 1877. That every distiller of brandy from grapes[1] upon rendering his monthly return of materials used and spirits produced by him, shall immediately pay the tax upon such spirits, or may, after they have been properly gauged, marked, and branded, under regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, • • • cause them to be removed in bond from the place of manufacture to a special bonded warehouse, under such regulations, and after making such entries, and executing and filing with the collector of the district in which such spirits were manufactured such bonds and bills of lading, and giving such other additional security as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

SUBPART A—SCOPE OF REGULATIONS

§ 184.1 Production and removal of brandy. These regulations, "Regulations 5, Production of Brandy" (26 CFR, Part 184), contain the procedural and substantive requirements relative to the production of brandy and the removal thereof from the distillery under the exemptions from law provided herein pursuant to section 2825, I. R. C. The regulations cover the location, construction, equipment, action by the district supervisor and Commissioner; control and supervision of the distillery, production and removal of brandy; and concern the sale, shipment, losses, records and reports, of brandy.

SUBPART B—DEFINITIONS

§ 184.5 Meaning of terms. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, terms shall have the meanings ascribed in this subpart.

§ 184.6 Approved containers. "Approved containers" shall mean casks, barrels or similar wooden packages, or drums or similar metal packages, having a capacity of not less than ten gallons each: Provided, That for the withdrawal of samples for laboratory analysis "approved containers" shall mean any container of less than ten gallon capacity. The term "approved containers" shall also mean railroad tank cars, tank trucks and pipe lines where specifically stated in this part.

§ 184.7 Brandy or brandies. "Brandy" or "brandies" shall mean distilled spirits produced in accordance with this part from the materials specified in section 2825, I. R. C., and from the products or the residues of such materials, and shall include wine spirits, fortifying spirits, spirits—fruit, and neutral spirits—fruit, except where otherwise indicated but shall not include distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil.

§ 184.8 Collector. "Collector" shall mean collector of internal revenue.

§ 184.9 Commissioner. "Commissioner" shall mean the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

§ 184.10 Distiller. "Distiller" shall mean the proprietor of a distillery.

§ 184.11 Distillery. "Distillery" shall mean that part of the distillery premises described in the distiller's notice, Form 27½, where the distilled spirits are produced.

§ 184.12 Distillery premises. "Distillery premises" shall mean the lot or tract of land described in the distiller's notice, Form 27½, and the distillery and other buildings and fixtures situated on and constituting a part of such lot or tract of land.

§ 184.13 District supervisor or supervisor. "District supervisor" or "supervisor" shall mean the person having charge of a supervisory district of the Alcohol Tax Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

§ 184.14 Fruit distillery. "Fruit distillery" shall mean a distillery established or operated under the provisions of this part.

§ 184.15 Gallon. "Gallon" or "wine gallon" shall mean a United States gallon of liquid measure equivalent to the volume of 231 cubic inches.

§ 184.16 Heads and tails. "Heads and tails" shall mean distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil.

§ 184.17 Including. The word "including" shall not be deemed to exclude things other than those enumerated which are in the same general class.

§ 184.18 Inclusive language. Words in the plural form shall include the singular, and vice versa, and words in the masculine gender shall include females, associations, copartnerships, and corporations.

§ 184.19 I. R. C. "I. R. C." shall mean the Internal Revenue Code.

§ 184.20 Laboratory analysis. "Laboratory analysis" shall mean the determination of the composition of brandy by chemical, physical, or organoleptic examination.

§ 184.21 Person, proprietor or distiller. "Person," "proprietor," or "distiller" shall include natural persons, associations, copartnerships, and corporations.

§ 184.22 Prior lessee. "Prior lessee" shall mean a lessee whose lease has not terminated.

§ 184.23 Proof. "Proof" shall mean the ethyl alcohol content of a liquid at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, stated as twice the percent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

§ 184.24 Proof of distillation. "Proof of distillation" shall mean the composite proof of the brandy in the receiving tanks prior to reduction, or, if the brandy is reduced before reaching the receiving tanks, the proof prior to such reduction, unless the brandy is subsequently redistilled at a higher proof than the proof prior to reduction.

§ 184.25 Proof gallon. "Proof gallon" shall mean the alcoholic equivalent of a United States gallon at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, containing 50 percent of ethyl alcohol by volume.

§ 184.26 Proof spirits. "Proof spirits" shall mean that alcoholic liquor which contains 50 percent of ethyl alcohol by volume at 60 degrees Fahrenheit and which has a specific gravity of 0.93418 in air at 60 degrees Fahrenheit referred to water at 60 degrees Fahrenheit as unity.

§ 184.27 Registered distillery. "Registered distillery" shall mean a distillery established and operated under the regulations governing the production of distilled spirits other than alcohol, and brandy produced pursuant to the provisions of this part.

§ 184.28 Secretary. "Secretary" shall mean the Secretary of the Treasury.

§ 184.29 Tank car. "Tank car" shall mean a railroad tank car conforming to the requirements of this part.

§ 184.30 Tank truck. "Tank truck" shall mean a tank truck conforming with the requirements of this part.

§ 184.31 Tax gallon. "Tax gallon" is the unit of distilled spirits upon which the rate of tax prescribed by law is imposed. When spirits are 100 degrees of proof or more, the tax rate is imposed on the proof gallon. When spirits are less than 100 degrees of proof, it is imposed on the wine gallon.

§ 184.32 U. S. C. "U. S. C." shall mean the United States Code.

SUBPART C—EXEMPTION OF FRUIT DISTILLERS FROM CERTAIN PROVISIONS OF LAW

EXEMPTIONS

§ 184.35 General. Section 2825, I. R. C., authorizes the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, to exempt distillers of brandy made exclusively from apples, peaches, grapes, oranges, pears, pineapples, apricots, berries, plums, pawpaws, papayas, cantaloups, persimmons, prunes, figs, cherries dates, or citrus fruits (except lemons and limes), or from grape wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, prune wine, plum wine, pear wine, pawpaw wine, papaya wine, pineapple wine, cantaloup wine, or apple wine, in the manufacture of which artificial sweetening may have been used, or from the fruit pomace residuum of such grape wine, or from grape cheese where not more than 500 gallons of a sugar solution made from cane, beet, starch, or corn sugar, 95 per centum pure, and having a saccharine strength of not to exceed 10 per centum, is added to not less than 500 gallons (10 barrels) of such cheese, from any provision of the internal revenue laws relating to the manufacture of spirits, except as to the tax thereon, when in his judgment it may seem expedient to do so. Pursuant to this authority, distillers producing brandy from such materials are hereby exempted from the following provisions of law to the extent indicated in this subpart.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.36 Section 2812, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from so much of section 2812, I. R. C., as requires the distiller to state in his notice the time of fermenting each tub.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.37 Section 2817, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2817, I. R. C.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.38 Section 2819, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from so much of section 2819, I. R. C., as provides that no person shall use any still, boiler, or other vessel for the purpose of distilling in any yard or inclosure connected with any dwelling house: Provided, That where the distillery and dwelling adjoin, the two must be separated by an unbroken partition of substantial construction; and from so much of said section as prohibits the carrying on of any other business on the distillery premises, to the extent necessary to permit the manufacture of dealcoholized wines on such premises as provided in this part.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.39 Section 2820, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2820, I. R. C.: Provided, That locked receiving tanks are installed by the distiller and all brandy produced is deposited therein, in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.40 Section 2822, I. R. C. Fruit distillers, as to distilleries heretofore established, are exempted from the provisions of section 2822, I. R. C., which require that there shall be a clear space of not less than 1 foot around every wooden still and not less than 2 feet around every doubler and worm tank, and that the doubler and worm tanks shall be elevated not less than 1 foot from the floor.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.41 Section 2826, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2826, I. R. C., to the extent that a fence or wall over 5 feet in height may be erected or maintained around the distillery premises: Provided, That a suitable number of gates or doors is installed, and, if such gates or doors are locked, the district supervisor is furnished as many keys to the gates or doors of fences or walls as may be required from time to time, and the distillery is kept accessible to Government officers: And provided further, That if such wall or fence be solid and over 5 feet in height, specific approval therefor is obtained from the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.42 Section 2836, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2836, I. R. C., where the district supervisor finds that an emergency exists requiring operation of the distillery between 11:00 p. m. Saturday and 1:00 a. m. Monday for the purpose of preventing the loss, and effecting the salvaging, of crop or other materials.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.43 Section 2838, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2838, I. R. C., except as to the removal of spirits and the penalty therefor: Provided, That such exemption shall not apply when an officer is assigned to supervise operations.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.44 Section 2840, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2840, I. R. C.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.45 Section 2844, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2844, I. R. C.: Provided, That the distiller renders a true and correct report of the operations and transactions at the distillery on Form 15, in duplicate, to the district supervisor immediately after the close of the month and the gauging of all brandy produced during the month, but not later than the 10th day of the succeeding month, in accordance with the requirements of the regulations in this part.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.46 Section 2849, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2849, I. R. C.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.47 Section 2850, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2850, I. R. C.: Provided, That the distiller shall file notice when desiring to suspend operations and another notice before resuming operations, in accordance with the requirements of this part, and shall not carry on the business of a distiller during such period of suspension.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.48 Section 2851, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from so much of section 2851, I. R. C., as requires the placing of close-fitting covers upon fermenting tubs for the purpose of reducing the producing capacity of the distillery.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.49 Section 2872, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from so much of section 2872, I. R. C., as provides that no door of the internal revenue bonded warehouse shall open into the distillery.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.50 Section 2877, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from all the provisions of section 2877, I. R. C.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.51 Sections 2878 (a) and 2883, I. R. C. Fruit distillers are exempted from the provisions of sections 2878 (a) and 2883, I. R. C., to the extent that brandy of any desired proof may be drawn from receiving tanks and (a) removed from the distillery in packages or by pipeline or in tank cars in the manner prescribed in this part, or (b) stored in the brandy deposit room of the distillery temporarily as provided in this part.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.52 Exemptions subject to change. The exemptions from the above-mentioned provisions of law shall be subject to such further changes by regulations as may be deemed necessary to insure lawful manufacture and disposition of all brandy produced.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

SUBPART D—LOCATION

§ 184.60 Restrictions. Fruit distilleries may not be located in a dwelling house, or on board of any vessel or boat, or on any premises where beer, lager beer, ale, porter, or other fermented liquors, vinegar, or ether is manufactured or produced, or where sugars or sirups are refined, or where liquors of any description are retailed, or within 600 feet in a direct line of a vinegar factory using the vaporizing process, or, except as provided in § 184.61, within 600 feet in a direct line of any premises authorized to be used for rectifying, or where any other business is carried on: Provided, That saleratus, and dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume, may be manufactured on fruit distillery premises.

(53 Stat. 314; 26 U. S. C. 2819)

§ 184.61 Within 600 feet of rectifying plant. No fruit distiller shall carry on the business of distilling brandy at a distance of less than 600 feet in a direct line from a rectifying plant, except when he has been so authorized by the district supervisor. The district supervisor may grant such authority when he is of the opinion that the revenue will not be endangered thereby.

(53 Stat. 314, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2819, 3170)

§ 184.62 Special application. A person desiring to operate a fruit distillery within 600 feet of a rectifying plant shall file a special application, in triplicate, for such privilege with the district supervisor. The application shall state the location of the fruit distillery and the rectifying plant, the distance between the premises, the name of the proprietor of the rectifying plant, a description of any connecting pipelines, the reason for locating the distillery within 600 feet of the rectifying plant and any additional information which the district supervisor may require. The district supervisor will take action on such application in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.326.

§ 184.63 Changes requiring approval. Where there is to be a change in the distance between a fruit distillery and a rectifying plant located within 600 feet of each other, as a result of the extension or curtailment, or other change of either premises, a new special application, in triplicate, must be filed with the district supervisor by the proprietor of the premises which are to be extended or curtailed. Where a change occurs in the proprietorship of a fruit distillery or rectifying plant located within 600 feet of each other, the new proprietor shall file with the district supervisor a new special application, in triplicate. Unless the fruit distillery premises are extended or curtailed as the result of such change, the change may be reflected in the next amended or annual notice, Form 27½, and plat, filed by the distiller. Such new special application shall be considered and disposed of in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.325.

SUBPART E—CONSTRUCTION

§ 184.70 Distillery buildings. The distillery buildings must be securely constructed of brick, stone, wood, concrete, or other substantial material and must be completely separated from contiguous buildings not on the distillery premises by unbroken partitions of substantial construction: Provided, That where the furnace or boiler used for generating steam or heating water for use in the distillery is located off the distillery premises, or where steam is to be conveyed from a boiler in the distillery to other premises for manufacturing or other purposes, or where distilling material or fuel is to be received by chute or pipeline, or where distilled spirits, distilled water, etc., is to be removed from the distillery by pipeline, in accordance with the law and this part, necessary openings for the passage of the required pipelines or chutes may be permitted in the walls or partitions separating the distillery from the adjoining premises: And provided further, That necessary openings for the passage of approved water, electric, sewer, or similar lines may likewise be permitted in such walls or partitions. With the approval of the district supervisor, doors may be placed in the partition separating the fruit distillery from a contiguous bonded winery or bonded field warehouse, and provision made for the transfer of distilling material between such premises in containers or by fixed pipeline or by hose. Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse is operated by the distiller on the distillery premises and adjoins the distilling building or room, a door may be permitted in the wall separating the warehouse and such building or room. The foundations, floors, walls, and roofs, and the doors, windows, and other openings of distillery buildings shall be constructed, and such doors, windows, and other openings shall be protected and secured, as provided in this subpart.

§ 184.71 Foundations. The foundations of distillery buildings shall be constructed of stone, brick, concrete, or other equally substantial material, extending into the ground.

§ 184.72 Floors. The distillery buildings must have suitable floors constructed of wood, concrete, brick, or other equally substantial material. If a receiving room or brandy deposit room is provided, and the floors are constructed of wood, the boards must be fitted together by tongue and groove, or laid double with the second layer crossing the first at an angle of more than 20 degrees, and securely nailed and fastened.

§ 184.73 Walls. The outside walls of distillery buildings must be securely and substantially constructed. The ceiling and walls inside of the receiving room and brandy deposit room must be cased with matched tongue and groove boards, unless the use of other material affording equal protection from access without detection is approved by the Commissioner.

§ 184.74 Roofs. The roofs of distillery buildings must be securely and substantially constructed.

§ 184.75 Doors. The outside doors of the distillery buildings must be securely and substantially constructed and equipped, so that they may be securely locked. In addition, the doors of receiving rooms, brandy deposit rooms, and other rooms required to be locked by § 184.812 must comply with the following requirements: The outside doors, and those on which Government locks are required, must be securely constructed of heavy timber or iron, or other equally substantial material. The hinges must be secured by roundheaded or carriage bolts, nutted, and riveted or battered on the inside. Hinges that cannot be thus secured must be inaccessible from the outside, and so attached that they cannot be removed when the doors are closed. The outside doors, and those on which Government locks are required, must be equipped with hasp and staple securely fastened on the inside, so that they may be securely locked. The doors secured from the inside must be provided with a cross bar in the middle of the door, and strong and suitable attachments for the reception of locks. Where there are double doors, one of them, at least, must be provided with substantial bolts at both the top and the bottom. These bolts must be so arranged as to plunge into substantial fastenings or holes in the middle of the upper and lower ends of the frame when the door is closed. Folding doors of wood or metal, vertical or horizontal sliding doors of wood or metal, and metal doors of the roller blind type, must be provided with substantial cross bars, or bolts that plunge into the upper and lower ends, of the sides of the door frame, so placed as to make the door rigid and secure, unless the doors operate in grooves or tracks that make them secure.

WINDOWS IN RECEIVING AND BRANDY DEPOSIT ROOMS

§ 184.76 General. The windows in the receiving room and brandy deposit room must be constructed and secured as outlined in §§ 184.77–184.84.

§ 184.77 Windows within 12 feet of ground, etc. Windows located within 12 feet of the ground, or within 12 feet (a) above a fire escape (except as provided in § 184.78), (b) above a roof, setback, or balcony within 12 feet of the ground, (c) above a roof or balcony of an adjoining building, or (d) of a roof, window, or other opening of an opposite building, must conform to the following requirements:

(1) Wood sash. Windows consisting of plain or wire glass panes set in wood sash must be protected by iron bars and solid shutters;

(2) Steel sash. Windows consisting of wire glass panes not larger than 6 by 10 inches, set in metal sash must be protected by iron bars;

(3) Detention type. Windows may be of the detention type, consisting of solid steel frame, sash, and grille (over the ventilating portion), combined in one unit and erected in one piece, equipped with wire glass panes not larger than 6 by 10 inches.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.78 Opening onto fire escape. Windows opening onto a fire escape shall be protected by solid metal shutters, securely hinged and equipped with facilities for locking on the inside with a Government lock. Iron bars will not be required on such windows.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.79 Extension of requirements. The Commissioner or district supervisor may require any other windows in the receiving and brandy deposit rooms to be protected by iron bars or shutters, or both, when deemed necessary to safeguard the spirits.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.80 Windows more than 12 feet from ground. Windows more than 12 feet from the ground and not subject to the provisions of §§ 184.77 and 184.78 must be securely constructed and so arranged and equipped that they may be securely fastened on the inside.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.81 Set in casement. Windows must be securely set into the window casement in such a manner as to prevent ready removal.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.82 Sash locks. Window sashes must be provided with sash locks or other suitable fasteners.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.83 Shutters. The shutters must be solid and substantially constructed of metal or wood, and must be fastened inside of the room or building and so secured that they cannot be opened from the outside.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.84 Iron bars. The iron bars must be not less than three-fourths of an inch in diameter, placed perpendicularly in the windows or walls, not more than 5 inches apart from center to center, and reinforced by iron cross bars not more than 36 inches apart. All bars and cross bars must be securely fastened to the window frames or embedded in the walls in such a manner as to prevent their removal and to afford proper security.

(53 Stat. 332; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.85 Other windows. All other windows of distillery buildings must be securely constructed and so arranged and equipped that they may be securely locked and fastened on the inside.

§ 184.86 Skylights, monitors, penthouses, etc. Skylights, monitors, penthouses, and similar openings will be regarded as windows and treated as such, except that shutters will not be required.

§ 184.87 Ventilators. Small openings in outside walls of distillery buildings, and in the ground floors and the roofs thereof, for ventilation or heating purposes, will be permitted, provided they are protected by substantial metal gratings, not lighter than No. 6 gauge and having openings not larger than one-half inch, securely attached to or embedded in the floor, wall, or roof. Where such openings in the walls, floors, and roofs of receiving and brandy deposit rooms are larger than 6 by 6 inches, they shall be further protected by iron bars. Such openings will not be permitted in walls or floors which separate the distillery from contiguous premises.

§ 184.88 Drains. Openings in floors (except floors separating the distillery from other premises) will be permitted for drainage or sewage, provided they are permanently connected to the sewer system and protected in the same manner as ventilators.

§ 184.89 Receiving room. The proprietor may provide a receiving room in which to locate the receiving tanks. If such a room is provided, it shall be constructed in accordance with the applicable provisions of §§ 184.70–184.88. No door, window, or other opening leading from the receiving room into any other building or room, except the distilling building or room, will be permitted: Provided, That where the receiving room and brandy deposit room adjoin each other there may be a communicating door between them. All doors of the receiving room shall be locked on the inside with Government locks, except the entrance door and the communicating door, if any, between the receiving room and the brandy deposit room. The entrance door shall be locked on the outside of the receiving room with a Government seal lock and the communicating door between the receiving room and the brandy deposit room shall be locked on the brandy deposit room side. The receiving room must be well lighted, and of sufficient size and so equipped as to permit prompt and convenient conduct of operations required therein. A sign must be placed over the entrance door bearing the words "Receiving Room."

§ 184.90 Brandy deposit room. Unless all brandy is removed from the distillery in accordance with §§ 184.535–184.540, during the regular working hours of the same day on which it is drawn from the receiving tanks, there must be provided a room (or building) to be known as the brandy deposit room (or building) for the temporary storage of brandy pending removal thereof from the distillery premises. The brandy deposit room shall be constructed in accordance with the applicable provisions of §§ 184.70–184.88. No door, window, or other opening leading from the brandy deposit room into any other building or room, except the distilling building or room, will be permitted: Provided, That where the brandy deposit room and the receiving room adjoin each other there may, as provided in § 184.89, be a communicating door between them. All doors of the brandy deposit room shall be locked on the inside with Government locks, except the entrance door, which shall be locked on the outside of the room with a Government seal lock. The brandy deposit room must be well lighted and of sufficient size and so equipped as to permit of prompt and convenient conduct of operations required therein. A sign must be placed over the entrance of the room bearing the words "Brandy Deposit Room."

§ 184.91 Filled package storeroom. Where packages are filled from tanks in the brandy deposit room and it is desired to store such filled packages temporarily pending removal from the distillery, a separate compartment or room must be provided within the brandy deposit room for the storage thereof. The construction of such filled package storeroom must conform to the applicable provisions of §§ 184.70–184.88. All doors of this compartment or room shall be equipped for locking on the inside with Government locks, except the entrance door which shall be equipped for locking on the outside. The entrance door of the filled package storeroom shall open into the other part of the brandy deposit room.

§ 184.92 Fermenting room or building. Where distilling material is produced on the distillery premises, a room or building must be provided in which shall be located the fermenting tanks, distilling material storage tanks, and distilling material measuring tanks: Provided, That where closed tanks are used they need not be located in a room or building. If a fermenting room is provided, it may be located in the distilling building and have direct communication with other portions of such building. Where all distilling material used is produced on other premises, a fermenting room or building need not be provided. The distilling material measuring tank shall in such case be located in the distillery, but not necessarily in a separate room: Provided, That where all distilling material used is received from a bonded winery operated by the distiller on contiguous premises, the distilling material measuring tank may be located on the winery premises. Where the distilling material measuring tank is located on a contiguous winery premises and the transfer of distilling material is not made by hose as authorized by § 184.70, a fixed pipeline must be installed for conveying the distilling material from the measuring tank to the distillery, where it shall be conveyed direct to the chargers of the stills or to sumps for immediate transfer to the chargers. If carbon dioxide gas is recovered, the necessary purifiers, scrubbers, and wash-water receiving tanks should be located in the fermenting room or building or in an adjoining room or building.

§ 184.93 Empty container storeroom. If empty packages are to be stored on the distillery premises, a separate room or building must be provided for such purpose. Such room or building shall not have any means of interior communication with any other room or building used in connection with the production or storage of brandy. This room or building may be used for general cooperage purposes.

§ 184.94 Government office. The proprietor shall provide and maintain on the distillery premises for the exclusive use of Government officers a securely constructed, well-lighted, heated, and ventilated office of suitable dimensions: Provided, That where the proprietor operates an internal revenue bonded warehouse on or contiguous to the distillery premises, or a bonded winery contiguous to such premises, and a Government office conforming to the requirements specified in this section is provided on the warehouse or winery premises, and such office is so located as to be suitable for the use of Government officers assigned to the distillery, a separate Government office need not be provided on the distillery premises. The Government office shall be equipped with toilet and lavatory facilities and with a suitable number of desks, chairs, file cases, and such other furniture as may be necessary for the keeping of Government records and the preparation of reports. Where distilling materials, etc., are tested by Government officers, the Government office shall also be provided with running water, and such tables and shelves as may be required, unless suitable laboratory facilities are available to Government officers elsewhere on the premises. The door of the Government office shall be equipped with a cylinder type lock, and a sufficient number of keys therefor shall be furnished the district supervisor for the use of Government officers. Where deemed necessary to afford adequate security to Government property, the district supervisor may require the windows of the Government office to be protected by shutters or iron bars, and the door to be so equipped that it may be securely fastened with a Government lock. A sign must be placed over the entrance door bearing the words, "Government Office". Where brandy is drawn into packages from receiving or brandy storage tanks the distiller must provide beside the scales on which the packages are weighed a desk or table and chair for the use of the storekeeper-gauger in preparing his reports of gauge.

§ 184.95 Government cabinet. There shall be provided in the Government office a metal cabinet of adequate strength and size, suitably equipped for locking with a Government seal lock, for use in safeguarding Government locks, keys, seals, and other Government property, and stamps in the custody of Government officers. Each such cabinet shall be subject to approval by the district supervisor.

SUBPART F—SIGN

§ 184.105 Posting of sign. The proprietor shall place and keep conspicuously on the outside and at the front of the distillery where it can be plainly seen, a sign exhibiting in plain and legible letters, painted in oil colors or gilded, not less than 3 inches in height and of a proper and proportionate width, the name of the distiller and the words "Fruit Distillery," followed by the registered number of the distillery.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2831)

SUBPART G—FENCES OR WALLS AND GATES

§ 184.110 Construction. The distiller may erect around the distillery premises a fence or wall, but a suitable number of gates or doors therein must be provided; and if such fence or wall is to be solid and over 5 feet in height, specific approval for the erection or maintenance thereof must be obtained from the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 316, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2826, 3170)

§ 184.111 Special application. Where the distiller desires to construct or maintain a solid fence or wall of a greater height than 5 feet around the distillery, he shall file with the district supervisor a special application therefor, in triplicate, giving a complete description of the fence or wall, including information as to materials, construction, height, and number of gates, and stating the reasons for the construction or maintenance of such fence or wall. The district supervisor will take action on such special application in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.327.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 316, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2826, 3170)

§ 184.112 Keys to gates. The distiller shall furnish the district supervisor as many keys to the gates or doors of the fence or wall around the distillery as may be required from time to time, in order to render the distillery readily accessible to Government officers.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 316, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2826, 3170)

SUBPART H—EQUIPMENT

§ 184.120 Scales for packages. Where brandy or heads and tails are drawn into packages at the distillery, the distiller must provide suitable and accurate scales, graduated in half pounds, on the distillery premises for weighing the same.

(53 Stat. 307; 26 U. S. C. 2808)

§ 184.121 Weighing tanks. Where brandy is to be removed from a distillery by pipeline for any authorized purpose as provided by this part, the distiller must provide on the distillery premises one or more suitable weighing tanks constructed in accordance with the provisions of § 184.122 unless the receiving tanks or brandy deposit tanks are mounted on scales, or unless such removals are limited to transfer of brandy to a weighing tank in a warehouse on the same or contiguous premises, or to a weighing tank in the fortifying room of a contiguous winery, or to a weighing tank in a contiguous distillery, and gauged therein. Where heads and tails are to be removed in tank cars for denaturation, the distiller must provide in the distillery building a suitable weighing tank of like construction; except that such weighing tanks will not be necessary in the distillery building where suitable weighing tanks are provided in the receiving room or the brandy deposit room and heads and tails are to be conveyed by fixed pipelines, constructed in accordance with § 184.140 from the heads and tails tanks to the receiving room or brandy deposit room weighing tanks and gauged therein. The beams or dials of scales must be graduated to enable readings to be made as follows: To the nearest ½ pound for scales having a capacity not to exceed 2,000 pounds; to the nearest 1 pound for scales having a capacity of over 2,000 pounds, but not exceeding 6,000 pounds; to the nearest 2 pounds for scales having a capacity over 6,000 pounds, but not exceeding 20,000 pounds; to the nearest 5 pounds for scales having a capacity over 20,000 pounds, but not exceeding 50,000 pounds; and to the nearest 10 pounds for scales having a capacity over 50,000 pounds. Except in the case of scales having a capacity of 2,000 pounds or less, where spirits are to be gauged for taxpayment not less than twenty percentum of the total capacity of the weighing tank scale may be entered into the tank for gauging for determination of the tax: Provided, That lots of spirits weighing 1,000 pounds or less must be weighed on scales having one-half pounds graduations. If molasses or other liquids are used as distilling material, suitable weighing or measuring tanks must be provided for determining the quantity thereof.

§ 184.122 Construction of weighing tanks. Weighing tanks shall be constructed of metal and shall be stationary and each such tank shall be equipped with a suitable measuring device whereby the contents will be correctly indicated. Each weighing tank shall be mounted on accurate scales and shall have plainly and legibly painted thereon the words "Weighing Tank," followed by its serial number and the capacity in gallons. The inlet and outlet pipe connections of each weighing tank must be fitted with valves so constructed that they can be secured with Government locks, and any other openings in such tanks must also be so constructed that they can be closed and similarly locked.

§ 184.123 Test weights. The distiller shall provide a set of ten 50-pound cast-iron test weights, which shall be certified by the National Bureau of Standards or State departments of weights and measures as conforming to class "C" requirements of the National Bureau of Standards: Provided, That test weights need not be furnished where all brandy produced is transferred directly from the distillery to the fortifying rooms of wineries for the fortification of wine and the distiller has the scales used for weighing brandy, including those upon which weighing tanks are mounted, checked and their accuracy certified to by State, county, or city departments of weights and measures or by responsible scale companies at intervals of not more than 6 months. If the distiller has provided such test weights at an internal revenue bonded warehouse operated by him on the same or contiguous premises, or at a bonded winery or rectifying plant on contiguous premises, he need not provide a separate set of weights for the distillery. All test weights shall be placed under the control and in the custody of the storekeeper-gauger in charge, who shall keep them under Government lock when not in use.

(53 Stat. 307; 26 U. S. C. 2808)

§ 184.124 Furnace doors, steam and fuel lines. The door of every furnace of every still or boiler located on the distillery premises must be so constructed that it may be closed and locked with a Government lock in such a manner as will effectually prevent it from being opened and a fire lighted in the furnace or under the boiler: Provided, That where the stills are heated with steam and it is necessary to use the boilers for the generation of steam for other purposes during periods when distilling operations are suspended, the doors of the furnaces of such boilers need not be equipped for locking if the pipelines used to convey steam from the boilers to the stills are provided with valves equipped for locking with Government locks at the point where they enter each still. Where the boilers used for generating steam for the operation of the distillery are located off the distillery premises, the pipeline used to convey the steam to the distillery must be equipped with a valve so constructed that it may be locked with a Government lock, either at the point where it enters the distillery premises or at the point of entrance to the stills. If the stills are operated with fuel conveyed to them by pipeline, such pipeline must likewise be equipped for locking.

(53 Stat. 315; 26 U. S. C. 2822)

§ 184.125 Distilling material measuring and storage tanks. There must be provided at each fruit distillery one or more distilling material measuring tanks for measuring the distilling material received, and, if distilling material is to be stored on the premises, a requisite number of distilling material storage tanks: Provided, That where all distilling material used is received from a bonded winery operated by the distiller on contiguous premises, and such distilling material is conveyed direct from measuring tanks on the winery premises to the chargers of the stills or to sumps for immediate transfer to the chargers, as authorized by § 184.92, such tanks need not be installed in the distillery. Where brandy is received for redistillation the tanks used for storage thereof must have the inlets, outlets, and other openings thereof equipped for locking with Government locks and the tanks and pipelines used in connection therewith must be installed and equipped in accordance with §§ 184.129 and 184.140. Distilling material measuring tanks may be used as storage tanks when not needed for measuring distilling material received or used. Each distilling material measuring tank or storage tank must be constructed of wood, metal, concrete, or other suitable material, and so arranged as to permit proper examination thereof. Each such tank must have plainly and legibly painted thereon its designated use, as "Distilling Material Measuring Tank" or "Distilling Material Storage Tank," followed by its serial number, capacity in gallons, depth in inches, and, if of uniform dimensions and standing on end, the capacity per inch of depth. Where such tanks are of irregular dimensions or are lying on side, the distiller shall furnish to the district supervisor a table, in duplicate, showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth. The district supervisor will retain one copy of the table and forward the other to the storekeeper-gauger, who will retain the same in the Government office. The distiller shall provide an accurate measuring rod, marked in inches, or a steel tape, suitable for use in determining the contents of such tanks. Where such tanks are equipped with an accurate measuring device whereby the contents are correctly shown, the capacity per inch of depth need not be marked on the tank and a measuring rod or tape need not be provided.

(53 Stat. 316; 26 U. S. C. 2829)

§ 184.126 Fermenters. Where distilling material is to be produced on the distillery premises there must be provided appropriate fermenting tanks. Such tanks shall be located in the fermenting room or building, except that where closed fermenters are used they need not be enclosed in a room or building. The fermenters shall be constructed and marked in the same manner as distilling material measuring and storage tanks are required by § 184.125 to be constructed and marked, except that the designated use of such tanks will be represented by the words "Fermenting Tank," and the markings shall be painted on the tanks. Where fermenters are of irregular dimensions or are lying on side, the same provisions shall be made for determining their contents as are required by § 184.125 in the case of distilling material measuring and storage tanks.

(53 Stat. 315; 26 U. S. C. 2822)

§ 184.127 Washwater receiving tanks. If carbon dioxide is recovered, and the washwater is to be utilized in the manufacture of brandy, there must be provided a sufficient number of washwater receiving tanks, which shall be constructed of metal. Each such tank shall be equipped with a suitable measuring device whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated. There must be painted on each tank the words, "Washwater Receiving Tank," followed by its serial number and the capacity in gallons. The outlet valve must be equipped for locking with a Government lock. If the washwater is not used in the manufacture of brandy, as provided by § 184.460, washwater receiving tanks need not be provided.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2829)

§ 184.128 Stills. The stills must be of substantial construction and must have a clear space of not less than 1 foot around them. The steam or fuel line to each still shall be equipped with a valve so constructed that it may be locked with a Government lock when the distillery is suspended, as required by § 184.698. The drain and washout pipes of stills must also, whenever practicable, be equipped with valves so constructed that they may be locked with Government locks. If there is a furnance under the stills or doublers, the door thereto must, as provided in § 184.698, be so constructed that it may be secured with a Government lock. There must be a clear space of not less than 2 feet around every doubler and condenser or worm tank. The doubler and worm tanks must be elevated not less than 1 foot from the floor. Every still must be numbered, commencing with number 1, and have painted thereon its designated use, such as "Beerstill," "Doubler," etc., and its number and spirit producing capacity in proof gallons in 24 hours, computed in accordance with the rules set forth in Subpart PP of this part. Where the still is insulated or the manufacturer's serial number is otherwise obscured, such number will likewise be painted on the covering of the still.

§ 184.129 General requirements for tanks. All tanks used as receptacles for brandy between the outlet of the first condenser or worm and the receiving tanks shall be constructed of metal, unless enclosed within a securely constructed room equipped for locking with a Government lock, in which case the tanks may be constructed of wood or concrete. All tanks shall be equipped with a suitable measuring device, conforming to the requirements of § 184.130, whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated. Where such tanks are of irregular dimensions, the distiller shall furnish to the district supervisor, a table, in duplicate, showing the capacity of the tank for each inch of depth. The district supervisor will retain one copy of the table and forward the other to the storekeeper-gauger who will retain the same in the Government office. All tanks must be so constructed as to permit proper examination thereof, and so arranged as to leave an open space of not less than 3 feet between the top and the roof or floor above. Where tanks are equipped with manholes or valves in the top which are required to be locked with Government locks, suitable walks or landings with steps or stairways leading thereto and providing ready access to such manholes or valves must be constructed. All tanks, such as low-wine, singlings, heads and tails, fusel oil and distilled water tanks, and similar equipment shall each have plainly and legibly painted thereon its designated use, serial number, and capacity in gallons. Manheads, inlets, and outlets of the tanks and all openings in the distilling apparatus and equipment, except column stills, whereby access may be had to the brandy must be provided with facilities for locking with Government locks or otherwise securely fastened and sealed: Provided, That distilled water storage tanks need not be so equipped unless a pipeline is connected therewith for the conveyance of distilled water to contiguous establishments, as provided in § 184.133. Tanks used as receptacles for brandy may be permanently connected with pipelines, for the conveyance thereto of air, and also distilled water, but the distilled water pipeline must be affixed to the top of the tank, and may not extend into the tank. Each such pipeline must be equipped with a control valve which may be locked with a Government lock. Pipelines used for the conveyance of air must also be equipped with a check valve located near the point of entry to the tank in order to effectively prevent any abstraction of spirits from the tank. Other pipelines, except those used for the conveyance of brandy, may not be permanently connected with such tanks.

§ 184.130 Measuring devices. All tanks used as receptacles for brandy shall be equipped with floats and counterweights and a proper scale, whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated, except that tanks located in a locked room may be equipped with suitable and accurate glass gauges. The openings in the tanks for cords or wires for floats and counterweights must be no larger than are absolutely necessary to accommodate the cords or wires. Where tanks equipped with floats and counterweights are in a locked room the scale should be extended to the outside of the room to permit ascertainment of the contents of the tank and thus guard against overflow without the necessity of opening the door of the room. Where tanks in a locked room are equipped with glass gauges, a properly barred and secured window must be provided in the wall or door to permit reading the gauge.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2829)

§ 184.131 Heads and tails tanks. Every fruit distiller desiring to collect heads and tails for destruction or removal for denaturation must provide for the purpose one or more tanks, each of which must be constructed and equipped in accordance with the provisions of § 184.129, and have painted thereon the words "Heads and Tails Tank," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons. The tanks must be so arranged that the distillate to be collected therein will pass from the still into the tank through continuous and securely closed fixed pipes and vessels. The pipelines connecting the tanks with the stills or other apparatus must be constructed in accordance with § 184.140. Valves must be provided in the pipelines and so arranged as to control completely the flow of distillate both into and out of each tank. The construction of the valves must be such that they can be secured with Government locks.

§ 184.132 Unfinished brandy tanks. Whenever a fruit distillery established or operated under this part is to be operated alternately as such and as an industrial alcohol plant or as a registered distillery in accordance with Subpart N of this part, and the fruit distiller desires to retain unfinished brandy where the change in type of plant is to be temporary only, he must provide for the purpose one or more tanks, each of which must be constructed and equipped in accordance with the provisions of § 184.129 and have painted thereon the words "Unfinished Brandy Tank," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons. The tanks must be so arranged that the unfinished brandy to be collected therein will pass from the still into the tank through continuous and securely closed, fixed pipes and vessels. The pipelines connecting the tanks with stills or other apparatus must be constructed in accordance with § 184.140. Valves must be provided in the pipelines and so arranged as to control completely the flow of unfinished brandy both into and out of each tank. The construction of the valves must be such that they can be secured with Government locks.

(53 Stat. 316, 318; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 2829)

§ 184.133 Distilled water tanks. Distilled water storage tanks shall be so located that their contents may be readily inspected by Goverment officers, and each such tank shall have painted thereon the words "Distilled Water Storage Tank," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons. Where distilled water is to be conveyed by pipeline to contiguous establishments operated under the internal revenue laws and regulations, the storage tanks from which the distilled water is to be conveyed must be so constructed that any necessary openings therein may be closed and secured with a Government lock. The pipeline must be an independent one, without any connection with any other pipe, tank, vessel, or utensil on the distillery premises: Provided, That where distilled water is to be so conveyed from two or more distilled water storage tanks, the pipeline may be connected with such tanks by permanent manifold connections. The pipeline must be constructed of metal, or other suitable material, and exposed to view throughout its entire length. The valves, flanges, and other connections in such pipeline on the distillery premises must be brazed, welded, or otherwise secured in such a manner that the pipeline and its connections cannot be detached or altered without showing evidence of tampering.

(53 Stat. 316, 318; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 2829)

§ 184.134 Try boxes. Try boxes must be provided and so constructed as to permit reading the proof of the brandy, as well as the temperature, without unlocking the same. Such boxes shall be substantially constructed, and shall be equipped for locking with a Government lock. Each try box must be provided with an overflow pipe to permit by-passing of the spirits around the valves controlling the flow from the try box to the receiving tank. The overflow pipe shall be brazed or welded to the pipeline leading to the low-wine, singlings, or receiving tanks.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2829)

§ 184.135 Singlings tanks. Where singlings are produced the distiller shall provide singlings tanks for the reception thereof. Singlings tanks shall be constructed and arranged in accordance with § 184.129, and equipped with a suitable measuring device conforming to the requirements of § 184.130, whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated. Each singlings tank shall have plainly and legibly painted thereon the words "Singlings Tank," followed by its serial number and capacity in gallons. The singlings tank shall be connected by means of fixed pipelines with the stills in which the singlings are to be redistilled, or, if it is desired to mingle singlings with distilling material about to be distilled, the singlings tanks may be connected by means of fixed pipelines with the distilling material sump or the chargers of the still, or the distilling material pipeline leading to the still, in accordance with § 184.136. The pipelines connected with the singlings tanks shall be provided with valves to control the flow of singlings into and out of the tanks, and such valves shall be so constructed that they may be closed and secured with Government locks. Where the tanks are connected with a closed, locked still in which the singlings are redistilled, the valves controlling the flow of the singlings into and out of the tanks need not be equipped for locking with a Government lock. By the term "closed, locked still" is meant a still having all openings by which access may be had to the brandy or singlings closed and secured with Government locks or sealed.

(53 Stat. 318, 354; 26 U. S. C. 2829, 3041)

§ 184.136 Sumps and chargers. Where singlings are to be run into the sump or the chargers of the still and mixed with the distilling material for distillation, the sump and chargers, or the chargers, as the case may be, must be so constructed that the inlets, outlets, and other openings thereof may be closed and secured with Government locks. The pipeline between the sump and chargers and the still shall be constructed and secured as provided in § 184.140.

(53 Stat. 318, 354; 26 U. S. C. 2829, 3041)

§ 184.137 Receiving tanks. The distiller shall provide a sufficient number of receiving tanks of adequate capacity, into which shall be conveyed all the brandy produced in the distillery. Such tanks will be located in the receiving room where such a room is provided. If no receiving room is provided, the distiller may, if he so desires, place receiving tanks in the brandy deposit room, or, if the tanks are constructed of metal, they may be located at some place in the distillery convenient for drawing off brandy. At distilleries where operations are not such as to require the daily attendance of a storekeeper-gauger, the receiving and singlings tanks shall be of such capacity as will necessitate the visit by a Government officer not more than twice a month to gauge the brandy: Provided, That the district supervisor may approve tanks of less capacity where, by reason of the location of the distillery, he can assign a storekeeper-gauger to visit the distillery more often than twice a month to gauge the brandy, or where the quantity of brandy produced is such as to make the retention of 15 days' production in the receiving tanks inadvisable. Receiving tanks must be constructed and arranged in conformity with the requirements of § 184.129, and, in addition thereto, such tanks must be elevated not less than 18 inches from the floor and so separated that the Government officer may pass completely around each. Each receiving tank shall be equipped with a suitable measuring device conforming to the requirements of § 184.130 whereby the actual contents will be correctly indicated. Each such tank shall have plainly and legibly painted thereon the words "Receiving Tank," followed by its serial number and the capacity in gallons. The receiving tanks must not be connected with each other, except that a connecting pipeline will be permitted between them in order to prevent loss of spirits by overflow. Such connecting pipeline must be located as close to the top of each receiving tank as the construction thereof will permit. It must be closed and all connections therein brazed or welded to prevent abstraction of brandy without showing evidence of tampering. A valve equipped for locking with a Government lock must be provided in such pipeline. Pipelines connected with receiving tanks must be brazed, welded, or otherwise secured and sealed to the tanks in such a manner that they cannot be detached or altered without showing evidence of tampering. Pipelines for the conveyance of distilled water, air, or other substances than brandy may not be permanently connected with receiving tanks, except as provided by § 184.129.

§ 184.138 Stopcocks of receiving tanks. The stopcocks which control the flow of brandy into the receiving tanks must be so arranged that the brandy may be run into any of the tanks, and if the stopcocks are in the receiving room or brandy deposit room they must be controlled by rods, the handles of which must extend into the distillery or through the wall to the outside of the receiving room or brandy deposit room. The stopcocks controlling the flow of brandy out of receiving tanks must be so constructed that they may be securely locked with Government locks.

(53 Stat. 316, 354; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 3041)

§ 184.139 Brandy storage tanks. Where brandy is to be temporarily stored in tanks pending removal from the distillery, such tanks shall be located in the brandy deposit room. The construction of brandy storage tanks shall conform to the requirements of § 184.129. Each brandy storage tank shall have plainly and legibly painted thereon the words "Brandy Storage Tank," followed by its serial number and the capacity in gallons.

§ 184.140 Pipelines. The distillery apparatus and equipment must be closed and continuous, commencing with the first still in which the vapors rise and continuing with securely closed vessels and pipes to the receiving tanks in which the finished product is deposited. All such pipelines must be of a fixed and permanent character, constructed of metal, or other material affording necessary protection, and so arranged as to be exposed to view in their entirety. All valves, unions, flanges, and other detachable connections in the pipelines of the distilling equipment, from the point where the vapors rise in the first still to the receiving tanks, must be so secured by brazing, welding, fastening, and sealing, or locking with Government locks as to effectually prevent disconnection and access to the brandy. Pipelines authorized by this part for use in the conveyance of brandy from receiving tanks to storage tanks in the brandy deposit room and from the distilery to establishments on the same or contiguous premises shall be constructed, secured and exposed in like manner and shall be so arranged that each such pipeline can be completely emptied or drained after each transfer of brandy: Provided, That such pipelines may be connected with weighing tanks by means of flexible metal hose with the ends brazed or welded to the outlet of the tank and the pipeline, or by means of short detachable hose connections, if the end of the pipeline is fitted with a valve so constructed that it may be secured with a Government lock. Pipelines may likewise be connected with tank cars by short detachable hose connections.

(53 Stat. 316, 318, 354; 26 U. S. C. C. 2823, 2829, 3041)

§ 184.141 Additional requirements for pipelines. Where brandy is to be conveyed by pipeline to contiguous establishments as authorized by this part, a separate pipeline to each such establishment must be installed for the conveyance of the brandy: Provided, That the Commissioner may authorize the use of a single pipeline where proper manifold connections, affording adequate control of the brandy to each establishment, are provided in the pipeline. A pipeline must also be provided for loading or unloading tank cars, except as provided by § 184.568. Such pipelines may be connected only to the tanks to or from which transfer of brandy is authorized, except, where two or more tanks are used for the same purpose, manifold connections may be used. Manifold connections must be equipped with valves which may be secured with Government locks and so arranged as to permit complete control of brandy into or out of each tank. There shall be painted on each pipeline extending to and from a manifold a legend showing the kind and serial number of the tank or the type and registry number of the contiguous establishment with which the pipeline is connected. Where there are separate pipelines leading directly from a tank to a tank car loading zone or an establishment on the same or contiguous premises, a legend indicating the use of such pipeline or the type and registry number of the contiguous establishment shall be painted thereon. Pipelines so used shall be kept painted in the colors required by § 184.145.

§ 184.142 Preparation for sealing flanges. Where flanges and other detachable connections in the pipelines

(other than unions or valves) are not secured by welding or brazing, and are not to be secured by Government locks, they must be prepared by the distiller for sealing with "cap" seals by one of the following methods:

(a) By applying a "castle" nut with a hole drilled through the bolt, so the sealing wire may be passed through like a cotter pin, two such nuts being applied to each flange, opposite each other, unless the flange is secured with an uneven number of bolts, in which case three such nuts will be applied at approximately equal distances apart;

(b) By drilling a small hole through both nut and bolt, two such bolts and nuts being drilled for each flange, opposite each other, unless the flange is secured with an uneven number of bolts, in which case three such nuts will be applied at approximately equal distances apart; or

(c) By drilling a hole through the corner of the head of the bolt and one through the corner of the nut so the two will be sealed together, two such bolts and nuts being drilled for each flange, opposite each other, unless the flange is secured with an uneven number of bolts, in which case three such nuts will be applied at approximately equal distances apart.

(53 Stat. 316, 354; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 3041)

§ 184.143 Preparation for sealing unions. Where unions in the pipelines are not secured by welding or brazing, and are not to be secured by Government locks, they will be prepared for sealing by enclosing the same in a metal box with holes for the sealing wire.

(53 Stat. 316, 354; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 3041)

§ 184.144 Preparation for sealing valves. Where small gate and globe valves in the pipelines are not secured by welding or brazing, and are not to be secured by Government locks, they may be prepared for sealing by inclosing the packing nut and hood with a metal band or strap drawn tightly around the flange and fitted for reception of the sealing wire, or by drilling a hole in the packing nut so that sealing wire may be passed through and drawn around the pipe and sealed. Where valves have large flanges, such flanges may be sealed in the same manner as other flanges.

(53 Stat. 316, 354; 26 U. S. C. 2823, 3041)

§ 184.145 Colors for pipelines. The pipelines in the fruit distillery used for conveying the following substances shall be kept painted in the colors indicated:

Black	Brandy or other finished spirits.
Blue	Vapor, singlings, high wines and low wines, or other unfinished spirits.
Red	Fermented mash, wine, or other distilling material.
Gray	Must or other unfermented material.
Brown	Slop.
Yellow	Fusel oil.
White	Water.
Aluminum	Steam.
Orange	Air.
Olive green	Carbon dioxide gas.

These colors are intended for such pipelines only and are prescribed for the purpose of distinguishing such pipelines from each other and from all other pipelines on the premises which are painted but for which colors are not prescribed. The painting in one of the prescribed colors, or a color similar thereto, of a pipeline for which a color is not prescribed is prohibited. Pipelines for which colors are not prescribed may be painted in sections of contrasting colors.

(53 Stat. 315; 26 U. S. C. 2822)

§ 184.146 Sufficient equipment required. Whenever a fruit distiller desires to produce in his fruit distillery two or more kinds of brandy simultaneously, he must provide sufficient fermenters, distilling apparatus, receiving tanks, and other equipment to permit the production thereof without the commingling of dissimilar brandy.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2829)

§ 184.147 Hydrometers. Proprietors of distilleries will provide hydrometer sets for their own use in determining the proof of brandy.

§ 184.148 Details of construction and equipment. The Commissioner may approve details of construction and equipment in lieu of those prescribed where it is impracticable to conform to prescribed specifications and as much security will be afforded. Details not covered in this part must afford as much security as those prescribed. The Commissioner's approval should be first obtained where substitution is proposed or where the security of proposed construction and equipment not covered in this part is doubtful.

§ 184.149 Distilleries heretofore established. Fruit distilleries heretofore established may continue to operate if the present construction and equipment afford adequate security and protection to the revenue. The Commissioner or district supervisor may at any time require the distiller to make changes in construction and equipment conforming to the provisions of this part, if deemed necessary to safeguard the revenue or to permit more economical and efficient supervision by Government officers. All fruit distilleries hereafter established, and changes in existing fruit distilleries, must be in conformity with this part.

Subpart I—Qualifying Documents

§ 184.160 Notice, Form 27½. Every person engaged in the business of a fruit distiller, or intending to engage therein, or who wishes to continue in such business on and after the first day of May in each year, must give notice of such intention on Form 27½. This notice must be filed in triplicate with the district supervisor of the district in which the premises are located, before engaging in the business, and on May 1 of each year thereafter during continuance in such business. Except as provided in § 184.169, in the case of amended or supplemental notices, all of the information indicated by the lines of the form and the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto, and as required by the regulations in this part, shall be furnished. Notices on Form 27½ must be signed in accordance with the instructions printed on the form and sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths: Provided, That if the form officially prescribed for such notice contains therein a provision for verification by a written declaration that such notice is made under penalties of perjury, such notice shall be verified by the execution of such declaration, and such declaration so executed shall be in lieu of the oath required herein for verification. Such notices must be numbered serially, commencing with number 1 and continuing in regular sequence for all notices thereafter filed, whether annual, amended, or supplemental. All data, written statements, affidavits, and other documents submitted in support of the application shall be deemed to be a part thereof.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended, 63 Stat. 667; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170, 3809)

§ 184.161 Permit required. Under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and the regulations issued pursuant thereto (27 CFR, Part 1) any person except an agency of a State or political subdivision thereof, or any officer or employee of any such agency intending to engage in the business of producing brandy is required to procure a permit therefor. Application for such permit should be filed with the district supervisor, at the time of filing the original notice, Form 27½.

(49 Stat. 978; 27 U. S. C. 203)

§ 184.162 Description of premises. The lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated must be described on Form 27½ by courses and distances, in feet and inches, with the particularity required in conveyances of real estate. If the distillery premises consists of two or more lots or parcels, the condition of the title to which is not the same, the entire distillery premises shall be first described, followed by a separate description by courses and distances, in feet and inches, of each such lot or parcel. The continuity of the distillery premises must be unbroken, except that the premises may be divided by a public street or highway, if parts of the premises so divided abut on such street or highway opposite each other. The premises may be similarly divided by a railroad right of way, if the railroad is a common carrier. In such cases, each tract of land constituting the distillery premises shall be described separately on the form.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.163 Description of buildings and rooms. All buildings and rooms on the distillery premises shall be accurately described on Form 27½. The description shall include the designated name of the building or room, which shall be according to its use, such as distillery building, brandy deposit room, etc., the materials of which constructed, the dimensions thereof, the location of doors, windows, and other openings, and the manner in which they are secured and protected. Each floor of each building shall be described separately. If more than one building or room is used for the same purpose, the name shall include an alphabetical designation to distinguish them.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.164 Distilling capacity. The estimated maximum number of proof gallons of brandy that can be distilled in a day of 24 hours must also be stated in the space provided therefor on Form 27½. The estimated quantity of brandy that can be distilled daily will be based on the capacity of the stills and the use of a maximum strength distilling material. The capacity of the stills will be computed in accordance with the rules set forth in Subpart PP of this part.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.165 Daily production. The estimated maximum quantity of each kind of material that the distiller intends to distill in a day of 24 hours, and the estimated maximum quantity in proof gallons of brandy that will be produced from such materials, including spirits produced by redistillation pursuant to Subpart U of this part, in a like period, shall be stated on Form 27½. Where the distiller intends to distill different kinds of materials than those covered by Form 27½, or to distill a larger quantity of the specified materials than the maximum indicated on such form, or to produce a larger quantity of brandy than the maximum indicated on the form, he must file with the district supervisor an amended notice, Form 27½, in triplicate, and, if the tax on the quantity of brandy to be produced during a period of 15 days will exceed the penal sum of the distiller's bond (if such penal sum is less than the maximum of $100,000), a new or additional distiller's bond must be filed, as provided in § 184.219. Likewise where the quantity of brandy actually produced during any period of 15 days exceeds the estimated maximum quantity to be produced during such period, the distiller must file an amended notice, on Form 27½ and where required, a new or additional distiller's bond, in accordance with § 184.188.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

§ 184.166 Condition of title to premises. The condition of the title to the distillery premises shall be shown on Form 27½. If the distiller is not the owner in fee, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, or other lien, of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the name and address of the owner of the fee and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, or other person having a lien thereon, shall be stated. Where the written consent of the owner of the fee and of mortgagees, judgment-creditors, or other lienors, is filed as provided in §§ 184.170–184.172, or where an indemnity bond is filed in lieu of such written consent, as provided in §§ 184.176 and 184.177, such fact, together with information as to the kind, date, and amount of the encumbrance and the balance due thereon shall be shown on the notice in connection with the statement of the present condition of the title. In cases where an indemnity bond is filed, the date of the district supervisor's approval of the filing of such bond shall also be given.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 309, 311; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2812, 2815)

§ 184.167 Condition of title to apparatus and equipment. The distiller's title to, or interest in, the distilling apparatus and equipment shall be shown on Form 27½. If the distiller is not the owner of the distilling apparatus and equipment, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, or other lien, the name and address of the owner and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, conditional sales vendor, or other lienor shall be stated. Where the written consent of the owner and of the mortgagees, judgment-creditors, conditional sales vendors, or other lienors, is filed as provided in § 184.170, or where an indemnity bond is filed in lieu of such written consent, as provided in §§ 184.176 and 184.177, such fact, together with information as to the kind, date, and amount of the encumbrance and the balance due thereon, or if the apparatus was purchased under a conditional sales contract, or other form of title retaining contract, the purchase price and the balance due, shall be shown in connection with the statement of the distiller's title to or interest in the property. In cases where an indemnity bond is filed, the date of the district supervisor's approval of the filing of such bond shall also be given.

§ 184.168 Distance from rectifying plant or vinegar factory. If the distillery premises are situated more than 600 feet in a direct line from any premises authorized to be used for rectifying spirits, or from a vinegar factory using the vaporizing process, such fact shall be stated on Form 27½. If the distance between the distillery premises and the premises of a rectifying plant is less than 600 feet in a direct line, there must be stated in the notice, Form 27½, the name of the proprietor of the rectifying plant, the exact distance in feet and inches between the distillery and the rectifying plant, and whether the location of the distillery within such distance of the rectifying plant has been approved by the district supervisor. If such location of the distillery has been approved by the district supervisor, the date of such approval shall be given. If the distance between the distillery premises and a vinegar factory using the vaporizing process is less than 600 feet in a direct line, such fact, and the date of the establishment of the vinegar factory shall be stated on the form.

§ 184.169 Amended and supplemental notices. Amended and supplemental notices on Form 27½ may be executed in skeleton form, except as to the items amended or supplemented. All other items which are correctly set forth in prior notices, and in which there has been no change since the last preceding notice, may be incorporated in the amended or supplemental notice by reference to the respective notice previously filed in which the item is fully and correctly set forth. Such incorporation by reference shall be made by entering for each such item in the space provided therefor the statement "No change since filing Form 27½, Serial No. ----------" (the number being inserted), and the date of such form.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.170 Consent, Form 1602. Where the distiller is not the owner in fee of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or is not the owner of the distilling apparatus and equipment, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, he must file (except as provided in § 184.173) the written consent, Form 1602, of the owner and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, or other encumbrancer, conditional sales vendor, or prior lessee, that the premises or property may be used for the purpose of distilling spirits, subject to the provisions of law, and expressly stipulating that the lien of the United States for taxes and penalties shall have priority over any right, title, or interest of the person giving the consent, and that, in the case of the forfeiture of the premises or property, or any part thereof, the title to the same shall vest in the United States, discharged from any such right, title or interest.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.171 Execution of consent. The consent shall be executed on Form 1602, in triplicate, in accordance with the instructions printed thereon, duly acknowledged before an officer authorized to take acknowledgement of deeds, properly recorded, and submitted to the district supervisor with the notice, Form 27½, and made a part thereof. The acknowledgment and certificate of recordation shall be executed on all three copies of the form.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.172 New consent when required. A new consent will be required for each year beginning on the first day of May, unless the consent is given for a definite period of time exceeding one year, in which event the consent should be given in terms to expire at the beginning of an annual period, May 1. If, after such consent is filed, the premises are extended and the distiller is not the owner in fee unencumbered of the additional premises, or additional apparatus and equipment are installed and the distiller is not the owner thereof unencumbered, a consent on Form 1602 must be filed for such additional premises or apparatus and equipment. A new consent will also be required whenever there is a change of proprietorship, including a succession for a temporary period by a lessee or fiduciary, unless the consent procured by the predecessor specifically covers operation of the premises by his successor or assigns. In the event of failure of such consent, the distiller will be no longer qualified, unless an indemnity bond on Form 3–A is filed.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.173 Bond in lieu of consent. Where consent on Form 1602 cannot be obtained or where the distillery was sold at a judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, and there exists a right of redemption from such sale, the distiller may file in lieu of such consent, an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, as provided in § 184.174.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.174 Permission required for filing bond, Form 3–A. Where the distiller cannot obtain the written consent of the owner of the fee of the distillery premises, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, prior lessee, or other person having an encumbrance thereon, or where he cannot obtain such consent of the owner of the apparatus and equipment, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, conditional sales vendor, lienor, prior lessee, or other encumbrancer, and desires to file an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu of such consent, he shall file application, in triplicate, with the district supervisor for permission so to do.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.175 Application. The application shall contain (a) an accurate description of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, and of the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus and equipment thereon; (b) a full and clear statement of the condition of the title to the distillery premises and apparatus and equipment, including the name and address of the owner and of all mortgagees, judgment-creditors, conditional sales vendors, prior lessees, and other persons having liens or encumbrances thereon, the kind, date, and amount of each encumbrance and the balance due thereon, and, in the case of apparatus and equipment purchased under a conditional sales contract, or other form of title retaining contract, the purchase price and the balance due; and (c) a full and clear statement of the reasons why the applicant cannot obtain the prescribed written consent. The district supervisor will take action on such application in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184 328.

§ 184.176 Bond, Form 3–A. If the application is approved, the distiller shall execute bond on Form 3–A, in triplicate, in conformity with the applicable provisions of §§ 184.200–184.220, and file the same with the district supervisor. The penal sum of the bond shall be equal to the appraised value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus. If, after such bond is filed, the value of the distillery premises, buildings or distilling apparatus is increased by additional land, buildings, or distilling apparatus, an additional bond on such form to cover the increase in value will be required: Provided, That if such increase in value is less than $5,000, no additional bond will be required. In the event of a failure of bond on Form 3–A the distiller will be no longer qualified, unless a new and satisfactory bond is filed.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.177 Bond in lieu of consent where distillery is sold for United States. Where a distillery is sold at a judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, the distiller may give bond on Form 3–A in lieu of the consent of the person possessing the right of redemption and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, prior lessee, or other encumbrancer, and be allowed, upon complying with all other provisions of law and this part, to operate the distillery during the existence of the right of redemption from such sale. A distiller desiring to give bond in such case shall file application, in triplicate, with the district supervisor for permission so to do. The application shall contain a full and clear statement of the condition of the title, including the name and address of the person having the right of redemption and of all encumbrancers, the kind, date, and amount of each encumbrance, the date of the sale and the date of expiration of the right of redemption. The penal sum of the bond shall be equal to the appraised value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, together with the buildings and distillery apparatus. If, after such bond is filed, the value of the distillery premises, buildings or distilling apparatus is increased by additional land, buildings or distilling apparatus, an additional bond on such form to cover the increase in value will be required: Provided, That if such increase in value is less than $5,000, no additional bond will be required.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.178 Appraisal. The appraisal to determine the penal sum of the bond on Form 3–A shall be made by two or more competent persons designated by the district supervisor. The appraisers shall render to the district supervisor a report, in duplicate, showing separately the value of the land and buildings and the distilling apparatus, and containing a full and clear statement of the methods employed by them in determining their valuations. The appraisal shall be at the expense of the distiller, unless it is made by Government officers.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.179 Certificate of title. The distiller shall submit a certificate and, when required, an abstract, in triplicate, of the title to the distillery premises, prepared by a person authorized by the laws of the State in which the distillery is located to prepare such documents. The document must contain an accurate description of the distillery premises corresponding to that set forth in the distiller's notice, and any liens or other encumbrances on the property must be fully described. Such certificates shall accompany the distiller's notice and be made a part thereof.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 311; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2815)

§ 184.180 Corporate documents. There must be submitted with, and made a part of, the original or initial notice on Form 27½, given by a corporation to engage in the business of a fruit distiller, properly certified copies, in triplicate, of the following documents:

(a) Articles of incorporation and any amended articles of incorporation.

(b) Certificate of incorporation.

(c) Certificate authorizing corporation to operate in State where distillery is located, if other than that in which incorporated.

(d) Extracts of minutes of meetings of stockholders, showing election of directors.

(e) By-laws.

(f) Extracts of the minutes of meetings of the board of directors, showing the election of officers.

(g) Extracts of the minutes of meetings of the board of directors, authorizing certain officers or other persons to sign for the corporation.

(h) List of the names and addresses of the officers and directors.

(i) List of stockholders, as provided in § 184.181.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.181 List of stockholders. In the case of corporations and similar legal entities, there must be submitted with Form 27½, at the commencement of business and annually thereafter on May 1, a list of the names and addresses of all stockholders and other persons interested in the corporation or other legal entity and the amount and nature of the stock-holding or other interest of each, whether such interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for him: Provided, That where more than 100 persons are interested in the corporation or other legal entity as stockholders or otherwise, there need be furnished only the names and addresses and the amounts and nature of the stock-holding or other interest of the 100 persons having the largest ownership or other interest in each of the respective classes of stock or other interest, except where more complete information shall be specifically required by the Commissioner or the district supervisor: And provided further, That where there has been no change in the stockholders and other persons interested in the corporation or other legal entity, the distiller may furnish, in connection with the annual notice, a certified statement, in triplicate, to that effect in lieu of the prescribed list. Where a corporation operates two or more distilleries or other plants situated in the same supervisory district, or wholly owns one or more subsidiaries operating distilleries or other plants so situated, and in connection with qualifying for the operation of one of such distilleries or plants files a list of stockholders and other persons interested, as prescribed herein, the filing of an additional list for each distillery will not be required, provided that in lieu of such additional list there is submitted with the distiller's notice, Form 27½, a certificate, in triplicate, definitely identifying the corporation and plant with whose notice the list of stockholders and other persons interested is filed, and giving the date of the filing thereof.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.182 Affidavit. In the case of a corporation, there must be submitted with each list of stockholders an affidavit, in triplicate, executed by an officer of the corporation authorized so to do, showing the number of shares of each class of stock or other evidence of ownership, such as voting trust certificates, authorized and outstanding, the par value thereof, and the voting rights of the respective owners or holders, and certifying to the correctness of the list of stockholders or the statement authorized to be furnished with the notice in lieu of such list. In the case of an individual owner, copartnership, or association, there must be submitted with Form 27½, at the commencement of business and annually thereafter on May 1, an affidavit, in triplicate, giving the name of every person interested or to be interested in the distillery, whether such interest appears in the name of the interested party or in the name of another for him.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.183 Articles of copartnership or association. In the case of a copartnership or association, a certified copy, in triplicate, of the articles of copartnership or association, if any, and, where the business is to be conducted under a firm or trade name, a trade name certificate or statement in lieu thereof conforming to provisions of § 184.258, shall be submitted with and constitute a part of the notice, Form 27½.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.184 Power of attorney, Form 1534. If the notice or other qualifying documents are signed by an attorney in fact for an individual, partnership, association, or corporation, or by one of the members for a copartnership or association, or, in the case of a corporation, by an officer or other person not authorized to sign by the corporate documents described in § 184.180, such notice or other qualifying documents must be supported by a duly authenticated copy of the power of attorney conferring authority upon the person signing the document to execute the same. Such powers of attorney will be executed on Form 1534, in triplicate, and submitted to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.185 Execution of power of attorney. Where the principal giving the power of attorney is an individual, it must be executed by him in person, and not by an agent. In the case of a copartnership or association, powers of attorney authorizing one or more of the members, or another person, to execute documents on behalf of the copartnership or association must be executed by all of the members constituting the copartnership or association. However, if one or more members less than the whole number constituting the copartnership or association have been delegated the authority to appoint agents or attorneys in fact, the power of attorney may be executed by such member or members, provided it is supported by a duly authenticated copy, in triplicate, of the document conferring authority upon the member or members to execute the same. Where, in the case of a corporation, powers of attorney are executed by an officer thereof, such documents must be supported by triplicate copies of the authorization of such officer so to do, certified by the secretary or assistant secretary of the corporation, under the corporate seal, if any, to be true copies.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.186 Duration of power of attorney. Powers of attorney authorizing the execution of documents on behalf of a person engaged in, or intending to engage in, the business of a fruit distiller shall continue in effect until written notice, in triplicate, of the revocation of such authority is received by the district supervisor, unless terminated by operation of law.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.187 Bond, Form 30½. Every person intending to commence or to continue the business of a fruit distiller shall, upon filing his notice of such intention, Form 27½, and before proceeding with such business, and on the 1st day of May of each succeeding year, execute bond on Form 30½, in triplicate, in conformity with the provisions of Subpart J of this part, and file the same with the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 310, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 3170)

§ 184.188 Penal sum. The penal sum of the distiller's bond, Form 30½, shall be not less than the amount of the internal revenue tax at the rate prescribed by law on the maximum quantity of brandy that will be distilled in the distillery during a period of 15 days of 24 hours each, but in no case shall the penal sum of the bond be less than $5,000 or greater than $100,000. Where the distiller has not furnished bond in the maximum penal sum of $100,000 and he intends to produce a larger quantity of brandy than that covered by his bond, he must file a new or additional bond in a sufficient penal sum to cover the tax on the increased quantity to be produced. Likewise, where the quantity of brandy actually produced during any period of 15 days exceeds the penal sum of the bond on file, if in less than the maximum penal sum, the distiller must furnish immediately a new or additional bond in a sufficient penal sum, effective as of the beginning of such period. If an additional bond is furnished in either case, it must be in accordance with § 184.219.

(53 Stat. 310; 26 U. S. C. 2814)

§ 184.189 Registry of stills, Form 26. Every person having in his possession or custody, or under his control, any still or distilling apparatus set up must register the same with the district supervisor for the district in which it is located, on Form 26, immediately it is set up, in accordance with the instructions on the form. Such registration shall be verified in the manner prescribed in § 184.160 with respect to notice on Form 27½.

(53 Stat. 308 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2810, 3170)

§ 184.190 Plat and plans. Every person intending to engage in the business of a fruit distiller must submit to the district supervisor with his notice, Form 27½, an accurate plat of the distillery premises and accurate plans of the buildings, apparatus, and equipment thereon, in triplicate, conforming to the requirements of Subpart K of this part.

(53 Stat. 312, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2816, 3170)

§ 184.191 Statement of process. There must be submitted to the district supervisor with the fruit distiller's original notice, Form 27½, a statement of process, in triplicate. Upon any change in the process, a new statement, in triplicate, must be filed with the district supervisor. Reference by date to the current statement of process must be incorporated in each annual notice, Form 27½. The statement of process should present a step by step description of the mashing, fermenting, distilling, purifying and refining processes used in the production of each type of brandy. It must show specifically the kind and approximate quantity or proportion of all nonalcohol producing materials or substances added to the distilling material for the purpose of providing yeast food or for inhibiting the action of wild yeast, or for any other purpose, and all materials used for purifying, refining or otherwise treating the spirits. Samples of any such material or substance will be prepared and furnished to the district supervisor, upon request, for analysis by Government chemists. Materials or chemicals which are volatile and would remain incorporated with the finished brandy after final distillation may not be used.

§ 184.192 Additional information. The Commissioner or the district supervisor may at any time, in his discretion, require the proprietor of a fruit distillery to furnish such additional information as he may deem necessary.

§ 184.193 Instruments and papers made part of regulations. The terms, conditions, and instructions contained in instruments and papers required to be furnished by law or regulations are hereby made a part of this part as fully and to the same extent as if incorporated herein.

Subpart J—Bonds and Consents of Surety

§ 184.200 General requirements. Every person required to file a bond or consent of surety under this part shall prepare and execute it on the prescribed form, in triplicate, in accordance with this part and the instructions printed on the form, and shall submit it to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888, 3170)

§ 184.201 Surety or security. Bonds required by this part shall be given with surety or collateral security: Provided, That in any case where the distiller operates an internal revenue bonded warehouse on the distillery premises, and the distiller's bond, Form 30½, is in the maximum penal sum of $100,000, it may be accepted without surety if it is supported by the consent of the surety on the transportation and warehousing bond, Form 1571, which bond in such case shall be in the maximum penal sum of $200,000. If bonds on Forms 30½ and 1571 in the maximum penal sums stated are not given, separate bonds on said forms, each with surety or security, must be given in sufficient penal sums.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888, 3170; 44 Stat. 122 as amended (6 U. S. C. 15))

§ 184.202 Corporate surety. Bonds may be given with corporate surety authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury to become surety on Federal bonds, subject to the limitations prescribed by the Secretary in Treasury Department Form 356, Commissioner of Accounts, Section of Surety Bonds, which is issued semiannually, and subject to such amendatory circulars as may be issued from time to time.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888, 3170; 28 Stat. 279 (6 U. S. C. 6); 36 Stat. 241 (6 U. S. C. 8))

§ 184.203 Two or more corporate surcties. A bond executed by two or more corporate sureties shall be the joint and several liability of the principal and the sureties: Provided, That each corporate surety may limit its liability in terms upon the face of the bond in a definite, specified amount, which amount shall not exceed the limitations prescribed for such corporate surety by the Secretary, as set forth in Treasury Department Form 356. When the sureties so limit their liability, the aggregate of such limited liabilities must equal the required penal sum of the bond.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888, 3170; 28 Stat. 279 (6 U. S. C. 6); 36 Stat. 241 (6 U. S. C. 8))

§ 184.204 Powers of attorney. Powers of attorney and other evidence of appointment of agents and officers to execute bonds on behalf of corporate sureties are required to be filed with, and passed upon by, the Commissioner of Accounts, Section of Surety Bonds, Treasury Department. Such powers and other evidence of appointment need not be filed with, or submitted to, district supervisors.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888, 3170; 28 Stat. 279 (6 U. S. C. 6); 36 Stat. 241 (6 U. S. C. 8))

§ 184.205 Individual sureties. Bonds may be given with individual sureties, of which there must be not less than two, each of whom must qualify by executing Form 33, in triplicate. Individual sureties must be citizens of the United States and reside in the State in which the business of the principal is to be conducted. No person will be accepted as an individual surety in a State in which he is not authorized to become a surety.

§ 184.206 Ownership of real property. Each individual surety must own unencumbered real property, in fee simple, the appraised value of which, over and above any exemptions from execution allowed by the laws of the State, is equal to the penal sum of the bond. Such real property must be located within the State where the business of the principal is to be conducted.

§ 184.207 Description of real property. The real property must be described in the surety's affidavit, Form 33, with all of the formalties required in conveyances of real estate by the laws of the State in which it is situated.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888)

§ 184.208 Execution of Form 33. The surety's affidavit on Form 33 shall contain all of the information required by this part and the instructions printed on the form. The form shall be subscribed and sworn to before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths, and one copy thereof shall be attached to each copy of the bond to which it relates.

§ 184.209 Certificate of title. There must be submitted with the surety's affidavit, Form 33, a certificate of title, in triplicate, showing that the surety has a fee simple title, free of encumbrances, to the realty described in the form.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888)

§ 184.210 Appraisal. There will also be submitted with Form 33 an appraisal, in triplicate, by two or more competent persons designated by the district supervisor for the purpose, showing separately the value of the land and buildings, and a full and clear statement of the method employed by them in determining their valuation. The appraisal shall be at the expense of the principal on the bond, unless it is made by Government officers.

§ 184.211 Investigation. The district supervisor will cause an investigation to be made of all the facts stated in the surety's affidavit on Form 33 and supporting documents.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888)

§ 184.212 Requalification. The Commissioner or district supervisor may at any time, in his discretion, require the requalification of individual sureties on Form 33.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888)

§ 184.213 Interest in business. The surety, whether individual or corporate, must have no interest whatever in the business covered by the bond.

(53 Stat. 310, 336, 337, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2885, 2886, 2888)

§ 184.214 Deposit of collateral. Bonds or notes of the United States, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, may be pledged and deposited by principals as collateral security in lieu of individual or corporate sureties. District supervisors on receiving such bonds or notes, or other obligations, pledged and deposited by principals as collateral security in lieu of surety, shall deposit such securities, in accordance with the requirements of Department Circular No. 154, revised (31 CFR, Part 225).

(44 Stat. 122 as amended; 6 U. S. C., 15)

§ 184.215 Consents of surety. Consents of surety to a change in the terms of a bond must be executed on Form 1533, in as many copies as are required of the bond which they affect, by the principal and all sureties with the same formality and proof of authority to execute as are required for the execution of bonds. Form 1533 will be used by obligors on collateral bonds as well as those on surety bonds. The Form 1533 must properly identify the bond affected thereby and state specifically and precisely what is covered by the extended terms thereof. If the surety is a corporation, the consent may be executed by an agent or attorney in fact duly authorized so to do by power of attorney filed by the surety with the appropriate district supervisor; or the consent may be executed by the home office officials of such corporate surety; except that, in cases where the saving of time is an element, the consent may be executed by an agent or attorney in fact where the home office officials, by specific direction, order its execution. A copy of such specific direction should be attached to each copy of such consent.

§ 184.216 Approval required. No individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, intending to commence or to continue the business of a fruit distiller, shall commence or continue such business until all bonds in respect of such business required by any provision of law have been approved.

(53 Stat. 311; 26 U. S. C. 2815)

§ 184.217 Authority to approve. District supervisors are authorized to approve all bonds and consents of surety required by this part.

(53 Stat. 310, 311, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2815, 3170)

§ 184.218 Cause for disapproval. Bonds or consents of surety submitted by any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, in respect to the business of a fruit distiller may be disapproved if the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same, or owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of such business of the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association giving the same, shall have been previously convicted in a court of competent jurisdiction of (a) any fraudulent noncompliance with any provision of any law of the United States, if such provision relates to internal revenue or customs taxation of distilled spirits, wines, or fermented malt liquors, or if such an offense shall have been compromised with the individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association upon payment of penalties or otherwise; or (b) any felony under a law of any State, Territory, or the District of Columbia, or the United States, prohibiting the manufacture, sale, importation, or transportation of distilled spirits, wine, fermented malt liquor, or other intoxicating liquor. The fruit distiller's bond, Form 30½, may also be disapproved if the situation of the distillery is such as would enable the distiller to defraud the United States.

(53 Stat. 310, 311; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2815)

§ 184.219 Additional or strengthening bonds. In all cases where the penal sum of the bond on file and in effect is not sufficient, computed as prescribed by law and this part, the principal may give an additional or strengthening bond in a sufficient penal sum, provided the surety thereon is the same as on the bond already on file and in effect; otherwise a new bond covering the entire liability will be required. Such additional or strengthening bonds, being filed to increase the bond liability of the principal and the surety, are in no sense substitute bonds, and the district supervisor will refuse to approve any additional or strengthening bond where any notation is made thereon intended, or which may be construed, as a release of any former bond, or as limiting the amount of either bond to less than its full penal sum. Additional or strengthening bonds must show the current date of execution and the effective date in the blank spaces provided therefor. Such bonds must have marked thereon, by the obligors at the time of execution, "Additional Bond," or "Strengthening Bond."

§ 184.220 New bond. A new bond may be required at any time in the discretion of the Commissioner or district supervisor. A new bond shall be required immediately in the case of the death, or insolvency of an individual surety, or the insolvency of a corporate surety. Executors, administrators, assignees, receivers, trustees, or other persons acting in a fiduciary capacity, continuing or liquidating the business of the principal, must execute and file a new bond or obtain the consent of the surety or sureties on the existing bond or bonds. When, in the opinion of the Commissioner or the district supervisor, the interests of the Government demand it, or in any case where the security of the bond becomes impaired in whole or in part for any reason whatever, the principal will be required to give a new bond. Where a bond is found to be not acceptable, the principal shall be required to file immediately a new and satisfactory bond, or discontinue business forthwith.

§ 184.221 Superseding bond. Where a new bond is submitted by the principal to supersede a bond or bonds then in effect, and such superseding bond has been approved, notice of termination of the superseded bond may be issued as provided in Subpart Q of this part. Superseding bonds must show the current date of execution and the date they are to be effective and each such bond shall have marked thereon, by the obligors at the time of execution, "Superseding Bond."

Subpart K—Plats and Plans

§ 184.230 Plat and plans required. Every person intending to engage in the business of a fruit distiller must, as provided in § 184.190, file an accurate plat and accurate plans of the distillery premises, apparatus, and equipment, in triplicate, with the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 312, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2816, 3170)

§ 184.231 Preparation. Every plat and plan shall be drawn to scale and each sheet thereof shall bear a distinctive title, enabling ready identification. The cardinal points of the compass must appear on each sheet, except the elevational plans. The minimum scale of any plat will not be less than 1/50 inch per foot. Each sheet of the original plat and plans shall be numbered, the first sheet being designated number 1, and the other sheets numbered in consecutive order. Plats and plans shall be submitted on sheets of tracing cloth, opaque cloth, or sensitized linen. The dimensions of plats and plans shall be 15 by 20 inches, outside measurement, with a clear margin of at least 1 inch on each side of the drawing, lettering or writing. Plats and plans may be original drawings, or reproductions made by the "ditto process," or by blue or brown line lithoprint, if such reproductions are clear and distinct.

(53 Stat. 312; 26 U. S. C. 2816)

§ 184.232 Depiction of distillery premises. Plats must show the outer boundaries of the distillery premises by courses and distances, in feet and inches, in a color contrasting with those used for other drawings on the plat, and the point of beginning, with respect to its distance and bearings, from some near and well-known landmark, and must contain an accurate depiction of the building or buildings comprising the premises, and any driveway, public highway, or railroad right-of-way adjacent thereto, or connecting therewith. The depiction of the premises shall agree with the description in the notice, Form 27½. If the distillery premises consists of two or more lots or parcels of land, the condition of the title to which is not the same, each such lot or tract shall be separately depicted by courses and distances, in feet and inches, and such lots or parcels shall be delineated or crosshatched in contrasting colors. If two or more buildings are to be used, the designated name of each shall be indicated, and all pipelines or other connections, if any, between the same, depicted. Where two or more buildings are used for the same purpose, the name of each building shall include an alphabetical designation, beginning with "A", and they shall be so shown on the plat. All first floor exterior doors of each building on the premises will be shown on the plat. Except as provided in § 184.239, all pipelines leading to or from the premises, the purpose for which used, and the points of origin and termination will be indicated on the plat.

(53 Stat. 312; 26 U. S. C. 2816)

§ 184.233 Rectifying plant within 600 feet. Where a fruit distillery is to be established on premises at a distance of less than 600 feet in a direct line from a rectifying plant, the plat must show the relative location of such premises, all pipelines and other connections, if any, between them, and the distance, in feet and inches, that they are from each other in a direct line. The outlines of the two premises must be shown in contrasting colors.

(53 Stat. 314; 26 U. S. C. 2819)

§ 184.234 Contiguous premises. Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse, bonded winery, rectifying plant, or tax-paid bottling house, or other premises on which liquors are manufactured, stored, or sold, is contiguous to the distillery premises the plat must show the relative location of the distillery and such contiguous premises, and all pipelines, if any, and other connections between them. The outlines of such contiguous premises and the distillery premises must also be shown in contrasting colors.

§ 184.235 Floor plans. The plans shall include a floor plan of each floor of each building, showing the general dimensions of the rooms and floors, and the location of all doors, windows, and other openings, and how such openings are protected. All fixed apparatus and equipment, except pipelines, must be shown in their exact location on the floor plans, and their designated use indicated. Pipelines may also be shown, if desired. In the case of stills, tanks, and similar equipment, the serial number and capacity shall also be shown.

§ 184.236 Elevational flow diagrams. Elevational flow diagrams (plans) shall be submitted covering: (a) Distilling material system, (b) mashing and fermenting systems, (c) distilling system, and (d) the receiving tank and brandy deposit room system. Such diagrams or plans shall clearly depict all equipment in its relative operating sequence, and elevation by floors with all connecting pipelines, valves, flanges (except as provided in § 184.238), Government locks, measuring devices, etc. The elevation by floors on the diagrams may be indicated by horizontal lines representing floor levels. All the flow diagrams as a unit must show the flow of the distilling material and the resulting products, through the distilling material tanks, fermenters, sumps, stills, doublers, try boxes, and other equipment, and the deposit and removal of the finished brandy from the receiving tanks and the brandy deposit room, if any. All major equipment, fermenters, stills, etc., must be identified on these plans as to number and use. The elevational flow diagrams must be properly identified, and so drawn that all fixed pipelines, except those indicated by § 184.239 may be readily traced from beginning to end: Provided, That pipelines leading to and from other buildings on the same or contiguous premises may be designated as to point of origin or termination. The direction of the flow of the brandy through the pipelines must be indicated on the flow diagram by arrows. Other types of plans that clearly depict the information required herein may be submitted in compliance with this section.

§ 184.237 Pipelines in colors. The pipelines must be shown on the plans in the colors in which they are required to be painted, as prescribed by § 184.145.

§ 184.238 Location of valves, flanges, locks, etc. All valves, flanges, and other connections in pipelines must be properly indicated on the plans: Provided, That where flanges, unions, or other connections in pipelines are brazed, welded, or otherwise permanently secured in such a manner as to constitute a continuous, single pipeline, the location of such flanges, unions, or other connections, and the manner of securing the same, need not be shown on the plans. The location of all Government locks required to secure the apparatus and equipment, and the doors of rooms and buildings, must be indicated on the plans by the symbol "GL" at the points where the locks are to be attached.

(53 Stat. 312; 26 U. S. C. 2816)

§ 184.239 Pipelines exempted. Approved public or private utility service lines, such as sewers, electric or gas conduits or pipes, and approved sprinkler, refrigeration, or heating systems which have no connection with the distilling equipment or any apparatus or pipe line connected therewith, need not be shown on the plans, provided that the point of entry to the bonded premises shall be indicated on the plans.

(53 Stat. 312; 26 U. S. C. 2816)

§ 184.240 Certificate of accuracy. The plat and plans shall bear a certificate of accuracy in the lower righthand corner of each sheet, signed by the distiller, the draftsman, and the district supervisor, substantially in the following form.

(Name of distiller)

(Address)

Approved ---
(Date)

(District supervisor)

(Name and capacity—for the distiller)

(Draftsman)

---- 19---- Sheet No. ----
(Date)

(53 Stat. 312; 26 U. S. C. 2816)

§ 184.241 Revised plats and plans. The sheets of revised plats and plans shall bear the same number as the sheets superseded, but will be given a new date. Any additional plats and plans shall be given a new number in consecutive order, or will be otherwise numbered and lettered in such manner as will permit the filing of the plats and plans in proper sequence.

(53 Stat. 312; 26 U. S. C. 2816)

SUBPART L—REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING CHANGES IN NAME, PROPRIETORSHIP, CONTROL, LOCATION, PREMISES AND EQUIPMENT, AND IN THE TITLE TO THE DISTILLERY PROPERTY OR THE ENCUMBRANCE THEREOF

§ 184.250 General requirement. Under the law, notice in writing must be given, in the form prescribed by the Commissioner, to the district supervisor in case of any change in the location, form, capacity, ownership, agency, superintendency, or in the persons interested in the business of the distillery.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

CHANGE IN INDIVIDUAL, FIRM, OR CORPORATE NAME

§ 184.251 Amended notice, Form 27½, and amended basic permit. Where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name of the distiller, the distiller must submit to the district supervisor an amended notice on Form 27½, in triplicate, covering the new name, which notice must be approved before operations may be commenced under the new name. He must also procure from the district supervisor under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act an amended basic permit authorizing operation of the distillery under the new name.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

§ 184.252 Amended articles of incorporation, etc. Where there is a change in the corporate name of the distiller, he must submit to the district supervisor certified copies, in triplicate, of the amended articles of incorporation and the amended certificate of incorporation issued under the laws of the State in which incorporated, covering the change in the corporate name. If the operations are conducted in a State other than the State in which incorporated, there must also be submitted to the district supervisor certified copies, in triplicate, of the amended certificate issued under the laws of the State in which the operations are conducted authorizing the corporation to operate under its new name in such State. If other documents than those specified are required under the laws of the State to effect a change in the name of the corporation, certified copies, in triplicate, of such documents must be submitted with the notice, Form 27½, in lieu of those specified.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

§ 184.253 Amended articles of copartnership or association. Where there is a change in the name of the copartnership or association, the distiller will submit to the district supervisor certified copies, in triplicate, of the amended articles of copartnership or association, if any.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

§ 184.254 Sign. Where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name, the distiller will change the distillery sign to conform to the provisions of § 184.105.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2831)

§ 184.255 Branding and warehousing. Where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name, the distiller will, upon receipt of the district supervisor's authorization, as provided in § 184.337, mark and brand and warehouse under such new name the finished brandy produced thereunder.

(53 Stat. 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 3170)

§ 184.256 Records. Where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name, the distiller will keep records and submit reports covering operations under the new name, as provided in § 184.718, in the case of operations under different trade names and styles.

(53 Stat. 321, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2841, 3170)

TRADE NAMES

§ 184.257 Basic qualification required. Where the distillery is to be operated under a trade name or style or under a number of trade names or styles, the distiller must file with the district supervisor, a letterhead application for approval of such name or names. The district supervisor will forward such application to the Bureau for action by the Commissioner. If the Commissioner finds that the name or names may be used, he will so advise the district supervisor. The distiller will be advised accordingly. He may then file with the district supervisor an amended Form 27½ as provided in § 184.169 for permission to operate under the trade name (only one) specifying the date operations are to begin, and if the additional name or style has not previously been specified in the Federal Alcohol Administration Act Permit, he must also procure from the district supervisor an amended basic permit. The district supervisor's action will be in accordance with § 184.337.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

§ 184.258 Trade names certificate; amended articles of incorporation. It will be the responsibility of the distiller to comply with all state laws by filing certified copies of trade names and amended articles of incorporation where required. If no such certificate, or amended articles of incorporation are required, the distiller will furnish a statement to that effect.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

§ 184.259 Sign. The distillery sign must be changed to conform to the provisions of § 184.105, unless operation under the trade name is to be temporary, in which event, it will not be necessary to change such sign.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2831)

§ 184.260 Branding and warehousing. The finished brandy must be branded and warehoused under each trade name in which produced as provided in § 184.717.

(53 Stat. 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 3170)

§ 184.261 Records. Appropriate entries must be made in the distillery records covering operations under each trade name as provided in § 184.718.

(53 Stat. 321, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2841, 3170)

§ 184.262 Period of operations. Where the distillery is operated under more than one trade name or style, the operation under each must be in multiples of 24 hours.

§ 184.263 Subsequent operations. The basic qualifying documents having once been filed by the distiller and approved by the district supervisor, the distiller will qualify for subsequent operations, that is, changing from one trade name to another trade name, or from a trade name to the principal, or vice versa, in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.308.

CHANGES IN PROPRIETORSHIP

§ 184.264 Requirements for transfer. Where there is to be a change in the proprietorship of the distillery, the outgoing distiller must, preparatory to transfer of the business to the successor, comply with the requirements of §§ 184.265 to 184.270.

§ 184.265 Notice, Form 27½. If the outgoing distiller is to discontinue permanently the business of distilling brandy, he will file with the district supervisor Form 27½, in triplicate, stating thereon the purpose to be "Discontinuance of business," and giving the date of the discontinuance. If the outgoing distiller is to temporarily discontinue the business of distilling during operation of the distillery by the successor, the statement of the purpose on the notice shall conform to the provisions of § 184.305 (a).

§ 184.266 Registry of stills. If the business is to be permanently discontinued, the distiller will file Form 26, in triplicate, in accordance with § 184.710.

(53 Stat. 308 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2810, 3170)

§ 184.267 Notice of suspension. The distiller will file with the district supervisor Form 124, in duplicate, in accordance with § 184.695.

(53 Stat. 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2850, 3170)

§ 184.268 Finished brandy. The distiller will draw off, brand and mark, and remove all finished brandy in the individual, firm, or corporate name, or trade name or style, under which they were produced.

(53 Stat. 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 3170)

§ 184.269 Materials and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials and unfinished brandy are to be transferred to the successor, the distiller will file with the district supervisor Form 1614, in quadruplicate, in accordance with §§ 184.745 and 184.746. If the unfinished brandy and distilling materials are not to be so transferred, the distiller will completely finish operations in accordance with the provisions of said sections.

(53 Stat. 324, 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2850, 2878, 3170)

§ 184.270 Records. The distiller will make appropriate entries in the distillery records and submit reports in accordance with the provisions of § 184.748.

(53 Stat. 321, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2841, 3170)

§ 184.271 Qualification of successor. Where there is a change in proprietorship, and the successor intends to continue operation of the plant as a fruit distillery, he must comply with the requirements of §§ 184.272 to 184.278.

184.272 Lessee. If the successor is a lessee, he must qualify in the same manner as the proprietor of a new distillery, regardless of the temporary nature of the tenancy, except that he may adopt the plat and plans of his predecessor as provided in § 184.276. The lessee must also file with the district supervisor certified copies in triplicate of the lease.

184.273 Other non-fiduciary successor. If the change in proprietorship is brought about by any other means, except by the appointment of an administrator, executor, receiver, trustee, assignee, or other fiduciary, the successor must likewise qualify in the same manner as the proprietor of a new distillery except that he may adopt the plat and plans of his predecessor as provided in § 184.276.

§ 184.274 Fiduciary. If the successor is an administrator, executor, receiver, trustee, assignee, or other fiduciary, and intends to produce brandy, or to possess or dispose of brandy on hand in the distillery, he must comply with the provisions of Subparts D and I of this part to the extent that such provisions are applicable, except that in lieu of filing a new bond and new plat and plans, the fiduciary may furnish a consent of surety extending the terms of his predecessor's bond and adopt the plat and plans of such predecessor in accordance with §§ 184.275 and 184.276. The fiduciary must also furnish certified copies, in triplicate, of the order of the court or other pertinent documents showing his qualifications as such fiduciary. The effective date of the qualifying documents filed by a fiduciary should be the same as the date of the court order; or the date specified therein for him to assume control.

§ 184.275 Consent of surety. The consent of surety extending the terms of the predecessor's bond to cover operation of the distillery by a fiduciary must conform to the requirements of § 184.215, and be executed by both the fiduciary and surety.

§ 184.276 Adoption of plat and plans. The plat and plans of the distillery may be adopted by a successor where they correctly describe and depict the distillery premises and the buildings, apparatus, and equipment thereon, to be taken over by the successor. The adoption by a successor of the plat and plans of his predecessor shall be in the form of a certificate, in triplicate, in which shall be set forth the name of the predecessor, the address and registered number of the distillery, a description of the distillery premises, or in lieu thereof reference to the successor's Form 27½ describing such premises, the number of each sheet comprising each plat and plan covered by such certificate, and a statement that the distillery premises, and the buildings, apparatus, and equipment thereon, are correctly described and depicted on such plat and plans.

§ 184.277 Sign. The successor, if other than a fiduciary temporarily operating the distillery, must change the distillery sign to conform to the requirements of § 184.105.

(53 Stat. 318, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2831, 3170)

§ 184.278 Materials and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials and unfinished brandy are received by transfer from the predecessor, the successor must comply with the requirements of Subpart FF of this part.

(53 Stat. 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2850, 3170)

OTHER CHANGES IN PROPRIETORSHIP OR OF CONTROL

§ 184.279 Changes in partnership. The withdrawal of one or more members of a partnership or the taking in of a new partner, whether active or silent, shall constitute a change in proprietorship. Likewise, the bankruptcy or adjudicated insolvency of one or more of the copartners results in a dissolution of the partnership and, consequently, a change in proprietorship. Where such a change in proprietorship of the distillery occurs, the successor must qualify in the same manner as the proprietor of a new distillery, except that the successor may adopt the plat and plans of the predecessor as provided in § 184.276.

§ 184.280 Changes in stockholders, officers, and directors of corporation. The sale or transfer of the capital stock of a corporation operating a distillery does not constitute a change in the proprietorship of the distillery. However, where the sale or transfer of capital stock results in a change in the control or management of the business, or where there is any change in the officers or directors, the distiller must give notice thereof, in triplicate, to the district supervisor within 24 hours of such change. Mere changes in stockholders of corporations not constituting a change in control need not be so reported. The district supervisor must, in the case of changes in officers or directors, be furnished extracts, in triplicate, of the minutes of the meetings showing such changes.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.281 Reincorporation. Where a corporation operating a distillery is reorganized and a new charter or certificate of incorporation is secured, the new corporation must qualify in the same manner as a new proprietor of the distillery, except that the new corporation may adopt the plat and plans of the predecessor as provided in § 184.276.

CHANGES IN LOCATION, PREMISES AND EQUIPMENT

§ 184.282 Change in location. Where there is a change in the location of the distillery premises, the distiller must comply with all applicable provisions of Subparts D to I of this part, inclusive, except that in lieu of the filing of a new distiller's bond, Form 30½, the distiller may furnish a consent of surety, Form 1533, in accordance with § 184.215, extending the terms of the distiller's bond given for the former location to cover operation of the distillery at the new location.

(53 Stat. 309; 26 U. S. C. 2812)

§ 184.283 Changes in premises. Where the distillery premises are to be extended or curtailed, the distiller must file with the district supervisor an amended notice, Form 27½, and an amended plat of the premises as extended or curtailed, except as herein specifically authorized in the case of alternate operations of the bottling department. If the plans are affected by the extension or curtailment, they must also be amended. If the distillery is within 600 feet of a rectifying plant, the distiller must also file a special application in accordance with §§ 184.62 and 184.63. The additional premises covered by an extension may not be used for distillery purposes, and the portion of the distillery premises to be excluded by a curtailment may not be used for other than distillery purposes, prior to approval of the notice, Form 27½. Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse containing a bottling-in-bond department is located on the distillery premises, and the documents required by Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185), governing the alternate operation of the bottling house as a bottling-in-bond department and a tax-paid bottling house, are filed, and no change in proprietorship is involved, the filing of additional notices, Form 27½, covering changes in the temporary status thereof from time to time will not be required.

§ 184.284 Changes in construction and use. Where a change is to be made in the construction of a room or building not involving an extension or curtailment of the distillery premises, or where a change is to be made in the use of any portion of such premises, the distiller shall first secure approval thereof by the district supervisor pursuant to application, in triplicate, setting forth specifically the proposed changes. If the changes involve buildings which are to be demolished or altered in such a manner as to decrease the value of the property, the application shall include: (a) The date of original purchase; (b) the name and address of the vendor; (c) the original cost; and (d) the present book value and method used in determining such value. Upon approval of the application, the changes will be made under the supervision of a Government officer, unless they are of such a nature as, in the opinion of the district supervisor, do not require such supervision. The completed changes will be reflected in the next amended or annual notice, Form 27½, and amended plans filed by the distiller, unless the district supervisor requires the immediate filing of an amended notice and amended plans. If the buildings to be demolished, or altered in such a manner as to decrease the value thereof, are on premises which have been eliminated from the distillery premises, a statement in writing, in triplicate, containing the data prescribed by items (a) through (d) for such buildings shall be furnished the district supervisor.

§ 184.285 Indemnity bond covering changes in buildings. If buildings on the distillery premises, or on premises which have been eliminated from the distillery premises, are to be demolished or altered in such manner as to decrease the value of the property, and a lien for taxes exists on such property under section 2800 (e), I. R. C., the distiller must file with the district supervisor an indemnity bond, Form 1617, in triplicate, in a penal sum equal to the decrease in the value of the property: Provided, That, if such decrease in value is less than $5,000, no indemnity bond will be required.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.286 Appraisal. The amount of the decrease in the value of the property subject to the Government's lien which will be caused by the demolition or alteration of buildings shall be determined by appraisal by two or more competent persons designated by the district supervisor. The appraisers shall render to the district supervisor a report, in duplicate, of their appraisal, which shall include information as to the methods employed by them in determining their valuations. The appraisal shall be at the expense of the distiller, unless made by Government officers. The district supervisor may dispense with the formal appraisal when he has reason to believe that the value of the property concerned is less than $5,000.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.287 Changes in equipment. Where changes are to be made in the distilling apparatus and equipment, the distiller shall first secure approval thereof by the district supervisor pursuant to application, in triplicate, setting forth specifically the proposed changes: Provided, That, emergency repairs may be made under the supervision of the Government officer without prior approval of the district supervisor. If the distilling apparatus or equipment referred to in § 184.288 is to be removed, the distiller's application shall include information showing: (a) The date of original purchase; (b) the name and address of the vendor; (c) a description of the article, including model and serial numbers, if any; (d) original cost; (e) present book value and method used in determining such value; and (f) proposed disposition of the article. Where emergency repairs are made, the distiller shall file immediately a report thereof, in triplicate, with the district supervisor. Changes covered by an approved application will also be made under the supervision of the Government officer. Upon completion of any change made under his supervision, the Government officer will authorize the removal of the dismantled equipment, and the use of the new or repaired equipment, and submit a report, in triplicate, of the changes to the district supervisor.

§ 184.288 Indemnity bond covering removal of equipment. If distilling apparatus or equipment on which a lien has attached under section 2800 (e), I. R. C., for taxes on brandy produced which has not ben taxpaid or withdrawn for a tax-free purpose, is to be removed from the distillery premises without adding property that will become a fixture in law of an equal or greater value than the apparatus or equipment to be removed, the distiller must file with the district supervisor an indemnity bond on Form 1617, in triplicate. Such bond must be in a penal sum equal to the value of the apparatus or equipment to be removed, or equal to the excess in value of the apparatus or equipment to be removed over the value of the property to be substituted therefor: Provided, That, if such value or difference in value, as the case may be, is less than $5,000, no indemnity bond will be required: And provided further, That no indemnity bond will be required to cover the removal of equipment from the distillery bonded premises to another bonded premises, if the two premises are controlled by the same interests. The distiller must include in his application sufficient evidence to support a request for any waiver of indemnity bond requirements. The value of the distilling apparatus or equipment to be removed, or the difference between the value of such old apparatus or equipment and the value of the new property to be added will be determined in the manner prescribed in § 184.286.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.289 Amended notice and plans covering changes in equipment. Upon completion of changes in equipment which materially affect the accuracy of the Form 27½ or plans, the distiller must file an amended notice and amended plans. Where an amended notice and amended plans are not filed immediately upon completion of minor changes in equipment, such as general repairs, changes in pipelines, or the addition or removal of a tank, the distiller must include such changes in the next amended or annual notice, and amended plans to be filed by him. The Commissioner or the district supervisor may, at any time, in his discretion, require the immediate filing of an amended notice and plans covering any change in equipment.

CHANGE IN TITLE TO DISTILLERY PROPERTY OR THE ENCUMBRANCE THEREOF

§ 184.290 Change of title. Where the title to the lot or tract of land upon which the fruit distillery is located is changed by a sale, judicial or otherwise, or where there is any change in the ownership of the premises or the distilling apparatus or equipment, subsequent to approval of distiller's bond, Form 30½, the distiller is no longer qualified. If the distiller desires to qualify for further operation of the distillery when such a change occurs, he must file an amended notice, Form 27½, together with the necessary consent, Form 1602, or, in lieu of such consent, an indemnity bond, Form 3–A. In addition to such amended notice and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, the district supervisor may, in his discretion, require the distiller to file a new distiller's bond, Form 30½.

§ 184.291 Encumbrance. If, subsequent to the approval of the distiller's bond, the lot or tract of land upon which the distillery is situated, or any part thereof, or any of the distilling apparatus or equipment becomes subject to, or encumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, the distiller must immediately file (a) an amended notice, Form 27½, (b) consent on Form 1602, or a proper indemnity bond, in lieu of such consent, and (c) a consent of surety on his present distiller's bond, or a new distiller's bond, in lieu of such consent.

SUBPART M—REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING OPERATION OF DISTILLERY UNDER ALTERNATING PROPRIETORSHIPS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR INITIAL ALTERNATING PROPRIETORSHIPS

§ 184.305 Where no bonded warehouse on premises. A fruit distillery may be operated under alternating proprietorships. Where it is desired to operate a fruit distillery under alternating proprietorships and there is no internal revenue bonded warehouse on the distillery premises, the successor (lessee) distiller must qualify as proprietor of the distillery in accordance with the provisions of §§ 184.272–184.278. At the time a distiller first suspends operations preparatory to the operation of the fruit distillery by an alternate proprietor, he must discontinue operations and comply with the following requirements:

(a) Amended notice, Form 27½. File with the district supervisor an amended notice on Form 27½, in triplicate, stating thereon the purpose of the notice to be "Temporary discontinuance in order that the fruit distillery may be operated by an alternate proprietor" and give the date of discontinuance.

(b) Consent of surety. File a blanket consent of surety, Form 1533, in triplicate, to continue in effect bond, Form 30½. Such blanket consent of surety may be filed to cover all such alternate operations and may be executed in the following form:

To continue in effect the said bond whenever operation of the fruit distillery is resumed from time to time, pursuant to application on Form 1696, filed by the principal following suspension of operations by an alternate proprietor.

(c) Materials and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials and unfinished brandy are to be transferred to the successor, comply with the requirements of §§ 184.745, 184.746 and 184.748. Whenever the proprietorship is to be alternated after the first suspension, the procedure prescribed in §§ 184.307 and 184.308 will be followed.

(53 Stat. 309, 310, 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 2814, 2878, 3170)

§ 184.306 Where bonded warehouse on premises. Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse is located on the fruit distillery premises, the proprietorship of the distillery may be alternated in accordance with the requirements of § 184.305. In addition, the outgoing (lessor) distiller shall designate the plat on file which depicts the entire distillery premises, including the internal revenue bonded warehouse, as "Plat A" and file a new plat which will be designated "Plat B" depicting the internal revenue bonded warehouse and any other portion of the distillery premises not to be operated by the lessee as a portion of the distillery. He shall also describe in the amended notice, Form 27½, the bonded warehouse and any portion of the distillery premises not to be operated as a part of the fruit distillery. The description thereof must correspond with the depiction of the premises on Plat B. Whenever the proprietorship is to be alternated after the first suspension, the procedure prescribed by §§ 184.307 and 184.308 will be followed.

SUSPENSION FOR SUBSEQUENT ALTERNATE PROPRIETORSHIPS

§ 184.307 Requirements. Where an alternate proprietor desires to suspend operations of the fruit distillery preparatory to resumption by another alternate proprietor, he must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Notice of alternate operations. File Form 1696, through the storekeeper-gauger in charge with the district supervisor giving notice of intention to suspend operations. The form shall be executed and filed in accordance with the various lines on the form and the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto. Form 1696 shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is executed under the penalties of perjury. Operations will be suspended upon approval of the notice by the district supervisor in accordance with § 184.309.

(b) Materials and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials and unfinished brandy are to be transferred to the successor, the procedure prescribed by §§ 184.745, 184.746, and 184.748 must be followed.

(63 Stat. 667; 26 U. S. C. 3809)

RESUMPTION FOR SUBSEQUENT ALTERNATE PROPRIETORSHIPS

§ 184.308 Requirements. Where an alternate proprietor desires to resume operation of the fruit distillery following suspension by another alternate proprietor, he must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Notice of alternate operations. File Form 1696, through the storekeeper-gauger in charge with the district supervisor for authority to resume operations. The notice shall be executed in accordance with the instructions printed on the form, and otherwise completed as provided in § 184.307.

(b) Materials and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials and unfinished brandy are to be received from the predecessor, the procedure prescribed by §§ 184.745, 184.746, and 184.748 will be followed.

(63 Stat. 667; 26 U. S. C. 3809)

ACTION BY DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

§ 184.309 Approval and disposition of Form 1696. Upon receipt of Form 1696, the district supervisor will, if he finds that the notice may properly be approval on all copies, and dispose of the copies in accordance with the instructions printed on the form or issued in respect thereto.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

SUBPART N—REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING ALTERNATE OPERATIONS AS REGISTERED DISTILLERY OR INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT

QUALIFICATION FOR INITIAL ALTERNATING OPERATIONS

§ 184.315 Where no bonded warehouse on premises. A fruit distillery may be operated alternately for the production of brandy under this part, the production of spirits under Regulations 4 (26 CFR Part 183) or the production of alcohol under Regulations 3 (26 CFR Part 182). Where it is desired to conduct alternating operations at a fruit distillery and there is no internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the distillery premises, the successor (incoming) proprietor must first qualify as proprietor of the premises. At the time of the first suspension for the purpose of conducting alternate operations, the outgoing distiller must discontinue operations and comply with the following requirements:

(a) Amended notice, Form 27½. File with the district supervisor an amended notice on Form 27½, in triplicate, stating thereon the purpose of the notice to be "Temporary discontinuance in order that the fruit distillery may be operated as a registered distillery" (or industrial alcohol plant), and give the date of discontinuance.

(b) Consent of surety. File with the district supervisor a blanket consent of surety, Form 1533, in triplicate, to continue in effect bond, Form 30½. Such blanket consent of surety may be filed to cover all such alternate operations and may be executed in the following form: To continue in effect the said bond whenever operation of the distillery is resumed from time to time, pursuant to application on Form 1696, filed by the principal following suspension of operations as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery.

(c) Materials, heads and tails and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials are transferred to the successor or if heads and tails or unfinished brandy are to be retained on the premises pending the resumption of operations as a fruit distillery, comply with the requirements of §§ 184.727–184.730. Whenever alternate operations are to be conducted after the first suspension, the procedure prescribed by §§ 184.317 and 184.318 will be followed.

§ 184.316 Where bonded warehouse on premises. Where an internal revenue bonded warehouse is located on the fruit distillery premises, the distillery may be operated alternately as a fruit distillery, a registered distillery or an industrial alcohol plant upon compliance with the requirements of § 184.315. The distiller shall designate the plat on file which depicts the entire distillery premises, including the internal revenue bonded warehouse, as "Plat A," and file a new plat which will be designated as "Plat B," depicting the internal revenue bonded warehouse and any other portion of the distillery premises not to be operated by the incoming alternate proprietor. The outgoing distiller shall also describe in the amended notice, Form 27½, the bonded warehouse and any portion of the distillery premises not to be operated by the incoming proprietor. The description thereof must correspond with the depiction of the premises on Plat B. Whenever alternate operations are to be conducted after the first suspension, the procedure prescribed by §§ 184.317 and 184.318 will be followed.

SUSPENSION FOR SUBSEQUENT ALTERNATE OPERATIONS

§ 184.317 Requirements. Where a distiller desires to suspend operations of the fruit distillery preparatory to resumption of operations as a registered distillery or industrial alcohol plant, he must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Notice of alternate operations. File Form 1696 through the storekeeper-gauger in charge with the district supervisor giving notice of intention to suspend operations. The form shall be executed and filed in accordance with the various lines on the form and the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto. Form 1696 shall contain or be verified by a written declaration that it is executed under the penalties of perjury. Operations will be suspended upon approval of the notice by the district supervisor in accordance with § 184.319.

(b) Materials, heads and tails, and unfinished brandy. If distilling materials are transferred to the successor or if heads and tails or unfinished brandy are to be retained on the premises pending the resumption of operations as a fruit distillery, comply with the requirements of §§ 184.727–184.730.

(53 Stat. 309, 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 2878, 3170)

RESUMPTION FOR SUBSEQUENT ALTERNATE OPERATIONS

§ 184.318 Requirements. Where a distiller desires to resume operation of the fruit distillery following suspension of operations as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery, he must comply with the following requirements:

(a) Notice of alternate operations. File Form 1696 through the storekeeper-gauger in charge, with the district supervisor for authority to resume operations. The notice shall be executed in accordance with the instructions printed on the form or issued in respect thereto and otherwise completed as provided in § 184.317.

(b) Materials. If distilling materials are received by transfer from the predecessor, comply with the requirements of §§ 184.729 and 184.730.

(53 Stat. 309, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2812, 3170)

ACTION BY DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

§ 184.319 Approval and disposition of Form 1696. Upon receipt of Form 1696, the district supervisor will, if he finds that the notice may be properly approved, execute the certificate of approval on all copies, and dispose of the copies in accordance with the instructions printed on the form or issued in respect thereto.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

SUBPART O—ACTION BY DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.325 Authority to approve. District supervisors are authorized to approve all notices, bonds, consents of surety, and other qualifying documents required by this part.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.326 Special application. Where a special application for permission to operate a fruit distillery within 600 feet of a rectifying plant is submitted by the distiller, and such special application conforms to the requirements of this part, the district supervisor will cause an inspection to be made to determine whether the proposed operation of the distillery within 600 feet of the rectifying plant may be permitted without jeopardy to the revenue. The inspector will ascertain whether the application accurately describes the relative location of the two premises and all pipelines and other connections, if any, between such premises. The inspector will also observe the surroundings, including all streets, roads and driveways connecting the two premises, and any condition which might endanger the revenue, and will describe the same in his report. If the district supervisor finds, upon consideration of the inspection report, that the distillery may be operated at the designated location without danger to the revenue, he will note his approval on all copies of the special application. He will then return one copy of the approved application to the applicant, retain one copy for his files, and forward the remaining copy, together with a copy of the inspection report, to the Commissioner. Approval of the special application pertains to the location of the distillery only, and does not authorize the operation thereof. The distillery may not be operated until the distiller's bond and other qualifying documents required by law and this part have been filed and approved. If the special application is disapproved, the district supervisor will note his disapproval thereon, retain one copy and return all remaining copies of such application to the applicant, with advice as to the reasons for disapproval.

(53 Stat. 314, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2819, 3170)

§ 184.327 Distillery fence application. Where a special application for permission to construct and maintain a fence or wall of a greater height than 5 feet around the distillery is submitted, and such application conforms to the requirements of this part, the district supervisor will, if he finds that the construction and maintenance of such fence or wall is necessary to give adequate protection from trespassers, and that the revenue would not be endangered, note his approval on all copies of the special application, return one copy to the applicant, retain one copy for his files, and forward one copy to the Commissioner with the distiller's notice, bond, and other qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds that the construction and maintenance of such fence or wall is not necessary to afford protection from trespassers or that the revenue would be endangered thereby, he will note his disapproval on the special application, retain one copy and return the remaining copies to the applicant with a statement of the reasons for disapproval.

§ 184.328 Indemnity bond application. Where an application for permission to file an indemnity bond in lieu of the written consent of the owner of the distillery premises or apparatus or equipment, or of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, conditional sales vendor, or other person having a lien thereon, is submitted by the distiller and such application conforms to the requirements of this part, the district supervisor will cause an investigation to be made of the facts upon which the application is based, and will designate two or more competent persons to make an appraisal of the value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus. The appraisal shall be made as provided in § 184.178. If the district supervisor finds, upon consideration of the appraisal and reports of investigation, that under the law and this part an indemnity bond may properly be accepted in lieu of the consent of the owner or lienor, and if he is satisfied that the valuation placed upon the distillery property by the appraisers is fair, he will note his approval on all copies of the application. He will then return one copy of the approved application to the applicant, retain one copy for his files, and forward the remaining copy of the application and copies of the reports of investigation and appraisal to the Commissioner at the time of forwarding the indemnity bond. If the application is disapproved, the district supervisor will note his disapproval thereon and will return all copies of such application to the applicant with a statement of the reasons for disapproval.

§ 184.329 Examination of other qualifying documents. Upon receipt of notice, plat, plans, bond, consent (Form 1602), if any, or indemnity bond in lieu thereof, and other documents required by this part of persons intending to qualify as distillers, the district supervisor will examine the same to determine whether they have been properly executed, and whether they reflect compliance with the requirements of the law and this part. Where any required document has not been filed, or where errors or discrepancies are found in those filed, or where the documents filed do not reflect compliance with this part, action thereon will be held in abeyance until the omission, or error, or discrepancy has been rectified, and there has been full compliance with all requirements.

§ 184.330 Inspection of premises. When the required documents have been filed in proper form, the district supervisor will assign an inspector to examine the premises, buildings, apparatus, and equipment, and determine whether they conform with the description thereof in the notice, plat and plans, and special applications, if any, and whether the construction and measures of protection afforded meet the requirements of the law and this part. The inspector will observe particularly the manner in which the rooms or buildings on the premises are separated from each other and from other premises, means of communication, ingress and egress, adequacy of protection afforded windows, doors, and other openings, construction of apparatus and equipment, and the suitability of the Government office and facilities. The inspector will also make careful inquiry respecting the applicant's title to, or interest in, the lot or tract of land, the distillery, and the apparatus and equipment, in order to determine whether proper consents on Form 1602 of the owner and of any mortgagees, judgment-creditors, lienors, other encumbrancers, conditional sales vendors, or prior lessees, have been procured and submitted by the applicant. The inspector will examine the records in the office of the recorder of deeds or other office where titles and matters affecting titles are filed to verify the statements of the applicant respecting his title to, or interest in, the property. The inspector should require the applicant to submit for examination invoices, bills of sale, conditional sales contracts, leases, or other commercial papers for verification of the statements made on Form 27½ respecting his title to, or interest in, the apparatus and equipment. Where the inspection discloses minor irregularities in the qualifying documents or in the construction, the inspector will, at the time of their discovery, direct the attention of the applicant to the same in order that the applicant may correct the defects before completion of the inspection. Upon completion of the inspection, a report thereof will be submitted to the district supervisor.

§ 184.331 Report of inspection. The report of the inspection shall describe separately all irregularities and discrepancies found during the course of the inspection, and shall include a complete statement describing all unusual or special conditions. Where irregularities were corrected during the inspection, the report will indicate the corrections so made. The report need not set out in detail each description as set forth in the notice, plat, and plans. The description of buildings and equipment in the report should be general and brief. However, construction, equipment, signs, etc., which are not in conformity with law and this part, will be completely described. If there are any pipelines or other connections or openings between the bonded premises and other premises, the same shall be described in detail. There shall be further embodied in the report a statement as to whether or not another business is being conducted, or is intended to be conducted, on the bonded premises or in buildings thereon.

§ 184.332 Law violation record. Before approving any bond or consent of surety given by any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, in respect to the business of a fruit distiller, the district supervisor will cause such inquiry or investigation as may be deemed necessary to ascertain whether such individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association, or any person owning, controlling, or actively participating in the management of the business, has been convicted of, or has compromised, an offense of the nature specified in § 184.218. Where record is found of the conviction or the compromise of such an offense, the district supervisor may disapprove the bond or consent upon the basis of his findings: Provided, That if the bond or consent is disapproved, the principal may appeal the district supervisor's action to the Commissioner. Where an appeal is taken to the Commissioner, the district supervisor will furnish the Commissioner with full information respecting the reasons for disapproval including the nature and place of the offense, and the names of the offenders and the date of conviction or acceptance of an offer in compromise.

§ 184.333 Approval of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds, upon examination of the inspection report and the qualifying documents, that the person seeking to qualify as a fruit distiller has complied in all respects with the requirements of law and this part, and if the distiller's bond (Form 30½) and the consent (Form 1602), if any, or the indemnity bond filed in lieu thereof may properly be approved under § 184.332, and if the applicant is entitled to a permit, he will assign a registry number to the fruit distillery in accordance with § 184.334, note his approval on all copies of the distiller's bond, consent or indemnity bond, notice, and plat and plans, and shall dispose of the qualifying documents and inspectors' reports in accordance with § 184.336. The issuance of a permit under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act should be withheld pending approval of the notice, bond, and other qualifying documents required by the internal revenue laws and this part.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.334 Registry numbers. Fruit distilleries will be numbered serially in the order of their establishment. A separate series will be used for each State. Registry numbers heretofore assigned will be retained, and new distilleries will be assigned numbers in sequence thereto. Registry numbers previously assigned to discontinued distilleries will not be reassigned to other distilleries. The same registry number will be continued whenever there is a change of proprietorship.

§ 184.335 Disapproval of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds that the applicant has not complied in all respects with the requirements of the law and this part, or that the situation of the distillery is such as would enable the applicant to defraud the United States or that the bond should be disapproved under § 184.332, he will note his disapproval on the notice, Form 27½, and will dispose of the qualifying documents in accordance with § 184.336.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.336 Disposition of qualifying documents. Where the district supervisor approves the qualifying documents, he will forward to the applicant one copy of the documents with the original of the basic permit issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, forward to the Commissioner the originals of the qualifying documents and a copy of the basic permit issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, together with copies of inspection reports, and retain one copy of the qualifying documents for the file of the applicant. If the qualifying documents are disapproved, the district supervisor shall return to the applicant by registered mail one copy of the disapproved notice together with all copies of the qualifying documents, and all copies of the bond without action thereon. The district supervisor shall forward one copy of the disapproved notice to the Commissioner and will advise him fully respecting the disapproval thereof. He shall retain the remaining papers in his files. If the applicant is not entitled to a basic permit, the district supervisor will, upon disapproval of the application therefor, return all copies of the qualifying documents to the applicant without action thereon.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.337 Procedure applicable. The provisions of §§ 184.326–184.336 respecting the action required of district supervisors in connection with the original establishment of distilleries will be followed to the extent applicable, where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name of the distiller, or in the trade name or style or where the distillery is to be operated initially under a trade name or style or where there is a change in the proprietorship, location, premises, construction, apparatus and equipment of the distillery, or in the type of plant, or in the title to the distillery property, or where such property becomes subject to a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance or where operations are permanently discontinued.

§ 184.338 Indemnity Bond, Form 1617. Where changes to be made in distillery buildings or former distillery buildings or distillery equipment are such as to require the filing of an indemnity bond on Form 1617, as provided in §§ 184.285 and 184.288, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of a satisfactory bond, note his approval thereon, retain one copy and forward the original to the Commissioner and one copy to the distiller.

§ 184.339 Applications and reports covering changes. Where an application covering changes in the distilling apparatus or equipment, or in the construction or use of a room or building, is authorized by the district supervisor, he will after completion of the change retain one copy of the application and forward one copy to the distiller and one copy to the Commissioner. Similar disposition will be made of reports received from the distiller covering emergency repairs of distilling apparatus and equipment.

ANNUAL NOTICES AND BONDS, CONSENTS OF SURETY, AND ADDITIONAL AND SUPERSEDING BONDS

§ 184.340 Procedure applicable. The procedure prescribed in this subpart for the approval and disapproval of notices and bonds submitted in connection with the establishment of fruit distilleries will, to the extent applicable, govern the approval and disapproval of annual notices, consents (Form 1602) and bonds, consents of surety, and additional and superseding bonds.

SUBPART P—ACTION BY COMMISSIONER

ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.350 Review of documents. The Commissioner will review the action of the district supervisor relating to the establishment of fruit distilleries and determine whether it is in conformity with the requirements of law and this part. If not, the Commissioner will advise the district supervisor as to the necessary action to be taken.

(53 Stat. 310, 311, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2814, 2815, 3170)

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

184.351 Procedure applicable. The provisions of § 184.350 respecting the action of the Commissioner in connection with the establishment of fruit distilleries will be followed to the extent applicable, where there is a change in name, or in the firm name, trade name or style or in the proprietorship, location, premises, construction, apparatus and equipment of the distillery or in the type of plant or in the title to the distillery property or where such property becomes subject to a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance.

SUBPART Q—TERMINATION OF BONDS

§ 184.355 Termination of distiller's bond. The fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) is an annual bond and, therefore, upon expiration of the period for which it is given automatically terminates as to spirits produced subsequent to such period. Such bonds may be terminated as to future production prior to expiration of the period for which given, (a) pursuant to application by the surety as provided in § 184.359, or (b) upon approval of a superseding bond or discontinuance of business by the principal. Application for notice of termination of a fruit distiller's bond upon approval of a superseding bond or discontinuance of the business must be filed in duplicate with the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 310; 26 U. S. C. 2814)

§ 184.356 Termination of indemnity bond, Form 3–A. Indemnity bonds (Form 3–A) given in lieu of the consent of the owner of the distillery premises or property and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, encumbrancer, conditional sales vendor, etc., to priority of the Government's lien for taxes and penalties and other interests, run for an indefinite period. Such bonds may be terminated as to liability for future operations of the distillery, (a) pursuant to application by the surety as provided in § 184.359, (b) upon approval of a superseding bond or discontinuance of business by the principal, (c) if the distiller (1) becomes the owner in fee unencumbered of the property covered by the bond or (2) files the consent of the owner or encumbrancer to priority of the Government's lien for taxes and penalties and other interests (as provided in § 184.170), or (d) if all spirits produced while such indemnity bond was in force are taxpaid or removed for lawful tax-free purposes. Application for notice of termination of such bonds upon approval of the superseding bond or discontinuance of the business or under conditions (c) and (d) of this section must be filed in duplicate with the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 311; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2815)

§ 184.357 Termination of indemnity bonds, Form 1617. Indemnity bonds (Form 1617) given in connection with changes in buildings and equipment on which a lien had attached under section 2800 (e), I. R. C., may be terminated (a) upon approval of a superseding bond, or (b) upon taxpayment or removal for a lawful tax-free purpose of all spirits produced while the property covering which the indemnity bond was filed formed a part of the distillery premises and equipment. Application for notice of termination of such bonds must be filed in duplicate with the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 311; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2815)

§ 184.358 Termination of export bonds. Bonds (Forms 547, 548, 657, and 658) given to cover the exportation, or the transportation for export, of brandy of not less than 180 degrees of proof, withdrawn from the distillery in tank cars for such purpose as provided in Subpart X of this part, will be terminated in accordance with the provisions set forth in Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185) for the termination of such bonds when given to cover the exportation, or the transportation for export, of spirits withdrawn from internal revenue bonded warehouses.

§ 184.359 Application of surety for relief from bond. A surety on any bond required by this part may at any time in writing notify the principal and the district supervisor in whose office the bond is on file, that he desires after a date named, which shall be at least 60 days after the date of notification, to be relieved of liability under said bond. The notice shall be executed in triplicate by the surety, who shall deliver one copy to the principal and the other two copies to the district supervisor, who will retain one copy and transmit the remaining copy to the Commissioner. If such notice is not thereafter in writing withdrawn, the rights of the principal as supported by said bond shall be terminated on the date named in the notice, and the surety shall be relieved (a) in the case of a distiller's bond (Form 30½) from liability for brandy produced wholly subsequent to the date named in the notice, (b) in the case of indemnity bonds (Form 3–A) from liability for operations of the distillery wholly subsequent to such date, and (c) in the case of export bonds (Forms 547, 548, 657, and 658) from liability for brandy withdrawn for export wholly subsequent to such date. This notice may not be given by an agent of the surety unless it is accompanied by a power of attorney, duly executed by the surety, authorizing him to give such notice, or by a verified statement that such power of attorney is on file with the Department. The surety must also file with the district supervisor an acknowledgement or other proof of service of such notice on the principal.

§ 184.360 Action on application for notice of termination of distiller's bond. When an application for notice of termination of a fruit distiller's bond as to future production is filed with the district supervisor in a case where a superseding bond has been approved, or the principal has discontinued business, as provided in § 184.355, the district supervisor will make a complete examination of records to determine whether there is any liability then due and payable outstanding against the bond. He will also ascertain from the collector of internal revenue whether there are any outstanding, unpaid assessments or demands for taxes on spirits produced under the bond. If it is found that violations of law or regulations occurred during the period covered by the bond and that penalties incurred or fines imposed have not been paid, or that outstanding assessments, or demands for payment of taxes, chargeable against the bond, have not been paid or otherwise settled, the district supervisor will disapprove the application, unless the liability is settled. If the district supervisor finds that the fruit distiller's bond may properly be terminated, he will issue notice of termination thereof in accordance with § 184.362.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.361 Action on application for notice of termination of indemnity bond. When an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond (Form 3–A), as to future operations of a fruit distillery, is filed with the district supervisor in a case where a superseding bond has been approved, or the principal has discontinued business as provided in §§ 184.356–184.357, the district supervisor will take action in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.360, in the case of an application for the termination of a fruit distiller's bond. When an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond (Form 1617) covering changes in buildings or equipment is filed with the district supervisor, he will make a complete inquiry to determine whether all spirits the tax on which constituted the lien in relation to which the bond was given, have been tax-paid or removed for a lawful tax-free purpose. If the district supervisor finds that the bond may properly be terminated, he will issue notice of termination thereof, in accordance with § 184.362.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.362 Notice of termination. When the district supervisor has determined that an application for the termination of a fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) as to liability for future production, or of an indemnity bond (Form 3–A) as to liability for future operations of the fruit distillery, or an indemnity bond (Form 1617) as to future liability, may properly be approved, he will execute Form 1490, where a superseding bond has been approved, or Form 1491, where the principal has discontinued business, in quadruplicate (in quintuplicate if there are two sureties), and will forward the original together with one copy of the application to the Commissioner, one copy to each obligor on the bond, and retain one copy on file with the bond to which it relates.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.363 Release of collateral. The release of collateral pledged and deposited with the United States to support bonds required by this part will be in accordance with the provisions of Department Circular No. 154, revised (31 CFR, Part 225), subject to the conditions governing the issuance of notices on Forms 1490 and 1491 of the termination of such bonds. Upon approval of an application for the issuance of notice of the termination of a distiller's bond, Form 30½, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, or 1617, supported by collateral security, the district supervisor will fix the date or dates on which a part or all of the security may be released. In fixing such date, which ordinarily will be not less than six months from the date of determination that there is no outstanding liability against the bond, the district supervisor will satisfy himself that the interest of the Government will not be jeopardized. Collateral pledged and deposited to support any such bond will not be released by the district supervisor until liability under the bond has been terminated. At any time prior to the release of such collateral security, the district supervisor may, in his discretion, and for proper cause, further extend the date of release of the security for such additional length of time as in his judgment may be appropriate. Collateral pledged and deposited to support a fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) or an indemnity bond (Form 3–A) will not be released by the district supervisor until all spirits produced while such bonds were in force and effect have been tax-paid or removed for a lawful tax-free purpose. Accordingly, collateral may not be released while spirits produced under such bonds remain in any internal revenue bonded warehouse. When an application for release of collateral deposited in support of a fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) or an indemnity bond (Form 3–A) is received by the district supervisor, he will determine whether all spirits produced at the distillery while the bond was in effect have been withdrawn from warehouse and all outstanding liabilities settled, prior to taking action upon the application. Collateral pledged and deposited to support an indemnity bond (Form 1617) covering changes in buildings and equipment may be released by the district supervisor upon approval of a superseding bond or upon tax payment or removal for a lawful tax-free purpose of all spirits the tax on which constituted the lien in relation to which the bond was given. Collateral pledged and deposited to support direct export bonds, or transportation for export bonds will ordinarily be released by the district supervisor upon issuance of notice of release of the bond, Form 1491.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170; 44 Stat. 122; 49 Stat. 22 (6 U. S. C. 15))

SUBPART R—MANUFACTURE OF BRANDY

KINDS OF MATERIALS AND BRANDIES

§ 184.370 Kinds of materials. Distillers operating under the provisions of this part must manufacture brandy exclusively from apples, peaches, grapes, oranges, pears, pineapples, apricots, berries, plums, pawpaws, papayas, cantaloups, persimmons, prunes, figs, cherries, dates, or citrus fruits (except lemons and limes), or from residues or products of such fruits and berries, or from grape wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, plum wine, prune wine, pear wine, pawpaw wine, papaya wine, pineapple wine, cantaloup wine, or apple wine, in the manufacture of which artificial sweetening may have been used, or from the fruit pomace residuum of such grape wine, or from grape cheese where not more than 500 gallons of a sugar solution made from cane, beet, starch, or corn sugar, 95 percent pure, and having a saccharine strength of not to exceed 10 percent, is added to not less than 500 gallons (10 barrels) of such cheese.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.371 Kinds of brandies for fortification of wine. The kinds of brandies that may be produced for the fortification of wine are those made exclusively from grapes, citrus fruits (except lemons and limes), peaches, cherries, berries, apricots, pawpaws, papayas, cantaloups, pineapples, prunes, plums, pears, or apples, or from the products or the residues of such fruits and berries, or from grape wine, cantaloup wine, citrus-fruit wine, peach wine, pawpaw wine, papaya wine, pineapple wine, cherry wine, berry wine, apricot wine, prune wine, plum wine, pear wine, or apple wine, in the manufacture of which artificial sweetening may have been used under the limitations prescribed in Regulations 7 (26 CFR, Part 178), or the fruit pomace residuum of such grape wine. Brandy may not be produced from grape cheese and a sugar solution for the fortification of wine.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 350 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 3032)

§ 184.372 Artificial coloring. Brandies produced in accordance with the provisions of § 184.371 may be used for the fortification of wine, notwithstanding that they may have been artificially colored with burnt sugar or caramel under the limitations prescribed in Subpart T of this part.

(53 Stat. 352 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3036)

COMMENCEMENT OF OPERATIONS

§ 184.373 Notice, Form 125. Before commencing operations at the distillery, the distiller shall file with the district supervisor notice on Form 125, in duplicate, specifying the date on which he desires to commence operations. This notice must be filed in time to enable the district supervisor to assign a storekeeper-gauger to apply the required locks and seals, or, in the case of a previously operated distillery, to remove Government locks from the furnace doors of the stills or from valves controlling the flow of steam or fuel to the stills, and to connect the machinery, and, if deemed necessary, to supervise operations. If the distiller's bond, Form 30½, has been approved and the storekeeper-gauger has found the plant and equipment in proper condition, the distiller may commence operations at the time specified in the notice. Form 125 will not be required when operations are resumed pursuant to the filing of Form 1606.

§ 184.374 Assignment of storekeeper-gaugers. Except as provided in § 184.393 the constant presence of storekeeper-gaugers at fruit distilleries will not be required. The district supervisor may, however, where the extent of operations or other circumstances warrant, assign one or more storekeeper-gaugers to constant duty at such distilleries. Where new distilleries are established, storekeeper-gaugers should be assigned to constant duty thereat for a limited period. Ordinarily, storekeeper-gaugers will be assigned to visit fruit distilleries at intervals for the purpose of gauging and supervising the withdrawal of brandy. At distilleries where operations are not such as to require the daily attendance of a storekeeper-gauger, the district supervisor will assign an officer to visit the distillery not more often than twice a month to gauge the brandy and supervise the redistillation of singlings: Provided, That the district supervisor may assign an officer to visit the distillery at more frequent intervals for such purposes where the location of the distillery is such that he can do so without undue expense to the Government, or where the quantity of brandy produced is such as to make the retention of 15 days' production in the receiving and singlings tanks inadvisable. As provided in § 184.137, the receiving and singlings tanks shall be of sufficient capacity to permit storekeeper-gaugers to be so assigned. When notices of comencement of operations are received, the district supervisor will assign storekeeper-gaugers in time to prevent unnecessary delays to distillers.

§ 184.375 Examination of distillery. Upon arrival at a distillery intending to commence operations, storekeeper-gaugers will, prior to the actual commencement of operations, examine the distillery, the apparatus and equipment, the receiving tanks, etc., and determine that all valves, flanges, and other connections which would afford access to spirits are properly equipped for locking or are brazed, welded, or otherwise secured, and that all doors and other openings in the receiving and brandy deposit rooms, if any, are protected in the manner prescribed by this part. The storekeeper-gauger will apply Government locks wherever the same are required, and will complete Form 125, in duplicate, deliver one copy to the distiller, and forward the original to the district supervisor.

DISTILLING MATERIALS

§ 184.376 Weighing materials received. Distillers will weigh, or, in the case of liquids, weigh or measure, all materials received on the distillery premises for use in the production of brandy. Where wine is received by pipeline, or in tanks, tank trucks, or tank cars, the material must be run into a measuring tank, measured as to quantity and tested as to alcoholic content, except that where the wine used as distilling material is received from a winery operated by the distiller on contiguous premises, and such wine is measured and tested in distilling material measuring tanks installed on the winery premises, it need not be again measured and tested on the distillery premises if it is to be immediately distilled. In such case, the wine must be conveyed by pipeline direct from the measuring tanks on the winery premises to the chargers of the stills, or to sumps from which it will be immediately pumped into the chargers. The distilling material measuring tanks may, as provided in § 184.92, be located on such contiguous winery premises where all distilling material used is procured therefrom. Any properly calibrated tank on the winery premises may be used as a distilling material measuring tank.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2641)

§ 184.377 Remeasurement of wine. Where wine is not to be distilled immediately upon receipt, it may be transferred to distilling material storage tanks, but when used it must be again tested as to alcoholic content and, unless the quantity used is accurately measured by the chargers of the stills, it must be transferred to a measuring tank and the quantity correctly determined.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.378 Record of materials received. The distiller shall enter all materials received on the distillery premises for the production of brandy on Form 15. Where wine, or brandy for redistillation, is received the alcoholic content thereof will also be entered on the form. If champagne or other sparkling wine, or artificially carbonated wine, is received for use as distilling material, the entry of receipt will include information as to the kind of wine.

(53 Stat. 321, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2841, 2863)

§ 184.379 Addition of water. The distiller may add as much water as he may desire to wine for the purpose of economical distillation. Water must not be added to wine received, prior to determination of the alcoholic content. Where water is added to wine intended for use as distilling material after it is transferred to distillery measuring tanks located on contiguous winery premises operated by the distiller, the quantity and alcoholic content of such wine will be determined by the distiller after the addition of the water and so entered on Form 15. Unless the attenuated material is immediately distilled, it must be again tested as to alcoholic strength before distillation, as provided in § 184.384.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.380 Non-fermentable materials. No non-fermentable materials may be added to the wine or other distilling material for the purpose of providing yeast food, or for inhibiting the action of wild yeast or bacteria, or for any other purpose, unless the use of such materials is covered by the statement of process, as provided in § 184.191. No chemicals or other materials, such as essences, flavors, coloring matter, etc., which are volatile and would remain incorporated in the brandy when the manufacture thereof is complete may be added to the wine or other distilling material, or to the spirits at any stage of production, except as otherwise provided in this part.

(53 Stat. 391 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3254)

§ 184.381 Materials crushed for fermenting. The distiller will weigh all materials crushed for fermenting, and will enter the same on Form 15. The quantity of fermented material produced will also be determined and entered on the form.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.382 Sweetened grape cheese. Where grape cheese is sweetened for fermentation as distilling material the limitations set forth in § 184.370 must be observed. If it is desired to add water as well as sugar solution to the grape cheese, the sugar solution must be added first, as the quantity of sugar solution which may be used is limited in proportion to the quantity of cheese and not the quantity of cheese and water. The grape cheese may be sweetened once only. The quantity of sugar received, and the quantity of sugar and sugar solution used, will be reported on Form 15.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 321; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2841)

§ 184.383 Verification of quantity and alcoholic content of materials received. Where a storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery, he will from time to time personally verify the accuracy of the distiller's determination of the quantity and alcoholic content of wine received for use as distilling material and of brandy received for redistillation, and the weight or quantity of other materials received and used for producing distilling material. Where no officer is in daily attendance at the distillery, the district supervisor will cause the accuracy of the distiller's entries on Form 15 to be verified by Government officers from time to time.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 3170)

§ 184.384 Distilling material tested and measured before use. The distiller will provide an approved ebulliometer, small still, or other suitable instrument for determining the alcoholic content of distilling material. The following ebulliometers have been approved by the Commissioner for such use: Arnaldo-Sala (with shield), Braun, Juerst, L'Ebulliometer Levesque (with shield), Lefco, Malligand Type (with shield), Salleron-Dujardin, "TAG" (with shield), and E. B. Torino (with shield). The Arnaldo-Sala, L'Ebulliometer Levesque, Malligand Type, "TAG," and E. B. Torino have been approved subject to the condition that they will be used in connection with a shield to protect them from drafts or air currents. The Commissioner may authorize the use of other equally accurate instruments for determining the alcoholic content of distilling material. Such instruments shall be made available for use by Government officers for verifying the distiller's tests, as hereinafter required. District supervisors will cause the accuracy of such instruments in use at distilleries to be checked from time to time. When using such instruments distillers and Government officers must follow closely the instructions furnished therewith, in order that accurate determinations may be made. The distiller shall determine the alcoholic content of each lot of distilling material by means of such an approved ebulliometer or other instrument, immediately prior to distillation, and shall at such time also determine accurately, by means of the distilling material measuring tanks, the number of gallons of distilling material to be distilled. The kind, quantity, and alcoholic content of the material distilled will be entered by the distiller on Form 15. The distiller will also compute and enter on Form 15 the calculated yield for each lot of material distilled.

§ 184.385 Verification of distiller's tests. Where a storekeeper-gauger is on duty at the distillery, he will verify the distiller's tests of the distilling material and will see that the proper quantity of such material and the correct percentage of alcohol contained therein are entered on Form 15. Where no officer is in daily attendance at the distillery, the district supervisor will cause such tests of the distilling material to be made from time to time by Government officers as may be necessary to insure accurate reporting of the item.

184.386 Qualification prerequisite to operation. No wine, or brandy for redistillation, may be received or materials fermented or brandy produced on the distillery premises until proper bond and other required qualifying documents have been filed and approved.

(53 Stat. 319; 26 U. S. C. 2832)

DISTILLATION

§ 184.387 Continuous process required. The process of distillation employed must be such that the brandy will pass through continuous, closed stills, pipes, and vessels from the time the vapors rise in the first still until the finished brandy is deposited in locked receiving tanks provided for that purpose. The distiller may, in the course of manufacture, carry his product through as many distilling operations as he may desire, provided the process is closed and continuous. Distilling processes are deemed to be continuous where the brandy is carried through the various steps from the beer still to the receiving tanks as expeditiously as normal, efficient plant operation will permit in the manufacture of a finished product of standard quality. The collection of high and low wines (heads and tails) for the purpose of redistillation is not deemed to be a break in the continuity of the distilling process, but such brandy, when so collected, should be redistilled promptly when a sufficient quantity has been accumulated to permit efficient redistillation. Where brandy is percolated through oak chips or otherwise treated before deposit in the receiving tanks, the retention of the brandy in tanks temporarily, pending such treatment, is permissible, but no larger quantities of brandy may be so held than is necessary for operation of the percolators. The distilling process is held to be completed when the brandy is deposited in the receiving tanks.

§ 184.388 Continuous distillation. Where singlings are redistilled in a closed, locked still, as defined in § 184.135, they may be conveyed directly through closed pipes from the first still to the redistilling unit or they may be run into singlings tanks and thence to the redistilling unit. When so handled, all openings in the redistilling unit through which access may be had to the spirits must be securely locked. Singlings thus conveyed into a closed, locked still may be redistilled without supervision of a storekeeper-gauger and without gauging and recording on Form 15 prior to redistillation, but they must be redistilled during the month in which they are produced, unless the quantity remaining on hand at the end of the month is ascertained and recorded on Form 15.

§ 184.389 Collection of singlings for redistillation. Where, under the process of distillation employed, singlings are separated and collected for redistillation otherwise than as provided in § 184.388, such singlings shall be run through closed pipes from the still into locked singlings tanks, in which they shall remain until released by the storekeeper-gauger for redistillation under his supervision.

§ 184.390 Gauging of singlings. Where singlings are collected for redistillation otherwise than in a closed, locked still as provided in § 184.388, they need not be gauged (measured and proofed) by the storekeeper-gauger before being released from the singlings tanks for redistillation. Singlings produced each month must be redistilled as expeditiously as possible. They may not be accumulated from month to month, but singlings produced during one month may be mixed with the production for the succeeding month for redistillation if the quantity on hand at the close of the month is first ascertained.

§ 184.391 Redistillation of singlings. When the singlings have been released by the storekeeper-gauger, they shall be run, by means of closed pipelines, direct from the singlings tank into the still, or the distilling material sump, or the chargers of the still, or the distilling material pipeline leading to the still. Where the singlings are run into the distilling material sump, or the chargers of the still, or the distilling material pipeline leading to the still, such sump or charger or pipeline must be closed and the operations must take place at the time the distilling material is being run into the still and the singlings thus mixed with the distilling material and distilled with the same. The singlings will be run into the still, or distilling material sump, or chargers of the still, or distilling material pipeline, and redistilled, under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

§ 184.392 Record of singlings. The quantity of singlings on hand at the close of the month will be gauged by the storekeeper-gauger before the tenth day of the month following the month of production. Such quantity will be entered by the distiller on Form 15 rendered for the month of production.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.393 Distillation requiring supervision. Fortified wines received for the production of dealcoholized wine containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume, and fortified wine which became unfit for use as wine prior to the removal from the winery premises, champagne, or other sparkling wine, and artificially carbonated wine, received for use as distilling material, must be distilled under the supervision of a Government officer. Where brandy is received for redistillation, the distillation thereof must also be under the supervision of a Government officer.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 348 as amended, 353; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 3031, 3037)

§ 184.394 Request for assignment of officer. When it is desired to distill such wines or to redistill brandy, and there is no officer on duty at the distillery, the distiller will request the district supervisor to assign an officer to supervise the distillation. This request must set forth the time it is desired to begin distillation, the kind and approximate quantity of wine to be distilled or brandy to be redistilled, and the time that will be required for distillation. The request must be filed with the district supervisor in ample time for an officer to be detailed to such duty. If an officer is on duty at the distillery, the request to supervise the distillation will be filed with such officer.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 348 as amended, 353; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 3031, 3037)

§ 184.395 Duty of officer. The officer supervising the distillation of such wine, or brandy for redistillation, will, before distillation is commenced, determine the kind, quantity, and alcoholic content of the material to be distilled and will see that such data are properly entered on Form 15. The officer will then supervise the distillation, and upon completion thereof will submit a report to the district supervisor showing the kind, quantity, and alcoholic content of the wine or brandy distilled.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 353; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3037)

§ 184.396 Heads and tails. Distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes, or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, known as "heads" and "tails," separated in the course of distillation, will be run into locked tanks, as provided in § 184.420.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

LOCKING OF DISTILLERY

§ 184.397 When to be locked. Whenever brandy is contained in any place in the distillery other than under Government lock in the receiving room or brandy deposit room, or package storeroom within the brandy deposit room, the distillery building or portion thereof in which such brandy is contained must be kept securely locked by the distiller in the absence of himself or his agents. The locks used by the distiller to secure doors, windows, or other openings of the distillery building, or portions thereof, in which brandy is so contained, must be such as will, in the opinion of the district supervisor, safeguard the brandy against illegal removal.

§ 184.398 Keys of distillery locks. The distiller shall furnish the district supervisor as many keys to the locks provided for securing the entrance door or doors of the distillery building, or portions thereof, which are required to be locked, as may be deemed necessary by the district supervisor from time to time, in order that the distillery or any portion thereof may be accessible at any time to Government officers authorized to enter and inspect the premises.

TREATMENT OF BRANDY IN COURSE OF DISTILLATION

§ 184.399 Rectification. The law provides that every person shall be regarded as engaged in the business of rectifying who rectifies, purifies, or refines distilled spirits by any process other than by original and continuous distillation from mash, wort, or wash through continuous, closed vessels and pipes until the manufacture thereof is complete. A distiller may, therefore, carry his product through as many processes of distillation as he may desire without becoming liable as a rectifier, provided the process is continuous (as defined in § 184.387), commencing with the distillation of the fermented material, and the product of distillation is carried through continuous, closed vessels and pipes until the finished product is deposited in the receiving tanks: Provided, That the redistillation of brandy received in bond from an internal revenue bonded warehouse or another distillery pursuant to provisions of this part shall not constitute rectification.

§ 184.400 Purifying or refining brandy. Under the law, distillers are allowed to purify or refine brandy in the course of original and continuous distillation, through any material which will not remain incorporated with such brandy when the manufacture thereof is complete. The apparatus to be used for purifying or refining in a distillery must be arranged and constructed as required by this part.

(53 Stat. 391 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3254)

§ 184.401 Percolation through oak chips. Brandy may be percolated through or treated with oak chips which have not been treated with any chemical, upon approval of the process. The apparatus to be used for percolating brandy must be arranged and constructed as required by this part.

(53 Stat. 391 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3254)

§ 184.402 Samples before and after treating. Where the distiller has been authorized to introduce materials or substances into brandy during the course of original and continuous distillation for the purpose of purifying or refining the brandy, or where he has been authorized to introduce oak chips into the brandy, the district supervisor will cause storekeeper-gaugers to procure samples of such brandy, both before and after processing, when the process is first used and thereafter from time to time. The samples will be forwarded to the Government chemist for analysis. The chemist will furnish a report thereof to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 391 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3254)

§ 184.403 Disposition of substances used for treating brandy. Materials used for purifying or refining brandy, and oak chips introduced into the brandy, will be thoroughly washed, steamed, or otherwise treated to extract the brandy therefrom before removal from the process. Upon removal, the materials must be burned in the distillery furnace or in the distillery yard. If such burning is not practicable, due to the type of furnace in use, fire regulations, or to other valid reason, such materials must be treated with kerosene before the removal thereof from the distillery premises. Where kerosene is used, it must be sprayed or sprinkled on the materials, using not less than 1 gallon of kerosene to each 100 pounds of materials, in such manner as to preclude the abstraction of potable brandy from any part of the entire mass after the materials are removed from the distillery premises. This will be effected by stirring or agitating the materials while the kerosene is being applied. Such burning or treating of materials must be done under the supervision of the Government officer. The district supervisor may authorize any other disposition of the materials as will effectually prevent recovery of spirits therefrom.

DEPOSIT OF BRANDY IN RECEIVING TANKS

§ 184.404 Immediate deposit required. All brandy produced must be deposited immediately upon completion of manufacture in securely locked receiving tanks. Brandy produced and conveyed into receiving tanks each month must be kept separate in such tanks until gauged by the storekeeper-gauger and removed on or before the 10th day of the succeeding month. The brandy must be deposited in separate receiving tanks according to class (brandy, spirits—fruit) and type (grape brandy, apple brandy, peach brandy, etc.).

COMPARISON OF ACTUAL YIELD WITH CALCULATED YIELD

§ 184.405 Abnormal differences to be investigated. The storekeeper-gauger will verify the distiller's computation of the calculated yield from the materials distilled and will compare the same with the quantity of brandy produced therefrom. Where the difference between the calculated yield and the actual yield is more than that determined by experience to be the normal difference for the particular plant, the storekeeper-gauger will make a thorough inquiry to determine the reason or reasons therefor, and will make a full report of his findings to the district supervisor. If the findings of the officer do not fully explain the discrepancy, the district supervisor will cause such further investigation to be made as may be deemed advisable.

§ 184.406 Distiller's responsibility. Distillers will be held responsible for producing a quantity of brandy equal to that contained in the material distilled, less the actual deficiency resulting in distillation. District supervisors will carefully check the returns of distillers as to production and, where the difference between the calculated yield and the actual yield is more than that determined by experience to be the normal difference for the particular plant, they will investigate any excessive deficiency in production thus disclosed, unless such deficiency is satisfactorily explained in reports submitted by Government officers on duty at or detailed to visit the plant. Where, in any case, the facts indicate that brandy has been produced and not accounted for, the district supervisor will proceed in accordance with Subpart Z of this part.

DISPOSITION OF RESIDUE OF DISTILLING MATERIAL

§ 184.407 Authorized use of such residue. The undistilled residue of distilling material (wine lees and cheese) may be removed from distilleries for use as fertilizer or other byproduct, providing the liquid is expressed from the material before removal and it is not received on any winery or other distillery premises.

§ 184.408 Removal. Where a storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery the material will be removed in his presence. The distiller will make appropriate entry on Form 15 of the removal of such material. If disposed of to other persons, the names and addresses of such persons should be reported on Form 15.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

DESTRUCTION OF DISTILLING MATERIAL UNFIT FOR DISTILLATION

§ 184.409 Inspection. When the distiller reports that he has on hand any distilling material which has become unfit for distillation and which he desires to destroy, the storekeeper-gauger will inspect such material for the purpose of determining whether it is actually unfit for distillation. Where no officer is assigned to the distillery, the distiller will request the district supervisor, in writing, to detail an officer to supervise destruction of the material, stating the kind, quantity, alcoholic content, and condition of the material. The district supervisor will detail an officer to inspect the material and, if found unfit for distillation, to supervise its destruction, unless the quantity involved is, in the judgment of the district supervisor, insufficient to justify the visit of an officer, in which event the district supervisor may, in writing, authorize the distiller to destroy the material without supervision.

§ 184.410 Report of destruction. The material must not be destroyed until it is inspected by a Government officer, unless destruction without supervision is authorized by the district supervisor. When the material is found by an inspecting Government officer to be useless for distillation, he will supervise destruction thereof and submit a report of his action to the district supervisor. The destruction of the material will be entered by the distiller on Form 15.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.411 Destruction of wine. Wine removed from a bonded winery free of tax for use as distilling material may not be destroyed at a distillery unless the wine tax is first paid thereon by the distiller, or it is determined by chemical analysis that the wine is unfit for use.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 353; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3037)

SUBPART S—COLLECTION AND REMOVAL OF DISTILLATES, BRANDY UNFIT FOR BEVERAGE PURPOSES, DISTILLED WATER, FUSEL OIL, AND CARBON DIOXIDE GAS

COLLECTION, REMOVAL FOR DENATURATION OR DESTRUCTION OF CERTAIN DISTILLATES, AND VOLUNTARY DESTRUCTION OF BRANDY UNFIT FOR BEVERAGE PURPOSES

§ 184.420 General. Fruit distillers may collect in locked tanks provided in accordance with § 184.131, distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, commonly known as "heads" and "tails," removed in the course of distillation. Such distillates may be removed from the distillery for denaturation or destroyed on the distillery premises, under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the distillery or another Government officer designated by the district supervisor for the purpose. When so denatured or destroyed, such distillates shall not be subject to the tax imposed by law upon distilled spirits. Such distillates so collected in fruit distilleries may be drawn into casks, barrels, or other containers and stored in the brandy deposit room of the distillery where produced, pending removal for denaturation or destruction. Brandy which, during the process of distillation or after deposit in the receiving tanks, is found to be unfit for use for beverage purposes may be voluntarily destroyed as provided by this subpart; and when such brandy is so destroyed no tax is collectible thereon.

(53 Stat. 340 as amended; 346, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2901, 2916, 3170)

§ 184.421 Collection of distillates. Distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes, or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, collected in locked tanks at fruit distilleries shall be removed from such tanks for denaturation or destroyed or transferred to the brandy deposit room within 30 days from the date of the commencement of the collection thereof, unless the distillates are to be shipped for denaturation and the quantity collected in such tanks during such period is insufficient for a carload shipment (but not over 10,000 wine gallons), in which event the distiller may continue to accumulate such distillates in such tanks until a sufficient quantity for a carload shipment has been so collected: Provided, That no such distillates shall be held at the distillery for a period exceeding 90 days, unless the distillates are transferred to the brandy deposit room.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.422 Samples by distiller. Distillers may procure, in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Subpart W, a requisite number of samples of such distillates and brandy that appears to be unfit for beverage purposes for laboratory analysis to determine that they contain the required percentage of aldehydes or fusel oil, or are unfit for beverage purposes.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.423 Aldehydes and fusel oil not to be mixed with brandy. Where aldehydes or fusel oil, as distinguished from heads and tails, are drawn from column stills and run into separate tanks, such aldehydes and fusel oil may not be mixed with brandy for the purpose of making such brandy eligible for destruction or denaturation free of tax.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.424 Application. Whenever the distiller desires to remove any distillate containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil to a denaturing plant for denaturation or to destroy it or to draw it into packages and store it in the brandy deposit room of the distillery pending removal for denaturation or destruction, he shall make application, in triplicate, to the district supervisor for permission so to do. The application will be made on Form 1577 if the distillate is to be destroyed immediately upon being drawn from the tanks in which collected, Form 1578 if the distillate is to be removed to a denaturing plant for denaturation immediately upon being drawn from the tanks in which collected, Form 1578–A if the distillate is to be drawn into packages and stored in the brandy deposit room pending removal for denaturation or destruction, or Form 1578–B if previously filled packages of the distillate are to be removed from the brandy deposit room for denaturation or destruction. Where the distiller desires to destroy brandy which is purportedly unfit for beverage purposes, he will make application to the district supervisor on Form 1577, in triplicate, properly modified, and shall specify the kind of brandy; the proof; the proof gallons; the name, address and registry number of the distillery; the date of distillation; serial numbers of the tanks or other receptacles in which such brandy is contained; and the condition of the brandy which renders it unfit for beverage purposes. Where a storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery, application on Form 1577, 1578, or 1578–A will be submitted through such officer. Application on Form 1578–B will, in all cases, be filed direct with the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.425 Samples by storekeeper-gauger. Where application on Form 1577, 1578, or 1578–A is submitted through the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the distillery, the storekeeper-gauger will, upon receipt of the application, inspect the distillate or brandy to determine the correctness of the distiller's statements. The officer will obtain a 1-pint sample or, if deemed necessary, a 1-quart sample, from each tank or other receptacle, label each sample for proper identification, note on each copy of the application the serial number of the sample, the serial number of the tank or other receptacle from which the samples were removed, and the date of removal. The samples will be forwarded, with a letter of transmittal, in duplicate, to the district chemist at the expense of the distiller. Where an application is filed for destruction of brandy unfit for beverage purposes, the storekeeper-gauger will prepare and forward to the district supervisor a report of the condition of the brandy as disclosed by his inspection. The inlet of each tank or receptacle must be closed and locked and the contents thoroughly agitated before a sample is taken. The inlet, outlet, and all other openings of the tank will be secured with Government locks pending analysis of the sample and action on the application.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.426 Analysis of samples. The district chemist will analyze each sample to determine the percentages of aldehydes or fusel oil and alcohol present in the distillates, or the condition of the brandy that would render it unfit for beverage purposes, and will submit to the district supervisor a report of his analysis, in duplicate.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.427 District supervisor's order to gauge. If the chemist's report shows that the distillate contains one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, or that the brandy is unfit for beverage purposes, the district supervisor will execute his order to the storekeeper-gauger on Form 1577, 1578, or 1578–A, directing him to gauge the distillate and supervise destruction thereof, or the removal thereof for shipment to the denaturing plant named in the application upon presentation of proper permit, or the storage thereof in packages in the brandy deposit room pending removal for denaturation or destruction, as the case may be; or, in the case of brandy found to be unfit for beverage purposes, directing the storekeeper-gauger to gauge such brandy and authorizing the destruction thereof by the distiller under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. The district supervisor will forward all copies of the application, with one copy of the chemist's report, to the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the distillery or detailed to visit the distillery for such purpose.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.428 Disapproval of application. If the report of the Government chemist shows that the distillate contains less than the required percentage of aldehydes or fusel oil, or that the brandy proposed for destruction is fit for beverage purposes, the district supervisor will disapprove the application and return one copy to the distiller and one copy to the storekeeper-gauger, if any, at the distillery, accompanied by a statement of the reasons for disapproval.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.429 Distillates or brandy not meeting requirements for denaturation or destruction. Where distillates are of insufficient proof for denaturation, or contain less than the required percentage of aldehydes or fusel oil, or where brandy proposed for destruction is found to be fit for beverage purposes, they may, for the purpose of further distillation, be returned to the still through pipelines constructed as provided in § 184.140. Should the distiller still desire to remove or destroy the distillates after such redistillation, a new application and new samples must be submitted in accordance with §§ 184.424 and 184.425.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.430 Gauge of distillate or brandy. The storekeeper-gauger will gauge the distillates authorized to be removed for denaturation or destruction, or the brandy authorized to be destroyed. The details of gauge will be entered on Form 1520 which will be prepared in triplicate if the brandy or the distillate is to be immediately destroyed or if the distillate is to be drawn into packages for storage in the brandy deposit room, and in quintuplicate if the distillate is to be immediately removed for denaturation. An extra copy of Form 1520 will be prepared when the distillate is to be shipped to a denaturing plant in another district.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.431 Marking and branding of packages. When the distillate is drawn into packages either for immediate removal for denaturation or for storage in the brandy deposit room pending removal for denaturation or destruction, such packages shall be marked and branded in the same manner as packages of other brandy are required to be marked and branded when removed from the distillery for deposit in a bonded warehouse, except that (a) the kind of brandy shall be designated by the words "Impure Spirits—For Denaturation," plainly and durably stenciled or marked on the head of the package in letters not less than three-fourths inch in height; (b) the phrase "Contains ------% Aldehydes," or "Contains ------% Fusel Oil," or "Contains ------% Aldehydes and ------% Fusel Oil," shall also be plainly and durably stenciled or marked on the head of the package following the words "Impure Spirits—For Denaturation"; and (c) the proof at which the brandy was distilled need not be placed upon the package. Where the distillate is to be stored in the brandy deposit room the words "For Denaturation" need not be placed upon the packages unless and until they are removed for shipment to a denaturing plant.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.432 Storage in packages. Such distillates drawn into packages for storage in the brandy deposit room will be immediately placed in such room. The storekeeper-gauger will then execute his report on Part 3 of all copies of Form 1578–A and will forward one copy of the form, with a copy of Form 1520 attached, to the district supervisor, retain one copy of each form on file, and deliver one copy of each to the distiller.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.433 Transfer to storage tanks. Distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes, or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, may be transferred by pipe line from the heads and tails tanks in which originally collected to heads and tails storage tanks in the brandy deposit room and stored therein pending removal for denaturation or destruction. Heads (aldehyde distillate) and tails (fusel oil distillate) may not be transferred to the same storage tank. The distillate may be transferred to storage tanks only after laboratory analysis, made by or for the distiller, of a representative sample of the contents of each tank to be transferred has shown that the distillate contains the required percentage of aldehydes or fusel oil. Reports of laboratory analyses shall be available for inspection by Government officers, and the distillates shall be transferred under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. Such distillates stored in tanks in the brandy deposit room shall be removed for destruction or denaturation pursuant to application on Form 1577 or Form 1578, in accordance with the procedure for the removal of such distillates from the tanks in which originally collected.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.434 Period of storage in brandy deposit room. Distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil stored in the brandy deposit room of the fruit distillery must be removed therefrom and shipped to a denaturating plant for denaturation or destroyed within 30 days after the suspension of distilling operations for the season or for a period of 30 days or more: Provided, That where the distillery is not so suspended the Commissioner may require removal of the distillate at such times as he may deem proper.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.435 Removal of previously filled packages. When the distiller desires to remove previously filled packages of such distillate from the brandy deposit room for destruction or for shipment to a denaturing plant for denaturation, he will file application therefor with the district supervisor on Form 1578–B, in triplicate as provided in § 184.424. If the application is approved, the district supervisor will execute his order on Part 2 thereof, and will forward or deliver all copies to the storekeeper-gauger or other Government officer designated to supervise the removal of the distillate for denaturation or destruction, as the case may be. Packages will not be regauged upon removal from the brandy deposit room for denaturation or destruction, unless they bear evidence of loss. Where the packages are removed on the filling gauge for denaturation, the storekeeper-gauger will prepare two copies of Form 1520 if the denaturing plant to which they are to be shipped is located in the same district, and three copies if it is located in another district. The necessary details will be copied from the report of the filling gauge. If any package is regauged upon removal from the brandy deposit room, the number of copies of Form 1520 specified in § 184.430 will be prepared.

(53 Stat. 346, 372, as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2916, 3170)

§ 184.436 Destruction of distillate or brandy. The distillate or brandy authorized to be destroyed may be run into the sewer or destroyed by other suitable means. The destruction must be accomplished under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger, who will then execute his report on Part 3 of Form 1577 or Part 3 of Form 1578–B, as the case may be, and will attach to each copy of Form 1577 a copy of the report of gauge. No copies of Form 1520 will be attached to Form 1578–B, except where packages bearing evidence of loss are regauged. The storekeeper-gauger will forward one copy of Form 1577, with Form 1520 attached, or Form 1578–B, to the district supervisor, retain one copy of each form on file and deliver one copy of each to the distiller.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.437 Release for denaturation. The distillate may be removed for shipment to a denaturing plant for denaturation pursuant to a special permit issued by the district supervisor on Form 1464, authorizing the denaturer to procure the same. The storekeeper-gauger will not release the distillate for shipment until the distiller has presented to him such special permit for examination. The distillate must be drawn into packages and gauged, marked, and branded as provided in §§ 184.430 and 184.431, unless previously so packaged for storage in the brandy deposit room, or gauged and run into railroad tank cars in accordance with the provisions of § 184.438, and immediately removed from the distillery premises, under the personal supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. When such impure brandy is removed from the distillery for denaturation it must, in each instance, be shipped to a denaturing plant. Such brandy may not be shipped to an alcohol plant or an alcohol bonded warehouse, nor may it after receipt at a denaturing plant be redistilled or used for any purpose other than for denaturation.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.438 Removal in tank cars. The removal of such distillate in railroad tank cars from the distillery to the denaturing plant for denaturation shall be in accordance with the procedure (insofar as applicable) and under the conditions governing the removal and transfer of other brandy in bond in such tank cars, as prescribed in this part. The markings prescribed in § 184.431, respecting the kind of brandy and the percentage of aldehydes or fusel oil therein, shall be added to the label the storekeeper-gauger is required to affix to such tank cars of brandy before they are released.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.439 Report of shipment to denaturing plant. When such distillates are released from the distillery for transportation to the denaturing plant, the storekeeper-gauger will execute his report on Part 3 of Form 1578 or Part 3 of Form 1578–B, as the case may be, and will attach to each copy of Form 1578 a copy of the report of gauge. No copies of Form 1520 will be attached to Form 1578–B, except where packages bearing evidence of loss are regauged. The storekeeper-gauger will forward one copy of Form 1578, with Form 1520 attached, or Form 1578–B, to the supervisor of the district from which the shipment is made, retain one copy of each form on file, deliver one copy of each form to the distiller, forward one copy of Form 1520 to the proprietor of the denaturing plant and one copy to the storekeeper-gauger at the denaturing plant. Where the denaturing plant is in another district the extra copy of Form 1520 provided for in §§ 184.430 and 184.435 will be forwarded to the supervisor of such district.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.440 Action at denaturing plant. Upon receipt at the denaturing plant the distillate will be inspected and gauged and the loss, if any, reported, in accordance with the provisions of Regulations 3 (26 CFR, Part 182).

§ 184.441 Losses of distillates or brandy. The procedure prescribed by §§ 184.650–184.660 will be followed in connection with losses of such distillates or brandy while on the premises of a registered fruit distillery. The liability of the distiller to tax on such distillates removed for denaturation shall continue until they have been deposited in the denaturing plant.

(53 Stat. 340 as amended, 346; 26 U. S. C. 2901, 2916)

§ 184.442 Use for denaturation. If the impure spirits are of improper proof for denaturation, they may be mixed with other spirits of higher proof at the denaturing plant in order to obtain the required proof for denaturation.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.443 Distiller's records. Distillates collected for destruction or for removal for denaturation, will be included by the distiller in the inventory of singlings reported on Form 15 until gauged and destroyed or removed for denaturation, whereupon appropriate entries will be made on such form covering the disposition of such distillates. After actual destruction the distiller will take appropriate credit at a special line on Form 15 for brandy authorized to be destroyed as unfit for beverage purposes. Distillates produced during one month may not be mixed with those produced in the succeeding month without prior ascertainment of the quantity on hand at the close of the month.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.444 District Supervisor's Account. An account of losses of distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil shall be kept on Form 1691. The account shall show all the information as indicated in the heading and by the various columns and as required by instructions issued in respect thereto and by this part.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

COLLECTION AND REMOVAL OF DISTILLED WATER

§ 184.445 Collection. If distilled water is collected at the distillery, it must be run into storage tanks provided in accordance with § 184.133, and retained therein until drawn off and removed as provided in §§ 184.446–184.448.

§ 184.446 Removal. Distilled water must be drawn off into barrels or other containers prior to removal from the distillery premises: Provided, That such water may be transferred off the distillery premises to contiguous plants operated under internal revenue laws, including tax-paid bottling houses, by means of an independent pipeline constructed and installed in accordance with the provisions of § 184.133. Distilled water must under no circumstances be drawn off or removed through the receiving room or brandy deposit room or bonded warehouse. Barrels or other wooden containers in which distilled spirits were previously packaged may not be used for the removal of distilled water.

§ 184.447 Marking of packages. If distilled water is drawn into packages for removal from the distillery premises, such packages must be marked by the distiller with his name, distillery number, location (city or town and State), the words "Distilled Water," and the date of removal, in distinct and legible letters.

§ 184.448 Supervision of removal. All distilled water when drawn into packages for removal or when removed by pipeline must be inspected by the storekeeper-gauger and removed under his immediate supervision. The distiller will note on Form 15 all removals of distilled water, including the name and address of the consignee.

COLLECTION TEST AND REMOVAL OF FUSEL OIL

§ 184.449 Collection. If fusel oil is collected at the distillery, it must be run into locked storage tanks provided for the purpose in accordance with § 184.129, and retained therein until tested and removed from the distillery premises or transferred to storage tanks. The test of fusel oil for the purpose of determining the presence of ethyl alcohol therein must be made in accordance with the requirements of §§ 184.452–184.455, or by such other method as may be prescribed by the Commissioner.

§ 184.450 Storage. Where fusel oil is transferred from the tanks in which it is collected in the course of distillation to storage tanks for temporary storage pending removal from the distillery premises, it must be tested as provided by § 184.449 immediately before being deposited in the storage tanks and immediately before being drawn therefrom into shipping containers.

§ 184.451 Removal. The removal of fusel oil from the distillery will be permitted upon compliance with the requirements of §§ 184.452 to 184.459.

§ 184.452 Washing and purifying. Where fusel oil is to be removed, it must first be thoroughly washed and purified and before being removed from the storage tank must be well mixed and a sample drawn from each tank into a test tube to be provided by the proprietor for use by the storekeeper-gauger in determining whether the oil is substantially free from alcohol.

§ 184.453 Test tube. The tube used in testing fusel oil prior to removal must be of glass, bulb-shaped, and closed at one end, having a graduated scale marked upon the glass in degrees from 0 near the top to 100 near the swell of the bulb. The bulb shall contain three times as much liquid as that portion of the tube which is graduated from 0 to 100.

§ 184.454 Test. In the testing of fusel oil prior to removal, after the tube has been filled with saturated salt solution up to the mark 100, oil shall be added until the tube is filled to the mark 0. The oil and saturated salt solution shall then be thoroughly mingled by violently agitating the contents of the tube. If, after sufficient time has been allowed for the oil to separate fully from the saturated salt solution and resume its position at the top of the tube, the scale shall show that not more than 10 degrees or 10 percent of the oil has disappeared or been dissolved in the saturated salt solution, the oil shall be passed as merchantable, that it to say, containing so small a quantity of alcohol as to remove all practical possibility of recovering the same, but if over 10 degrees of oil disappears, the oil shall not be considered as sufficiently purified, and may not be removed in that condition.

§ 184.455 Saturated salt solution. The saturated salt solution to be used in the testing of fusel oil must be a solution of common table salt in water, containing all the salt which the water is capable of dissolving. The solution is to be provided by the distiller.

§ 184.456 Containers. Fusel oil which meets the requirements of the prescribed test may be removed from the distillery in barrels, drums, or similar packages or tank cars. Packages containing such fusel oil shall be marked by the distiller with his name, distillery number, location (city or town and State), the words "Fusel Oil," and the date of removal, in distinct and legible letters. When removal is made in tank cars the distiller will affix to each car a label containing such data.

§ 184.457 Supervision. All fusel oil must be removed from the distillery under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

§ 184.458 Record of removal. The distiller will enter on his monthly return, Form 15, all removals of fusel oil, including the name and address of the consignee, and the percentage of loss shown upon the test of such oil. The storekeeper-gauger will prepare Form 1520 in triplicate covering removals of fusel oil. The storekeeper-gauger will give one copy of Form 1520 to the distiller, retain one copy and forward the remaining copy to the district supervisor.

§ 184.459 Disposition of water used for washing fusel oil. The water used for washing or purifying the oil in the tanks may be conveyed directly to the still, or it may be run into a tank or into the sewer, or it may be otherwise destroyed on the premises under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. If the wash water is run into the still or tank, the quantity will not be entered on Form 15. If the wash water is run into the sewer or otherwise destroyed, the alcoholic content and quantity will be reported on Form 1520 and included in the report of production on Form 15.

RECOVERY AND REMOVAL OF CARBON DIOXIDE

§ 184.460 Procedure. Carbon dioxide may be recovered from fermenters and removed from the distillery premises, provided it is first thoroughly washed or scrubbed and purified to remove the alcohol therefrom. Where carbon dioxide is recovered, the wash water may be collected in a tank and transferred by pipeline to a fermenter or to the distilling material sump, or measuring tank. Where the wash water is to be transferred to the distilling material sump after the calculated yield has been determined, the alcoholic content, the number of gallons, and the calculated yield thereof, will be determined and interlined in Part 1 of Form 15. An approved ebulliometer shall be used in determining the alcoholic content of the wash water. If the wash water is not utilized in the manufacture of brandy, it will be run into the sewer or otherwise destroyed on the premises under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. Entry of such disposition will not be made on Form 15.

SUBPART T—ADDITION OF BURNT SUGAR OR CARAMEL TO BRANDY

§ 184.470 Time of addition. Except as provided in § 184.474, fruit distillers desiring to add burnt sugar or caramel to brandy must do so prior to the time the brandy is gauged for removal from the distillery. The burnt sugar or caramel must be added in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger.

(53 Stat. 352 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3036)

§ 184.471 Sweetening properties. The burnt sugar or caramel added to brandy shall not contain any substantial quantity of sugar which has not been caramelized, or possess any material sweetening properties.

(53 Stat. 352 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3036)

§ 184.472 Method of adding burnt sugar or caramel. The burnt sugar or caramel may be added to the brandy while it is in the receiving tanks or in storage tanks in the brandy deposit room, or the brandy may be transferred to special tanks or vats and the burnt sugar or caramel added to the same therein. Where the brandy is transferred to special tanks or vats for the addition of burnt sugar or caramel thereto, such tanks or vats must be fitted with covers equipped for locking with Government locks, and such covers and other openings of the tanks or vats must be so locked unless the brandy is drawn into packages or removed by pipeline immediately in the presence of the storekeeper-gauger. The burnt sugar or caramel may be dissolved in a small quantity of hot water, or in a small quantity of brandy removed from the tank or vat for the purpose, before it is added to the bulk of the brandy in the tank or vat.

§ 184.473 Determination of proof of brandy. After the burnt sugar or caramel is added, the brandy in the tank will be thoroughly plunged and agitated and its proof then determined. The proof of the brandy will, however, be checked several times while the brandy is being drawn off. The proof so ascertained will be regarded as the proof of the brandy run into all the packages filled from the tank.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

§ 184.474 Addition to packages in warehouse. Burnt sugar or caramel may be added to packages of brandy in warehouse only where the brandy is unmerchantable by reason of being deficient in color and it is shown that the failure to properly color the brandy prior to the filling of the packages was due to no negligence or fault of the distiller. In such cases, application must be filed with the district supervisor by the distiller or warehouseman, showing the serial numbers of the barrels, the name of the producing distiller, and the necessity for the addition of the burnt sugar or caramel to the brandy. The district supervisor may permit the addition, under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger, of burnt sugar or caramel, conforming with § 184.471, to each of the barrels, after the brandy has been regauged for tax payment and prior to the purchase and affixing of the taxpaid stamps to the barrels.

(53 Stat. 352 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3036)

SUBPART U—BRANDY FOR REDISTILLATION

RECEIPTS FOR REDISTILLATION

§ 184.480 General. Brandy may be received at the distillery for redistillation, upon the showing of a need therefor, and pursuant to an approved application in accordance with §§ 184.481 and 184.482. Brandy of any proof may be received in approved containers, including tank cars, from the distillery cistern room of any other distillery; or by pipeline from the cistern room of a contiguous distillery; or in approved containers from any internal revenue bonded warehouse. Brandy of 160 degrees or more of proof may be received by pipeline from storage tanks in an internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the distillery premises or contiguous thereto, or in tank cars from any internal revenue bonded warehouse. Brandy received in tank cars may be transferred to tanks by means of a hose connection under the immediate supervision of a Government officer. The consignee distiller shall assume the liability for all taxes and liens on such brandy from the time it leaves the premises of the consignor's distillery or warehouse and, upon redistillation, the redistilled brandy shall be treated the same as if the brandy was originally produced by the redistiller and all prior obligations as to taxes and liens on such brandy shall be superseded.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

§ 184.481 Special application for permission to receive brandy for redistillation. A distiller desiring to receive brandy for redistillation shall make written application to the district supervisor of the district in which the applicant's distillery is located for permission to receive and redistill such brandy. Each such application shall be prepared in quadruplicate, serially numbered, beginning with No. 1, and contain the following information:

(a) The kind of brandy and the approximate date of production;

(b) The name, registry number and location of the producing distiller;

(c) Approximate proof of original distillation;

(d) The approximate quantity, proof and proof gallons of the brandy to be redistilled;

(e) The name, registry number and location of the distillery or warehouse from which such brandy will be removed;

(f) The serial numbers of packages, tanks or other receptacles in which such brandy is contained, if known;

(g) The method of transportation by which the brandy will be conveyed to the redistiller's premises;

(h) Statement of the process by which redistillation of the brandy will be accomplished, including any special treatment or process to be used;

(i) The type of brandy to be produced by the redistillation and approximate proof at which such brandy will be redistilled;

(j) The approximate period of time necessary to complete redistillation of all brandy covered by the application;

(k) Statement of condition and necessity for redistillation of the brandy:

The application may cover several lots of brandy or may be of a continuing nature for a stated period of time.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

§ 184.482 Action by district supervisor. Upon receipt of an application for permission to receive brandy for redistillation, the district supervisor will determine whether all required information has been furnished. If, in the opinion of the supervisor, the redistillation of the brandy is justified, he may authorize removal of the brandy subject to such conditions and restrictions as are deemed necessary for protection of the revenue. He will also determine whether the applicant distiller's bond, or consent of surety filed in support thereof, covers such removals, and that the penal sum of the bond thereof is sufficient, and will note the amount of the bond, if less than the maximum, and his approval on each copy of the application, retain one copy of the application, forward one copy to the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the applicant's premises, and forward the original and the remaining copy to the applicant. Where approval of an application is conditional or subject to restrictions, such conditions will be stipulated on the application at the time of approval by the supervisor. In case the application is disapproved, the supervisor will note his disapproval on each copy of the application with statements as to reason or reasons therefor, retain one copy of the application and return the remaining copies to the applicant.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 3170)

§ 184.483 Form 236. Upon receipt of an approved special application for permission to receive brandy for redistillation, the consignee distiller shall prepare application on Form 236, properly modified for that purpose, for transfer of such brandy, and will enter thereon the serial number and date of the special application authorizing such removal. Where the special application covers removal of several lots of brandy for redistillation over an extended period of time, it will involve the use of multiple sets of Form 236; however, in no case shall the total quantity represented by the Forms 236, singly or collectively, exceed the maximum quantity of brandy stated in the approved special application covering such removals. Where the consignor distillery or warehouse is located in the same supervisory district, the original and five copies of the Form 236 will be prepared and delivered to the storekeeper-gauger; the original and six copies if the consignor distillery or warehouse is located in a different district. The storekeeper-gauger will execute his certificate on all copies of the Form 236, indicating that the distiller's bond is sufficient to cover the redistillation of the brandy described, pursuant to the district supervisor's notation as to bond coverage on the special application and will return all copies to the distiller. The distiller will forward all copies of the approved Form 236 and one copy of the approved special application to the consignor distiller or warehouseman.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

§ 184.484 Quantity to be determined at time of receipt. Where brandy for redistillation is received in approved containers, including tank cars, the actual quantity received will be ascertained by appropriate gauge. Where brandy for redistillation is received in packages, such packages, including char and chips if any, shall be thoroughly rinsed and the rinse water added to the brandy before gauging. Such char and chips will be disposed of in accordance with § 184.403. Immediately upon ascertaining the quantity received the brandy will be transferred to tanks conforming to § 184.125, or introduced into the distilling system where the redistillation is to be accomplished simultaneously with primary distillation of other distilling materials. Where brandy for redistillation is introduced directly into the distilling system, the system must be locked and sealed in such a manner as to prevent access to its contents: Provided, That where small quantities of brandy for redistillation are to be mingled with fermented material in a fermenter, charger or sump, locking facilities will not be required where the volume of brandy is less than five percent of the volume of fermented material. Such brandy received in tank cars may be conveyed directly into the weighing tank in the distillery for gauging prior to deposit in the tanks or distilling system. Brandy received by pipeline for redistillation from a contiguous distillery or warehouse must be deposited directly into tanks on the redistiller's premises. Brandy produced from different type materials, such as grapes, apples, or peaches, must be deposited in separate tanks and redistilled separately or introduced into the distilling system with the same type of distilling material from which such brandy was originally produced: Provided, That such restrictions shall not apply to brandy which is to be redistilled and branded as "Neutral Spirits-Fruit" or "Spirits-Fruit" and which is not to be used (and may not under any circumstances be used) for the fortification of wine. The storekeeper-gauger shall note the quantity received in proof gallons on each copy of the gauge report covering transfer of the brandy and use such information in the verification of entries in monthly records and reports, as to the quantity and type of distilling material thus received.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

§ 184.485 Losses in transit of brandy received for redistillation. Where the gauge of brandy received for redistillation discloses deficiencies between the shipping and receiving gauges that cannot be attributed to normal transit losses or variation in gauge the applicable procedure prescribed by §§ 184.650–184.660 will be followed. In all cases the actual quantity of brandy received for redistillation and the quantity lost in transit, as indicated by comparison of the shipping and receiving gauges, will be entered by the storekeeper-gauger on the Form 236 and Form 1520 covering transfer of each lot of brandy received for redistillation. The storekeeper-gauger will retain one copy each of Forms 236 and 1520, give one copy each of Forms 236 and 1520 to the distiller and forward one copy each of such forms to his district supervisor in the case of intradistrict transfers, two copies of Form 236 and one copy of Form 1520 in the case of interdistrict transfers, in which case the district supervisor will forward the extra copy of Form 236 to the supervisor-consignor.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

§ 184.486 Redistillation of brandy. Brandy received at a fruit distillery for redistillation must be redistilled as expeditiously as normal distilling operations will permit. The brandy introduced into the distilling system shall be entered in proof gallons according to type (as defined in §§ 184.573–184.575) by the distiller on his record of materials used. Where brandy received for redistillation is mingled with wine or fermented material prior to introduction into the distilling system, such mingling must be made prior to the testing of the material for alcoholic strength. Where such brandy is transferred to the charger or sump after the calculated yield has been determined, the actual quantity of brandy in proof gallons so transferred will be reported separately as calculated yield. Brandy received for redistillation may be treated in any manner during the course of redistillation, provided such treatment is included in the statement of process filed pursuant to § 184.191. Different types of brandy received for redistillation must be redistilled separately or with distilling material of, or produced from, the same type as that from which the brandy was originally produced: Provided, That such restrictions shall not apply to brandy which is to be redistilled and branded as "Neutral Spirits-Fruit" or "Spirits-Fruit" and which is not to be used (and may not under any circumstances be used) for the fortification of wine. Such brandy may not be redistilled at a proof lower than that specified for the class and type at which originally produced. Where brandy for redistillation is on hand at the time the distillery is qualified for alternate operations as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery, such brandy will be gauged and held in closed locked tanks until the distillery requalifies as a fruit distillery, as provided for in this part.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

§ 184.487 Deficiencies in redistillation. Deficiencies which occur during the redistillation of brandy received for that purpose will be treated the same as those which occur during the process of original distillation. In any case where the deficiency in redistillation of any particular lot or lots of brandy exceeds that which may be attributed to normal redistillation deficiencies, the distiller will submit explanatory statements relative to such deficiencies with Form 15. The storekeeper-gauger will make proper inquiry and appropriate investigation to determine the cause thereof.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 2901)

§ 184.488 Deposit in receiving tanks. Upon completion of redistillation of brandy received for that purpose, the redistilled brandy shall be treated the same as if such brandy was originally produced by the redistiller and deposited in the receiving tanks in accordance with the requirements of § 184.404. Where such brandy was redistilled separately, a comparison of actual and calculated yield will be made in accordance with the provisions of § 184.405. Such brandy shall be withdrawn from the receiving tanks in the same manner as other brandy originally produced at the distillery and may be withdrawn for any of the purposes authorized by this part.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883)

REMOVALS FOR REDISTILLATION

§ 184.489 Gauge of brandy. Upon receipt of application, Form 236, and the copy of the special application authorizing removal, the distiller, when he desires to make shipment, will give a copy of Form 236, furnish a complete description of the brandy to be shipped and exhibit the approved application to the storekeeper-gauger. Where the brandy is removed to a contiguous distillery by pipeline, it may be gauged in weighing tanks either before removal or upon receipt. The storekeeper-gauger will verify the information shown on Form 236 with the corresponding information on the application. He will prepare his report of gauge on Form 1520. An orginal and four copies will be prepared for intradistrict shipments and an original and five copies for interdistrict shipments. The marking of containers will be made in accordance with §§ 184.569–184.576 insofar as applicable, and in addition to required transfer-in-bond markings for containers of brandy removed for redistillation, there will be stenciled thereon the words, "For Redistillation." The storekeeper-gauger will note on all gauge reports covering removal of brandy for redistillation the words, "For Redistillation," followed by the serial number and date of the special application authorizing such removal. Brandy may not be removed for redistillation until the proper authorization has been received at the consignor premises and exhibited to the storekeeper-gauger in charge who will determine that the quantity of brandy to be removed does not exceed the maximum stated in any particular application on Form 236 or the related special application, and, where previous removals have been made under the same special application, that the total of such removals are not in excess of the maximum quantity authorized by the special application. Forms 236 and 1520 will be disposed of in accordance with § 184.612 for intradistrict transfers and § 184.620 for interdistrict transfers.

§ 184.490 Records. Brandy removed from a fruit distillery to another distillery for redistillation shall be reported and accounted for by the proprietor on Form 15. In addition, there shall be entered on the line where each such entry for withdrawal is shown, the notation, "For Redistillation," followed by the serial number and date of the special application authorizing the transfer of the brandy for redistillation.

(53 Stat. 335, as amended, 373; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 3171)

SUBPART V—THE TAX ON BRANDY AND OTHER DISTILLED SPIRITS

§ 184.495 Rate of tax. The law imposes a tax on distilled spirits produced in or imported into the United States at the rate prescribed therein on each proof gallon, or wine gallon when below proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon, to be paid when withdrawn from bond.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.496 Attachment of tax. Under the law, the tax attaches to distilled spirits as soon as such substance comes into existence as such, whether it be subsequently separated as pure or impure spirit, or be immediately, or at any subsequent time, transferred into any other substance, either in the process of original production or by any subsequent process.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.497 Persons liable for tax. The law provides that every proprietor or possessor of, and every person in any manner interested in the use of, any still, distillery, or distilling apparatus, shall be jointly and severally liable for the taxes imposed by law on the distilled spirits produced therefrom.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

LIEN FOR TAX ON DISTILLED SPIRITS

§ 184.498 Tax to be first lien. Except as provided in § 184.500, the tax on distilled spirits becomes, under the law, a first lien on the spirits distilled, the distillery used for distilling the same, the stills, vessels, fixtures, and tools therein, the lot or tract of land whereon said distillery is situated, an on any building thereon, from the time said spirits are in existence as such until the tax is paid: Provided, That where spirits are removed for redistillation, the consignee distiller shall assume the liability for payment of the tax as to such spirits from the time they leave the internal revenue bonded warehouse or distillery, and the tax liability on the producing distiller or the warehouseman, and the liens on the premises of the producing distiller shall cease, and the tax and liens shall become the liabiilty of the consignee distiller. Upon redistillation of such spirits, the redistilled spirits shall be treated the same as if the spirits had been originally produced by the redistiller and all prior obligations as to taxes and liens shall be superseded.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2883)

§ 184.499 Assessments become lien. Except as provided in § 184.500, all assessments made by the Commissioner, upon examination of the distiller's monthly return, become a lien from the time the assessment is made until the same shall have been paid, on all distilled spirits on the distillery premises, the distillery used for distilling the same, the stills, vessels, fixtures, and tools therein, the tract of land whereon the said distillery is located, and any building thereon.

(53 Stat. 323; 26 U. S. C. 2846)

§ 184.500 Exemption from lien. No lien attaches to any lot or tract of land, distillery, building, or distilling apparatus by reason of distilling done during any period included within the term of any bond taken on Form 3–A, pursuant to § 184.176.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.501 Extinguishment of lien. Any lien under section 2800 (e) (1), I. R. C., on any land, or any building thereon, shall be held to be extinguished if (a) such land and building are no longer used for distillery purposes, and (b) there is no outstanding liability for taxes or penalties imposed by law on the distilled spirits produced therein, and (c) no litigation is pending in respect to any such tax or penalty.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.502 Certificate of discharge of lien. Any person claiming any interest in any such land or building may apply to the district supervisor for a duly acknowledged certificate to the effect that such lien is discharged and, if the district supervisor determines that any such lien is extinguished, he shall issue such certificate, and any such certificate may be recorded.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 3170)

SUBPART W—WITHDRAWAL OF SAMPLES OF BRANDY

§ 184.510 Authority. The law makes provision for the withdrawal, under the provisions of this part, of suitable samples of brandy or fruit spirits, tax-free if for laboratory analysis, and taxpaid if for any other use.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

TAX-FREE SAMPLES FOR LABORATORY ANALYSIS

§ 184.511 Unfinished brandy. Upon approval by the storekeeper-gauger in charge at the distillery, or by the district supervisor when no storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery, of an application submitted in accordance with the provisions of §§ 184.516, 184.517, or 184.518, the distiller may remove for laboratory analysis samples of brandy in the course of distillation and prior to the deposit in receiving tanks as shown in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section:

(a) Samples, not exceeding three pints in the aggregate, of the product of each still in a distilling unit in each 24-hour period;

(b) Where a discontinuous or batch still is operated, samples not exceeding three pints in the aggregate, of the product of each batch distilled;

(c) Where the distiller desires to obtain spot-samples from various plates of a still in the course of distilling a day's production, samples, not exceeding one quart in the aggregate, from each of the various plates.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.512 Finished brandy. Upon approval by the storekeeper-gauger in charge at the distillery, or by the district supervisor when no storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery, of a written application filed in accordance with the provisions of §§ 184.516, 184.517, or 184.518, the distiller may remove for laboratory analysis samples of brandy from receiving tanks and tanks or packages in the brandy deposit room. Such samples shall not exceed:

(a) One quart in the aggregate, in any 24-hour period from any receiving tank;

(b) One quart from any filling of a tank in the brandy deposit room; and

(c) One pint from any package stored in the brandy deposit room.

Provided, That, when a receiving tank is filled and emptied and filled again in the same 24-hour period, samples, not to exceed 1 quart in the aggregate, may be taken from each filling of such receiving tank.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.513 Size and number. The size and number of samples of unfinished brandy, must be restricted to the minimum necessary for the purpose for which intended. The withdrawal of tax-free samples in excess of these limitations for labortory analysis shall not be permitted unless it is shown that such samples are insufficient for the purpose intended and the Commissioner, upon receipt of a written application filed in accordance with the provisions of § 184.518, authorizes the taking of additional samples.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.514 Disposition of samples. Tax-free samples must be used solely for laboratory analysis. Such samples may not be furnished to salesmen and dealers for advertising or soliciting purposes. Where brandy is sold subject to approval as to quality, a sample taken pursuant to the provisions of §§ 184.512, 184.513, and 184.516–184.523 may be furnished the purchaser. Remnants or residues of tax-free samples remaining after analysis and which are not desired to be retained as laboratory specimens or fer further analysis or examination should be returned to the vessels in the distilling system, unless the condition of the remnants or residues is such as to render them unsuitable for such disposition. If such remnants or residues of samples are unsuitable for return to the distilling system, they should be destroyed.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

TAX-PAID SAMPLES FOR OTHER THAN LABORATORY ANALYSIS

§ 184.515 Unfinished and finished brandy. Upon approval by the storekeeper-gauger in charge at the distillery of an application submitted in accordance with the provisions of § 184.516, the distiller may take samples of brandy in the course of distillation in the distillery, or from the receiving tanks, or from tanks or packages in the brandy deposit room, for other than laboratory analysis, subject to payment of tax on the quantity so removed. Such samples must be used strictly for sample purposes, and the number and size of the samples must be restricted to that necessary for bona fide sample purposes.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

§ 184.516 Application to the storekeeper-gauger in charge. When the distiller desires samples of brandy which, under the provisions of §§ 184.511, 184.512, and 184.515, may be authorized by a storekeeper-gauger and one is assigned to the premises, application, in triplicate shall be submitted to that officer. The application shall be given a serial number beginning with "1" for the first application and running consecutively thereafter. The application should specify whether the samples are desired for laboratory analysis tax-free or for other purposes subject to payment of tax, the reasons why the samples are desired, the number and size of the samples to be taken, and the place or places of removal. Where it is desired to take samples from the distillery regularly for laboratory analysis, except spot-samples from the plates of a still, the application may be made for that purpose. Where spot-samples from the plates of a still or samples subject to payment of tax are desired, the application shall be submitted each day such samples are to be procured. No samples may be taken until the application is approved.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.517 Application to the district supervisor. When samples similar to those described in § 184.516 are desired and no storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the premises the distiller shall make application, in triplicate, to the district supervisor. The application shall be given a serial number within the series prescribed in § 184.516 and shall show the information required by such section. No samples may be taken until the application is approved.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.518 Application to the Commissioner. When the distiller desires samples other than those which, under the provisions of §§ 184.511, 184.512, and 184.515, may be authorized by the storekeeper-gauger he shall make application, in quadruplicate, through the district supervisor to the Commissioner. The application shall be given a serial number within the series prescribed in § 184.516 and shall show the information required by such section. The application must show the necessity for samples in number or quantities in excess of those which may be authorized by the storekeeper-gauger. The district supervisor shall satisfy himself as to the need for samples, note his recommendations on each copy of the application and forward all copies to the Commissioner. No sample may be taken until the application is approved.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.519 Approval of application by the storekeeper-gauger in charge at the distillery. Upon receipt of an application submitted in accordance with the provisions of § 184.516, the storekeeper-gauger must satisfy himself as to the need for the number of samples desired and the legitimacy of the purpose for which they are to be used before approving the application. The storekeeper-gauger upon approval or disapproval of an application, shall return one copy to the distiller, forward one copy to the district supervisor, and retain the original copy in his office.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.520 Approval of application by the district supervisor. Upon receipt of an application submitted in accordance with the provisions of § 184.517, the district supervisor must satisfy himself as to the need for the number of samples desired and the legitimacy of the purpose for which they are to be used before approving the application, and shall note upon each copy his approval or disapproval. If the application is approved he shall file a copy and furnish the original and remaining copy to the Government officer assigned to supervise the withdrawal of the samples. At the time samples are withdrawn the Government officer shall file the original copy of the application at the distillery and furnish the distiller the remaining copy. If the application is disapproved, the district supervisor shall file the original copy and return the remaining copies to the distiller.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.521 Approval of application by the Commissioner. Upon approval or disapproval of an application by the Commissioner, the original and two copies shall be returned to the district supervisor. If the application is approved, the district supervisor shall file a copy and furnish the original and remaining copy to the Government officer assigned to supervise the withdrawal of the samples. At the time samples are withdrawn, the Government officer shall file the original copy of the application at the distillery and furnish the distiller the remaining copy. If the application is disapproved, the district supervisor shall file the original copy and return the remaining copies to the distiller.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.522 Removal under supervision. All samples must be taken under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the distillery or a Government officer assigned to supervise the removal of such samples. When there is no Government officer assigned to the distillery and the application is transmitted to the district supervisor pursuant to the provisions of § 184.517, the district supervisor shall authorize the taking of the samples at such time as officers visit the distillery to gauge brandy, make inspections, etc., unless in his opinion, the circumstances are such as to warrant the detailing of an officer especially to permit the distiller to obtain samples.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.523 Label. At the time of the withdrawal of a sample the proprietor shall prepare a label and a copy thereof. The label and the copy shall be prepared on paper having approximate dimensions of 3" x 5". The proprietor shall show on the label and on the copy, in the order listed and upon separate lines, the information required in paragraphs (a) to (h) of this section:

(a) The word "Sample";

(b) The serial number of the approved application covering the withdrawal of the sample;

(c) The kind of brandy;

(d) The place from which the sample was removed;

(e) The name of the distiller followed by the registered number of the distillery and the name of the State in which located;

(f) A statement showing the purpose for which the sample is intended;

(g) The size of the sample and the quantity in proof gallons extended to the fourth decimal place; and

(h) If the sample is to be analyzed or used at other than the immediate or contiguous premises of the proprietor, the name and address of the laboratory or purchaser to which the sample is to be sent.

Upon completion, the label and the copy shall be presented to the storekeeper-gauger, who shall verify the accuracy of the data thereon, date and sign both copies, and supervise the affixing of the label to the sample container. Where the label is to be placed upon a container of a sample taken subject to payment of tax for other than laboratory purposes, the storekeeper-gauger shall write upon the copy of the label the words "subject to tax payment." The copy of the label shall be filed by the storekeeper-gauger in accordance with the provisions of § 184.524. The distiller shall not be required to affix red strip stamps to containers of taxable samples of brandy.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.524 Office record. The proprietor shall furnish sufficient file cases for the filing and retention of sample records. The copies of labels shall be kept by the storekeeper-gauger as a record of samples removed, and shall be filed numerically by application number and chronologically by date. If the distiller operates an internal revenue bonded warehouse on or contiguous to the distillery premises, the record of samples removed from the distillery shall be maintained separately from the record of samples removed from the warehouse.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

§ 184.525 Report of taxable samples. Each day taxable samples of brandy are withdrawn, the storekeeper-gauger shall enter on Form 1615, in quadruplicate, a record of the taxable samples removed. All the information called for by the form shall be furnished. At the end of each month, the storekeeper-gauger shall complete the report, retain one copy of the form, and deliver the remaining three copies to the distiller, who shall forward the three copies to the collector with remittance for the tax due. The collector shall execute his certificate of taxpayment on each copy of the form, retain one copy, and return the remaining two copies to the distiller, who will retain one copy and deliver the other copy to the storekeeper-gauger. The storekeeper-gauger shall note the tax payment on his retained copy and forward the other copy to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 353; 26 U. S. C. 3037)

SUBPART X—TAX-PAYMENT, REMOVAL, AND TRANSFER OF BRANDY FROM DISTILLERY

REMOVALS FROM RECEIVING TANKS

§ 184.535 For transfer to internal revenue bonded warehouses. Brandy may be removed to internal revenue bonded warehouses as follows:

(a) At any proof:

(1) By pipeline direct to tanks in the internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the distillery premises;

(2) In approved containers for deposit in any internal revenue bonded warehouse for storage in such approved containers;

(3) In tank cars for deposit in any internal revenue bonded warehouse for storage in such containers; and

(4) In wooden packages, each containing two or more metallic cans having a capacity of not less than 5 wine gallons each, for the purpose of exportation only.

(b) At 160 degrees or more of proof (without or subsequent to reduction to not less than 160 degrees of proof):

(1) By pipeline direct to tanks in an internal revenue bonded warehouse contiguous to the distillery premises; and

(2) In tank cars to any internal revenue bonded warehouse for deposit in tanks therein.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2878, 2883)

§ 184.536 For temporary storage in brandy deposit room. Brandy may be placed in the brandy deposit room for temporary storage, pending removal from the distillery, as follows:

(a) In approved containers; and

(b) In storage tanks.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.537 For transfer to bonded wineries. Brandy for fortifying wine may be removed as follows:

(a) By pipeline to tanks in the fortifying room of a bonded winery on contiguous premises;

(b) In tank cars to any bonded winery; and

(c) In approved containers to any bonded winery.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 335 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2883, 3033)

§ 184.538 For exportation. Brandy of a proof of not less than 180 degrees may be removed in tank cars free of tax for exportation. Brandy of any proof may be removed to an internal revenue bonded warehouse in wooden packages, each containing two or more metallic cans having a capacity of not less than 5 wine gallons each, for exportation only.

(53 Stat. 323, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2888)

§ 184.539 For redistillation. Brandy of any proof may be removed for redistillation upon the showing of the need therefor in accordance with § 184.480. Such brandy may be removed as follows:

(a) By pipeline to a contiguous registered distillery or registered fruit distillery; and

(b) In approved containers, including tank cars, to any registered distillery or registered fruit distillery.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2883)

§ 184.540 Upon taxpayment. Brandy, upon taxpayment, may be removed as follows:

(a) By pipeline to a contiguous tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant; and

(b) In approved containers, including tank cars and tank trucks.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2883)

§ 184.541 Proof of brandy. Brandy, as defined in these regulations, may be produced, warehoused, and withdrawn at any desired proof: Provided, That brandy transferred into tank cars for exportation, free of tax, must be not less than 180 degrees proof. All packages of brandy must be marked and branded as to kinds (class and type) in accordance with §§ 184.573 to 184.575.

(53 Stat. 333, 339; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2888)

§ 184.542 Prompt removal required. Brandy must be removed from receiving tanks at frequent intervals when a storekeeper-gauger is present to gauge the same. Receiving tanks are not intended to be used for storage purposes and the retention of brandy in such tanks for an indefinite period will not be permitted. Since the brandy produced is not gauged until it is drawn from the receiving tanks, it is necessary that prompt action in this respect be taken to determine the liability of the distiller for taxes which, under the law, immediately attach to all brandy produced.

STORAGE IN AND REMOVAL FROM BRANDY DEPOSIT ROOM

§ 184.543 Storage. Unless the brandy produced is tax-paid or transferred to a fruit or registered distillery or internal revenue bonded warehouse or winery immediately upon being drawn from the receiving tanks and gauged, it must be temporarily stored in the brandy deposit room pending such disposition. However, where brandy is drawn into packages from receiving or storage tanks in the brandy deposit room, the packages must be removed from such room on the same day they are filled, or before other packages are filled therein, unless a separate room is provided in the brandy deposit room in accordance with the provisions of § 184.91, and all packages retained for temporary storage are placed in such room.

§ 184.544 Other use. When no brandy is stored in the brandy deposit room, the distiller may be permitted to use the room for other authorized purposes.

§ 184.545 Rooms to be locked. The brandy deposit room and the filled package storeroom, if any, must be kept securely locked at all times while brandy is stored in such rooms, except when necessary to be open for the receipt or removal of brandy. The entrance door of the brandy deposit room and of the filled package storeroom, if any, must each be secured with a seal lock, the key to which will at all times be retained in the custody of the storekeeper-gauger, if any, assigned to the distillery, or the district supervisor or other Government officer designated by him. All manheads, inlets, outlets, or other openings of receiving and storage tanks in the brandy deposit room must likewise be secured with Government locks while brandy is contained therein.

§ 184.546 Removal. Brandy placed in the brandy deposit room or in the filled package storeroom, if any, must be tax-paid or removed to a fruit or registered distillery or to an internal revenue bonded warehouse or to a winery on or before the 10th day of the month following that in which it was produced, as provided in § 184.548. Removals of brandy from the brandy deposit room will be in accordance with the provisions of § 184.535 (except par. (a) (4)) and §§ 184.537, 184.539, and 184.540.

(Sec. 2, Act of March 3, 1877)

§ 184.547 Use of brandy deposit room. The brandy deposit room must be used exclusively for the deposit and temporary storage of brandy, or distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil to be removed for denaturation or destruction, or both brandy and such distillates, except that when the room is not devoted to such use, or when all brandy therein is in a separate locked room as provided in § 184.543, the Government locks may be removed from the doors and other openings thereof and the distiller permitted to use the room for other authorized purposes. When the brandy deposit room is used for other purposes, the door, if any, connecting such room with the receiving room must be kept closed and locked, unless the distillery operations have been suspended pursuant to notice on Form 124, as provided in Subpart CC of this part, and all spirits have been removed from the receiving room.

TIME OF REMOVAL FROM DISTILLERY

§ 184.548 Date tax is due. The tax on all brandy produced is due and payable on the 10th day of the month following the month of production, unless removed for deposit in an internal revenue bonded warehouse, or for transfer to a winery, or for transfer to a distillery for redistillation, or, if not less than 180 degrees of proof, removed for exportation on or before such date.

(Sec. 2, Act of March 3, 1877)

§ 184.549 Request for assignment of officer. Where a storekeeper-gauger is not assigned regularly to a distillery, the distiller shall request the district supervisor to assign an officer to gauge the brandy produced in ample time to permit removal on or before the 10th day of the following month. Upon receipt of such request the district supervisor will promptly assign an officer to gauge the brandy.

§ 184.550 Assessment of tax. The removal to a bonded warehouse or winery of brandy on which the tax is overdue will not be permitted, unless the failure to gauge and remove the brandy on or before the 10th day of the month following the month of production is due to no fault of the distiller. Where the distiller fails to provide proper facilities for gauging, or to make a timely request as provided in § 184.549 for the assignment of a storekeeper-gauger to gauge the brandy, the tax will be reported by the district supervisor to the Commissioner for assessment, unless it is immediately paid to the collector by the distiller.

(53 Stat. 442; 26 U. S. C. 3640)

CONTAINERS

§ 184.551 Packages. Brandy may be drawn from receiving tanks, or from storage tanks in the brandy deposit room, into casks, barrels, or similar wooden packages, or into drums or similar metal packages, having a capacity of not less than 10 wine gallons each. The construction of wooden packages for exportation as provided by § 184.535 (a) (4), and the filling, marking, and branding thereof, must conform to the requirements of §§ 184.554–184.558.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2873)

§ 184.552 Tank cars. Brandy may, as provided in §§ 184.535 and 184.537–184.540, be drawn into tank cars for removal, but only in case the premises of the distiller and of the consignee are equipped with suitable railroad siding facilities. Where brandy is to be warehoused in tank cars, a railroad siding must extend into the receiving warehouse.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.553 Tank wagons and tank trucks. Except as authorized by § 184.540, the transportation of brandy in tank wagons or tank trucks will not be permitted. Brandy authorized to be removed upon taxpayment in tank trucks, pursuant to § 184.540, shall be gauged, taxpaid, removed, shipped, etc., in accordance with the procedure prescribed by this part for the removal of taxpaid brandy in tank cars.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2878, 2883)

WOODEN PACKAGES CONTAINING METALLIC CANS

§ 184.554 Kind and construction of packages. The wooden packages for exportation provided for by § 184.535 (a) (4) shall be substantially and securely constructed of clear, dressed lumber, and one side of each such package, to be known as the Government side, must be reserved for the marks and brands prescribed by § 184.558 and the export stamp required by Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185). The Government side must present a smooth and unbroken surface, and may consist of two or more pieces fitted closely together. The wooden packages shall be secured by metal straps or heavy wires, in addition to being securely nailed.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

§ 184.555 Notice by distiller. Whenever brandy is to be exported in wooden packages, each containing two or more metallic cans, the distiller shall file with the storekeeper-gauger a written notice, stating the number of cans which he desires to have filled for this purpose.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

§ 184.556 Packages to be weighed before filling. The empty packages shall be weighed immediately preceding the filling of same. In determining the weight (tare) of the package, the metallic cans contained therein as well as the wooden case shall be weighed. The combined weight of the metallic cans and the case shall be the tare or weight to be marked on the empty package.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

§ 184.557 Filling of cans. Upon receipt of the notice from the distiller pursuant to § 184.555 the storekeeper-gauger will supervise the filling of the metallic cans from the receiving cistern. After the packages have been filled they will be reweighed and the details of the gauge reported on Form 1520.

§ 184.558 Marks and brands. The name of the distiller or the person in whose name the brandy was produced, the registry number of the distillery, the city or town, and state in which the distillery is located, the kind of brandy the serial number of the package, the date of filling, and the proof, proof gallons and tare determined at the time of filling will be plainly and durably stenciled on the Government side of the package in letters not less than one-half inch in height. In addition, when the brandy is to be withdrawn for transfer in bond to an internal revenue bonded warehouse located on a noncontiguous premise, there shall be marked on the Government side of the package data showing the transfer date and premises to which transferred as "Trans. Sept. 1, 1950—IRBW 4 N. Y." The marks will be shown in the following manner:

Serial No. 999
JOHN DOE DISTILLING CO.
No. 9, Rockland, Penna.
Filled Sept. 1, 1950
Brandy
T. ------
P. ------
P. G. ----
Trans. 9-1-50
IRBW 4—N. Y.

§ 184.559 Deposit in warehouse. After the packages have been filled, gauged, and marked as required by this subpart and recorded as required by § 184.775 they will be deposited in an internal revenue bonded warehouse for temporary storage pending their removal for exportation.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

DRAWING OFF, GAUGING AND REMOVAL OF BRANDY

§ 184.560 Drawing off brandy. When brandy is to be drawn from a receiving tank, the storekeeper-gauger will see that the valve in the pipeline controlling the flow of brandy into the tank and the valve in any connecting overflow pipeline are closed and locked before the brandy in the tank is reduced and proofed, and that such valves remain closed and locked until all brandy has been drawn from the tank. Whenever brandy is to be drawn from receiving tanks or transferred into or out of other tanks secured with Government locks, the storekeeper-gauger will open and close the locks, but it shall be the duty of the distiller to manipulate the stopcocks or valves controlling the flow of brandy. The storekeeper-gauger is required to be present and personally supervise all such operations and to see that all such operations are properly performed in accordance with this part.

§ 184.561 Gauging of brandy. All brandy drawn from receiving tanks will be carefully gauged by the storekeeper-gauger by weighing and proofing the brandy in accordance with this subpart and the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186), and the details thereof entered on the report of gauge, Form 1520. Entries shall be made as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines and in accordance with the instructions printed on the form or issued in respect thereto and as required by this part. The storekeeper-gauger shall, in every instance, note on Form 1520 the proof of distillation of the brandy gauged. The proof of brandy shall be adjusted to a whole or complete degree before being removed from the receiving tanks: Provided, That where brandy is to be removed by pipeline or tank car directly to a bonded winery for the fortification of wine, such adjustment to a whole or complete degree of proof will not be required. The brandy in the receiving tank must be thoroughly agitated before taking the proof. The proof so ascertained will be regarded as the proof of brandy run into all packages filled from the receiving tank and all brandy removed by pipeline or in tank cars. However, the proof of the brandy in the receiving tank will be checked several times while brandy is being drawn off. Brandy to be transferred by pipeline or in tank cars for shipment will be gauged in a weighing tank as provided in § 184.562.

(53 Stat. 307, 333, 335 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 2808, 2878, 2883, 4017)

§ 184.562 Weighing brandy removed by pipeline. Brandy removed by pipeline must be weighed in weighing tanks before removal, except that where it is transferred by pipeline from the receiving tanks to a bonded warehouse on the distillery premises, or to the fortifying room of a winery on contiguous premises, or to a contiguous distillery for redistillation, and no weighing tank is provided in the producing distillery, the brandy may be run into weighing tanks in the bonded warehouse or the fortifying room or the receiving distillery and weighed therein. The brandy must, in any event, be weighed once in connection with its removal. Brandy transferred from distillery receiving tanks to storage tanks in the brandy deposit room, or from such receiving or storage tanks to tank cars, must be gauged in weighing tanks prior to such transfer. The storekeeper-gauger will balance the weighing tank scales before the brandy is run into the weighing tank.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2878, 2883)

§ 184.563 Testing tank scales.—(a) Not over 500 gallons. Scales used for weighing brandy in lots of not over 500 gallons (where test weights have been provided in accordance with § 184.123) will be tested from time to time under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger by means of such test weights. Such scales will be tested by placing the prescribed test weights on the scales and checking the weight registered on the beam of the scales. The test weights will then be removed without disturbing the beam and the weighing tank filled with brandy or water to the same weight, whereupon the test weights will again be placed upon the scales, the brandy or water being retained in the tank and the weight registered on the beam checked. This operation will then be continued until the scales have been checked in 500-pound ranges at all weights for which the scales are used.

(b) Over 500 gallons. Proprietors will have scales used for weighing brandy in larger lots tested and their accuracy certified by State, county, or city departments of weights and measures or by a responsible scale company at intervals of not more than 6 months. Officers will see that the proprietors have the scales of weighing tanks, used for weighing brandy in lots of more than 500 gallons, tested and their accuracy certified by State, county, or city departments of weights and measures or by a responsible scale company, at intervals of not more than 6 months. Officers will also check, at least once a month, the gallonage represented to be on the scale against the gallonage indicated by a volumetric determination of the contents of the tank. Such volumetric determination will be made by (1) accurately ascertaining the proof and the temperature of the brandy and the depth of the liquid in the tank by means of a steel tape, (2) multiplying the depth in inches by the capacity of the tank for 1 inch of depth, and (3) correcting the volume to 60 degrees Fahrenheit in accordance with Table No. 7 of the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186). The corrected gallons thus determined will be compared with the gallons represented by the reading of the beam of the scale. Unless the volumetric check is within 0.5 percent of the quantity shown to be in the tank, the Government officer will take appropriate steps to have the accuracy of the scales verified. In addition to the volumetric check described, officers will, as frequently as conditions indicate the necessity therefor, test weighing tank scales of large capacity in the manner prescribed for smaller capacity weighing tank scales, except that such tests on large capacity weighing tank scales may be made when they contain considerable quantities of liquid. In this case the beam will be carefully balanced, and test weights will be added to the load, one at a time, until the range of 500 pounds is checked. At any time an officer finds a scale to be inaccurate, he will require the proprietor to have such scale adjusted and its accuracy certified.

§ 184.564 For storage in brandy deposit room. When brandy to be temporarily stored in the brandy deposit room is gauged, the storekeeper-gauger will prepare a report thereof on Form 1520, in triplicate, one copy of which will be forwarded to the district supervisor on the same day the brandy is gauged, one copy delivered to the distiller, and the remaining copy retained as a permanent record in the office of the storekeeper-gauger.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 3170, 4017)

§ 184.565 Upon withdrawal from storage tanks. When brandy is transferred to storage tanks in the brandy deposit room after it has been gauged, as provided in § 184.536, it will be regauged by weighing tank upon removal, unless it is drawn into packages and gauged.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. A. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.566 Removal of packages from brandy deposit room. When the brandy is drawn from the receiving tanks into packages and temporarily stored in the brandy deposit room, as authorized in § 184.536, the packages need not be regauged upon removal, unless the storekeeper-gauger notes circumstances indicating that a package (or packages) has been tampered with, or has reason to believe that any package contains more spirits than shown by the original gauge, or materially less spirits, in which event a careful regauge will be made.

§ 184.567 Report of gauge. When brandy is gauged for removal to a bonded warehouse or winery, or upon tax payment, the storekeeper-gauger will prepare and dispose of the reports of gauge, Form 1520, as provided in this subpart.

(53 Stat. 492; 26 U. S. C. 4017)

§ 184.568 Pipeline removals. Pipelines used for the transfer of brandy from the receiving tanks to storage tanks in the brandy deposit room or bonded warehouse or to a winery or to a railroad tank car for shipment, or from storage tanks in the brandy deposit room to a bonded warehouse or winery or to a tank car for shipment, must conform to the requirements of § 184.140, except that brandy may be transferred into a tank car by means of a hose connection. The valves on such pipelines shall be kept closed and locked at all times, except when necessary to be open for the transfer of spirits. The keys to all locks on the valves of pipelines shall remain at all times in the custody of the storekeeper-gauger or the district supervisor. Brandy may be transferred by pipeline or hose only under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2878, 2883)

MARKING, BRANDING AND STAMPING OF PACKAGES

§ 184.569 General. Before weighing empty casks or packages, officers will examine them and will not permit the use of any cask or package which contains or has on its interior or exterior, any substance that will prevent the correct ascertainment of tare. The tare of the empty package will be determined immediately preceding the filling of the same in all cases: Provided, however, The tare of a number of packages may be ascertained and marked thereon before any are filled but not exceeding the number which are to be filled the same day or the following day. If the barrels are not to be filled until the following day, they must be locked in the receiving or brandy deposit room after being weighed and marked. The tare or weight of the empty package will be marked on the package as soon as ascertained. All packages of brandy, when filled, shall be further marked and branded as provided by this subpart, and where such packages are tax paid, the tax-paid stamps will be affixed thereto and cancelled in the manner prescribed in § 184.586.

§ 184.570 Marking of packages filled in distillery. All packages of brandy filled in the distillery shall be marked as follows:

(a) Marks. The name of the distiller or the person in whose name the brandy was produced, the registry number of the distillery, the city or town and State in which the distillery is located, the kind of cooperage, the serial number of the package, the kind of brandy, the date of filling, the proof at which distilled, the original proof gallons, the original proof and tare determined at the time of filling (and, if tax-paid in the distillery, the date of tax payment and serial number of the tax-paid stamp, as required by § 184.585) shall be marked upon the head of each package. In addition, when brandy is to be withdrawn for transfer in bond to an internal revenue bonded warehouse located on noncontiguous premises there shall be marked upon the head of the package data showing the transfer date and premises to which transferred as "Trans. Sept. 1, 1950—IRBW 4–N. Y." When brandy is removed to a noncontiguous winery for fortification of wine, the head of each package shall be marked to show the date and purpose of the withdrawal, as "Withdrawn Sept. 1, 1950—For Fortification of Wine." The head of the package bearing these marks will be known as the "Government head."

(b) Abbreviation of marks. The registry number and State may be combined and abbreviated as "Calif–708." The kind of cooperage may be abbreviated "C" for charred, "REC" for recharred, "P" for plain, "PAR" for paraffined, "G" for glued, and "R" for reused (not recharred). In addition to these marks, the letters "PS" (pre-soaked) will follow the letters indicating the kind of cooperage if the barrel has been steamed or water soaked prior to filling.

(c) Symbols for proof of distillation. Symbols may be used to designate the proof of distillation, e. g., "D190P" for "Distilled 190 proof or over," "D170–190P" for "Distilled between 170 and 190 proof" and "D170P" for "Distilled not over 170 proof."

(d) Method of marking. All marks shall be plainly and durably burned, cut, imprinted, or stenciled on the head of each package. All marks, except the proof, proof gallons, tare and withdrawal data, shall be placed on the package in letters and figures of not less than ¾ inch in height. The proof, proof gallons, tare and withdrawal data, and all marks in the case of half barrels, shall be in letters and figures of not less than ½ inch in height. The ink used in applying marks and brands shall be of suitable quality to effect durability and legibility and the heads of the packages shall be sufficiently smooth and free from defects to permit the marks and brands to be clearly and distinctly applied.

(e) Kind of brandy. The kind of brandy shall be stated as "apple brandy, etc.," in accordance with §§ 184.573–184.575.

(f) Other marks. No marks other than those required by this part shall be placed upon the Government head of a package.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.571 Illustration of marks and brands. The following cut illustrates the order and manner in which the marks shall be applied to the head of each package upon filling and upon tax-payment. When brandy is transferred in bond or withdrawn free of tax, the required withdrawal information will be shown in lieu of the taxpayment data shown in the cut.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

§ 184.572 Numbering of packages. Packages filled with brandy at the distillery shall be serially numbered, beginning with number 1 for the first package filled and continuing in regular sequence: Provided, That the series in current use at existing distilleries will be continued. Where packages are filled from storage tanks in the brandy deposit room they will be numbered in sequence to the packages filled from the receiving tanks. Where there is a change in the trade name or style, or in the proprietorship of the business, the series in use at the time of such change will be continued. A new series will be used where there is a change in the type of plant; but use of the prior series will be resumed when the plant is again operated as a fruit distillery. When the serial numbers of packages filled at any distillery have reached the number 1,000,000, the distiller may, if he so desires, begin a new series, commencing with number 1 preceded or followed by a letter to distinguish it from the prior series, as 1A, 2A, etc., when the number 1,000,000, so distinguished, is again reached the distiller may begin another series distinguished by the second letter of the alphabet, as 1B, 2B, etc., and subsequent series, distinguished by other letters of the alphabet in order, may likewise be commenced.

(53 Stat. 307, 333; 26 U. S. C. 2808, 2878)

KINDS OF BRANDY

§ 184.573 Brandy. Spirits distilled solely from the fermented juice, mash, or wine of fruit, or from the residue thereof, distilled at less than 190 degrees of proof in such manner that the distillate possesses the taste, aroma, and characteristics generally attributed to brandy, shall be branded "Brandy," qualified as follows:

(a) Brandy distilled at not exceeding 170 degrees of proof. Brandy distilled at not exceeding 170 degrees of proof solely from the juice or mash of whole, sound, ripe fruit, or from standard grape, citrus, or other fruit wine, having a volatile acidity, calculated as acetic acid and exclusive of sulphur dioxide, not in excess of 0.20 gram per 100 cubic centimeters (20° C.), with or without the addition (to juice or wine only) of not more than 20 percent by weight of the pomace of such juice or wine, or 30 percent by volume of the lees of such wine, or both (calculated prior to the addition of water to facilitate fermentation or distillation), is classed as fruit brandy and shall be branded as follows:

(1) Grape brandy. Fruit brandy derived exclusively from grapes, shall be branded "Grape Brandy" or "Brandy";

(2) Peach brandy, apple brandy, etc. Fruit brandy, other than grape brandy, derived exclusively from one variety of fruit, shall be designated by the word "Brandy," qualified by the name of such fruit (e. g., "Peach Brandy," "Apple Brandy," "Orange Brandy"), except that apple brandy may be designated "Applejack."

(3) Fruit brandy. Fruit brandy distilled from more than one variety of fruit shall be branded "Fruit Brandy," qualified by a statement of composition (e. g., "Fruit Brandy --% Grapes and --% Blackberries").

(b) Dried fruit brandy. Brandy that conforms to the standard for fruit brandy, except that it has been derived from sound dried fruit, or from the standard wine of such fruit, shall be branded as follows:

(1) Raisin brandy. Brandy derived from raisins, or from raisin wine, shall be branded "Raisin Brandy."

(2) Dried peach brandy, dried apple brandy, etc. Other brandies derived from sound dried fruit, or from the standard wine of such fruit, shall be branded in the same manner as fruit brandy from the corresponding variety or varieties of fruit except that the name of the fruit shall be qualified by the word "Dried."

(c) Lees brandy. Brandy distilled from the lees of standard grape, citrus, or other fruit wine, which are run into the still, shall be branded "Lees Brandy," qualified by the name of the fruit from which such wine and lees are derived (e. g., "Grape Lees Brandy").

(d) Pomace brandy. Brandy distilled from the skin and pulp of sound, ripe grapes, citrus, or other fruit which are run into the still, after the withdrawal of the juice or wine therefrom, shall be branded "Pomace Brandy," or "Marc Brandy," qualified by the name of the fruit from which derived (e. g., "Grape Pomace Brandy"). Grape pomace brandy may be designated as "Grappa" or "Grappa Brandy."

(e) Residue brandy. Brandy distilled wholly or in part (except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section) from the residue of fruit or wine shall be branded "Residue Brandy," qualified by the name of the fruit from which derived (e. g., "Grape Residue Brandy").

(1) Optional branding. Brandy distilled wholly or in part from residue materials which conforms to any of the standards set forth in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this section, may, regardless of such fact, be branded "Residue Brandy," qualified by the name of the fruit from which derived; but such designation shall be conclusive, precluding any later change of designation.

(f) Neutral brandy. Brandy distilled at more than 170 degrees of proof and less than 190 degrees of proof, shall be branded in the same manner as if distilled at a lower proof, except that the designation shall be qualified by the word "Neutral," e. g., "Neutral Brandy," "Neutral Grape Lees Brandy," or "Neutral Grape Pomace Brandy," "Neutral Peach Brandy," "Neutral Peach Pomace Brandy," etc.

(g) Substandard brandy. Brandy distilled from juice, mash, or wine having a volatile acidity, calculated as acetic acid and exclusive of sulphur dioxide, in excess of 0.20 gram per 100 cubic centimeters (20° C.), (the volatile acidity shall be calculated exclusive of water added to facilitate distillation), and brandy which has been distilled from unsound, moldy, diseased, or decomposed juice, mash, wine, lees, pomace or residue, or which shows in the finished product any taste, aroma, or characteristic associated with products distilled from such material, shall be branded "Substandard Brandy" qualified by the name of the material from which derived.

(h) Treatment with wood chips. Brandy as defined in this section which in whole or in part is treated with wood chips through percolation or otherwise, during distillation or storage, shall be further marked, either by branding or stenciling, with the words "Treated with oak chips."

(i) Burnt sugar or caramel. Where burnt sugar or caramel is added to brandy, the letters "B. S. A." will be marked on the head of the package.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended, 352 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883, 3036)

§ 184.574 Neutral spirits—fruit. All spirits distilled from fruit at or above 190 degrees of proof shall be branded "Neutral Spirits—Fruit." In the case of fruit neutral spirits produced for fortification, the words "Neutral Spirits—Fruit" branded on the package shall be followed by the name of the fruit from which produced. Such branding shall be in the following form: "Neutral Spirits—Fruit—Grape."

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.575 Spirits—fruit. Spirits distilled from fruit at less than 190 degrees of proof which are not to be branded in accordance with § 184.573 shall be branded "Spirits—Fruit."

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended, 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO MARKING

§ 184.576 Distiller to mark and brand packages. The prescribed marks and brands peculiar to individual packages shall be placed upon the package by the distiller, under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

§ 184.577 Mechanical labor and materials. All mechanical labor pertaining to the gauging of packages of brandy at the distillery shall be performed by the distiller. All materials and facilities required in connection with the application of marks and stamps shall be furnished by the distiller, except the instruments for proofing the brandy.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.578 Testing of scales. The storekeeper-gauger shall balance the scales before weighing either empty or filled packages, and will frequently test, by means of test weights provided in accordance with § 184.123, the accuracy of such scales. During the process of weighing he shall personally verify the weight of each package and record it in the proper column of Form 1520. The storekeeper-gauger will not permit the use of any scales which upon testing are found to be inaccurate.

(53 Stat. 307; 26 U. S. C. 2808)

§ 184.579 Proofing of brandy. The storekeeper-gauger shall personally take the proof of all brandy gauged and enter the same on Form 1520. The storekeeper-gauger will follow strictly the instructions set forth in the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186) respecting the proofing of spirits, in order that the proof may be accurately determined. Official hydrometers for determining the proof of brandy are furnished storekeeper-gaugers by the Government. The use of other than official hydrometers by storekeeper-gaugers is prohibited.

(53 Stat. 307, 336; 26 U. S. C. 2808, 2884)

§ 184.580 Verification of marks and brands. The storekeeper-gauger shall verify the tare, proof and proof gallons marked on the packages by comparison with his gauge report, Form 1520, and shall satisfy himself of the accuracy and correctness of the marks and brands and stamps (if any).

§ 184.581 Obliteration of stamps, marks, and brands on empty packages. When packages of brandy are emptied, all stamps, marks, and brands required to be placed thereon must be completely effaced and obliterated. Where a portion of a stamp is cut out for submission to the district supervisor, when packages are dumped for rectification or for bottling without rectification, the remnant remaining affixed to the package must be completely effaced and obliterated when the package is emptied.

(53 Stat. 330; 26 U. S. C. 2866)

TAX PAYMENT IN PACKAGES

§ 184.582 Application, Form 179. Whenever the distiller desires to taxpay and remove brandy in packages from the distillery, he shall execute application therefor on Form 179, in quadruplicate. Where the brandy is to be removed from receiving or storage tanks the distiller shall state, in addition to other applicable data on the form, the maximum quantity to be removed. Separate applications shall be filed for the removal of brandy from receiving or storage tanks. All copies of the application will be delivered to the storekeeper-gauger, if one is regularly assigned to the distillery; otherwise, it will be forwarded to the district supervisor, who will assign an officer to supervise the removal.

§ 184.583 Gauge and taxpayment. If the brandy to be removed is in previously filled packages the storekeeper-gauger will, upon receipt of the application, inspect the packages but will not regauge the same unless the circumstances are such as to make it advisable, as provided in § 184.566. If the brandy is contained in receiving storage tanks, it will be drawn into packages and gauged, marked, and branded. The details of the gauge or regauge, as the case may be, will be entered by the storekeeper-gauger on Form 1520, in quadruplicate. Where the brandy is removed on the original gauge the storekeeper-gauger will copy the necessary details of such gauge on Form 1520, in quadruplicate. Three copies of Form 1520, accompanied by all copies of Form 179 with the storekeeper-gauger's report thereon duly executed, will be delivered by the storekeeper-gauger to the distiller. The distiller will enter the description of the packages in the space provided therefor on Form 179, if the application covers packages not filled at the time the application was executed, and will then forward all copies of both forms to the collector of internal revenue with remittance in cash or by certified check or post office money order for the tax.

(53 Stat. 492; 26 U. S. C. 4017)

§ 184.584 Issuance of tax-paid stamps. The collector will issue the requisite tax-paid stamps. Each tax-paid stamp shall bear the signature of the collector, who shall write or stamp thereon the date of payment of the tax, by whom paid, the number of gallons and tenths of gallons of proof spirits, and serial number of cask. Facsimile signatures of collectors may be affixed by the use of hand stamps to the tax-paid stamps, care being taken to use only such ink as will neither fade nor blur. The collector will enter the serial numbers of the stamps in the appropriate spaces on all copies of Form 1520, sign the certificate of tax payment on each copy of Form 179, retain one copy each of Form 179 and Form 1520, and return the remaining three copies of Form 179 and two copies of Form 1520 to the distiller with the stamps.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800)

§ 184.585 Removal of brandy. The distiller shall immediately deliver all copies of Form 179 and Form 1520, with the tax-paid stamps, to the storekeeper-gauger, who will verify the data thereon with his retained copy of Form 1520 and, if no discrepancies are found, he will note the serial numbers of the stamps on the retained copy of Form 1520 and, after affixing his signature to the stamps, which may be by the use of a facsimile stamp, will return them to the distiller. The distiller will mark and brand the packages as provided by § 184.570 and affix the stamp as provided in § 184.586. The stamp must be affixed to the Government head of the package on the left side, and except as provided herein, on the right side opposite the stamp there will be marked the serial number of the tax-paid stamp and the date of tax payment. These withdrawal marks may be waived by the district supervisor when packages of brandy are to be removed to a tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant in the immediate vicinity of the distillery for prompt bottling or dumping for rectification where the establishments are owned by the proprietor of such distillery or a subsidiary or affiliate. When the packages have been marked and stamped, as required, they must be promptly removed from the distillery premises. After removal of the brandy, the storekeeper-gauger will execute his statement of the date of withdrawal on the three copies of Form 179, retain one copy each of Form 179 and Form 1520, deliver one copy of each to the distiller, and forward one copy of each to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883, 3170)

§ 184.586 Affixing and canceling stamps. The tax-paid stamps required by § 184.585 to be affixed by the proprietor will be securely affixed to the Government head of the package in such manner as to effectively prevent removal without mutilation. The stamp will be canceled immediately after it has been affixed to the barrel by imprinting with five parallel waved lines across the stamp, the stencil for which shall be provided by the proprietor. The stamp will be covered with a protective coating of varnish, shellac, or lacquer which is sufficiently transparent to permit legibility of the markings on the stamp, except where the packages are to be transferred to contiguous premises and the coating is not required for protecting the legibility of the stamp. Such stamps must remain upon the packages until the brandy therein is emptied or drawn off.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2878)

TAX PAYMENT FOR REMOVAL BY PIPELINE OR IN TANK CARS OR TANK TRUCKS

§ 184.587 Application, Form 179. Whenever the distiller desires to taxpay and remove brandy from the distillery by approved pipelines to contiguous premises, or in tank cars or tank trucks, he shall execute application therefor on Form 179, in quadruplicate. The distiller shall state, in addition to other applicable data on the form, the approximate quantity to be withdrawn and whether such removal will be by pipeline, tank car or tank truck. All copies of Form 179 shall be delivered to the storekeeper-gauger, whereupon such brandy will be run into a weighing tank and gauged for removal. The storekeeper-gauger shall enter the details of the gauge on Form 1520, in quintuplicate. The proof at which the brandy was distilled, and in the case of tank car or tank truck shipments, the number and name or symbols of the owner of the tank car or tank truck, shall be noted on Form 1520 by the storekeeper-gauger. The storekeeper-gauger will execute his report on each copy of Form 179 and will return all copies thereof, with four copies of Form 1520 attached, to the distiller, who will enter in the space provided therefor on each copy of Form 179, the description of the brandy gauged.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 333, 335 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2878, 2883, 4017)

§ 184.588 Application for certificate of tax payment, Form 1594. The distiller will forward all copies of Form 179, and Form 1520, with Form 1594, in duplicate, if the vendee is located in the same supervisory district and in triplicate if the vendee is located in a different supervisory district, accompanied by proper remittance for the tax, to the collector of internal revenue. Form 1594 will be appropriately modified to cover the transfer by pipeline or tank truck.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2883)

§ 184.589 Certificate of tax payment, Form 1595. The collector will issue Form 1595, appropriately modified to show "For Removal by Pipeline", or "For Removal by Tank Truck" where necessary, note the tax payment, including the serial number of the certificate, on all copies of Form 1520, and execute his certificate of tax payment on all copies of Form 179. The collector shall fill in all the required data in the blank spaces on the certificate, except those provided in the lower left corner for the verification of the storekeeper-gauger, and shall date and sign the certificate in the same manner as required for a tax-paid stamp by § 184.584. This certificate is not negotiable and shall not be used for any spirits other than those described therein. The collector will enter on the original and the copy or copies of Form 1594 in the space provided, the serial number, date and amount of the certificate issued. The collector will retain one copy each of Form 179 and Form 1520 and the original copy of Form 1594, and will mail or deliver the certificate, Form 1595, and the original and remaining copies of Form 179 and Form 1520 to the distiller or his designated agent, in accordance with the distiller's request on Form 1594. Where the certificate, Form 1595, covers a removal of brandy to a consignee in the same supervisory district, the collector will send the copy of the application, Form 1594, to the district supervisor, and, in case the certificate, Form 1595, covers a shipment of brandy to a consignee located in a different supervisory district, the collector will send the remaining copy of Form 1594 to the supervisor of the district in which the consignee is located.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2883)

§ 184.590 Route board. Tank cars and tank trucks used for transportation of tax-paid brandy must be equipped with a route board at least 10 by 12 inches in size, to which Form 1595 can be attached. Such board shall be of substantial material and shall be affixed permanently and securely to the tank car or tank truck by roundheaded or carriage bolts, nutted and riveted, battered, or welded.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.591 Bill of lading. The distiller shall incorporate in the bill of lading a description of Form 1595, as follows:

Form 1595, "Collector's Certificate of Tax Payment of Distilled Spirits for Shipment in Tank Cars."

Serial No. ----- Owner and No. of car -----
Vendor ------- Address -----
Vendee ------- Address -----

Where no bill of lading is issued, the distiller shall incorporate in Form 1520 such description of Form 1595.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.592 Storekeeper-gauger's verification. The distiller shall give the certificate of tax payment (Form 1595), the bill of lading (if any), and all copies of Form 179 and Form 1520 to the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery. The storekeeper-gauger will verify the contents of the weighing tank and the description of Form 1595 in the bill of lading or on Form 1520, as the case may be, and will date and sign the certificate, Form 1595, in the space provided therefor. The certificate must be attached to a board on the weighing tank.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2883)

RELEASE OF BRANDY FOR TRANSFER

§ 184.593 By pipeline to contiguous premises. When the certificate of tax payment has been affixed to the weighing tank, in the case of pipeline transfers to contiguous premises, it will be canceled in the same manner as the tax-paid stamp on a package. The storekeeper-gauger will unlock the outlet valve and permit the distiller to transfer the brandy by pipeline to the contiguous premises named in the certificate. The spirits shall be transferred only under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger who, after release of the brandy, will forward one copy each of Form 179 and Form 1520 and the canceled Form 1595 to the district supervisor, retain one copy of Form 179 and Form 1520, and deliver one copy of Form 179 and two copies of Form 1520 to the distiller. The distiller will immediately deliver one copy of Form 1520 to the proprietor of the contiguous establishment.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2883)

§ 184.594 By tank car or tank truck. When brandy is to be removed to a tank car or tank truck for shipment the certificate of tax-payment shall be placed upon the weighing tank by the distiller, whereupon the storekeeper-gauger will unlock the outlet valve and permit the brandy to be transferred to the tank car or tank truck named in the certificate. The brandy shall be transferred only under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. Upon deposit of the brandy in the tank car or tank truck, the distiller will remove the certificate of tax-payment from the weighing tank and affix it securely to the route board on the tank car or tank truck, whereupon it will be canceled in the same manner as the tax-paid stamp on a package and then covered with a coating of transparent varnish, shellac or lacquer. The storekeeper-gauger will verify the contents of the tank car or tank truck, release same for shipment and note on all copies of Form 1520 the date of the release. When the tank car or tank truck is released, the storekeeper-gauger will forward one copy each of Form 179 and Form 1520 to the district supervisor, retain one copy of each form, and deliver one copy of Form 179 and two copies of Form 1520 with the bill of lading (if any) to the distiller. The distiller will immediately forward one copy of Form 1520 to the vendee.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2883)

DEPOSIT IN WAREHOUSE OPERATED BY THE DISTILLER ON THE SAME PREMISES

§ 184.595 Gauge of brandy, Form 1520. Where the distiller operates an internal revenue bonded warehouse on the distillery premises and brandy produced at the distillery is to be entered for deposit in such warehouse, the brandy shall, as authorized by §§ 184.535–184.540, be drawn into approved containers, gauged, marked, and branded, and then immediately deposited in such warehouse, or shall be run into a weighing tank, immediately gauged and transferred by pipeline into tanks in such warehouse: Provided, That where the distillery is not equipped with a weighing tank, the brandy may be transferred by pipeline to a properly equipped weighing tank in such warehouse, gauged, and immediately deposited in storage tanks in the warehouse, or removed for authorized purposes. The brandy will be transferred to the warehouse and deposited therein under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. Where brandy intended for the fortification of wine is transferred into warehouse storage tanks, the words "For Fortification of Wine" must be plainly and legibly stenciled upon such tanks. The storekeeper-gauger will enter the details of the gauge on Form 1520, in triplicate, and will note on each copy of Form 1520 the proof at which the brandy was distilled and, if transferred to a warehouse tank, the serial number thereof. Upon completion of the form, the storekeeper-gauger will deliver all copies thereof to the distiller for the execution of his entry of the brandy for deposit.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 333, 335 as amended, 355, 492; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2878, 2883, 3070, 4017)

§ 184.596 Distiller's entry for deposit. The distiller's entry for deposit shall be executed in the following form:

(Date)

The distilled spirits described herein are hereby entered for deposit in Internal Revenue Bonded Warehouse No. ------, State of _____.

(Distiller)

The entry shall be executed on the same date that the brandy is removed from the distillery. If brandy intended for the fortification of wine is transferred to storage tanks, the distiller shall make notation to that effect in connection with the entry for deposit. After execution of the entry the distiller shall return the three copies of Form 1520 to the storekeeper-gauger, who will retain one copy as a permanent record of the deposit of the spirits in the warehouse, forward one copy to the district supervisor, and deliver one copy to the distiller.

(53 Stat. 333, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2879, 3170)

§ 184.597 Mixing of different brandies prohibited. Brandy transferred by pipeline to an internal revenue bonded warehouse may not be deposited with other brandy in weighing or storage tanks except as authorized by Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185).

(53 Stat. 391; 26 U. S. C. 3254)

§ 184.598 Sufficiency of warehouse-bond. Where the bond covering the operation of an internal revenue bonded warehouse on the distillery premises is given in less than the maximum penal sum of $200,000, as shown by the record furnished by the district supervisor pursuant to Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185), the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the warehouse will see that the tax liability on the quantity of distilled spirits deposited in the warehouse, plus the tax liability on distilled spirits represented by all outstanding approved Forms 236 (§§ 184.602 and 184.615) is within the limits of the penal sum of the bond.

DEPOSIT IN WAREHOUSE OPERATED BY THE DISTILLER ON CONTIGUOUS PREMISES

§ 184.599 Procedure. Where the distiller operates an internal revenue bonded warehouse on premises contiguous to the distillery premises, and the location of the warehouse is such that the storekeeper-gaugers assigned to the distillery and the warehouse are able to maintain the same supervision of the deposit in such warehouse of brandy produced at the distillery as is required in the case of the deposit in a warehouse on the distillery premises of brandy produced at such distillery, the distiller, may deposit brandy in such contiguous warehouse in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.595 for the deposit of brandy in an internal revenue bonded warehouse operated by the distiller on the distillery premises, except that where separate Government offices are maintained for the distillery and the warehouse an extra copy of Form 1520 will be prepared and one copy of such form will be filed in each Government office. When brandy is so deposited, the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the distillery will in each instance deliver directly to the storekeeper-gauger at the warehouse a copy of the Form 1520. The storekeeper-gauger supervising the warehouse will personally verify the number of containers and the quantity of brandy received for deposit. Where the brandy cannot be deposited under such direct supervision, the procedure prescribed in §§ 184.601–184.613 will be followed.

§ 184.600 Sufficiency of warehouse bond. Where the bond covering the operation of an internal revenue bonded warehouse on premises contiguous to the distillery premises is given in less than the maximum penal sum of $200,000, as shown by the record furnished by the district supervisor pursuant to Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185), and brandy produced at the distillery is deposited in such warehouse in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.599, the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the warehouse will see that the tax liability on the quantity of distilled spirits deposited in the warehouse, plus the tax liability on distilled spirits represented by all outstanding approved Forms 236 (§§ 184.602 and 184.615) is within the limits of the penal sum of the bond.

TRANSFER TO WAREHOUSE OFF DISTILLERY PREMISES IN SAME DISTRICT, EXCEPT WAREHOUSE OPERATED BY DISTILLER ON CONTIGUOUS PREMISES

§ 184.601 Application, Form 236. Where brandy is to be transferred to and entered for deposit in an internal revenue bonded warehouse located off the distillery premises in the same supervisory district, and such warehouse is not operated by the distiller on premises contiguous to the distillery premises, the proprietor of the receiving warehouse shall execute an application for the transfer of the brandy on Form 236. The applicant shall enter all applicable data indicated by the form including the maximum quantity in tax gallons to be transferred in any one truck, railroad car, or other vehicle, and the type of conveyance. The name of the carrier shall not be specified on Form 236. The applicant shall prepare an original and five copies of Form 236 and give them to the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the receiving warehouse.

§ 184.602 Storekeeper-gauger's certificate of sufficiency of warehouse bond. Upon receipt of Form 236 by the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the warehouse, he will compare the penal sum of the bond as stated in the application with his record furnished by the district supervisor pursuant to Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185). If the bond is given in the maximum penal sum of $200,000, he will certify to the sufficiency thereof on Form 236 and return all six copies of the form to the proprietor of the warehouse. If the bond is given in less than the maximum penal sum, the storekeeper-gauger in charge will determine from his records whether the tax liability on the quantity of brandy represented by the Form 236, plus the quantity of distilled spirits stored in the warehouse, plus the quantity represented by all outstanding approved Forms 236, is within the limits of the penal sum of the transportation and warehousing bond. If so, he will certify to the sufficiency of the bond on Form 236, record such certification in his records, and return all six copies of the form to the proprietor. If the transportation and warehousing bond is not sufficient, he will certify to that fact on Form 236 and return all six copies to the proprietor. The proprietor will forward all six copies of the approved Form 236 to the proprietor of the consignor-distillery. The proprietor of the warehouse will be responsible for all outstanding approved Forms 236. If, at any time, he decides not to use one, he will obtain all copies from the consignor and give them to the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the warehouse for cancellation and return to the proprietor of the warehouse.

§ 184.603 Brandy to be transferred. When the distiller desires to make shipment, he will give a copy of Form 236 to the storekeeper-gauger in charge and furnish him a complete description of the brandy to be shipped.

§ 184.604 Report of gauge. Unless previously packaged, the brandy designated by the proprietor to be transferred will, as authorized by §§ 184.535 to 184.540, be drawn from the receiving or storage tanks into casks or packages, gauged, marked and branded, or into a weighing tank, gauged, and run by pipeline into a properly equipped tank car, or into tanks located in a contiguous internal revenue bonded warehouse not operated by the distiller. The quantity transferred shall not exceed the maximum stated in the application. The details of the gauge will be entered by the storekeeper-gauger on five copies of Form 1520. If the packages to be transferred were previously filled the storekeeper-gauger will inspect them but will not regauge the same, unless the circumstances are such as to make a regauge advisable. Where packages previously filled are removed on the filling gauge, the storekeeper-gauger will prepare five copies of Form 1520, copying the details from the report of the filling gauge.

§ 184.605 Tank cars. Each tank car used to transport brandy in bond must have permanently and legibly marked or painted thereon its number, capacity in gallons, and the name or symbols of the owner. The dome or manhole covers on all tank cars used for shipping brandy in bond shall be equipped with facilities for sealing with a cap seal when closed and the outlet valves and all other openings to or from the car shall be so constructed that they may be closed and securely fastened on the inside or sealed in a like manner.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.606 Seals. Cap seals, to be furnished by the Government, will be used for sealing the tank car, and such seals will be attached as soon as the car is filled.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.607 Inspection of tank car. Upon receiving an order to gauge brandy to be transferred in bond in a tank car, the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery will inspect the car to see that the dome may be sealed with a cap seal when closed, and that all other openings to or from the car may be closed and securely fastened on the inside or sealed in like manner. If the car is not so constructed, the officer will not permit it to be filled.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.608 Filling of tank car. The tank car must be filled in the immediate presence of the storekeeper-gauger. The pipeline from the distillery weighing tank to the tank car must be in full view of the officer and must not be connected or used except in his presence. The officer will seal the car as soon as it is filled. The officer will enter on Form 1520, covering the gauge of the brandy, the level of the brandy above or below the full mark, and the temperature of the brandy at filling; for example: "Filled 2 inches above full mark at 80 degrees F." The storekeeper-gauger will note on Form 236 the serial numbers of seals used on the tank car.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.609 Route board. Tank cars used for the transportation of brandy in bond must be equipped with a route board conforming to the requirements of § 184.590.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.610 Label to be attached. When brandy is shipped in bond in a tank car, a label dated and signed by the storekeeper-gauger showing that the brandy is shipped in bond and giving the name, registered number and location (city or town and State) of the distillery from which shipped, and the warehouse to which shipped, shall be securely attached to the route board, where it may be readily examined by Government officers. The label, which will be furnished by the distiller, will be in substantially the following form:

Shipped in bond by
CALIFORNIA GRAPE COMPANY
F. D. No. 80, Fresno, Calif.
to
FRISCO WAREHOUSE COMPANY
I. R. B. W. No. 50, San Francisco, Calif.

_____ _____
(Date) (Storekeeper-gauger)

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.611 Distiller's entry for deposit. When the brandy has been packaged, gauged for transfer by pipeline to tanks in a contiguous internal revenue bonded warehouse not operated by the distiller, or run into a tank car and such tank car sealed, the storekeeper-gauger will deliver the copy of Form 236 and the five copies of Form 1520 to the distiller. The distiller shall, on the same date that the brandy is to be removed from the distillery, execute on all six copies of Form 236, the description of the packages, tank car, or pipeline transfer, and on all five copies of Form 1520, the entry for deposit. He shall immediately return all copies of such forms to the storekeeper-gauger who will release the brandy for shipment.

(53 Stat. 298 as amended, 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2800, 2879, 2883)

§ 184.612 Storekeeper-gauger's certificate of removal. Upon removal of the brandy the storekeeper-gauger will execute his certificate of gauge and removal on Form 236. He will retain one copy each of Form 236 and Form 1520, furnish one copy of each form to the distiller, forward one copy of Form 236 to the supervisor, and forward three copies of each form to the consignee storekeeper-gauger. When shipment is made by truck, the three copies of each form for the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the receiving warehouse will be sealed in an envelope addressed to such storekeeper-gauger and handed to the person in charge of the truck for delivery to him.

(53 Stat. 333 as amended, 335 as amended, 378 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883, 3170)

§ 184.613 Storekeeper-gauger's receipt of brandy at warehouse. The storekeeper-gauger at the receiving warehouse will examine each shipment upon its arrival and ascertain and report on Form 1520 any losses or discrepancies and will dispose of Forms 236 and 1520, in accordance with Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185).

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

TRANSFER TO WAREHOUSE OFF DISTILLERY PREMISES IN DIFFERENT DISTRICT

§ 184.614 Application, Form 236. Where brandy is to be entered for deposit in an internal revenue bonded warehouse located in a different supervisory district than the distillery, the proprietor of the receiving warehouse shall execute an application for the transfer of the brandy on Form 236. The applicant shall enter all applicable data indicated by the form including the maximum quantity in tax gallons to be transferred in any one truck, railroad car, or other vehicle, and the type of conveyance. The name of the carrier shall not be specified on Form 236. The applicant shall prepare an original and six copies of Form 236 and give them to the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the receiving warehouse.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.615 Storekeeper-gauger's certificate of sufficiency of warehouse bond. Upon receipt of Form 236 by the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the warehouse, he will compare the penal sum of the bond as stated in the application with his record furnished by the district supervisor pursuant to Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185). If the bond is given in the maximum penal sum of $200,000, he will certify to the sufficiency thereof on Form 236 and return all seven copies of the form to the proprietor of the warehouse. If the bond is given in less than the maximum penal sum, the storekeeper-gauger in charge will determine from his records whether the tax liability on the quantity of brandy represented by the Form 236, plus the quantity of spirits stored in the warehouse, plus the quantity represented by all outstanding approved Forms 236, is within the limits of the penal sum of the transportation and warehousing bond. If so, he will certify to the sufficiency of the bond on Form 236, record such certification in his records, and return all seven copies of the form direct to the proprietor. If the transportation and warehousing bond is not sufficient, he will certify to that fact on Form 236 and return all seven copies to the proprietor. The proprietor will forward all seven copies of the approved Form 236 to the proprietor of the consignor-distillery. The proprietor of the warehouse will be responsible for all outstanding approved Forms 236. If, at any time, he decides not to use one, he will obtain all copies from the consignor and give them to the storekeeper-gauger in charge of the warehouse for cancellation and return to the proprietor of the warehouse.

§ 184.616 Brandy to be transferred. When the distiller desires to make shipment, he will give a copy of Form 236 to the storekeeper-gauger in charge and furnish him a complete description of the brandy to be shipped.

§ 184.617 Report of gauge. Unless previously packaged, the brandy designated by the proprietor to be transferred will, as authorized by § 184.535, be drawn from the receiving or storage tanks into casks or packages, gauged, marked and branded, or into a weighing tank, gauged and run by pipeline into a properly equipped tank car. The quantity transferred shall not exceed the maximum stated in the application. The details of the gauge will be entered by the storekeeper-gauger on six copies of Form 1520. If the packages to be transferred were previously filled the storekeeper-gauger will inspect them but will not regauge the same, unless the circumstances are such as to make a regauge advisable. Where packages previously filled are removed on the filling gauge, the storekeeper-gauger will prepare six copies of Form 1520, copying the details from the report of the filling gauge.

§ 184.618 Tank car requirements. If the brandy is to be transported in a tank car, such tank car must be constructed, marked, inspected, filled, sealed, and labeled as provided in §§ 184.605–184.610.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

§ 184.619 Distiller's entry for deposit. When the brandy has been packaged, or run into a tank car and such tank car sealed, the storekeeper-gauger in charge will deliver the copy of Form 236 and the six copies of Form 1520 to the distiller. The distiller shall, on the same date that the brandy is to be removed from the distillery, execute on all seven copies of Form 236 the description of the packages or tank car to be transferred and on all six copies of Form 1520 the entry for deposit. He shall immediately return all copies of such forms to the storekeeper-gauger in charge who will release the brandy for shipment.

(53 Stat. 333; 26 U. S. C. 2879)

§ 184.620 Storekeeper-gauger's certificate of removal. Upon removal of the brandy the storekeeper-gauger will execute his certificate of gauge and removal on Form 236. He will retain one copy each of Form 236 and Form 1520, furnish one copy of each form to the distiller, forward one copy of each to the supervisor-consignor and forward four copies of Form 236 and three copies of Form 1520 to the consignee storekeeper-gauger. When shipment is made by truck, the four copies of Form 236 and the three copies of Form 1520 for the consignee storekeeper-gauger will be sealed in an envelope addressed to that officer and handed to the person in charge of the truck for delivery to him.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883, 3170)

§ 184.621 Storekeeper-gauger's receipt of brandy at warehouse. The storekeeper-gauger at the receiving warehouse will examine each shipment upon its arrival and ascertain and report on Form 1520 any losses or discrepancies and will dispose of Forms 236 and 1520, in accordance with Regulations 10 (26 CFR, Part 185).

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 2883)

KINDS OF BRANDIES THAT MAY BE REMOVED FOR FORTIFICATION OF WINE

§ 184.622 Kinds. The kinds of brandies that may be removed for the fortification of wine are grape brandy, citrus-fruit brandy, peach brandy, cherry brandy, berry brandy, apricot brandy, prune brandy, plum brandy, pear brandy, pawpaw brandy, papaya brandy, pineapple brandy, cantaloup brandy, and apple brandy, produced in accordance with the provisions of § 184.371. No brandy produced otherwise than as specified in such section may be removed for fortification. Brandy produced from grape cheese and a sugar solution may not be removed for the fortification of wine.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

REMOVAL OF BRANDY IN PACKAGES FOR FORTIFICATION OF WINE

§ 184.623 Application, Form 257. Where it is desired to remove brandy in packages from a fruit distillery for the fortification of wine, application will be made by the winemaker on Form 257. The winemaker shall state in the application the penal sum of the bond, Form 700–A. The same application may not include brandy from more than one distillery, nor two or more lots to be removed from the same distillery at different times, except where the distillery is contiguous to the winery, as provided in § 184.628. The application shall be filed in triplicate where the winery and the distillery are in the same supervisory district, and in quadruplicate where they are in different districts. Where the premises are located in the same supervisory district and the bond of the winemaker is given in the maximum penal sum of $50,000, Form 257 will be submitted to the storekeeper-gauger if one is located at the winery, or at a contiguous fruit distillery or internal revenue bonded warehouse, as the case may be. If no storekeeper-gauger is located at such premises, the application will be submitted, at the discretion of the district supervisor, to a designated storekeeper-gauger in the vicinity of the bonded winery. The district supervisor will notify each storekeeper-gauger designated to approve Forms 257 and advise him that the winemaker's bond is given in the maximum penal sum of $50,000. He will notify each winemaker concerned where Forms 257 are to be submitted to a storekeeper-gauger. All other Forms 257, that is, (a) those covering intradistrict removals where the bond of the winemaker is in the maximum penal sum but no storekeeper-gauger has been designated to approve Forms 257, (b) those covering intradistrict removals where the bond of the winemaker is not in the maximum penal sum, and (c) those covering interdistrict removals, will be submitted direct to the supervisor of the district in which the winery is located.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

§ 184.624 Action on application, Form 257—(a) By district supervisor. If the application is in proper order, the quantity of brandy to be withdrawn is not in excess of the applicant's current needs or of the storage capacity of the fortifying room (see Regulations 7 (26 CFR, Part 178)), and the bond of the winemaker is sufficient to cover the brandy to be procured, the district supervisor will (1) where the distillery is in the same district, execute his certificate on the form and send all three copies to the proprietor of the fruit distillery; and (2) where the distillery is located in another supervisory district, execute his certificate on the form and send all four copies to the supervisor of such district, who will deliver all four copies to the proprietor of the fruit distillery. If a storekeeper-gauger is not located at the fruit distillery, the supervisor of the district in which the fruit distillery is located will designate a storekeeper-gauger to gauge the brandy. If the application is not in order, the supervisor of the district in which the bonded winery is located will return all copies to the winemaker.

(b) By storekeeper-gauger. Upon receipt of Form 257 by the storekeeper-gauger, he will compare the penal sum of the bond as stated in the application with the statement furnished by the district supervisor pursuant to § 184.623. If the bond of the winemaker is given in the maximum penal sum of $50,000, the application is in proper order, and the quantity of brandy to be withdrawn is not in excess of the applicant's current needs or of the storage capacity of the fortifying room (see Regulations 7 (26 CFR, Part 178)), he will certify to the sufficiency thereof on Form 257. He will send all copies of Form 257 to the proprietor of the fruit distillery. If the application is not in order, he will return all copies to the winemaker.

§ 184.625 Gauge of brandy. The proprietor, upon receipt of Form 257, will execute his description of the brandy to be gauged, on all copies of the form. He will refer them to the storekeeper-gauger assigned to the distillery, or to the storekeeper-gauger designated by the district supervisor pursuant to § 184.624 (a), as the case may be. Where the certificate of sufficiency of the winemaker's bond was executed by a storekeeper-gauger pursuant to § 184.624 (b) and no storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the fruit distillery, the proprietor will request the district supervisor to designate one to gauge and release the brandy. If the brandy to be removed is contained in tanks, the designated packages will be filled, gauged, and marked and branded in accordance with § 184.570. If the packages were previously filled, they will be marked as required, and removed on the original gauge, unless a regauge is deemed advisable. The storekeeper-gauger will prepare four copies of the report of gauge, Form 1520, where the brandy is to be removed at one time to the fortifying room of a contiguous winery, five copies in all other instances where brandy is removed to a winery located in the same supervisory district, and six copies where the winery is located in another district. The storekeeper-gauger will attach one copy of Form 1520 to each copy of Form 257 and will note on the extra copies of Form 1520 the name, registered number, and address of the winery to which the brandy is to be shipped. No greater quantity of brandy may be gauged or withdrawn than stated in the application.

(53 Stat. 333, 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 3031, 3033)

§ 184.626 Distillery and winery on contiguous premises. Where the distillery and winery are located on contiguous premises, and the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery is charged with supervising the deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room, he will, upon deposit of the brandy, execute his certificates on all copies of Form 257, retain one copy, with Form 1520 attached, at the distillery and one copy at the winery, and forward one copy to the district supervisor. The extra copy of Form 1520 will be delivered to the distiller.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351, 373 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033, 3170, 4017)

§ 184.627 Distillery and winery not on contiguous premises. Where the distillery and winery are not located on contiguous premises and the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery is not charged with supervising the deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room of the winery, he will, upon removal of the brandy execute his certificate of gauge and removal on all copies of Form 257, retain one copy with a copy of Form 1520 attached, and immediately forward the remaining copies (two or three, as the case may be), with a copy of Form 1520 attached to each, to the winemaker. When shipment is to be made by truck, all copies of the forms to be forwarded to the winemaker will be sealed in an envelope by the storekeeper-gauger, addressed to the winemaker and handed to the person in charge of the truck for delivery to the winemaker. The storekeeper-gauger will forward one of the extra copies of Form 1520 to the district supervisor and will deliver one copy to the distiller. When the brandy is received at the winery, the officer detailed to duty thereat will examine the packages, supervise their deposit in the fortifying room, and complete and dispose of the forms in accordance with the provisions of Regulations No. 7 (26 CFR, Part 178).

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351, 373 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033, 3170, 4017)

§ 184.628 Gauging officer's certificate of monthly deposits in contiguous winery. If the distillery and winery are located on contiguous premises and brandy is to be transferred to the winery from time to time during the month under the supervision of a storekeeper-gauger, the winemaker's application on Form 257 may cover all brandy to be transferred to the winery during the month. If the storekeeper-gauger gauging the brandy supervises its transfer to and deposit in the fortifying room, he will certify to the deposit on each copy of Form 1520 as the brandy is deposited, attach one copy thereof to each copy of Form 257, forward one of the extra copies of Form 1520 to the district supervisor, and deliver one copy to the distiller. At the close of the month the storekeeper-gauger will execute his certificates of gauge and removal and receipt on Form 257, retain one copy thereof, with a copy of each Form 1520 attached, at the distillery as a permanent record, and one copy, similarly completed, at the winery for the same purpose, and forward the other copy to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351, 373 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033, 3170, 4017)

§ 184.629 Winery officer's certificate of monthly deposits in contiguous winery. When brandy is transferred in accordance with § 184.628 and a storekeeper-gauger is separately assigned to duty at the winery, the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery will retain one copy of Form 257 and attach one copy of each Form 1520 thereto as the brandy is gauged, forward one of the extra copies of Form 1520 to the district supervisor, give one of such copies of Form 1520 to the distiller, and deliver the other two copies of Form 257 and Form 1520 to the storekeeper-gauger at the winery, who will certify to the deposit on Form 1520 as the brandy is received and deposited in the fortifying room, and attach a copy of Form 1520 to each copy of Form 257. At the close of the month the storekeeper-gauger at the distillery will execute his certificate of gauge and removal on all three copies of Form 257 and the storekeeper-gauger at the winery will execute his certificate of receipt on all copies of the form. The forms will then be disposed of as provided in § 184.628.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

REMOVAL OF BRANDY BY PIPELINE FOR THE FORTIFICATION OF WINE

§ 184.630 Application, Form 257. Where it is desired to transfer brandy from the receiving tanks or from storage tanks in the brandy deposit room by pipeline to the fortifying rooms of wineries on contiguous premises, application will be made by the winemaker on Form 257, in triplicate, in the same manner as when brandy is to be transferred in packages, as prescribed in § 184.623. The district supervisor, or the storekeeper-gauger, as the case may be, will execute his certificate on the form as prescribed in § 184.624, the distiller will indicate the brandy to be gauged, as prescribed in § 184.625, and the storekeeper-gauger designated to gauge the brandy will make his report of gauge and execute his certificates of gauge and removal and receipt, and complete and dispose of Forms 257 and Forms 1520, as prescribed in §§ 184.626–184.628, in the case of removal in packages. Notation of transfer by pipeline will be made by the storekeeper-gauger on each Form 1520.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351, 373 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033, 3170, 4017)

§ 184.631 Gauge of brandy. The brandy will be gauged in weighing tanks in the distillery and run directly from such tanks to fortifying tanks or brandy storage tanks in the fortifying room of the winery, except that where no weighing tank is provided in the distillery, the brandy may be gauged in a weighing tank in the fortifying room, in which case the brandy will be run direct from the receiving tanks in the distillery to the weighing tank in the fortifying room.

(53 Stat. 333, 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 2878, 3031, 3033)

§ 184.632 Fortifying room not having weighing tank. Where a weighing tank is not provided in the fortifying room, the brandy may be transferred thereto by pipeline only for immediate use, and only in such quantities as are necessary to fortify a given lot of wine. In such cases the wine to be fortified will be run into the fortifying tank and the required quantity of brandy to fortify the wine will be gauged in the distillery and run directly into the fortifying tank containing the wine.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

§ 184.633 Deposit in locked tanks. The pipeline must empty into a closed tank, which will be locked with a Government lock while brandy is being discharged therein, or remains therein. Where the brandy is run directly by pipeline into the fortifying tank, such tank must be fitted with a locked cover. If, however, the weighing tank is located in the fortifying room, it is not necessary that the fortifying tanks be fitted with locked covers.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

§ 184.634 Supervision. The brandy will be transferred under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. The officer supervising the deposit of the brandy in the fortifying room of the winery will see that the pipeline is properly connected with the tank into which the brandy is to be transferred before the valve permitting the flow of brandy to such tank is opened. The storekeeper-gauger will also see that the valves controlling the flow of brandy into or out of tanks are locked with Government locks at all times, except when necessary to be open for the transfer of brandy. The keys will remain in the custody of the storekeeper-gauger or, if no storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery, in the custody of the district supervisor or other officer designated by him. The officer will also see that no pipeline is used for the transfer of brandy unless it has been inspected, and has been approved by the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

REMOVAL OF BRANDY IN TANK CARS FOR FORTIFICATION OF WINE

§ 184.635 Application, Form 257. Where it is desired to remove brandy in tank cars to the fortifying room of a winery, application will be made by the winemaker on Form 257 in the same manner as when brandy is removed in packages, as prescribed in § 184.623. The district supervisor, or the storekeeper-gauger, as the case may be, will execute his certificate on the form as prescribed in § 184.624, the distiller will indicate the brandy to be gauged, as prescribed in § 184.625, and the storekeeper-gauger designated to gauge the brandy will make his report of gauge and execute his certificate of gauge and removal and dispose of Forms 257 and Forms 1520, as prescribed in §§ 184.626–184.629, in the case of removal in packages. The winemaker will state on his application that the brandy is to be transported by tank car.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351, 373 as amended, 492; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033, 3170, 4017)

§ 184.636 Tank car requirements. Tank cars used to transport brandy for the fortification of wine must be constructed, marked, inspected, filled, and sealed in the same manner as tank cars used to transport brandy to an internal revenue bonded warehouse. (See §§ 184.605–184.609.)

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

§ 184.637 Notations on Forms 257 and 1520. When the tank car is shipped, the storekeeper-gauger will enter on Form 257 the serial numbers of the seals used on the tank car and will enter on Form 1520, covering the gauge of the brandy, the level of the brandy above or below the full mark and the temperature of the brandy after filling, for example: "Filled two inches above full mark at 80° F."

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

§ 184.638 Label to be attached. When brandy is shipped in bond in a tank car to a winery for fortification of wine, a label, dated and signed by the storekeeper-gauger, showing that the brandy is shipped in bond for fortification and giving the name, registered number, and location (city or town and State) of the distillery from which shipped, and the winery to which shipped, shall be securely attached to the route board of the car, where it may be readily examined by Government officers. The label, which will be furnished by the distiller, will be in substantially the following form:

Shipped in bond by
CALIFORNIA GRAPE COMPANY
F. D. No. 80, St. Helena, Calif., 14th Dist., to
WESTERN WINE CAMPANY
B. W. No. 50, Santa Rosa, Calif., 14th Dist.
For fortification of wine

(Date) (Storekeeper-gauger)

This label will be scraped and obliterated immediately the tank car is emptied.

(53 Stat. 348 as amended, 351; 26 U. S. C. 3031, 3033)

REMOVAL OF BRANDY, FREE OF TAX, FOR EXPORTATION

§ 184.639 Procedure. Where the distiller desires to remove brandy of not less than 180 degrees proof, free of tax, from the distillery receiving tanks for exportation in tank cars, he will file application on Form 206, in quintuplicate, and bond on Form 547, 548, 657, or 658, as the case may be, in triplicate, with the district supervisor and otherwise comply with all applicable requirements of the regulations governing the withdrawal of distilled spirits from internal revenue bonded warehouses, free of tax, for exportation (26 CFR, Part 185), which regulations are hereby extended to cover the exportation, free of tax, of brandy from the distillery. The tank cars must be so constructed that all openings may be securely closed and sealed.

SUBPART Y—LOSSES OF BRANDY ON PREMISES OF A FRUIT DISTILLERY OR IN TRANSIT THERETO

§ 184.650 Loss by theft. The tax shall be collected on brandy stolen while on the premises of a fruit distillery or in transit thereto for redistillation, unless the distiller submits proof as to the cause of the loss and establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that it did not occur as the result of connivance, collusion, fraud, or negligence on the part of the distiller, warehouseman, consignor, consignee, bailee, or carrier or the employees of any of them. Claim for remission of tax on brandy lost by theft shall be filed as provided in this subpart. The tax on brandy lost by theft may be remitted or refunded only to the extent that the claimant is not indemnified or recompensed for such tax.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 2901)

§ 184.651 Unauthorized voluntary destruction. The tax shall be collected on brandy voluntarily destroyed while on the premises of a fruit distillery or in transit thereto for redistillation, unless such brandy was unfit for use for beverage purposes, and the distiller or other person responsible for the tax obtained authorization for such destruction in each case, as required by this part.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 2901)

§ 184.652 Losses except by theft. The tax on brandy lost otherwise than by theft while on the premises of a fruit distillery or in transit thereto, may be remitted. In the case of any such loss of brandy prior to payment of the tax thereon, the district supervisor may require the distiller, owner, or other person responsible for the tax to submit proof as to the cause of such loss and, where deemed necessary, to file a claim for remission of the tax as provided by this subpart.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 340 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 2901, 3170)

§ 184.653 Report of losses. Losses of brandy on the premises of a fruit distillery or in transit thereto must be reported to the district supervisor by the distiller immediately after the losses are discovered. Where losses of brandy in the fruit distillery occur or are discovered while a Government officer is on duty, the officer will immediately make a full report of the loss to the district supervisor. The report should set out the nature, cause, and extent of the loss in sufficient detail to bring out all the known material facts and circumstances surrounding the loss. The condition of each receiving tank or other container from which loss has been sustained, and the quantity lost therefrom, should be reported by the officer.

(53 Stat. 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2901)

§ 184.654 Investigation by district supervisor. The district supervisor will consider the nature and extent of any loss reported by the distiller or Government officer and will immediately make such investigation and require such evidence to be submitted as he may deem necessary. Whenever so required the district supervisor will forward reports and data relating to losses to the Commissioner for review.

(53 Stat. 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3170)

§ 184.655 Filing of claims. Claims for remission of tax on brandy lost on the premises of a fruit distillery or in transit thereto, when required, will be filed promptly with the supervisor of the district in which the distillery is located. Where a required claim for remission of tax on such brandy is not filed as provided in §§ 184.650 and 184.652, the district supervisor will report the matter to the Commissioner.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 2901)

§ 184.656 Form of claims. Claims for remission of tax for losses occurring on fruit distillery premises, or in transit thereto, shall be made on letter size paper, in duplicate, and shall set forth, under oath, the following information:

(a) The name of the distiller and the registry number and location of the distillery;

(b) The serial numbers of the receiving tanks or other containers from which the brandy was lost;

(c) The quantity of brandy lost from each receiving tank or other container, and the total quantity of brandy covered by the claim;

(d) The total amount of tax for which the claim is filed;

(e) The date of the loss, or, if such date is not known, the date on which the loss was discovered, and the cause and nature thereof, together with all the facts surrounding the loss;

(f) The name of the carrier, if any;

(g) If lost by theft, whether the loss occurred as the result of connivance, collusion, fraud, or negligence on the part of the distiller, warehouseman, owner, consignor, consignee, bailee or carrier, or the employees of any of them;

(h) Whether the claimant is indemnified or recompensed for the tax, and, if so, the amount and nature of such indemnity or recompense. The actual value of the brandy, less the tax, must be stated explicitly, and where required, certified copies of all policies of insurance or other documents of indemnity covering the brandy must be furnished.

(53 Stat. 335 as amended, 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2883, 2901)

§ 184.657 Supporting statements. Claims for remission of tax on brandy lost while on the premises of a fruit distillery or in transit thereto, must be supported by affidavits of persons having personal knowledge of the loss.

(53 Stat. 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2901)

§ 184.658 Examination of claim. When a claim for remission of tax is received by the district supervisor he will carefully examine the same to see that all the required information has been furnished, and will cause such investigation to be made or require such additional evidence to be submitted as he may deem necessary. Upon completion of his investigation, if any, the district supervisor will forward the claim and accompanying papers, together with any pertinent reports and documentary evidence, to the Commissioner with his recommendation in respect to the allowance or disallowance of the claim.

§ 184.659 Records. Where brandy is lost or destroyed after it has been gauged for removal, or for deposit in the brandy deposit room, appropriate entry will be made by the distiller in the summary, on Form 15, of brandy produced, disposed of, and on hand. In case of loss or destruction of brandy before it is gauged, the distiller will make a notation thereof on Form 15, and attach to each copy of such form an explanatory statement of the loss.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.660 District supervisor's account. An account of losses of brandy on the distillery premises shall be kept on Form 1691. The account shall show all the information as indicated in the heading and by the various columns and as required by instructions issued in respect thereto and by this part.

§ 184.661 Prior losses. Any claims for the remission or refund of the tax on any loss of brandy established prior to September 1, 1950, shall be subject to the provisions of section 2901 of the Internal Revenue Code and this part as they existed prior to that date.

(53 Stat. 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2901)

§ 184.662 Losses after tax payment. Nothing in section 2901 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended by section 3 of the act of February 21, 1950, or as theretofore amended, or in this part, shall be construed to authorize refund of the tax where the loss occurred after the tax was paid.

SUBPART Z—BRANDY PRODUCED AND NOT ACCOUNTED FOR

§ 184.670 Commissioner to make assessments. Under the law, it is the duty of the Commissioner to inquire and determine whether the distiller has accounted for all the brandy produced by him. If the Commissioner finds that the distiller has not accounted for all the brandy produced by him, he shall, from all the evidence he can obtain, determine what quantity of brandy was actually produced by such distiller and make an assessment for the difference between the quantity reported and the quantity shown to have been actually produced, at the rate imposed by law.

(53 Stat. 323; 26 U. S. C. 2846)

§ 184.671 Prompt filing of returns required. In order that there may be no unnecessary delay in making assessments, district supervisors will take such steps as may be necessary to secure the filing of fruit distillers' returns on Form 15 and storekeeper-gaugers' reports on Form 1520 within the time prescribed by law.

§ 184.672 District supervisor's examination of returns. Upon receipt of the distiller's return, Form 15, the district supervisor will examine it to determine whether the distiller has accounted for all the brandy produced by him during the month. If he finds that the distiller apparently has not accounted for all the brandy produced by him, he shall make such investigation as he may deem necessary and determine, from all the evidence he can obtain, the quantity of brandy actually produced by the distiller.

§ 184.673 Use of materials not reported. If the district supervisor should find that the distiller has received on his premises materials which have not been accounted for, or has used materials which have not been reported as used, and has produced brandy which has not been reported, the quantity of brandy produced and not reported should be determined from all the evidence that can be obtained, including evidence of the normal actual yield of brandy from such materials at the particular plant.

(53 Stat. 323, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2846, 3170)

§ 184.674 Determining brandy produced. If it is found that all materials received have been accounted for and all materials used have been reported, but that the distiller has not accounted for all the brandy produced, the quantity actually produced should be determined from all the evidence that can be obtained. The evidence that brandy has been produced from materials reported used and has not been accounted for by the distiller should be direct and positive.

(53 Stat. 323; 26 U. S. C. 2846)

§ 184.675 Notice to distiller. If it is determined that the distiller has not accounted for all the brandy produced by him, the district supervisor will, unless the interests of the Government require an immediate assessment, notify the distiller of the proposed assessment and afford him an opportunity to submit within 30 days, or such further time as the district supervisor may consider reasonable, evidence showing why the proposed assessment should not be made.

§ 184.676 Nature of evidence. The evidence submitted by the distiller should be in the form of affidavits and certified documents.

§ 184.677 Consideration of distiller's response. If the distiller responds to the notice and submits evidence bearing on the merits of the proposed assessment, the district supervisor will give due consideration thereto and make such further investigation as he may deem advisable. If, after consideration of all the facts, the district supervisor finds that tax is due, he will report the same to the Commissioner in accordance with the prescribed assessment procedure. If the district supervisor finds that tax should not be assessed, he will forward the affidavits and other documents submitted by the distiller, together with investigation reports, if any, to the Commissioner with his recommendation thereon.

§ 184.678 Claim for remission. Where the distiller claims, pursuant to notice of proposed assessment, that the brandy produced and not accounted for was actually lost on the distillery premises, the procedure prescribed by Subpart Y of this part shall be applicable.

(53 Stat. 323, 340 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2847, 2901)

§ 184.679 Distiller's failure to respond. If the distiller fails to respond to the notice of proposed assessment within the time specified, the district supervisor will report to the Commissioner, in accordance with the prescribed assessment procedure, the amount found due for assessment.

SUBPART AA—OPERATIONS ON SUNDAY

§ 184.685 Emergencies only. No distilling operations may be conducted at a fruit distillery at any time between the hours of 11:00 p. m. of any Saturday and 1:00 a. m. of the next succeeding Monday, unless the district supervisor shall find that an emergency exists requiring operation of the distillery between such hours for the purpose of preventing the loss, and effecting the salvaging, of crop or other materials.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 320; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2836)

§ 184.686 Application. Any fruit distiller desiring to operate his distillery between 11:00 p. m Saturday and 1:00 a. m. Monday shall file application, in duplicate, with the district supervisor, setting forth specifically the dates on which he desires to so operate and describing fully the necessity therefor. The application shall be filed a sufficient time in advance of the earliest date named therein for such emergency operation to enable the district supervisor to determine whether such an emergency exists, and, if he approves the application to assign an officer to supervise the operations where deemed necessary.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 320; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2836)

§ 184.687 Approval of application. If the application is approved, the district supervisor will note his approval on both copies thereof, with the date of approval, and will return one copy to the applicant and retain the other copy on file.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 320; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2836)

§ 184.688 Penalty for unauthorized operation. Any operation of the distillery between 11:00 p. m. Saturday and 1:00 a. m. Monday, without first receiving authorization therefor from the district supervisor, as provided in this subpart, will render the distiller liable to the penalty prescribed by law.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 320; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2836)

SUBPART BB—SUSPENSION AND RESUMPTION OF OPERATION

SUSPENSION OF OPERATIONS

§ 184.695 Notice, Form 124. Any fruit distiller desiring to suspend operations at his distillery for the season or for a period of 30 days or more shall give notice on Form 124, in duplicate, stating when he will suspend operations. Where a storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery the notice will be delivered to such officer. The giving of such notice will not be required where operations are temporarily suspended for less than 30 days due to accident, the necessity for making repairs, seasonal conditions, or other causes. Form 124 will not be required when operations are suspended pursuant to the filing of Form 1696.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850)

§ 184.696 Completion of operations required. Before the distillery may be suspended for a period of 30 days or more, except in the case of unavoidable accident as provided in § 184.701, all distilling materials, fermented or in the process of fermentation, and all unfinished brandy, except distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, must be distilled and all brandy produced must be run into the receiving tanks, drawn therefrom, gauged, and removed from the distillery. Distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil may, as provided in § 184.434, be stored in the brandy deposit room for a period of not more than 30 days after suspension of operations, pending removal for denaturation or destruction, or, in the case of change of type of distillery, retained in locked heads and tails tanks or in the brandy deposit room for a period of not more than 60 days, as provided in § 184.727. Such distillates not so stored in the brandy deposit room must be destroyed or removed for denaturation before suspension of the distillery, except that where the suspension is due to change of type of distillery they may be retained in locked heads and tails tanks for not more than 60 days, as provided in this section.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850)

§ 184.697 Date of suspension. The distilller will fix in the notice the time when all distilling material on the distillery premises will be distilled and all brandy in the distillery run into the receiving tanks, except unfinished brandy or distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil which are to be retained on the premises during a temporary change in the type of distillery, as provided in Subpart EE of this part. Where no storekeeper-gauger is assigned to the distillery the distiller will forward the notice to the district supervisor in sufficient time to reach him at least 48 hours before the date the distiller intends to suspend operations, in order that the district supervisor may detail an officer to lock the furnace door of each still or the control valve in the pipeline conveying steam or fuel to each still, as the case may be, at the time operations are suspended.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850)

§ 184.698 Locking furnace doors, etc. When notice of suspension is given by the distiller the storekeeper-gauger on duty at the distillery, or the officer detailed to visit the distillery by the district supervisor, will see that operations are completed as provided in § 184.696 and will then lock the furnace door of each still or the control valve in the pipeline conveying steam or fuel to each still and will supervise the disconnection of the distillery machinery and the removal to the bonded warehouse or the receiving room or brandy deposit room, or other secure place, of some portion of such machinery necessary for distillation. The locks used for securing furnace doors, or the control valves in steam or fuel lines, will be taken from such other places in the distillery, where locks are not necessary while the distillery is suspended, as may be designated by the district supervisor. In lieu of removing a portion of the distilling apparatus to the warehouse or other secure place, the district supervisor may require two of the ports (manheads) of column stills to be locked open by passing a chain or two iron straps through the ports and around the outside of the still, and locking the chain or straps in place.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850, 3170)

§ 184.699 Officer's certificate of suspension. The officer will certify on each copy of Form 124 to the action taken by him, and will furnish one copy of the form to the distiller and forward the remaining copy to the district supervisor. The district supervisor may relieve any officer assigned to the plant from duty thereat during the period of suspension.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850, 3170)

§ 184.700 Distilling material at suspended distillery forbidden. Except as provided in § 184.701, no distiller may, after the time fixed in his notice, Form 124, for suspension of work at the distillery, carry on the business of a distiller on the said premises, or have any distilling material, fermented or in the process of fermentation, in his distillery or on any premises connected therewith, or have in his possession or under his control any such distilling material, with intent to distill the same on said premises.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850)

§ 184.701 Suspension caused by unavoidable accident. In case of an accident necessitating a suspension for a period of 30 days or more, the distiller should, if possible, distill all distilling material, fermented or in the process of fermentation, and all unfinished brandy on hand. Should the accident be of such a nature as to render this impossible, the distiller will immediately give notice of suspension on Form 124, in duplicate, as provided in § 184.695. The storekeeper-gauger will then lock the furnace doors of the stills, or the control valves in the steam or fuel lines leading to the stills, and supervise the disconnection and removal of distillery machinery, as provided in section 184.698. The officer will then certify on Form 124, in duplicate, to the action taken by him and state the kind and quantity, if any, of distilling material or unfinished brandy on hand at the time of such suspension, and will furnish one copy of the form to the distiller and forward the remaining copy to the district supervisor. The district supervisor may relieve any officer assigned to the plant from duty thereat during the period of suspension.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850, 3170)

RESUMPTION OF OPERATIONS

§ 184.702 Notice, Form 125. No distiller may carry on the business of a distiller after the time stated in his notice of suspension, Form 124, until he shall have given another notice to the district supervisor on Form 125, in duplicate, stating the time when he will resume operations. This notice should be forwarded to the district supervisor a sufficient time in advance of the date it is desired to resume operations to enable the district supervisor to assign a storekeeper-gauger to remove the locks. The notice should ordinarily reach the district supervisor at least 48 hours in advance of the date the distiller desires to resume operations. The district supervisor will designate an officer to remove the locks and other fastenings placed on the equipment at the time of suspension and to supervise the connection of the machinery on the date specified in the Form 125. Where the suspension was caused by accident, and distilling material or unfinished brandy remained on hand, the designated officer will determine whether the same kind and quantity of distilling material or unfinished spirits reported on Form 124 as on hand at the time of suspension are on hand at the time of resumption, less natural evaporation.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850, 3170)

§ 184.703 Officer's certificate of removal of locks and fastenings. The officer will certify on Form 125, in duplicate, to the action taken by him and to the kind and quantity, if any, of distilling material or unfinished brandy on hand at the time of such resumption, and will furnish one copy of Form 125 to the distiller and forward the remaining copy to the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850, 3170)

§ 184.704 Unauthorized removal of locks and fastenings. No revenue officer or other person may remove Government locks and fastenings and permit connection of the machinery where a distillery has been suspended, except by direction of the district supervisor pursuant to notice of resumption.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 324; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2850)

SUBPART CC—REGISTRY OF STILLS "FOR USE" AND "NOT FOR USE"

§ 184.710 Registry on Form 26. Every person having in his possession or custody or under his control any still or distilling apparatus that is set up, must register the same on Form 26, in triplicate, with the district supervisor for the district in which it is located. Stills to be used for the production of various types of distilled spirits may be registered for "distilled spirits" and the specific type need not be shown. Thereafter, when the plant is changed from the production of one type of spirits to another, reregistration by the same distiller will not be required. The temporary suspension of a distillery does not necessitate reregistration of the stills. The operation of a distillery by alternating proprietors, where no permanent change in ownership occurs, does not require reregistration of the stills by the proprietors. When there is a change in location or use or a bona fide change in ownership of a still, the still must be registered to reflect the change. The district supervisor will, upon approving the registration of a still on Form 26, retain one copy, forward one copy to the Commissioner and return the remaining copy to the distiller. The distiller will retain his copy at the distillery available for inspection by Government officers.

(53 Stat. 308 as amended, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2810, 3170)

SUBPART DD—OPERATIONS BY DISTILLER UNDER DIFFERENT TRADE NAMES OR STYLES

§ 184.715 Commencement of operations. Whenever a fruit distiller desires to operate his distillery under a trade name or style which has not been previously approved, he must comply with §§ 184.257–184.262 and secure approval thereof in the manner prescribed by Subpart O of this part prior to commencement of operations thereunder. Thereafter, whenever he desires again to operate under such trade name or style, he must comply with § 184.308 and secure approval as prescribed by Subpart O, prior to commencement of operations thereunder.

§ 184.716 Disposition of materials in process. Whenever the distiller desires to operate his distillery under a trade name or style other than the trade name or style under which he is then operating, and has complied with the provisions of § 184.715, he will not be required to complete the distillation of materials and unfinished brandy in the process of manufacture before commencing business under such other trade name or style.

§ 184.717 Finished brandy. All finished brandy remaining in the receiving tanks or in storage tanks in the brandy deposit room, if any, at the time the change in trade name or style becomes effective must be marked and removed in the trade name or style under which they were finished. All finished brandy produced from the materials in process and unfinished brandy remaining on hand at the time the change in trade name or style becomes effective must be marked and removed in the trade name or style under which they are finished. Brandy in properly marked and branded packages may, if desired, be retained in the brandy deposit room, notwithstanding a change in the trade name of the distiller.

§ 184.718 Records. Separate records on Form 15 will not be required for operations under each trade name, but the distiller must note on such record the trade names or styles under which he operated during the month and the dates of operation under each. Where brandy is produced under a trade name, the storekeeper-gauger's report of gauge, Form 1520, must show both the real name of the actual distiller and the trade name under which the brandy was produced.

SUBPART EE—ALTERNATE OPERATION AS INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT OR REGISTERED DISTILLERY

§ 184.725 Qualifying for alternate operation. Whenever a distillery established or operated under this part is to be operated alternately as such and as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery, the procedure prescribed in Subpart N of this part for effecting such change in the type of the distillery must be complied with.

§ 184.726 Completion of operations required. When a fruit distillery is to be operated as an industrial alcohol plant or as a registered distillery, the business of producing brandy, except as provided in this subpart, must be completely finished by the person or persons first carrying on the business, and the distillery duly suspended before it can be operated as an industrial alcohol plant or a registered distillery. Except as provided in §§ 184.727 and 184.728 all unfinished brandy, including singlings and low wines, and distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil collected in accordance with the provisions of Subpart S of this part, must be redistilled and run into receiving tanks, drawn off, gauged, and removed by the outgoing distiller before the distillery can be operated as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery.

§ 184.727 Retention of distillates. Where the change in the type of plant is to be temporary only, and the quantity of distillates on hand containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil is insufficient for a carload shipment (but not over 10,000 gallons) and is to be shipped for denaturation, the outgoing distiller may retain such distillates under Government lock in heads and tails tanks or in the brandy deposit room in the distillery until the plant is again operated by him as a fruit distillery under the provisions of this part (but for not more than 60 days), if such distiller furnishes a duly executed consent of surety, Form 1533, in triplicate, continuing liability on the fruit distiller's bond, Form 30½, for the tax on such distillates retained on the premises notwithstanding the change in the type of plant. When such distillates are so retained on the distillery premises, the district supervisor will cause a sample of the contents of each container not previously tested to be taken and analyzed to determine whether the distillate contains the required percentage of aldehydes or fusel oil.

(53 Stat. 346; 26 U. S. C. 2916)

§ 184.728 Retention of unfinished brandy. Where the change in type of plant is to be temporary only, the outgoing distiller may retain unfinished brandy under Government lock in unfinished brandy tanks, provided in accordance with § 184.132 in the fruit distillery, until the plant is again operated by him as a fruit distillery under the provisions of this part: Provided, That such distiller furnishes a duly executed consent of surety, Form 1533, in triplicate, continuing liability on the fruit distiller's bond, Form 30½, for the tax on such unfinished brandy retained on the premises, notwithstanding the change in the type of plant.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.729 Transfer of materials, etc. The outgoing distiller may transfer to his successor materials on hand, including those in process, at the time the change in type of plant takes place, but no brandy may be so transferred, except the residue of brandy in the stills which it is not practicable to completely boil out: Provided, That materials not usable and residue of brandy in stills not producible under the law at the succeeding type of plant may not be transferred to the successor. Where such materials and residue of brandy are not transferable, all materials in process must be distilled, all basic materials must be removed from the premises, and the stills and other vessels must be completely cleared of brandy and such brandy, if other than unfinished brandy or distillates intended for retention in accordance with the provisions of §§ 184.727 and 184.728, removed from the distillery in accordance with law before the change in type of plant becomes effective. When it is again desired to resume operations as a distiller under the provisions of this part, the business of producing alcohol or whiskey, rum, et cetera, as the case may be, must be similarly finished and the industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery suspended in accordance with governing regulations.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.730 Transfer agreement, Form 1614. Where the outgoing distiller and his successor so arrange for the transfer of distilling materials, the outgoing distiller will file with the district supervisor four copies of Form 1614, duly executed by himself and the prospective successor. Brandy which has been withdrawn for redistillation from other premises may not be transferred on Form 1614 by the distiller to a successor. The form will be filed in sufficient time to permit consideration thereof in connection with the transferor's notice of suspension of operations and the transferee's qualifying documents. The district supervisor will, upon approval, forward one copy to the transferor and one copy to the transferee. The district supervisor will retain two copies, one for the file of the transferor and one for the file of the transferee. The provisions of § 184.160 concerning the verification of Form 27½ are hereby made applicable to Form 1614.

(63 Stat. 667; 26 U. S. C. 3809)

§ 184.731 Locking of furnace doors not required. In cases of alternate operation of the fruit distillery as such and as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery without lapse of time, it will not be necessary for the storekeeper-gauger to lock the furnace doors of the stills or the control valves in pipelines which convey steam or fuel to the stills, or to require disconnection of the distillery machinery.

§ 184.732 Completion of records. The outgoing distiller will complete his record, Form 15, as to the removal of basic materials from the premises, or the transfer of basic materials and materials in process to the successor, as the case may be, and as to production and removal from the distillery of all brandy produced by him. If distillates collected in accordance with Subpart S of this part are retained on the premises under lock in tanks or in the brandy deposit room, as provided in § 184.727, or unfinished brandy is retained on the premises in locked tanks, as provided in § 184.728, a notation will be made on Form 15 showing that such unfinished brandy or distillates are temporarily retained on the premises pending resumption of operations as a fruit distillery. The distiller will continue to file monthly reports on Form 15 during the period such unfinished brandy or distillates are retained on the distillery premises. Where the plant is operated as a fruit distillery in two or more periods during the same month by the same proprietor, the operations of such proprietor will be recorded on the same Form 15, but appropriate notations will be made on the separating lines to show the dates the distillery was operated as a registered distillery or an industrial alcohol plant and the names under which it was so operated.

§ 184.733 Records of successor. The succeeding proprietor will enter all materials, including those in process, received from his predecessor on Form 1442 if the distillery is to be operated as an industrial alcohol plant, or on Form 1598 if the distillery is to be operated as a registered distillery. The materials received will also be entered on Form 1686 by the storekeeper-gauger if the fruit distillery is to be operated as an industrial alcohol plant or as a registered distillery. If materials are transferred when the plant is again operated as a fruit distillery, appropriate entry thereof will be made on the records of the transferor and of the transferee.

(53 Stat. 321, 333, 358; 26 U. S. C. 2841, 2877, 3105)

§ 184.734 Disposition of brandy. Where a change in the type of plant takes place, the storekeeper-gauger assigned or detailed to the distillery will see that all distillates collected in accordance with Subpart S of this part are disposed of, and that all other unfinished brandy, except the residue of brandy in stills where the same is to be transferred to the successor as provided in § 184.729, are distilled and run into receiving tanks, drawn off, gauged, and removed by the outgoing distiller in the name under which they were produced, unless retained in the distillery in accordance with §§ 184.727 and 184.728, respectively, before the plant is operated as another type of distillery. Upon disposition or retention in the distillery of such unfinished brandy or distillates, and transfer of all other brandy to the receiving tanks, the distillery may be operated as another type of plant, but all brandy transferred to the receiving tanks must be marked and removed in accordance with law by the outgoing distiller in the name under which they were produced, before any spirits are deposited in the receiving tanks or withdrawn from the distillery by the successor.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2825)

§ 184.735 Alternate operation by same proprietor. Where the plant is to be operated alternately as a fruit distillery and as an industrial alcohol plant or registered distillery by the same proprietor, the procedure will be the same as in the case where the succeeding type of plant is to be operated under different proprietorship, except that in lieu of the submission of a transfer agreement on Form 1614 the distiller will, when distilling materials or the residue of brandy in stills is to be transferred to himself at the succeeding type of plant, request authority on Part 1 of the form to make such transfer.

Subpart FF—Change of Persons Interested in Business

§ 184.745 Completion of operations required. When a succession, or actual change, in the person or persons operating the distillery shall take place, other than a change brought about by operation of law, as by the appointment of an administrator, executor, receiver, trustee, assignee or other fiduciary, the business of producing brandy must be completely finished by the person or persons who have been carrying on the business, and the operations suspended before the business shall be undertaken or begun by the succeeding distiller, unless by an agreement between the outgoing distiller and the successor it shall be arranged to transfer from the former to the latter at midnight of a certain day all materials in process, and all unfinished brandy in the distillery at that hour: And provided, That, in either case, the notice, bond and other qualifying documents of the successor have been approved to take effect on the day next succeeding that at the close of which the transfer is made. Such documents should, therefore, be submitted to the district supervisor in sufficient time to permit such approval for the date desired. Except in the case of alternate operations by two or more previously qualified distillers, as provided by § 184.337 the successor of a distiller shall not commence operations until all documents required for his qualification as such distiller have been approved by the district supervisor. All finished brandy must be marked and removed by the outgoing distiller in the name under which it was produced before any brandy is deposited in the receiving tanks or withdrawn from the distillery by the successor.

§ 184.746 Transfer agreement, Form 1614. Where the outgoing distiller and the successor so arrange for the transfer of all distilling materials in process, and all unfinished brandy on hand, the outgoing distiller will file with the district supervisor four copies of Form 1614, duly executed by himself and the prospective successor. Brandy which has been withdrawn for redistillation from other premises may not be transferred on Form 1614 by the distiller to a successor. The form will be filed in sufficient time to permit consideration thereof in connection with the transferor's notice of suspension or discontinuance of operations, and the transferee's qualifying documents. The district supervisor will, upon approval, forward one copy to the transferor and one copy to the transferee. The district supervisor will retain two copies, one for the file of the transferor and one for the file of the transferee.

§ 184.747 Locking of furnace doors not required. In such cases of succession or change in the operations of the distillery without lapse of time, it will not be necessary for the Government officer to lock the furnace doors of the stills or the control valves on pipe lines which convey steam or fuel to the stills, or to disconnect the distilling machinery.

§ 184.748 Records. The outgoing distiller shall enter on his Form 15 all materials and all unfinished brandy transferred to his successor, who shall in turn enter such items on his Form 15 as received from his predecessor. Where the change in proprietorship is of a permanent nature, the outgoing distiller shall complete Form 15 and submit a final report on such form to the district supervisor. Appropriate notations will be made on such final report showing the change in proprietorship and the date thereof. Where the distillery is operated under alternating proprietorships, each proprietor shall keep a separate Form 15. When operations are conducted by the same proprietor in two or more periods during the same month, the operations by such proprietor will be entered on the same Form 15, appropriate notations being made on the separating lines to show the names of the alternating proprietors and the dates the distillery was operated by them. At the end of the month, report will be submitted to the district supervisor on such form in accordance with Subpart JJ of this part.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.749 Succession by fiduciary. Where a change in proprietorship is brought about by operation of law, the administrator, executor, receiver, trustee, assignee, or other fiduciary may not continue the business until the required qualifying documents have been filed and approved. In the case of such change, the fiduciary shall make appropriate notation on Form 15 of his succession, and the date thereof.

Subpart GG—Sales of Brandy by Fruit Distillers

§ 184.755 Bulk containers. Under the regulations issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (27 CFR, Part 3), distillers may sell or dispose of brandy in bulk, that is, containers having a capacity in excess of 1 gallon, (a) to other distillers and proprietors of internal revenue bonded warehouses, industrial alcohol plants and industrial alcohol bonded warehouses (holding permits under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act), including those operating tax-paid bottling houses; (b) to proprietors of Class 8 customs bonded warehouses (imported spirits only); (c) to rectifiers; (d) to winemakers for fortification of wine; (e) to any agency of the United States, or of any State or political subdivision thereof; (f) for export; (g) on warehouse receipts, conforming to the regulations issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, for distilled spirits in internal revenue bonded warehouses; and (h) for industrial use, as follows: For experimental purposes, and for use in the manufacture (1) of medicinal, pharmaceutical, or antiseptic products, including prescriptions compounded by retail druggists; (2) of toilet products; (3) of flavoring extracts, sirups, or food products; or (4) of scientific, chemical, mechanical, or industrial products; provided such products are unfit for beverage use. Fruit distillers may not, under the regulations issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (27 CFR, Part 3), sell or dispose of brandy (not including neutral spirits—fruit) in bulk for industrial use unless such brandy is shipped or delivered directly to the industrial user thereof.

(53 Stat. 333, 335 as amended; 26 U. S.C. 2878, 2883; 49 Stat. 985 (27 U. S. C. 206))

§ 184.756 Retail containers. Except as provided in § 184.755, fruit distillers may sell or dispose of brandy only in containers having a capacity of 1 gallon or less. All such containers having a capacity of one-half pint or more must conform to the requirements of Regulations 13 (26 CFR, Part 175.)

(53 Stat. 331; 26 U. S. C. 2871, 49 Stat. 985 (27 U. S. C. 206))

Subpart HH—Special (Occupational) Taxes

§ 184.760 Wholesale and retail liquor dealer. Except as provided in § 184.762, distillers must, in order to sell distilled spirits, file returns on Form 11, and pay special (occupational) taxes as wholesale liquor dealers or retail liquor dealers, or both, as the case may be, in accordance with the law and regulations governing the payment of such special taxes.

(53 Stat. 388 as amended, 394; 26 U. S. C. 3250, 3270, 3271, 3272)

§ 184.761 Warehouse receipts covering distilled spirits. Since the sale of warehouse receipts for distilled spirits is equivalent to the sale of distilled spirits, every proprietor of a fruit distillery who sells, or offers for sale, warehouse receipts for distilled spirits held in fruit distilleries or stored in internal revenue bonded warehouses, or elsewhere, incurs liability to special tax as a dealer in liquors at the place where such warehouse receipts are sold or offered for sale, and must file return and pay occupational tax as provided in § 184.760.

(53 Stat. 388 as amended, 391 as amended, 394; 26 U. S. C. 3250, 3254, 3270, 3271, 3272)

§ 184.762 Exemption of distiller. No distiller who has given the required bond and who sells only distilled spirits of his own production at the place of manufacture, or at the place of storage in bond, in the original packages to which the tax-paid stamps are affixed, shall be required to pay the special tax of a wholesale dealer in liquors on account of such sales. This provision does not exempt distillers from the payment of special taxes for sales of distilled spirits of their own production in bond (by warehouse receipts or otherwise), or in cases or containers other than the original packages, or for exportation, fortification of wine, use of the United States, etc., without attachment of tax-paid stamps to the original packages, nor does it exempt them from liability for special taxes where distilled spirits produced by other distillers are sold by them.

(53 Stat. 388 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3250)

Subpart II—Storekeeper-Gauger's Files

System of Filing

§ 184.770 Gauge reports and removal applications. The storekeeper-gauger's copy of all gauge reports covering brandy removed from the fruit distillery will be filed in the Government office at the plant in separate files according to type of withdrawal, in chronological order, and where brandy is withdrawn in packages, in sequence as to the serial numbers of packages removed. The applications for removal, including those on which the storekeper-gauger prepares his report of gauge, will be filed separately according to form number, in chronological order. The Forms 1520 covering the entry gauge of brandy deposited in an internal revenue bonded warehouse operated by the distiller on or contiguous to the distillery premises will be filed separately as a permanent record in bound form.

§ 184.771 Reports covering deposits in warehouse operated by distiller on or contiguous to distillery premises. The Forms 1520 covering the entry gauge of brandy deposited in an internal revenue bonded warehouse operated by the distiller on or contiguous to the distillery premises will be filed as a permanent record, in bound form, in the storekeeper-gauger's office for the warehouse in a separate file, in chronological order and in sequence to the serial numbers of the packages deposited. Where separate Government offices are maintained for the distillery and the bonded warehouse, the extra copy of Form 1520 provided in accordance with § 184.599 will be filed in the Government office for the distillery in the manner prescribed in § 184.770 for the filing of such forms covering the removal for deposit in an internal revenue bonded warehouse not operated by the distiller on or contiguous to the distillery premises.

Subpart JJ—Distiller's Records and Reports

§ 184.775 Record of distillery operations, Form 15. The distiller shall keep a record of the distillery operations on Form 15. Entries shall be made as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines and in accordance with the instructions printed on the form, and as set forth in this part. Except as provided in § 184.776 the entries shall be made before the close of the business day next succeeding the day on which the transactions occur. Where the making of the entries is deferred to the next business day, as authorized in this section, appropriate memoranda shall be maintained for the purpose of making the entries correctly. Form 15 will be kept at the distillery as a permanent record, in bound form, subject to inspection by Government officers at any reasonable hour.

(53 Stat. 321, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2841, 3171)

§ 184.776 Entry of brandy produced. The quantity of brandy reported produced in all cases will be taken from the storekeeper-gauger's reports on Form 1520 and entered as of the date of gauge.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2841)

§ 184.777 Monthly report. Immediately after the close of the month and the gauging of all brandy produced during the month, but in no case later than the 10th day of the succeeding month, the distiller shall render two copies of Form 15 to the district supervisor. The district supervisor will, after audit and not later than the last day of the month succeeding that for which rendered, forward one copy of the report to the Commissioner and will retain the remaining copy.

(53 Stat. 322, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2844, 3170)

§ 184.778 Execution of report. The report must be signed in the same manner as the distiller's notice, Form 27½, except that in the case of a corporation the affixing of the corporate seal will not be required. Each report must be verified under oath (or affirmation) by the distiller or his authorized agent at the distillery: Provided, That if the form officially prescribed for such report contains therein a provision for verification by a written declaration that such report is made under penalties of perjury such report shall be verified by the execution of such declaration, and such declaration shall be in lieu of the oath required herein for verification. Where the reports are signed by an agent, proper power of attorney, authorizing the agent to execute the reports for the distiller, must be filed in duplicate with the district supervisor, who will forward one copy to the Commissioner.

(63 Stat. 667; 26 U. S. C. 3809)

§ 184.779 Record of sales at tax-paid premises, Form 52–E. Every proprietor of a fruit distillery who maintains tax-paid premises at which tax-paid distilled spirits are received, stored, and sold in bulk, shall keep Form 52–E, of all spirits, both bulk and bottled, received and disposed of at his tax-paid premises: Provided, That if such proprietor so desires he may keep Form 52–E for bulk spirits only and Record 52, for bottled spirits only. Where only bottled spirits are received, stored, and sold at such tax-paid premises, the proprietor shall keep Record 52 of all such spirits received and disposed of at his tax-paid premises. By tax-paid premises is meant the "tax-paid" or "free" warehouse or room maintained in conjunction with the distillery, or premises maintained at other locations for the receipt, storage, and disposition of tax-paid spirits. Separate records must be kept at each of such premises.

(53 Stat. 327; 26 U. S. C. 2857)

§ 184.780 Record of warehouse receipts to be kept by distiller. Every proprietor of a fruit distillery who sells, or offers for sale, distilled spirits by warehouse receipts shall keep a separate record, and render a monthly transcript, of all purchases and sales of warehouse receipts on Form 52–F. There need not be entered on Form 52–F transactions in warehouse receipts not involving the purchase or sale of distilled spirits, such as the receipt from a warehouseman of warehouse receipts covering the deposit or bottling of spirits in his warehouse or the surrender of warehouse receipts for the bottling of the spirits in bond or their transfer in bond to another warehouse. Entries on Form 52–F shall be made as indicated by the headings of the columns and lines of the form and in accordance with the instructions printed thereon or issued in respect thereto, and as required by this part. The provisions of § 184.782 with respect to the time of making entries and of § 184.787 with respect to forms to be provided by users, are hereby made applicable to Form 52–F. The provisions of § 184.733 with respect to a separate record of serial numbers of cases are hereby made applicable to Form 52–F with respect to serial numbers of packages and cases purchased or sold by warehouse receipts. The monthly transcript on Form 52–F shall be forwarded to the district supervisor on or before the tenth day of the succeeding month. The physical removal of brandy from the fruit distillery shall continue to be reported on Form 15 in accordance with the provisions of § 184.775. The physical receipt and disposition of distilled spirits at tax-paid premises shall continue to be reported on Form 52–E or Record 52, as the case may be, in accordance with the provisions of § 184.779.

(53 Stat. 327 as amended, 328, 391 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2857, 2859, 3254)

§ 184.781 Place where Form 52–F shall be kept. Every distiller shall keep Form 52–F at the place of business where warehouse receipts are sold or offered for sale.

(53 Stat. 327 as amended, 328, 391 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2857, 2859, 3254)

§ 184.782 Time of making entries. Daily entries shall be made on Record 52 and Form 52–E, as indicated by the headings of the various columns and in accordance with instructions printed thereon before the close of business of the day next succeeding the day on which the transactions occur. Where the proprietor of a tax-paid premises defers the making of entries to the next business day, as authorized in this section, he shall maintain a separate record, such as invoices, of the removals of brandy showing the removal data required to be entered on Record 52 or Form 52–E and appropriate memoranda of other transactions required to be entered on such records, for the purpose of making the entries correctly.

(53 Stat. 327 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2857)

§ 184.783 Separate record of serial numbers of cases. Serial numbers of cases of distilled spirits disposed of need not be entered on Record 52 or Form 52–E, provided the proprietor keeps in his place of business a separate record, approved by the district supervisor, showing such serial numbers, with necessary identifying data, including the date of removal and the name and address of the consignee. Such separate record may be kept in book form (including loose-leaf books) or may consist of commercial papers, such as invoices or bills. Such books, invoices, and bills shall be preserved for a period of four years and in such a manner that the required information may be ascertained readily therefrom, and during such period shall be available during business hours for inspection and the taking of abstracts therefrom by revenue officers. Entries shall be made on such separate record before the close of the business day next succeeding the day on which the transactions occur. Where the making of the entries is deferred to the next business day, as authorized in this section, appropriate memoranda shall be maintained for the purpose of making the entries correctly. The proprietor whose separate record has been approved by the district supervisor shall make a notation in the column for reporting serial numbers, as follows: "Serial numbers shown on commercial records per authority dated ----------"

(53 Stat. 327 as amended, 495; 26 U. S. C. 2857, 4041)

§ 184.784 Reports. Except as otherwise provided in this section the proprietor shall file, daily, full and complete transcripts of Record 52 and Form 52–E (Parts 1 and 2) on Forms 52–A, 52–B, and 52–E (Parts 1 and 2) with the district supervisor, by delivering or mailing them to such officer on the date the transactions entered therein occurred: Provided, That in any case in which the district supervisor shall direct, the transcripts shall be so filed with the investigator in charge instead of with the district supervisor. The transcripts shall bear the following certification signed by the person or officer authorized to execute Form 338 or 52–E:

I hereby certify that these transcripts, consisting of ------ pages, disclose all the transactions which occurred during the period covered thereby, and that each entry is correct.

If in any case the District Supervisor shall so authorize, the transcripts, in lieu of being filed daily, may be filed with him on or before the 10th day of the month succeeding the month in which the transactions in distilled spirits occurred. In such event, transactions will be entered on Record 52 and Form 52–E in accordance with the provisions of § 184.782. Monthly summary reports on Form 338 (where Record 52 is kept) and Form 52–E (Part 3) shall be prepared in duplicate, one copy of which will be retained on file and the original forwarded to the District Supervisor on or before the 10th day of the month succeeding the month in which the transactions in distilled spirits occurred. Records kept on Record 52 and Form 52–E shall be preserved for a period of 4 years, and during such period shall be available during business hours for inspection and the taking of abstracts therefrom by the Commissioner or any internal revenue officer.

(53 Stat. 327 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2857)

§ 184.785 Payment of tax, bottling charge, etc. by third party. The proprietor of a fruit distillery shall report, on Form 15, Part 2, when Record 52 is kept, on Part 2 and on transcript, Form 52–B, and when Form 52–E is kept, on Part 2, the name and address of each consignee, in the column now designated "Name". In the column now designated "Address," there will be reported the name and address of the person, firm or corporation paying (by advancement or reimbursement) either tax, bottling charge, brokerage fee, handling charge, or clearance fee, indicating which are included. The heading of both columns will be amended accordingly.

(53 Stat. 327 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2857)

§ 184.786 Order by third party to ship or deliver brandy. (a) Where the proprietor of a fruit distillery ships or delivers brandy to a consignee on the order of another wholesale liquor dealer, detailed records of the transactions shall be kept on Form 15, Part 2 by the proprietor of the fruit distillery making the shipment or delivery, on Record 52 by the wholesale liquor dealer giving the order, and on Record 52 by the consignee if he is a wholesale liquor dealer. For example, assuming that the proprietor of fruit distillery (A) ships or delivers the brandy to consignee (C) on the order of wholesale dealer (B), entries will be made on the prescribed forms as follows:

(1) The proprietor of the fruit distillery (A) will show on his Form 15, Part 2, the name and address of wholesale dealer (B) who ordered the brandy, as well as the name and address of consignee (C), the person to whom the brandy is actually shipped or delivered;

(2) Wholesale dealer (B) will show in his Record 52 that the brandy was purchased from distiller (A), giving both the name and address of (A), and will at the same time make an entry showing that the brandy was shipped or delivered by (A) to consignee (C) giving the name and address of (C); and

(3) Consignee (C), if a wholesale liquor dealer, will show in his Record 52 that the brandy was purchased from wholesale dealer (B) and received by him from the proprietor of fruit distillery (A), giving name and address of both. A copy of Form 15 and transcripts of Record 52 on Forms 52–A and 52–B, required to be filed with the district supervisor, will similarly show the details of such transactions.

(b) Where the proprietor of a fruit distillery keeps Record 52, or Form 52–E, and is a party to transactions similar to those described in this section, he shall make similar entries of such transactions in Record 52, or Form 52–E, as the case may be; and the transcripts on Forms 52–A and 52–B, or 52–E, respectively, required to be filed with the district supervisor, will likewise show the details of the transactions.

(53 Stat. 327 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2857)

§ 184.787 Forms to be provided by users. Record 52 and Forms 52–A, 52–B, 52–E, 52–F, and 338 will be provided by users at their own expense but must be in the form prescribed by the Commissioner: Provided, That with the approval of the Commissioner they may be modified to adapt their use to tabulating or other mechanical equipment: Provided further, That where the form is printed in book form, including loose-leaf books, the instructions may be printed on the cover or the fly-leaf of the book, instead of on the individual form.

§ 184.788 Verification of reports. Reports on Forms 52–E, 52–F and 338 must be filed in accordance with the instructions printed on the forms and be sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths: Provided, That if the form officially prescribed for any such report contains therein a provision for verification by a written declaration that the report is made under penalties of perjury, such report shall be verified by the execution of such declaration and such declaration so executed shall be in lieu of the oath required in this section for verification.

(63 Stat. 667; 26 U. S. C. 3809)

Subpart KK—General Provisions Relating to Distilleries

§ 184.795 Production of mash, wort, or wash. No mash, wort, or wash fit for distillation or for the production of spirits or alcohol shall be made or fermented in any building or on any premises other than a distillery or industrial alcohol plant duly authorized according to law, except for the manufacture of fermented liquors or for the manufacture of vinegar.

(53 Stat. 319; 26 U. S. C. 2834)

§ 184.796 Sale or removal of mash, wort, or wash; distillation. No mash, wort, or wash made and fermented in any distillery or industrial alcohol plant shall be sold or removed therefrom before being distilled; and no person other than an authorized distiller or proprietor of an industrial alcohol plant shall by distillation or by any other process separate the alcoholic spirits from any fermented mash, wort, or wash, except for the manufacture of vinegar.

(53 Stat. 319; 26 U. S. C. 2834)

§ 184.797 Removal of spirits at night. Under the law, no person may remove any distilled spirits at any other time than after sunrise and before sunset in any cask or package containing more that 10 gallons from any premises or building in which the same may have been distilled, redistilled, rectified, compounded, manufactured, or stored. This provision does not forbid the removal from the distillery, under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger, of brandy by pipeline after sunset to the fortifying room of a contiguous winery or to an internal revenue bonded warehouse located on the distillery premises.

(53 Stat. 316 as amended, 331; 26 U. S. C. 2825, 2870)

§ 184.798 Use of distillery premises. Except as otherwise provided in this part, the distillery premises must be used exclusively for the purpose of distilling.

(53 Stat. 314, 316 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2819, 2825)

Subpart LL—Manufacture, Tax Payment, Removal, and Registration of Stills and Worms

§ 184.805 General. Whenever fruit distillers manufacture or reconstruct stills or worms, or set up, sell, or remove stills or distilling apparatus, they must comply with Regulations 23 (26 CFR, Part 181) governing the payment of special and commodity taxes, the securing of permits before setting up or removing stills and distilling apparatus, and the registration of stills and distilling apparatus set up.

Subpart MM—Locks and Seals

§ 184.810 General. Except as otherwise provided in this part, the Commissioner will furnish, at the expense of the United States, all Government locks and seals required to be used at fruit distilleries. District supervisors will see that distilleries in their respective districts are fully equipped with locks in good condition, and that the necessary seals are provided for seal locks. Government locks are required upon all necessary openings in the distillery apparatus by which access may be had to brandy in the process of manufacture from the first still in which the vapors rise until the finished brandy is deposited in the receiving tanks; upon all doors in the receiving and brandy deposit rooms, if any; and upon the control valves in pipelines which convey steam or fuel to the stills or which convey brandy to warehouse storage tanks or to tanks in the fortifying rooms of contiguous wineries or to tank cars; and otherwise as specifically provided by this part or where deemed necessary by the district supervisor.

(53 Stat. 314; 26 U. S. C. 2820)

§ 184.811 Seal locks. Seal locks will be used on the entrance doors of the receiving and brandy deposit rooms; on the door of the Government cabinet; on the manheads, inlets, outlets, and other openings of receiving tanks and singlings tanks, except that plain locks will be used on receiving tanks located in a securely constructed receiving or brandy deposit room; and on such other places where the use of seal locks is required by this part or deemed necessary by the district supervisor.

§ 184.812 Plain locks. Plain locks will be used at all other places in the distillery where locks are required by this part.

§ 184.813 Custody of locks, keys, and seals. Storekeeper-gaugers are strictly prohibited from entrusting locks, keys, or seals in their charge to any person other than an internal revenue officer entitled to receive them, and under no circumstances will they permit locks to remain open, whether hanging by the shackle or otherwise.

(53 Stat. 314, 373 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 2820, 3170)

§ 184.814 Cap seals. All unions, flanges, and other pipe connections in the distillery equipment not secured by welding or brazing or similar methods must be securely connected and sealed with seals approved by the Commissioner. A special type of seal, serially numbered, has been approved for use in sealing unions, flanges, and other detachable pipe connections. This seal has, for the purpose of identification, been designated a "Cap" seal.

§ 184.815 Breaking of sealed connections forbidden. Sealed connections must not be broken by the distiller for any reason, except in cases of emergency and then only after notifying the storekeeper-gauger, if any, assigned to the distillery, or the district supervisor. Where the distiller desires to make changes in the equipment involving the breaking of a sealed connection he will follow the procedure prescribed in § 184.287.

(53 Stat. 325; 26 U. S. C. 2851)

§ 184.816 Removal of cap seals. Except as provided in § 184.815, cap seals which have been affixed will be removed only by a storekeeper-gauger or some other officer designated for the purpose by the district supervisor. The officer will destroy all removed cap seals in a manner sufficient to prevent their reuse.

(53 Stat. 325; 26 U. S. C. 2851)

SUBPART NN—MANUFACTURE OF DEALCOHOLIZED WINES

§ 184.835 General. Dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume may be manufactured on the premises of a fruit distillery.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.836 Materials. Wines containing one-half of 1 percent or more of alcohol by volume may be procured from bonded wineries or bonded storerooms for use in the manufacture of dealcoholized wines containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume. All wines received for use in the manufacture of such dealcoholized wines will, at the time of receipt, be measured and tested by the distiller and entered on Form 15 and Form 1493, with the date of receipt and the name, registry number, and location of the bonded premises from which received. When the wine is distilled, appropriate entry will be made on Form 15 in the same manner as when other distilling material is distilled.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.837 Production. The wine must be distilled and the spirits extracted therefrom must be saved and duly accounted for on Form 15. The residue, or dealcoholized wine containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume, may be further treated before removal from the distillery premises to render the same marketable, but the treatment must be such as will not cause the alcoholic content of the dealcoholized wine to increase to as much as one-half of 1 percent by volume after its removal from the distillery premises. Where such wines are found on the market containing alcohol in excess of the limit specified, the distiller will be liable for the tax thereon and to the penalties prescribed by law, and the packages and their contents will be subject to seizure and forfeiture. When the manufacture of the dealcoholized wine is complete, it must be placed in barrels, casks, or tanks, plainly and legibly marked with the words "Dealcoholized Wine," and kept separate from containers of brandy pending removal from the premises.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.838 Removal. Dealcoholized wine must be drawn into barrels or similar containers prior to removal from the distillery premises: Provided, That such dealcoholized wines may be transferred by pipeline to a bottling plant on contiguous premises for bottling, where in the judgment of the district supervisor such may be done without jeopardy to the revenue. Dealcoholized wine must not be drawn off or removed through the receiving room or brandy deposit room or bonded warehouse.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.839 Marking of packages. If dealcoholized wine is drawn into packages for shipment, such packages must be marked by the distiller with his name, distillery number, location (city or town and State), the words "Dealcoholized Wine" and "Less than One-Half of 1 Percent of Alcohol by Volume" or "Contains No Alcohol," as the case may be, and the date of removal, in distinct and legible letters.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.840 Supervision of removal. All dealcoholized wine must be removed from the distillery premises under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. Prior to removal, the storekeeper-gauger will inspect the dealcoholized wine and determine the alcoholic content thereof by ebulliometer test.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.841 Bottles to be labeled. When dealcoholized wines are bottled after removal from the distillery premises, there shall be affixed to each bottle a label setting forth the name of the distiller and the location of the distillery, together with the words "Dealcoholized Wine" and "Less than One-Half of 1 Percent of Alcohol by Volume," or "Contains No Alcohol," as the case may be: Provided, That where the dealcoholized wine is bottled by or for a dealer there may be substituted for the name of the distiller and the location of the distillery, the registered number and State of the distillery, preceded by the letters "F. D.," as "F. D No. 150—Cal.," and the name and address of the person by or for whom the dealcoholized wine is bottled, preceded by the words "Bottled by" or "Bottled for," as the case may be.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

§ 184.842 Record and report, Form 1493. Every fruit distiller manufacturing dealcoholized wine shall keep a record on Form 1493 for each month that dealcoholized wine is produced, or dealcoholized wine or wine containing one-half of 1 percent or more of alcohol by volume procured for the manufacture of dealcoholized wine, remains on the premises. Entries shall be made on the form as indicated by the headings of the various columns and lines thereof. The form will be retained at the distillery as a permanent record, subject to inspection by Government officers. The distiller shall prepare and forward two copies of Form 1493 to the district supervisor not later than the 10th day of the month succeeding that for which the report is rendered. The district supervisor will retain one copy in his office and will, after audit and not later than the last day of the month succeeding that for which the report is rendered, transmit the other copy to the Commissioner.

(53 Stat. 347 as amended, 348 as amended; 26 U. S. C. 3030, 3031)

SUBPART OO—OFFICER'S RIGHT OF ENTRY AND EXAMINATION

§ 184.850 Entry of distillery or premises used in connection therewith. Under the law, any internal revenue officer may at all times, as well by night as by day, enter any distillery or building or place used for the business of distilling, or used in connection therewith for storage or other purposes, and, if not admitted upon demand, having declared his name and office, he may break open any doors or windows or break through any of the walls of such premises necessary to be broken to enable him to enter.

(53 Stat. 317; 26 U. S. C. 2827)

§ 184.851 Authority to break up grounds or walls. Under the law, any internal revenue officer and any persons acting in his aid may break up the ground on any part of the distillery or premises of a distiller, or any ground adjoining or near any such distillery or premises, or any wall or partition thereof or belonging thereto, or other place, to search for any pipe, cock, private conveyance, or utensil, and upon finding any pipe or conveyance leading from or to the distillery premises to break up any ground, house, wall or other place through or into which such pipe or conveyance leads, and to break or cut away such pipe or other conveyance.

(53 Stat. 318; 26 U. S. C. 2830)

§ 184.852 Examination of worm tubs. Under the law, any internal revenue officer may require the water in any worm tub to be drawn off and the tub and worm cleansed at any time when the still is not at work, and the water must be kept out of the worm tub for 2 hours or until the officer has finished his examination.

(53 Stat. 321; 26 U. S. C. 2839)

§ 184.853 Distillers to furnish assistance. Under the law, on demand of any internal revenue officer, every distiller shall furnish convenient ladders to enable the officer to examine any vessel or utensil in his distillery, and shall furnish all assistance, lights, tools, or other things necessary for inspecting the premises and apparatus, and shall open all doors, boxes, packages, and all casks, barrels, and other vessels not under the control of the Government officer in charge thereof.

(53 Stat. 317; 26 U. S. C. 2828)

SUBPART PP—RULES FOR COMPUTING CAPACITY OF STILLS

§ 184.860 Pot or kettle stills. The estimated maximum capacity in proof gallons of brandy capable of being produced every 24 hours, which is required to be shown on the distiller's notice, will be computed as follows: The working capacity of pot or kettle stills will be determined by multiplying 80 percent of the cubic capacity of the still by the maximum number of boilings that can be made in 24 hours and then multiplying this result by the percent of alcohol by volume contained in the highest yielding material to be used in distillation. This result will represent the quantity of wine gallons of absolute alcohol that can be distilled in 24 hours. This quantity, when multiplied by 2, will represent the number of proof gallons. For example, if a pot still having a cubic capacity of 2,000 gallons is used, and such still can be charged three times in 8 hours and the highest percentage of alcohol by volume in the distilling material to be used is 8 percent, the brandy-producing capacity of the still will be computed as follows: $2{,}000\times0.8\times9\times0.08\times2=2{,}304$ proof gallons. (The quantity that can be distilled in 24 hours.)

§ 184.861 Charge chamber stills. The estimated maximum capacity in proof gallons of brandy capable of being produced every 24 hours, which is required to be shown on the distiller's notice, will be computed as follows: Where a charge chamber still is used, the estimated maximum quantity of brandy in proof gallons capable of being produced will be determined by multiplying 80 percent of the cubic capacity of the still by the number of times the same can be filled and emptied in 24 hours. This result will represent the total number of gallons of distilling material that can be distilled in 24 hours, which quantity will be multiplied by the percent of alcohol by volume contained in the highest yielding material to be used. The result of such computation will represent the number of wine gallons of absolute alcohol that can be distilled in 24 hours. This quantity, when multiplied by 2, will represent the number of proof gallons. For example, if a charge still is used having a charge chamber of a cubic capacity of 600 gallons which can be charged three times in one hour, and the highest percentage of alcohol by volume in the distilling material to be used is 8 percent, the brandy-producing capacity will be computed as follows: $600\times0.8\times3\times24\times0.08\times2=5{,}529.6$ proof gallons. (The quantity that can be distilled in 24 hours.)

§ 184.862 Continuous stills. The estimated maximum capacity in proof gallons of brandy capable of being produced every 24 hours, which is required to be shown on the distiller's notice, will be computed as follows: If continuous stills are used, the maximum brandy-producing capacity in proof gallons of such stills will be computed on the area of the column in square feet. The first step will be to determine the inside diameter of the still at its base and the diameter will then be divided by 2 to ascertain the radius. The diameter may be determined (a) by accurately measuring the inside width of the still with a rod or tape, or (b) by measuring the outside circumference of the still and dividing the same by 3.1416 and deducting from the quotient twice the thickness of the sides of the still. The radius (in feet) will be squared and then multiplied by 3.1416 (Pi) to ascertain the area of the column in square feet. The area in square feet will be multiplied by the factor 40 (the number of gallons of 100 proof spirits that can be distilled in one hour per square foot of plate area) and the result will represent the total number of gallons of 100 proof spirits that can be distilled in one hour. This quantity will be multiplied by 24 to determine the number of gallons of 100 proof spirits that can be distilled in one day. For example, if a continuous still having a diameter of 4 feet is used, the brandy-producing capacity will be computed as follows: $2\times2\times3.1416\times40\times24=12{,}063.74$ proof gallons. (The quantity that can be produced in 24 hours.)

3. The purposes of the regulations are as follows:

(a) To conform to Public Law 448—81st Congress (H. R. 5486);

(b) To delegate to district supervisors the authority to approve the establishment of registered fruit distilleries;

(c) To incorporate in the regulations provisions relating to the gauging of distilled spirits at registered distilleries, now contained in the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186) but which are being deleted from the current revision of such manual;

(d) To liberalize requirements pertaining to tanks now required to be of uniform dimensions;

(e) To provide for the weighing of spirits transferred by pipe line to a warehouse operated by the distiller on the distillery premises or on premises contiguous thereto, either in the distillery or in the warehouse;

(f) To simplify the procedure relating to alternating proprietorships and types of plants;

(g) To prescribe in lieu of an oath a declaration, subject to the penalties of perjury, for the following forms:

Form 28, "Registry of Stills"
Form 52–E, "Monthly Record and Report of Importer or Proprietor of Tax-paid Premises"
Form 52–F, "Wholesale Liquor Dealer's Monthly Record and Report of Purchases and Sale of Warehouse Receipts for Distilled Spirits"
Form 338, "Wholesale Liquor Dealer's Monthly Report";

(h) To effectuate other changes of a technical nature designed to clarify the present regulatory procedure;

(i) To rearrange the text to conform to the Federal Register Regulations (5 F. R. 1245).

Effective date. These regulations shall be effective as of September 1, 1950.

[SEAL] GEORGE J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved: August 11, 1950.

THOMAS J. LYNCH,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

PART 315—LICENSING UNDER THE FEDERAL FIREARMS ACT OF MANUFACTURERS OF, AND DEALERS IN, FIREARMS OR AMMUNITION

SEIZURES AND FORFEITURES

In order to conform to the provisions of the act approved February 7, 1950 (Pub. Law 442, 81st Cong., 2d Sess.), amending the Federal Firearms Act approved June 30, 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1250, 53 Stat. 1222, 61 Stat. 11; 15 U. S. C. 901–909), Treasury Decision 5646 approved July 26, 1948, as amended by Treasury Decision 5763 approved December 2, 1949 (26 CFR Part 315), is further amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. The second of the paragraphs preceding the table of contents is amended by striking out the word "and" immediately following the semicolon; by striking out the parenthetical matter "Public Law 15, 80th Congress" and inserting in lieu thereof "61 Stat. 11"; and by striking out the period at the end thereof and inserting in lieu of such period a semicolon and the following: "and section 5 of such act as so quoted reflects the amendment made by the act approved February 7, 1950 (Pub. Law 442, 81st Cong.)."

PAR. 2. Section 315.0 is amended by striking from the quotation of the act "Sec. 5", and inserting in lieu thereof "Sec. 5. (a)" and adding to the quotation of section 5 of the act a new subsection designated (b) as follows:

(b) Any firearm or ammunition involved in any violation of the provisions of this act or any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture, and all provisions of the Internal Revenue Code relating to the seizure, forfeiture, and disposition of firearms as defined in section 2733 of such code shall, so far as applicable, extend to seizures and forfeitures incurred under the provisions of this act.

PAR. 3. Section 315.13 is amended by striking out § 315.13 Penalties.", and inserting in lieu thereof § 315.13 (a) General."; by striking out "Section 5" in the first sentence thereof and inserting in lieu thereof "Section 5 (a)"; and by adding a new paragraph designated (b) as follows:

(b) Forfeitures. (1) Pursuant to section 5 (b) of the act any firearm or ammunition involved in any violation of the act or of the regulations in this part is subject to seizure and forfeiture, and all provisions of the Internal Revenue Code relating to the seizure, forfeiture, and disposition of firearms as defined in section 2733 of the Code, so far as applicable, extend to seizures and forfeitures incurred under the provisions of the act.

(2) Pursuant to Treasury Decision 5791, approved by the Secretary on May 22, 1950, and the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, Public Law 152, 81st Congress, 1st session, approved June 30, 1949, any firearm or ammunition forfeited by reason of a violation of the Federal Firearms Act or any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, the forfeiture of which firearm or ammunition has not been remitted or mitigated, shall be delivered to the Administrator of General Services for use or disposition as provided by law.

(Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1252; 15 U. S. C. 907)

Because of the technical nature of the amendments made herein it is found that it is impracticable to issue this Treasury decision with notice and public procedure thereon under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4 (c) of said act.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Regs., Serial No. SR-353]

PART 40—AIR CARRIER OPERATING CERTIFICATION

PART 61—SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER RULES

ISSUANCE OF AIR CARRIER OPERATING CERTIFICATES TO PERSONS HOLDING TEMPORARY CERTIFICATES OF PUBLIC CONVENIENCE AND NECESSITY

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of August 1950.

Special Civil Air Regulation SR-335 authorizes the Administrator to issue an air carrier operating certificate or amendments thereto, under conditions which do not fully meet requirements of Parts 40 and 61, to an air carrier holding a temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the Board. Such regulation will terminate August 31, 1950.

At the time Special Civil Air Regulation SR-335 was promulgated it was anticipated that prior to August 31, 1950, appropriate revisions of Parts 40 and 61 would be promulgated to govern operations covered by that regulation. However, while the Board's Bureau of Safety Regulation had been actively engaged in that project, final determination has not been made with respect to the provisions of such revisions. It should be noted, however, that the Board anticipates that these revisions will be adopted at an early date. Therefore, it is considered necessary to continue for a period of one year the authorization for the issuance or amendment of air carrier operating certificates, under conditions specified herein, to air carriers holding temporary certificates of public convenience and necessity.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this regulation, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented. Since the regulation imposes no additional burden on any person, it may be made effective on less than 30 days' notice.

In consideration of the foregoing the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby makes and promulgates the following Special Civil Air Regulation effective September 1, 1950:

An air carrier operating certificate, or amendments thereto, may be issued by the Administrator to an air carrier holding a temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity, issued by the Board, authorizing such carrier to engage in scheduled air carrier operations which do not fully meet the certification and operation requirements of Parts 40 and 61 of the Civil Air Regulations, if the Administrator finds that any of such requirements can be omitted or modified without adversely affecting safety. Such omissions or modifications, when approved by the Administrator, shall be listed in the air carrier operating certificate, and the Administrator shall promptly notify the Board of the omissions or modifications approved by him and the reasons therefor.

This regulation supersedes Special Civil Air Regulation SR-335 and shall terminate August 31, 1951, unless sooner terminated or rescinded by the Board.

TITLE 35—PANAMA CANAL

Chapter I—Canal Zone Regulations

Appendix—Canal Zone Orders

[Canal Zone Order 21]

VITAL STATISTICS IN THE CANAL ZONE

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by section 371 of title 2 of the Canal Zone Code and delegated to the Secretary of the Army by Executive Order No. 9746 of July 1, 1946, as amended by Executive Order No. 10101 of January 31, 1950, it is ordered as follows:

SECTION 1. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Dead body" means a lifeless human body or such parts of the human body or the bones thereof from the state of which it may reasonably be concluded that death recently occurred.

(b) "Health Bureau" means the Health Bureau of The Panama Canal.

(c) "Live birth" means the birth of a child who shows evidence of life after the child is entirely outside the mother.

(d) "Physician" means a person legally authorized to practice medicine in the Canal Zone.

(e) "Regulations" means the regulations made pursuant to section 15 of this order.

(f) "Stillbirth" means a birth after twenty weeks of gestation which is not a live birth.

(g) "Vital statistics" includes the registration, preparation, transcription, collection, compilation and preservation of data pertaining to births, adoptions, legitimations, deaths, stillbirths, and data incidental thereto.

(h) "Vital Statistics Unit" means the organizational unit of The Panama Canal charged with the function of vital statistics.

SEC. 2. Administration. The provisions of this order and of the regulations shall be administered by the Vital Statistics Unit, under the supervision of the Governor of The Panama Canal or such officer as he may designate.

SEC. 3. Filing certificate of live birth. Within the time prescribed by the regulations, a certificate of every live birth in the Canal Zone shall be filed with the Vital Statistics Unit by the physician, midwife, or other legally authorized person in attendance at the birth or, if not so attended, by one of the parents.

SEC. 4. Filing of birth certificate by Vital Statistics Unit where parents unable. If neither parent of a newborn child whose birth is unattended as hereinbefore provided is able to prepare a birth certificate, the Vital Statistics Unit shall secure the necessary information from any person having knowledge of the birth and prepare and file the certificate. The regulations shall prescribe the time within which a supplementary report, furnishing information omitted from any original certificate filed under this section, may be returned for the purpose of completing the certificate. Certificates of birth completed by such supplementary report shall not be considered "delayed" or "altered."

SEC. 5. Report and birth certificate of foundling. (a) Whoever assumes the custody of a child of unknown parentage shall immediately report to the Vital Statistics Unit in writing: (1) The date and place of finding or assumption of custody; (2) the sex, color or race, and approximate age of the child; (3) the name and address of the person or institution with whom the child has been placed for care; and (4) the name given to the child by the finder or custodian.

(b) The report shall constitute the certificate of birth.

(c) If the child is identified and a regular certificate of birth is found or obtained, either in the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, or elsewhere, the report shall be sealed and filed and may be opened only upon the demand of the subject of the report if of legal age or by an order of court.

SEC. 6. Supplementary certificate upon adoption. Upon receipt of a certified copy of an order or decree of adoption the Vital Statistics Unit shall prepare a supplementary certificate in the new name of the adopted person, and seal and file the original certificate of birth with said certified copy attached thereto. Such sealed documents may be opened only upon the demand of the adopted person if of legal age or by an order of court. Upon receipt of a certified copy of a court order of annulment of adoption the original certificate shall be restored to its original place in the file.

SEC. 7. New birth certificate upon legitimation. In cases of legitimation the Vital Statistics Unit, upon receipt of proof thereof, shall prepare a new certificate of birth in the new name of the legitimated child. The evidence upon which the new certificate is made and the original certificate shall be sealed and filed and may be opened only upon the demand of the person involved if of legal age or by an order of court.

CROSS REFERENCE: Legitimation of child, see Canal Zone Code title 3, sections 165 and 196; see also title 3, section 634.

SEC. 8. Filing of certificates of death and stillbirth. (a) When a death or stillbirth occurs, or a dead body is found, in the Canal Zone, and within such time after the occurrence is known as shall be prescribed by the regulations, the Health Bureau shall cause a certificate of death or stillbirth to be filed with the Vital Statistics Unit in all cases except in the event no physician was in attendance and no autopsy was performed, in which case the Coroner shall certify the cause of death or stillbirth to his best knowledge and belief and cause the certificate to be filed.

(b) In preparing a certificate of death or stillbirth the Health Bureau or Coroner, as the case may be, shall obtain and enter on the certificate the personal data required by the regulations from the persons best qualified to supply them. The Health Bureau shall present the certificate of death to the physician last in attendance upon the deceased or, in the event there was no physician in attendance but an autopsy was performed, to the appropriate officer of the Health Bureau, who shall thereupon certify the cause of death to his best knowledge and belief. The Health Bureau shall present the certificate of stillbirth to the physician, midwife, or other person in attendance at the stillbirth, who shall certify the stillbirth and such medical data pertaining thereto as he can furnish. If the circumstances suggest that the death or stillbirth was caused by other than natural causes, the Health Bureau shall refer the case to the Coroner for investigation.

(c) If the cause of death cannot be determined within the time prescribed for the filing of the certificate, the certification of its cause may be filed after the prescribed period, but the attending physician, or appropriate officer of the Health Bureau, or the Coroner, shall give the Health Bureau written notice of the reason for the delay, in order that a permit for the disposition of the body may be issued.

SEC. 9. Disposition of body or its removal from Canal Zone. When a death or stillbirth occurs, or a dead body is found, in the Canal Zone, the body shall not be interred, or otherwise disposed of, or removed from the Canal Zone, except under, and in accordance with the terms of, the regulations and a permit theretofore issued by the Health Bureau; but no such permit shall be issued until a certificate of death or stillbirth, so far as the same can be completed under the circumstances of the case, has been filed. After interment a dead body shall not be disinterred except under, and in accordance with the terms of, the regulations and a permit theretofore issued by the Health Bureau.

CROSS-REFERENCE: Offenses respecting interment, disinterment and removal of dead bodies, see sections 481 to 483 of title 5, Canal Zone Code.

SEC. 10. Transportation and disposition of body upon death outside of Canal Zone. When death or stillbirth occurs outside of the Canal Zone and the body is accompanied by a permit for interment, removal, or other disposition issued in accordance with the law or regulations in force where the death or stillbirth occurs, the permit shall authorize the transportation of the body into or through the Canal Zone, but before the interment, cremation, or other disposal of the body in the Canal Zone, the permit shall be endorsed by the Health Bureau which shall keep a record thereof.

CROSS-REFERENCE: Restrictions on bringing into Canal Zone port body of person dead of quarantinable disease, see Navigation Rule 119ss.

SEC. 11. Forms of the several certificates. The forms of the several certificates provided for in this order shall include as a minimum the items required by the respective standard certificates as recommended by the Federal Security Administrator or by his authority, subject to modification by the regulations.

SEC. 12. Filing or alteration of certificates after prescribed time. A certificate may be filed or altered after the time prescribed in this order, or in the regulations, upon the submission to the Vital Statistics Unit of such proof as may be required by the regulations. Certificates accepted subsequent to six months after the time prescribed for filing, and certificates which have been altered after being filed, shall contain the date of the delayed filing and the date of the alteration and be marked "delayed" or "altered." A summary statement of the evidence submitted in support of the acceptance for delayed filing or alteration shall be endorsed on the certificate. Such evidence shall be kept in a special permanent file.

SEC. 13. Certified copies. Subject to the restrictions contained in section 14 of this order, a certified copy of any certificate or any part thereof shall be furnished to any applicant upon request. Such certified copy may be furnished without fee or upon payment of a reasonable fee, as may be prescribed in the regulations. A copy of the contents of any certificate on file, or any part thereof, certified by the officer or employee designated in the regulations shall be considered for all purposes the same as the original.

SEC. 14. Disclosure of records. Inspection of the vital-statistics records shall not be permitted, and a certified copy of a certificate or part thereof shall not be issued, unless the Vital Statistics Unit is satisfied that the applicant has a direct and legitimate interest in the matter recorded or that the information therein contained is necessary for the determination of personal or property rights.

SEC. 15. Supplementary regulations. The Governor of The Panama Canal is granted continuing authority to make the necessary regulations to effectuate the provisions of this order.

SEC. 16. Violation of regulations; punishment. Any person who willfully makes or alters any certificate or certified copy thereof provided for in this order, except in accordance with the provisions of this order, or who violates any of the provisions of this order or neglects or refuses to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this order, shall be punishable, as provided in section 373 of title 2 of the Canal Zone Code, by a fine of not more than $25, or by imprisonment in jail for not more than thirty days, or by both.

SEC. 17. Effective date. This order shall take effect September 1, 1950.

FRANK PACE, Jr.
Secretary of the Army.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 3—VETERANS' CLAIMS

EFFECTIVE DATES OF EVALUATION AND AWARDS FOR PRESUMPTION OF SERVICE-CONNECTION FOR ACTIVE PULMONARY TUBERCULOSIS

A new § 3.1510 is added to read as follows:

§ 3.1510 Effective dates of evaluation and awards for presumption of service-connection for active pulmonary tuberculosis under Public Law 573, 81st Congress. The effective dates of evaluations and awards, in both original claims and the claims reviewed, will be in accordance with the provisions of controlling regulations: Provided, That in no event will benefits under Public Law 573, 81st Congress, be awarded prior to the date of enactment thereof. In the case of a claim wherein service-connection was previously denied for pulmonary tuberculosis on the date of the passage of Public Law 573, 81st Congress, reviewed under Public Law 573 either on motion of the Veterans' Administration, or upon receipt of request from the veteran or his representative, or where a claim is in a pending or appellate status on the date mentioned, and entitlement to benefits is shown, the effective date of the evaluation and award will be the date of Public Law 573, 81st Congress, June 23, 1950. (Veterans' Administration Instruction 1, Public Law 573, 81st Congress.) (For effective dates of death compensation and pension awards for presumption of service-connection for pulmonary tuberculosis under Public Law 573, 81st Congress, see § 4.451 of this chapter.)[1]

(Sec. 5, 43 Stat. 608, as amended, sec. 2, 46 Stat. 1016, sec. 7, 48 Stat. 9; 38 U. S. C. 11a, 426, 707)

This regulation effective July 19, 1950.

sumption of service-connection for pulmonary tuberculosis under Public Law 573, 81st Congress. Where entitlement arises solely by virtue of the provisions of Public Law 573, 81st Congress, the effective date of awards will be the day following the date of the veteran's death or June 23, 1950, whichever is the later, if claim was filed within 1 year after the date of the veteran's death, otherwise the date of filing claim: Provided however, That as to claims reviewed under Public Law 573 either on motion of the Veterans' Administration or upon receipt of a request from the claimant or his representative, the effective date of the award will be June 23, 1950, provided the claim is received within 1 year from the date of the notification of entitlement to benefits under this act. A claim pending on June 23, 1950, or in which an appeal was pending on that date, will be considered a claim under this act. This includes claims which were disallowed on or after June 23, 1950, without reference to the liberalizing provisions of this act. In those cases in which death pension is being paid to a widow, child or children, the provisions of § 4.52 are not controlling. The change from the payment of death pension to the payment of death compensation will be effective June 23, 1950.

(Veterans' Administration Instruction 2, Public Law 573, 81st Congress.)

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2452]

UTAH POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of August A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that Utah Power & Light Company ("Utah"), a registered holding company and a utility operating company has filed a declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and has designated sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rule U-50 thereunder as applicable to the transactions proposed in said declaration, which proposed transactions may be summarized as follows:

Utah proposes to issue and sell to the public, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, $8,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, __ Percent Series, due 1980. Said bonds would be issued under the terms of a Sixth Supplemental Indenture to be dated as of October 1, 1950, between Utah and Guaranty Trust Company of New York and Arthur E. Burke, as trustees. The interest rate on the bonds and the price to be paid Utah for the bonds would be fixed at competitive bidding.

Utah also proposes to issue and sell to its stockholders and/or the public 166,604 additional shares of the company's common stock, without par or face value. The additional shares of common stock would, pursuant to the preemptive rights provision of Utah's certificate of organization, first be offered to its stockholders on a pro rata basis. There would be an underwriting as to the unsubscribed shares for which Utah proposes to invite bids, also pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50. Both the price to be paid to Utah and the subscription price to be paid pursuant to the preemptive rights offering would be fixed by such competitive bidding. In connection with the sale of its common stock Utah requests permission to acquire not more than 5,000 shares of such stock on the morning of the day on which the bids for the purchase of the unsubscribed shares are to be opened. Such acquisitions would be made for the stated purpose of facilitating the distribution and offering of said 166,604 shares of common stock. Any shares acquired pursuant to the proposed stabilizing operation would be purchased from Utah by the underwriters in connection with the offering and sale of unsubscribed shares of Utah's common stock by said underwriters.

After bids have been opened for the bonds and common stock, and prior to the sale thereof, Utah would file an appropriate amendment herein setting forth the results of competitive bidding and would furnish appropriate information as to all fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions.

The proceeds from the sale of the $8,000,000 principal amount of bonds and from the sale of common stock would be used to pay bank loans of $8,000,000 and to finance a part of the company's current construction program. The presently outstanding bank loans were obtained under a Credit Agreement dated February 27, 1950 between Utah and fifteen lending banks as authorized by this Commission (Fire No. 70-2327). It is stated in the declaration that no additional loans will be made under the aforesaid Credit Agreement.

Fees and expenses in connection with the issuance and sale of the bonds and additional common stock are estimated at $104,000 of which $44,000 is stated to be applicable to the issuance and sale of the bonds and $60,000 is stated to be applicable to the issuance and sale of the common stock.

Utah requests that any order of this Commission authorizing the proposed transactions issue as soon as may be practicable and become effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 29, 1950, at 12:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after 12:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., on August 29, 1950, said declaration may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a)- and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to the declaration which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a full statement of the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

SOUTHWESTERN DEVELOPMENT CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of August A. D. 1950.

In the matter of Southwestern Development Company, Amarillo Gas Company, Amarillo Oil Company, West Texas Gas Company; File No. 70-2451.

Notice is hereby given that Southwestern Development Company ("Southwestern"), a registered holding company, and three of its wholly-owned subsidiary companies, namely, Amarillo Gas Company ("Amarillo Gas"), Amarillo Oil Company ("Amarillo Oil"), and West Texas Gas Company ("West Texas"), have filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. Sections 7, 10, and 12 of the act have been designated as being applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 30, 1950, at 5: 30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said joint application-declaration, as filed or as amended, which he desires to controvert, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after August 30, 1950 said joint application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said joint application-declaration, which is on file in the office of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

Amarillo Gas, Amarillo Oil, and West Texas are presently indebted to Southwestern in the amounts of $300,000, $648,030, and $2,500,000, respectively, under their separate unsecured five year 3 percent promissory notes issued in May 1949. Southwestern has no long-term debt outstanding.

Southwestern proposes to borrow from Guaranty Trust Company of New York the principal amount of $2,750,000 and to issue and sell to Guaranty Trust Company of New York, as evidence of said loan, its five year 2½ percent promissory note due in yearly instalments to and including July 1, 1955, in the same principal amount.

Southwestern proposes to advance the total proceeds of said loan ($2,750,000) to Amarillo Gas, Amarillo Oil, and West Texas in the principal amounts of $400,000, $650,000 and $1,700,000, respectively. The said three subsidiary companies propose to issue and sell to Southwestern their five year 2½ percent unsecured promissory notes in the above respective amounts and Southwestern proposes to acquire said notes. The notes will provide for repayment by yearly instalments to and including July 1, 1955, and in addition, will provide for repayment in whole or in part prior to maturity of any of the principal instalments without premium.

The joint applicants-declarants state that proceeds of the proposed loans will be used by said subsidiary companies to provide necessary additional funds for enlargements and extensions of their natural gas facilities, to provide working capital, and for other corporate purposes. It is represented in the filing that no state commission approval is required with respect to any of the proposed transactions. The expenses in connection with the proposed transactions are estimated by the joint applicants-declarants not to exceed $1,000.

By the Commission.

WEST PENN ELECTRIC CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER FEES AND OTHER REMUNERATIONS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of August A. D. 1950.

The West Penn Electric Company ("Electric"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, regarding the issuance and sale of $31,000,000 principal amount of Collateral Trust Sinking Fund Bonds, the issuance on subscription rights to the then present holders of its common stock of 468,621 shares of new common stock, the issuance on exchange offers to the then present holders of its preferred and Class A stocks of 388,274 shares of new common stock, and the issuance and sale to underwriters of the balance of the above aggregate of 856,895 shares of new common stock not taken on subscription rights or on exchange offers;

The Commission, by orders dated August 31, 1949, September 14, 1949, and September 21, 1949, having permitted the declaration to become effective but having at all times reserved jurisdiction over the payment of all fees and other remunerations incurred in connection with the transactions embraced in the declaration, as amended, which reservation has continued in full force and effect; the record having been completed with respect to the amounts of such fees and remunerations and the functions performed by the various proposed recipients, and it now appearing that fees and remunerations aggregating $318,660 are sought which include the following: (a) Printing and engraving expenses, $91,700; (b) trustee, subscription agents, exchange agents, transfer agents and registrar fees, $76,500; (c) Dillon, Read & Co., New York, New York, as special financial advisors to Electric, $35,000; (d) Sullivan and Cromwell, New York, New York, as counsel to Electric, $31,500; and (e) Cravath, Swaine & Moore, New York, New York, as counsel for the purchasers of the new securities, $25,000; which latter fee is to be paid by Lehman Brothers and Goldman Sachs & Company, the other fees to be borne by Electric; the Commission having considered these fees and remunerations and the amounts thereof in the light of all the circumstances of this case, including the standards of the act, and having concluded that they are not unreasonable;

It is hereby ordered, That the reservation of jurisdiction in this matter with respect to fees and other remunerations, to the extent that the aggregate thereof and the amounts above specified are not exceeded, be, and the same hereby is, released.

By the Commission.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC., AND OHIO FUEL GAS CO.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of August A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by The Columbia Gas System, Inc. ("Columbia"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary, Ohio Fuel Gas Company ("Ohio Fuel"). Applicants have designated sections 6 (b), 9 and 10 of the act as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 28, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application proposed to be controverted, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after August 28, 1950, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Ohio Fuel proposes to issue and sell to Columbia $11,500,000 principal amount of 3¼ percent installment promissory notes. Such notes are to be paid in equal annual installments on February 15th of each of the years 1952 to 1976, inclusive. The applicant states that the proceeds to be obtained through the issue and sale of said notes will be utilized by Ohio Fuel to finance its 1950 construction program.

The issue and sale of the proposed notes by Ohio Fuel has been approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio by order dated July 7, 1950.

By the Commission.

An undivided one-half (½) interest in real property situated in the City of Zanesville, County of Muskingum, State of Ohio, particularly described in Exhibit A, attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with all hereditaments, fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property,

b. All right, title, interest and claim of the persons named in subparagraph 1 hereof in and to the fire insurance and extended coverage policies, particularly described in Exhibit B, attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, which policies insure the improvements on the real property described in subparagraph 2-a hereof, and any and all extensions and renewals of said policies, and

c. That certain debt or other obligation, owing to the persons named in subparagraph 1 hereof by Virgil E. Johnson, First National Bank Building, Zanesville, Ohio, arising out of their share of the net income by reason of the collection of rents from the real property described in subparagraph 2-a hereof, and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the persons named in subparagraph 1 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 2-a hereof, subject to recorded liens, encumbrances and other rights of record held by or for persons who are not nationals of designated enemy countries, and

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraphs 2-b and 2-c hereof,

All such property so vested to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on August 11, 1950.

together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling, and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest,

d. An undivided one-eighth (1/8th) of the one-eighth (1/8th) of all royalties upon any oil, gas and other minerals in and under and that may be produced from certain real property situated in the County of Pecos, State of Texas, described as an undivided Forty (40) acre interest in Four Thousand, Six Hundred Five (4605) acres described in the section of land which was patented to Thos. J. Hall, et al., September 22, 1883, by patent No. 100, Volume 24, Cert. 252, Abst. 2006, together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling, and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest,

e. An undivided one sixty-fourth (1/64th) interest in and to all of the oil, gas and other minerals in and under and that may be produced from certain real property situated in the County of Presidio, State of Texas, described as an undivided Forty (40) acre interest in Six Hundred Forty (640) acres described as Abst. 2700, Cert. 473, patent 204, D & P Ry. Co. Grantee Survey 117, Block 1, together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling, and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest,

f. An undivided one sixty-fourth (1/64th) interest in and to all of the oil, gas and other minerals in and under and that may be produced from certain real property situated in the County of Presidio, State of Texas, described as an undivided One Hundred (100) acre interest in Six Hundred Forty (640) acres described as Section 272 Block 8, Cert. 1/522 G. H. & S. A. Ry. Grantee, together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest,

g. An undivided one sixty-fourth (1/64th) of the landowner's one-eighth (1/8th) royalty interest in and to all of the oil, gas and other minerals except potash, in and under and that may be produced from certain real property situated in the County of Winkler, State of Texas, described as an undivided Forty (40) acre interest in Six Hundred Forty (640) acres further described as Survey 10, Block B–10 Public School land, together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest,

h. An undivided one sixty-fourth interest in and to all of the oil, gas and other minerals in and under and that may be produced from certain real property situated in the County of Zapata, State of Texas, described as an undivided Eighty (80) acre interest in 949.548 acres of land known as Share No. 5–A, set aside to Avelino Guerra by Partition in the District Court of Zapata County, Texas, said Partition and Plat showing this award is of record in Volume 18, of the Deed records of the County of Zapata, Texas, together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest, and

i. An undivided one-sixteenth (1/16th) of the landowner's one-eighth (1/8th) royalty interest in and to all of the oil, gas and other minerals in and under and that may be produced from certain real property situated in the County of Zapata, State of Texas, and described as an undivided One Hundred (100) acre interest in the following described land: Share No. 1–A Containing, 3,259,231 acres of land out of Porciones Nos. 16 and 17, Zapata County, Texas, as per partition of District Court of Zapata County, Texas, known as cause No. 145, Partition of Porciones Nos. 14, 15, 16, and 17, Recorded in Volume 16, Pages 507, Deed Records of Zapata County, Texas, together with the right of ingress and egress at all times for the purpose of mining, drilling and exploring said lands for oil, gas and other minerals, and removing the same therefrom, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, royalties, benefits or other payments, arising from the ownership of such interest, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof is not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, subject to recorded liens, encumbrances and other rights of record held by or for persons who are not nationals of designated enemy countries, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on August 11, 1950.

For the Attorney General.

[SEAL] HAROLD I. BAYNTON,
Assistant Attorney General,
Director, Office of Alien Property.

PART 52—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, PROCESSED PRODUCTS THEREOF, AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCESSED FOOD PRODUCTS

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF PROCESSED FRUITS, VEGETABLES, AND OTHER PRODUCTS[1]

FROZEN CONCENTRATED ORANGE JUICE[2]

On June 30, 1950, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 4198) regarding the proposed revision of United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Concentrated Orange Juice (7 CFR 52.492). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following revised United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Concentrated Orange Juice are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.), Pub. Law 585, 81st Cong., approved June 29, 1950, and Pub. Law 627, 81st Cong., 2d Sess., approved July 31, 1950.

§ 52.492 Frozen concentrated orange juice. Frozen concentrated orange juice is the frozen product of concentrated, unfermented juice obtained from sound, mature fruit of the sweet orange group (Citrus sinensis) and Mandarin group (Citrus reticulata), except tangerines. The fruit is prepared by sorting and by washing prior to extraction of the juice to assure a clean product. Upon extraction of such juice, it is concentrated; and fresh orange juice extracted from sorted and washed fruit, as aforesaid, is admixed to the concentrate. The concentrated orange juice is packed in accordance with good commercial practice and is frozen and maintained at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

(a) Styles of frozen concentrated orange juice—(1) Style I, without sweetening ingredients added. The Brix value of the finished concentrate shall be not less than 41.5 degrees nor more than 44.0 degrees.

(2) Style II, with sweetening ingredient added. The finished concentrate, exclusive of added sweetening ingredient, has a Brix value of not less than 40 degrees; and the finished concentrate, including added sweetening ingredient, shall have a Brix value of not less than 42 degrees but not more than 49 degrees.

(b) Grades of frozen concentrated orange juice. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen concentrated orange juice which reconstitutes properly and of which the reconstituted juice possesses the appearance of fresh orange juice; possesses a very good color; is practically free from defects; possesses a very good flavor; and scores not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Choice" is the quality of frozen concentrated orange juice which reconstitutes properly and of which the reconstituted juice possesses a good color; is reasonably free from defects; possesses a good flavor; and scores not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "U. S. Grade D" or "Substandard" is the quality of frozen concentrated orange juice that fails to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice.

(c) Recommended fill of container. The recommended fill of container is not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purpose of these grades. It is recommended that the container be filled with frozen concentrated orange juice as full as practicable without impairment of quality.

(d) Ascertaining the grade. The grade of frozen concentrated orange juice is ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, absence of defects, and flavor. The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

Factors:	Points
(1) Color	20
(2) Absence of defects	40
(3) Flavor	40
Total score	100

(e) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "17 to 20 points" means 17, 18, 19, or 20 points).

(1) Color. (i) Frozen concentrated orange juice of which the reconstituted juice possesses a very good color may be given a score of 17 to 20 points. "Very good color" means that the color is the bright yellow to yellow-orange color typical of fresh orange juice.

(ii) If the reconstituted juice possesses a "good color," a score of 14 to 16 points may be given. Frozen concentrated orange juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Good color" means that the color is the yellow to yellow-orange color typical of fresh orange juice, which may be dull but is not off color for any reason.

(iii) If the reconstituted juice fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, a score of 0 to 13 points may be given. Frozen concentrated orange juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Absence of defects. The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from seeds and portions thereof, from excessive juice cells, from pulp, from recoverable oil, and from other defects.

(i) "Pulp" means particles of membrane, core, and peel.

(ii) Frozen concentrated orange juice of which the reconstituted juice is practically free from defects may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Practically free from defects" means that there may be present: (a) Small seeds or portions thereof that are of such size that they could pass through round perforations not exceeding 1/8 inch in diameter, provided such seeds or portions thereof do not materially affect the appearance or drinking quality of the juice; (b) juice cells and pulp that do not materially affect the appearance or drinking quality of the juice; and (c) other defects that are not more than slightly objectionable. To score in this classification the frozen concentrated orange juice may contain not more than 0.100 milliliter of recoverable oil per 100 grams of the concentrated product.

(iii) If the reconstituted juice is reasonably free from defects, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Frozen concentrated orange juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that there may be present: (a) Small seeds or portions thereof that are of such size that they could pass through round perforations not exceeding 1/8 inch in diameter, provided such seeds or portions thereof do not seriously affect the appearance or drinking quality of the juice; (b) juice cells and pulp that do not seriously affect the appearance or drinking quality of the juice; and (c) other defects that are not materially objectionable. To score in this classification the frozen concentrated orange juice may contain not more than 0.120 milliliter of recoverable oil per 100 grams of the concentrated product.

(iv) Frozen concentrated orange juice that fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Flavor. (i) Frozen concentrated orange juice of which the reconstituted juice possesses a very good flavor may be given a score of 34 to 40 points. "Very good flavor" means that the flavor is fine, distinct, and substantially typical of orange juice extracted from fresh mature sweet oranges. To score not less than 34 points frozen concentrated orange juice shall meet the following requirements for the respective style:

Style I, without sweetening ingredient added. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 11.5 to 1 nor more than 18 to 1 (see Table I).

Style II, with sweetening ingredient added. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 12 to 1 nor more than 14 to 1 (see Table II).

(ii) If the reconstituted juice possesses a good flavor, a score of 28 to 33 points may be given. Frozen concentrated orange juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Choice, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Good flavor" means that the flavor is fairly typical of fresh orange juice extracted from fresh mature sweet oranges and is free from abnormal flavors and off flavors of any kind. To score not less than 28 points frozen concentrated orange juice shall meet the following requirements for the respective style:

Style I, without sweetening ingredient added. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 10 to 1 nor more than 19 to 1 (see Table I).

Style II, with sweetening ingredient added. The ratio of Brix value to acid is not less than 10 to 1 nor more than 15 to 1 (see Table II).

(iii) If the frozen concentrated orange juice fails to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, a score of 0 to 27 points may be given. Frozen concentrated orange juice that falls into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade D or Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(f) Definitions of terms as used in these standards. (1) "Oranges" means oranges of the sweet orange group (Citrus sinensis) and the Mandarin group (Citrus reticulata), except tangerines.

(2) "Reconstituted juice" means the product obtained by mixing thoroughly 3 parts by volume of distilled water and one part by volume of frozen concentrated orange juice.

(3) "Reconstitutes properly" means that the reconstituted juice shows no material separation of colloidal or suspended matter, leaving a zone of definitely clear liquid without any turbidity, after standing four (4) hours at a temperature of not less than 68 degrees Fahrenheit in a clear glass tube or cylinder (such as a 50 ml. graduated cylinder).

(4) "Acid" means the percent by weight of acid (calculated as anhydrous citric acid) in frozen concentrated orange juice.

(5) "Brix value" in frozen concentrated orange juice is the refractometric sucrose value determined in accordance with the International Scale of Refractive Indices of Sucrose Solutions and to which the applicable correction for acid is added. (See Table III for corrections).

TABLE III—CORRECTIONS FOR OBTAINING BRIX VALUES [1]

(g) Explanation of analyses. (1) The measurement of Brix value is determined on the thawed concentrate in accordance with the refractometric method for sugars and sugar products, outlined in the Official and Tentative Methods of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists.

(2) "Acid," calculated as anhydrous citric acid, is determined by titration with standard sodium hydroxide solution, using phenolphthalein as indicator.

(3) "Recoverable oil" is determined by the following method:

(i) Equipment. Oil separatory trap similar to either of those illustrated in Figure 1 [1] and Figure 2: [1]

Gas burner or hot plate.
Ringstand and clamps.
Rubber tubing.
3-liter narrow-neck flask.

(ii) Procedure. Exactly 400 grams of the thawed concentrate mixed with water to approximately two liters are placed in a 3-liter flask. Close the stopcock, place distilled water in the graduated tube, run cold water through the condenser from the bottom to top, and bring the solution to a boil. Boiling is continued for one hour at the rate of approximately 50 drops per minute.

By means of the stopcock, lower the oil into the graduated portion of the separatory trap, remove the trap from the flask, allow it to cool, and record the amount of oil recovered.

The number of milliliters of oil recovered divided by 4 equals the volume of recoverable oil per 100 grams of concentrate.

(h) Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen concentrated orange juice, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of such containers fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and, with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, is within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

PART 371—GENERAL LICENSES

COUNTRY GROUPS; SHIPMENTS OF LIMITED VALUE

1. Section 371.3 General license country groups is amended in the following particulars:

Paragraph (a) Grouping of countries is amended to read as follows:

(a) Grouping of countries. Two general license country groups are hereby designated: Group R and Group O.

(1) Country Group O consists of the following countries and other destinations:

NORTH AMERICA

Northern area:
Greenland.
Miquelon and St. Pierre Islands.
Southern area:
Mexico (including Cozumel and Revilla Gigedo Islands).
Central America:
Guatemala.
British Honduras.
El Salvador.
Honduras (including the Bay Islands).
Nicaragua.
Costa Rica.
Panama, Republic of.
Bermuda and Caribbean:
Bermuda.
Bahamas.
Cuba (including Isle of Pines).
Jamaica.
Haiti (including Gonave and Tortue Islands).
Dominican Republic.
Leeward and Windward Islands.
Barbados.
Trinidad and Tobago.
Curacao (Netherlands West Indies).
French West Indies.

SOUTH AMERICA

Northern area:
Colombia.
Venezuela.
British Guiana.
Surinam (Netherlands Guiana).
French Guiana (including Inini).
Western area:
Ecuador (including the Galapagos Islands).
Peru.
Bolivia.
Chile (including the islands Sala-y-Comes, Juan Fernandes, San Felix, San Ambrosia, and Easter Island).

Eastern area:
Brazil (including the islands St. Paul, Fernando Noronha, and Trinidad (in South Atlantic).
Uruguay.
Paraguay.
Argentina.
Falkland Islands.

(2) Country Group R includes and consists of all countries and other destinations not included in Country Group O, except Canada (including Newfoundland and Labrador). Within Country Group R there is established Sub-group A, which includes and consists of the following countries and other destinations:

Albania.
Bulgaria.
China, including the provinces of Suiyuan, Chahar, Ningsia, and Jehol (sometimes referred to as Inner Mongolia); the provinces of Chinghai (Tsinghai) and Sikang; Sinkiang; Tibet; and Outer Mongolia; but excluding Manchuria, and excluding Taiwan (Formosa).
Czechoslovakia.
Estonia.
Germany (Russian Occupied Zone only).
Hungary.
Latvia.
Lithuania.
Manchuria, including the former Kwantung Leased Territory. (The present Port Arthur Naval Base Area and the Liaoning Province).
North Korea.
Poland and Danzig.
Rumania.
Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

2. Section 371.10 Shipments of limited value GLV is amended in the following particulars:

Paragraph (c) General provisions is amended in the following particulars:

Subparagraph (1) Positive List is amended to read as follows:

(1) Positive List. Subject to the special provisions as designated and set forth in this section, commodities included on the Positive List of Commodities (§ 399.1 of this chapter) which have a dollar value specified may be exported under this general license to all destinations, except those in Sub-Group A (see § 371.3 (a)), as follows: R commodities may be exported to Group R destinations, and RO commodities may be exported to Group R or Group O destinations, where, in a single shipment, the net value of the commodities classified in a single entry on the Positive List does not exceed the specified dollar value limit in the column headed "GLV Dollar Value Limits."

NOTE: Positive List commodities may not be exported in any quantity under general license GLV to destinations in Sub-group A (§ 371.3 (a)).

PART 371—GENERAL LICENSES

IN-TRANSIT LICENSE; EXCEPTED COMMODITY LIST

Section 371.9 General in-transit license GIT is amended in the following particulars:

Paragraph (c) Excepted commodity list is amended by revising the entries for Schedule B Nos. 504800, 547300, and 548098; and by adding certain other graphite products, Schedule B No. 547400 to read as follows:

Commodity	Schedule B No.	Schedule S No. [1]
Petroleum coke, including petroleum coke flour	504800	517
Carbon or artificial graphite electrodes for furnace or electrolytic work, 2 inches in cross-sectional dimension and over	547300	555
Brushes and brush stock in the form of blocks, plates, and rods, carbon and artificial graphite	547400	555
Artificial graphite powder	548098	555
Carbon or artificial graphite scrap	548098	555
Carbon or artificial graphite blocks, bricks, or plates—all sizes (report brush stock in 547400)	548098	555
Carbon or artificial graphite electrodes other than for furnace or electrolytic work, and rods, 2 inches cross-sectional dimension and over	548098	555

[1] The Department of Commerce Schedule S number is shown for each commodity. All shipments of merchandise for which the shipper's export declaration for in-transit goods is required must be reported in terms of Schedule S, as well as Schedule B.

PART 372—PROVISIONS FOR INDIVIDUAL AND OTHER VALIDATED LICENSES

PART 373—LICENSING POLICIES AND RELATED SPECIAL PROVISIONS

ISSUANCE AND USE OF EXPORT LICENSES; IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTS

1. Section 372.11 Issuance and use of export licenses is amended in the following particulars:

Paragraph (e) Validity of licenses and paragraph (f) Shipments against expiring licenses are amended to read as follows:

(e) Validity of licenses. (1) Outstanding licenses may be revised, suspended, or revoked, or the validity periods thereof may be extended or reduced, by appropriate orders or regulations.

(2) Individual export licenses will be issued for a validity period of six months from the date of validation, unless otherwise stated on the face of the license.

NOTE: Refer to Part 373 to determine if the special provisions for a commodity include any particular terms regarding the validity period of the individual export license.

(f) Shipments against expiring licenses—(1) Commodities ready for loading or laden. Commodities which are (i) laden aboard the exporting carrier or (ii) ready for lading and located on a pier for the purpose of lading prior to midnight of the expiration date of a license, and not for the purpose of storage, may clear with the vessel even though the vessel does not clear until after the expiration date of the license. Furthermore, where the vessel is expected to be available at the pier for loading in advance of the expiration of the license, but exceptional and unforeseen circumstances delay it, the commodities may be cleared for export without an extension of the validity period of the license, if in the judgment of the collector of customs undue hardship would otherwise result.

(2) Other shipments. Licensed shipments not coming within one of the foregoing provisions may not be cleared for export except by extension of the validity period of the license by the Department of Commerce.

2. Section 373.2 Special provisions for iron and steel products is amended in the following particulars:

Subparagraph (a) (3) Validity period is hereby deleted.

(63 Stat. 7; E. O. 9630, Sept. 27, 1945, 10 F. R. 12245, 3 CFR, 1945 Supp.; E. O. 9919, Jan. 3, 1948, 13 F. R. 59, 3 CFR, 1948 Supp.)

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 141—TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY FOR ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

PART 146—CERTIFICATION OF BATCHES OF ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended by 59 Stat. 463, 61 Stat. 11, 63 Stat 409; 21 U. S. C. and Sup., 357) the regulations for tests and methods of assay for antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 141.1 et seq., and 1949 Supp.) and certification of batches of antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 146.1 et seq., and 1949 Supp.) are amended as indicated below:

1. In § 141.5 Sodium penicillin • • •, paragraph (f) Penicillin K content, eighth sentence, is amended by changing "(e)" to "(d)."

2. Part 141 is amended by adding the following new section:

§ 141.39 Penicillin and streptomycin, penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin—(a) Potency—(1) Total penicillin content. Proceed as directed in § 141.1.

(2) Procaine penicillin and sodium or potassium penicillin—(i) Procaine penicillin content. Proceed as directed in § 141.32 (b) (3), except prepare the sample as follows: Add the indicated amount of distilled water to the contents of a vial of the sample and shake well. Withdraw one dose of the suspension or solution with a hypodermic syringe, place in a 250-ml. volumetric flask and make to 250 ml. with 1% phosphate buffer pH 6.0. Dilute a 5.0 ml. aliquot of this solution to 100 ml. with distilled water. The procaine penicillin found in a 2-ml. aliquot of this solution X 2500 gives the procaine penicillin content of one dose of the preparation under test. The content of procaine penicillin in the batch is satisfactory when determined by the method described in this subdivision if it is not less than 85% of that which it is represented to contain.

(ii) Sodium or potassium penicillin content. Determine the total penicillin content as directed under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. Obtain the sodium or potassium penicillin content by subtracting the procaine penicillin content obtained under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph from the total penicillin content. The sodium or potassium penicillin content of the batch is satisfactory if it is not less than 85% of that which it is represented to contain.

(3) Streptomycin content. Proceed as directed in § 141.101 (j) and (k).

(4) Dihydrostreptomycin content. Proceed as directed in § 141.108 (a).

(b) Sterility. If the sample contains streptomycin, proceed as directed in § 141.102, except that M. pyogenes var. aureus (PCI 1214) is used as the control-test organism. If the sample contains dihydrostreptomycin add sufficient sterile penicillinase to completely inactivate the penicillin and proceed as directed in § 141.108 (c).

(c) Toxicity. Proceed as directed in § 141.103.

(d) Pyrogens. Proceed as directed in § 141.104.

(e) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.26 (e).

(f) pH. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (b), using the solution or suspension resulting when the amount of diluent recommended in the labeling is added.

3. Part 146 is amended by adding the following new section:

§ 146.58 Penicillin and streptomycin, penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin—(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. Penicillin and streptomycin is procaine penicillin or crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin or a mixture of procaine penicillin and crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin sulfate. Penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin is procaine penicillin or crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin or a mixture of procaine penicillin and crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin sulfate. Each such drug may contain suitable and harmless buffer substances, suspending or dispersing agents. It is so purified and dried that:

(1) It is sterile;

(2) It is nontoxic;

(3) It is nonpyrogenic;

(4) Its moisture content is not more than 3.5%;

(5) When prepared for injection as directed in its labeling its pH is not less than 5.0 and not more than 7.5.

The procaine penicillin used conforms to the requirements prescribed by § 146.44 (a). The crystalline penicillin used conforms to the requirements prescribed for crystalline penicillin by § 146.24 (a). The streptomycin sulfate used conforms to the requirements prescribed by § 146.101 (a). The dihydrostreptomycin sulfate used conforms to the requirements prescribed by § 146.106 (a). Each other substance used, if its name is recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F., conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by such official compendium.

(b) Packaging. In all cases, the immediate containers shall be tight containers as defined by the U. S. P., shall be sterile at the time of filling and closing, shall be so sealed that the contents cannot be used without destroying such seal, and shall be of such composition as will not cause any change in the strength, quality, or purity of the contents beyond any limit therefor in applicable standards, except that minor changes so caused which are normal and unavoidable in good packaging, storage, and distribution practice shall be disregarded. In case it is packaged for dispensing, it shall be in immediate containers of colorless, transparent glass, closed by a substance through which a hypodermic needle may be introduced and withdrawn without removing the closure or destroying its effectiveness; each such container shall contain 300,000 units, 600,000 units, 900,000 units, 1,500,000 units or 3,000,000 units of procaine penicillin or crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin and 1 gm. of streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin for each 300,000 units of penicillin, except if it is a mixture of two salts of penicillin it shall contain not less than 100,000 units of crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin for each 300,000 units of procaine penicillin. Each such container may be packaged in combination with a container of a solvent, water for injection U. S. P., dextrose injection U. S. P., or physiological salt solution U. S. P.

(c) Labeling. Each package shall bear on its label or labeling as hereinafter indicated the following:

(1) On the outside wrapper or container:

(i) The batch mark;

(ii) The number of units of each salt of penicillin in the immediate container;

(iii) The number of grams of streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin in the immediate container;

(iv) The statement "Expiration date -----," the blank being filled in with the date which is 18 months after the month in which batch was certified;

(v) The statement "For intramuscular use only"; and

(vi) The statement "For manufacturing use," "For repacking," or "For manufacturing use or repacking," when packaged for repacking or for use as an ingredient in the manufacture of another drug, as the case may be.

(2) On the circular or other labeling within or attached to the package, if it is packaged for dispensing, adequate directions for use and warning as required by section 502 (f) of the act, including:

(i) Clinical indications;

(ii) Dosage and administration including method of preparing the drug for injection;

(iii) The conditions under which suspensions made from such drug should be stored, and the statement "Sterile suspension may be kept in refrigerator for one week without significant loss of potency";

(iv) Contraindications; and

(v) Untoward effects that may accompany administration, including sensitization.

If two or more immediate containers are in such package, the number of such circulars or other labeling shall not be less than the number of such containers.

(d) Request for certification; samples. (1) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146.2, a person who requests certification of a batch of penicillin and streptomycin or penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin shall submit with his request a statement showing the batch mark, the number of packages of each size in such batch, the number of units of each salt of penicillin, and the number of grams of streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin in each package, the batch marks, and (unless they were previously submitted) the dates on which the latest assays of the penicillin and streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin used in making such batch were completed, the date on which the latest assay of the drug comprising such batch was completed, the quantity of each ingredient used in making the batch and a statement that each such ingredient conforms to the requirements prescribed therefor by this section. If such batch, or any part thereof, is to be packaged with a solvent, such request shall also be accompanied by a statement that such solvent conforms to the requirements prescribed therefor by this section.

(2) Except as otherwise provided by subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, such person shall submit in connection with his request results of the tests and assays listed after each of the following, made by him on an accurately representative sample of:

(i) The batch: potency, sterility, toxicity, pyrogens, moisture, pH.

(ii) The procaine penicillin used in making the batch; potency, crystallinity, penicillin K content (unless it is procaine penicillin G), and the penicillin G content if it is procaine penicillin G.

(iii) The crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin used in making the batch; potency, crystallinity, heat stability, penicillin K content (unless it is crystalline penicillin G), and the penicillin G content if it is crystalline penicillin G.

(iv) The streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin used in making the batch; potency, histamine content, streptomycin content if it is dihydrostreptomycin, and crystallinity if it is crystalline dihydrostreptomycin.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, if such batch is packaged for dispensing, such person shall submit in connection with his request in the quantities hereinafter indicated accurately representative samples of the following:

(i) The batch; one immediate container for each 5,000 immediate containers in such batch, but in no case less than 12 or more than 19 immediate containers collected by taking single immediate containers at such intervals throughout the entire time of packaging the batch that the quantities packaged during the intervals are approximately equal.

(ii) The procaine penicillin used in making the batch; 3 packages containing approximately equal portions of not less than 0.5 gm. each packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.44 (b).

(iii) The crystalline penicillin used in making the batch, 3 packages containing approximately equal portions of not less than 250 mg. each packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.24 (b).

(iv) The streptomycin or dihydrostreptomycin used in making the batch; 3 packages containing approximately equal portions of not less than 0.5 gm. each packaged in accordance with the requirement of § 146.101 (b).

(v) In case of an initial request for certification, each other ingredient used in making the batch; one package of each containing approximately 5 gm.

(4) If such batch is packaged for repacking, such person shall submit with his request a sample containing twelve approximately equal portions of at least 2 gm. each taken from different parts of such batch, each such portion shall be packaged in a separate container and in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section.

(5) No result referred to in subparagraph (2) (ii), (iii), and (iv) of this paragraph, and no sample referred to in subparagraph (3) (ii), (iii), and (iv) of this paragraph, is required if such result or sample has been previously submitted.

(e) Fees. The fee for the services rendered with respect to each batch under the regulations in this part shall be:

(1) $4.00 for each immediate container in the sample submitted in accordance with paragraph (d) (3) and (4) of this section; and

(2) If the Commissioner considers that investigations other than examination of such immediate containers are necessary to determine whether or not such batch complies with the requirements of § 146.3 for the issuance of a certificate, the cost of such investigations. The fee prescribed by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall accompany the request for certification unless such fee is covered by an advance deposit maintained in accordance with § 146.8 (d).

This order, which provides for tests and methods of assay and certification of two new antibiotic products, penicillin and streptomycin, and penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin, shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industries will be benefited by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order and would be contrary to public interest, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industries and since it would be against public interest to delay the marketing of penicillin and streptomycin, and penicillin and dihydrostreptomycin.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VII—Department of the Air Force

Subchapter F—Reserve Forces

PART 862—AIR RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

RELATION OF SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT TO AIR FORCE RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

Part 862 is hereby amended by adding §§ 862.76 to 862.88 as follows:

Sec.
862.76 Purpose.
862.77 Definitions.
862.78 Students enrolled in advanced course before June 24, 1948.
862.79 Other students.
862.80 Selection of students for deferment.
862.81 Deferment.
862.82 Enrollment.
862.83 Veterans.
862.84 Concurrent membership in Reserve components.
862.85 Appointment of graduates—special cases.
862.86 Postponed camp attendance.
862.87 Students previously deferred.
862.88 Students granted advanced standing.

AUTHORITY: §§ 862.76 to 862.88 issued under sec. 6, 62 Stat. 609; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup., 456. Interpret or apply secs. 3, 7, 62 Stat. 605, 614; sec 21, Pub. Law 599, 81st Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup., 453, 457.

DERIVATION: AFR 45-52.

§ 862.76 Purpose. The regulations contained in §§ 862.76 to 862.88 outline instructions regarding the effect of the Selective Service Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 604; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup., 451-470) and the Selective Service Extension Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 599, 81st Cong.) on the enrollment and continuance of students in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

§ 862.77 Definitions. Except where specifically stated otherwise, the following terms as used in §§ 862.76 to 862.88 are defined as follows:

(a) Act means Title I of the Selective Service Act of 1948 (62 Stat. 604; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup., 451-470), as extended by the Selective Service Extension Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 599, 81st Cong.).

(b) Advanced course includes the summer camp prescribed by law.

(c) Begun the work of the advanced course (or the basic course or a specific year of either) means attendance had actually begun at classroom or other instruction periods conducted in compliance with the appropriate program of instruction prescribed by the Department of the Air Force.

(d) Completion of the course of instruction means completion of the unfinished portion of both the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps course and the nonmilitary educational course required under current regulations for commissioned appointment.

(e) In good standing means the maintenance of a level of scholarship and deportment which, if continued, would insure the graduation of the student at the normal time.

(f) Authorized periods of nonattendance means:

(1) Regularly scheduled vacation periods.

(2) Periods of sick leave authorized by the Professor of Air Science and Tactics.

(3) Periods of leave from the military course of instruction, when authorized by air force commanders.

(g) Air force commander includes the commanders of numbered Continental Air Command air forces and the Commander, Pacific Division, Military Air Transport Service.

(h) Between the ages of 18 and 26 refers to men who have attained the eighteenth anniversary of the day of their birth and who have not attained the twenty-sixth anniversary of the day of their birth. Other terms designating different age groups will be similarly construed.

(i) Deferment means a deferment from induction under Selective Service and does not imply a deferment from orders or call to active military service as a member of a component of the Air Force of the United States (Air National Guard of the United States or United States Air Force Reserve). Enrollment in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps or deferment from induction under the provisions of the regulations contained in §§ 862.76 to 862.88 do not in themselves establish status of a member of a component of the Air Force of the United States.

§ 862.78 Students enrolled in advanced course before June 24, 1948—(a) Students affected. Students affected are those students who were formerly enrolled under written contract in the advanced course, Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, and who had actually begun the work of the advanced course prior to June 24, 1948.

(b) Deferment from induction. Students affected are and will continue to be deferred from induction for service or training as follows:

(1) Until completion of the course of instruction: Provided, That they respectively remain in good standing and their attendance is continuous except for authorized periods of nonattendance. (See also § 862.85.) The deferment granted any student under section 6 (d) (1) of the act will be terminated immediately, and then he will become subject to induction unless otherwise deferred or exempted, if he:

(i) Fails to remain in good standing in either his academic or military course.

(ii) Has failed to demonstrate proper and sufficient aptitude to indicate that further instruction will qualify him for a commissioned appointment.

(iii) Fails to pursue the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps course throughout any semester or term in which he normally would be expected to be in attendance, or fails to attend camp when ordered thereto by competent authority.

(iv) Declines or fails to accept a commissioned appointment in a component of the Air Force when and if tendered him.

(2) As long after completion of the course of instruction as they respectively remain in Regular or Reserve status as commissioned officers. (See also § 862.85.)

(c) Registration. Students affected will be required to register under the provisions of section 3 of the act, if between the ages of 18 and 26, on the day or days proclaimed for registration by the President, regardless of deferment or exemption from induction to which entitled.

(d) Obligation for active military service. (1) While satisfactorily pursuing the course of instruction, students affected will not be subject to induction under Selective Service. However, students enrolled in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps and deferred from induction under the provisions of §§ 862.76 to 862.88, who are also members of a Reserve component of any of the Armed Forces, are subject to active military service under the provisions of section 21 of the act.

(2) Subsequent to acceptance of commissioned appointments in a component of the Air Force, students affected who have had:

(i) Ninety days or more continuous active service in the Armed Forces (exclusive of periods of active training duty) are not subject to induction under Selective Service. However, under the provisions of section 21 of the act, or in the event of a declaration of war or National emergency by Congress subsequent to July 9, 1950, they will be subject to active military service as commissioned officers.

(ii) Less than 90 days' continuous active service in the Armed Forces (exclusive of periods of active training duty) are subject to 21 months' active service as officers in the Air Force, when and if ordered by direction of the President.

(e) Notification of local boards. Every student who is entitled to deferment under the provisions of section 6 (d) (1) of the act will be responsible for:

(1) Promptly notifying his local board in writing that he has been certified for deferment from induction by the provisions of section 6 (d) (1) of the act, and of any subsequent change in status which terminates such deferment.

(2) Promptly notifying his Professor of Air Science and Tactics of the number and address of his local board, and requesting the Professor of Air Science and Tactics to furnish the local board with official notification of his certification for deferment.

§ 862.79 Other students—(a) Students who may be affected. Students who may be affected are:

(1) Eligible students who have been or may be selected for enrollment in the advanced course, Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, but who had not actually entered upon the work of the advanced course on June 30, 1950.

(2) Eligible students, who have completed the first-year basic course or the prescribed equivalent amount of military service or training and desire to continue in or enter the second-year basic course.

(3) Eligible students who desire to enter or continue in the first-year basic course.

(b) Deferment from induction. Under the conditions and limitations set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, selected students in the categories defined in paragraphs (a) (1), (2), and (3) of this section, will be deferred from induction for training and service under Selective Service as follows:

(1) Until completion of the course of instruction, provided that they respectively remain in good standing and their attendance is continuous except for authorized periods of nonattendance. (See §§ 862.77 and 862.85.) The deferment granted any student under section 6 (d) (2) of the act will be terminated and he will immediately become subject to induction unless otherwise exempted or deferred, if any of the conditions set forth in § 862.78 (c) (1) exist. Deferment from Selective Service induction under the provisions of this paragraph does not imply exemption or deferment from order or call to active duty of members of the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps who are also members of a component of any of the Armed Forces.

(2) As long after completion of the course of instruction as they respectively remain in Regular or Reserve status as commissioned officers. Deferment from Selective Service induction under the provisions of this paragraph does not imply deferment or exemption from call or order to active duty as commissioned officers of a component of any of the Armed Forces.

(c) Conditions for deferment. To be deferred from induction under the provisions of section 6 (d) (2) of the act, the student must:

(1) Be selected for deferment by the Professor of Air Science and Tactics within the limitations of the deferment quota allotted to the unit concerned. (See §§ 862.80 and 862.81.)

(2) Be selected for admission to the advanced course when eligible therefor, and at that time sign a contract which provides that in consideration of commutation of subsistence furnished him in accordance with law, the student agrees to complete the advanced course at the institution in which he is enrolled or any other institution where such course is given, to devote 5 hours per week during such period to the military training prescribed and to pursue the prescribed course of camp training.

(3) Sign a deferment agreement which requires him to:

(i) Accept appointment as a commissioned officer in a component of the Air Force, if and when tendered.

(ii) Serve not less than two years of active duty as an officer with the Air Force, subject to call by the Secretary of the Air Force.

(d) Registration. Students affected will be required to register under the provisions of section 3 of the act, if between the ages of 18 and 26, on the day or days proclaimed for registration by the President, regardless of deferment or exemption from induction to which entitled.

(e) Obligation for active military service. (1) While satisfactorily pursuing the course of instruction, students granted deferment under the provisions of section (6) (d) (2) of the act will not be subject to induction under Selective Service. However, students enrolled in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps and deferred from induction under the provisions of §§ 862.76 to 862.88, who are also members of a Reserve component of any of the Armed Forces are subject to active military service under the provisions of section 21 of the act.

(2) Subsequent to acceptance of commissioned appointments in a component of the Air Force, students who will have been deferred under section (6) (d) (2) of the act will be subject to active military service as officers for not less than two years, with the Air Force, subject to call by the Secretary of the Air Force. (See also § 862.83.)

(f) Notification of local boards. Every student who is certified for deferment under the provisions of section 6 (d) (2) of the act will be responsible for:

(1) Promptly notifying his local board in writing that he has been certified for deferment from induction under the provisions of section 6 (d) (2) of the act. Every student who is granted such deferment in advance of his actual registration will notify his local board at the time of registration.

(2) Promptly notifying his local board in writing of any subsequent change in status which terminates such deferment.

(3) Promptly notifying his Professor of Air Science and Tactics of the number and address of his local board when determined, and requesting the Professor of Air Science and Tactics to furnish the local board with official certification for deferment.

§ 862.80 Selection of students for deferment. (a) The Professor of Air Science and Tactics will in conjunction with the institution authorities establish a board or boards which will recommend students for deferment to the Professor of Air Science and Tactics. Each such board will be composed of not less than three members and will include representatives of the military and academic faculties. In no case, however, will a board have a majority representation of the academic faculty.

(b) A period of one semester (or two quarters) will intervene between the beginning of the academic year and the final selection of first-year basic course students for deferment. During this period each applicant will be closely observed by members of the military faculty to determine leadership ability. Any applicant judged deficient in leadership qualities may, at the discretion of the board, be eliminated.

§ 862.81 Deferment. (a) Deferment under the provisions of section 6 (d) (2) of the will not be granted prior to the beginning of the 1950–51 academic year, except in the following cases:

(1) Students who executed a deferment agreement prior to June 30, 1950.

(2) Students formally enrolled in the advanced course who are not entitled to deferment or exemption from induction under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (1) or 6 (d) (2).

(3) Students who have been selected for admisison to the advanced course within enrollment quotas, who have signed the provisional agreement (contract) (see § 862.79 (c) (2)) for admission to the advanced course at the beginning of the 1950–51 school year, and who are not entitled to deferment or exemption from induction under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (1) or 6 (d) (2).

(b) During the first semester or term of the 1950–51 academic year, deferment quotas will be disbursed in part in the following priorities:

(1) To all enrolled members of the second-year advanced course who satisfy the conditions set forth in § 862.79 (c) and who are not entitled to deferment or exemption from induction under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (2) or 6 (i) (2).

(2) To all enrolled members of the first-year advanced course who satisfy the conditions set forth in § 862.79 (c) and who are not entitled to deferment or exemption under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (2) or 6 (i) (2).

(c) During the final semester or term of the 1950–51 academic year, Professors of Air Science and Tactics will disburse such portion of the unexpended deferment quota as they see fit, in the following priorities, to:

(1) Students who have been enrolled in the advanced course under contract, subsequent to the beginning of the 1950–51 academic year, who satisfy the conditions set forth in § 862.79 (c) and who are not entitled to deferment or exemption under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (2) or 6 (i) (2).

(2) Enrolled members of the second-year basic course who are regarded as suitable for admission to the advanced course and for eventual commissioning, who satisfy the conditions set forth in § 862.79 (c) and who are not entitled to deferment or exemption under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (2) or 6 (i) (2).

(3) Enrolled members of the first-year basic course who are regarded as suitable for eventual admission to the advanced course and subsequent commissioning, who satisfy the conditions set forth in § 862.79 (c) and who are not entitled to deferment or exemption under any provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (2) or 6 (i) (2).

(4) Enrolled members of the first-year advanced course, second-year basic course, and first-year basic course, in the order stated, who are regarded as suitable for eventual commissioning, who satisfy the conditions set forth in § 862.79 (c), and who are entitled to deferment or exemption on the basis of prior active military service or concurrent membership in a Reserve component of the Air Force or of some provision of the act other than section 6 (d) (2).

(d) Enrollment in either the basic course or advanced course does not in itself exempt or defer the student from induction.

§ 862.82 Enrollment — (a) General. Any qualified student may be enrolled in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps within quota limitations regardless of his desire for deferment. However, selection for admission to the advanced course will be determined with full regard for the qualifications of individual applicants and preference will be given to those who execute a deferment agreement and who have no conflicting obligation of service, such as membership in a Reserve component of the Air Force.

(b) Limitations. (1) Contractual enrollment in the advanced course will be limited by advanced course quotas issued to each unit for the school year 1950–51. However, when desired by institutional authorities (and approved by the Professor of Air Science and Tactics) students who are not eligible for enrollment in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps may be permitted to pursue the advanced course without expense to the Government. Such students cannot be issued Government uniforms or commutation therefor, but may use the arms and equipment issued to the institution. These students are limited to the number that can be accommodated and may not be granted deferment while in this status.

(2) Students may be enrolled in the basic course up to the number that can be accommodated by instructor personnel now assigned to or under orders to join the units concerned and by available uniforms and equipment.

§ 862.83 Veterans. Veterans who were not enrolled in the basic course or the advanced course on or before June 30, 1950, and who are exempt from induction by virtue of previous honorable active service in the Armed Forces, may, if otherwise eligible, be enrolled in the basic course or the advanced course, as appropriate, and may apply for and be granted deferment under the provisions of section 6 (d) (2) of the act. (See §§ 862.79 and 862.81.) The exemption granted by virtue of previous military service remains valid only in the absence of a declaration of war or National emergency by Congress subsequent to July 9, 1950, and of the execution of the provisions of section 21 of the act in the case of veterans who are members of a component of any of the Armed Services.

§ 862.84 Concurrent membership in Reserve components. (a) Enlisted and warrant officer personnel of the Air National Guard of the United States and the Air Force Reserve who are concurrently enrolled in the basic course or the advanced course, Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, may if otherwise eligible and if selected be granted deferment under the conditions stated in §§ 862.79 and 862.81, regardless of deferment or exemption by virtue of previous active military service or membership in a Reserve component of the Air Force. Applicants in this category will be advised that deferment under the provisions of §§ 862.76 to 862.88 does not exempt or defer them from call or order to active military service as members of a Reserve component under the provisions of section 21 of the act.

(b) Enlisted and warrant officer personnel of any of the Reserve components of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard are not eligible for formal enrollment in the advanced course, Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps, and will not be granted deferment under the provisions of §§ 862.76 to 862.88 but may be formally enrolled in the basic course, or permitted to pursue the advanced course under the conditions set forth in § 862.82 (b) (1), at the discretion of the Professor of Air Science and Tactics. The provisions of this paragraph will not be interpreted as requiring the cancellation or termination of a deferment previously granted a person in this category, but each such person will be advised of his liability for call or order to active military service under the provisions of section 21 of the act.

§ 862.85 Appointment of graduates—special cases. (a) Students who are less than 21 years of age at the time of completing the course of instruction may be appointed as commissioned officers of a Reserve component of the Air Force if otherwise qualified.

(b) Students who complete the advanced course (including camp) prior to completion of the educational course will continue to be deferred from induction pending completion of the educational course, provided that they remain in good standing and that their attendance at regularly scheduled academic classes is not interrupted except for authorized periods of nonattendance. They may be appointed as commissioned officers of a Reserve component of the Air Force upon successful completion of the educational requirement, if otherwise qualified, regardless of whether they have attained the age of 21 years. If a student is permitted to transfer to a new academic course, and when such transfer will result in an extension of the period of the course of instruction beyond the normal date of completion of the original course, his deferment may be extended for not more than one year beyond the normal date of completion of the original course, at the discretion of the Air Force commander.

(c) The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section will apply to students who will have completed the advanced course, with camp, prior to the beginning of the 1950–51 academic year.

(d) The requirement for active military service specified in § 862.78 (d) or § 862.79 (e) will apply, as appropriate, as well as the provisions of section 21 of the act.

§ 862.86 Postponed camp attendance. Students who have been authorized by the air force commander to postpone attendance at Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp will be deferred from induction pending completion of camp training. However, postponement of camp attendance beyond the summer following completion of academic work will be authorized only by the Department of the Air Force and only in exceptional cases.

§ 862.87 Students previously deferred. (a) The enactment of the Selective Service Extension Act of 1950 does not affect deferments granted under the provisions of the Selective Service Act of 1948, prior to June 30, 1950, which were in effect on that date. Such deferments automatically continue in force until the student completes the course of instruction and as long thereafter as he remains in Regular or Reserve status as a commissioned officer, unless sooner terminated or cancelled for cause, as outlined in § 862.79 (b) (1) and (2).

(b) Students who, prior to June 30, 1950, were deferred, and whose deferments were subsequently cancelled or became subject to cancellation because of their failure to comply faithfully with all conditions under which deferments were originally granted, are not eligible for re-deferment under the provisions of the regulations contained in §§ 862.76 to 862.88 without the approval of the Chief of Staff, United States Air Force, in each individual case. The provisions of this paragraph apply particularly to persons who withdrew or were discharged from the basic course or the advanced course for their own convenience, after having been granted deferment as members thereof, prior to satisfactory completion of the course in which enrolled.

§ 862.88 Students granted advanced standing. Students who are granted advanced standing in the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps by virtue of previous military service or training and who are selected for admission to the advanced course and execute the advanced course contract may begin the work of the advanced course in the freshman year, if permitted to do so by the institutional authorities. Otherwise, they may be granted an authorized period of nonattendance at Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps classes until the time they are permitted to begin the work of the advanced course. Students in this category will not receive commutation of subsistence, commutation of uniform, or uniforms in kind during authorized periods of nonattendance. The provisions of this paragraph apply both to students who have had active military service in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, and to those who have had previous training in the Army, Naval, or Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[S. O. 861]

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

DEMURRAGE ON CARS HELD UNDER LOAD AT GREAT LAKES PORTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of August A. D. 1950.

It appearing, that as the result of strikes on certain railroads serving Great Lakes ports and strike of certain dock workers at Great Lakes ports, a large number of cars of distressed coal, remnants of transshipment consignments, has accumulated which contributes to the present shortage of open top railroad cars; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action at Great Lakes ports: It is ordered, that:

§ 95.861 Demurrage on cars held under load at Great Lakes ports. (a) Rule 6 of B. T. Jones' Tariff I. C. C. 4137, supplements thereto or reissues thereof, providing car demurrage rules and charges on coal and other carload freight as described therein, applying at ports, sidings or storage yards named therein, held for lake shipment or delivery to vessels, be, and it is hereby, suspended to the extent provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) On all loaded cars, constituting remnants of transshipment consignments, held at points described in the above tariff, over eight (8) days except as follows:

Lake coal, vessel fuel coal, coke, crushed stone, gravel, sand or other carload freight, when loaded in open top equipment reconsigned at the ports and storage yards named herein, for rail delivery, will be subject to the provisions of Rule 2 and Rule 3 from the first 7:00 a. m., after date on which notice of arrival was sent or given, as provided in Rule 3 (b) of this tariff to date and time reconsignment orders are received by this railroad.

(d) Application: The provisions of this section shall apply to intrastate, interstate and foreign commerce.

(e) Regulations suspended; announcement required: The operation of all rules and regulations insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this section is hereby suspended and each railroad subject to this section, or its agent, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, in substantial accordance with the provisions of Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9 (k)) of this chapter, announcing such suspension.

(f) Effective date: This section shall become effective at 7:00 a. m., August 18, 1950.

(g) Expiration date: This section shall expire at 7:00 a. m., September 18, 1950, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 49 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1)

By the Commission, Division 3.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 51]

BUNCHED BEETS

UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR GRADES

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of United States Standards for Bunched Beets under the authority contained in Pub. Law 585, 81st Cong., approved June 29, 1950, and Pub. Law 627, 81st Cong., 2nd Sess., approved July 31, 1950, to supersede United States Standards for Bunched Beets issued August 9, 1927, and reissued September 3, 1946. The standards are proposed to become effective during October 1950.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards should file the same with M. W. Baker, Assistant Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., on the 30th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 51.138 Standards for bunched beets—(a) Grades—(1) U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 consists of beets of similar varietal characteristics which are firm, fairly smooth, fairly well shaped, fairly clean, free from soft rot, and from damage caused by growth cracks, disease, rodents, insects or mechanical or other means.

(i) Bunches shall have tops which are fresh, and free from damage by any cause. The tops shall be either full size or cut back to not less than 6 inches.

(ii) Unless otherwise specified, the minimum diameter of the beets shall be 1½ inches and the maximum diameter shall be 3 inches.

(iii) In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, not more than 5 percent, by count, of the beets in any lot may be smaller than the specified minimum diameter and not more than 10 percent may be larger than the specified maximum diameter. In addition, when the tops are cut back, not more than 15 percent of the bunches may have tops less than 6 inches. In addition, not more than a total of 10 percent of the beet roots may fail to meet the remaining requirements of this grade, but not to exceed 5 percent shall be allowed for defects causing serious damage, including not more than 1 percent for beet roots affected by soft rot. (See Application of Tolerances.)

(b) Unclassified. Unclassified consists of bunched beets which have not been classified in accordance with the foregoing grade. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards but is provided as a designation to show that no definite grade has been applied to the lot.

(c) Application of tolerances. (1) The contents of individual containers in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations, provided the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified:

(2) When a tolerance is 10 percent or more, individual containers in any lot shall have not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified, except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen may be permitted in a container.

(3) When a tolerance is less than 10 percent, individual containers in any lot shall have not more than double the tolerance specified, except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen may be permitted in a container.

(d) Size terms. (1) The following terms are provided for describing the diameters of beets in any lot: Small means less than 2 inches; Medium means 2 to 3 inches inclusive; Large means over 3 inches.

(e) Bunching. (1) Bunches shall be fairly uniform size.

(f) Definitions. (1) "Firm" means that the beet is not soft, flabby, or shriveled.

(2) "Fairly smooth" means that the appearance of the beet is not more than slightly injured by roughness or by the presence of secondary rootlets. Very slight roughness over the crown or very slight pitting caused by the shedding of dead leaves shall not be considered as injury to the appearance.

(3) "Fairly well shaped" means that the beet is not misshapen to such an extent as to materially injure its appearance.

(4) "Fairly clean" means that individual beets are reasonably free from dirt, stain and other foreign matter and that the general appearance of the beets in the lot is not more than slightly affected by these causes.

(5) "Soft rot" means any soft, mushy or leaky condition of the tissue.

(6) "Damage" means any injury or defect which materially affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the individual beet, bunch or lot; or which cannot be removed without a loss of more than 5 percent of the total weight of the beet. Growth cracks which are not healed, and healed growth cracks which are not shallow and not smooth or which materially affect the appearance of the beet shall be considered as damage.

(7) "Tops which are fresh and free from damage by any cause" means that the tops are not badly wilted and that not more than 10 percent, by count, of the bunches in any lot may have any injury which materially affects the appearance of the tops. The appearance of individual bunches shall be considered materially affected when the tops are trimmed to the extent that only a few leaves or leafstems remain. The appearance of bunches with tops having a few slightly discolored leaves shall not be considered materially affected if the tops as a whole show a predominately normal color.

(8) "Full size" means that the tops have not been cut back, but dried or damaged leaves or leafstems may have been removed.

(9) "Diameter" means the greatest dimension taken at right angles to a straight line from the center of the crown to the base of the root.

(10) "Serious damage" means any injury or defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the individual beet, bunch, or lot; or which cannot be removed without a loss of more than 20 percent of the total weight of the beet.

METAL, PLASTICS, MACHINERY, INSTRUMENT, TRANSPORTATION EQUIPMENT, AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES; AND SUGAR MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HEARING ON THE MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATIONS OF SPECIAL INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 7 FOR PUERTO RICO

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended (52 Stat. 1060; 63 Stat. 910; 29 U. S. C. 201), on March 16, 1950, by Administrative Order No. 395, appointed Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico, composed of residents of Puerto Rico and of the United States outside of Puerto Rico, to investigate conditions in and to recommend minimum wage rates for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in a number of industries in Puerto Rico specified in the order, including the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, Transportation Equipment, and Allied Industries, and Sugar Manufacturing Industry.

The Committee included disinterested persons representing the public, a like number of persons representing employees in these industries, and a like number representing employers in these industries.

Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico has made separate minimum wage recommendations and has duly filed with the Administrator reports containing such recommendations, pursuant to section 8 (d) of the act and § 511.19 of the regulations issued under the act, for each of the aforementioned industries.

The Administrator is required under section 8 (d) of the act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order each of the recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico if he finds that the recommendations are made in accordance with law, are supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of Section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendations.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

A. The separate minimum wage recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the above-named industries in Puerto Rico are as follows:

Industry	Recommended minimum (cents an hour)
1. Metals, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, Transportation Equipment, and Allied Industries:
(a) General Division	45
(b) Heavy Products and Industrial Equipment Division	53
(c) Decorations Division	40
2. Sugar Manufacturing Industry	55

B. The definitions of the above-named industries in Puerto Rico (as set forth in Administrative Order No. 395) and of the separable divisions thereof, for which Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico has made the foregoing separate minimum wage recommendations are as follows:

Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, Transportation Equipment, and Allied Industries. The mining or other extraction of metal ore and the further processing of such ore into metal; the manufacture (including repair) of any product or part made wholly or chiefly of metal or plastics; and the manufacture (including repair) from any material of machinery, instruments, ophthalmic goods, tools, electrical goods, transportation equipment, and ordnance. "Provided, however, That the definition shall not include (1) the production of any basic material other than metal, (2) the further processing of any basic material other than metal or plastics except when done by an establishment producing from such materials a product of this industry or subassembly of such product, (3) the manufacture from plastic materials of fibers, yarns, and fabrics and the fabrication of products therefrom, (4) any sewing or similar fabricating operations performed upon pliable plastics in sheet or film form or any other operations incidental thereto, (5) the manufacture from pliable plastics in sheet or film form of articles also commonly produced from paper, such as bags, containers, cards, drinking straws, and similar articles, or (6) any activity included within the Button, Buckle, and Jewelry Industry, as defined in Administrative Order No. 389, or the Shoe Manufacturing and Allied Industries, as defined in the wage order for that industry.

This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

The Committee recommended that the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, Transportation Equipment and Allied Industries in Puerto Rico as defined in Administrative Order No. 395, be divided into separable divisions for the purpose of fixing minimum wage rates, and that these separable divisions be defined as follows:

General Division. This division consists of all products and activities included in the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, Transportation Equipment, and Allied Industries in Puerto Rico, as defined in Administrative Order No. 395, except those included in the Heavy Products and Industrial Equipment Division and the Decorations Division, as hereinafter defined.

Heavy Products and Industrial Equipment Division. This division consists of the mining or other extraction of metal ore and the further processing of such ore into metal; the production of pigs, ingots, plates, sheets, bars, rods, tubing, wire and other primary metal products; the galvanizing, coating, electroplating and plating of metal products; the fabrication of structural metal products; and the manufacture (including repair) of foundry and machine-shop products, industrial, agricultural and commercial (except office) machinery and equipment, transportation equipment (except children's vehicles), and ordnance.

Decorations Division. This division consists of the manufacture of ornaments and decorations for Christmas and other holidays made wholly or chiefly of tinsel, metallic chenille, metallic foil, or other metal or plastic materials.

Sugar Manufacturing Industry. The production of raw sugar, cane juice, molasses and refined sugar, and incidental by-products and all railroad transportation activities carried on by a producer of any of these products (or by any firm owned or controlled by, or owning and controlling such producer, or by any firm owned or controlled by the parent company of such producer), where the railroad transportation activities are in whole or in part used for the production or shipment of the products of the industry, and any transportation activities by truck or other vehicle performed by a producer of the products of the industry in connection with the production or shipment of such products; provided, however, that the industry shall not include any activity covered by the wage orders for the Shipping Industry or the Railroad, Railway Express and Property Motor Transport Industry.

This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

C. The full texts of the reports and recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico for each of the above industries will be available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions:

D. Public hearings will be held in Room 5406, United States Department of Labor Building, Washington 25, D. C., at 10:00 a. m., on the dates set forth below before the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, or a representative designated to preside in his place, for the purpose of taking evidence on the question of whether the separate recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico set forth above shall be approved or disapproved.

September 19, 1950: Metals, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, Transportation Equipment and Allied Industries.

September 20, 1950: Sugar Manufacturing Industry.

E. Any interested person supporting or opposing any of the recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico which are set forth above may appear at any of the aforesaid hearings to offer evidence, either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person; provided that not later than seven days preceding any hearing at which he intends to appear, such person shall file with the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., or at the office of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, San Juan, Puerto Rico, notice of his intention to appear which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing;

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing;

3. The recommendation or recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico in which he is interested and whether he proposes to appear for or against such recommendation or recommendations;

4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation. Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, or to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and shall be deemed filed upon receipt.

F. Any person interested in supporting or opposing any of the above recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 7 for Puerto Rico may secure further information concerning the aforesaid hearings by inquiry directed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, or to the Territorial Representative, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, San Juan, Puerto Rico, or by consulting with attorneys representing the Administrator who will be available at the Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Labor, in Washington, D. C.

G. The records made at the public hearings on conditions in the above-named industries in Puerto Rico held before Special Industry Committee No. 7 in San Juan, Puerto Rico on April 28 and May 1–5, 1950, inclusive, may be examined by any interested person at the offices of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, at Fourteenth and Constitution Avenue, Washington 25, D. C., and Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, San Juan, Puerto Rico. The records of the public hearing before the Industry Committee with respect to each of the above-named industries in Puerto Rico will be offered in evidence at the appropriate public hearing before the Administrator or his representative on such industry.

H. The hearings will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Presiding Officer (the Administrator or his authorized representative, as the case may be) as are deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request addressed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Fourteenth and Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C.

2. At the discretion of the Presiding Officer, the hearing may be continued from day to day or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing or by other appropriate notice.

3. At any stage of the hearing, the Presiding Officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the hearing has been closed, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

4. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

5. Except as otherwise permitted by the Presiding Officer, written documents or exhibits submitted personally at the hearing must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof. Written, sworn statements may be filed any time prior to the date of the hearing by persons who cannot appear personally.

6. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in quadruplicate. When evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such a document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the Presiding Officer the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be put in evidence.

7. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of a document from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing shall be issued by the Administrator upon request and upon a timely showing, in writing, of the general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought. Any person appearing in the proceeding may apply for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such application shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

8. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear and the Administrator, before issuing a subpoena, may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

9. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling. However, it shall be the policy to exclude irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence.

10. The Presiding Officer shall, upon request, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to conduct such cross-examination of any witness offered by another person as may be required for a full and true disclosure of the facts, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence. Objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons relied on. Such objections shall become a part of the records, but this record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the Presiding Officer.

11. Before the close of the hearing, written requests shall be received from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matters in issue. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the request, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceeding and shall designate the time and place at which the oral arguments shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing shall be given opportunity to present oral argument.

12. Briefs (4 copies) on particular questions may be submitted to the Administrator following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

13. (a) Where the hearing is held before the Administrator, within fifteen (15) days after the close of the hearing, any interested person appearing at the hearing may submit for the consideration of the Administrator an original and four copies of a statement in writing containing proposed findings and conclusions, together with supporting reasons therefor.

(b) Where the hearing is held before a representative of the Administrator designated to preside in his place, a complete record of the proceedings shall be certified to the Administrator upon the close of the hearing. The Administrator shall thereupon issue a tentative decision in the matter, which shall become a part of the record and include a statement of his findings and conclusions, as well as the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, and the appropriate order. Notice of the Administrator's tentative decision shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) Within fifteen (15) days after such notice of the Administrator's tentative decision is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, any interested person appearing at the hearing may file with the Administrator a statement in writing (original and four copies) setting forth any exceptions he may have to such decision, together with supporting reasons for such exceptions.

(d) After the expiration of the fifteen day periods referred to in paragraphs 13 (a) and (c) above, and after consideration of all relevant matter presented as provided in such paragraphs, the Administrator shall make his final decision in the matter, and shall issue an order approving or disapproving the recommendations of the industry committee. Such order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

14. Any wage order issued as a result of hearings held hereunder shall take effect 30 days after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or at such time prior thereto as may be provided therein upon good cause found and published therewith.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 18th day of August 1950.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator,
Wage and Hour Division.

T. 2 N., R. 3 W.,
Sec. 27, W½NW¼.

The areas described aggregate 5,441.88 acres.

The lands are primarily suitable for grazing.

The NE¼NW¼, N½SW¼ sec. 33, T. 7 S., R. 23 E., and the S½NW¼, E½SW¼ sec. 29, T. 7 S., R. 24 E., are included in a first form reclamation withdrawal. No application under the public-land laws may be allowed without the approval of the Commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation.

No applications for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land, or any other non-mineral public-land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land and Survey Office, Boise, Idaho, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Boise, Idaho.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Assistant Director.

The areas described aggregate 3,240 acres.

The lands are primarily suitable for grazing.

No applications for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land, or any other nonmineral public-land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Portland, Oregon, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Portland, Oregon.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Assistant Director.

PART 1—AUTHORITY IN GENERAL

SECTION 1.1 Functions of the regional administrators and the acting regional administrators. (a) Pursuant to the authority contained in Order No. 2583 of August 16, 1950, of the Secretary of the Interior, the regional administrators are hereby authorized to perform, in accordance with the existing policies of this Department, the functions of the Director, Bureau of Land Management, in their respective regions, as provided in Part 2 of this order. This shall include all types of actions in the matters listed, unless otherwise provided. No action shall be taken by any regional administrator affecting the lands or activities of any other agency in this Department, or other Federal agency, until the matter has been cleared with that agency.

(b) The regional administrators may act for the Director in accordance with the applicable regulations and procedures in the classes of matters enumerated in this order, with respect to lands in their respective regions in any state in which there is no land office. Matters which are required by law or regulation to be filed only in a land office shall, with respect to such lands, be filed in the Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C. which will furnish the appropriate regional administrator with the current tract book status.

(c) Any regional administrator may, by written order, authorize any chief of division in his region, or the regional counsel for that region, to perform the functions of the regional administrator, in case of the death, resignation, absence, or sickness, of the regional administrator. A copy of each such order shall be sent to the Director. No other employee may be designated by the regional administrator to serve as acting regional administrator, except with the prior approval of the Director.

(d) In the absence of an order of the regional administrator, the chief of division in the region or the regional counsel, who is the senior officer in his grade in point of time of service in that grade will perform the functions of the regional administrator in case of the death, resignation, absence, or sickness, of the regional administrator; and in the event the employee who is the senior officer in the grade, as indicated, is not available, the functions of the regional administrator, under the conditions mentioned will be performed by the employee who is the next senior officer in the grade.

(e) Any officer serving as acting regional administrator under the authority granted by an order of the regional administrator, or paragraph (d) of this section, shall notify the Director of the beginning and the termination of the period of the service.

SEC. 1.2 Limitations. In addition to limitations on authority in specified matters, set forth in particular sections, the authority delegated by this order shall not include:

(a) The issuance of regulations.

(b) Any function which has been or may be delegated to the head, or other official, of any other agency of this Department.

(c) The issuance of public-land orders.

(d) The exercise of the supervisory powers of the Secretary, whether by way of appeal to the Secretary or otherwise; or

(e) Any action to be taken with the approval or concurrence of the President, or the head of any department or independent agency of the Government.

(f) The issuance of patents.

SEC. 1.4 Authority to designate employees to perform the functions of acting managers. (c) The regional administrator of any region may authorize any qualified employee of the Bureau of Land Management in his region to perform the functions of the manager of a district land and survey office in his region in case of the death, resignation, absence, or sickness of the manager. However, such employee shall not decide or dispose of a contest or protest. He may not perform the functions of a manager until he has filed a bond in such penal sum as the regional administrator may fix and the bond has been accepted by the regional administrator. Each employee authorized to act under this section shall sign all documents and other papers under his pay roll title and act as manager.

(d) An employee who is authorized to perform the functions of the manager shall sign documents and other papers as "Acting Manager." No employee, however, shall perform such functions until he has filed a bond in such penal sum as may be fixed and the bond has been accepted. Each employee who serves in this capacity shall by memorandum advise the regional administrator of the beginning and termination of the period of the service. Copies of such memorandum shall be sent to the Director.

SEC. 1.5 Redelegation. (a) Each regional administrator may redelegate or authorize the redelegation of any authority vested in him by this order to any qualified employee in his region, except as to the authority to appoint acting regional administrators.

(b) Any order of redelegation or authorization pursuant to this section must be approved by the Secretary of the Interior and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 2—AUTHORITY IN SPECIFIED MATTERS

The regional administrators, subject to the provisions of Part 1 of this order, are hereby authorized to take all actions, except as otherwise hereinafter provided, with respect to the following matters:

GENERAL

SEC. 2.2 Bonds. Bonds filed in connection with matters pertaining to the public lands or the resources thereof, or other lands or resources under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management where the regional administrator has authority under any section of this order to act in such matters.

SEC. 2.3 Cancellations or surrenders of contracts, leases, and permits. Partial or complete cancellations or surrenders of contracts, leases, and permits of the classes which may be acted upon by the regional administrators.

SEC. 2.4 Contributions and refunds. Accept contributions toward the administration, protection, and improvement of lands within or without grazing districts, and refund any unexpended balances of such contributions, pursuant to section 9 of the Taylor Grazing Act (43 U. S. C. 315h).

SEC. 2.5 Copies of records. Copies of official records, pursuant to 43 CFR, Parts 2 and 240.

SEC. 2.7 Fire-protection contracts. Contracts with State, county, municipal, and private fire-control organizations for the protection from fire (prevention, presuppression, and suppression) of the public domain, including the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands, in Oregon.

SEC. 2.8 Gifts. Accept on behalf of the United States any lands within or without a grazing district as a gift, where such action will promote the purpose of the district or facilitate the administration of the public lands, pursuant to section 8a of the Taylor Grazing Act, as amended (43 U. S. C. 315g).

SEC. 2.9 Government contests. The initiation of Government contests against claims asserted to public lands, and all necessary actions involving the prosecution of such contests.

SEC. 2.11 Repayment. Applications for repayment under 43 CFR Part 217.

SEC. 2.13 Roads. Matters involving the acquisition of rights-of-way for access roads on the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands in Oregon, and of existing connecting roads adjacent to such lands, including purchases after clearance with the Department of Justice but not including recommendations to the Attorney General for condemnation proceedings.

SEC. 2.14 Surveys. (a) Appointment of mineral surveyors pursuant to section 2334 of the Revised Statutes (30 U. S. C. 39) with authority to execute mineral surveys within all states of the region in which appointed, and in adjoining states, appointments of deputy surveyors for special surveys in Alaska pursuant to 43 CFR 61.14, 64.5, 65.21, and 81.8, and the approval and acceptance of their bonds; preparation of supplemental plats for acceptance by the Director; initiation of action in all classes of survey and resurvey of the public lands by submission to the Director of the technical special instructions providing for the execution of such surveys and resurveys, accompanied by a copy of the application or request therefor, or a full showing of the administrative needs of the Bureau of Land Management in the matter. Approval by the Director of the technical special instructions for the execution of the work shall constitute formal authorization for the survey or resurvey, but field work in connection therewith shall not be undertaken until such special instructions have been approved.

(b) The preparation and publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of notices of the official filing of approved plats of survey and resurvey.

SEC. 2.15 Trespass. Determination of liability and acceptance of payment of damages for trespass on the public lands, and the disposal of resources recovered in trespass cases for not less than the appraised value thereof; also recommendations to the United States Attorney for (a) the institution of suits arising out of trespasses, where the money judgment sought is not in excess of $1,000, and (b) the compromise of such suits where the amount is not in excess of $500.

CLASSIFICATIONS, WITHDRAWALS, AND RESTORATIONS

SEC. 2.21 Classification of lands. The classification of public lands under section 7 of the Taylor Grazing Act of June 28, 1934, as amended (43 U. S. C. 315f), or pursuant to other laws, as being suitable for any type of use or disposition which the regional administrators are empowered to authorize.

SEC. 2.22 Orders of withdrawal and restoration. (a) Issue orders of the classes listed below withdrawing or reserving public lands, or restoring such lands from withdrawal or reservation, based on the following statutory powers of the Secretary:

(1) Stock-driveways, authorized by section 10 of the act of December 29, 1916, as amended (43 U. S. C. 300);

(2) Air-navigation facilities, under section 4 of the act of May 24, 1928 (49 U. S. C. 214);

(b) Grazing leases of the revested Oregon and California railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay wagon road grant lands in Oregon, and crossing permits for such lands, in accordance with 43 CFR Part 115.

(c) Grazing leases of public lands in Alaska, under the act of March 4, 1927 (43 U. S. C. 471, 471a–471c).

SEC. 2.93 Appropriation of water under State laws. Execution and filing in the name of the United States of applications to appropriate water under State laws, where required in connection with stock-watering projects, and procurement of easements or rights-of-way upon or over private lands, where improvements are erected.

SEC. 2.94 Soil and moisture conservation. Soil and moisture conservation on the public lands, pursuant to the Soil Conservation Act of April 27, 1935 (16 U. S. C. 590a et seq.), and subject to the coordination and general supervision of the Office of the Secretary.

SEC. 2.95 Controlled brush burning. Issuance of permits for the controlled burning of brush, as a means of improving the range by the replacement of the brush with grass and other desirable species, in accordance with plans and specifications approved by the Director.

TIMBER

SEC. 2.121 Disposition of timber. (a) Sale of timber of an estimated stumpage volume of not to exceed 15,000,000 feet, board measure, and the free use of timber on lands under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management, including the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands, in Oregon.

(b) Sales of timber on lands under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Reclamation, in accordance with Order No. 2533 of September 7, 1949.

SEC. 2.122 Hearing in connection with sustained-yield forest units. Scheduling and holding of public hearings on master forest units and their appurtenant marketing areas, and on sustained-yield forest units and cooperative agreements for sustained-yield forest units comprising revested Oregon and California Railroad and reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands in Oregon, and lands in private ownership, or controlled by other public agencies under authority of the act of August 28, 1937 (50 Stat. 874), and 16 U. S. C. 563, 583a-583i. The notice may designate any qualified employee in the region to hold the hearing.

SEC. 2.123 Cutting of timber on certain mining claims in Oregon. Applications from owners of mining claims located since August 28, 1937, on the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands in Oregon, to cut and use so much of the timber on the mining claims as is necessary in the development and operation of the mines, until such time as the timber is otherwise disposed of by the United States, pursuant to the act of April 8, 1948 (62 Stat. 162).

SEC. 2.124 Timber patents. Extension of time in which to cut timber under timber patents on the revested and reconveyed land in Oregon, under the act of May 19, 1930 (46 Stat. 369) and the termination of rights under timber patents under the act of June 9, 1916 (39 Stat. 218).

PART 3—APPEALS

SECTION 3.1 Right of appeal. Any person aggrieved by the action of any regional administrator may appeal to the Director, Bureau of Land Management, and from his decision to the Secretary of the Interior, pursuant to the rules of practice (43 CFR Part 221).

PART 4—EFFECT ON PRIOR ORDERS

SECTION 4.1 Revocations. Orders Nos. 274, 295, 301, 319, 331, 336, 337, 345, 346, 348, 355, 363, 370, 411, and 417 are hereby revoked, to the extent that those orders authorized the regional administrators to perform certain functions relating to the public lands.

SEC. 4.2 Saving clause. Subdelegations of authority to the managers of the district land offices, and to any employees other than the regional administrators which have heretofore been made, and which are in force on the effective date of this order, shall remain in force until revoked or superseded by delegations made under this order.

MARION CLAWSON,
Director.

Approved: August 16, 1950.

AUTHORITY IN GENERAL

SECTION 1. Functions of the Chief, Division of Adjudication, and chiefs of subdivisions of that Division. The Chief, Division of Adjudication, and chiefs of subdivisions of that Division, are authorized to perform, in accordance with the existing policies of this Department, the functions of the Director, as provided in this order. This shall include all types of actions in the matters listed, unless otherwise provided. No action shall be taken by any such chief affecting the lands or activities of any other agency in this Department, or other Federal agency, until the matter has been cleared with that agency.

SEC. 2. Limitations. The authority delegated by this order does not include any authority reserved to the Secretary of the Interior by Order No. 2583 of August 16, 1950 of the Secretary. No action shall be taken involving a new or novel question of law or a commitment not previously authorized.

NONMINERAL MATTERS

SEC. 5. Applications for patented or reserved lands. Applications for patented or reserved lands, not subject to disposal under the applications.

SEC. 6. Cash and credit system entries. Old cash and credit entries, where full payment has been made.

SEC. 7. Closing of cases. Closing of cases, where proper, pursuant to Bureau or departmental decisions.

SEC. 8. Confirmed private land claims. Issue orders for patents, in proper cases, for confirmed private land claims, based on application therefor.

SEC. 9. Copies of records. Copies and exemplifications of patents, plats and other records of the Bureau.

SEC. 10. Decisions in specified cases. Decisions rejecting applications or requiring additional evidence, in the following classes of cases:

(a) Amendment of patents
(b) Drainage cases
(c) Forest exchanges, other than title matters
(d) Forest lieu selections
(e) Quitclaim deeds
(f) Scrip
(g) Small holding claims
(h) Soldiers' additional entries; and
(i) Timber and stone entries

SEC. 11. Erroneously-included lands in leases and permits. Eliminate from leases and permits of all types lands which, having been previously disposed of, or having been subject to a withdrawal or reservation, were erroneously included.

SEC. 12. Extensions of time. Applications for extensions of time within which to meet requirements made by decisions of the Bureau, except in timber, material and grazing district appeal cases.

SEC. 13. Patents. (a) Patents for grants of land under authority of the Government, to be issued in the name of the United States, other than patents or other conveyances which require the approval of signature of the President. Patents may be signed for the Director by the Chief of the Patents Section of the Bureau, and, in his absence, by the Acting Chief of the Section.

(b) Orders for new and perfect patents, in lieu of patents imperfect as to signature.

SEC. 20. Oil and gas noncompetitive leases. Noncompetitive leases for oil and gas in acquired lands, pursuant to 43 CFR Part 200. All decisions signed by the Chief, Branch of Minerals, prior to the date of this order, involving any permits or leases under 43 CFR Part 200, are hereby confirmed.

SEC. 21. Sodium permits. Sodium permits under section 23 of the act of February 25, 1920 (30 U. S. C. 261), as amended, and sodium permits in acquired lands, pursuant to 43 CFR Part 200.

SEC. 22. Sulphur permits. Sulphur permits under the act of April 17, 1926 (30 U. S. C. 271), as amended, and sulphur permits in acquired lands, pursuant to 43 CFR Part 200.

SEC. 23. Potassium permits. Potassium permits under the act of February 7, 1927 (30 U. S. C. 281–285), as amended, and potassium permits in acquired lands, pursuant to 43 CFR Part 200, except recommendations to the Secretary of the Interior for the approval of such permits.

APPEALS

SEC. 31. Appeals. All actions taken pursuant to this order will be subject to appeal to the Secretary of the Interior, pursuant to the Rules of Practice (43 CFR Part 221).

EFFECT ON PRIOR ORDERS

SEC. 36. Revocations. This order supersedes delegations of authority made by the following orders, which are hereby revoked: Order No. 307, May 6, 1948, Order No. 314, June 24, 1948, Order No. 318, July 16, 1948, Order No. 340, September 24, 1948, and Order No. 379, March 31, 1949.

MARION CLAWSON,
Director.

Approved: August 16, 1950.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary of the Interior.

PART 1—AUTHORITY IN GENERAL

SECTION 1.1 Functions of the Director, Associate Director, and Assistant Director. (a) The Director, Bureau of Land Management, shall perform through such officers or organizational units of the Bureau as he may designate, all functions which, prior to July 16, 1946, were performed by officers or employees of the former General Land Office or Grazing Service.

(b) The Director shall also perform, in accordance with the existing regulations and procedures, the functions specified in Part 2 of this order. This shall include all types of actions in the matters listed, unless otherwise provided. No action shall be taken by the Director affecting the lands or activities of any other agency in this Department, or other Federal agency, until the matter has been cleared with that agency.

(c) The Associate and Assistant Directors of the Bureau under the supervision of the Director may exercise all of the powers and authority of the Director.

SEC. 1.2 Limitations. In addition to limitations on authority in specified matters, set forth in particular sections, the authority delegated by this order shall not include:

(a) The issuance of regulations.

(b) Any function which has been or may be delegated to the head, or other official, of any other agency of this Department.

(c) The issuance of public-land orders.

(d) The exercise of the supervisory powers of the Secretary, whether by way of appeal to the Secretary or otherwise; or

(e) Any action to be taken with the approval or concurrence of the President, or the head of any department or independent agency of the Government.

SEC. 1.3 Functions of the regional administrators, and acting regional administrators. (a) The regional administrators of the Bureau of Land Management shall have immediate supervision over the work of the land offices, land and survey offices, and all other field offices in their respective regions.

(b) All authority which, prior to July 16, 1946, was vested in the regional field examiners and the regional cadastral engineers of the former General Land Office and the regional graziers of the former Grazing Service shall be exercised by the regional administrators.

(c) The Director may authorize any qualified employee of the Bureau to perform the functions of a regional administrator, in case of a vacancy in that office or in case of the absence or sickness of a regional administrator.

SEC. 1.4 Functions of the managers, assistant managers, and acting managers. (a) Each of the land offices or the land and survey offices shall be administered by a manager who shall, under the general supervision of the Director and the immediate supervision of the regional administrator, perform the functions which, prior to July 16, 1946, were performed by the register, and such additional functions as may be delegated to him.

(b) An assistant manager may be appointed, when needed, to perform, under the supervision of the manager, such functions as may be specified by the Director, and to perform the functions of the manager in case of a vacancy in that office or in case of the absence or sickness of the manager.

(c) The Director may authorize any qualified employee of the Bureau to perform the functions of the manager, in case of a vacancy in that office or in case of the absence or sickness of the manager or assistant manager.

(d) An employee who is authorized to perform the functions of the manager shall sign documents and other papers as "Acting Manager." No employee, however, shall perform such functions until he has filed a bond in such penal sum as may be fixed and the bond has been accepted. Each employee who serves in this capacity shall by memorandum advise the regional administrator of the beginning and termination of the period of the service. Copies of such memorandum shall be sent to the Director.

SEC. 1.5 Redelegations. (a) The Director may, by an order to be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, redelegate or authorize the delegation of any authority vested in him by this order to any qualified officer or employee of his bureau in Washington or in the field.

(b) Any order of redelegation or authorization pursuant to this section must be approved by the Secretary of the Interior and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 2—AUTHORITY IN SPECIFIED MATTERS

The Director, subject to the provisions of Part 1 of this order, is hereby authorized to take all actions, except as otherwise hereinafter provided, with respect to the following matters:

GENERAL

SEC. 2.1 Amendment and confirmation of entries. Amendment and confirmation of entries, pursuant to 43 CFR Parts 104 and 107.

SEC. 2.2 Bonds. Bonds required in connection with matters pertaining to the public lands or the resources thereof, or other lands or resources under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management.

SEC. 2.3 Cancellations or surrenders of contracts, leases, and permits. Partial or complete cancellations or surrenders of contracts, leases, and permits of all types administered by the Bureau of Land Management.

SEC. 2.4 Contributions and refunds. Accept contributions toward the administration, protection, and improvement of lands within or without grazing districts, and remit or refund any unexpended balances of such contributions, pursuant to section 9 of the Taylor Grazing Act (43 U. S. C. 315h).

SEC. 2.5 Copies of records. Copies and exemplifications of patents, plats, and other records of the Bureau.

SEC. 2.6 Enforcement and other actions in connection with certain public parks and other areas. (a) Determine and enforce compliance with the provisions of any instrument of transfer and take other actions necessary, pursuant to the provisions of section 203 (k) (2) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 with respect to property transferred pursuant to the Surplus Property Act of 1944, as amended and extended (50 U. S. C., Sup. III, App.

1622 (h)) to states, political subdivisions and instrumentalities thereof, and municipalities, for use as a public park, public recreational area, or historic monument for the benefit of the public.

(b) The Bureau of Land Management will make formal determinations and issue the instruments necessary to accomplish the desired results, but such actions will be based upon reports to be obtained from the National Park Service which will furnish that bureau technical advice concerning compliance and other matters requiring action under the provisions mentioned.

SEC. 2.7 Fire-protection contracts. Contracts with Federal, State, county, municipal, and private fire-control organizations for the protection from fire (prevention, presuppression, and suppression) of the public domain, including the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands, in Oregon.

SEC. 2.8 Gifts. Accept on behalf of the United States any lands within or without a grazing district as a gift, where such action will promote the purposes of the district or facilitate the administration of the public lands, pursuant to section 8a of the Taylor Grazing Act, as amended (43 U. S. C. 315g).

SEC. 2.9 Government contests. The initiation of Government contests against claims asserted to public lands, and all necessary actions involving the prosecution of such contests.

SEC. 2.10 Patents. Patents for grants of land under authority of the Government, to be issued in the name of the United States, other than patents or other conveyances which require the approval or signature of the President.

SEC. 2.11 Repayment. Applications for repayment under 43 CFR Part 217.

SEC. 2.12 Reports and certifications in connection with Federal land highway projects. Reports and certifications as to public lands, in connection with Federal land highway projects, required by the act of June 24, 1930 (23 U. S. C. 3).

SEC. 2.13 Roads. Matters involving the acquisition of rights-of-way for access roads on the revested Oregon and California Railroad and the reconveyed Coos Bay Wagon Road grant lands in Oregon, and of existing connecting roads adjacent to such lands, including purchases after clearance with the Department of Justice but not including recommendations to the Attorney General for condemnation proceedings.

SEC. 2.14 Surveys. All functions pertaining to the survey and resurvey of the public lands pursuant to section 453 of the Revised Statutes (43 U. S. C. 2), including the appointment of mineral surveyors and the approval and acceptance of their bonds, pursuant to section 2334 of the Revised Statutes (30 U. S. C. 39).

SEC. 2.15 Trespass. Determination of liability and acceptance of payment of damages for trespass on the public lands, and the disposal of resources recovered in trespass cases for not less than the appraised value thereof; also recommendations to the United States Attorney for (a) the institution of suits arising out of trespasses where the money judgment sought is not in excess of $1,000, and (b) the compromise of such suits where the amount is not in excess of $500.

CLASSIFICATIONS, WITHDRAWALS, AND RESTORATIONS

SEC. 2.21 Classification of lands. The classification of public lands under section 7 of the Taylor Grazing Act of June 28, 1934, as amended (43 U. S. C. 315f), or pursuant to other laws, as being suitable for any type of use or disposition which the Director is empowered to authorize.

SEC. 2.22 Orders of withdrawal and restoration. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, issue orders of withdrawal or reservation under the statutory powers of the Secretary of the Interior, to the same extent that the lands might be withdrawn or reserved by the Secretary, and to the same extent, modify or revoke withdrawals or reservations of such lands.

(b) No order affecting lands under the administrative jurisdiction of any department or agency other than the Bureau of Land Management shall be issued by the Director without the prior concurrence of the head of the department or agency concerned.

(c) Withdrawals for reclamation and other purposes for administration by the Bureau of Reclamation, and the modification or revocation of such withdrawals shall be made in accordance with Order No. 2515 of April 17, 1949.

(d) The authority granted by this section shall extend to the waiver of the 160-rod restriction as to the length of claims along the shores of navigable waters in Alaska, as well as the restoration to entry and disposition of the reserved shore spaces, in Alaska.

(e) All orders issued pursuant to the authority contained in this section shall conform to such procedures as have been or may be prescribed by law, or by the Secretary of the Interior, with respect to public notice, and shall be submitted to the Division of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, for filing and publication.

SEC. 2.23 Correspondence concerning the revocation of public-land withdrawals. The signing of correspondence, including letters to the Director, Bureau of the Budget and to the Attorney General concerning the revocation of public-land withdrawals.

MINERALS

SEC. 2.31 Oil and gas leases. (a) Oil and gas leases pursuant to the act of February 25, 1920 (30 U. S. C. 221 et seq.), as amended and supplemented, the act of August 7, 1947 (30 U. S. C., Supp. III, 351–359), and the act of May 21, 1930 (30 U. S. C. 301–305).

(b) Leases of oil and gas deposits transferred to this Department for measures to protect the deposits from drainage.

(c) The authority delegated by this section shall not include any function pertaining to oil and gas deposits that involve approval or execution of unit or cooperative agreements, communitization agreements, subsurface storage agreements, operating, drilling, or development contracts without regard to acreage limitations, or the sale of royalty oil taken in amount of production.

SEC. 2.32 Coal permits, leases, and licenses; asphalt leases. (a) Coal permits, leases, and licenses under sections 2 to 8 inclusive of the act of February 25, 1920 (30 U. S. C. 201–208), as amended and supplemented, including coal permits and leases under the act of August 7, 1947 (30 U. S. C., Supp. III, 351–359), and coal permits and leases and asphalt leases under the acts of June 28, 1944 (58 Stat. 483–485), June 24, 1948 (62 Stat. 596), and May 24, 1949 (63 Stat. 76).

(b) In Alaska, coal permits under the act of March 4, 1921 (48 U. S. C. 444), and coal leases and permits for the free use of coal under the act of October 20, 1914 (48 U. S. C. 432–445 and 446–452).

SEC. 2.33 Oil shale leases. Oil shale leases under section 21 of the act of February 25, 1920 (30 U. S. C. 241) and under the act of August 7, 1947 (30 U. S. C., Supp. III, 351–359).

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[4th Sec. Application 25338]

RESIDUAL FUEL OIL FROM CHARLESTON, S. C., TO NORTH CAROLINA

APPLICATION FOR RELIEF

AUGUST 18, 1950.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of section 4 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed by: R. E. Boyle, Jr., Agent, for and on behalf of the Southern Railway Company and Yadkin Railroad Company.

Commodities involved: Petroleum residual fuel oil, tank carloads.

From: Charleston, S. C.

To: Albermarle and Badin, N. C.

Grounds for relief: Circuitous routes.

Schedules filed containing proposed rates: C. A. Spaninger's tariff I. C. C. No. 1065, Supplement 166.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

By the Commission, Division 2.

[4th Sec. Application 25339]

COAL CINDERS FROM SHEFFIELD, ALA., TO SHREVEPORT, LA.

APPLICATION FOR RELIEF

AUGUST 18, 1950.

The Commission is in receipt of the above-entitled and numbered application for relief from the long-and-short-haul provision of section 4 (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act.

Filed by: D. Q. Marsh, Agent, for and on behalf of carriers parties to his tariff I. C. C. No. 3647.

Commodities involved: Coal cinders, carloads.

From: Sheffield, Ala.

To: Shreveport, La.

Grounds for relief: Circuitous routes.

Schedules filed containing proposed rates: D. Q. Marsh's tariff I. C. C. No. 3647, Supplement 265.

Any interested person desiring the Commission to hold a hearing upon such application shall request the Commission in writing so to do within 15 days from the date of this notice. As provided by the general rules of practice of the Commission, Rule 73, persons other than applicants should fairly disclose their interest, and the position they intend to take at the hearing with respect to the application. Otherwise the Commission, in its discretion, may proceed to investigate and determine the matters involved in such application without further or formal hearing. If because of an emergency a grant of temporary relief is found to be necessary before the expiration of the 15-day period, a hearing, upon a request filed within that period, may be held subsequently.

By the Commission, Division 2.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2456]

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1950.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("the Act") by Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("the Company"), an operating utility company and a direct subsidiary of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company which in turn is a subsidiary of Northern New England Company, also a registered holding company. Applicant designates section 6 (b) of the act and Rules U-23 and U-24 thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction.

All interested parties are referred to said application on file in the office of the Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized as follows:

The Company seeks authorization to issue or renew, from time to time, up to December 31, 1950, notes having a maturity of nine months or less up to a maximum amount of $6,500,000 at any time outstanding (including notes outstanding as of July 31, 1950, in the amount of $2,600,000).

The Company estimates that its net cash requirements for new construction will be $3,062,800 for the six months ending December 31, 1950, and that it will be necessary to increase its short-term borrowings to $6,500,000 by the end of the year in order to carry out its construction program and to meet its other cash needs. The aggregate amount of the short-term notes to be issued will exceed 5 per cent of the principal amount and par value of the other securities of the Company then outstanding.

The Company anticipates that it will be able to borrow the required funds at an interest rate not over 2 percent per annum. It states that if the interest rate should exceed 2 percent per annum on any of the notes, it will file an appropriate amendment to its application at least five days before the execution and delivery of any such note, and asks that such amendment shall become effective without further order of the Commission at the end of the five-day period unless the Commission shall have notified the Company to the contrary.

The Company expresses the desire to refund the short-term notes principally through the issue and sale of common stock. However, the Company states that under abnormal conditions it may be necessary to refinance with other types of securities.

It is further stated that the proposed transaction is not within the jurisdiction of the State commission, and that there will be no expenses to the Company in connection with the transaction except legal and other incidental expenses, estimated at not more than $300.

The Company requests that the order of the Commission herein be made effective upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 28, 1950, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2899

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, 1950

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, in this critical period, it is imperative that our country keep itself strong in manpower, productive facilities, and material resources; and

WHEREAS preventable fires took a frightful toll last year, resulting in loss of life for some 10,000 of our fellow Americans and permanent disability for countless others; and

WHEREAS the destruction of materials and facilities by fire impairs the production of supplies essential to the defense of our country and to the physical welfare of our people; and

WHEREAS needless fires also destroy each year an untold amount of irreplaceable natural resources and of private and public property, including forests and farms, schools and churches, hospitals, homes, and factories:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the week beginning October 8, 1950, as Fire Prevention Week.

I suggest that, bearing in mind the present emergency, all of us rededicate ourselves to a year-round campaign against destructive fires in our homes, in our industrial plants, and in our communities generally. I request that State and local Governments, the American National Red Cross, the National Fire Waste Council, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, business, labor, and farm organizations, churches, schools, civic groups, and the agencies of public information, including newspapers, magazines, and the radio, television, and motion-picture industries, cooperate fully in the observance of Fire Prevention Week. I also direct the appropriate agencies of the Federal Government to assist in this crusade against the toll of life and property resulting from fires.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 21st day of August in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

[SEAL] HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Secretary of State.

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

HARLICH MFG. CO. ET AL.

Subpart—Using or selling lottery devices: § 3.2475 Devices for lottery selling; § 3.2480 In merchandising. I. Selling or distributing in commerce, punch boards, push cards, or other lottery devices, which are to be used, or may be used, in the sale or distribution of merchandise to the public by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise, or lottery scheme; and, II. in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, of cigarette chests or boxes, or other articles of merchandise, (1) supplying to or placing in the hands of others punch boards, push cards, or other lottery devices, either with assortments of cigarette chests or boxes or other merchandise, or separately, which said punch boards, push cards, or other lottery devices, are to be used, or may be used, in selling or distributing such cigarette chests or boxes or other merchandise to the public; (2) selling or distributing cigarette chests or boxes, or other articles of merchandise, so packed or assembled that sales thereof to the public are to be made or, due to the manner in which such merchandise is packed or assembled at the time it is sold by the respondents, may be made by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise, or lottery scheme; or, (3) selling or otherwise disposing of any merchandise by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise, or lottery scheme; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Leo Lichtenstein et al., trading as Harlich Manufacturing Company, etc., Docket 4879, June 30, 1950]

In the Matter of Leo Lichtenstein, Libbie Lichtenstein, and Byron J. Lichtenstein, Individually and Trading as Harlich Manufacturing Company, and Loomis Manufacturing Company

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the amended complaint of the Commission, the respondents' answer thereto, testimony and other evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the amended complaint introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, the trial examiner's recommended decision, and briefs and oral argument of counsel, and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Leo Lichtenstein, Libbie Lichtenstein, and Byron J. Lichtenstein, individually and trading as Harlich Manufacturing Company and as Loomis Manufacturing Company, or trading under any other name or trade designation, and said respondents' agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, do forthwith cease and desist from:

Selling or distributing in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, punch boards, push cards, or other lottery devices, which are to be used, or may be used, in the sale or distribution of merchandise to the public by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise, or lottery scheme.

It is further ordered, That said respondents and their agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of cigarette chests or boxes, or other articles of merchandise, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Supplying to or placing in the hands of others punch boards, push cards, or other lottery devices, either with assortments of cigarette chests or boxes or other merchandise, or separately, which said punch boards, push cards, or other lottery devices, are to be used, or may be used, in selling or distributing such cigarette chests or boxes or other merchandise to the public.

2. Selling or distributing cigarette chests or boxes, or other articles of merchandise, so packed or assembled that sales thereof to the public are to be made or, due to the manner in which such merchandise is packed or assembled at the time it is sold by the respondents, may be made by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise, or lottery scheme.

3. Selling or otherwise disposing of any merchandise by means of a game of chance, gift enterprise, or lottery scheme.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

By the Commission, Commissioner Mason concurring in the findings as to the facts and conclusion, but not concurring in the form of order to cease and desist, for the reasons stated in his opinion concurring in part and dissenting in part in Docket 5203—Worthmore Sales Company.

Issued: June 30, 1950.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 240—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN SECURITY TRANSACTIONS MADE BY INSIDERS

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority vesting in it by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 3 (a) (12), 16 (c) and 23 (a) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and necessary to carry out the provisions of the act, hereby adopts the following rule:

§ 240.16c–3 Exemption of sales of securities to be acquired. Whenever any person is entitled, as an incident to his ownership of an issued security and without the payment of consideration, to receive another security "when issued" or "when distributed," the security to be acquired shall be exempt from the operation of section 16 (c): Provided, That:

(a) The sale is made subject to the same conditions as those attaching to the right of acquisition, and

(b) Such person exercises reasonable diligence to deliver such security to the purchaser promptly after his right of acquisition matures, and

(c) Such person reports the sale on the appropriate form for reporting transactions by persons subject to section 16 (a).

This section shall not be construed as exempting transactions involving both a sale of a security "when issued" or "when distributed" and a sale of the security by virtue of which the seller expects to receive the "when-issued" or "when-distributed" security, if the two transactions combined result in a sale of more units than the aggregate of those owned by the seller plus those to be received by him pursuant to his right of acquisition.

The Commission finds that the foregoing rule grants or recognizes an exemption and, therefore, may be made effective immediately upon publication. Accordingly, the rule shall be effective August 14, 1950.

(Sec. 23, 48 Stat. 901, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 78w, sec. 16, 48 Stat. 896, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 78p)

By the Commission.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 1—ENFORCEMENT OF THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT

LABELING REQUIREMENTS OF CHEESES THE CURING OF WHICH HAS NOT BEEN COMPLETED

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sections 405, 701 (a), 52 Stat. 1049, 1055; 21 U. S. C. 345, 371 (a)) § 1.13 Food; exemptions from labeling is amended by adding the following new paragraph:

(f) The word "processed" shall include the holding of cheese in a suitable warehouse at a temperature of not less than 35° F. for the purpose of aging or curing to bring the cheese into compliance with requirements of an applicable definition and standard of identity. The exemptions provided for in paragraph (b) of this section shall apply to cheese which is, in accordance with the practice of the trade, shipped to a warehouse for aging or curing, on condition that the cheese is identified in the manner set forth in one of the applicable following subparagraphs, and in such case paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section shall also apply:
